

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2011 with funding from LYRASIS members and Sloan Foundation

Washington Meets Hopkins Today

Rhinohed's Kicking To Be Big Factor

Washington College's foot ball eleven will go into action for its second game of the current season this afternoon against Johns Hopkins University. The Maroon and Black gridgers, called "hiding midgets" by Baltimore sports writers as a result of their great showing against Maryland Saturday, will be rated as having at least an even chance against the Blue Jays if they display the kind of football they turned loose on probably the best grid combination the University of Maryland has put on the field in a decade. Much will depend on whether Pitts Rhinohed, star punter for the locals, can continue his sensational punting, which drew unstinted praise from all those who saw him consistently outpunch "Shorty" Chalmers of Maryland, all-star back last year. Due to the fact that the Baltimoreans have a more experienced and slightly heavier combination than the locals, many authorities look for Johns to have a slight edge. Hopkins has the team that carried her colors last year, intact and has added several new faces to the variety squad, notably Don Kelly, all-American lacrosseman of last year, who will hold down the regular quarterback post for Coach Ray Van Orman. According to reports the pupils of Coaches Kibler and Eklatits will do well to watch this man who, with Captain Doug Turnbull, clever Jay broken field runner.

With possibly one exception local mentors will start the same combat against Hopkins, but played most of the time Saturday at Byrd Stadium. Huey, 170 pound and is expected to be back in shape by Saturday and will replace Clements of the team possibly. Gandy, the letter is not in ship-shape by that time. Coach Eklatits expects much from Grosz with at center and if this fighting freshman keeps up his previous type of work he will give the opposition plenty to worry about.

Coach Eklatits has added several plays to quarterback Robinson's list that are calculated to make his local attack more effective. Both Kibler and Eklatits declared that with Plummer continuing his hard backing and Robinson his brainy quarterbacking, they were confident of the ability of the locals to roll up first downs and touchdowns.

COLLEGE GLEE CLUB HOLDS FIRST MEETING

On Monday evening the Glee Club slipped its moorings and entered the annual at fall speed along with the other activities of the college. In addition to the songsters already members some new voices were given private auditions of which several will prove useful.

Contrary to the custom adhered to in the past, we now have an advisory director who is not a member of the faculty in the person of Mr. Raymond L. Moffett, sometime student at Washington College. His presence will give to the Club the advantage of his training in various fields of music. Miss Russell has again resumed her post at the piano and has proved ready, as always, to give the result of her fruitful experience in music.

NEW ALUMNI EDITOR

A. E. Howard

Mr. E. A. Howard, Secretary of the Dapout Co., of Wilmington, Del., has accepted the position of Alumni Editor for The Washington Elm for the coming school year of 1931-32. Mr. Howard, whose interest in Washington College caused him to donate the portrait of The Reverend Dr. Francis Waters, twice President of Washington College, graduated in 1904 with the degree of bachelor of arts. He was one time Editor of The Washington Collegian, and his file of the college paper is complete from 1900 to the present day.

MT. VERNON HOLDS OLD FASHIONED PROGRAM

Scene Of Sketches Is 1847

The Mt. Vernon Literary Society held its regular weekly meeting Wednesday, Sept. 30th. Alice Dole, and Edwin Coulbourn were elected to fill the vacancies on the Board of Curators.

The setting of the program was Mt. Vernon in 1847, the year the society was founded. The participants dressed in costumes appropriate to the period. The main feature was a speech denouncing the one-year coeducational experiment being made by the College authorities.

The program consisted of the following numbers:

Quintette: Branford, Coulbourn, Shriver, Harris.

Talk: "A Gem of the Chesapeake," Walter Branford.

Vocal Solo: "An Old Fashioned Garden," Theodora Chapman.

Sing: "W. C. Remain Coeducational," Robert Carey.

Musical Recitation: "The Patchwork Quilt," Emily Jewell.

At the close of the program, approximately twenty-five new members were taken into the society.

DEAN JONES ANNOUNCES FORMATION OF CABINET

Dean J. S. W. Jones announced today that the formation of The Dean's cabinet would take place within the next week. This organization, which was begun last year, consists of the men that are holding the reins of the classes, the fraternities and the major campus activities. The aim of the cabinet is to discuss the student at problem and to do all in their power to promote better co-operation between the administration and the student body. In no way will their activity interfere with The Mer's Student Council.

Wade Bounds '22 To Give Prize

Wade Goldborough Bounds, '22, President of the Washington College Alumni Association for 1929-31 will give a gold football, it is reported by Harry Russell, to "the person that does the most to aid football at Washington College for the coming year."

Wade G. Bounds

Mr. Russell, editor of the Chestertown Enterprise, recently received the communication from Mr. Bounds which the idea was suggested to him for his comment. Although the exact conditions under which it can be won have not been completely decided it is believed that the award will be available to any person whether a player or not. The requirement will be that the recipient has given the most beneficial aid to the present football situation at the college.

Dr. K. Carpenter To Teach Here

Dr. Kathleen E. Carpenter of the Science Department, comes to us directly from McGill University, Montreal, where she was lecturing on Animal Ecology. Prof. Carpenter was lecturer in Zoology in the University of Wales for five years. For another five years she was connected with the British Ministry of Agriculture, and Fisheries, in charge of investigating the pollution of Welsh trout and salmon streams. Dr. Carpenter has published a book on Biology entitled "Life In Island Streams," published in London and New York, in 1928. From 1928 to 1930 she was mainly interested with Physiological research work at Harvard University and the University of Illinois.

A native Englishwoman, Dr. Carpenter is delighted with Eastern Maryland, which she had never visited before, and looks forward to a pleasant year.

Juniors Elect Officers For Coming Year

In a hotly contested battle held in William Smith Hall last Thursday evening Dewitt Clarke defeated James Carey by the margin of a single vote for the office of Junior Member of The Blue Key Fraternity. When the votes were finally counted the score was twenty-three for Carey and twenty-four for Clarke. Previous to this Clarke had also defeated Joseph Dickerson for the presidency of the Junior Class by a somewhat larger majority.

The men elected Thursday evening will hold office until June when the class will once again go to the ballot box.

CHEMISTRY PROFESSOR

Dr. Buxton

The new head of the Department of Chemistry, Dr. Buxton, it is rumored, is endeavoring to introduce at Washington a complete course in Physical Chemistry. This will be the first time that any such work has been offered, and if the rumor is correct this course will fill the only gap now existing in the successive courses in Chemistry.

Dr. Buxton fills the vacancy left by the death of Dr. Errol Fox.

COLLEGE COTTILION CLUB ANNOUNCES SCHEDULE

New Officers Also Elected

President Harold Shriver of The Washington College Cottilion Club presented to The Activities Committee of the Faculty for their approval the following dates for the Cottilions of the coming college year:

October 30th, December 4th, February 5th, March 11th, April 22nd. Although these dates have not as yet been approved by the committee it is believed that they will be acceptable.

The dance scheduled for March 11th will be as usual the popular Home Coming Cottilion. The names of the others have yet to be decided.

Dancing classes for Freshmen boys are being held in the gymnasium Tuesday and Friday from 12:30 to 1:15 P. M.

The officers for the coming year are:

President—Harold D. Shriver, Vice President—U. O. Coulbourn.

Treasurer—DeWitt F. Clarke, Secretary—Walter E. Kerfing.

William McAd. Richards, Junior Representative.

Burdette Nattie, Edwin Coulbourn, Sophomore Representatives.

MT. VERNON GROUP HOLD THEIR FIRST MEETING

The Mt. Vernon Literary Society held its first meeting of the school year Wednesday, Sept. 23rd. The program in honor of the English poet and author, Rudyard Kipling, was as follows:

Biographical sketch of Kipling, Ann Kresger.

Vocal solo: "The Cypre Trail," Janet Atwater.

Selections from Kipling's poems, Edwin Coulbourn.

Vocal Solo: "On The Road To Mandalay," Charles Harris.

Mr. John E. Davis Addresses Students

Ex-Washington Grad Is Now Physical Director

Mr. John E. Davis, senior physical director at the Veterans' Hospital on Perry's Point addressed the college assembly Thursday, October 1st on the subject of "Physical Training as an Aid for Mental Illness."

The problem of mental illness is a great one, said Mr. Davis, because of the huge cost it entails the government and because the number of mentally ill is so great that they already equal the entire enrollment of all the colleges and universities in the country. This "submerged tenth," as they are called, come into this state because of mal-adjustment to their environment, poor heredity, and the increasing speed of our daily life.

These men and women should be thought of as sick persons and not as perverts and outcasts. It is this latter attitude that so often hinders their final recovery, and leads, in some cases, to acts of violence. They should always be allowed to return to their former social and economic positions when they are pronounced cured.

Physical training, Mr. Davis believed, aids considerably in bringing about a recovery, especially in the cases of dementia praecox, by instilling a new enthusiasm for living. Unlike a physical illness, however, these persons are aided by other than the doctors. To stress this point the speaker quoted a favorite saying of many of his patients: "By the crowd have we been broken; by the crowd must we be reforged."

Mr. Davis who entered Washington College previous to the World War returned after serving with the 20th Engineers to graduate with a degree of Bachelor of Science.

At the opening of the assembly Dr. Howell announced that all those who had not completed the required three years of Physical Education must report to Coach Thomas Kibler on Monday at 3:30 P. M. in the gymnasium.

A meeting of the student body was held immediately after the address to discuss several dormitory problems.

YEAR BOOK MAKING PROGRESS IN THE ME

The Pegasus Year Book of Washington College, under the leadership of Uriah Oscar Coulbourn, Jr., Business Manager and Irving Ross, Editor, while its engraving is being done by The Baltimore Maryland Engraving company of the same city. The White Studio is once again doing the photography.

Mr. Coulbourn reports that he is already in correspondence with The White Studio's concerning their first visit to the campus. A tentative date of October 11th has been set for the work on the senior individual portraits.

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

Editor IRVING S. ROSS
Assistant Editor Philip Wingate
Literary Editor William H. Darnberg
Exchange Editor William M. Richards

REPORTERS

Mildred Covey, Roland C. Ready, John Stankiewicz, Joseph H. Freedman, Alice Chase, James T. Anthony, Michael Wallace, Allen P. R. John A. Wagner, E. Clarke Fontaine, Jr.

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

DeWitt F. Clark, Edward F. Fitzgerald, Paul Pippin

SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES

Elizabeth Cooper, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager JOHN J. LUDDY
Assistant Business Manager Joseph B. Dickerson
Circulation Manager Edwin T. Coulbourn

ASSISTANTS

Louis I. Goldstein, Scott Beck, Jr.

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and for other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1931

CONCERNING THE ELM

We have been connected with The ELM now for some two years and in that time have heard one bit of criticism leveled at the paper that is, to our minds, decidedly worth while. Not that there has never been any criticism. Grey hairs on the young heads and wrinkles on the noble brows of other editors testify that there has. But out of all this has come, as we have said, one excellent criticism. It is that The ELM should have a definite policy by which it should always be guided. We intend to attempt this; we are a serious youth with a purpose. And if we fall blame it on evil companions and the curse of drink.

First and foremost in our policy will be to present all the news there is in an unbiased fashion.

Secondly, we have that portion of our columns marked OPEN FORUM for the expression of student opinion with the usual, reasonable restrictions.

Thirdly, to any faculty member, administrator, or friend of the college that feels the urge for self-expression come upon him we will give suitable space with the usual, reasonable restrictions.

Fourthly, in the editorial columns we will attempt to comment as fairly as we can on all student activities and things concerning them. Here, we have to admit, our policy forming suffers a severe blow. Editorially we have no banners and take no stands. We are not for larger beer mugs, compulsory Bible reading, letter to the editor, or any other case. It has always been the custom to have editorials in newspapers and we are continuing it, probably, because we enjoy doing it.

Lastly,—and this is the most important—The ELM will try to provide for those rare souls that enjoy newspaper work a good deal of labor and some excellent fun.

FOR FRESHMEN ONLY

Freshman probably receive more bad advice than anyone with the possible exception of seniors at graduation. It seems to be the custom; everyone knows more than a freshman and all are panning to inform him. Yet like these others we too are yearning to commit the same sin. So Freshman—put with your notebooks and assume a serious demeanor! Let the following become your precepts—and thus be true Washingtonians.

1. One must always complain about the food at the cafeteria. A haughty silence is permitted to seniors but freshmen must brag in the approved manner.
2. Assume an attitude of cynicism towards studies. Never allow an expression of interest in studies to pass your lips. "I never crack a book" is the password of good fellowship.
3. Draw pictures on your notebooks. Don't attempt such childish things as pictures labeled "teacher." Now that you are in college be dignified! Sketches similar to those in College Humor, signs reading "closed for the day," "Rock Hall bound," and "— is a Reid Hall cadet" are all acceptable. The bookstore will furnish colored notebooks with a picture of a boy in a alker for inspiration.
4. Don't mind the sophomores. You'll be working off an inferiority complex some day too.
5. Finally never mind what happens here. It always sounds much better when you tell it to the folks back home.

Follow these rules and when the mill turns around four times out you will hop a bright and shiny college boy just like all the rest. Bon voyage!

Alumni Notes

One of our most recent alumni—tendent the Elm with a letter containing much news of some of last year's class. This alumna,—I like that word—Elizabeth Bess, is teaching at East New Market and insists that she is enjoying her work. It seems that one of Professor Makoy's former satellites, Sarah Linthicum, is dispensing English at the Cambridge High School, Thelma Twilley, Kenneth Dundy reports, is selling books—exact whereabouts unknown. Eugenia Morgan, Naudum Moore, and Louise Crouse, are teaching at Cordova, Boston, Mass., and at Denton, respectively.

A former student of sociology, Louisa Brown, felt the urge and joined Betty Sutton in the Family Welfare Association in Baltimore. It is said that "Silvius" Freney is carrying a lot of weight in Pacomake. The new address of Virgil Bishop is the Hippodrome Theatre, New York City, where he is a student manager in the R. K. O. organization.

At Berlin High School, Marian Graham is teaching Latin and French. Margaret Hendrickson is at home in Chestertown.

Recovering from a rather severe case of astrigition, Vickers Hurlworth is at home in Church Hill.

The former President of the Student Council, Nelson Hurley, is teaching History and Science at Greenboro High School.

One of the members of last year's class Katherine LaKites, is doing graduate work in English at Duke University.

Louise Mandrell is on the staff of the Lincoln Library in Philadelphia. The R. K. O. Theatre in Cleveland, Ohio, has for its student manager, Kenos Perrin.

Janelle Sexton, ex-'33, and F. Jowan, of Berlin, were married during the summer.

Miss Margaret Raisin is taking a course in business and law at Bryn and Stratton Business College in Baltimore.

According to latest information received at the alumni office Maurice Rayne and Edith Reese are both teachers at Easton High School. Rayne is coach of soccer for the high school and Miss Reese is director of Women's Athletics.

Miss Anna Martha Richardson is instructor of English and History at Greenboro High School.

Miss Margaret Russell is living at her home in Chestertown.

Shortly after graduation last June Leroy P. Sherkey accepted a position as student manager of the R. K. O. theatre on 36th street, New York.

Miss Dorothy Simmons is at present at home in Hoppersville, Md.

During the summer months Miss Geraldine Harwood joined with Radio Keith Orpheum as production critic.

Carter V. Hickman is now in Sudersville, Md., as instructor in general science.

Having finished his pre-medical course at Washington College Wray P. Tomlinson enrolled as a student of The Medical School at Duke University. (Continued On Page Six)

BEYOND THE CAMPUS

Many Still Go To Jail in England For Debt Default

Sir Edward Parry in the Manchester Guardian Weekly, writes as follows: "Mr. Justice Swift was asked to learn that no fewer than 100 persons were—placed in prison for debt last year. Yet there are still people who believe that imprisonment for debt is abolished in this country, as it has been in France, Germany, Germany, and many states of America, communities which in this respect are more advanced in social legislation than ourselves.

"The county court act is thought clear, that any where an offender is liable to pay and continually refused is jailed. I know that some such belief is held by laymen, but it is not the law. In both county courts and the High Court cases claiming are imprisoned for debt—or, if you prefer, poverty."

"Three times men will have in good time or bad, yet four, to wit: female beauty to inspire the mind, tobacco to soothe it, a little something to stimulate it, and a few shames on margin to give it hope." Florent Ziegfeld.

Overproduction Of Street Music

Music has power to soothe, but much too often it may have the opposite effect. Take the case of the quiet section of London. Bagpipers, flutists, and piccolo players haunt its streets loudly playing their instruments.

Unemployment has prompted many Britons to exploit their musical talents. In Piccadilly Circus choirs of Welsh miners sing as they march along. A smart well-drilled band of seven brass players is employed on unemployment. Individual minstrels, players on portable organs and small groups of musicians frequent the suburban districts. When Baywater was treated to a succession of a coratini—playing his cetera at 8 A. M.—a month organ artist, a melodion player, a saxophonist, a violinist, and a baritone with a portable piano, the residents appealed to the authorities.

It may be necessary for Baywater to add to its street signs, "Organs and street critics prohibited," a specific list of all the disjunctors of the press.—N. Y. Times.

Apparently this country is lucky with its apple selling complex for its unemployment, but nevertheless the residents of Baywater would probably be at home in the vicinity of Middle Hall.

In Marselle last week a large inquisitorial sniwite allowed her way toward the gongphank of the S. S. Rajputana to see what the gawking crowd was staring at. Having reached a point of vantage she suddenly recalled in disgust.

"Horraur!" cried she. "A man in lingerie!"

The man in lingerie was none other than that pious midwife, the Mahatma Mohandas Karmachand Gandhi. Forpiping porters rubbed elbows with St. Gandhi's chattering collection of stew pants, his mattress, his cans of goats' milk and his suitcase. But there were no Pourboires for the porter from the Mahatma.

"I am as poor as a church mouse!" "I am as poor as a church /ouse!" he said, flashing a toothless smile. "I have nothing for you. Besides don't forget to thank you for performing a public duty."

(Continued On Page Six)

Greek Letter Notes

Kappa Gamma Sorority News

Kappa Gamma is making plans to furnish the room in Reid Hall set aside for its use.

Last Sunday three of the alumnae who conducted in June, Edith Bess, Louise Bowen and Louise Crouse, visited at Reid Hall.

Sigma Tau Delta

The Sigma Tau Delta sorority starts its twenty fifth year of organization with high hopes of advancement now that their ever present goal, the recognition of sororities, has been attained.

Mrs. Hartley has been chosen this year as an honorary member.

Three new members have recently been initiated. They are Elizabeth Schmidt, Elizabeth Willis and Katharine Hepburn.

Elizabeth Schmidt has been elected to the Girls Student Council to replace Janelle Sexton Bowman.

A Sigma Tau Delta banner which was used here in 1910 has been presented to the Girls Student Council by the alumna, Mrs. C. H. Metcalfe, of Sudersville, Maryland.

It is of interest to note that Miss Lucy Branhann, an alumna member, is writing a book on conditions in Russia.

Phi Sigma Phi, Fraternity

Members of the Fraternity returned to find the House had undergone minor improvements. All the rooms were papered and the floors and woodwork were painted. Plans are being made to furnish one room, which will be made into a lounge room.

The new members living in the house are, Mr. John Wagner and Mr. Edwin Coulbourn.

Mr. Rodney Layton and Mr. Joseph Brighdner, Jr., made a brief visit before registering in Medical School. The other members were, Mr. Edwin Freemy, Mr. Kenyon Perrin, Mr. Lewis Whiting and Mr. John Bagley.

Open Forum

The necessity of patiently standing in a long line outside the cafeteria before luncheon is not at all a pleasant way to begin one's mid-day meal.

Last year the cafeteria cooperated with the student body by arranging the lunch hour from 11:30 until 12:15, thus giving a longer lunch period, and equalizing the serving of the students. So far this year we have been forced to stand, idly waiting for the doors to open at 12:10, a full ten minutes after the final dismissal from the classrooms. In my opinion, and in the opinions of scores of my fellow students this is very unkind to those who take advantage of the brief period between lunch and their 1:15 class for preparation of their recreation. Furthermore, it is the unnecessary waiting outside the cafeteria which so slows down the service of the students in line, that if one is not among the first, he is quite sure not to leave until 12:40 or perhaps 12:50.

My suggestion to the management of the College cafeteria is that the meal schedule for the noonday meal be reverted back to that of last year which, everyone will say, was most satisfactory and efficient.

—Patient Student.

George Ekaitis New Grid Coach

W. M. C. Star Installs Harlow System

George Ekaitis, of Atlantic City and a graduate of Western Maryland College, is the new head coach of Lacrosse and assistant coach of football at Washington, succeeding "Gus" Crothers who returned to his law studies at U. of Md. Mr. Ekaitis was quarterback and left half on the All-Maryland foot ball team picked by Baltimore sports authorities last year. He was also a member of this same team the two preceding years and was intercollegiate lightweight champion of the East in boxing last year. Besides these sports, Mr. Ekaitis was a varsity member of Western Maryland's Lacrosse team for three years and last year was student coach there. Upon his graduation last June he was given the honor of being voted "best all around college man" by his fellow students. Washington College is particularly fortunate in securing a coach who has such a thorough knowledge of foot ball and sports in general, as Ekaitis unquestionably does.

"Dick" Harlow, coach of Western Maryland, said Ekaitis was one of the best students of football he had ever known, while sports writers credit him with not having called one wrong play during his two years of quarter-backing at Western Maryland.

Head Coach Tom Kilber has turned over the backfield to Ekaitis altogether and Ekaitis has installed the Harlow system in full on Washington field.

NOLAND'S

Department Store

Get anything you want
from Dry Goods to School
Supplies.

221-223 High Street
Chestertown, Maryland

Students Will Find Our Store a Very Desirable

Place To Visit
TOULSON'S
Drug Store

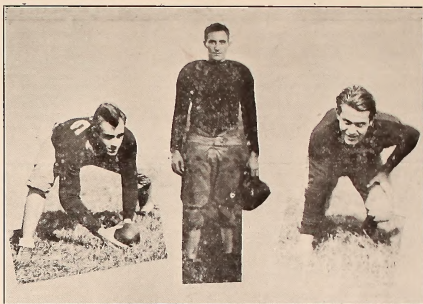

Phones—26 and 311

Compliments

of

Chestertown
Electric Light and Power
Company

Trio Of Washington Grid Stalwarts

Pictured above are three of the mainstays of the Washington College football teams. At the left is Bill Grosz, center, a freshman who has clinched a job on the varsity by his sterling play at the pivot position. He prepped at Friends' Central in Philadelphia. In the center is Bill Robinson, veteran signal-caller, a senior and at the right is Captain Howard Plummer, fullback, also in his last season of grid activity.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION MEETS

There was a meeting of the Girls' Interclass Athletic Association, Thursday evening at 6:45 P. M. The second vice-president, one member at large, and the Freshman representative were elected. There will be no gymnasium classes until the schedule is arranged, but athletics have already started in the form of hockey and archery. Miss Doris Bell has been teaching the elements of hockey to a group of new Freshman girls, while the upper classmen have been practicing together. Incidentally, the hockey field has been enlarged this year. Some new shin-guards and a few new sticks have been added to the hockey equipment, while the archery equipment has been augmented by new targets, several target stands, new bows, arrows, wrist guards and finger guards.

JAMES E. NEWTON

Cleaning — Pressing

Repairing

103 Court Street

Chestertown, Maryland

CAMPUS BEAUTY!

Bright, but not too bright lip stick... powder blended to harmonize with woody greens, rich reds and rusty browns... and a new curl for the perk new hat will make you sparkle the campus with your chic. We specialize in smartness, and our prices are reasonable.

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE

LOUISE B. DUTCHER

Owner and Operator

306 Park Row

Phone 334

STOP AT THE VOSHELL HOUSE
ROOMS WITH BATH
MODERATE RATES

Sports Notions

By Phillip J. Wingate

It is evident that "Curly" Byrd's Old Liners expected just a little too much of the "same old line" in the football game with the pupils of Kilber and Ekaitis last Saturday and as a result had their pride "knocked in" to the middle of next week" to quote one sports authority who saw the game. The Terrapins crawled just a little too slowly to subdue the fighting bunch of maroon and black grid-ders in the manner which they had expected to. One big factor in the showing of the loath was the fact that safety man Poppelman of Maryland never seemed to be in the spot where Fritz Rhinehold's punts landed and these same punts exhibited an annoying tendency to roll out of bounds on or around Maryland's five yard line.

It is rumored that what Ray Van Orman's scouts of the Maryland-Hopkins mentor caused him to start digging into his mind for plays—not to use against a set up but to prevent the hard fighting Washington line from up-setting their opponents too often.

WASHINGTON MEETS THREE STATE FOES

Washington College's opponents this year are more in our class than they have been for several years. The Maryland game last week, the Hopkins' tussle this week and the only home game, that with Mt. St. Mary's on October 24th, constitute the State games. Six other teams will be played. The schedule runs as follows:

Sept. 26—University of Maryland at College Park.

October 3—Johns Hopkins at Homewood.

October 10 — Swarthmore at Swarthmore.

October 17—Haverford at Haverford.

October 24—Mt. St. Mary's at Chestertown.

October 31—Drexel at Philadelphia.

November 7—Albright at Beading.

November 14—Sinquehanna at Sellersgrove.

November 21—St. Joseph's at Philadelphia.

HERB'S
QUICKLUNCH
Sandwiches of all Kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Vossell House

Gridders Bow To Maryland

Rhinehold's Kicking Features Contest

A plucky Washington College eleven outfooted the veteran University of Maryland football team at College Park last Saturday but finally had to bow to their much heavier opponents by a score of 13 to 0. The Shoremen played handup football and recovered all of the Maryland fumbles as well as their own. The Washington College team resorted to defensive tactics throughout the entire game as it was almost impossible for them to break through the bulky Maryland line. However on the several offensive plays tried Captain Plummer showed some creditable points.

Byritz Rhinehold, sturdy Washington back displayed some excellent place punting which kept the ball in Maryland territory most of the game. Time after time he made kicks which went out of bounds on the five or ten yard lines.

Maryland's first score came in the second quarter when Woods, the quarterback ran 80 yards for a touchdown. The second touchdown was scored by Chalmers who, after the ball had been carried to the five yard line on a series of line bucks, went off tackle to the goal line. Chalmers kicked the point after the first touchdown but failed in his second attempt.

A large amount of credit is due Coach Ekaitis for the good showing made by the Washington eleven last Saturday as he introduced a new style of play here at school.

It has been sometime since a real fighting football team has been seen at Washington College and the members of the eleven certainly did deserve praise for their efforts, especially the Freshman who played great foot ball in their first college game.

The lineup:

Maryland
Washington
Gambier	... left end	... Fessio
Ward	... left tackle	... Curllin
Dickerson	... left guard	... Hayden
Grosveth	... center	... Wittich
W Carey	... right guard	... Krajcoric
Ellisard	... right tackle	... Keenan
Clements	... right end	... Norris
Robinson	... quarterback	... Woods
Rhinehold	... left halfback	... Chalmers
Dobkins	... right halfback	... Berger
Plummer	... fullback	... Poppelman

Try the new style Drinkless
KAYWODDIE
Initials Extra
UNITED CIGAR STORES
Sales—Agency

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students
Offers Complete Line of Conklin and Wahl Pens and Pencils. Penknives, Folders, Stickers, Stationery, and School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

RESTAURANT

For a Delicious Electric Toasted Sandwich, Special Dishes,
Regular 50c Dinners, Fancy Sandwiches, Ice Cream,
Sodas, Candies, Cigarettes, etc.,

Visit The

CANDY KITCHEN

(Open 6 A. M. Until 12 P. M.)

SLIPPERY ELM

By W. H. Danneberg

Thought is almost a new experience after a vacation of an entire summer's duration, albeit yet editor insists on sending the paper to press. Speaking of thoughts—there are many different ones on the campus at present. The seniors are on the home-stretch. Some are glad, and the others are glad, but at the same time a few are wishing they could make a fresh start. On the other hand the freshmen are not quite sure of the whys and wherefores as yet. Some wonder what to do in college; some wonder what they don't have to do; some don't wonder; no wonder. It'll all come out in the Wash. (College).

Seriously, there are many new things on which to reflect—the Middle Hall reception room, signs on the campus, a new football coach, some new teachers, a clerk in the library, freshmen. You may not think so, but it was through no ulterior motive that the signs were placed by the road. They will serve a much-needed purpose. No longer will the ponderings, meditations, and reflections of promiscuous students be rudely interrupted by inquiring motorists who wish to know what aymor or other sanctity they are passing in any case this kind of service will be appreciated only by a few. The other would rather reiterate constantly to applicants for marriage licenses that their destination is further down the road.

The present freshman class looks like a good one, despite the fact that, at times, looks are deceiving. They seem to have had no disciplinary training as yet. The girls seem to have been made to understand that they are freshmen, but the boys believe the rat rules are merely something to fill up another page in the Handbook. Maybe they will be taught before the year is out.

After A Studious Day

Relax at

JIM'S and HICK'S

Billiard Parlor

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store

Where Your Dollar

Has More Cents

ALBERT L. WHEAT

"The Young Men's Shop"
Chestertown, Maryland

CLOTHING

SHOES

HABERDASHERY

Professor Of Languages

Paul A. Solandt

Mr. Paul A. Solandt, a New Englander, comes to us directly from the Lenox School, Lenox, Mass., where he was head of the classics department for several years. Professor Solandt received his bachelor of arts degree from Yale in 1920, and studied further for his master of arts degree, which he received from Yale in 1928. Mr. Solandt looks forward to a pleasant year with the student body.

SEVERAL NEW COURSES GIVEN THIS FALL

Philosophy To Be Offered

With the beginning of the fall term the curriculum Committee of the Faculty has announced the introduction of five new courses, and also other extensive changes in the outlines and arrangements of several of the older, and established studies.

First among the new courses is to be found a course which is known as "Philosophy I." This course marks the introduction of philosophy as an organized study at Washington. Along with this study is found a new three hour course in Scientific German. In previous years Scientific German was only a one hour course. Since the number of pre-medical students at Washington has been on the increase in recent years it has been deemed advisable to increase the scope of the scientific German so as to make a course, complete in every phase. For the benefit of Freshmen who have had little or no preparation in the fundamentals of Grammar prior to their admission to Washington, there has been organized a new English I section, which will be known as English 1A. This course aims to give the student a rigid training in the elements of English Grammar. Also the Department of Economics has announced two new courses. First, there is a course in Rural Sociology and Rural Economics. These courses aim to introduce to the student the problems of life in rural communities. This study has not been outlined as a course for farmers, or strictly for those who live in rural communities. Why should all of us understand the problems of the people who are the producers of our food? The Department of Education has also one new topic, that of "Educational Sociology." This new course should be of intense interest to all those who intend entering the teaching profession after their graduation.

JOE'S Newsstand

Cigars, Cigarettes,
Soft Drinks, Newspapers,

Magazines

Of All Kinds

Under the Voshell House

Student Council Notes

The first meeting of the Men's Student Council was called to order by President Robinson at 7:00 p. m. Sept. 29, 1931.

Roll called and Ryan, Morris and Bradstreet found to be absent.

Professor Dumschott was appointed faculty advisor, subject to the approval of The Student Government Association.

The freshmen and all classes must sign the lower pledges at assembly as they were not on hand at the beginning of the year. The mail route was formed and put into action.

The minutes and The Constitution of the Vigilante Committee were turned over to the present sophomore class.

The following committees were formed for the coming year:
Cafeteria—Cooke.
Library—Shriver.

Freshman Activities—Morris.
Chapel Speakers—Landy, Ryan, and Nuttle.

Under old business Professor Dumschott suggested bettering conditions in East, Middle and West Halls.

A committee of two was appointed to study conditions. Dickerson and Morris were appointed.

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned.
—Hubert F. Ryan, Secretary.

Episcopal Club Host At Tea And Supper

The Episcopal Club was host to a large number of freshmen and upperclassmen at a supper in Emmanuel Parish House, Sunday evening, September 27.

The following Sunday a tea was given at which the club's business was disposed of and at which the plans for the Emmanuel Guide dance for the Freshmen were announced.

The Chestertown Bank of Maryland

Bank of Service

Branches at
Galena, Kennedyville,
Beltterton

Main Branch
Chestertown, Maryland
4% On Savings 4%

JUST UP THE ROAD AT

SCHAUBER'S

For Delicious

ICE CREAM, MILK,
CAKES, SANDWICHES,
CANDIES, DRINKS and
TOBACCO of all kinds

Phone 330

Professor Of Philosophy

Frank M. Goodwin

Mr. Frank Goodwin, professor of Philosophy is a native of Georgia. He was educated at Peabody College, Tennessee, and Vanderbilt University, Georgia. Mr. Goodwin has recently completed three years of research work in the field of sociology, and is an authority on the study of social science.

DR. FRED LIVINGOOD ADDRESSES Y. M. C. A.

Group Discusses "Ratting"

The first scheduled meeting of the Y. M. C. A. under President Lindley E. Cook was held Thursday evening, Sept. 23rd, in William Smith Hall with more than twenty new members present.

In addition to the regular services an interesting talk, "Five Points of the Well Educated Man," was delivered by Dr. Frederick Livingood.

He stressed the importance of both studies and be participated in extracurricular activity.

"Ratting," was the subject for discussion at the last meeting, Thursday evening, in Room 21, William Smith Hall.

Plans are now being held by the members to have for their speaker on Nov. 22nd Mr. Ernie Parlin, of New York City. Mr. Parlin's wide travels in the Orient allow him to speak with authority on the Chinese problem.

The officers for the year of 1931-32 are:

President—Lindley E. Cook.
Vice Pres.—Ralph E. Harris.
Secretary—Walter A. Branson.
Treasurer—Emmett C. Knuffman.

Miss Elizabeth Schmidt Elected To Council

A home meeting of the Girls' Student Council was held Monday evening, September 22nd. Elizabeth Schmidt was elected a Junior member to replace Janelle Sexton.

THE PEOPLES BANK

Commercial
and Savings Accounts

Rock Hall
Chestertown

Book Reviews

"Shadows On The Rock"
Willis Cather

For the first time since 1927 Willis Cather has broken her silence, and presented to the world a great book, that we cannot help pronouncing a modern classic. For it is of the same superb vintage from which such books as "Death Comes for the Archbishop" emanated, and which undoubtedly holds a great harvest for the future.

The setting of "Shadows On The Rock" is for Miss Cather a new one—Quebec in the last years of Count Frontenac's life, and she recapitulates the very tone and feeling of the seventeenth century in this quaint French city, built on a rock on the mighty St. Lawrence, to such a degree that the reader actually feels a part of the picturesque atmosphere.

The narrative deals with Aveline, the widowed apothecary, and his young daughter Cecile—their hardships in the newly settled Canada, their longing for Old France, and finally the supreme happiness that culminates a life of trials and tribulations. Constantly moving in the back ground are two superb characters: the magnetic Frontenac, and the altruistic Bishop Laval. Once again Miss Cather has interested herself in the Catholic world, and has devoted an entire book to the beautiful sentiment, and the purity of a simple folk, whose religion is magnificence in tradition.

"Shadows On The Rock" is a book which is authentically the work of a genius, so immediately perceptible as a masterpiece, so emotionally beautiful and elegant in style, as to be great, even to a reader unfamiliar with America's foremost female writer.

Guild To Give Dance

The Young Peoples Guild of Emmanuel Episcopal Church will entertain the incoming freshmen at a dance Friday night, October 3, 1931.

The freshmen are requested to present their invitations at the door for admittance.

Upper classmen will be admitted the charge being fifty cents, couple or single.

Music has not yet been procured for the dance but it is expected that it will be good. Refreshments are to be served during intermission.

The
Third National Bank
Chestertown, Md.

The Only
National Bank
In Kent County

DEL-MAR-VA RESTAURANT

—FOR—
AFTER DANCE LUNCHEONS
AND REGULAR MEALS

BEGINS NEW ACTIVITIES

The Pentagon Chapter of The Blue Key Fraternity of Washington College began the year's activities by sponsoring the new college signs and by renewing once more the Reid Hall Saturday night Frolic.

The officers of the organization this year are:

Oliver Robinson—President.

Howard Plummer—Vice President.

Hubert Ryan—Secretary.

Phi Sigma Tau Pledges Two

At the last meeting of the Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity, Robert Furman and Raymond McCollough were named as pledges.

Russ Orant, James Civielly, Carter Haskins and Joe Glackin were visitors to the Tau house last week.

Adelphi Literary Society To Hold Freshman Program

President Oliver Robinson announced that The Adelphi Literary Society would hold its first meeting Wednesday, October 7th, in the assembly hall. The feature of this meeting will be a Freshman program in which all freshmen are invited to participate. New members will be taken into the society at this time.

The officers for the first half year are: Mr. Robinson, President; Mr. Luddy, Vice President; and Miss Luddy, Secretary.

Electric Clock Installed

The electric clock that was given to the college by the class of 1931 has been installed in the library with a suitable inscription upon it.

LOUNGING ROOM ADDED TO BOY'S DORMITORIES

Upon their return to the campus this year the students that reside in Middle Hall, were somewhat surprised and very much pleased to find that a lounging room had been added to their dormitory.

This room, situated in the basement of Middle Hall, is equipped with easy chairs, tables, bridge lamps and smoking stands. Locker seats along the walls and a fireplace add much to the appearance of this room which is newly renovated.

Through the co-operation of the Business Manager and students it is hoped that a radio may be installed in the near future.

The Reverend Charles L. Atwater, Of Chestertown, Will Portray The Character Of Doctor William Smith

Rev. C. L. Atwater

Protestant Episcopal Church To Hold 300th Anniversary

One of the most important features of the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the vesting of the Protestant Episcopal Church of America which will take place at Metapske on Kent Island, October 15, will be the re-enactment of the famous convention which was held in Chestertown in 1784 which unanimously adopted the present name of the denomination.

At the convention which has been styled the Continental Congress of the church, prominent clergy and laymen from all sections of Maryland gathered in Chestertown to discuss the state of the church and to give the denomination a name.

The presiding officer of the convention was Dr. William Smith, the founder of Washington College, which was established in 1785, and who was at the time rector of old Chester parish. Following a prolonged discussion Dr. Simon Wilmer, one of the leading members of the vestry of Old St. Paul's parish, which was at the time a part of Chester parish, moved that the name of the new organization should be The Protestant Episcopal Church of America. The motion was unanimously adopted during the following year a convention of the Church in New Jersey under the title adopted at the Chestertown convention.

Twenty laymen from Chester parish and three clergymen of the county attired in colonial costumes will re-enact the scenes of the famous Chestertown convention at the 300th anniversary to be held at Metapske October 15. The Rev. Charles L. Atwater, present pastor of Chester parish will portray the character of Dr. William Smith. The Rev. John White, rector of Old St. Paul's parish, will enact the part played by Dr. Simon Wilmer, while the Rev. Dr. Sewell S. Hepburn, venerable rector emeritus of I. U. parish, which at the time of the holding of the 1784 convention was a part of Chester parish, will have a conspicuous part in the portrayal. The forthcoming celebration of the founding of the church at Metapske which has been selected at the site of the occasion because of its religious association with Maryland's first settlement on Kent Island by Captain William Claiborne in 1631, will be one of the most colorful religious gatherings ever held in Maryland.

A chorus of 400 voices is being trained to sing the hymns of the church, while important scenes in connection with the history of the denomination will be re-enacted by several hundred people from all sections of the State. The U. S. Naval Academy Band will head the pageant, which is expected to attract an attendance of more than 10,000 people.

Large Group Attending First Y. W. C. A. Meeting Of Year

Unusual interest and enthusiasm in the Young Women's Christian Association was shown Monday when so many of the Freshmen and upper-classmen attended the first program of the school year.

All those present thoroughly enjoyed the talk given by Mrs. Harry Wright, wife of the pastor of the Chestertown Methodist Episcopal Church. Mrs. Wright's talk dealt with the life of Mary and Martha and their companionship with Jesus. She compared their life with the average college girl. If our speakers continue to be as instructive as Mrs. Wright, we feel that the "Y" is doing its share.

Membership cards have been distributed to all the girls, and the Y. W. C. A. hopes for a large membership. Everyone is invited to join this association. Without the co-operation of the girls the cabinet can make no progress.

Oh! You Lucky Tab!!

MOISTURE-PROOF CELLOPHANE

Sealed Tight—Ever Right

The Unique HUMIDOR PACKAGE Zip—

and it's open!

See the new notched tab on the top of the package. Hold down one half with your thumb. Tear off the other half. Simple. Quick. Zip! That's all. Unique! Wrapped in dust-proof, moisture-proof, germ-proof Cellophane. Clean, protected, neat, FRESH!—what could be more modern than LUCKIES' Improved Humidor package—so easy to open! Ladies—the LUCKY tab is your finger nail protection.

Made of the finest tobaccos—The Cream of many Crops—LUCKY STRIKE alone offers the throat protection of the exclusive "TOASTING" Process which includes the use of modern Ultra Violet Rays—the process that expels certain biting, harsh irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. These LUCKY STRIKE! irritants are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE! "They're out—so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough

And Moisture-Proof Cellophane Keeps that "Toasted" Flavor Ever Fresh

TUNE IN—The Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra, every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evening over N. B. C. radio.

Faculty Spends Profitable Summer

Many Travel Abroad; Some Teach

With some exceptions the faculty members of last year are back at Washington College after having spent their summer in numerous ways.

Dr. Ingalls, head of the Department of English, was engaged in research on Jonathan Swift and the 18th century satirist, who among other works wrote the famous Gulliver's Travels. This research work was carried on in the new seven million dollar library at Yale University.

Professor Lerone M. Hartley, spent the early part of the summer in travel among some of the interesting New England cities. During the latter summer she remained in Chesham.

Dr. Esther M. Dole taught history of art and history of education at Alfred University, New York. She also took a course of instruction in minkology.

Professor Margaret Brewer took language work at Catholic University, Brookland, D. C.

While pursuing his work as registrar, Dr. Howell spent a great deal of time in arranging the class schedule for the fall semester. In August he toured Pennsylvania, New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts, visiting numerous historical sites including Gettysburg and Valley Forge.

From the 17th to the 20th of August he attended the Rural Life Conference at Cornell University.

Dr. Livingston taught at Seton Hill College, Greensburg, Pa., from June 20th to August 7th. He gave courses in educational psychology, educational measurements and vocational guidance, thus completing his second year of teaching there. Seton Hill, a Catholic girls' college, is the Mother House of the Sisters of Charity. In summer it is attended not only by the sisters, but by some lay students as well.

Professor Makovsky devoted his entire vacation to reading.

Dr. T. W. Fowler, head of the foreign language department and an accomplished linguist, spent three months of extremely interesting travel in Europe. The first two weeks, after he reached France, he devoted to sight seeing in Paris. From Paris he traveled to Naples, Italy, and while there visited Mt. Vesuvius and the historic city of Pompeii. A week was spent in Rome and several days in Florence, but here the mosquitoes were so bad that he decided to leave immediately for Germany. While in Germany he traveled much and visited many of the friends, whom he had met on his previous visits abroad.

He sailed for America from Antwerp, Belgium, and reached home just prior to the opening of college.

Professor Ford studied for his Ph. D. degree at George Washington University during the early summer. Later he traveled and studied in the Province of Quebec, Canada.

Professor Cook traveled in the Southern States and studied for nine weeks at the University of Indiana.

Professors Damschott and Soudgrass spent the summer studying in preparation for the courses they are now offering.

President Fitzwater attended a convention in Vienna, Austria, as Governor of the 34th District of Rotary International. He flew from Munich to Vienna. He spent a week at Oberammergau, at the house of Anton Long, who played the part of the Christ in the Passion Play.

Dean Jones did some research work on the college history while at Chesham.

Alumni Notes

(Continued From Page Two)

Earle T. Willis is teaching at Oakland High School, Md.

Kenneth Doty is teaching English in a Junior High School in Baltimore, Md.

Robert Payne Dean is shipping from Baltimore on a merchant marine ship for San Francisco.

After receiving the degree of Bachelor of Science in Economics Howard B. Owens is taking graduate work in Recreational Leadership.

Cahler Lee Hope is studying at The Law School of The University of Baltimore.

Two Washington College graduates are now at Sparrows Point High School. They are Benjamin Willis, who is now principal, and Louis Knox, instructor in Mathematics.

Edwin T. Luckey is employed in the research department of the Radio Keith Orpheum studies in Hollywood.

Miss Dorothy Valentin is studying Library Science at Pratt Institution in Brooklyn, N. Y. J. J. Voth, Jr., ex-'31, has been transferred to a Radio Keith Orpheum Theatre in St. Paul, Minnesota.

Another of the class of '31, to accept a position with B. K. O. in Carls Sparks, who is student manager of the new Keiths theatre in Boston. Former Captain of basket ball Edward Stevens is also working for Radio Keith Orpheum Corporation in New York City.

New College Sign Made

Tourists passing through Chesham will no longer wonder what the structures are which stand on the upper portion of Washington Avenue. The college has placed two very attractive signs, one at each end of the campus. These signs bear the inscription: "Washington College, Founded 1782." They were designed by Henry Hopkins and made by a firm in Baltimore. They not only serve to point out the college but also add much to the appearance of the campus.

New Picture Received Here

Dr. J. S. W. Jones, Secretary of the Alumni Association, received this summer a copy of "The Rev. William Murray Stone, of the class of 1799, who later became the third Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Maryland.

His portrait is now hanging in the alumni office in William Smith Hall. It was presented by a descendant of this illustrious man.

Students Of Washington College A Safe Place To Deal THE STAM DRUG CO. Everything in Drugs

Prescriptions Filled by Registered Pharmacists

Only

A Full Line of School Supplies Whitman's Candy

Cigars and Tobacco

Beyond The Campus

(Continued From Page Two)

The Mahatma admitted that he had received a large white petticoat from an infuriated Briton with a demand that he "cover his nudities with it." Ganohi plans to add the petticoat to his already large collection as the oddest souvenir he possesses.—Time.

The semi-travellers millions have an ardent and sincere publicist in Gandhi, but his force is probably somewhat lessened because of Occidental conceptions of vulgarity.

Vicki Baum, the German author of "Grand Hotel," in learning the language of the stars, asserts: "What I like about Hollywood is that one can get along quite well by knowing two words of English—swell and busy."

A Special Lede To-Thee
Toe Athletic Keds for Women's Gym Work.

Harry F. Jefferson

DROP IN
AND LET US SHOW YOU
OUR FULL LINE OF
VICTROLAS, RADIOS
AND FURNITURE
THE LATEST IN MUSIC
AND RECORDS
W. P. NEWNAM
CHESTERTOWN, MD.

WE KNOW What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the fashion and clothes is a recognized authority in style center.

You want stylish clothes that give us "factory service."

Our clothes will meet every thing you demand of them.

BORDLEY & SON

THE REXAL STORE
EASTMAN KODAKS
FILMS

DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING

BY EXPERTS

DRUGS and
SUNDRIES

Of All Kinds

A. L. STERLING

A VEST POCKET ESSAY ON HAIR From "The Diamondback"

A hair in the head is worth two in the comb and it's appalling the number of good whiskers are lost each morning. Ever notice how fast hair grows? The mystery is now partly solved by the results of a Research Institute. "Basal metabolism tests" they state, "show that the average woman gives off ten per cent less heat than a man of equal weight, height and age." To radiate off this ten per cent of extra heat, kind nature gave man whiskers. They not only save the expense of a necktie, but act as an awning to prevent sunburn, a hide-out for revealing facial expressions, and a front line of defense to harpoon insects on the bumble tips.

A man that's bald—or whose hair is not—spends a lot of time mopping up the water that's squeezed out of a man with a full suit of hair and his head and beardless chops. While a fancy vest of whiskers saves valuable time because nature cools his skin. Each hair set in his skin collects the heat from the blood around its base, and conducts it up along its shaft like a spoon in a hot toddy.

With thousands of these distributing their heat to the passing breezes, it's obvious a cool head and whiskers go together. These air-cooled motors, with flanges all over them work the same way—just in reverse the cooling surface. The principle isn't new, for man has had a hair-cooled head since the time of Adam. If these results are correct, we have been shaving off the original noiseless, costless, lifeless cooling system! "What fools these mortals be!"—From "The Diamondback."

Noticed On Kibler Field

Some close observer of foot ball activities on Kibler field noticed that there is no tendency whatever on the part of Washington backs to disagree with the opinion of Coach Ekstis, probably due to the former Western Maryland's star's thorough knowledge of the gridiron sport. However, this same observer hinted that this might be partly due to the fact that, to the ordinary observer, Ekstis looks to be in as good shape as he was the day he won the intercollegiate championship of the East by a one round knockout.

Dept. Of Commerce Merges

Since the death of Professor Kilpatrick last spring, the Department of Commerce has been merged with the Department of Economics and Sociology. A plan for the reorganization of the entire Department has been tentatively placed in the hands of the president, by Dr. Howell, head of the Department, for his approval. It is understood that Dr. Titaworth has placed his approval on this motion. If this is correct, and the plans progress as outlined Washington College should have in the near future a Department of Economics second to none in the entire country.

Blondes and Brunettes are equally enthusiastic about the beautiful Permanent Wave we give. Whether you want a crisp wave or look that will help you to look your very best. Let us make an appointment—now! Finger waving a specialty.

PHONE 283

GRAY
BEAUTY SALON
WEST MAIN ST. MIDDLETOWN

Compliments

Of

Ellsworth Greenwood

For Better Coal Service Phone 149

We guarantee you full tons of clean forked coal. We pay the highest market price for wheat and corn.

C. W. KIBLER & SONS
Chestertown, Md.

SUBSCRIPTION BLANK

If you have enjoyed this issue of THE WASHINGTON ELM and would care to subscribe for the year, fill out the blank below and enclose $1.50.

Name

Street

City

State

THE WASHINGTON POST

VOL. XXXI. NO. 2.

SATURDAY, OCT. 17, 1931

PRICE TEN CENTS

Martin Speaks To Assembly

Interest In World Events Aim Of Speech

The Thursday Assembly, October 15th, was addressed by Henry D. Martin, a former Eastern Shoreman now resident of Baltimore. Mr. Martin is a member of the Maryland and Eastern Shore Bar and is president of the Eastern Shore Society.

Upon opening the address Mr. Martin stated that he had no particular topic but hoped to open up several lines of thought.

He began by giving a synopsis of the book by Charles B. Lewis on the life of Admiral Buchanan, the first superintendent of the United States Naval Academy founded in 1848. He commanded the Merrimack in its great naval battle with the Monitor. At the close of the war Admiral Buchanan retired to his estate on the Miles River in Talbot County, Md.

Mr. Martin then gave a list of great figures in American history, emphasizing their points of view as to having a definite aim and ideal in life, pointing out how the student of today could profit by the ideas of these statesmen.

The next feature of the talk was a recitation of the preamble of the constitution and a discourse on States Rights. Several minutes were devoted to praise of Dr. Howell's recent book "The Government of Kent County."

Concluding his speech Mr. Martin pointed out that he had attempted to open new channels of thought in the minds of his listeners and to create an interest in world problems.

Y. W. C. A. PLAN TO MAKE FINANCIAL CAMPAIGN

Will Run From October 19-21

The Young Women's Christian Association are making arrangements for a financial campaign to be held from October 19 to 21. The goal has been set at fifty dollars. This amount is needed in order that the association may carry out its plans for the year.

A committee has been appointed to solicit the faculty and the friends of the college, some of which have already agreed to help. The churches are taking special collection so that they might do their share toward the promotion of such an organization. The students will be urged to purchase tags as they have in previous years.

The finance committee members are K. Bishop, G. Colley, W. Dahm, F. Rosin, E. Willis, G. Carvel, M. Parris and A. Storey.

In order that the contributors may know just what the money is to be spent for the committee submits the following budget:

$5.00—Group picture in Pegasus.
$10.00—Luncheon and delegates to Y. W. C. A. Convention at Hood College on Oct. 31st.
$10.00—To purchase books for study and discussion.
$5.00—Subscriptions to magazines.
$5.00—National dues.
$5.00—Miscellaneous expenditures.

There will be a meeting of all the Sophomore boys in Middle Hall Sunday night.

MT. VERNON SOCIETY HOLDS PROGRAM

The members of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society, met in Mt. Vernon Hall, Wednesday, October 14, to hold its weekly literary program.

It has been an annual custom for a number of years back to have a program composed only of Freshmen talent. At these such meetings many free men bring out their light from under the bush and brilliantly shine. This was certainly the case of the freshmen, who cooperated to make this year's Freshmen program such a success. On the program:

Scripture—K. Highland.
Vocal Solo—Wallace.
Tale—Baker.
Piano Solo—Kerwin.
Tale—Sedler.
Carnet Duets—Culver, Romborg.

We hope that the members of the society and other freshmen will be encouraged by the splendid program of the society, when ever it falls your time to do so.

ADELPHA HOLDS ITS WEEKLY MEETING

The Adelpha Literary Society held its usual weekly meeting on Wednesday, October 7, in the Chapel of William Smith Hall. The purpose of the meeting was to give the society the opportunity of getting acquainted with the freshmen. The program was entirely furnished by the freshmen and was enjoyed by the large audience.

The program was as follows:
Scripture—Editha Evelyn Roe.
Piano Solo—Vincent Brandolini.
Reading—June Weaver.
Vocal Solo—Joseph Moore.
Book Report—Joseph Freedman.
Carnet Duets—John Romborg.
Vocal Solo—Anne Peck.
Moonbeams—Norris Luffy.

Miss Margaret Brewer, Dean of Women, has been unable to meet her classes during the last week due to an injury.

The injury was incurred while Miss Brewer was playing a round of golf at the Chestertown Country Club.

Collegian Of The Gay Nineties Found

"The Board of Visitors and Governors, desiring to carry out the spirit of the Act of the Legislature with regard to a ladies' Hall, purchased three acres of land immediately adjoining the College campus. The lot is situated on a hill, rising and abutting westward, from which there is a beautiful view of the town, Chester River and the surrounding country. The location could not be more beautiful or more desirable. The hall is within one hundred yards of the Central Building and of the recitation rooms, from which it is separated by the highway. It has three stories and a basement. The basement contains the dining room, 40x24 feet; kitchen, pantry, and heating apparatus. The first story contains parlors, accommodations for teachers, and the master's apartment. The second and third stories contain accommodations for thirty-two students. The building is heated throughout with hot water, is supplied with hot and cold water, bath, room and water closets, and other improvements.

Normal Hall and the boarding department are under the immediate supervision of Prof. Jones, who resides in the building. The town lady teachers, Miss Hobbs and Miss Riley who also live in Normal Hall, have the care of the young ladies in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Faculty."

The above, which was an advertisement of the college, for the then Normal Hall, was taken from an old edition of the "Collegian," which was recently presented to the college by an Alumnus. This story dates back to those "good old days" we have so often heard our elders speak of. Some thirty-two years have passed by since the editorial staff of the "Collegian" has passed from the halls of Washington, and in those thirty-two years there have been many changes. That early paper had more than Vol. 2, No. 8, while the latest "Elm" bore the number, Vol. 31.

Normal Hall and the boarding department are under the immediate supervision of Prof. Jones, who resides in the building. The town lady teachers, Miss Hobbs and Miss Riley who also live in Normal Hall, have the care of the young ladies in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Faculty."

ROTARY GOVERNOR

President: Paul E. Titworth

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President: Paul E. Titworth

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

President Titworth, who was elected Governor of the 14th District of Rotary International last summer, is nearing the end of a tour which will take him to each of the more than sixty clubs in his district. During the summer President Titworth attended the convention of Rotary International in Vienna.

DR. CARPENTER UNABLE TO MEET CLASSES

Dr. Kathleen E. Carpenter, head of the Department of Biology at Washington College, has not met her classes for the last several days due to illness. Dr. Carpenter's illness is not thought to be serious and it is expected that she will be back to her classes in a few days. The exact nature of the malady affecting the new Biology Department head is not known, but it is thought that it may be partly due to the fact that Dr. Carpenter is not accustomed to the climatic conditions of the Eastern Shore of Maryland, which are very different from those she has known.

Born in England, Dr. Carpenter lived and worked there quite a few years before coming to America. While in England, Dr. Carpenter worked several years with the British Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries. During 1928-'29 and '30 she was busy doing research work at Harvard and the University of Illinois.

Born in England, Dr. Carpenter lived and worked there quite a few years before coming to America. While in England, Dr. Carpenter worked several years with the British Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries. During 1928-'29 and '30 she was busy doing research work at Harvard and the University of Illinois.

MANY COLLEGE PAPERS USED IN AD CAMPAIGN

Amourment of Lucky Strike's new notched-tub cellophane package is made in this newspaper today as one of the advertisements in the current campaign by The American Tobacco Company. In this extensive cigarette advertising space in more than 1,900 daily newspapers and 200 college newspapers will be used to set forth the advantages of Lucky Strike's new cellophane wrapping. This improved wrapper differs from other cellophane packages in its new notched-tub feature which permits the package to be easily opened by the smoker. By hold-down down the side of the notched tub and pulling on the other the smoker can tear off one corner of the cellophane wrapper and open the package as he has always done. The notched-tub feature makes the package very easy to open without losing any of the advantages of cellophane in retaining the mellow flavor of the toasted tobacco.

Amourment of Lucky Strike's new notched-tub cellophane package is made in this newspaper today as one of the advertisements in the current campaign by The American Tobacco Company. In this extensive cigarette advertising space in more than 1,900 daily newspapers and 200 college newspapers will be used to set forth the advantages of Lucky Strike's new cellophane wrapping. This improved wrapper differs from other cellophane packages in its new notched-tub feature which permits the package to be easily opened by the smoker. By hold-down down the side of the notched tub and pulling on the other the smoker can tear off one corner of the cellophane wrapper and open the package as he has always done. The notched-tub feature makes the package very easy to open without losing any of the advantages of cellophane in retaining the mellow flavor of the toasted tobacco.

Amourment of Lucky Strike's new notched-tub cellophane package is made in this newspaper today as one of the advertisements in the current campaign by The American Tobacco Company. In this extensive cigarette advertising space in more than 1,900 daily newspapers and 200 college newspapers will be used to set forth the advantages of Lucky Strike's new cellophane wrapping. This improved wrapper differs from other cellophane packages in its new notched-tub feature which permits the package to be easily opened by the smoker. By hold-down down the side of the notched tub and pulling on the other the smoker can tear off one corner of the cellophane wrapper and open the package as he has always done. The notched-tub feature makes the package very easy to open without losing any of the advantages of cellophane in retaining the mellow flavor of the toasted tobacco.

Amourment of Lucky Strike's new notched-tub cellophane package is made in this newspaper today as one of the advertisements in the current campaign by The American Tobacco Company. In this extensive cigarette advertising space in more than 1,900 daily newspapers and 200 college newspapers will be used to set forth the advantages of Lucky Strike's new cellophane wrapping. This improved wrapper differs from other cellophane packages in its new notched-tub feature which permits the package to be easily opened by the smoker. By hold-down down the side of the notched tub and pulling on the other the smoker can tear off one corner of the cellophane wrapper and open the package as he has always done. The notched-tub feature makes the package very easy to open without losing any of the advantages of cellophane in retaining the mellow flavor of the toasted tobacco.

Amourment of Lucky Strike's new notched-tub cellophane package is made in this newspaper today as one of the advertisements in the current campaign by The American Tobacco Company. In this extensive cigarette advertising space in more than 1,900 daily newspapers and 200 college newspapers will be used to set forth the advantages of Lucky Strike's new cellophane wrapping. This improved wrapper differs from other cellophane packages in its new notched-tub feature which permits the package to be easily opened by the smoker. By hold-down down the side of the notched tub and pulling on the other the smoker can tear off one corner of the cellophane wrapper and open the package as he has always done. The notched-tub feature makes the package very easy to open without losing any of the advantages of cellophane in retaining the mellow flavor of the toasted tobacco.

Amourment of Lucky Strike's new notched-tub cellophane package is made in this newspaper today as one of the advertisements in the current campaign by The American Tobacco Company. In this extensive cigarette advertising space in more than 1,900 daily newspapers and 200 college newspapers will be used to set forth the advantages of Lucky Strike's new cellophane wrapping. This improved wrapper differs from other cellophane packages in its new notched-tub feature which permits the package to be easily opened by the smoker. By hold-down down the side of the notched tub and pulling on the other the smoker can tear off one corner of the cellophane wrapper and open the package as he has always done. The notched-tub feature makes the package very easy to open without losing any of the advantages of cellophane in retaining the mellow flavor of the toasted tobacco.

Amourment of Lucky Strike's new notched-tub cellophane package is made in this newspaper today as one of the advertisements in the current campaign by The American Tobacco Company. In this extensive cigarette advertising space in more than 1,900 daily newspapers and 200 college newspapers will be used to set forth the advantages of Lucky Strike's new cellophane wrapping. This improved wrapper differs from other cellophane packages in its new notched-tub feature which permits the package to be easily opened by the smoker. By hold-down down the side of the notched tub and pulling on the other the smoker can tear off one corner of the cellophane wrapper and open the package as he has always done. The notched-tub feature makes the package very easy to open without losing any of the advantages of cellophane in retaining the mellow flavor of the toasted tobacco.

Amourment of Lucky Strike's new notched-tub cellophane package is made in this newspaper today as one of the advertisements in the current campaign by The American Tobacco Company. In this extensive cigarette advertising space in more than 1,900 daily newspapers and 200 college newspapers will be used to set forth the advantages of Lucky Strike's new cellophane wrapping. This improved wrapper differs from other cellophane packages in its new notched-tub feature which permits the package to be easily opened by the smoker. By hold-down down the side of the notched tub and pulling on the other the smoker can tear off one corner of the cellophane wrapper and open the package as he has always done. The notched-tub feature makes the package very easy to open without losing any of the advantages of cellophane in retaining the mellow flavor of the toasted tobacco.

Amourment of Lucky Strike's new notched-tub cellophane package is made in this newspaper today as one of the advertisements in the current campaign by The American Tobacco Company. In this extensive cigarette advertising space in more than 1,900 daily newspapers and 200 college newspapers will be used to set forth the advantages of Lucky Strike's new cellophane wrapping. This improved wrapper differs from other cellophane packages in its new notched-tub feature which permits the package to be easily opened by the smoker. By hold-down down the side of the notched tub and pulling on the other the smoker can tear off one corner of the cellophane wrapper and open the package as he has always done. The notched-tub feature makes the package very easy to open without losing any of the advantages of cellophane in retaining the mellow flavor of the toasted tobacco.

Amourment of Lucky Strike's new notched-tub cellophane package is made in this newspaper today as one of the advertisements in the current campaign by The American Tobacco Company. In this extensive cigarette advertising space in more than 1,900 daily newspapers and 200 college newspapers will be used to set forth the advantages of Lucky Strike's new cellophane wrapping. This improved wrapper differs from other cellophane packages in its new notched-tub feature which permits the package to be easily opened by the smoker. By hold-down down the side of the notched tub and pulling on the other the smoker can tear off one corner of the cellophane wrapper and open the package as he has always done. The notched-tub feature makes the package very easy to open without losing any of the advantages of cellophane in retaining the mellow flavor of the toasted tobacco.

Gridders Face Haverford Today

Washington College's gridiron combination will enter the game with Haverford today with better than an even chance to cap a victory, according to the showings the two teams have made up to the present. In the three previous games of the season, the locals were not conceded more than an outside chance of coming off with a victory.

Harry Huey, big Washington and is expected to be in shape for this game, and this freshman should add considerably to the offensive power of the Griffers. Huey has been one of the lineup so far this season due to an injured ankle. With the exception of Huey, who will probably start in place of Carver at end, Coach Kibler and others are expected to revert to the same lineup that faced Hopkins two weeks ago. This seems to be the most effective combination that the local machine has struck.

Harry Huey, big Washington and is expected to be in shape for this game, and this freshman should add considerably to the offensive power of the Griffers. Huey has been one of the lineup so far this season due to an injured ankle. With the exception of Huey, who will probably start in place of Carver at end, Coach Kibler and others are expected to revert to the same lineup that faced Hopkins two weeks ago. This seems to be the most effective combination that the local machine has struck.

Plummer Expects To Lead Victorious Team

Washington College's gridiron combination will enter the game with Haverford today with better than an even chance to cap a victory, according to the showings the two teams have made up to the present. In the three previous games of the season, the locals were not conceded more than an outside chance of coming off with a victory.

Harry Huey, big Washington and is expected to be in shape for this game, and this freshman should add considerably to the offensive power of the Griffers. Huey has been one of the lineup so far this season due to an injured ankle. With the exception of Huey, who will probably start in place of Carver at end, Coach Kibler and others are expected to revert to the same lineup that faced Hopkins two weeks ago. This seems to be the most effective combination that the local machine has struck.

Harry Huey, big Washington and is expected to be in shape for this game, and this freshman should add considerably to the offensive power of the Griffers. Huey has been one of the lineup so far this season due to an injured ankle. With the exception of Huey, who will probably start in place of Carver at end, Coach Kibler and others are expected to revert to the same lineup that faced Hopkins two weeks ago. This seems to be the most effective combination that the local machine has struck.

Harry Huey, big Washington and is expected to be in shape for this game, and this freshman should add considerably to the offensive power of the Griffers. Huey has been one of the lineup so far this season due to an injured ankle. With the exception of Huey, who will probably start in place of Carver at end, Coach Kibler and others are expected to revert to the same lineup that faced Hopkins two weeks ago. This seems to be the most effective combination that the local machine has struck.

Harry Huey, big Washington and is expected to be in shape for this game, and this freshman should add considerably to the offensive power of the Griffers. Huey has been one of the lineup so far this season due to an injured ankle. With the exception of Huey, who will probably start in place of Carver at end, Coach Kibler and others are expected to revert to the same lineup that faced Hopkins two weeks ago. This seems to be the most effective combination that the local machine has struck.

Harry Huey, big Washington and is expected to be in shape for this game, and this freshman should add considerably to the offensive power of the Griffers. Huey has been one of the lineup so far this season due to an injured ankle. With the exception of Huey, who will probably start in place of Carver at end, Coach Kibler and others are expected to revert to the same lineup that faced Hopkins two weeks ago. This seems to be the most effective combination that the local machine has struck.

Harry Huey, big Washington and is expected to be in shape for this game, and this freshman should add considerably to the offensive power of the Griffers. Huey has been one of the lineup so far this season due to an injured ankle. With the exception of Huey, who will probably start in place of Carver at end, Coach Kibler and others are expected to revert to the same lineup that faced Hopkins two weeks ago. This seems to be the most effective combination that the local machine has struck.

Harry Huey, big Washington and is expected to be in shape for this game, and this freshman should add considerably to the offensive power of the Griffers. Huey has been one of the lineup so far this season due to an injured ankle. With the exception of Huey, who will probably start in place of Carver at end, Coach Kibler and others are expected to revert to the same lineup that faced Hopkins two weeks ago. This seems to be the most effective combination that the local machine has struck.

Harry Huey, big Washington and is expected to be in shape for this game, and this freshman should add considerably to the offensive power of the Griffers. Huey has been one of the lineup so far this season due to an injured ankle. With the exception of Huey, who will probably start in place of Carver at end, Coach Kibler and others are expected to revert to the same lineup that faced Hopkins two weeks ago. This seems to be the most effective combination that the local machine has struck.

Harry Huey, big Washington and is expected to be in shape for this game, and this freshman should add considerably to the offensive power of the Griffers. Huey has been one of the lineup so far this season due to an injured ankle. With the exception of Huey, who will probably start in place of Carver at end, Coach Kibler and others are expected to revert to the same lineup that faced Hopkins two weeks ago. This seems to be the most effective combination that the local machine has struck.

White's Photographers Visit Campus For Pegasus

Last Tuesday and Wednesday, Mr. Adolph Gulkau, photographer for the White Busch club and classes, came to take numerous groups and individuals for The Washington College Pegasus.

All senior individuals were taken as were many officers and presidents of the White Busch club and classes. Group pictures of The Adelpha, The Y. W. C. A., the three sororities and fraternities, the football team and several others were made. The conclusion of our stay at the college during the second day was due to the difficulty in scheduling, a too heavy schedule, and in some cases, lateness in keeping appointments.

Any group that was not photographed last week for any reason will be taken when White's photographer next visits the campus.

The proofs on the various pictures are expected within two weeks, although no definite date has been set.

(Another article on this paper will appear in the next issue of The Washington Elm.)

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

Editor IRVING S. ROSS
Assistant Editor Phillip Wingate
Literary Editor William H. Hamelberg
Exchange Editor William M. Richards

REPORTERS

Mildred Covey, Roland C. Ready, John Stankiewicz, Joseph H. Freedman, William Chase, James T. Anthony, Michael Wallace, Albert P. Goratle, John A. Warner, E. Clarke Fontaine, Jr., Charles Clarke.

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

DeWitt F. Clark, Edward F. Fitzgerald, Paul Pippin

SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES

Elizabeth Cooper, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager JOHN H. LUDDY
Assistant Business Manager Joseph B. Dickerson
Circulation Manager Edwin T. Coulbourn

ASSISTANTS

Louis I. Goldstein, Scott Beck, Jr.

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, OCT. 17, 1931

PRO BONO COLLEGIO

We have never been a librarian and probably never will be. Our only knowledge of libraries consists of a fairly regular patronage of them. In some libraries we even have to ask assistance when we use the filing cabinets. We know nothing about the, apparently, very complex library system at Washington College. The ways in which decisions are reached by the library committee are admittedly far beyond our grasp.

Thus you see we have no right whatsoever to criticize the college library and everything we say should be discounted as the ramblings of an immature and untrained college boy. We think that the library should be opened to students not only on week days and nights and Saturday afternoons but also on Sunday evenings. We petition for this rather modest change because we believe that this is what we are more liable to get. It is not what we would like to see.

Along with all other right thinking people we have always been under the impression that a library should always be available. If Washington College hopes to spread culture about our old Eastern Shore and way stations it will materially aid its hopes if it makes its library a place where people go to browse through books besides to do home work.

The argument for Sunday evenings is very apparent. It is necessary for the preparation of Monday's lessons and the expense of having one extra librarian once a week for two hours is so minute that it can not be considered.

We wish to submit this to the authorities that govern all such changes in the spirit of co-operation. We are both striving for the good of the college and open comment is the path to this aim.

We are a great respecter of tradition. Men have worn pants for numerous centuries now and we will fight to the last seam for their continued existence. So is it with eating, sleeping and a thousand of the other fine old traditions that we have been fostered on. We're all for them.

But Washington College has reached and passed its quota of traditions. We bear up nobly under the tradition of standing to sing in chapel. Rah-rahing at games, we believe, is a fine old custom. But our very soul rebels and our eyes grow wild when we hear Haverford's sir is what we are greeted with twenty times a day.

When we were freshmen we were told that this was to arouse spirit and in our credulity we believed it. Whenever we met a member of the team we would snap out a neat salute and cry with enthusiasm "Beat Whoos, Sir." We were doing our bit. We were a part of the noble plan to wipe the bulk of force of bestial Whoosis in the dust. Then we had misgivings; our "Beat Whoosis, sir" was going unnoticed. Never was there a glint of determination in a player's eye; never did a non-participant break into cheering when we let loose our cheery "Beat Whoosis, sir."

If we were a player we wouldn't like this custom. After several repetitions we would begin to think that these people were doubting our prowess, and as for the non-combatant it only serves to constantly remind him that alma mater scorns his services in this manly game and that the right half-back is making time with his girl.

So to those that ordain such things we humbly petition that this tradition be abandoned. Then we might be Whoosis this week and—who knows—old Whatsit might fall the next.

BEYOND THE CAMPUS

In these columns you have read of the President, impatiently. 'Tee got it! he suddenly cried leaping on Mellon's feet. 'Let's give Germany a fuller, writing in the "Nineteenth Century," comes to St. Gandhi's rescue and shows some of the earnestness and seriousness of the man. Some statements he makes are: "Like Man, he (Gandhi) holds that everything that ministers to the flesh is evil." Chastity is one of the greatest disciplines without which the mind cannot attain requisite firmness. Birth control, so necessary in India, he holds in abhorrence. To Gandhi the spinning-wheel is the panacea of all human ills, for it will kill leisure time, thought, and violence. He will not let his wife marry another, who has trodden his thorny path, a saint who for the love of God has sinned against humanity."

Eddie Cantor with the help of David Freedman has evolved a free you plan under the title "You Have Prosperity." Here are a few excerpts: "Prosperity is back but don't breathe a word about it."

"It's a state secret. Luckily I was down in Washington when the whole deal was closed and here is the real inside story."

"The President was in executive session with his cabinet."

"We have to do something," said Secretary Mellon in a hushed voice. "The time has come to stop talking about hunger and depression, because nobody has the strength left to talk. There's only one thing to do. Let's find out who discovered America and give it back to him."

"No, he wouldn't take it," said the President, impatiently. 'Tee got it! he suddenly cried leaping on Mellon's feet. 'Let's give Germany a fuller, writing in the "Nineteenth Century," comes to St. Gandhi's rescue and shows some of the earnestness and seriousness of the man. Some statements he makes are: "Like Man, he (Gandhi) holds that everything that ministers to the flesh is evil." Chastity is one of the greatest disciplines without which the mind cannot attain requisite firmness. Birth control, so necessary in India, he holds in abhorrence. To Gandhi the spinning-wheel is the panacea of all human ills, for it will kill leisure time, thought, and violence. He will not let his wife marry another, who has trodden his thorny path, a saint who for the love of God has sinned against humanity."

"The President confided to me before I left him that prosperity is just around the corner, but I didn't catch the name of the street."

"President Hoover has given us our first real hope for prosperity. He has started work on Europe in earnest and sent his cabinet abroad so we can achieve something here."

"Of course, we have to work fast before Mellon and Stimson get back."

An Atlanta Penitentiary inmate in writing to the Book League of America to complain that he had not received his July books said: "There must be a bunch of crooks around here."

The report of the Associated Press correspondent at Knoxville, Tenn., was printed in the "American Mercury" and is reprinted here:

"A proposal to install a bath-tub in the Youngs High School, long debated by County School Board members, was abandoned today."

"We don't have school on Saturday, so it won't be needed," a board member announced to the finance committee of the County Court."

An actress is not a lady; at least, when she is, she is not an actress—George Bernard Shaw.

No good women on the stage? There are thousands of them—and only about six actresses.—Robert Buchanan.

Greek Letter Notes

Theodora Chapman and Harriet Ragner were pledged at the last meeting of the Kappa Gamma sorority.

Louise Crouse spent the week end at Reid Hall. Louisa Bowen was also a visitor last Sunday.

Margaret Russell, '31, is continuing her studies this fall at the University of Pennsylvania.

Among those alumni who have recently visited on the Hill are Eugenia Morgan and Dora Sewell.

The Gamma Sigma Sorority welcomes Dr. Gertrude V. Ingalls as an honorary member.

Two of our members, Alice Dole and Ethel Herrera have been elected members of the Women's Honor Society. Miss Dole was chosen Secretary of this organization.

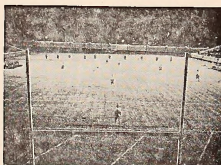

Dr. Esther M. Dole entertained the Gamma Sigma members at tea last Thursday afternoon at her home.

Eleanor Dudley and Betty Hutchinson have accepted bids to the Gamma Sigma Sorority.

"From all appearances, the time must come when college graduates will be forced into vocations which up to now they have despised as a mark of failure."—McGill Daily.

"Some speak of loyalty to the past. Why not be loyal to our present life? Let us remember that high school days are over, and we are now college students."—Temple University News.

College-trained engineers revisit the athletic field

Night photograph of Temple Stadium, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, floodlighted with GE projectors

ON more than a hundred floodlighted fields, football is being played and practiced in the evening hours, before larger audiences than ever before—with fewer injuries and in better conformity with classroom duties.

This constructive revolution in athletics is largely the work of college-trained engineers— young men personally familiar with the needs of college and school. They are dedicating the technical experience gained in the General Electric Test Department to the practical service of undergraduate athletics—designing and installing floodlighting equipment for virtually every sport—football, baseball, hockey, tennis, and track.

Other college men in the General Electric organization have specialized in street-lighting and floodlighting projects, or in the electrical equipment of industries and mines or of immense power stations; some are designing and applying electric apparatus to propel ocean liners and locomotives. All are engaged in the planning, production, or distribution of G-E products and so are performing a work of national betterment and creating for themselves recognized spheres of personal influence.

You will be interested in Bulletin GEA-1206, "The Light that Started Sports at Night." Write for it to the nearest G-E office or to Lighting Division, General Electric Company, Schenectady, New York

GENERAL ELECTRIC

Johns Hopkins Wins Close Game

BASKET BALL SCHEDULE LISTS 11 STATE GAMES

Princeton Not Scheduled

Carozza Scores But Steps Out Of Bounds

On Saturday, October 3rd, the Maroon and Black gridiron warriors displaying an exceptionally strong defensive game, were finally forced to take the short end of 0 to 0 score from Johns Hopkins University. The only tally of the game occurred in the second period when Kelly, Jay quarterback took a short pass from Reynolds and ran 35 yards to within scoring distance, but the ball was finally pushed over on four plays. The point after the touchdown failed to materialize.

Washington's best effort to score came in the second period when Carozza, an end, snared a pass and ran over the goal line. He was, however, declared out of bounds by the officials and the ball was brought back to the scrimmage line where it was finally given to Hopkins on downs.

In midfield the Shoremen played an ordinary defensive game, but just as soon as the ball was brought into dangerous territory the line braced itself and refused to allow any of the Jay backs through. One time when the ball was a few yards from the goal and the Hopkins team had three downs to put it over, the star line from the Eastern Shore rooted itself so firmly that the Jays could not put the ball across and had to give it up on downs.

Carozza got off quite a few excellent punts the best of which was from one behind the goal line 60 yards to Kelly.

If Washington College had played as well offensively as it did defensively these would have been two sides of the outcome of the game. As it was the Maroon and Black backs couldn't make much headway, although they did break through several times for long gains. Captain Plummer seemed to be only one who could gain yardage through the line consistently.

Except for the occasional fumbling on the part of both teams the game was well played and the teams were fairly evenly matched.

The lineup and summary:

Washington	Hopkins
Gamber	LE Ives
Ward	LT Doty
Dickerson	LG Curtright
Crosswith	C Hein
W. Carey	RG Levy
Fitzner	RT Biskobek
Carozza	RE Welzel
Robinson	QB Kibler
Rhinehold	LB Reynolds
Dobkins	RH Turnbull
Plummer	FB Weeks

Substitutions: Washington—Baker for Plummer, Nicholson for Carey, Lord for Nicholson, Clements for Carozza; Hopkins—Reid for Turnbull, Young for Ives.

Referee—Keyes, Haverford; Umpire—Schmidt; Headlinesman—Lidley.

Students Will Find Our Store a Very Desirable Place To Visit
TOULSON'S
Drug Store

Phones—26 and 311

Washington College's basketball schedule for the 1931 season includes 11 state and 6 out of the state games. Saint Joseph is killed for two games. It was the Philadelphi-ans who defeated the Flying Penitents on their home floor for the first time in four years.

The University of Maryland, Southern Conference champs are carded for one game. Washington was one of the few teams to take the Fall Liners into camp last year. The Flying Penitents beat the old lineup in one of the most thrilling games of the season. Hopkins is included in the state games this year. The Blue Jays loosened our grasp on the state crown last year by defeating the Kibberites in Baltimore.

Washington will meet its traditional rival Loyola in two games this season. The Greyhounds are state title holders and it will be up to the locals to dislodge them from this much coveted gimnack.

Saint Johns is again on the schedule, but our much prized game with Princeton has so far not been included.

The schedule is as follows:

Dec. 12—Osgoeths	Home
Jan. 5—St. Josephs	Philadelphia
Jan. 9—Pending	Home
Jan. 15—Hopkins	Baltimore
Jan. 16—St. Mary's, Emmittsburg	Home
Jan. 23—Loyola	Home
Jan. 30—St. Josephs	Home
Feb. 6—St. Johns	Home
Feb. 9—W. Md.	Westminster
Feb. 10—U. of Md.	College Park
Feb. 13—Hopkins	Home
Feb. 16—Swarthmore	Home
Feb. 19—St. Mary's	Home
Feb. 23—St. Johns	Annapolis
Feb. 27—Loyola	Baltimore
Mar. 5—W. Md.	Home
Mar. 12—Home Coming.	Home

HERB'S

QUICK LUNCH

Sandwiches of all kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Vashell House

NOLAND'S

Department Store

Get anything you want from Dry Goods to School Supplies.
221 - 223 High Street
Chestertown, Maryland

Compliments of
Chestertown
Electric Light and Power
Company

Sports Notions

By Phillip J. Wingo

Washington College's gridiron will meet Haverford today in a pretty evenly matched contest, however, the reason for this statement is not hard to find. The pupils of Kibler and Ekaltis played fine football against a great U. of Md. eleven and tonight this good work against one of the best grid combinations in the East has ever put on the field. Consequently, the let down in the Swarthmore game was not wholly unexpected and now the Maroon and Black should be set to go to top again. Also Haverford has a team that is entirely within our class, and this fact coupled with the above reason seem to leave out the opinion that the Kibberites played a touchdown or maybe two better than the Pennsylvanians, when they meet on the gridiron today.

In view of the close contests which the locals played with Maryland and Hopkins, the victories chalked up by these two schools over Navy and Lehigh are particularly pleasing to backers of the Maroon and Black. If Coach Ekaltis and Kibler keep their charges playing the brand of football they displayed in their first two games of the season, and there is no reason to think they will not, Washington should turn in a creditable season. Lack of a powerful line is the greatest handicap the Washingtonians face; they have great coaching and plenty of fight.

The U. of St. Mary's game, played here next Saturday may introduce two former Baltimore City College football players, who according to reports have quite a little football ability. They are McKenzie and Baker.

Observation of pre-season basketball activities under the direction of Assistant Coach "Dutch" Dummett have led quite a few people to believe that Maryland basketball may not have to look far to find a eager to fill Bill Liston's place as high scorer in the state. "Dell" Pennington, forward for the Flying Penitents, handles the ball and shoots in a manner that may be even a little flattering to the former Loyola star's style of play, to which Penn's playing is likened.

The Freshmen will have a heavier team than the Sophomores in the annual tug of war to be held Monday and should have a good chance to win. Just the same many look to the Sophs to win an annual tug, as many may be that there is often more to the tug than meets the eye. And the answer to that last sentence is: Who knows?

PAUL and SAM
Quality and Service
SHOE REPAIRING
Next To Sterlings Drug Store
Chestertown, Maryland

The Best Of
EVERYTHING
Needed
FOR BUILDING
E. S. Adkins & Co.
Chestertown, Centerville
Easton, Salisbury

WALTER KARGIN CHOSE CAPTAIN OF LACROSSE

William Danneberg, Manager

Walter Kargin was elected Captain of Lacrosse for the season of 1932, at an election held by the lacrosse letter men of last year. At the same time William H. Danneberg was elected manager of lacrosse. Due to graduation last June and failure of several lacrosseurs to return this year, only the following took part in the election: Kargin, Robinson, Giv, the election: Kargin, Robinson, Giv, Ekaltis, Williams, Reinhold, and Cannon. A captain of lacrosse was not elected, in the usual manner of electing captains at Washington last year, because "Gus" Crothers introduced the Maryland system of electing captains before each game. However, Coach Ekaltis, now coach of the old gridiron game decided to revert to the system formerly in use.

After football season is over, Coach Ekaltis, will give a short fall practice for the lacrossemen who are not out for basket ball. Washington fans look to the former Western Maryland star to get together a pretty powerful skill combination for the coming year. Ekaltis played three years of lacrosse at Western Maryland and also put in one year of coaching at his Alma Mater.

FORMER WASHINGTON STAR WITH CARDS

Flowers in World Series

Jake Flowers, former Washington College second baseman, held down the center for the World's Champions St. Louis Cardinals against the Boston Red Sox in the first game of the series. Flowers, who started the past baseball season with Brooklyn, was traded to the Cardinals in the summer. In the fourth game of the series, Flowers was struck in the face by a hit ground ball and was out of the lineup for the next game. However, Flowers returned in the lineup in the sixth game and scored the only cardinal marker of the contest after Arnold doubling against the score board, when Lefty Grove served him a fire ball to his liking.

Flowers is a resident of Cambridge, Md., where he engages in a real estate business during the winter months. Flowers was also a member of the Cardinal team that won the world championship several years ago, under the management of Rogers Hornsby.

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149

C. W. Kibler & Sons
Chestertown, Maryland

CAMPUS BEAUTY!
Bright, but not too bright lip stick... a powder blended to harmonize with your precious rich red and rusty browns... and a new curl for the perk new hat will make you startle the campus with your chic. We specialize in sweaters, and our prices are reasonable.

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE
LOUISE B. DUCHESNEAU
Owner and Operator

306 Park Row

Washington Bows To Swarthmore

Locals Play Loose Contest

Washington College lost its third straight football game of the current season, last Saturday, to Swarthmore College at Swarthmore, Pa. The result was a disappointment to followers of the team, as Swarthmore was considered only a fair opponent, having lost by a large score to Pennsylvania the previous week. The defeat was largely due to overcautiousness on the part of the locals, and not playing head-up football during the early part of the game. After the beginning of the third quarter, the Maroon and Black gridiron men held their own, and especially in the last quarter did they show results of their fine tutoring by the coaching staff, although no serious backfield scoring was made.

The game opened with Lord kicking off for Washington. Once in possession of the ball, Swarthmore came ripping through the center of the line for five and ten yard gains. Within five minutes they had secured a touchdown on a line back. The kick for extra point was good. Washington decided to kick off again and Swarthmore ran the ball back past mid-field. After a few plays, Washington College's goal line was again crossed, after a short pass had been thrown to the one yard line.

Washington's last touchdown was scored on another line back early in the second quarter. For the first time, try for extra point was missed and the scoring for the day was even. From then on Washington played good football and with Reinhold's kicking keeping the locals out of the game, the game ended with the ball in mid-field.

The lineup and summary:

Swarthmore	Washington
Simon	left end Plummer
Turner	left tackle Lord
Arnold	left guard Lord
Leber	center Growwith
Brown	right guard Dickerson
Hader	right tackle Ward
Jones	right end Gamber
McCracken	quarterback Robinson
Faines	left halfback Reinhold
Browning	right halfback Dobkins
Schenbs	fullback Baker

Substitutions: Washington—Carey for Lord, Lord for Growwith, Carozza for Plummer, Plummer for Baker, Jones for Blizard, Nicholson for Carey, Williams for Carey, Gibson for Dobkins, Johnson for Robinson. Referee—W. C. Longstreth, Haverford; Umpire—J. A. Glasco, Catholic University; Head Linesman—C. N. Gault, Muhlenberg; Time of game—15 minutes.

ADVERTISE in THE ELM

CAMPUS BEAUTY!
Bright, but not too bright lip stick... a powder blended to harmonize with your precious rich red and rusty browns... and a new curl for the perk new hat will make you startle the campus with your chic. We specialize in sweaters, and our prices are reasonable.

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE
LOUISE B. DUCHESNEAU
Owner and Operator

306 Park Row

DEL-MAR-VA RESTAURANT
—FOR—
AFTER DANCE LUNCHEONS
AND REGULAR MEALS

SLIPPERY ELM

By W. H. Danneberg

Once upon a time there was a college where the professors were all masters of their own fields and the students were all nature enough to want to learn from them. These students exhausted every possible source to obtain vast knowledge of any project they were assigned. There were no doors in the dormitories which had given way to pedal pressure. Neither were there windows which had crumbled under the shock of flying milk bottles. For these students sought to learn by rational observation and instruction. Physical experiments were tried under conditions which did not admit draughts through broken barriers. Logic was studied to organize and make useful the reasoning powers. The mathematics were studied to aid scientific development. The classics were carefully read to display and aid an appreciation of the true, the good, and the beautiful. This college produced people who were moral and who were useful mentally. It is true that not everybody could pursue such a course of study but those who did so could USE THEIR BRAINS. Since that time that college less adopted the modern usage of offering a very flimsy instruction in the departments named and substituting an altogether too frail training in a few technicalities. The abstractions that give mental exercise for increasing mental agility have nearly disappeared. Now students are turned out who have learned a few technical operations to fit very special cases but they have not learned either flexibility or adaptability. We are told to specialize long before we have an opportunity of knowing what we can do. Consequently many lives are wasted which have been spent in learning some of the minor details of technical branch before the student knows his own capabilities. After all, in the performance of the world's work, desire is a small portion. The ability to do well in some particular line is necessary, but how can we determine that line without trying something? Therefore, the good, old-fashioned method of teaching the classics, the mathematics, and logic, was successful in that it gave the student a flexible mind which was far more adaptable to one of several fields than the limited and meagerly trained (not educated) mind that pours forth from modern colleges every year.

The lower expanse of the campus is again marred by the appearance of the two alleged hockey goals which resemble portions of an — or part of the menagerie equipment lost by a traveling circus. An actual inquiry was made as to the nature of the biological experiment that required two such unwieldy cages being placed in such a conspicuous location. This observation is not directed toward the abolition of any sport by the co-eds but I cannot help feeling that something more dignified could be provided. The nets used by the lacrosse team in their spring practice are very unobtrusive and certainly not objectionable to the most sensitive observer. Several pieces of iron pipe and some coal netting would perform more efficiently and certainly more the same function for which the cages were placed in the midst of an otherwise lovely grass plot.

MT. VERNON SOCIETY ELECTS NEW MEMBERS

The Mt. Vernon Literary Society held its regular weekly meeting Wednesday, Oct. 7th, in room 21. The following students joined the society: Kathryn Baker, William Blake, William Campbell, Mary Moore, Elisabeth Walbert, Evelyn Walbert and Clare Wyle.

The nature of the program was a discussion of articles selected from various current magazines. The topics discussed were:

Current Events—Ethel Henera.
"Football"—Charles Clark.
Honorable Reading—Mary Farr.
"Shakespeare"—William Richards.
"The Geometry of the Mind"—

Robert Beuchley.

Womens' Honor Society Elects

A special meeting of the Women's Honor Society was held Wednesday, Sept. 23rd and the following girls were elected to membership:

Ruth Johnson, class of '32.
Alice Dole, Ethel Herrelia and Ann Krueger, class of '33.

The regular monthly meeting of the Society was held Monday, Sept. 28th. The newly elected members were present. The failure of last year's society to elect a Vice-President and Secretary for the current year necessitated an election which resulted as follows:

Vice-President—Ruth Johnson.

Secretary—Alice Dole.

The purpose of the Women's Honor Society is to bring together women students of the junior and senior classes who have maintained a high standard of scholarship and leadership, and who have at all times shown their willingness to serve the best interests of the college. An average scholarship index of at least 2.25 is a requisite for eligibility for election.

The maximum membership is twelve: eight seniors and four juniors. The present membership is three seniors and three juniors or only one half the maximum membership. Members of the junior and senior classes still have an opportunity to raise their indices to the required standard so that they will be eligible for election at the end of this semester.

NON FRATERNITY MEN ELECT CLUB OFFICERS

At the suggestion of the Student Council to create better conditions in Middle Hall and promote better fellowship, a meeting of all the non-fraternity upper classmen was called on Friday, October 9th, at 7 P. M. This meeting was called to order by George Ekakis, Head of Middle Hall. After an explanation of the purpose of this meeting, the election of officers ensued. The following men were elected:

Pres.—Walter Branford.
Vice-Pres.—William Wright.
Sec.—Milton Noble.
Treas.—Mason Trupp.
Ser.-at-Arms—Nelson Richards.
Faculty Adv.—George Ekakis.

"That bully old slogan hits me just right—

... no bamboozlin' about that!"

SURE! When a word fits, you know it! "Satisfy" just fits CHESTERFIELD. A smoker picks up a package, and he likes its neat appearance—no heavy inks or odors from ink. That satisfies him.

Then he examines a Chesterfield. It is well-filled; it is neat in appearance; the paper is pure white. And that satisfies him.

He lights up. At the very first puff he likes the flavor and the rich aroma. He decides that it tastes better—neither raw nor over-sweet; just pleasing and satisfying.

Then he learns it is milder. That's another way of saying that there is nothing irritating about it. And again he's satisfied!

Satisfy—they've got to satisfy! The right tobacco, the CHESTERFIELD kind, cured and aged, blended and cross-blended, to a taste that's right. Everything that goes into CHESTERFIELD is the best that money can buy and that science knows about. CHESTERFIELDS do a complete job of it. They Satisfy!

Open Forum

It is only proper that an honest criticism be given a reply, as only in the same spirit in which the criticism was given, and that is the purpose of this writing. The criticism in question was the one which appeared in the last issue pertaining to the handling of the noon meal in the cafeteria. I presume that an explanation is about the only reply possible.

Everyone concerned would, I am sure, prefer to have the noon meal start at 11:45 and close about 12:15. Such a period would allow those not having eleven o'clock classes to eat their lunch before those leaving class at 11:55 would be able to get over to the cafeteria, as was done last year; also the waiters would be able to finish their work sooner. Yet, there is difficulty and only one which presents itself and thus makes it necessary to start the meal after the eleven o'clock class closes—and that reason is that there are not enough waiters available at 11:45 to handle the work in the cafeteria. On Monday, only two men are available; on Tuesday, only three men are available; on Wednesday, only four men are available; on Friday, only two men are available; but on Saturday, six men are available. However, four of those six men are football men and are of necessity called away on Saturday, and it has not been deemed advisable to change the hour for that one day.

There has come to the writer's attention many and varied comments concerning the cafeteria situations.

menas, etc., this year, and it is only thru the cooperation of the students in their just criticism that conditions may become just as good as possible. A good constructive criticism is always welcomed by anyone who is desirous of obtaining the best results possible.

Another condition arising is the necessity of perhaps waiting in line during cold weather and wet weather. Regardless of the time any of the meals start, it is a fact that one will find some of the students in line before that time. Yet, regardless of that fact, it is quite possible that such a condition may be overcome by permitting the gymnasium entrance to the cafeteria during wet weather, or by serving the students by groups or the like. However, the solution of that problem will be a matter for future consideration.

—Ollie Robinson.

When Traveling Use The BALTIMORE-TOLCHESTER FERRY

Direct Route From The Eastern Shore To The Heart of Baltimore

For Passengers, Automobiles and Trucks—LOW RATES.
For information—Phone Chestertown 810-F3; Baltimore Plaza 8165.
TOLCHESTER COMPANY

Try the new style Drinkless
KAYWOODIE

Initials Extra
UNITED CIGAR STORES
Sales—Agency

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing

103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

JOE'S Newstand

Cigars, Cigarettes,
Soft Drinks, Newspapers,

Magazines
Of All Kinds

Under the Voshell House

The Chestertown
Bank of Maryland
Bank of Service

Branches at
Galena, Kennedyville,
Beltteron

Main Branch
Chestertown, Maryland
4% On Savings 4%

Archery Becomes Popular At W.C.

Elizabeth Walbert Ranks Best With Arrows

Archery is taking on the aspect of a tournament. There is an increasing large number out for this sport, and a daily improvement is shown in the shooting. Some excellent shots have been discovered, chief of whom are Elizabeth Walbert, who has a score of 55 out of a round of 24 arrows, and Mildred Tryano, with 56 out of 24. Evelyn Walbert also has a good score, 48 points out of a round of 24 arrows.

The girls have been slow in coming out for hockey this fall, but it is hoped they will be all out by the end of the week.

"Gym" classes are settling down to regular routine work with the apparatus.

JUST UP THE ROAD AT

SCHAUBER'S

For Delicious

ICE CREAM, MILK,

CAKES, SANDWICHES,

CANDIES, DRINKS and

TOBACCO of all kinds

Phone 330

GILL BROS. ICE CREAM

Assorted Blocks
Dainties

Fresh Milk Daily
ROBINSON and JOHNSON
Daily 10 to 11 P. M.

GAMBER AND PROUDFOOT ELECTED BY SOPHS

At the class meeting held by the Sophomores last Tuesday, Richard M. Gamber, president of the class, was elected student council representative, while Orlbert Proudfoot was chosen member of the Blue Key Fraternity. These positions were left vacant when two members of the class failed to return to school this fall. A Vigilance Committee was also elected. The members are John Wagner, Albert Tobkins, Fritz Rhinbold, Charles Clough, Robert Hall and David Fisher.

The

Third National Bank
Chestertown, Md.

The Only
National Bank
In Kent County

Compliments

ALBERT L. WHEAT
"The Young Men's Shop"
Chestertown, Maryland

CLOTHING
SHOES
HABERDASHERY

RESTAURANT

For a Delicious Electric Toasted Sandwich, Special Oishes,
Regular 50c Dinners, Fancy Sandwiches, Ice Cream,
Sodas, Candies, Cigarettes, etc.,

Visit The

CANDY KITCHEN

(Open 6 A. M. Until 12 P. M.)

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE
CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students
Offers Complete Line of Conklin and Wahl Pens and Pencils. Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationary,
And School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

THE REXAL STORE
EASTMAN KODAKS

FILMS
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING
BY EXPERTS

DRUGS and
SUNDRIES
Of All Kinds

A. L. STERLING

WE KNOW
What Young Men Want
You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style matters.

You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service. Our clothes will meet every thing you demand of them.

BORDLEY & SON

DROP IN
AND LET US SHOW YOU
OUR FULL LINE OF
VICTROLAS - RADIOS
AND FURNITURE
THE LATEST IN MUSIC
AND RECORDS

W. P. NEWNAM
CHESTERTOWN, MD.

A Special Lace To-Thee
Toe Athletic Keds for Women's Gym Work.

Harry F. Jefferson

Students Of
Washington College
A Safe Place To Deal
THE STAM DRUG CO.
Everything in Drugs

Prescriptions Filled by Registered Pharmacists
Only

A Full Line of
School Supplies
Whitman's Candy
Cigars and Tobacco

QUALITY SPORTING GOODS
Catalog on Request
McCallisters
Est. 1894
124 W. Baltimore St.
Baltimore, Maryland

The Emerson Hotel Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled
Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

STOP AT THE VOSHELL HOUSE
ROOMS WITH BATH
MODERATE RATES

Annual Tug o' War Set For Monday

On Monday afternoon, October 19, two teams representing the fifteen strongest boys of the Sophomore and Freshman Class will meet at Brook's Mill Stream to engage in the annual Tug-o-War.

The two teams will line up on opposite sides of the stream where they will take the rope. When the whistle blows they will pull their mightiest until one or the other has been pulled through the mud. There is a great amount of "chick spirit" shown in the event, for upon it's outcome rests the honor of their class. For ten minutes following the tug-o-war there will be a general mud battle in which all of the Sophomore and Freshman boys will participate. The mud battle is even more interesting than the tug-o-war to the majority of the spectators.

The tug-o-war and mud battle has been staged annually for many years and has become an event of great local interest. Last year the scene of the contest was crowded with spectators and pictures of it were printed in the various city papers.

The Sophomore tug-o-war team will consist of Carey, Hill, Wagner, Dobkin, Glatlis, Clarke, Bennett, Anthony, Capel, Merrill, Gamber, Paris, Williams, Jones, Cohen.

Those to pull for the Freshmen will be: Ward, Wright, Riland, Lord, De Mattis, Nicholson, MacKraie, Johns, Carvins, Huey, Mooney, Sadelen, Baker, Stankiewicz, Sayler.

Peace Speakers Visit College

On October the eighth part of the Peace Caravan of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom passed on its way to the White House in Washington, D. C., and incidentally the final goal of its long trip from Hollywood, Cal.

The assembly was addressed by two very able speakers of the Caravan, Miss Emma Wold, a lawyer of Washington State and Mildred Scott Olmsted, World War Social and Red Cross worker and member of Hoover's war-time food commission.

The speaker pictured the hazards and misery of war and brought out the fact that another war would practically blot out the human race through the use of poisonous gases. Steps that have been taken toward peace were outlined and the exciting aim world peace was through universal disarmament.

A petition for total disarmament was circulated among the student body and a final appeal made for everyone to sign.

Similar petitions have been circulated all over the world by members of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

The members of the Caravan hoped to place petitions, which they had collected all over United States, in the hands of President Hoover on October the tenth.

Hope was expressed that the work of the Women's League will have an influence on representatives of the International Peace Conference, to be held in February at Geneva, and will result in total world disarmament.

FRESHMEN DANCE HELD AT PARISH HOUSE HERE

The Freshmen Dance was held in the Parish House of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, Friday night. Music was furnished by some of the members of the College Orchestra, and refreshments of cake and punch were served. Since the dance was given in honor of the Freshman Class, no admission was charged them, expenses being met by the 50 cents admission paid by the upperclassmen.

This is the second affair given this year by the young People's Guild, an organization formerly known as the Episcopal Club of Washington College. The next meeting of the Guild will be held Sunday, October 25th, and will probably be a supper-meeting.

After A Studious Day

Relax at

JIM'S and HICK'S

Billiard Parlor

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store

Where Your Dollar

Has More Cents

Oh! You Lucky Tab!!

MOISTURE-PROOF CELLOPHANE

Sealed Tight—Ever Right

The Unique HUMIDOR PACKAGE

Zip—

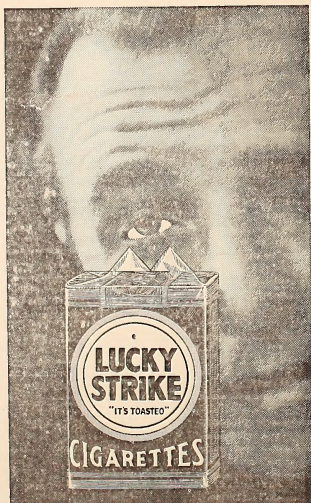

and it's open!

See the new notched tab on the top of the package. Hold down one half with your thumb. Tear off the other half. Simple. Quick. Zip! That's all. Unique! Wrapped in dust-proof, moisture-proof, germ-proof Cellophane. Clean, protected, neat, FRESH!—what could be more modern than LUCKIES' Improved Humidor Package—so easy to open! Ladies—the LUCKY tab is—your finger nail protection.

Made of the finest tobaccos—The Cream of many Crops—LUCKY STRIKE alone offers the throat protection of the exclusive "TOASTING" Process which includes the use of modern Ultra Violet Rays—the process that expels certain biting, harsh irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. These expelled irritants are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE! "They're out—so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough

And Moisture-Proof Cellophane Keeps that "Toasted" Flavor Ever Fresh

TUNE IN—The Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra, every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evening over N. B. C. network

THE PEOPLES BANK

Commercial
and Savings
Accounts

Rock Hall
Chestertown

FOR HAIR BEAUTY—THE FAMOUS
ARNOIL
STEAM TREATMENTS

$1.00

Conditions hair for permenents... Stops falling hair... Gives the natural sheen and lustre so much desired.

GRAY BEAUTY
SALON

Phone 283 Chestertown, Md.

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleven oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

Editor IRVING S. ROSS
Assistant Editor Phillip Wingate
Literary Editor William M. Danneberg
Alumni Editor A. E. Howard
Society Editor W. McA. Richards

REPORTERS

Mildred Covey, Roland C. Ready, John Stankiewicz, Joseph H. Freedman, William Chase, James T. Anthony, Michael Wallace, Albert P. Gorall, J. P. Gorall, A. E. Wagner, E. Clarke Fontaine, Jr., Charles Clark, Annabelle L. Storey, Janet Atwater, Walter Karling

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

DeWitt F. Clark, Edward F. Fitzgerald, Paul Pippin

SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES

Elizabeth Cooper, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager JOHN J. LUDDY
Assistant Business Manager Joseph B. Dickerson
Circulation Manager Edwin T. Coulbourn

ASSISTANTS

Louis I. Goldstein, Scott Beck, Jr.

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter. Single Copy 10 cents.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, OCT. 31, 1931

SOME THOUGHTS ON CHEERING

One thing has been greatly lacking from the campus this year whose loss has caused this department no moanings and not many tears. We have smiled our leisurely way about the campus with great presence of mind and sufficient at ease to pursue our meditations. Naturally we speak of the great hue and cry that was raised last year about the necessity for cheering. Life proceeds along its way more calmly than when frenzied collegians were constantly commanding us to "cheer damn you, cheer!"

Now undoubtedly the boys should be cheered to the last echo or last point or whatever boys are cheered to but we were always so constituted that organized cheering seemed to us the lowest level of inanity. Nothing is more stirring than to hear the sudden roar of a crowd as they rise to their feet and greet a brilliant play and conversely nothing is more artificial and stupid than the usual rah, rah, rah and hiss, boom, bah coming from a group of herd freshmen. It is the great collegiate fallacy that such stuff makes the players die with greater eagerness for alma mater. If it was honestly analyzed it would be found that it was the mere presence of the crowd and the fact of the approaching game that give the player that odd nervous feeling as he sits in the dressing room. Ask any one and he will tell you that the first roar of greeting as he runs on to the field or floor is that thrill; the rest becomes a blurred background in the excitement of the game. It affects him only when the crowd expresses the feelings that are within him. A linesman might want to say a few of the things to his opponent that an excited crowd does but we can assure you that one tackle never looks at the other and says "Sis boom bah!"

But this is all very much aside from the main issue. What we object to is these people telling us that we should cheer. So after deep meditation we have come to a solution of the problem and for those affected in the same way we will let it out here. For each athletic contest we are going to have one freshman appointed to stand near us during the game and whenever a cheer leader or anyone else so affected with the "mania" approaches it will be his duty to jump up and down screaming the while in the approved manner. His title will be "The Editor's Cheer" and his reward our love and affection for the remainder of our college days.

A NOTE ON THE POWER OF THE PRESS

Our trusting belief in the much vaunted power of the press is beginning to leave us. Here we spent numerous paragraphs on the necessity of a library that was open on Sunday evenings, yet when we rushed to William Smith Hall last Sunday to see the effect of our labors we found nothing but the darkened corridors.

Well, we have tried to confer the torch of culture on those that should hold it; we have tried to light the abyssal darkness of the Eastern Shore; and we have failed. Like many of our speakers, we will close our efforts on this score with a bit of verse:

Here's to the library, long may it stand,
Sweeping darkness in a darkened land,
With papers, magazines and books,
Cold drafts, hard chairs, and dirty looks.

Refrain:

Bend your elbow and tilt your head,
Twill be the same when we are dead,
Drink her down boys, drink her down!

BEYOND THE CAMPUS

In the AMERICAN MERCURY, issue of November, 1931, Mr. Howard Wolf presents a number of last messages directed to a morbid postscript of the final thoughts in these passionate lives, Mr. Wolf decides that he doesn't know what they signify. He goes on:

"We have numerous anthologies hailed from the speeches, state papers, journals and autobiographies of Presidents, explorers, philosophers, poets and patriots, but it seems to me that the real voice of the United States is not to be found in the writings of such men, but in the scribbles of waitresses, truck drivers, beauty parlor operators, stenographers, pimps, rappers, taxi drivers, morticians, post office clerks, chiropractors and bootleggers.

"There is a generally accepted theory that the America of these folk is inarticulate. I have reason to believe that that is an error. The Americans are not so much inarticulate as the public fellows among all the races of men. If he decides to commit suicide, he invariably leaves a letter. If he wants a woman or if she wants a man, the recourse is, often, not the penning of a note to a newspaper or lovers' column. Cast into the muddy pool of American thought some such rock as a melodramatic Lindbergh flight or wholesale death by furnace, fire or shipwrecking, and there will be a splashing geyser of poetry sending ripples of sweet singing to the furthest border.

"Of all such documents, I am especially interested by the suicide notes because, with careful study, the Americans who goes through life talking a pretense usually blurt out a truth. And sometimes, in addition to writing honestly, he writes well."

The classroom attitude of some students was summed up by Abraham Lincoln when he said, "Better to remain silent and be thought a fool than to speak and remove all doubt."

Playing lacrosse in the colleges seems to be having a remarkable effect on American youth. Mr. Euper Heug, anthropologist, makes the following remark:

A new race is happening before the eyes of anthropologists in North America. The changes of feature that come over the white intruder as he adapts the racial traits of the native Indians are almost incredible. He has exterminated him with powder and fire-water, but he has taken over his face. Here again are the serious, stoical, clear, sharp profile, the thin, straight lips, the hard chin, energetic nose, the deep springing jaw. In a white skin the Indian has been reborn."

"When the angel Gabriel swoops to earth in search of the immortals among men, he is going to have a dreadful time making his selection from the millions of upturned faces, each adorned with a large pair of outstretched spectacles."—Antia Loos.

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing
103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

INTERCOLLEGIATE

EJACULATIONS!

The common is a gigantic fly-wheel making two thousand revolutions a minute. Man is a fly taking a dizzy spin on it. Religion is the theory that the wheel was set to spinning in order to give him a ride.

H. L. Mencken

Football is a useful and charming exercise. It is a leather ball about as big as one's head, filled with wind. This is kicked about from one to 'tother in the streets, by him that enters it at it, and that is all the art of it.

Mission (19th century.)

Justice Credulous: "I won't die, Bridget—I don't like death."
Bridget: "Fah! there is nothing in it; a moment and it's over."

Justice Credulous: "Aye but it leaves a numbness behind that lasts a plucky long time."

R. B. Sheridan

Scene: The Odéon Theatre, Paris.
Oscare: Sarah Bernhardt in "Carmilla." Gabriele D'Annunzio cannot refrain from voicing his admiration of the Divine Sarah: "Belie, Magnifique D'Annunzio."

Natur never makes any blunders. When she makes a phool she means it.

Josh Billings

—From The Jolly Daily.

A tall, quiet young man walked into the President's office one day in September and announced that he was here to attend College and wanted to go to work.

The ease with which he presented himself — we have had some bearing because he was promptly given employment and is now one of Professor Fuller's aurora night watchman.

Mr. Giddings comes from Caldwell, Texas. He has had about four years of college training and decided to come to the Atlantic College when he changed his course of study.

—From The Farthest North College.

If that is a coed school that ain't no job it's a privilege.

Some of the rules for Freshmen of Harvard University in 1734 were:

"No freshman shall wear his hat in the college yard except when it rains or snows, or be on horseback, or halt both hands full."

"No freshman shall use lying or equivocation to escape going on an errand."

"Freshmen may wear their hats at dinner and supper except when they go to receive their Commens of bread and beer."

And it was only a few years ago.

That is what we call polite politing done by an expert.

Dr. Rupe should be presented with medals and sash to remind him of the day of the week. The French 1 class was sorely grieved when he did not report for class last Wednesday, due, he said, to lapse of memory.

—From The Green and White Salem, West Virginia.

ALBERT L. WHEAT

"The Young Men's Shop"

Chestertown, Maryland

CLOTHING
SHOES
HABERDASHERY

Book Reviews

By Joseph H. Freedman

"LEONARDO DE MEDICI"

By David Lath

David Lath has given us a life of romance and charm in his biography of the extraordinary phenomenon of the fifteenth century—Leonardo da Vinci, merchant prince, warrior and statesman. The setting is in Florence, the ancient, independent Italian City, in the picturesque days of chivalry and petty "city kingdoms." Leonardo, greater than all the Medici was, was sort of dual personality.

He raised city upon city, plundering the European resources, and replenishing his own coffers. Cruel, ruthless in war, determined, and void of compromise, he became the scourge of Europe.

Yet, his constructive ability gave rise to his chief accomplishment—the preservation of the arts and sciences in Italy, at a time when warfare was making only one side, when learning was condemned as contrary to the church's policies. Under Leonardo's generous patronage, universities, laboratories, and observatories were graciously created. Under his guidance sculpture, architecture and painting reached their peaks. Indeed it was Leonardo Medici himself, who was the actual creator of the Renaissance.

Loth's book is enthralling, and ought to be appreciated by all the readers. The book is handsomely bound, and illustrated with delicate wood cuts that will add to the pleasure of reading.

"THE ADMIRABLE CRICHTON"

A Comedy in 3 Acts

By J. M. Barrie

"The Admirable Crichton" as portrayed by the American genius Walter Hampden, is not so admirable on the American stage. One fails to understand how Hampden was persuaded to undertake this light, fantastic comedy, written by J. M. Barrie.

The theme is rather weak. Crichton, (Walter Hampden) accompanies his man on a ship as a valet and butler. They become shipwrecked, and the bulk of the play deals with the way in which Crichton and his master adjust themselves to island life in manner of Robinson Crusoe. Indeed, the spectator wonders if Barrie hasn't transcribed the entire theme of De Foë, to his play. The comedy is far-fetched, and is spoiled by three daughters and an effeminate nephew.

Hampden, as in his other portrayals, acts in a majestic, and eloquent manner, a style utterly impossible for this frivolous comedy.

DROP IN

AND LET US SHOW YOU

OUR FULL LINE OF

VICTROLAS - RADIOS

AND FURNITURE

THE LATEST IN MUSIC

AND RECORDS

W. P. NEWNAM

CHESTERTOWN, MD.

QUALITY and SERVICE

SHOE REPAIRING

Next To Sterlings Drug

Store

Chestertown, Maryland

HAVERFORD VICTOR 27-7

Shoremakers Make First Score
Of Season

In a battle that was for more than victory Washington College bowed to Haverford on the latter's gridiron on October 17 by a score of 27 to 7. It was a sad blow to the Elms to see their big chance of getting in the win column go sailing away on a series of tough breaks. What little consolation the Shoremakers could get out of the contest came from the fact that they tallied a touchdown and scored the extra point that followed.

Washington got away to a bad start when the opening kickoff went astir and Haverford had the ball in Washington's territory. One play at the line was unsuccessful but the second went for a touchdown. This tally, which was just 48 seconds after the game had started, gave Haverford a decided edge and stirred the happy gridders on to greater efforts.

For the next ten minutes or so the teams battled on fairly even terms. Haverford was getting the better of the punting duel, favored by a stiff breeze, and was gradually forcing Washington back into its own territory. The play just 48 seconds after the game had started, gave Haverford a decided edge and stirred the happy gridders on to greater efforts.

There the score stood, 14 to 7, when the half ended and Washington was not so far behind that the brand of football it had been displaying in the second period would be eventually mean victory.

But alas the Washington play in the third and fourth quarters was not up to the standard of the second and Haverford's drive in the fourth was pushed across to put the game away in cold storage.

Registering six first downs to Haverford's five the locals held a slight advantage there. But Haverford, with several long gallops, made up and more for the extra first down.

The Shoremakers tried a total of 24 passes and completed six for a fair percentage. Haverford tried only one, intercepted by Al Geratita, who galloped a long way down the field only to fumble when tackled.

The lineup and summary:

Haverford	left end	Gamber
Fields	left tackle	Ward
Baker	left guard	W. Carey
Monratt	center	Lord
Hansen	right guard	Dickerson
Schramm	right tackle	Blizard
Wilson	right end	Corozza
Andrews	quarterback	Robinson
Battley	left halfback	Rhinehold
Right halfback		Dubkins
Pleasant	fullback	Plummer

Score by periods:

Haverford 14 0 7 6—27

Washington 7 0 0 0—7

Touchdowns—Battley 2; Corozza, Moos, Pleasants, Points after touchdowns—Fields 3, Plummer. Substitutions—Haverford: Hunsicker for Hansen, Wright for Battley, Lipitz for Schramm, Atkins for Fields. Washington: Dobkins for Utley, Gratsits for Rhinehold, Johnson for Robinson, Jones for Blizard, Referee—W. T. Evans, Umpires—W. T. Evans, Corns, Swarthmore. Head linesman—W. O. Weiler, Temple. Time of period—15 minutes.

SPORTS NOTIONS

Injuries cost Washington College's fighting football team a victory that was to be the last of many of actual playing. It had clearly earned in the game with Mt. St. Mary's last Saturday. Ward and Corozza, who had been playing the game of the week, were both injured and forced to leave the game late in the second half. However the crowning misfortune for Washington as far as injuries were concerned came in the closing minutes of the fourth quarter when Fritz Reinhold, great punter and mightiest of all mites, was forced to depart for the locker room. This with a third penalty was the break which the Mounts had been looking for and needed in order to put across their lone tally.

To even the untrained observer of foot ball, it was evident that Ollie Robinson was the outstanding player on Kibler Field Saturday. Robinson's quarterbacking was brilliant, daring and absolutely flawless. He edged back the Mountaineer's secondary defense with an accurate passing attack and then proceeded to slip off tackle for first downs.

The work of Robinson and the entire Washington ball-carrying combination proved that, as usual, the Elms were the outstanding team. It was he talking about when he promised the Maroon and Black an effective offense against teams anywhere in our class, before the season was over.

The playing of the Mt. St. Mary's line was far superior to the work of 'he backfield. This was only too evident on punts when the Mount's punts repeatedly forced Fritz Reinhold and Elmer Ward in order to get them off. Perfect interference more than great ball carrying was the secret to the Jesuit's score. It is interesting to note that Ollie Hopkins, field coach Elmdale knew just exactly how to get the Mt. St. Mary's line down in Waterbury, Conn., the home of quite a few Washington athletes.

Various parts of the 1931 flying Pentagon are getting daily work. It is the maximum and from this distance prospects look good for another state championship year. Some one remarked that Proofdust had more ability as a basket ball player than he had confidence which may be so. If "Dell" develops confidence to equal his ability this season, he should be one of the most cock-crow cagers in the state.

About the only thing accomplished by the Elms was the beginning of a miniature "Long Count" controversy. The Freshmen are rejoicing over what they believe to be the first rat victory in the history of the event, while the sophs are busy proclaiming the affair to be a no-decision contest. There is this to the claim of the Sophs: contrary to the opinion of most of the spectators, the Freshmen were the first to run in an extra man.

WE KNOW What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored over clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylish who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style centers.

You want to know that the clothes that give satisfactory service.

Our clothes will meet every thing you demand of them.

BORLEY & SON

FRESH WIN TUG-OF-WAR

Mad Slung Freely By All Participants

The traditional tug-of-war and mud fight between the Freshmen and Sophomore classes was held at Brook's Mill stream on October 19th. A great many spectators from Chesterton turned out to see this annual event, which proved successful.

The sophomore lineup for the tug of war consisted of: Carey, Hull, Wagner, Dobkins, Gratsits, Clarke, Bauman, Anthony, Capel, Merrill, Graham, Paris, Williams, Jones and Cohen. These husky men gave the Freshmen no little trouble, and they put all their physical effort into the thrilling contest. The Freshmen team consisted of: Ward, Blizard, Lord, De Mattia, Nicholson, Mackenzie, Johns, Corozza, Sadler, Sayler, Stankevics, Huey, Mooney, Wright and Baker. These young Freshmen put up a hard fight, and because of their endurance the contest came to a tie. Both teams put all their effort into the tug and caused much satisfaction and pleasure among the spectators.

Following the tug-of-war, the mud floundering. This was a grand free-for-all, in which mud played the main part. Among the first to charge were Fritz Rhinehold and Wes Sadler, who had a good tussle. They both put up a hard fight and showed excellent sportsmanship. Ralph Harries seemed to be the target of Freshmen revenge, as he was constantly endangered by several husky Freshmen.

Merrell and Elling Ward also had a keen combat. At the end of the exciting ten minutes it was difficult to decide which side was victor, as both teams displayed excellent fighting spirit and sportsmanship. To Harry Hayeg goes the distinction of being the only one injured in the fray as he sprained an ankle.

All participants were thankful when Coach Kibler blew the whistle for retreat, for the mud abounded in enormous quantities, and soap seemed like heaven.

The Best Of EVERYTHING Needed

FOR BUILDING

E. S. Adkins & Co.

Chesterton, Centreville
Easton, Salisbury

What the only thing accomplished by the Elms was the beginning of a miniature "Long Count" controversy. The Freshmen are rejoicing over what they believe to be the first rat victory in the history of the event, while the sophs are busy proclaiming the affair to be a no-decision contest. There is this to the claim of the Sophs: contrary to the opinion of most of the spectators, the Freshmen were the first to run in an extra man.

A Special Lede To-Thee
Athletic Keds for Women's Gym Work.

Harry F. Jefferson

Mt. St. Mary's Trips Washington By Lone Tally In Final Quarter

Team Weakened By Injuries To Ward, Corozza And Rhinehold

Washington College played a great game against Mt. St. Mary's last Saturday. The Eastern Shore gridders held a team record three or four touchdowns better to a single score. This was made in the last minute and half of the game after everything had predicted a scoreless deadlock, and more than once, a victory for Washington. This fine performance of our team was a duplicate of the Maryland and Hopkins games. Saturday Washington came back in fine fashion after not playing so well against Southwestern and Haverford.

Robinson received the kickoff from Mt. St. Mary's and ran the ball back to our thirty yard line by some clever running. On the first play, Robinson threw a long pass to Corozza, left end, which was completed. Corozza seemed to be away for a touchdown but was knocked out of bounds on Mt. St. Mary's twenty-five yard line. Several short gains were made through the line, but the ball was lost on downs.

From then on throughout the first half the battle was virtually even. Twice the Maroon and Black flowed down to within the twenty-yard line only to lose the ball on downs and frustrate scoring possibilities. The few times that Washington's territory was entered, Rhinehold with his over time and clever punting, kept the locals out of danger.

The second half was practically a repetition of the first, with the playing in the middle of the field. Washington College's aerial attack was functioning much better than in any game previously. On two occasions, Dick Gamber, who played a hard-up game despite a weak ankle, aided in making long gains by catching passes which Mt. St. Mary's backs handled but failed to intercept. When the game had but ninety seconds to go, Washington received punt and ran it back to our twenty yard line. Gir-altes, kicking for Rhinehold, who was taken out of the game with an injured ankle and side, attempted to kick out of danger. Unfortunately the ball struck Nicholson and bounced straight up in the air. Only fifteen yards were gained and these were nullified by a fifteen yards penalty. Mt. St. Mary's possessed the ball on our twenty yard line, and on the first play Hopkins ran around left end for a touchdown. The extra point was added by Lynch.

Right after this, the timekeeper's whistle signified the end of the game and also the loss of the game for Washington who deserved no less than a scoreless tie.

The weight advantage of Mt. St. Mary's line and the fierceness of the game caused a number of injuries to Washington's light team. Ward, replaced by Lord, left the game during the second half with a badly sprained ankle. Corozza received a broken nose and a wrenched knee in the same period as was replaced by Plummer. Baker substituted for Rhinehold when he was injured.

The lineup and summary:

Mount St. Mary's	Washington
Zubris	LE
Boggs	LT
Forko	LG
Delaney	C
Kennedy	RG
Gallagher	RE
Lynch	QB
Delaney	LB
Parsyphal	RB
Hopkins	FB
	Graitsits

Score by quarters:

Mount St. Mary's 0 0 0 7—7

Washington 0 0 0 0—0

Touchdowns—Hopkins. Try for point—Lynch (placekick). Substitutions—Washington: Plummer for Corozza, Jones for Ward, Ward for Jones, Lord for Ward, Baker for Reinhold, Referee—Bowman. Umpire—Bridley. Head linesman—Ogle. Time of quarters—15 minutes.

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149
C. W. Kibler & Sons
Chesterton, Maryland

When Traveling Use The

BALTIMORE-TOLCHESTER

FERRY

Direct Route From The Eastern Shore To The Heart of Baltimore

For Passengers, Automobiles and Trucks—LOW RATES.

For information—Phone Chesterton 810-F3; Baltimore Plaza 8165. TOLCHESTER COMPANY

JOE'S Newstand

Cigars, Cigarettes,
Soft Drinks, Newspapers,
Magazines
Of All Kinds

Under the Voshell House

GILL BROS. ICE CREAM

Assorted Blocks

Dainties

Fresh Milk Daily
ROBINSON and JOHNSON

Daily 10 to 11 P. M.

QUALITY SPORTING GOODS

Catalog on Request

McCallisters

Est. 1894
124 W. Baltimore St.
Baltimore, Maryland

Old Collegian Shows Change

Prices, Clothes, Meetings And Ads. Seem Strange

In the 1899 "Collegian" recently given to the college the museum store show that the school has undergone a great change.

The first article is under the heading LITERARY, and is entitled, "Happiness," a moral story of the life of an old man. Next follows COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES, which tells how the ladies of the Pieria Literary Society "on Friday afternoon, June 10th held their annual party, as a part of the June Week program." "The torments," so the story goes, "were lighted by myriads of Japanese lanterns, while in their mellow glow, beneath the deep shade of the linden, were scattered tete-a-tete tables for the later feast. Each picturesque nook and corner was provided with a seat, and every possible provision made for the pleasure of the young ladies and their guests. At 9:30 o'clock refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the young ladies." Maybe the present Collegian can take a hint from these "Pieris" when the time for their June week comes around?

The final meeting of the Mount Vernon Literary Society is also recorded. On the Monday of June week, there was a Mount Vernon meeting at which the Rev. S. J. Morgan, pastor of the Protestant Episcopal Church at Crisfield delivered the address. The topic chosen by Rev. Morgan was "American Civilization." The comments on the address proved rather interesting. "Trusts, practical depravity, drink, mammon, were, he said, the many-headed hydra, which is ruling its head and threatening the welfare of our land; and it behooves the youth of America to wage eternal warfare against the demon. The speaker at times soared into flights of oratory that brought him liberal applause."

The Alumni Association, it seems, had been just rejuvenated, and with Dr. J. S. William Jones at its head was ready to start some honest-to-goodness progressive work.

Advertisements were, of course, to be found in the paper. In thirty years, they too have changed in style so that they seem queer to us now. One up-story for the firm of Westcott and Dodd.

The "ad" follows:
WESTCOTT AND DODD
proprietors of the Crystal Palace, corner High Street, and Queen, are offering to the public the finest line of WORSTED AND WOOLEN DRESS GOODS

Prevalent catons, tie up
Nevelat novelties in Fall and Winter gingham are 50 up.
Our line of Flannelettes is unsurpassed.

Another reads:
I am most respectfully yours,
CHARLES S. SMITH, Chestertown's only Cash Merchant. Cor. Cross and High Sts. Call and see the wonderful place.

Essentially the "kaydets" of the '90's had use for horses and buggies for there appears, a "drive-yat-sill" "ad".

J. E. ARMSTRONG—Livestockman.
Good teams hired at moderate prices. Also your horse well fed and cared for when left with me.

It seems as though the College had taken a back cover page for a large advertisement for the school. They seemed to have placed especial emphasis on the fact that Washington was educational, for the word itself sticks out in bold face type. Further, they said that, including board, tuition, fuel, room rent, acre of room, and washing vary from $120 to $140 for the year. Don't we wish that the $120 rate would return?

Y. W. C. A. Refills Treasury In Recent Campaign

The Young Women's Christian Association under the leadership of its president, Miss Elizabeth Willis, is already successfully carrying out its proposed plans for the school year.

At the beginning of the year the finances of the association were very low. The finance committee, due to the cooperation of the faculty, students and friends during the campaign recently held, have been able to add $21.35 to the treasury.

Misses Ethel Herrera and Annabelle Story were elected at the last cabinet meeting to represent Washington College at the "Y" conference to be held at Hood College, Frederick.

Me, this week end. Miss Elizabeth Willis also attended the conference.

New Archery Score Set

Elizabeth Walbert's score has been beaten by Mildred Tryano, who now has a total of 48 points, out of 54 arrow rounds. More students are coming out daily for this sport.

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store

Where Your Dollar

Has More Cents

"It's a Truly Modern Cigarette"

"I'm certainly grateful for Lucky Strike. It's a truly modern cigarette for it gives me modern throat protection. And your improved Cellophane wrapper is wonderfully modern, too. It opens without any coaxing—a flip of the little tab and there are my Luckies."

Loretta Young

A famous and beloved picture star while still in her teens—blessed with breathtaking girlish beauty—could fate have been kinder to Loretta Young? She's the very incarnation of young loveliness. If you have not seen her in First National's "Ruling Voice," do so.

That LUCKY tab! Moisture-Proof Cellophane. Sealed tight—Ever right. The Unique Humidor Package. Zip—And it's open! See the new notched tab on the top of the package. Hold down one half with your thumb. Tear off the other half. Simple. Quick. Zip! That's all, Unique! Wrapped in dust-proof, moisture-proof, germ-proof Cellophane. Clean, protected, neat, FRESH!—what could be more modern than LUCKIES' improved Humidor package—so easy to open! Ladies—the LUCKY TAB is—your finger nail protection.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough

And Moisture-Proof Cellophane Keeps that "Toasted" Flavor Ever Fresh

TUNE IN—The Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra, every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evening over N.B.C. network.

THE REXAL STORE
EASTMAN KODAKS
FILMS
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING
BY EXPERTS
DRUGS and
SUNDRIES
OF All Kinds
A. L. STERLING

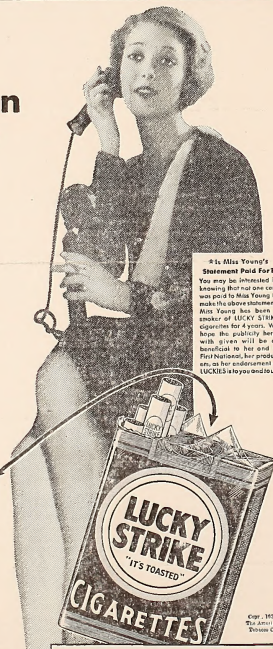

ADVERTISE IN THE ELM

Students Of
Washington College
A Safe Place To Deal
THE STAM DRUG CO.
Everything in Drugs

Prescriptions Filled by Registered Pharmacists
Only

A Full Line of
School Supplies
Whitman's Candy
Cigars and Tobacco

READ THE ELM

*Is Miss Young's Statement Paid For?
You may be interested in knowing that not one cent was paid to Miss Young to make the above statement. Miss Young has been a smoker of LUCKY STRIKE cigarettes for 4 years. We hope the publicity here-with given will be as beneficial to her and to First National, her producer, as her endorsement of LUCKIES is to you and us.

Made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of many Crops—LUCKY STRIKE alone offers the throat protection of the exclusive "TOASTING" Process which includes the use of modern Ultra Violet Rays—the process that expels certain harsh, biting irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. These expelled irritants are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

ADELPHI SOCIETY HOLDS USUAL MEETING

On October 21st at 7 p. m. The Adelphi Literary Society held its usual meeting in William Smith Hall where the members of the society were entertained with the following program:

Scripture—Dorothy Kimble.
Reading—Lucille Rasin.
Vocal Solo—Robert Furman.
Book Report—Sarah Ellen Hyra.
Impromptu—Fritz Rhinebold.
Piano Solo—Elizabeth Cooper.
Moonbeams—Dorothy Kins.

SLIPPERY ELM By W. H. Danneberg

The attendance and circulation of books have probably increased somewhat because of the large crowds who go to the library every evening. I am willing to state, however, that the kind and amount of work performed is approximately four times as mediocre as it would be. Since the beginning of this semester conditions have gradually become worse. The only criticism of the administration is its failure to have competent and authoritative supervision for the evening periods. The fault lies with our college students who should have reached sufficient maturity to know when they are well off. The privilege of attending the library after dark was reextended to the girls last year after having been withdrawn for several years. Apparently the same kind of degeneration that caused the privilege to be removed before has set in again. The motley crew which assembles in the library in the evenings at present is composed mostly of "dates" and "bull sessions." This may sound like exaggeration but I never vividly an evening of last year when there were fifty-five people present. I took particular care to note that of the entire crowd only three were there for reading or studying to all intents and purposes. To make it a real social club we only need a few ping-pong tables and several packs of cards. Is it going to be necessary to have the girls attend three evenings a week and the boys the other three?

Students Will Find Our
Store a Very Desirable
Place To Visit

TOULSON'S
Drug Store

Phones—28 and 311

NOLAND'S

Department Store

Get anything you want
from Dry Goods to School
Supplies.
221 - 223 High Street
Chestertown, Maryland

Try the new style Drinks
KAYWOODIE
Initials Extra
UNITED CIGAR STORES
Sales—Agency

Society Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Baker of South Orange, N. J., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mrs. Stetten Baker to Mr. Joseph T. Klonan, son of the Rev. Mr. Henry F. Klonan, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, Cumberland, and Mrs. Klonan.

Mr. Klonan received his A. B. from Washington College in '28. He also attended V. M. I., the University of Pennsylvania, and Lehigh. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity and is at present associated in the publishing business with Percy Crosby, cartoonist.

Miss Mattie R. Whittaker whose severe illness has caused her absence from her position as Secretary to the Dean and Registrar is once more so capably fulfilling her duties.

Professor and Mrs. MacKosky, Misses Helen Norris, Elizabeth Brice and Mr. Irving S. Ross attended the performance of King Lear by the Stratford-on-Avon Company at Philadelphia.

Miss Doris T. Bell entertained for Miss Louise D. Simpers, bride-to-be with a bridge supper, Tuesday, Oct. the twenty-seventh. The prizes were won by Miss Theodosia Chapman and Mr. Frank R. Goodwin.

Miss Alice Dele entertained a number of friends at bridge at her home Friday, October the twenty-third. The high prize was won by Mr. Irving S. Ross.

Professor and Mrs. MacKosky, Misses Helen Norris, Elizabeth Brice, Elizabeth Mace and Mr. Irving S. Ross attended the Philadelphia Grand Opera Company's production of Tannhauser.

Misses Helen Norris, Elizabeth Brice Stratford-on-Avon Company at Philadelphia the twenty-seventh. The prizes were won by Misses Louise Simpers and Eleanor

HERB'S

QUICK LUNCH

Sandwiches of all kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Voshell House

Compliments

of

Chestertown

Electric Light and Power

Company

Titworth entertained the Senior girls at tea Saturday, October 3rd, at the home of Miss Titworth.

Miss Simpers, whose engagement to Mr. James W. Chapman, 3rd, has been recently announced is a former member of the class of '32.

Alpha Kappa

Mr. George Ekaitis, Coach of Football and Lacrosse has been pledged by the Alpha Kappa Fraternity.

Kappa Gamma

Miss Margaret Rohrbaugh, ex-'33, visited at Reid Hall last Sunday.

Miss Dorothy Simmons '31, was on the hill for the Mt. St. Mary's game and the Varsity dance.

The sorority was visited last week by Miss Sarah Linchman and Miss Elizabeth Mace, both of the class of '31.

Phi Sigma Phi

Mr. Frank Goodwin, Professor of Philosophy, has been pledged by the Phi Sigma Phi Fraternity.

Mr. Alexander Parks was recently initiated into the fraternity. He is a member of the class of 1932 and a resident of Chestertown.

The lounge room has been furnished with furniture recently purchased by the fraternity. It consists of a divan, a chair, an end table, and two bridge lamps. A new rug for the re-

JUST UP THE ROAD AT

SCHAUBER'S

For Delicious

ICE CREAM, MILK,

CAKES, SANDWICHES,

CANDIES, DRINKS AND

TOBACCO of all kinds

Phone 330

The Chestertown

Bank of Maryland

Bank of Service

Branches at
Galena, Kennedyville,
Betterson

Main Branch

Chestertown, Maryland

4% On Savings 4%

DEL-MAR-VA RESTAURANT

—FOR—

AFTER DANCE LUNCHEES
AND REGULAR MEALS

ception room has also been purchased.

Two alumni members visited the house over the week end. They were Mr. William Norris and Mr. Charles Mahoney. Mr. Mahoney of the class of '29 is now employed by the Dupont Company of New Jersey.

Gamma Sigma

The Gamma Sigma members received their pins this week.

Dr. Esther M. Dele attended the sequenential celebration of the Battle of Yorktown last week end. Enroute she visited Richmond, Va., Washington, D. C., and William and Mary College at Williamsburg, Va.

READ THE ELM

The

Third National Bank

Chestertown, Md.

The Only

National Bank

In Kent County

ADVERTISE IN THE ELM

Compliments

THE PEOPLES BANK

Commercial
and Savings
Accounts

Rock Hall

Chestertown

After A Studious Day

Relax at

JIM'S and HICK'S

Billiard Parlor

STOP AT THE VOSHELL HOUSE
ROOMS WITH BATH
MODERATE RATES

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students
Offers Complete Line of Conklin and Wahl Pens and Pencils. Fennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationary,
And School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

RESTAURANT

For a Delicious Electric Toasted Sandwich, Special Dishes,
Regular 50c Dinners, Fancy Sandwiches, Ice Cream,
Sodas, Candies, Cigarettes, etc.,

Visit The

CANDY KITCHEN

(Open 6 A. M. Until 12 P. M.)

The Emerson Hotel Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled
Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

Elwyn C. Parlin Speaks To Y. M.

Served Many Years In Missionary Work

Mr. Elwyn C. Parlin spoke to a joint meeting of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. Thursday night, October 22nd. The first part of Mr. Parlin's address cited the aims of the organization known as The Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions, Inc. A firsthand account of the Christian work in China followed this explanation. The richness of personal experience made this an inspiring as well as an extremely interesting address. At the close of the meeting Mr. Parlin brought before the attention of the organizations certain recently published books which deal with vital problems in foreign fields, and which would not only appeal to red and eventful experience, which included educational supervision, publication work, and the administration of a missionary district. In the summer of 1931, when traveled, probe individual members. He gave of his time and of his broad wisdom. His knowledge of the complexities of human nature and his judgment of men and situations were deep and thorough.

In Memoriam

We, the members of the Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity, feeling deeply the loss we have sustained through the death of our adviser and fellow-member, Dr. Errol L. Fox, desire to express both our own grief and our sympathy with others who knew him and loved him.

Dr. Fox was a wise counsellor, a keen student of college life, and a friend whose intelligent advice and guidance were of invaluable assistance to this Fraternity and to its individual members. He gave of his time and of his broad wisdom. His knowledge of the complexities of human nature and his judgment of men and situations were deep and thorough.

For all of these qualities we honored Dr. Fox and trusted his counsel. Because of these qualities we feel an inestimable loss at his death. To those who knew him we extend our sympathy, and we direct that these poor expressions of our grief be permanently recorded upon the minutes of this Fraternity.

ALBERT F. BAKER, Pres.

HUBERT RYAN, Sec.

MAROONS AND BLACKS HOLD FIRST HOCKEY TILT

On Saturday, October 25th, at 1 p. m., an interclass hockey contest was held, between the Blacks, the Junior-Freshman team, and the Maroons, composed of Seniors and Sophomores. Ann Kreeger was captain of the Blacks, and Elizabeth Brice, of the Maroons. Splendid pass work was noticeable on both sides in this game, showing a considerable improvement over that of last year. There were marvelous attacks by the Maroons, the ball being kept in the Black's territory most of the time, although both sides fought desperately until the last whistle. No scoring was done, until four minutes before the end of the first half, when Ann Kreeger made a goal for her team. Lucile Rasin made the Maroon's goal during the first part of the last half.

The Dulany-Vernoy Co.

837-839-841 North
Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest
Gift Establishment

Art China, Leather Goods,
Toys, Books, Athletic
Equipment

Are they as good as when the ruffles came down to the ankles?

GOOD! . . . You bet they are! Maybe the girls are even better. Anyhow, cigarettes are a whole lot better. No doubt about that.

They used to be made by hand—

Now it's machines; no hand but yours ever touches them.

They used to be packed in expensive, highfalutin' cardboard boxes—

Now the quality is in the cigarettes.

The U. S. Revenue Tax used to be a penny a package of twenty—

Now it's six cents a package of twenty.

Tobacco used to be dried by air—

Now Ligger's Myers alone has thirty-five drying machines of the latest type, with a daily capacity of over 2,000,000 pounds—and over four miles of warehouses for tobacco storage.

BETTER—they're miles better! Everything used in the manufacture of Chesterfield cigarettes is the best that money can buy or that Science knows about.

CHESTERFIELD TOBACCOS—both Turkish and Domestic—are mild and ripe, the best that money can buy.

AND THE WAY Chesterfield tobaccos are blended and cross-blended is like making a new and better-tasting kind of tobacco, with greater smoothness, more mildness and a more pleasing aroma—a fragrance and flavor not to be found in any other cigarette.

CHESTERFIELD gives you the benefit of all the world knows about the production of better cigarettes. Nobody smokes a better cigarette than Chesterfield.

a person interested in world problems and a desire to understand the world and its people.

Mr. Parlin received his B. S. and M. S. degrees from Wesleyan University, and after teaching in private school for two years he was for three years instructor in French and German at Northwestern University. In 1917 he went to Yenching, China, between Agony and Paochow. Here for twelve years he had a rich, var-

Wave the new growth only

It is no longer necessary to double-wave the wave! We confine your re-wave to the newly grown straight hair alone! This is the EUGENE METHOD—the selective method—in which our staff is expert and experienced. Come and see!

GRAY'S BEAUTY SALON
Phone 106, Chestertown.

EUGENE PERMANENT WAVING

THE WASHINGTON POST

VOL. XXXI. NO. 4.

SATURDAY, NOV. 14, 1931

PRICE TEN CENTS

LANDSCAPING PROGRAM BEING CARRIED ON THIS YEAR

COLONIAL EFFECT IS AIMED AT BY COLLEGE

MOST RECENT PROGRESS IS ON ATHLETIC FIELD

The program of improvement and expansion, first noticeable several years ago upon the remodeling of Field Hall, the building of the new grandstand and the changing of the athletic field to its present state of improvement, has continued here at Washington College despite the general economic depression.

During the past summer the college authorities found it possible to have a social or lounge room built in the basement of Middle Hall. This was furnished with reading tables, card tables, leather benches and a radio for the benefit of the non-fraternity men on the campus. It is expected that next summer will see a room of the same nature constructed in the basement of West Hall for the Freshmen.

Recently, experts from the Towns Nursery were called to landscape the grounds around William Smith Hall. Among the shrubbery planted are Japanese yews, flowering shrubs, hawthorns and maples. Around the front of the Hall a planting of English ivy was made. This in time will cover it, producing the Colonial effect which is so much sought after. This planting is a start toward producing there a planting similar to that around Reid Hall.

The most recent note of progress is being done in athletic lines. A new athletic field is being cleared and graded just south of the present one. The new grounds comprise property which has been bought by the college within the last year and a half. The purpose of this project is to give greater opportunities for intra-mural sports.

On the new field there will be a girl's hockey field, a regulation baseball diamond for inter-collegiate games, if we return to baseball and a tennis court around the edges of both fields.

Two new tennis courts and an archery lane will be laid out adjacent to the present tennis courts behind the men's dormitories.

BEAL VS. BRANFORD CASE TRIED BEFORE SOCIETY

Brinsfield A. and Coulbourn Attorneys

The regular meeting of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society was held Wednesday, Nov. 11th. After a short business meeting, a mock trial was held.

The court scene opened with the clerks calling for the Beal vs. Branford Case in which Miss Beal entered suit against Mr. Branford for breach of promise. The counsel for the defense, Mr. Brinsfield and the prosecuting attorney, Mr. Coulbourn, examined the following witnesses: Mrs. Jane Beal (Aunt Dolly), Frances Beal (Gladys Council); Walter Branford, Joe McGinty (Cary).

Students are paid to attend the universities of Russia, but only those in sympathy with the government are granted the privilege.

Simpers - Chapman Nuptials Held

The wedding of two former Washington College students, Miss Louise D. Simpser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank V. Simpser, and Mr. James W. Chapman III, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Walter Chapman, was held last Saturday evening at 5 o'clock, in the Methodist Episcopal Church. It was one of the most interesting events, for both Chestertown and the college, that has been held here for the past year or so.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harry J. Wright, pastor of that church. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Theodosia Chapman, sister of the groom attended as his maid of honor, and Mr. William Walter Chapman, Jr., was his brother's best man. The bride maid was Miss Eleanor Titwirth, Miss Margaret Jefferson, Miss Geraldine Harwood and Miss Dorothy Vickers. The ushers, Mr. Harry M. Wilson, Mr. Edwin S. Valiant, Mr. J. Vannort Chapman, and Mr. Thomas Bonwill.

The bride wore a white satin gown with a tulle veil fastened with orange blossoms and carried white roses. The maid of honor was attired in a green velvet dress of Empress Eugenie lines, while the bridesmaids wore dark Spanish Tile velvet dresses with hats of matching color and carried bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Simpser which was attended by nearly two hundred guests.

Former College Student Wins National Prize

Mr. Kenneth Dooty, of the class of '31, has been named the winner of the national prize offered by the W. C. T. U. Organization for the best paper on Ways To Further National Sobriety. The prize was a check for the amount of fifty dollars.

Mr. Dooty, who was the editor of THE 1931 PEGASUS, is now teaching in Baltimore.

Archery Has Many New Members Out

Archery has not yet been discouraged by cold weather. A good crowd has been practicing regularly, among whom have been several members of the college. Dr. Carpenter, Prof. McKinley, Miss Snodgrass, and Mr. Goodman, one of the best and most enthusiastic archers. Mildred Tryzno still leads the scoring, with a total of 68, out of 24 arrow rounds.

FROSH ELM POSTPONED

THE ELM staff sincerely regrets that due to the numerous activities of the past week it was impossible to have the proposed Freshmen issue of THE ELM.

Since the class is now organized it is believed that it will be easier to nominate and elect the necessary officers.

FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

Howard Plummer

Captain Howard Plummer who will lead his team against Susquehanna today, has but one more game of collegiate football before him. This will be when Washington meets St. Joseph's in Philadelphia next Saturday.

FRESHMAN FORM FIRE DEPT. AND HOLD DRILL

Last Wednesday eve about the hour of eleven-thirty a voluntary and active fire department was organized by the Freshmen boys.

Johnny Standiwitz was elected "chief" and they hitched Sykes up for the horse. There were several other officers among whom were Gardner, the hose man, and Duffy, assistant chief. After the elections were through there came a violent ringing of bells and racing around. During the excitement the panels of three doors on the first floor were kicked out and one or two windows broken. This caused much detective work on the part of the Student Council and Faculty. As yet the guilty ones have not been found and it is not definitely known whether the fire drill had any connection with the destruction of the property.

WASHINGTON PRESS CLUB FORMED BY STUDENTS

The Washington College Press Club, an organization for the purpose of publicizing the college and for the same time giving the club members an opportunity to obtain experiences along journalistic lines, was formed last Tuesday evening under the direction of Harry S. Russell, associate editor of the Chestertown Enterprise and an alumnus of the college.

It will be the endeavor of the club to put news of each student at the college in his or her home town paper at least once during the school year. Other matters of a publicity nature will also be handled by the club.

The members of the new organization are: William Dannenberg, John J. Luddy, D. B. Ford, Roland C. Ready and Irving S. Ross.

WASHINGTON TO MEET SUSQUEHANNA TODAY

Red Cross Is FIRST VICTORY OF YEAR IS HOPED FOR Assembly Subject

The Thursday Assembly Oct. 12, 1931, was addressed by Mrs. H. Margaret Whitcomb, Maryland field worker of the American National Red Cross. In a delightful and interesting manner on the nature of the Red Cross Work.

Mrs. Whitcomb briefly summarized the organization of the Red Cross in Europe. She then told how Clara Barton conceived the idea in this country during the Civil War and of the valuable work done by her and her assistance to relieve the suffering of the soldiers. After the Civil War, Miss Barton appealed to various presidents and secretaries to make the Red Cross a national organization. Her appeals were finally heard by Secretary Blaine.

The first Chapter of the American Red Cross was organized with fifteen members in Danville, N. Y. fifty years ago. At a recent celebration in Danville 50,000 members were in attendance. At the present time there are more than 4,000,000 members and 3600 Chapters in the United States.

Mrs. Whitcomb, in concluding, expressed the hope that the students of Washington College would join the Red Cross during its annual membership drive this fall.

MRS. DONALD HOOKER SPEAKS TO STUDENTS

On Thursday, Oct. 5th, 1931, Mrs. Donald Hooker, national known as a pioneer women's suffrage worker and editor of "Equal Rights" a monthly magazine published at Washington, D. C., delivered an emphatic and interesting address to the student body on the subject of "Equal Rights for Women."

Mrs. Hooker traced the steps in the emancipation of women during the latter part of the 19th and early part of the 20th century. She pointed out that women had proven themselves to be as intelligent as men and as capable in any field of industry.

The address was concluded by a statement that women should have equal citizenship rights, equal wages, scales and should be included in the fourteenth amendment.

FRESHMEN ELECT

A Freshman meeting was held on Friday, November 6th, in room 21, William Henry Hall. The following officers were elected:

President—Harry Hurry.
Vice President—Richardson Sawyer.
Secretary and Treasurer—Ludlum.

At a later meeting held on November 12th, Michael Wallace was elected Student Council representative.

The Kent County News Show Association held its annual show at the William Henry Farm, Wednesday, November the eleventh.

ROBINSON PREVENTED BY ILLNESS FROM PLAYING

Today the Maroon and Black football team engages Susquehanna at Selimgrove, Pa. The latter's record this year isn't very impressive, so the battle is expected to be very closely fought with the Shoremen standing a good chance of winning, although they will be lacking several regulars.

Coach Kilber has experienced some exceptionally tough breaks this year, his regulars becoming crippled in almost every game. In spite of such circumstances those who were able to play displayed a willingness to fight, which would have touched the heart of any coach. The Washington College football team deserves a great deal of credit for the manner in which they played the last few games because of the odds which were against them.

"Olio" Robinson, all round athlete and popular student will be unable to play today because of an attack of pleurisy several days ago which necessitated resting in bed. Mackenzie who suffered a severe laceration in the Albright game will also be out of the game.

"Dick" Johnson playing his first game at end last week proved so good he will probably be Gardner's running mate this week. Blizard and Jones will be at the tackle berths. Jones has developed into a very fine tackle this year. The guard positions will be taken care of by Dickerson and Nicholson. Johnnie Lord will play center.

In the backfield Dobbins will call signals, Plummer and Rhinehold will be at the wings and Grails will be at the fullback positions. Dobbins is the sort of football player that fills a coach's heart with pride. This little fellow means play after play that is tried through the line and in addition he is the "iron man" of the team.

The Maroon and Black eleven has been pointing toward this game today and from the pep shown during the week they should win if they get any kind of breaks.

Y. W. C. A. CHANGES TIME OF MEETING TO SUNDAY

First Vesper To Be Held November 16th

Due to the conflicting of the meetings of the Young Women's Christian Association with the various activities held on the afternoon of the week days, the organization has been forced to change its time of meeting.

The cabinet and open meetings have previously been held on alternate Thursday afternoons. At the last cabinet meeting it was decided that the association would hold vesper services on alternate Sunday evenings at 6:30 in Reid Hall. It is believed that this will increase the attendance and that the services will be more in the way of worship.

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the seventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

Editor
Assistant Editor
Literary Editor
Alumni Editor
Society Editor

IRVING S. ROSS
Phillip Wingate
William H. Danneberg
A. E. Howard
W. McA. Richards

REPORTERS

Mildred Covey, Roland C. Ready, John Stankiewicz, Joseph H. Freedman, William Chase, James T. Anthony, Michael Wallace, Albert P. Gerialis, John A. Wagner, E. Clarke Fontaine, Jr., Charles Clarke, Annabelle L. Storey, Janet Altwater, Walter Karfin

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

DeWitt F. Clark, Edward F. Fitzgerald, Paul Pippin

SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES

Elizabeth Cooper, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager
Assistant Business Manager
Circulation Manager

JOHN J. LUDDY
Joseph B. Dickerson
Edward T. Coulbourn

ASSISTANTS

Louis L. Goldstein, Scott Beck, Jr.

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.
Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and for all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, NOV. 14, 1931

THE IMPORTANCE OF NOT BEING TOO EARNEST

Some become infatuated while sophomores but the majority fall ill either their junior or senior year. A few were deathly sick of it before they ever tried on a college campus. Of course we speak of this feeling of self-importance that is so characteristic of all collegians. Now we are not thinking of the individual that has his nose and his thoughts always in the air. Rather we speak of the common man and his activities.

At times we feel as though we would miss the type that feels as though an aura settles over all that he does. But if we could regulate this world we imagine that we would struggle long, carrying our burdens with a more joyous heart if he was absent. If for only once we could realize that all these things that we do here such as publishing a college paper, pledging freshman, playing a sport, holding a meeting of a council, conducting a class, were not so confoundingly important we might do them all more gracefully and certainly bring more joy to those that weren't interested in them. Perhaps we would more humbly seek the fundamental things whatever they may be. We might even learn something.

The fact that this is to be published has perhaps prevented us from writing more lucidly on all this, but what inspired these wanderings was this: That we ought to grasp that we are only mediocre students attending a mediocre college and doing mediocre things. And then, perhaps, with our distorted ideas of values righted, we would put away our childish jealousies for all time. At least it would make our fall from grace at graduation a little less severe.

THE COUNCIL SCORES

What support we can give goes wholeheartedly to the efforts of the student council to preserve our campus in its pristine glory. Usually the type of signs put up to keep people off a place were not what they try to prevent does. It is not so with these, for neatness and unobtrusiveness have been achieved in something that is not usually neat and unobtrusive.

So to show that we are wholeheartedly in support of all these efforts we will give up our dearly beloved morning custom of running across the campus to make our eight o'clock class. Furthermore we would like to present our hearty best wishes to the Student Council for an interesting year of such worthwhile activity. Doing such things must be infinitely more interesting than holding meetings and passing motions for more spirit.

A NOTE

There is a full, as it were, in the editorial column. Perhaps some will welcome it but unfortunately it is customary to fill out a column. So as people fill in conversational lulls with talk about the weather so will we here. Isn't it nice weather we're having? (Note to imitator—repeat last line till this thing is finished.)

Isn't it lovely weather we're having?

BEYOND THE CAMPUS

There seems to exist not much difference between the French and the American student as the following excerpts from an editorial in the New York Times of Sunday, November 8, 1931, will show:

"Public opinion in France has been greatly stirred by the supposed plight of her students. It is true that the whole generation under 20 is menaced by overstudy, with its attendant ills—tuberculosis, meningitis, typhoid, and cerebral anemia. Two years ago an official commission of investigation was appointed. It is still deliberating. Before its conclusions are made known, the Revue Bleue has its word to say. In the opinion of Theodore Jaron, the overworked student is largely a legend."

"The verdict of doctors on adolescent brain-fag is dismaying with an impatient gesture. Everybody knows that doctors are always asserting that everybody is sick. Look at the student. It is true that he is, more over, overworked for academic honors and with a real love of study, endanger their health. But this class has always existed. The great majority are a healthy-looking lot, who always seem to be just coming back from a football game or going out to play tennis. They have received close study to a minimum."

"Of remedies, two are proposed. One is to cut down the school term with the same work required. The second plan is an energetic pruning of the Tree of Science, with many branches of other studies also lepped off. This would reduce the present twenty-eight or thirty-hour schedule of classes to twenty hours. Professors are paid on a basis of fifteen hours, and the more 'supplementary hours' a schedule entails, the larger the honorarium. Such a reduction would evoke insurmountable opposition from the teaching staff. Between Seylla and Charibdis, the Grande Commission is in a voracious predicament. The sole consolation offered is that the field of overwork is less than it appears—a boggy whose dimensions decrease as it is approached more closely."

From the same paper, we who sit in the cafeteria may learn that good food does exist.

"Paris, Nov. 5.—There are always interesting salons to be seen in Paris and just now there are no less than three—the Autumn Salon of painting and sculpture, the Salon of Paris with folk-styled vases and motorboats exhibited in the great hall of the Grand Palais, and the most interesting for most people, the 'Salon of Gastronomy.'"

"At the latter are to be seen and tasted the most delectable viands of this fruitful land of France. There are assembled the artists of the culinary world and there the winemakers are exhibiting their finest products for you to go to taste. It is possible to lunch there on samples, beginning with caviar and continuing with lark pie and sauerbraten with fifty kinds of sausage to choose from, hams from a dozen cures, and cakes without number. For those who look like potential customers, champagne and cognac merchants will open choice bottles. There is even information as to where to be supplied for France is not bagged about wines."

"Each day official and unofficial juries try out new dishes and go home at night declaring the world is almost too full of good things."

INTERCOLLEGIATE

We print several of the pointed darts of our admirer-to-wit—"How did Premier Laval get in town and out again without getting a George Washington degree?"

—The University Hatchet.
Students of George Washington University, Washington issue a most interesting "Monthly Literary Review" section to their paper, "The Hatchet."

McGill University students recently visited a real, genuine old-time brewery. After making a thorough inspection of the plant each student was given a generous sample of the manufactured goods. Some opportunities, these Canadians have!

Montana State student engineers are planning the construction of a dining "room" for Grizzly Bears, at Yellowstone National Park. Truly a woolly task for the "wild and woolly west." Hope they enjoy their guests after the "room" is finished.

The manager of a local motion picture theatre recently donated to the University of Maryland, a motion picture showing the Old Liners giving the Stiffies a touncing in football. Sewell stuff to show future generations of Marylanders.

Intra-mural boxing is becoming popular at Maryland, says Coach Whipp.

Teacher: "If you stand facing the north, what have you on your left hand?"

Jimmie: "Fingers!"
—The Academician.

Collegiate Sam, says: "If all the students who sleep in class were laid end to end—they would be much more comfortable!"

—Houghton Star.

Women and eggs are alike, because their dogged virtue just ain't capable of bein' judged by outside appearances.

—Green and White.
Temple University Freshmen opened their social season with a most successful formal dance.

Farmer: "Want to buy a jug of cider?"
Tourist: "It is ambitious and willing to work!"

THE ELM wishes to respectfully acknowledge exchanges with:
The Southshore Phoenix,
McGill Daily,
Middlebury Campus,
The Gold Bug (W. Md. College),
The Colby Echo,
The Hope College Anchor,
The Avon Flash,
The Gilman News,
The Acorn (Oakland H. S.),
The Alcholi Mirror,
The Strayer Topics,
The Holly Leaf, (Md. State Normal School).

Congratulations to a newsmen! The infant, "Ballou" has reached us from the University of Baltimore. Yes, Vol. 1, No. 1, all brand new. Keep it up as well as you have started, and we can foresee big things for "Ballou."

Try the new style Drinkless
KAYWOODIE
British Extra
UNITED CIGAR STORES
Sole Agency

Open Forum

Mr. Robinson made a very valiant try at an explanation as to why the cafeteria could not operate without some seventeen men to attend to the wants of the students. Well, we all know the cafeteria is handicapped this year, by the apparent lack of men to do the service. Let's hope that Mr. Robinson will do his utmost to see to it that we students will not be forced to endure the icy blasts of winter, every day at noon hereafter. I suggest that the matter be left entirely up to his discretion, as he, no doubt, is better versed in cafeteria management, than is the writer.

There is one atrocity, however, a bout which, I feel, Mr. Robinson has not been much concerned. That is the matter of daling out milk. Now, milk is one of our cheapest, yet best foods. In some way everyone of us, physicians say, should have at least a quart a day. Most certainly this is not the case with students at Washington. To begin with, we are limited to one glass per day. This is rather fair, as there are a number of students who are not particularly fond of the beverage. Here is where the atrocity enters. We Americans do most certainly enjoy a bowl of some sort of cereal for the major part of our morning meal. Usually, every good restaurant or dining hall supplies ample milk for use in connection with this cereal. Everyone will agree that a bowl of luscious looking cereal, can be readily made unpalatable, if there is an insufficiency of milk for it. This is the case, this year. Last year, milk was simply provided for our cereal. This year students must be content to pour over their food, about a gill of milk, or less. If this is an insufficiency of the cereal go dry. Now if milk were very expensive, or if there were but few cows about Chestertown, there might be some cause for the outcrown. However, I do not think any of these are apparent, so I will again call upon the clear thinking of Mr. Robinson to furnish us with a solution to this problem. I hope that there may be actually something done this time, rather than an explanation, with no imminent solution.

—Patient Student.

Compliments

of

Chestertown

Electric Light and Power

Company

After A Studious Day

Relax at

JIM'S and HICK'S

Billiard Parlor

"AS I LIKE IT"

This column is not written for the sake of presenting unflattering literary material. Neither is it written to aid the paper; but it is written to fill space. It is not the best material available but during this period of depression you take what you can get. The subject of the column will be what the author can pick up here and there around the campus which he thinks the other students would like to know. This column has no object nor does it adhere to the rules of coherence and unity. But if you would read this far you have wasted just as much time as the author.

It seems as though the principal idea of going to college is to bring home a diploma. With this thought in mind it is interesting to note that some people's conception of the word diploma is what they bring home after three or four year's away at college.

We are all trying to derive a formula by which we may calculate how many "dates" are in the collegiate week.

Two of the male students of last year had a duck, a rabbit, and a rooster as pets. This year everyone is racing his car but brains to deduce a way in which they may get a "deal."

During one of the noon day meals of the past week we noticed a freshman jump in line ahead of his turn to get his second order of liver for which he was called down by the dietitian. We surely do hope that he didn't want his liver out of order.

Now turning to material of more literary value we would like to recommend a book for the coeds and caes.

Since we are trying to keep up with the times we suggest a book for unexperienced brides. It contains everything a girl should know before getting married. For all interested we recommend "The White House Cook Book."

The college catalogue says this is a liberal arts college, but it seems as though the administration could get a descriptive phrase with a much more classical meaning. Instead of going out for athletics, the boys are attending class and operating Fort pity takes—where are our traditions.

We have heard much criticism against the cafeteria and we wish to present three points in its defense.

1. Times are bad. Salaries are worse this year than they were last year, in fact, everything is worse. Therefore the meals have a right to be worse.
2. "An army," someone said, "travels on its stomach." And we are not doing any traveling therefore we don't need good meals.
3. Constancy is the secret of success. No one can say that the meals have not been consistent.

It seems as though the last week has closed a chapter in many boys' lives.

One of the important figures in this year's edition of the yearbook quoted himself: "We want everybody satisfied." We wonder if he wants us satisfied with his system?

We understand Mrs. Hacker to say "Michigan beat Princeton because Michigan was co-ed." We would like to have her explain why Harvard beat Washington.

"Freshman May Issue Elm." Why not give them a chance? We have everything to gain.

We noticed that someone characterized the library as a "court" room and a reception room. Most of the offenses were committed by freshman. We wonder if the critic, when he was a freshman, considered it wrong to occupy most of the library's time?

Columbia Gets Grid-Graph

A large "Grid-graph" was installed in the Columbia University gym for a play-by-play description of the Columbia-Cornell game. A system of lights indicated all plays as they took place at the game at Ithaca, N. Y. Football spirit was brought out by cheer leaders and a section of the band, which played in the gym during the half.

—N. S. F. A.

Students Sell Doughnuts

"Buy a doughnut" was the cry heard at the University of Oregon recently when the Y. W. C. A. sponsored the "Oregon Doughnut Day" to raise money. In all, 870 dozen doughnuts were sold on the campus.

—N. S. F. A.

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store

Where Your Dollar

Has More Cents

THE REXAL STORE
EASTMAN KODAKS
FILMS
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING
BY EXPERTS
DRUGS and
SUNDRIES
Of All Kinds
A. L. STERLING

ADVERTISE IN THE ELM

Students Of
Washington College
A Safe Place To Deal
THE STAM DRUG CO.
Everything in Drugs

Prescriptions Filled by Registered Pharmacists
Only

A Full Line of
School Supplies
Whitman's Candy
Cigars and Tobacco

READ THE ELM

"Of course I smoke Luckies —they're kind to my throat"

"Of course I smoke Luckies—I thought everybody did. They're kind to my throat—you don't hear them in the microphone. And that's a very neat little handle on your new Cellophane wrapper."

La Claire

La Claire wasn't content with being an acknowledged ruler of the American stage—now she's capturing Hollywood, too! Here she is in one of those stunning Chanel creations she wears in Samuel Goldwyn's production, "The Greeks Had A Word For It," a United Artists' picture. Don't miss that picture.

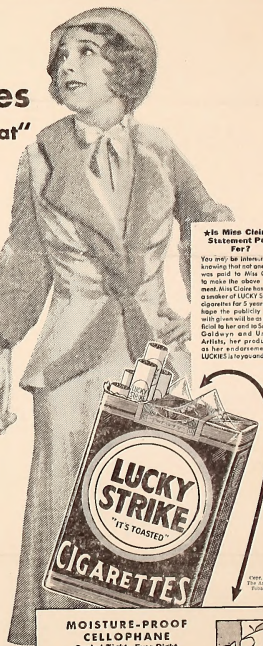

Made of the finest tobaccos—The Cream of many Crops—LUCKY STRIKE alone offers the throat protection of the exclusive "TOASTING" Process which includes the use of modern Ultra Violet Rays—the process that expels certain harsh, biting irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. These expelled irritants are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough

And Moisture-Proof Cellophane Keeps that "Toasted" Flavor Ever Fresh

TUNE IN ON LUCKY STRIKE: Get modern music with the world's finest dance orchestra, and Walter Winchell, whose group of today becomes the news of tomorrow, every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evening on N. B. C. networks.

*Is Miss Claire's Statement Paid For?

You may be interested in knowing that not one cent was paid to Miss Claire to make the above statement. Miss Claire has been a smoker of LUCKY STRIKE cigarettes for 5 years. We judge the publicity here-with given will be as beneficial to her and to Samuel Goldwyn and United Artists, her producers, as her endorsement of LUCKIES is to you and yours.

Nov. 1931.
The Cigarette
Company Co.

MOISTURE-PROOF CELLOPHANE

Sailed Tight—Ever Right

The Unique Humidor Package Zip—And it's open!

See the new notched tab on the top of the package. Hold down one half with your thumb. Tear off the other half. Simple. Quick. Zip! That's all. Unique! Wrapped in dust-proof, moisture-proof, germ-proof Cellophane. Clean, protected, neat, FRESH!—without the odor of modern tobacco. Improved Humidor package—so easy to open! Ladies—the LUCKY TAB is—your finger nail protection.

Washington Bows To Drexel 44 To 20

Injuries Handicap Kibler's Gridders

A badly battered Washington College eleven, still suffering from the grueling contest with Mt. St. Mary's on the previous Saturday, took a severe beating from Drexel Institute in Philadelphia last Saturday. The score was 44 to 6.

Drexel, led by the great Latrobe, tallied in every period and presented the strongest team the Shoremen have faced this season. In La Bove the visitors had a star back who carried his team to great heights.

Washington played its best football in the second and third quarters when they held the Dragons to a lone touchdown in each period. In the first season Drexel won presented a jolt of scores on a succession of lucky breaks and in the final period three touchdowns were rung up against the Shoremen, second string combining line, in the game as a complete unit.

Despite the overwhelming defeat the Washington gridders looked good in spite. Several times they carried the ball deep into Drexel territory but lacked the punch to carry the ball across the goal line. Defeated by the Washington line, shifted because of changes necessitated by injuries in the Mt. St. Mary's tilt, stood up well under the battering of the Drexel forwards, who outwitted the Shoremen 20 points to the man. Especially deserving of mention was the work of Lord. This seventeen-year old Freshman from Cumberland, Md. was at tackle and center when Growitt was injured, played a bang-up game throughout, continuing the brand of play he displayed when he relieved the great Ward in the Mt. St. Mary's game.

Robinson, veteran Washington quarterback, unceremoniously caught the ball for the first time this season, displayed the knack of ball carrying he had shown last year. The Washington gridders came out of the contest in good shape. Rhinebold, the Shoremen's star kicker, suffered a return of an old back injury but should be ready for the game with Albright on Saturday.

The lineup and summary:

Washington	LE	Drexel
Gruber	LT	Reuda
Nicholson	LG	Marsh
Growth	C	McFadden
Bierman	RG	Reichmeyer
Elford	RT	Denn
Plummer	RE	Hoff
Robinson	QB	Benn
Rhinebold	HB	Knap
Dobkins	RH	Gabel
MacKenzie	FB	La Bove

Score by periods:
Drexel 12 6 7 19—44
Washington 0 0 0 0—0
Touchdowns—La Bove (4), Burns, Pater (2), East (point)—La Bove, Reynolds (sub).

JOE'S Newstand

Cigars, Cigarettes,
Soft Drinks, Newspapers,
Magazines
Of All Kinds

Under the Voshell House

GILL BROS. ICE CREAM

Assorted Blocks
Dainties

Fresh Milk Daily
ROBINSON and JOHNSON
Daily 10 to 11 P. M.

Sports Notes

By Phillip J. Wingate

Although the Maroon and Black eleven was defeated rather decisively by Albright's powerful grid combination, in Reading, Pa., last Saturday, several aspects of the contest have sources of satisfaction to Coach Kibler and Klatka. Greatly handicapped by injuries, the Washingtonians turned in a very creditable performance in holding the hard running Albright backs recordless during an entire half. The work of several of the locals who were in the starting lineup for the first time this season was particularly pleasing.

Ball handling to the reports of those who know, Dick Johnson did the best work that has been done all season for the Maroon and Black. Johnson, a real find for the wing position, Al Givatis assumed full charge of the kicking department in this game and proved himself to be a proficient punter.

If injuries do not handicap the Kiblerites too much in Saturday's game with Susquehanna they should be rated at least an even bet against the Pennsylvania. The gridders from Selingsgrove will do well to match Dickerson, Washington's first-cleaver guard in this contest. Dickerson has put forth probably the most consistent brand of good foot ball that Washington has benefitted from this season. Al Dobkins because of his hard tackling will be another big star in the Washington wheel this Saturday.

The Freshman foot ball team that faces the Sophomores just before Thanksgiving will not be very experienced due to the fact that many of the first-year men who have had foot ball training previous to coming to college will now varyingly leave this year. The Sophs should be two or three touch downs better than the yearlings when they meet on the gridiron.

The soccer game played Monday, was full of action but neither the Sophomores nor the Freshmen had enough team work and coordination to produce a scoring punch. The interest shown in this contest by the general student body, seems to indicate that the proposed development of inter-sport at Washington College will be met with considerable enthusiasm.

A Special Lace-To-Thee Athletic Kick for Women's Gym Work.
Harry F. Jefferson

TO CAPTAIN BASKETBALL

Ollie Robinson

Ollie Robinson, who has been very basketball material for his last three years, will captain this year's edition of the Flying Pentagon.

Robinson will report with the rest of the squad for practice within the next few weeks.

NEGOTIATIONS FOR A CHARITY GRID GAME OFF

Plans for a Washington College-University of Delaware football game, to be staged after the close of the regular 1931 season, the proceeds to go to the Unemployment Fund, were abandoned this morning. This was because the Delaware team, due to injuries, would prevent the Shoremen presenting their strongest lineup, which would be necessary to make the contest interesting for the strong Delaware tribe.

Two of Washington's stars, Ward and Corazon, have already been ordered to the side lines for the rest of the season by the team physician and several other Washington mainstays are in such a battered condition that they may not last the season out.

DROP IN
AND LET US SHOW YOU
OUR FULL LINE OF
VICTROLAS - RADIOS
AND FURNITURE
THE LATEST IN MUSIC
AND RECORDS
W. P. NEWNAM
CHESTERTOWN, MD.

When Traveling Use The BALTIMORE-TOLCHESTER FERRY

Direct Route From The Eastern Shore To The Heart of Baltimore

For Passengers, Automobiles and Trucks—LOW RATES.
For information—Phone Chestertown 810-F3; Baltimore Plaza 8165.

TOLCHESTER COMPANY

QUALITY SPORTING GOODS
Catalog on Request
McCallisters
Est. 1894
124 W. Baltimore St.
Baltimore, Maryland

SOPH'S AND FRESHMEN SET FOR ANNUAL TILT

Very Close Game Expected

All interest in the Sophomore and Freshmen Classes is centered on the forthcoming traditional football game between these two classes. The rivals are holding pep meetings and daily football practice, composed mostly of signal learning at the present time. The game will be played on Tuesday before Thanksgiving, Nov. 23, and the whole college and most of Chestertown will witness this bitter struggle.

We all remember the scoreless tie of last year in which a good Freshmen team coached by Plummer and Badart did some nice playing, with all due credit to last year's Sophs. This year with virtually the same team performing against a Freshmen team will have a job on their hands. On the line Harries will probably be at center, Omar Carey and John Wagner at guards, Mike Williams and Paul Taylor at tackles and Jimmy Anthony and Charley Clark at the end posts. Others who will surely see service on the line are Pippie, Boyles, Campbell, Nuttle and Koerber. The starting backfield will likely be Proofdorf, Beauman, Hodgson and Hall, with Burkhardt, Davis and Coelkuen in reserve. Frank Badart is again Head Coach, with Dobkins, Gamber and Reinhold as his assistants.

The Freshmen, on the other hand, are being coached by Joe Dickerson and Freddy Usilton and will have a team that has been working together all season on the football field. Aid by a few scrimmage against the varsity, and coached in the rudiments, they are sure to make the outcome of the game doubtful until the final whistle has blown. On their line will probably be Sayler, Johns, Cohen, Wright, Barker, Charles and Wallace, and in the backfield Sadler, Mooney, Stankevich and Wallace or Stevens. This lineup is subject to revision and a big corps of reserves will be ready to play.

The game will be a corker and no one wants to miss it. Whatever the result may be, the spectators are assured that neither team will quit until the end. The fate of the Freshmen is hinged on this game, and if they secure part of the cut rules will be removed. If the Sophomores win, Freshmen will watch their step until late next Spring.

PAUL and SAM
Quality and Service
SHOE REPAIRING
Next To Sterlings Drug Store
Chestertown, Maryland

WE KNOW
What Young Men Want
You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylish who fashion their clothes in a recognized authority in style centers.
You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.
Our clothes will mean every thing you demand of them.
BORDLEY & SON

For Better COAL SERVICE
Phone 149
C. W. Kibler & Sons
Chestertown, Maryland

Albright Wins Uneven Contest

Haines Plays Great Game For Albright

For the second straight Saturday, Washington College was completely overpowered, this time by Albright College, of Reading, Pa. A superior combination of power, speed and deception in the first half, accounted for the largest score of the season. During the second half, however, the Maroon and Black warriors held their own and no score was made in this period.

The game started with Washington kicking off and Albright making a nice run back to their thirty-five yard line. On the first play, Charley Haines, Albright sensational half-back sprinted sixty-five yards around his left end for a touchdown. This tally was only the beginning of a barrage of scores, as Haines scored two more in short order, one from another end run for thirty-five yards, and the other by a sneak off tackle. Before the quarter was up, lateats scored two for a 35 to 0 score.

After the second quarter opened, Washington braced up considerably and touchdowns by Weigl and Conway ended Albright's scoring for the time. It was at this stage of the game that Dickerson, brilliant guard for Washington, broke through Albright's line at the right moment, literally stole the ball out of the hands before he reached the line of scrimmage, and ran forty yards for a touchdown before anyone could realize what had happened. This finely executed piece of work saved the Shoremen from a complete shutout.

The second half was evenly fought, Albright making only five first downs as against eleven during the first period. Second stringers played most of the last quarter for both teams and Washington's victory was not complete.

Outside of poor tackling, especially during the first half, Washington played a fairly good game. Playing best for the Maroon and Black were Dobkins and Givatis in the backfield and Latrobe, Dickerson and Johnson on the line.

Washington	LE	Albright
Gamber	LT	Brookes
Blinnel	LG	Harzig
Dickerson	C	Boettiger
Lord	C	F. Hatten
W. Caray	RG	Koslowski
Johnson	RT	Smith
Dobkins	RE	Daub
MacKenzie	QB	Hine
Usilton	RH	Andrews
Givatis	FB	Reh
Score by quarters:

Albright 35 14 0 0—49
Washington 0 0 0 0—0

Touchdowns—Haines (3), lateats (2), Weigl, Conway. Point after touchdown—Weigl, 4; Ford, 3. (sub for Hain). Referee—J. G. Crowley, (Muhlenberg) Umpire—R. A. Monaghan, (Villanova). Head linesman—W. S. Wall (Otterbein).

The Best Of Everything
Needed

FOR BUILDING
E. S. Adkins & Co.
Chestertown, Centreville
Easton, Salisbury

Slippery Elm

Since the placing of the signs on the lower part of the campus by the Student Council several results are particularly noticeable. It is quite remarkable to note that students who feel the necessity of saving a few steps walk on the parts of the campus that are not marred by paths. It is equally remarkable that some members of the faculty invariably walk in the exact paths that have been tried for generations. Is it fitting and proper that these people, whose help and guidance we need in the process of education, should set an example that is a flagrant violation of the rules of the Student Council? The argument might be presented that the Student Government Association has control of students only, but it appears that this means was used after the President of the college had made numerous fruitless requests to attain the same end.

In addition to the markers already placed it may be of some aid to place several signs of the main walk from William Smith Hall to Washington Avenue. There is a path rapidly being brought into existence in the straight line from the steps at the front of Middle Hall to the steps before William Smith Hall.

Several horribly cast iron aristocracies are evolving among the student body. In the past several years there has been a tendency for the student body to divide itself into groups which are organized in such a fashion that the members are extremely loyal to their own crowd. First we had fraternities, then sororities, and now we have the Middle Hall Club. Everyone is part of some organization but freshmen and they will soon be required to affiliate with one or another of these groups. This matter of organization is all very well, as long as it tends toward further improvement of the entire group. However there is a decided lack of cooperation between these small societies. If a genuine sportsmanlike competition were promoted nothing further could be asked, but there is a malicious antagonism that forces the chasms between them to become wider and wider. It is more necessary to achieve social cooperation in a small student body than in a large one and we can never become as "one big, happy family" if we insist on widening the small, but ever-existent, breach between all of us.

Compliments

HERB'S QUICK LUNCH

Sandwiches of all kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Voshell House

ALBERT L. WHEAT

"The Young Men's Shop"
Chestertown, Maryland

CLOTHING

SHOES
HABERDASHERY

Y. M. C. A. Sends Three Delegates To Conference

The Y. M. C. A. feels quite elated in sending three delegates to the recent Tri-State Conference held at Hood College. The reports of Messrs. Branford, Bailey and Sadler brought to the local group impressions of this meeting which no doubt opened avenues of thought toward higher achievement in not only the work of the Y. M. C. A. on the campus, but also the personal lines of the individual members.

This conference had for its purpose the beginning of some spiritual pioneering. It showed that new trails are awaiting a blazer; trails that are different from those in the '60's.

The main speakers of the Conference showed that these new trails were in the realm of one's own personality.

Students Will Find Our Store a Very Desirable Place To Visit

TOULSON'S Drug Store

Phones—26 and 311

NOLAND'S

Department Store

Get anything you want
from Dry Goods to School Supplies.
221 - 223 High Street
Chestertown, Maryland

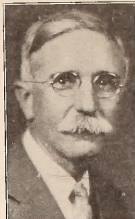

JUST UP THE ROAD AT

SCHAUBER'S

For Delicious
ICE CREAM, MILK,
CAKES, SANDWICHES,
CANDIES, DRINKS and
TOBACCO of all kinds

Phone 330

ATTENDS CARD PARTY

Dr. J. S. William Jones

Dr. J. S. W. Jones, Dean of the College and Secretary-Treasurer of the Alumni Association, headed a party of fourteen from Chestertown which attended the card party tendered by the Baltimore Chapter of the Washington College Alumni Association last Saturday.

The Chestertown

Bank of Maryland

Bank of Service

Branches at
Galena, Kennedyville,
Bertterton

Main Branch

Chestertown, Maryland
4% On Savings 4%

The

Third National Bank

Chestertown, Md.

The Only

National Bank

In Kent County

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students
Offers Complete Line of Corkin and Wainwright and Pencils, Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery,
And School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

RESTAURANT

For a Delicious Electric Toasted Sandwich, Special Dishes,
Regular 20¢ Dinners, Fancy Sandwiches, Ice Cream,
Sodas, Candies, Cigarettes, etc.,

Visit The

CANDY KITCHEN

(Open 6 A. M. Until 12 P. M.)

Student Council Notes

Meeting called to order by President Robinson at 7:00 p. m., Nov. 3, 1930.

Old Business.

President Robinson reported that Mr. Jones had said that shower would be fixed in Middle Hall.

New Business.

It was moved, seconded, and passed that the Sophomore-Freshman football game be held the Tuesday afternoon before the Thanksgiving holiday.

The question of the Porter Fight was discussed and the matter layed on the table until the next meeting.

— and —

were tried on a charge brought by President Robinson namely that they were causing a disturbance in West Hall after eleven o'clock. Both were put on probation.

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned.
Hubert F. Ryan, Secretary

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing

104 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

DEL-MAR-VA RESTAURANT

— FOR —

AFTER DANCE LUNCHEONS
AND REGULAR MEALS

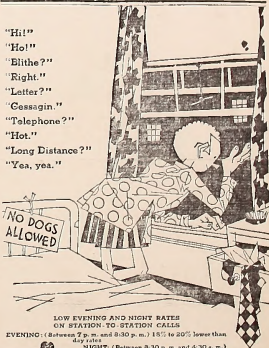

STOP AT THE

VOSHELL HOUSE

ROOMS WITH BATH

MODERATE RATES

"Hi!"
"Ho!"
"Blithe?"
"Right."
"Letter?"
"Cessagin?"
"Telephone?"
"Hot."
"Long Distance?"
"Yea, yea."

LOW EVENING AND NIGHT RATES
ON STATION-TO-STATION CALLS

EVENING: (Between 7 p. m. and 8:30 p. m.) 15% to 20% lower than day rates
NIGHT: (Between 8:30 p. m. and 4:30 a. m.) 40% to 50% lower than day rates

These reductions apply on all rates above 35¢
The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company
of Baltimore City
(Bell System)

Society Notes

Gamma Sigma

Dr. Gertrude Ingalls entertained the Gamma Sigma Sorority at tea last Saturday afternoon.

The wicker furniture which the sorority purchased for its room, arrived last week.

Kappa Gamma

The Kappa Gamma Sorority is happy to announce that Miss Florence T. Snodgrass has become its faculty advisor.

At a recent meeting, Theodora Chapman and Harriet Egan were initiated into the sorority.

Last week witnessed the return of many alumnae to the hall to attend the wedding of Mrs. James Wilkins Chapman, the former Louise Dismouth Simpers, Geraldine Harwood, of New York, was one of the bridesmaids. Among the other visiting Kappa Gammae were Louise Cruise, Dorothy Simmons, Louise Bowen and Margaret Ruklaugh, ex-'33.

Phi Sigma Tau

At the last meeting of the Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity, Alfred S. Hodgson, was made a pledge to the Fraternity.

The lounge room has been re-decorated, together with making the Ping Pong table larger. Ping Pong has become a "major sport" in the house, and has attracted much attention.

Maurice Rayane was a visitor to the House last week.

Phi Sigma Phi

The Phi Sigma Phi Fraternity entertained a number of freshmen at a theatre party. After the performance refreshments were served at the house.

Ralph Harris '34, was pledged to Phi Sigma Phi Fraternity.

Mr. C. Rodney Layton, of University of Maryland Medical School was the week end guest of the fraternity.

Messrs. Edwin T. Coulburn, Urish O. Coulburn, William McK. Richards were the guests of Charles Spikes at his home in Philadelphia.

Messrs. John G. McLain, Joseph Monney, were the guests of Richard Cooper over the week end.

Mimes Lanthicum, Mace, Norris and Professor Makosky and Mr. DeWitt

Clark attended a performance of the Philadelphia Grand Opera Company last Thursday evening.

Dean Brewer, Miss Anne Bonwill, Messrs. William H. Danenberg, Edwin T. Coulburn and William McK. Richards attended the premiere appearance of the Metropolitan Opera Company in Philadelphia. Maxon was presented with Bert, Gigli and Kothier appearing in the leads.

Miss Janet Atwater entertained a number of friends at bridge Friday, November the thirteenth, at her home on Front street.

TILTED HATS DEMAND DEBONAIR LOCKS

Can you imagine the gay, little uplitted hats looking well on unruly locks?

No, we can't, nor can anyone else so let us reweave the grown out portion, and the new unruly locks or give you a new permanent. It makes one look youthful, yet debonair.

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE

LOUISE E. DUTCHER

Owner and Operator

306 Park Row

Phone 334

The Emerson Hotel

Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings

Unexcelled

Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged

Private Rooms and

Banquet Halls

For All Occasions

Facts.. FACE-UP

© 1931, LUXURY & NEVADA TOBACCO CO.

Let's talk Straight from the Shoulder

WHAT you want in a cigarette is taste. You want mildness . . . smoothness . . . and satisfying pleasure when you smoke.

All right then . . . get this straight.

CHESTERFIELD pays top prices. . . yes, and a premium for the ripest, mellowest, sweetest-tasting leaf that grows.

The curing and conditioning is done by specialists . . . men carefully trained in handling these fine tobaccos. . . .

IN BLENDING, also, Chesterfields are different . . . Instead of merely mixing the tobaccos together . . . we cross-blend them. It's like making a new and better-tasting kind of tobacco. That's how we get that Chesterfield flavor. Milder . . . and a more pleasing aroma.

Cigarette paper? Only the purest that's made is good enough for Chesterfield.

PICK UP a package. Note its clean appearance . . . free from heavy inks. It's moisture-proof, too.

And three big factories at Richmond, Durham and San Francisco—operating under the strictest sanitary standards—rush them fresh to you.

Good . . . they're got to be good. Because they're made that way. And most important of all . . . you can taste this goodness in the cigarette. You can tell it in the smoke.

Light up, Mister! Try Chesterfield. Let the cigarette do its own talking. You'll get the whole thrilling story, in just two words . . . "They Satisfy!"

"Yes Sir—Mild yet they Satisfy"

SUETLY flattering to the woman of affairs is the well-placed finger wave. Whether her hair is long or bobbed, visits to the Gray Beauty Salon are an investment in well-groomed expression.

Gray's Beauty
SALON

Phone 253

CHESTERTOWN, MARYLAND

The Washington Film

FRESHMAN ISSUE

VOL. XXXI. NO. 5.

SATURDAY, NOV. 28, 1931

PRICE TEN CENTS

SOPH GRIDMEN CONQUER THE FROSH BY SCORE 18-0

The Sophomore gridmen, led by Hall and Hodgson, marched through a plucky Freshman effort to roll up 18 points against the Frosh 0.

The game was well played and was made spectacular and exciting by long runs by both sides.

It was not until late in the second quarter that the Sophomores, encouraged by the long gains, of the brilliant, running back, Hall, and the line-backs of Froudford, pushed the first touchdown across the line. Hall's placement kick for extra point failed.

The Sophs scored more came early in the third period, when a 60 yard sprint by Joe Hall put the ball on the Frosh ten-yard line. Thence two line-backs and an off tackle play scored the second touchdown. Try for point again failed.

An end run, well executed by the diminutive Hodgson, scored the third and last touchdown of the game.

The Sophomores, due to the hard work of Coach Frank Budart, presented a fast, hard-playing, well-drilled team.

On the other hand, the Freshmen, although outweighed and handicapped by lack of experience, put up a fine, well-fought game. Much credit is due coaches Dickerson and Ullston for their consistent preparation.

The outstanding players of the game were Joe Hall, whose brilliant play was a credit to any team; Al Hodgson, whose quarter-backing aided greatly in the Soph victory; Joe Mooney, whose punting and ball-carrier were very conspicuous; Wes Sadler, who proved himself to be a valuable quarter-back; Mike Williams, who was a pillar of strength in the line-up and Doc Murray, who led little to be desired.

The lineup and summary:

Sophomores	Freshmen
Anthony LE	Chase
Wagner LT	Wright
Carey LG	Kennedy
Carey C	Saylor
Capel RG	Johns
Williams RT	Coches
Boyle RE	Murray
Hodgson Q	Sadler
Brooks RH	Wallace
Burkhardt LH	Stanciewicz
Hall FB	Mooney

Referee: Coach Kibler; Linemen, Ellis and Dembschitz; Umpire, Harry Russell. Substitutes: Freshmen: Cooper, Buckowski, D'Wallace, Rees, Long, Stevens, Goldstein, Chambers, Beck, Wilson, DeSeio. Sophomores: Beasman, Parris, Davis, Pippin, Nettle, Merrill, Coburn.

ADELPHA SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING

The meeting of the Adelphe Literary Society was held on Wednesday, November 18th. The program was begun by a Scripture reading by Marion Enert. Dick Cooper followed with a piano solo. A short reading by Marie Poole preceded a concert by Mr. Rosenberg. A football review by Bill Chase and "Moon beams," by Ethel Wallace, came before the critics. Kitty Collins made her report.

The new assembly under the process of construction on the Quaker Neck road will soon be completed.

CHAPEL SPEAKER

Hon. T. Alan Goldsborough

Congressman T. Alan Goldsborough was the speaker at the assembly at Washington College on Thursday, November 19. Congressman Goldsborough is representative from the First Maryland Congressional District and is a graduate of Washington College. His home is in Denton, Caroline County.

Dean And Alumni Give Victors Cup

A handsome silver loving cup has been presented as a perpetual trophy for the winner of the Freshman-Sophomore football game, by Dean Jones and the Alumni Association.

The cup is to be in the possession of the president of the winning class for the year following the game in which that class was victorious. The name of the winning class is to be engraved, with the date, each year upon the cup.

The prize is to be presented, with suitable ceremony, immediately after the annual game.

The Freshman-Sophomore football game has so long been a feature of the autumnal activities that it has become a tradition of the College. Each year after the last varsity game of the season, the first and second year men engage in a struggle for which they consistently train for several weeks. Until this year the winner has made its success known throughout the town in a manner painfully conspicuous. Poster-letters and other activities have marked a period in which the honorable reputation of the college was not elevated. By the action of the Dean, and other executive bodies, the unfortunate game aftermath has been eliminated.

Social functions were suggested to enliven the holidays without resorting to force. And most important of all, the cup changed the winning of the game to being an achievement equally worthwhile rather than a signal for the destruction of property.

It seems obvious that the whole college owes a vote of thanks to Dean Jones for his thought of the cup. The Alumni Association for its part, to Dr. Titwirth for his contributions, and to the Student Council for its whole-hearted support.

NOTE OF THANKS

The Freshman Class wishes to take this opportunity to thank the ELM staff for their courtesy in sponsoring a Freshman Issue.

HON. T. ALAN GOLDSBOROUGH TALKS ON ECONOMIC ILLS

Mediocrity Theme Of Dr. Holloway

The weekly assembly at Washington College had as the speaker on Thursday, December 3, Dr. H. B. Holloway, State Superintendent of Schools for the State of Delaware. Dr. Holloway's subject was the "Triumph of Mediocrity."

Dr. Holloway graduated from Washington College with the class of 1905.

Approaching the subject of his talk, Dr. Holloway explained the correct interpretation of his title. It was not to be supposed, he noted, that mediocrity was preferable to excellence, but rather that it was necessary for the expression of excellence. He reminded the audience that graduation from college was the beginning of learning and that even college students could not all be entrusted with genius.

He observed that the poet was at a loss to circulate his wares without the aid of the common printer and papermaker. In other words, genius needs a practical helper, which it finds in the common man.

The first contribution, or triumph, of mediocrity is, then, cooperation. "The world is made of time," stated Dr. Holloway. He further noted that time is a commodity an equal amount of which is possessed by everyone, regardless of his station. The average person by unifying and persistent effort can use the time allotted to him just as efficiently as the genius-born. He can accomplish just as much for the good of mankind as the man intellectually his superior, noted Dr. Holloway.

Specification for manhood as suggested by Kipling closed a talk richly illustrated by vivid experiences from life.

Freshmen Meet To Discuss Plans

On Thursday, Nov. 19, the Freshman meeting was called to order by President Hayes.

The subject of the loving cup, presented to the winning class in the Freshman-Sophomore football game, was preferred and explained by the President.

Plans were discussed for the dance to be held on the evening of the 26th. The dance was sponsored by President Titwirth, and was very kindly furnished the orchestra. It was decided that a fee of twenty-five cents per person was to be paid by having seats. The Faculty, Seniors, Juniors and the members of the victorious class were to be admitted free of charge; it was decided.

A dance committee was chosen and found to be composed of: John Lord, chairman; Scott Beck, Wesley Sadler, Wilma Davis and Ann Peck. Plans for a soccer game (which did not materialize) on Thanksgiving, as well as those for a girls hockey game were discussed before the meeting was adjourned.

On Thursday, November 19, the Assembly was fortunate in having for its speaker, the Hon. T. Alan Goldsborough, representative from the First Congressional District of Maryland, who gave an exceedingly interesting discussion, choosing as his topic "The Present Economic Crisis."

Congressman Goldsborough, who graduated from Washington College magna cum laude opened his talk with several choice anecdotes of the days when he was a student here. In continuing his talk, he defined this Economic Crisis as being essentially a problem of distribution rather than overproduction, as has been the popular belief. He declared that powerful instances were to blame for this condition; influences whose activities will have to be controlled. This, he pointed out, is a problem for the coming generation; a matter in which the mass—rather than the individual—mind must be educated.

Mr. Goldsborough also presented an interesting insight on the recent activities of the Committee for Investigation of Communism, and gave his own views on the subject. In closing, he quoted the late Chas. Steinmetz in a passage prophesying that the future of greater importance is in the spiritual than in the scientific world.

Thanksgiving Day Is Jolly Occasion

The Thanksgiving holidays were pleasantly spent by those who remained at school. Everything possible was done to help the "Extraterrestrial" residents have a good time.

After the great football game on Wednesday, a number of girls from Reid Hall came over to the "Gym" to dine with the Freshmen boys. The boys (and girls) enjoyed this occasion exceedingly.

The orchestra, which was furnished by Dr. Titwirth, performed in a manner quite in keeping with the Thanksgiving spirit.

The lights in the gymnasium were shaded by green and red paper, which rather gave the room a "backwoods" effect. However, this effect was not complete, as there were no turkeys gobbling around. There were some Sophomores standing on the sidelines.

The success of the night was insured by a few Freshmen began to serve refreshments.

On Thursday morning the dance was continued with a change of ballads, atones, etc. The ELM correspondent notes that "It surely was fun to begin Thanksgiving by dancing with a pretty girl."

He continues with, "For Thanksgiving supper we had roast turkey. It was really good to surround a meal like that one. We indulged our Miss Potts a vote of thanks."

Yes, the Thanksgiving holidays passed pleasantly for those who remained at school.

Christmas Ball Is Great Success

On Friday evening, December 4, the most important social event of this scholastic year took place in the college gymnasium.

A fine orchestra, under the able direction of Lou Caruso furnished the music.

The decorations were superb. The color scheme was red, white and green. Large strips of these colors were used as a background for the orchestra platform. Multitudinous paper strips were fastened on hoops so as to represent a three top circus tent. The lights were covered with red, serving as a background, and green Christmas trees at a background. A large cedar tree decorated with small electric lights and packages from Santa himself, occupied the center of the floor. No smaller sentinels of the forest stood at the ends of the orchestra platform.

The patrons were Mr. and Mrs. John I. Coulbourn, Dr. and Mrs. Peter E. Titwirth, Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Howell, Dr. Thomas E. Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. B. Ullston, Miss Doris Bell, Mrs. Walter W. Chapman and Mrs. Collidge.

Dr. Dole Sails For Egypt Nov. 9

Dr. Esther M. Dole, head of the department of history at Washington College, will sail for Italy and Egypt on December 23. Embarking from New York on the Conte Biancamano, Dr. Dole will land at Genoa, the Italian port. From there she will go to Marselles, the historic old court city of many French kings. At Johns Alexandria Dr. Dole will join the party with whom she is to tour Egypt. For fourteen days the intricacies of the most ancient of lands will be studied. Trips on the Nile as far as the Assiout Dam will permit an inspection of the pyramids at Gizeh, the Valley of the Kings and numerous other points abounding in historical lore. An expedition will be made into King Tut-Ank-Amens tomb which will indeed be exciting. Life on the alluvial plain of the Nile will be contrasted with the life of the desert three thousand of years ago, and scores of other things will be observed.

Dr. Dole will return in late January.

FOOTBALL MEN ELECT FOR NEXT YEAR

At a meeting of the "letter-men" of the Washington College football team held November 26, Joe Dickerson was selected to captain the 1932 eleven.

The managership went to Phillip Wingate, and further results of the election resulted in the choosing of Barbhart as assistant manager. Various other matters of business were discussed, and the meeting was adjourned.

Extra - Muralities

Jormann gives us an ideal picture of the temperamental and romantic young man, born a Marquis, yet struggled continuously for existence. Success made him lethargic and phlegmatic. He was content to see the world go by. In 1870, this grand old man of France died, the greatest loss the French literary world ever had.

The Mysteries Of A Pack Of Cards

A private soldier by the name of Bourke Chambers was taken before a magistrate for playing cards during the divine service. It appeared that a sergeant commanded the soldiers at the church. When the person had read the prayers he took the text. Those who had a Bible took it out, but this soldier had neither Bible nor common prayer book, but pulling out a pack of cards, he spread them before him. He just looked at one card and then at another. The sergeant of the company saw him and said: "Bourke, put up the cards, this is no place for them."

"Never mind that," replied Bourke. When the service was over, the constable took Bourke before the Mayor.

"Well," said the mayor, "What have you brought the soldier here for?"

"For playing cards in church."

"Well soldier, what have you to say for yourself?"

"Much, sir, I hope."

"Very good. If not I will punish you more than man was ever punished."

"I have been about six weeks on the march. I have neither Bible nor common prayer book. I have not had but a pack of cards, and I'll satisfy your worship of my intentions," said the soldier. And spreading the cards before the mayor he began with the ace. "When I see the ace, it reminds me there is but one God. When I see the deuce, it reminds me of the Father, and Son. The tray spot reminds me of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost. The four spot reminds me of the four Evangelists that preached; Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. When I meet the five, it reminds me of the five wise virgins that trimmed their lamps; there were ten, but five were foolish and were put out. When I see the six, it reminds me that in six days the Lord made Heaven and earth. When I see the seven, it reminds me that on the seventh day he rested from the great work he had created, and followed it. I look at the eight and it reminds me of the eight righteous persons that were saved when God destroyed the world. Noah and his wife and three sons and their wives. When I see the nine, it reminds me of the lepers that were cleansed by our Saviour; there were nine out of ten who never returned thanks. When I see the ten, it reminds me of the ten commandments which God handed down to Moses on the tablets of stone. When I see the King, it reminds me of the King of Heaven, who is God Almighty. When I see the Queen, it reminds me of the Queen of Sheba, who visited Solomon for the way as was a woman as he was a man. She brought with her fifty boys and girls, all dressed as boys for King Solomon to tell which were girls. King Solomon sent for water for them to wash, the girls washed to the elbows and the boys to the wrist, so King Solomon told by that token.

"When I count the number of cards in a pack, I find fifty-two, the number of weeks in a year. I find three hundred and sixty-six spots in a pack, as many days as in a year. I find four suits, the number of weeks in a month. I find there are twelve picture cards in a pack, representing the number of months in a year. I count thirteen tricks, same as thirteen weeks is a quarter of a year."

"So you see, a pack of cards serves for a Bible, almanac and common prayer book."

The Dalany-Vernay Co.

337-339-341 North Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest Gift Establishment

Art China, Leather Goods, Toys, Books, Athletic Equipment

When Traveling Use The BALTIMORE-TOLCHESTER FERRY

Direct Route From The Eastern Shore To The Heart of Baltimore

For Passengers, Automobiles and Trucks—LOW RATES. For information—Phone Chestertown 810-F3; Baltimore Plaza 8165. TOLCHESTER COMPANY

THE PEOPLES BANK

Commercial and Savings Accounts Rock Hall Chestertown

The Best Of EVERYTHING Needed FOR BUILDING

E. S. Adkins & Co.

Chestertown, Centreville Easton, Salisbury

P A U L and S A M Quality and Service SHOE REPAIRING Next To Sterlings Drug Store Chestertown, Maryland

SUBTLY flattering to the woman of affairs is the well-placed finger wave. Whether her hair is long or bobbed, visits to the Gray Beauty Salon are an investment in well-groomed expression.

Gray's Beauty SALON

Phone 283 CHESTERTOWN, MARYLAND

The Third National Bank Chestertown, Md.

The Only National Bank In Kent County

HERB'S QUICK LUNCH

Sandwiches of all Kinds Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks Under the Voshell House

DROP IN AND LET US SHOW YOU OUR FULL LINE OF VICTROLAS - RADIOS AND FURNITURE THE LATEST IN MUSIC AND RECORDS W. P. NEWMAN CHESTERTOWN, MD.

TILTED HATS DEMAND DEBONAIR LOCKS

Can you imagine the gny, little up-lifted hats looking well on unruly locks?

No, we can't, nor can anyone else, so let us reweave the grown out portion, and the new unruly locks or give you a new permanent. It makes one look youthful, yet debonaire.

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE

LOUISE B. BUTCHER Owner and Operator

306 Park Row

Phone 334

STOP AT THE VOSHELL HOUSE ROOMS WITH BATH MODERATE RATES

WE KNOW

What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style centers.

You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.

Our clothes will meet every thing you demand of them.

BORDLEY & SON

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149

C. W. Kibler & Sons Chestertown, Maryland

NOLAND'S

Department Store

Get anything you want from Dry Goods to School Supplies. 221-223 High Street Chestertown, Maryland

JOE'S Newstand

Cigars, Cigarettes, Soft Drinks, Newspapers,

Magazines Of All Kinds

Under the Voshell House

The Emerson Hotel

Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings Unexcelled

Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged Private Rooms and Banquet Halls For All Occasions

RESTAURANT

For a Delicious Electric Toasted Sandwich, Special Dishes, Regular: $50 Dinners, Fancy Sandwiches, Ice Cream, Sodas, Candies, Cigarettes, etc.,

Visit The

CANDY KITCHEN

(Open 6 A. M. Until 12 P. M.)

LOW EVENING AND NIGHT RATES ON STATION—TO STATION CALLS

EVENING: (Between 7 p. m. and 8:30 p. m.) 15% to 20% lower than day rates NIGHT: (Between 9:30 p. m. and 4:30 a. m.) 40% to 80% lower than day rates These reductions apply on all rates above 35c

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City (Bell System)

Frosh-Soph Game Provokes Comment

"They're not to hurt" was a cry that echoed long and early over the field. It was, absolutely no one was suffering from the heat.

The first definite impression of the game was an auditory one. Entertaining Freshmen had relieved the Pennsylvania Railroad of a number of iron plates and bolts to were at indication of their feelings when their lungs had lungs. Many did not wait for their lungs to fail, but immediately left the other with noise worthy of a Chinese funeral.

As soon as the crowd had gotten comfortably settled, the arrival of the teams caused it to become uncomfortable unsettled. Like the Greeks at Olympia ready to battle for the honor of their respective cities were these black-and-white and those red-and-white, the "soph" being a little more ready.

The cheering was the bright spot of the game, since most of the spectators were for cold and fanatic. The cheer leaders probably worked harder than anyone else at the game but received compensation by being able to keep warm. At times it seemed that their enthusiasm was being at the point of almost swallowing their megaphones.

At opportune times between the plays, waterboys ran across the field liberally irrigating the grass and thereby guarding against another drought.

Urbane watchers questioned the logic of such an active disturbance over an insignificant ball, but on the whole remarkably few such brilliant criticisms were heard.

Between the lines the feminine members engaged in a frenzied orgy of combat like those their Anglo-Saxon forbears enjoyed a thousand years ago. Attempts were made at demonstrating the white team's superiority, but they failed. A squad of freshmen tried to persuade a gentleman digging on the new athletic field to lend them his horse and wagon, but when they received a negative reply they left, instead of leading the engine-driven vehicle on their shoulders, as the "frosh" of yesterday would have done.

At the beginning of third quarter, color in the stands was brought by the increasing number of purple faces and blue noses. Anxiety blanketed the Freshmen's features as they saw their doughy fellows go down in historical numbers.

A readily migrating Windfall Swan preceded the only birdseye view of the scene. No doubt his regard for the huddling mortals below him was not a high one. And as that foul old creature contended into some quiet god, thus did the Freshmen hopes for victory drop.

Football Class Brings Change

A marked change is noticeable, no matter, will be noticeable among the student-body of Washington College. The "students-at-large" refer, however, only to football men. The impression one would gain upon reviewing the student body of the college at the end of November would be that a number of likely looking young men had been weeded in physical combat. Since the close of the football season the college had been so much toward some into the position in the "graph of good looks."

Another Big Season Propheced For Washington's Active Gamblers

Now that the football season is over, and basketball has been practiced in earnest, it is well to turn our attention to the other sport and see just what our prospects are for the coming season.

Last season was very successful, the Flying Pentagon having triumphed over some of the best teams in the East. Among the chief victories were: Washington 20, Princeton 23; Washington 34, Maryland 32; Washington 24, Loyola 28.

Although we lost last year one of Washington's most able players, Pat Gahner, we should have even a more successful season this year. First Jan. 23—Loyola. Second Jan. 30—St. Joseph's. Third Feb. 6—St. John's. Fourth Feb. 13—University of Maryland. Fifth Feb. 13—Hopkins. Sixth Feb. 16—Swarthmore. Seventh Feb. 19—Mt. St. Mary's. Eighth Feb. 27—Johns Hopkins. Ninth Mar. 5—W. Maryland. Tenth Mar. 12—Alumna.

All of whom have played on first class college teams.

Thanksgiving Day Contests Postponed By Non-appearance of Enough Players

The soccer game between the Freshmen and Junior boys, proposed to have been held on Thanksgiving Day, has been postponed because of lack of players. The game would have proved to be an interesting one for many of the Freshmen were players on first class high school teams from the championship team of the State of Maryland.

The girls' hockey game, which was suggested to parallel the boys' soccer high school teams.

Remembering, apparently, the rousing received at the hands of the Flying Pentagon last year, the soccer boys do not appear on the schedule this year. Perhaps in years to come such universities will be seeking games with Washington College.

The schedule for the coming season is as follows:

Dec. 15—Osteopathy.
Jan. 5—St. John's.
Jan. 6—State Teachers.
Jan. 15—Hopkins.
Jan. 16—Mt. St. Mary's.
Jan. 23—Loyola.
Jan. 30—St. Joseph's.
Feb. 6—St. John's.
Feb. 13—University of Maryland.
Feb. 13—Hopkins.
Feb. 16—Swarthmore.
Feb. 19—Mt. St. Mary's.
Feb. 27—Johns Hopkins.
Mar. 5—W. Maryland.
Mar. 12—Alumna.

It was also "given the gate" at the last moment, when insufficient applicants for the teams arrived.

Miss Doris Ball was to have supervised this contest.

Probably no sport on the campus in recent years has excited more interest than the female contingent from archery. There seems to be a fascination to the hollow-tongued of the "stout eye" boys, and the third of arrows hitting into red targets.

A sudden hush fell upon the crowd. The orchestra stopped playing and even the usual melody of laughing and chatting died away. President Hays, the pride of the FRESHMEN, advanced up the floor, greeted by an avalanche of applause. In his hands he carried a silver loving-cup.

Triumph that his classmen had battled for and lost in the football game that afternoon. It was the FRESHMAN Sophomore cup, a thing of beauty and probably a joy forever to the winner. He addressed a few words to the audience, and with true FRESHMAN sportsmanship congratulated the Sophomores on their victory. Gamber stepped forth to receive the cup from the Sophomores, and just another "use of 'to the victor goes the spoils'" was observed.

It was a sad, sad moment for the FRESHMEN to see this cup literally taken out of their hands. However proud their chagrin, they raised a lusty cheer for the Sophs. (It may be said that there was a conspicuous absence of that species of cheer commonly called the "Bren's").

In moments like this the state distinction of being a Sophomore or a FRESHMAN is almost lost. The hereditary differences are temporarily forgotten. It is something night in the "Bren's" meeting, except that the case deals with not the East and the West, but the West and the "Middle."

Would that that silver cup could have been filled with such choice vintage and that those two classes might have pledged their love for each other.

All too soon are these occasions forgotten, and the Sophomores are again providing occupation for the Vigilance Committee.

Football Eleven Achieves Goal

Having started the season in a winning spirit, the football team decided to win either one way or another. Since they lost the first game it was unanimously decided by all to cast their vote for the negative. This idea originated from the fact that no other team in the country could then compare with our own, which would have two perfect seasons at this one's close. In other words we have lost all but one game, which was a tie, in the last two years.

Quite a few times during the past season many of our beautiful rosters were afraid we might forget ourselves and defeat our rivals. In an emergency of this sort the water boy would be sent in to quiet us down. In "sotto" voice he would say, "Fumble, fumble to tackle, and drop all passes near you. Don't ever knock a pass down when about to be caught by an opponent." It was remarkable how our team straightened out after this sage bit of advice. At the times when the stupid opposing ball carrier ran into us with the ball we could at last resort to "tackling" tactics and thus win the praise and good will of our coaches.

Now that your funny bone has been tickled sufficiently let us seriously consider the past season in view of the fact that a new coach and system has been installed and many of the stars were injured during the season, Washington College has not fared so badly. It must be admitted that some of the games were loosely played but to counterbalance that we won more victories over some of our strongest rivals, notably, University of Maryland and Johns Hopkins University.

The prospect of a good season in the next two years is being predicted by many of the football wise. We will, however, miss the playing of these seniors: Captain Howard Plummer, Oliver Robinson, Albert Baker, and Deacon Carey, who gave many good performances during the past year.

Keeping our fingers to the front and our eyes on the future we say "revolt" until next year.

Work On New Field Progressing Rapidly

The operations connected with the construction of the new athletic field are proving very interesting. The first year the new site was more than a month ago, when trees were seen to widely barren and finally succumb to the force of the tractor pulling them down.

St. Josephs Wins Final Game

Washington suffered defeat at the hands of St. Josephs in their final game of the season last Saturday by the score of 20 to 0. At times Washington met a team that distinctly outweighed them in this game and although they played a hard, stubborn game, were overcome. St. Josephs played his first game and playing his best game of the season, displayed an ability that should prove threatening to next year's focus. Gamber played his usual constant brand of ball, with Dobkins and Dickerson ranking with him. The game was massed by numerous fumbles. Washington's best chance to score was snatched when Johnson, after receiving a pass from Gamber, was caught by three opposing players. Given a direct break Washington could undoubtedly have made a very creditable showing, but it has often been found impossible to beat both the opposing team and the referee.

The lineup and summary: St. Joseph's Washington
Stern left end Flanagan
Merrill left tackle Lord
McNichol left guard Nicholson
Albom center Groschwitz
Linnigh right guard Dickerson
Conklin right tackle Blissard
Kane right end Johnson
C. Morris quarterback Robinson
Robb left halfback Dobkins
McNabb right halfback Dobkins
Walker fullback Grisalis
Referee—J. Morris. Umpire—Phillips. Head linesman—J. J. Lewis. Time of minutes—51 minutes.

St. Joseph's 6 7 0 7—20
Washington 0 0 0 0—0

Touchdowns—Walker, Kane, McNabb. Goals after touchdown—Zurhorst (5)—C. Morris (placement kick). Substitutions—St. Joseph's: Doberty for C. Morris, Zuber for Albom, Plummer for Linnigh, Leone for McNabb, Lyons for Stern. Lee Morris for Morrow, Slivka for Conklin, Becker for Dobkins, Kaufman for McNabb, C. Morris for Leone, Albom for Kaufman, Beger for J. Morris, Slivka for Slivka, C. Morris for Zuber, McNabb for Campbell, Linnigh for Fues, Riley for Dowd, Barella for C. Morris, Clark for Linnigh, Morrow for Kane, Doberty for McNabb, Becker for Beger. Washington: Beger for Gamber, Gamber for Baker, Baker for Usilton, Knoff for Dobkins, Williams for Blissard, Hall for Gamber, Cary for Nicholson, MacKenzie for Dickerson.

CHRISTMAS RECESS

On Friday December 18, at 5:15 P. M., the college will adjourn for the annual Christmas recess. On Monday, January 4, at 8:00 A. M., the Christmas vacation comes to a close.

NEW 700 ROOM CLUB HOTEL

Transient Rates $1.50 per day up with bath 52 up

Club life, restaurant, free swimming pool, gym, library, special tennis courts, roof garden, separate rooms for men and women

Six minutes from Penn or Grand Central

George Turkel Mgr.

KENMORE HALL
145 East 23rd St. New York City
Just East of Lexington Ave.
GRamercy 5-3840

$8 to $14 weekly

Bard Sings of a Long And Bitter Life

Sing, muses, of that tribe of men who are in the first stages of learning—yes even they who wear the green headgear and are at continual variance and strife with their masters. For though they are greater in numbers and strength than their rulers, even so they are always the conquered and oppressed.

For as long as even Nestor, son of Nereus can remember, the conflict has been exceeding hot between the two sides. The Sophomores hold the Freshmen in continual bondage and servitude, and levy great tribute. They have courts of law in which they try the cases of the wrong-doers. They cause their inferiors to travel great distances—yes, even to the heart of Chestertown in quest of food and drink. And with the tribute money they feast and make merry, and live well at the expense of the Freshman tribe. Even when they win a great battle, they have a dance in honor of the event.

Even so the Freshmen do not submit willingly to the leadership of their superiors. Several times in the course of a year does their bitterness break forth in bold rebellion against the lordly sophomores. Then indeed do they find opportunity to give vent to pent-up dislike. In the matter of weapons they are exceedingly versatile and can fight with anything. History records that they have been known to fight with mud, or a football, or even with signs and posters. The Sophomores retaliate by making raids in the dark of night, armed with wooden earbashed spears. First one side wins, then the other, so the fates keep the issue in the balance.

Such are the existing conditions between the two rival factions. Long have they existed, and long will they continue to exist. For only when the subjects overthrow the power of their lords will the oppression and conflict cease.

The Chestertown
Bank of Maryland
Bank of Service

Branches at
Galena, Kennedyville,
Betterson

Main Branch
Chestertown, Maryland
4% On Savings 4%

JUST UP THE ROAD AT
SCHAUBER'S

For Delicious
ICE CREAM, MILK,
CAKES, SANDWICHES,
CANDIES, DRINKS and
TOBACCO of all kinds

Phone 330

Darts And Dodges

We wonder if the Utopian college will appeal to the apparent geometrical precision of the student's mind by having walks which are the short-cut distance between two points. If such was the case the burden of the grasscutter would be considerably increased.

Perhaps the Lombardy poplars near the heating plant are aware of the proximity of warmth. Compare their defoliation to that of other trees of the same species and you will find it to be considerably less.

When a man forgets, he loses that which was the lightest, the most complex, first. It is thus with trees, for their highest leaves, those which required the greatest effort to sprout, fall first when Persephone returns to the realms of Pluto.

We are thinking of writing a treatise on "How Many Miles The Average Freshman Walks Per Day." The "footwork" of the Greeks at Marathon has a modern competitor for activity. Some scientists inform us that in a century or two the physiological appendage called the foot will have become useless, but we believe that these gentlemen attended a college without sophomores.

If we were gifted with a little more courage we would quote the accepted etymology of sophomore. We may rue with impunity, however, that the first syllable of the word comes from the Greek term for "wise." The latter part of the word has a much different connotation.

Our position when we criticize things with which we are little in contact is comparable to the words of G. B. S. in reference to Soviet Russia. An American writer replied to his praise of Bolshev—by saying that "Sovietism is an excellent condition if one is a wealthy playright living in England." We faintly, though not very faintly, recall having various "Shavian" criticisms recorded on our auditory membranes from time to time. Let them expire with the same feeling of willingness that you witness the expiration of this activity.

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store

Where Your Dollar

Has More Cents

Alter A Studios Day

Relax at

JIM'S and HICK'S

Billiard Parlor

ALBERT L. WHEAT

"The Young Men's Shop"
Chestertown, Maryland

CLOTHING

SHOES

HABERDASHERY

Compliments

Students Will Find Our

Store a Very Desirable

Place To Visit

TOULSON'S

Drug Store

Phones—26 and 311

GILL BROS. ICE CREAM

Assorted Blocks

Dainties

Fresh Milk Daily

ROBINSON and JOHNSON

Daily 10 to 11 P. M.

Alumni Notes

Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, of Chestertown, announce the marriage of their daughter, Margaret Ellisor, to Louis Knox, of Towson, Maryland, on Thanksgiving day. Mr. Knox graduated with honor from Washington College with the class of 1931. Since that time he has taught at Sparrows Point High School. He is tendered congratulations by his host of friends at the college. After January 1, Mr. and Mrs. Knox will reside in Dundalk.

Mr. William Uilton, '28, has been transferred by the Radio-Keith-Orpheum, his employers, to the Toledo office, where he will occupy the management. Mr. Uilton has been inducted into a position of considerable responsibility, and is to be congratulated on his advance. While at Washington he distinguished himself as an athlete, and he won especial laurels in the field of basketball.

A Special Lace To-The-Toe Athletic Keds for Women's Gym Work.

Harry F. Jefferson

DROP IN
AND LET US SHOW YOU
OUR FULL LINE OF
VICTROLAS - RADIOS
AND FURNITURE
THE LATEST IN MUSIC
AND RECORDS
W. P. NEWNAM
CHESTERTOWN, MD.

ADVERTISE IN THE ELM

QUALITY SPORTING GOODS

Catalog on Request

McCallisters

Est. 1894
124 W. Baltimore St.
Baltimore, Maryland

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE

306 Park Row

MAKES YOUR BEAUTY SCINTILLATE

For the coming-out party, the "frat" dance, the formal dinner or the ball of balls.

Our Beautician's many years of experience as a beauty adviser have taught her the "finishing touches" that emphasize beauty by concealing every blemish that might otherwise mar the loveliness that every fastidious woman covets.

Join the many of the Park Row Beauty Shoppe's large clientele. Our coliffures are always stylish becoming, and our facial and make-up treatments not only tone the skin for the newest colors but also accentuate one's best features.

Phone 334

By Appointment

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students
Offers Complete Line of Conklin and Wahl Pens and Pencils. Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationary,
And School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

DEL-MAR-VA RESTAURANT

— FOR —

AFTER DANCE LUNCHEONS
AND REGULAR MEALS

Society Notes

Alpha Kappa

Walt Korigin, '32, spent last week end at his home in Washington, D. C., where he entertained many of his friends with a number of piano selections.

Dick Gansher, '34, claims his popularity with the ladies is due to his perseverance and their sympathies for his numerous black eyes.

The "A. K." boys showed their gentility toward Oliver Robinson during his recent illness by giving a tea-party in his honor. Speeches, songs, and recitations were in the program, which was very entertaining—so they say.

Phi Sigma Phi

Bill Richards recently had the misfortune to suffer a badly bruised elbow while he was enjoying horseback riding, his favorite pastime. We all wish him a timely recovery.

Phi Sigma Tau

Joe Dickinson took a vacation from his labors, and spent a day hunting at his home. He caused the demise of a rabbit and several squirrels and returned with his old "fighting" smile.

A number of Freshmen were entertained by the Phi Sigma Tau. Ping-pong tournaments were held in connection with many other jolly events.

Campus Capers

Charles Sykes attended the Washington-St. Joseph game in Philadelphia last Saturday.

Kitty Bishop spent the week end at her home.

DeWitt Clarke was called home due to the serious illness of his mother.

"Fritz" Reinhold, recuperating from football injuries, spent the week end with his family in Baltimore.

Miss Ann Brown spent the week end visiting with relatives in Baltimore.

John Lord, Harold Blumert, and Bill Greenish remained in Philadelphia after the football game and attended the theatre.

Dick Cooper spent the week end in Baltimore as the guest of Miss Jane Miles in Guilford, attending the Poly-City game and the victory dance at the Belvedere Hotel.

The Y. W. C. A. had, according to all reports, a most delightful time at a tea held by that organization, in Reid Hall on Sunday evening, Nov. 29th.

A number of students visited at their homes on the week end following Thanksgiving. Elroy Ward was among this number.

Writing Club May

Be Organized Here

A number of enterprising and literary students have considered the formation of a writing club under the direction of Dean Margaret Brewer. A group of students much interested in literary expression has already met in Dean Brewer's suite in Reid Hall to discuss the possibilities of the situation.

The purpose of the organization would be to promote facility in writing and to exchange ideas of a general nature among the members.

Plans for the publication of the best efforts of the members of the writing club have also been discussed. It is possible that this publication may take the form of a quarterly paper.

Much Wild Life Found On Campus

It is indeed surprising to note the abundance of natural life to be observed on an area of approximately fifteen acres. Such an area is contained in the campus of Washington College. An abundance of flora and fauna of interest to a naturalist may be observed at nearly any season of the year on, or immediately adjacent to, the campus of Washington College.

Writing first of the fauna found on the campus, it is noted that bird life is necessarily the most common type of animate object existing there. On a damp, warm night one may, however, detect traces of the odor of a common skunk, or polecat, down on the campus near the beating plant. This well-weaponed animal is probably digging peculiar conical holes in the lower campus on the recent lot across the road. When you see a herring so symmetrical as to suggest machine work you will probably be looking at a work of the skunk. Out on the athletic field in those reaches where the grass is matted and uncut, tiny shrews, and pine mice, and a host of other species, hold carnival each night. In a deserted sand pile, who knows but that the blacksnakes, emerging from their winter's hibernation, have buried their four or five elliptical eggs therein?

In the fall and winter one sees flocks of fluffy, short, black-looking birds covering the campus by successive yobs of flight like those described by Homer. These birds are not the so-called blackbird, but are the European Starling. One who is privileged to examine a male of this species closely will find to his delight that the color is not black, but a multitude of metallic, iridescent hues. The starling frequently destroys the cavity-home of the bluebirds one may see hunting for holes in the environs of the athletic field. Perhaps the reason that the bluebirds, which must not be mistaken for the Indigo Bunting (which lacks the rusty breast of the bluebird, and is blue all over) do not nest in the cavities of the old ivy-covered tree in front of the gymnasium is because a tiny gray owl was once found sitting in the thicker foliage of the vines, by a group of students. This little owl is the screech owl, and undoubtedly has a home in some deep limb-cavern.

The flora of the campus is not as varied as the living objects, but many beautiful trees offer an opportunity for study.

Only a little of the interesting natural life of the campus has been mentioned in this limited space and it is nice to know that one can see around him here many of God's creatures of the outdoors.

READ THE ELM

"I liked Chesterfield right from the start"

"No, I don't know a blessed thing about how cigarettes are made. But, of course, I would want the tobacco to be PURE. And then I've heard that the blending is very important. I'd want that to be done just right.

"Then the paper. I don't like paper that you can taste—or smell when it's burning. I'd want that pure too.

"Another thing. I want to smoke whenever I feel like it—without worrying about smoking too many. So I want my cigarettes MILD.

"But the main thing, of course, is TASTE. I don't care for over-sweetened cigarettes. I much prefer those that are just sweet enough.

"Chesterfield seems to satisfy in every one of these ways. That is why I'd rather have a Chesterfield."

SMOKERS tire of too much sweetness in a cigarette, and they don't like rascals. For a steady draw, they want a cigarette like CHESTERFIELD—a mild and mid-low smoke, free from any over-sweetness or any harshness or bitterness. That's why more and more smokers every day are changing to CHESTERFIELD.

Good... they've got to be good.

VOL. XXXI. NO. 6.

SATURDAY, JAN. 16, 1932

PRICE TEN CENTS

Shakespeare Class Plans To Offer Romeo And Juliet

Elaborate Costumes And Masque Included

"Romeo and Juliet" Shakespeare's immortal drama of love and death, will be presented in William Smith Hall on Friday, January 22nd, by the Shakespeare class of Washington College under the direction of Dr. Gertrude Van Ardrie Ingals. This performance of a Shakespearean play will mark the first within a period of at least five years. Work has been progressing on the play since the first week of December under the direction of Dr. Ingals.

The settings and the furnishings of the stage as well as the elaborate costumes are all in the Elizabethan tradition. They have been secured from A. T. Jones & Sons, of Baltimore, Md.

An abstraction of the first act is a square dance, a minuet, in which the couples have been trained by Miss Doris Bell, Instructor of Physical Education for Women at Washington College. The dance takes place during the party scene at the Capulet household.

This play has been selected by the class because it is one of the easiest and simplest, as well as one of the most popular, of Shakespearean dramas.

The cast is as follows:
Prologue—Miss Mildred Covey.
Escalus, Prince of Verona—Mr. William Richards.

Montague, a Nobleman of Verona—Mr. J. B. Williams.

Capulet, a Nobleman of Verona, at variance with Montague—Mr. J. Warren Carey.

Paris, young Nobleman—Miss Eleanor Titoworth.

Romeo, Son to Montague—Miss Gladys Connell.

Mercutio, friend to Romeo—Mr. Albert Dowling.

Benvolio, friend to Romeo—Mr. Roland Reedy.

Tybalt, Nephew to Lady Capulet—Mr. J. B. Dickerson.

Friar Laurence, a Franciscan—Mr. W. A. Branford.

Friar John, of the same Order—Miss Evelyn Walbert.

Balthasar, Servant to Romeo—Miss Roseline Scotten.

Sampson, Servant to Capulet—Miss Anna Kreeger.

Gregory, Servant to Capulet—Miss Ada Stutz.

Peter, Servant to Juliet's Nurse—Mr. Roland Bailey.

Abraham, Servant to Montague—Miss Thida Ryan.

Page to Mercutio—Miss Frances Kreeger.

An Apothecary—Mr. W. A. Branford.

Attendants on the Prince—Miss Mildred Covey, Miss Evelyn Walbert.

The Watch—Mr. J. B. Dickerson.

Lady Montague, Wife to Montague—Miss Theodora Chapman.

Lady Capulet, Wife to Capulet—Miss Janet Arwater.

Juliet, Daughter to Capulet—Miss Emily Leach.

Nurse to Juliet—Miss Alice Dole.

TO STAGE SHAKESPEARE

Dr. Gertrude Ingals

Dr. Gertrude Ingals is now training her Shakespeare class for the production of "Romeo and Juliet."

Swepton Earle To Speak At Assembly

Mr. Swepton Earle, head of the Maryland State Conservation Commission, will be the Chapel speaker for Thursday, January 21st.

Mr. Earle is the author of an interesting book, "Tide Water Maryland," an autographed copy of which he presented to the college library last year.

Mr. Earle has been very successful as head of the Conservation Commission and should be an able speaker.

Chance To Confer With Babson Man

Students interested in Babson Institute, the school that gives an intensive training in the fundamental laws of business, may meet Mr. W. R. Mattson, Assistant to the President, on Thursday afternoon, January 21, and during the day and evening of Friday, January 22, at appointment at the Raleigh Hotel, Pennsylvania Avenue and 12th Street, Washington, D. C.

Comedy Presented

Washington Players Stage Adam And Eva

The Washington College Players, under the direction of Professor John D. Makosky, presented "Adam and Eva," a three-act comedy by Guy Bolton and George Middleton, on Friday evening, January 15th in William Smith Hall.

The play begins when Mr. King played by Robert Furrman, discovers that the family is attempting to get rid of him for a few months. He starts them by going off on his own, and by leaving as their temporary father his business manager, Adam Smith, played by Lindsey Cook. He becomes disgusted with the family and in an attempt to cure them of their extravagance tells them their money is entirely gone. The whole family finally determine to succeed by their own work and adventure into farming, and other jobs. Mr. King returns to find them successful and happy.

Memorial Service For Dr. E. L. Fox

On Thursday, Jan. 14, a memorial service was held in William Smith Hall in memory of Dr. Errol L. Fox, late department head of Chemistry, who died in Munich, Germany, on July 17, 1931.

Dr. Titoworth made the opening remarks, followed by Prof. Makosky who delivered a short address on "Dr. Fox as a Faculty Member."

Oliver Robinson, Albert Baker and William Dannenberg, of the student body; Tom Kibler, of the American Legion; W. R. Huey, of the Masonic Lodge and Rev. J. H. Wright, of the M. E. Church, paid tributes to the various works of the deceased faculty member.

DIRECTS ADAM AND EVA

Prof. John D. Makosky

The first play of the Washington College Players, "Adam and Eva," was directed by Prof. Makosky.

Hampton Singers Here On Feb. 27

The Hampton Institute Quartette which was so enthusiastically received at Washington College three years ago has been secured for a return engagement on Saturday evening, Feb. 27th.

Because of the conflicting schedules these singers are unable to appear during the weekly assembly of the student body. It is not known as yet if performance will be charged for the admission.

Blue Key Group Fetes New Members

The Silver Pentagon Chapter of the Blue Key Fraternity was addressed at its meeting Friday, Jan. 8th by Dr. Paul E. Titoworth on the subject of the celebration of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Washington College.

During the course of his speech Dr. Titoworth suggested that the Blue Key organize and formulate plans to assist in every way possible.

Washington Five Beaten, 32-22 By Hopkins' Quintet

D. Kelly Leads Way For Victors

Through the courtesy of "The Washington Elm" the score of the Washington-Mt. St. Mary's game will be announced at the usual Saturday evening "feelin'."

(Special To The Elm)

BALTIMORE—Hopkins, or rather young Don Kelly, defeated Washington College at basketball in the Loyola gymnasium here last night by a score of 32 to 22 and administered the worst licking that a Washington cage team has taken from a State University since the end of the World War. By tallying 21 of his team's total this same Kelly, the younger half of a brother-set, featured by Hopkins, estimated himself as one of the Free State's leading court stars.

Washington was never in the running last night. Putting up a sorry exhibition, lacking fight and dash, they led for less than one minute at the start of the contest when Huey's (and) goal was the opening score of the game. Hopkins soon went into the lead when Caleb Kelly sank a two-point shot, and then on Washington's view was always from the hind side.

The Washington five, or thirteen, for Tom Kibler used that many players in an attempt to find a combination that the Board of Health wouldn't rule a public nuisance, put in its poorest exhibition of the year when it needed its best. Hopkins represented by a well-mixed and cool-playing crew of cagers.

Of all the Washington players to get a chance only one, Elmer Ward, freshman from Allegheny High, Cumberland, showed anything worthy of praise. Ward played well and hard.

The Shoremen moved on to Emmetsburg today for a game with Mt. St. Mary's tonight. And unless there is almost a miracle, the night change there will be more over-whelming, additional walling and an over-abundance of gnashing teeth in the Washington camp again tonight.

Washington	G	F	T
Jrualds	1	0	1
Proffoot	1	0	1
Rasin	1	0	1
Carozza	0	0	1
Dubkins	0	0	1
Fitzgerald	1	0	0
Robinson	0	2	4
Huey	0	1	1
Ward	0	2	1
Totals	7	8	22

Hopkins G | F | T |

Kelly 0 | 0 | 1 |

Siegel 1 | 0 | 1 |

D. Kelly 7 | 7 | 21 |

Russell 1 | 0 | 2 |

Word 1 | 1 | 1 |

Totals 12 | 8 | 22 |

Score by Halves:

Hopkins 19 | 13 | 32 |

Washington 11 | 11 | 22 |

Non-starting players—Washington:

MacKenzie, Johnson, McLain, Gamber, Hopkins: Chancellor, Brooke, Silverman.

Referee—Mr. Neun.

Umpire—Mr. Wright.

Mid-Year Examination Schedule For 1932

TUESDAY, JANUARY 26, 1932

7 P. M.—8 P. M.

Music 1 Auditorium

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 27, 1932

9 A. M.—12 M.

Biology 6 Room 11

Education 3 Room 22

German 1 Rooms 25 and 26

Government 26 Room 24

Spanish 1 Room 21

1:30 P. M.—4:30 P. M.

Chemistry 5 Room 36

History 2 Room 21

Physics 7 and 9 Room 24

Unified Science Rooms 25 and 26

THURSDAY, JANUARY 28, 1932

9 A. M.—12 M.

Alt 1 Room 11

Chemistry 7 Room 36

Economics 1 Room 21

German 9 Room 24

Mathematics 1 (Dr. Jones) Room 25

Philosophy 1 Room 20

Unified Mathematics Room 26

1:30 P. M.—4:30 P. M.

English 3 (Dr. Ingals) Rooms 24 and 26

English 3 (Prof. Brewer) Room 26

French 1 Room 10

Psychology 1 Room 21

Sociology 21 Room 21

FRIDAY, JANUARY 28, 1932

9 A. M.—12 M.

Economics 3 Room 26

Education 1 Room 11

English 1a Rooms 24 and 26

English 1b and 1c Room 25

English 1d Room 16

Government 21 Room 21

Mathematics 9 Room 36

1:30 P. M.—4:30 P. M.

Mathematics 1 (Prof. Ford) Room 21

Economics 6 Room 26

French 5 (Prof. Ford) Room 21

Government 29 Room 11

Latin A Room 24

Mathematics 1 (Prof. Coop) Room 25

Mathematics 3 Room 26

SATURDAY, JANUARY 30, 1932

9 A. M.—12 M.

English 5 Room 11

French 5 (Prof. Scland) Room 24

History 1 Rooms 21 and 25

Mathematics 5 Room 26

Spanish 3 and 6 Room 10

1:30 P. M.—4:30 P. M.

Economics 15 Room 26

English 23 Room 24

Room 21 French 7 Room 21

Room 26 German 3 Room 26

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1932

9 A. M.—12 M.

Economics 11 Room 20

Education 25 Room 22

French 3 Room 25

Mathematics 7 Room 21

1:30 P. M.—4:30 P. M.

Biology 1 Room 21

Chemistry 1 and 3 Rooms 25 and 26

English 11b Room 24

Latin 1 Room 22

Physics 1 and 3 Room 35

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1932

9 A. M.—12 M.

Biology 3 Room 24

College Adjustment (Prof. Goodwin) Room 21

College Adjustment (Prof. Goodwin) Room 25

English 17 Room 26

1:30 P. M.—4:30 P. M.

Latin 3 Room 24

Report all conflicts to the Registrar.

No changes in this schedule will be permitted without the consent of the Registrar.

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

Editor IRVING S. ROSS
Assistant Editor Phillip Wingate
Literary Editor William H. Danneberg
Alumni Editor A. E. Howard
Society Editor W. M. C. Richards

REPORTERS

Mildred Covey, Roland C. Ready, John Stankiewicz, Joseph H. Freedman, William Chase, James T. Anthony, Michael Wallace, Albert P. Gerald, John A. Wagner, E. Clarke Fontaine, Jr., Charles Clarke.

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

DeWitt F. Clark, Edward P. Fitzgerald, Paul Pippin
SOKORITY REPRESENTATIVES
Elizabeth Cooper, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager JOHN J. LUDDY
Assistant Business Manager Joseph B. Dickerson
Circulation Manager Edwin T. Coulbourn

ASSISTANTS

Louis I. Goldstein, Scott Beck, Jr.

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, JAN. 16, 1932

EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

There is a certain view prevalent, although not widely discussed, among the student body that, unlike so many views held in common by the other group of people, is correct. It is that there are too many extra-curricular activities at Washington for the size of the college.

By using THE 1931 PEGASUS as our authority and by supplying the rest from our own knowledge we have estimated that there are approximately some thirty-six organizations on the hill. Now some of these organizations are necessarily limited to either men or women and some, such as fraternities and sororities, imply that one can belong to only one. However, the wholesale enrollment of the literary societies amply counterbalances this.

A rather futile attempt to estimate the number of hours spent on these activities in an average week produced the very approximate figure of fifty hours.

Now whether these figures mean anything or not it is apparent to any student with the slightest bit of intelligence that our extra-curricular activities have become burdensome and, in some cases, both futile and senseless. Every student has the reasons at his finger tips. There are too few that want to participate and not many more that are capable. With this comes the element of time. This one activity encroaches upon the time and talent of the other and the unpleasant result is that very few are worth the name.

We haven't the temerity to suggest what organizations should be doomed to oblivion or, at least, consolidation, for the wrath of the disciples of the various groups would be, we are afraid, too much for us. Such a decision should come from some such deliberative body as the Dean's Cabinet (where it has already been discussed) or The Student Council. The action should come from the student body.

We only hope that this will serve as an incentive and that leaders of it will release ourselves from the great American craze for organization; to say nothing of the great small college fallacy—imitation of the university.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

The present trend towards intramural sports which has been shown about the campus here by the organization of dormitory and fraternity basketball teams, and by additions to the athletic field is one that is headed in the right direction.

Besides the very obvious benefits of a more rational athletic program implying, as it does, a less one-sided student body, it brings a problem peculiar to Washington College to a more logical solution. There is a doubt even in the most faithful of rosters' minds that this college could ever compete on an even basis with colleges and universities of a larger size. In basketball, we might, but the refusal of games is an obstacle that we would have to face. If we should ever go so low as to subsidize athletics in any way these larger schools, with their wealthy alumni and their greater resources, would simply trounce us at that game as easily as they have trounced us on the gridiron.

So instead of following complacently in the somewhat contaminated footsteps of those institutions that do take their intercollegiate athletics seriously, we should rather pattern ourselves after the more advanced universities that are now devoting more money and time for the development of athletics for the common herd.

This, as we have intimated, is what we are doing. Our coaches and administrators should certainly be complimented and loyally supported.

Book Reviews

"IMPERIAL PALACE"

Arnold Bennett

Arnold Bennett's last book "Imperial Palace" adds very little, if anything to our literature. It is a story of a man—a very human man, told, with all the humor, pathos and idiosyncrasies of the average individual. The plot is very trivial—a charming girl attracts the attention of the hotel director. The entire book is supposed to hold the reader in suspense, as to when the director will marry. In the end, however, our hero marries the housekeeper. The one redeeming quality of the book is Bennett's artistic portrayal of the hotel. He gives it a breath of life, a certain vitality that clearly defines the "Imperial Palace" as a personality. It is a huge machine, cut-glass to the facades of the public, sucking in the lives of its employees, or it is a separate planet, with its own government, industries, and politics. The book is intensely English and Bennett does not hesitate to insult foreigners. To him America is a land where law is disregarded entirely, and Italy a country of insurgents.

The book offers no beautiful passages, no stimulating thoughts, on the whole it is decidedly insignificant. It is well perhaps that Bennett once stated, in an autobiographical account, that he never expected his books to be remembered.

SOME OF THE BOOKS ADDED TO THE LIBRARY RECENTLY

Vehle—Theory of the Leisure Class.
Judge Halsted L. Ritter—Washington As A Business Man.
Stoddard—Financial Racekicking.
Rogers—America Weighs Her Colours.
Modern Lyrics by Kate L. Dickinson.
Dreiser—Dawn.
Miller—Taming of a Hard-Boiled Teacher to His Half-Baked Son.
Giles—Twisting the Criminal.
Kirkup and Pease—A Prisoner of Socialism.
Paul Heyne, Gossenswelle-Novellen.
Caldiss—The Advertising Man.
Jim James Jones—The Stars in Their Courses.
J. L. Lovess—Road to Zanadu.
Ramsey—The Foundations of Mathematics.
H. S. Williams—The Weak Astronomers.
Burns, Delisle—Modern Civilization on Trial.
Mearns—Creative Youth.
Finkbein and White—Why Men Fail.
Colton—The XYZ of Communism.
Thompson—The Fiery Epoch.

The Best Of
EVERYTHING
Needed
FOR BUILDING
E. S. Adkins & Co.

Chestertown, Centreville
Easton, Salisbury

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning—Pressing
Repairing
103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

INTERCOLLEGIATE

Beer Is Innocent, Healthful

Yandell Henderson, professor of physiology at Yale, said, in pleading for the restoration of 4 per cent beer before the Senate Manufacturers Committee, "Beer is a normal, healthy outlet for natural energy. There's nothing more innocent, nothing more healthful for students than to sit down of an evening to sing songs and drink beer."

—University Hatchel.

Classes are dismissed, we learn from "The Farthest North" College, "All Alaska out of Minsk, when a fire breaks out near the college. How would that do to New York?"

The "Holly Leaf" a sharp little paper from Salisbury, Md., State Normal School (girls) contains two interesting columns: "Cupid Pays a Visit," and "Cupid Calls Again," which list in a formal way recent marriages of graduates of the school.

In his weekly column, WISE-CRACKER, the "cracker" at St. Johns College says: "Talking about hang-overs, Wisecracker took a drink of water this morning and it sloshed him in the face like the long end of a rake handle. Did you ever hear of a potent rank handle? Yes indeed, we say, and once more Amaphis is so far, not the only place where they are found."

George Washington University's Inter-Fraternity Council has laid plans for a Dollar Dance.

Congratulations from the ELM Temple University News, on the 20th anniversary of your paper.

University of Maryland will have two weeks set aside for the mid-semester Examinations, rather than the customary one week period.

Did you know that: Football was originated by the Greeks in Sparta in 500, B. C. T—Temple University News.

The Inter-Fraternity Council at the U. of M., recently completed plans for three annual social events: The Inter-Fraternity Ball, the Banquet, and the Tea Dance. A mighty brilliant idea we should think, since it is bound to produce a better feeling between the several fraternities, not to speak of the diminished cost per person, which is all important.

Compliments

o i

Chestertown

Electric Light and Power

Company

Try the new style Drinks

KAY WOODIE

Initials Extra

UNITED CIGAR STORES

Sales—Agency

SLIPPERY ELM

In hasting for old Slippery Elm this week we feel that there is very little to offer in the way of news this year for this fall before the exam storm has seemed to soothe over the campus problems.

With the basketball team touring in wins, the Dramatic club producing and the seniors beginning to get wild-eyed over the search for jobs this year seems to be taking its course in about the same manner as the rest with the exception that George—with a thoughtfulness of his that we are thankful for—gave those juniors of his exactly one hundred and fifty years ago. Darned sporting, wasn't it?

Just to steal a bit from our next door neighbor, Intercollegiate, we quote:

"Mr. Robert Thomas, instructor in saxophone, clarinet and violin, tells us that the saxophone quartet has begun practice. We expect much from this organization."

That's not news that's a warning!

To use McIntyre's form—Seen while strolling—The warm weather has brought the couples out of Reid Hall once again. Bill Smith's face always looks washed—as though ready for school—after the rains. We don't mean the picture for—sorrowful of all sorrows—the old gentleman's nose always did look suspiciously red to us; but the building which with its windows and door ways seems like a complaint face, did you ever know how and why the bookcase marks got on the flag pole? And who put them there? And incidentally we are looking forward to the Mr. St. Mary's game for a couple of reasons. And then we are the last class to have our numerals on the gateway. What one of the white benches on the Reid Hall lawn occupied—this weather again and here we are at the end of our space!

Students Of
Washington College
A Safe Place To Deal
THE STAM DRUG CO.
Everything in Drugs

Prescriptions Filled by Registered Pharmacists
Only

A Full Line of
School Supplies
Whitman's Candy
Cigars and Tobacco

THE REXAL STORE
EASTMAN KODAKS
FILMS
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING
BY EXPERTS

DRUGS and
SUNDRIES
Of All Kinds
A. L. STERLING

Flying Pentagon Meets Mt. St. Marys

Close Game Expected To Be Played

The Flying Pentagon meets Mt. St. Mary's tonight at Emmitsburg in its second state game of the season and the first game of a home and home series between the Jesuits and the local cagers. This game will be of vital importance to the Flying Pentagon as a single loss to a state team may mean the difference between winning or failing to win the State championship which Coach Kibler's pupils dropped last year by a narrow margin after a five year's lease of the coveted title.

This game should be rated practically a toss up as the Mounts have a powerful quint, lead by Captain Joe Lynch, one of the most feared cagers in the state. The Jesuits always have a particularly strong defensive team and the Washington dribblers will need all their skill if they wish to bombard the Mount basket with any degree of success. Last year Mt. St. Mary's held the Flying Pentagon to its lowest score of the season.

However, those who have observed Coach Kibler's pupils during the last week expect the Flying Pentagon to find a victory. With Grissitt, Proudfoot and Huey back in shape to play, Washington will have its full strength on hand and this means that there here will be set to play some real basketball.

Coach Kibler has been sending members of the Flying Pentagon through rather stiff workouts for the past week and has stressed a passing, cutting style of play, which aims to control the ball and to close in shut at the basket is obtained.

Raymond Wins Match

The victory in the boxing match between "Kid" Hopkins and "Bat"ting" Raymond held in the college gymnasium Dec. 12th went by a decision to Raymond after four rounds of fast fighting.

Keds

A Special Lace To-The-Toe Athletic Keds for Womens' Gym Work.

Harry F. Jefferson

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149

C. W. Kibler & Sons

Chestertown, Maryland

PAUL and SAM

Quality and

SHOE REPAIRING

Next To Sterlings Drug Store

Chestertown, Maryland

RIDER COLLEGE BOWS IN CLOSE GAME

Fitzgerald Leads Pentagon Attack

Washington College won its second straight game of the current season when it earned a close victory over Rider College, of Trenton, N. J., Thursday night, December 15, at the local gymnasium. The game was one of many thrills, and only a late rally in the second half won for the Flying Pentagon.

The Rider marksmen opened with a rush, detailed the Washington College dribblers with accurate passing and fine floor work, and stepped away to an 11 to 6 lead. Washington never was ahead in the first half, but Fitzgerald's goal as the half ended brought the count to 11 all.

The second half was a battle of point for point. Neither team gained more than a two point lead until the game was nearly ended. At this time, Proudfoot and Fitzgerald, who was the leading scorer, tallied double deckers and Carozza made good a penalty shot to give the Flying Pentagon a fivepoint lead. A third spectacular shot by Bass of the visitors, however, ended the game with Washington the victors by 27 to 24.

The lineup and summary:

	G	F	T
Grissitt, f	0	3-4	3
Proudfoot, f	2	0-0	4
Carozza, f	1	1-3	3
Fitzgerald, c	2	6-9	9
Robinson, g	2	1-2	5
Huey, g	1	1-2	3
Totals	8	11	27

	G	F	T
Rider College	1	1-1	3
Reichard, f	1	1-1	3
Kipperman, f	2	1-1	5
Hippe, c	0	0-0	0
Matey, g	0	0-1	6
Hulse, g	1	2-4	4
Russo, g	3	0-0	6
Totals	10	4	24

	G	F	T
Washington	11	16-27	27
Rider	8	11-24	24

ST. JOSEPH'S QUINTET DEFEATS WASHINGTON

St. Joseph's College, of Philadelphia gave the Flying Pentagon its first defeat of the season in a thrilling game which finally ended 27 to 27 in favor of the Philadelphia sharpshooters. Osborne was the big factor in bringing victory to his team. The Washingtonians lost the game through their inability to shoot goals with even moderate success. Captain Robinson started for the Flying Pentagon, both defensively and offensively.

READ THE ELM

The Chestertown Bank of Maryland

Bank of Service

Branches at
Galena, Kennedyville, Betterson

Main Branch
Chestertown, Maryland

4% On Savings 4%

Sports Notions

By Phillip J. Wingo

The 1932 Edition of the Flying Pentagon is better supplied with reserve material than any team in the state with the possible exception of Maryland. Coach Kibler has at least seven men of varsity caliber—players who are capable of stepping high in the fastest game. This situation has two advantages; it will cause the local cagers to put forth their best efforts all times if they wish to gain or retain a position, and it will prevent unfortunate occurrences such as last year's game with Hopkins, when the Flying Pentagon was winged and left without high grade reserves.

With Olie Robinson, captaining the present smooth passing, and cutting aggregation of cagers, the Flying Pentagon should have every bit as good as it has been in former years. Robinson is the clearest genius in the state besides being a steady and fighting leader, who can be depended on for his share of the goals.

Despite the fact that he is a little too short to be a great jumping center, Eddie Fitzgerald is a real star at the center post. Fitz is a fast, clever passer who keeps the ball in motion and keeps up the court for cut shots.

Proudfoot—tion and keeps up the court for cut shots. He is a continual hustler and a fine outside shot.

However, the real ace of the Flying Pentagon, when he is ready to go, is not so much indicated by (in)junctiveness is Del Proudfoot. Proudfoot is one of the best under-the-basket shots in this state or any other state. When Del ducks for the basket, the only way to stop him is to foul him. Besides this, Proudfoot is a very cool player who can pass better most cagers can, and his passing game is such that he works well with any type of player. By the end of the season, Del should be the most dangerous and feared basketballer in the state.

Just to fill out the following guesses are made:

WASHINGTON TO BEAT MT. ST. MARYS.

Loyola to beat Western Maryland. Navy to beat Duke.

Maryland to beat V. M. I. St. Johns to beat Gallaudet.

WASHINGTON TO BEAT LOYOLA at Chestertown.

GEORGE EKAITIS STARTS BOXING CLASS AT W. C.

The first boxing class at Washington College began its existence when George Ekaitis, who was intercollegiate light-heavy weight champion during his senior year at Western Maryland, gave the first lesson in the local gymnasium.

The small crowd that appeared for the first lesson in the many art has been increased during the following season. It is hoped that this sport will be permanently added to the sport curriculum of the college.

GILL BROS.

ICE CREAM.

Assorted Blocks

Dainties

COLLEGE OF OSTEOPATHY BOWS IN OPENING GAME

Huey Scores First Point Of Season

Washington College's latest edition of the famous Flying Pentagon spread its wings for the first time this season and sailed smoothly to a victory over Osteopathy by a count of 31 to 16. The Osteopaths brought down a fair combination of cagers from Philadelphia, but were plainly outclassed. From the opening tap off to the final gun, there was never any doubt as to the outcome of the game.

Harry Huey, smooth working guard carried the distinction of scoring the first points for the 1931-32 Flying Pentagon when he came out of the bucket fast, early in the game, and cut the cards with a beautiful back hand.

In an effort to give experience to his substitutes, Coach Kibler used every man on his squad during at least a part of the game.

The lineup and summary:

	G	F	T
Washington	9	3-9	9
Grissitt, f	1	0-2	2
Rash, f	0	0-0	0
Hodgen, f	0	0-0	0
Carozza, f	0	0-0	0
Debins, f	3	0-2	6
Fitzgerald, c	0	0-0	0
McLain, c	0	0-0	0
Johnson, c	1	1-3	3
Robinson, g	0	0-1	1
Gamber, g	0	1-1	2
Huey, g	2	1-5	5
Ward, g	0	0-0	0
Totals	12	7	31

	G	F	T
Osteopathy	2	0-4	4
Purse, f	0	0-2	2
Korn, f	0	0-0	0
Root, f	0	0-0	0
Christensen, f	0	0-0	0
Schnell, f	1	0-2	2
Nicola, c	0	0-0	0
Murphy, g	1	2-4	4
Budler, g	1	1-2	2
Totals	5	6	15

Score by periods: 19-12-31

Washington 19-12-31

Osteopathy 2-0-4

Referee—Mr. Miller, Wilmington.

INTRAMURAL LEAGUES GET UNDER WAY

The inter-class and inter-fraternity and dormitory basketball leagues have received sanction from Dean J. S. William Jones to hold the contests after the dinner hour until 7:30 P. M. in the gymnasium.

As the teams are being lined it is rumored that the wise money is in the Juniors in the class league and Middle Hall in the other bracket.

As yet the schedule has not been arranged.

ADVERTISE IN THE ELM

JUST UP THE ROAD AT

SCHAUBER'S

For Delicious

ICE CREAM, MILK,

CAKES, SANDWICHES,

CANDIES, DRINKS and

TOBACCO of all kinds

Phone 330

Washington Beats State Teachers

Pennsylvanians Bring Down Clever Quint

By only a three point margin Washington College defeated the State Teachers' College of West Chester, Pa., Saturday, January 16, in the college gymnasium. When the final point was scored the score stood 35 to 32 in favor of Tom Kibler's court men.

The visitors' opened fast and scored five points before the home's attack got under way. The teachers hung on to a bare lead throughout the half until Fitzgerald, center for the locals, tossed in a double decker that placed the score 18 to 16 in favor of Washington at the half ended.

Opening the second half the Flying Pentagon had a decided advantage, each player making successful shots before the visitors added a two pointer to their score. A spirited rally in the final minutes by the teachers failed to overcome the Shore Quint's lead.

In the preliminary game the State Teachers' Junior Varsity trimmed the Freshmen by a score of 63 to 14.

The lineup and summary of the 0-0 varsity game follows:

	G	F	T
Washington	3	0-2	6
Grissitt, f	3	0-2	6
Friedrich, f	1	1-1	3
Carozza, f	2	1-2	6
Fitzgerald, c	3	2-2	8
Robinson, g	2	1-2	6
Huey, g	2	2-3	6
Johnson, g	1	0-2	2

	G	F	T
Teachers	14	7-12	26
State Teachers	3	0-2	6
Flicker, f	3	0-2	6
Leedy, f	1	1-1	3
Earle, c	3	2-4	8
Warren, c	1	1-1	3
Swayer, g	1	1-4	4
Strayer, g	0	1-1	2

Score by periods: 11-10-13-22

Washington 10-19-35

State Teachers 16-17-22-26

Referee—Mr. Brennan, Baltimore.

DROP IN

AND LET US SHOW YOU

OUR FULL LINE OF

VICTROLAS - RADIOS

AND FURNITURE

THE LATEST IN MUSIC

AND RECORDS

W. P. NEWMAN

CHESTERTOWN, MD.

After A Studious Day

Relax at

JIM'S and HICK'S

Billiard Parlor

Compliments

Dr. Murphy Not Heard From Lately

Former Professor At Washington In China

Some concern is felt here over the lack of communication with Dr. Helen E. Murphy, formerly head of the Biology Department of Washington College.

In the latter part of last June Dr. Murphy departed for the Pacific Coast where she was to embark for China, to occupy the chair of Embryology in Ling Nan University. At that time her plan was to reach the Orient by means of Hawaii and the Philippines.

Friends of Dr. Murphy in Chesterton received communication from her when she was in Manila. A member of the Faculty of the college who was Dr. Murphy's closest friend during her stay here heard from her the latter part of August from Honolulu. Finally, Dr. Murphy's family in New York received a cablegram of her arrival in China but at least until a short time ago it is definitely known that they have received no further word. Unsettled conditions in China have caused Dr. Murphy's friends to become alarmed.

Dr. Murphy was one of the most popular professors in the record of the college.

DR. PAUL E. TITSWORTH TALKS TO STUDENTS

TALKS TO JOURNALISM

Dr. Paul E. Titsworth offered the first of a series of informal talks on Journalism to a small group of students in William Smith Hall on Friday evening, January 8th.

In this discussion stressed was laid on only two points: the need for a style book for THE ELM, and the art of writing the lead sentence in a news story.

These talks are given to create an interest in Journalism, to improve the content and make-up of THE ELM and to make this publication a source of more vital interest to the student body.

Dr. Titsworth will speak on each issue of THE ELM. The dates have not as yet been arranged.

ANTHONY, EDITOR OF WRITERS CLUB

By the decision to publish a literary pamphlet The Writer's Club, meeting in Desa Brown's on Friday, January 8th, you marked its first gathering since the Christmas holidays.

James Anthony was elected Editor and William Baker, Assistant Editor.

NOLAND'S
Department Store
Get anything you want
from Dry Goods to School
Supplies.

WILL BE HONORED

Dr. James Roy Micou

When the Baltimore Chapter of the Washington College Alumni Association holds its annual dinner-dance at the Emerson Hotel, Baltimore, at 7 P. M. on February 26, Dr. Micou will be the guest of honor. Representatives of the other alumni chapters will be invited to the Baltimore affair.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the dinner-dance is composed of Page G. Young, Wade G. Boush, Paul Wilkinson, L. Wethered, Harold F. Stanley Porter, J. P. Johnson and Dr. W. Houston Toulson.

READ THE ELM

MT. VERNON HOLDS SEMI-ANNUAL NOMINATIONS

CANDIDATES NOMINATED

The semi-annual nominations for the officers of The Mount Vernon Literary Society were marked by the posting of seven names for the position of President. The names were Harold Shriver, Mildred Covey, Annabelle Storey, Grace Culley, Walter Bransford, Robert Cary and Elizabeth Willis.

Those nominated for Vice-President were: Annabelle Storey, Walter Bransford, Robert Cary and Elizabeth Willis.

The other offices for which names were nominated for at this meeting were Secretary, Treasurer, Sergeant-at-Arms and the Board of Curators.

President Attends Peninsula Association Meeting

Dr. Paul E. Titsworth attended on January 11th the semi-annual executive meeting of the Governors of The Del-Mar-Va. Eastern Shore Association, a promotional society of the fourteen counties of the Peninsula.

Dr. Titsworth who is also prominent in Rotary circles has been a member of this society since its organization.

HERB'S
QUICK LUNCH
Sandwiches of all Kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Voshell House

Y. W. To Hold First Discussion

"Social Hygiene" To Be Subject

The Young Women's Christian Association will hold its first of the series of discussions on outstanding problems of the day on Sunday, January 17th, at 6:45 P. M. This discussion will be conducted by the cabinet members. The topic for discussion will be "Social Hygiene."

The topic of the second of the series will be "Women in Industry" and shall be led by members of the Freshman class. Further plans of the groups have not been definitely announced.

The following girls took the pledge of membership at the last open meeting:

Kitty Kirsan, Catherine Bishop, Wilma Dahn, June Weaver, Ann Peck, Emily Jewell, Ruth Barnett, Elizabeth Walbert, Evelyn Walbert, Kitty Hyland, Helene Serrais and Evelyn Roe.

Students Will Find Our

Store a Very Desirable

Place To Visit

TOULSON'S

Drug Store

Phones—26 and 311

ADVERTISE IN THE ELM

The Shakespeare Class of Washington College

- PRESENTS -

SHAKESPEARE'S

ROMEO AND JULIET

Brilliant Costumes Elizabethan Stage Setting
Music by the Orchestra A Mosque

WILLIAM SMITH HALL

FRIDAY, JANUARY 22nd . . . Eight O'clock

ADMISSION 50 cents

SPECIAL RATE TO WASHINGTON STUDENTS, 35c

RESERVED SEATS AT STAM DRUG STORE

SOCIETY NOTES

Dr. Thomas H. Fowler entertained with a luncheon Saturday, January the ninth, at Beltrone. The following attended: Misses Chapman, Titts worth, Collins and Wilson; Messrs. Richards, Shriver, Coulbourn and Davis.

Miss Theodosia Chapman entertained a few friends at high tea Saturday.

The Cotillion Committee met and formulated its plans for the February German. The chairmen will be Mr. U. O. Coulbourn with Mr. Karfing acting as co-chairman.

A tea was given for the students at Reid Hall Sunday, January the tenth.

The student body is looking forward with interest to the production of the Shakespearean play. It is believed that it will be well attended and will be one of the leading social events of its sort this year.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Johns entertained the faculty at a bridge supper Tuesday, January the twelfth. Miss Harkey and Dr. Micou won high prize.

Ex-Governor and Mrs. Robinson of Delaware and their daughter, Miss Frances Robinson were the guests of Mr. M. J. Parsons.

A lounge room is being fitted in the basement of West Hall.

Miss Wilma Dahn entertained with a dance at the Indian Springs Country Club, Washington, Saturday, January the second. Quite a number of Washington students attended.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Sanford entertained with a small dinner party Wednesday, January the sixth at their home on Front street.

Phi Sigma Phi Notes

Congressman T. Alan Goldsborough has been appointed a member of the Board of Regents of the Smithsonian Institute, Washington.

Mr. Franklin K. Cooper, '30, visited the house during the holidays.

Mr. Louis B. Whitting, '30, and Miss Kathryn A. Ford were married.

Mr. Louis Knox, '30, and Miss Margaret Smith were married.

Mr. Joseph Bringhurst, ex-'31, and now a student at the University of Pennsylvania, Medical School, married Miss Bertha Test, of Iowa.

Sigma Tau Delta Sorority

Those who were pledged to the sorority this semester are: Elizabeth Bishop, Katherine Hyland, Katherine Bishop and Evelyn Roe.

On Monday evening, January 18, Mrs. Johns is entertaining the sorority at a bridge supper.

Charlotte Holloway is spending the week end in Baltimore.

Elected President

J. Stanley Long, '28

Mr. Long was recently elected president of the Philadelphia-Wilmington Chapter of the Washington College Alumni Association.

Other officers elected were Leonard L. Howeth, '25, first vice-president; William C. Johnston, ex-'27, second vice-president; Maude O. Hickman, ex-'30, secretary-treasurer; W. Coulbourn Brown, '27, John I. Coulbourn, '25, and C. E. Duffy, '24, were named as members of the executive committee.

WE KNOW What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style creation.

You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.

Our clothes will meet every thing you demand of them.

BORDLEY & SON

Gray's Beauty SALON

Phone 283
CHESTERTOWN, MARYLAND

When Traveling Use The BALTIMORE-TOLCHESTER FERRY

Direct Route From The Eastern Shore To The Heart of Baltimore

For Passengers, Automobiles and Trucks—LOW RATES. For information—Phone Chestertown 810-F3; Baltimore Plaza 8165. TOLCHESTER COMPANY

AS I LIKE IT

The sudden writer's cramp that has struck both Slippery Elm and the "It" in "As I Like It" has made, once more, the necessity for time out and a substitution.

The pledge season is over and the crotch that hung over almost any freshman in depression has suddenly disappeared.

The fact that soap is selling at the reduced price in the book store is either a sign of the depression or a crusade by the administration.

Which reminds us of the old adage of—people that live in glass houses shouldn't take baths in the daytime.

Which crack should be credited to Winchell (we know he'd be sore if we didn't) via Harry Russell.

The College Adjustment course is placed the last day of the examination schedule which is what we would call "check and double check."

But we're not trying to sell toothpaste although we do wish our roommate would buy some.

Outside a bottle just broke but since there was only laughter we know "God's in his Heaven all's right with the world."

And we hope that nobody knows—that Uncle Horace had a good crack at the end of "Adam and Eve" which was lost to the audience by a hasty curtain; that "Mald In Waiting by Galweorth has gone where all good books go; the publicity department is working day and night to get you little boy's and girl's names in your local blabber; that it is not compulsory to wear colonial dress to the June Ball; that a despoiled, and supposedly required school hour, is not necessary; that there is a senior who refuses to give his middle name to anyone; and that one freshman has a relative name of Ambrose; that it is a hell of a lot of work to fill out this column!

NEW 700 ROOM CLUB HOTEL

Transient Rates $1.50 per day up with bath $2. up

Club life, restaurant, free swimming pool, gym, library, spacious lounges, perfect garden, separate floors for men and women.

Six minutes from Penn. or Grand Central Stations.

George Turkel, Mgr.

KENMORE HALL
145 East 23rd St. New York City
Just East of Lexington Ave.
Gramercy 5-3840

DEL-MAR-VA RESTAURANT — FOR — AFTER DANCE LUNCHEONS AND REGULAR MEALS

QUALITY SPORTING GOODS

Catalog on Request

McCallisters

Est. 1894
124 W. Baltimore St.
Baltimore, Maryland

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE

306 Park Row
MAKES YOUR BEAUTY SCINTILLATE

For the coming-out party, the "first" dance, the formal dinner or the ball of balls.

Our beautician's many years of experience as a beauty adviser have taught her the "finishing touches" that emphasize beauty by concealing every blemish that might otherwise mar the loveliness that every fastidious woman covets.

Join the ranks of the Park Row Beauty Shoppe's large clientele. Our coffeers are always neatly becoming, and our facial and make-up treatments not only tone the skin for the newest colors but also accentuate one's best features.

Phone 334

By Appointment

"Hi, guy."
"Hi."
"Homemick?"
"Omigodh."
"Whysughome?"
"Too far."
"Talk to 'em."
"Crip-ones?"
"Sure."
"Long Distance?"
"Come the down."

LOW EVENING AND NIGHT RATES
ON STATION TO STATION CALLS
EVENING: (Between 7 p. m. and 9:30 p. m.) 15¢ to 20¢ lower than day rates
NIGHT: (Between 9:30 p. m. and 4:30 a. m.) 40¢ to 50¢ lower than day rates
These reductions apply on all rates above 35¢

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City
(Bell System)

Number Of New Courses Offered

Physical Chemistry Given By Dr. Buxton

Several new courses of study will be open at Washington College this coming semester.

Dr. Kenneth C. Buxton will offer a course in physical chemistry. This will be the first time in the history of Washington College that physical chemistry has been given as a separate and distinct course. This course will carry four term hours credit and will take up the principal chemical theories of today and will acquaint the student with various processes and methods of great value in modern chemistry. The course should prove very interesting and valuable to those wishing to continue their college work in chemistry.

Professor Goodwin will offer two new courses in philosophy this coming semester. The first of these, Philosophy 2, will consider problems included in ethical theory and practice. The second course will be known as Philosophy 4 and will take up questions in logic, sources of knowledge, materials of thought, etc. Both of the above courses carry 3 term hours credit.

Education 10—dealing with intelligence, and achievement tests, their history, use, etc., will be given by Professor Snodgrass. This course will credit the student with two term hours. In pursuing Education 10, which was held in the Middle Hall

MIDDLE HALL CLUB NOTES

The election of officers of the Middle Hall Club for the second term, will be held in the Middle Hall

Lounge Room at a special meeting of the Club, Tuesday, January 12th, at seven o'clock, made but two changes in the cabinet: Roland Ready, Vice-President; John Raymond, Sergeant-at-Arms. The following officers were re-elected: Walter A. Branford—President. Milton Noble—Secretary. Martin Trupp—Treasurer.

RESTAURANT

For a Delicious Electric Toasted Sandwich, Special Dishes, Regular 50c Dinners, Fancy Sundae, Ice Cream, Sodas, Candies, Cigarettes, etc.,

Visit The

CANDY KITCHEN

(Open 6 A. M. Until 12 P. M.)

The Emerson Hotel

Baltimore

Cuisine and Farnishings
Unexcelled

Rooms $3 ap—Autos Garaged

Private Rooms and

Banquet Halls

For All Occasions

The Dulany-Vernay Co.

337-339-341 North
Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest

Art China, Leather Goods,
Toys, Books, Athletic
Equipment

221 - 223 High Street
Chestertown, Maryland

JOE'S Newsstand

Cigars, Cigarettes,
Soft Drinks, Newspapers,

Magazines
Of All Kinds

ALBERT L. WHEAT

"The Young Men's Shop"

Chestertown, Maryland

CLOTHING

SHOES

HABERDASHERY

The

Third National Bank
Chestertown, Md.

The Only

National Bank

In Kent County

"Cream of the Crop"

LUCKY STRIKE
"IT'S TOASTED"
CIGARETTES

Robert Montgomery

Copyright 1931 The American Cigarette Co.

"There are no better cigarettes"

HE BORST UP SMILING

Bob Montgomery has been on iron worker, deck hand, railroad mechanic and a brand of extra in Hollywood . . . He zoomed to the top in vaudeville because the girls were crazy over his grin . . . And they'll go completely crazy when they see him in his latest M-G-M, "PRIVATE LIVES" . . . He's stuck to LUCKIES these last 7 years . . . Not a buffalo nickel was paid for his statement . . . He gave it just for a pleasant "Thank You."

"I have always used LUCKIES—as far as I am concerned there are no better cigarettes—congratulations also on your improved Cellophane wrapper with that little tab that opens your package so easily."

Robert Montgomery

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough
And Moisture-Proof Cellophane Keeps that "Toasted" Flavor Ever Fresh

TUNE IN ON LUCKY STRIKE—60 modern minutes with the world's finest dance orchestras and Walter Winchell, whose gossip of today becomes the news of tomorrow, every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evening over N. B. C. networks.

Reid Hall Frolic To-Nite

VOL. XXXI. NO. 7.

WASHINGTON TO MEET JOHNS HOPKINS HERE

Kibbies Hope To Avenge Defeat

The Flying Pentagon will meet Johns Hopkins University's basketball team in the local gymnasium to-night in an effort to win a portion of the prestige that it has lost because of defeats suffered at the hands of state opponents this season. The Kibbies will be red-hot and ready to go to work with a will to-night because the sting of the defeat which Hopkins' Blue Jays administered to them earlier in the season still is a very sore spot. Since then the Flying Pentagon has turned in victories over Loyola and St. John's far state wins. It will be remembered that Loyola dropped a one point decision to the Blue Jays while St. John's downed them later by a single margin.

The locals have shown that they have the ability to sink the Hopkins combination if they play the brand of basketball they are capable of, and with every possible incentive to win urging them on and a partisan crowd behind them, Washington fans expect the Flying Pentagon to play even better basketball than it did in the second half of the St. John's game. The spiking of Don Kelly's guns will be the biggest problem facing the Washingtonians, as the entire Hopkins' attack centers around this scorers who uses a pivot shot from anywhere around the foul circle with telling effect. It was Kelly who almost single handedly defeated the Flying Pentagon in Baltimore.

The probable lineup are as follows:

Washington	Hopkins
Carozza, f	C. Kelly, f
Proudfoot, f or e	Siegel, f
Fitzgerald, e or f	D. Kelly, e
Huey, g	Wood, g
Robinson, g	Silverman, g

Dr. Esther Dole Talks To Mt. Vernon Society

The feature of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society program Wednesday, February 10th, was an account of her recent trip to Egypt by Dr. Dole.

Plans are being made for the annual Mt. Vernon banquet which will be held Saturday, March 12th, immediately after the Alumni game. President Branford has appointed the following committees to make arrangements for the banquet:

Program Committee: Covey, Titusworth, Seely.

Menu and Decoration Committee: Council, Noble, Atwater, Jewell, Richards, Clark.

Ticket Committee: Pippin, Chapman, Herrera, Bailey, Rogers.

Plans Made To Publish Literary Magazine Here

At the bi-weekly meeting of the Writers Club of Washington College, held in Dean Brewer's study in Reid Hall at 8 P. M. on Wednesday, January 20th, further plans were suggested for the publication of a literary magazine, and papers were read by a number of the members.

FROSH DISPUTES REIGN OF VIGILANCE BOARD

REFUSES TO CARRY OUT SOPHOMORES' SENTENCE

The authority of the Vigilance Committee was questioned last Tuesday night at the meeting held in Room 26 of William Smith Hall when one freshman brought before the tribunal refusal to carry out the penalty of wearing a girl's dress for one week, for the offences of "failure to salute an upper classman, failure to obey a reasonable request, and failure to remain in the freshman section of the cafeteria." Because of the refusal the case was placed in the hands of the Student Council.

The other twelve cases brought before this deliberative body were disposed with summarily by prescribing the following penalties: shining shoes, making beds, (in Middle Hall) walking backwards, wearing pants out at the knees, (in the local graveyard, and carrying unlighted corn cob pipes in the mouth. All penalties with the exception of the fifth one were to last for the period of one week.

The Vigilance Committee is composed of one Sophomore member from each fraternity, and one from each floor of Middle Hall.

Celebrate Death Of Johann W. Goethe

Dr. P. E. Titusworth Gives Illustrated Talk

The centenary of the death of Johann Wolfgang Goethe, Germany's greatest writer, was celebrated at Washington College recently by speech by Dr. Paul E. Titusworth in William Smith Hall.

The lecture was illustrated by lantern slides, which were provided through the courtesy of the German Tourist Information office in New York City.

The lecture was attended by the students of the German department and others.

Shakespearean Class Stages "Romeo And Juliet"

Dr. Gertrude Ingalls Directed Production

Offering Washington College its first Shakespearean drama for many years, the Shakespeare class of Washington College under the direction of Dr. Gertrude Ingalls staged the tragedy of "Romeo and Juliet" in William Smith Hall the evening of January 22nd.

The novelty of a minstrel in the first act, the elaborate Elizabethan costumes furnished by A. T. Jones and Sons of Baltimore, and the very credible performance of the college players made the presentation interesting. One Juliet as portrayed by Jessie Jewell, the characterization of the Nurse by Alice Dole, and the parts of the Jolly Mercutio and the hot tempered Capulet as taken by Albert Dowling and Warren Carey were all worthy of especial praise.

The orchestra was under the direction of Dr. Fred G. Livingstone, Miss Doris T. Bell trained the cast in the minut.

WILL HALT "BOOGING"

J. Thomas Kibler
Coach "Tom" Kibler stated here today that every effort will be made to put an end to the booging of officials and players during the games in the college gymnasium. The affair was brought to a crisis when Paul Menton, referee of the St. John's-Washington game, heared a second shot to a visiting player because of the conduct of the crowd.

PRESIDENT TITSWORTH VISITS AMONG ALUMNI

On his recent itinerary which extended from Cincinnati, Ohio, to Danbury, Connecticut, Dr. Titsworth attended a dual meeting of the Liberal Arts College movement and the Association of American Colleges at the former city, made several personal contacts with Washington College alumni in various eastern cities, and with William H. Danneberg visited Stony Brook Preparatory School, Stony Brook, Long Island, in the interest of the new-student campaign.

At Cincinnati Dr. Titsworth entertained five Washington College alumni and the husband of one of the alumni at dinner. The guests were: Joseph Alexander, '30, manager of the R. K. O. Family Theatre; William H. Hastings, '29, and William C. Ludde, '30, manager and assistant manager respectively of the R. K. O. Lyric Theatre; Mrs. Nellie Saunders Bennett, '29, and husband, who is a chemist and graduate of the University of Maryland; and Mr. and Mrs. C. Harry Shriver, '29. Mr. Shriver is manager of the R. K. O. Capitol Theatre.

Dr. Titsworth attended a benefit party given by the Washington Chapter of the Alumni Association on January 25th were: Wm. H. Stewart, '24, of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce was chairman of the Committee of Arrangements. Among the eighty who were present were the following from Washington College: Dr. Jones, Prof. and Mrs. Ford, and Mr. and Mrs. Coop.

At a dinner at the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York where the Washington Chapter of the Alumni Association on January 25th were: Wm. H. Stewart, ex-'94, Adrienne Richards, '28, Baker Shelton, '28, John Anderson, '29, Marion Rosin, '29, and Harvey W. Culp, ex-'28. This Chapter will have a get-together on Saturday, March 19th.

LYDA LEE TALL SPEAKS TO STUDENT ASSEMBLY

DISCUSSES PERSONAL AND EDUCATIONAL PROBLEMS

"Too much to do, not enough time to do it" was the creed that Miss Lyda Lee Tall, principal of the Townsend Normal School, Towson, Md., advised the students at the Thursday assembly on February 11 to adopt.

Miss Tall gave a brief resume of the testing program at the Towson Normal School showing its results and the problems of education it reveals. She explained how, with the aid of the statistics gathered, some of these problems are settled and some cases of individual misadjustment are solved.

That education might seriously question itself as to its efficiency in selection of students, and the preparation of courses of study, was firmly stressed by the speaker. The results of the Pennsylvania inquiry which showed that the improvement in vocabulary and general knowledge was slight during the four years of college study was quoted to evidence.

"I have only one fault to find with younger generation," said Miss Tall, "they feel that the world owes them a living."

"I firmly believe that they are as morally correct as their grandfathers and grandmothers."

J. J. Luddy To Act With Business Manager Johns

Council Lays Matter On Table For Present

By appointing John J. Luddy as a committee of one to confer with John J. Johns, business manager, concerning the college commens the Student Council brought to a close the discussion of the fund and general atmosphere of the commons that was raised in the Council meeting Monday, January 8.

No stand on the situation had been taken by the Council, the matter being laid on the table until the report of the committee was received.

At press hour Mr. Luddy had not yet conferred with Mr. Johns.

Dr. Livingood Announces Coming Chapel Speakers

Dr. Leon Prince Here February 18th

The dates for the various speakers during the second semester are as follows:

Feb. 18—Dr. Leon C. Prince, professor of history at Dickinson College.

Feb. 25—Dr. James M. Hopkin, director Baltimore Community Fund.
March 4—Joy W. Miller, director of courses, Godley Business College.
March 17—Dr. Charles A. Hoff, Hoff Hospital, Northampton, Pa.

March 31—Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, National Women's Party, Washington, D. C.

April 7—Professor Jesse Coop, Washington College.

April 14—David C. Winebrenner, 3rd, Secretary of State for Maryland.
April 21—Albert D. Mackay, Elkton, Md.

May 12—Bishop George W. Davenport, Diocese of Eastern; Mayor Howard W. Jackson, Baltimore.

Hopkins Five Here To-Nite

PRICE TEN CENTS

COMMITTEES NAMED FOR CELEBRATION

Will Arrange Program For June 11

Washington College's sesqui-centennial and the George Washington bi-centennial celebration which will be officially begun Thursday, Feb. 18th, has the speech of Dr. Leon C. Prince is still in preparation with Dr. Paul E. Titsworth as director of the joint celebration.

For the celebration of both the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the college and the two hundredth anniversary of the birthday of George Washington which will be staged on the college campus June 11 the following committees have been appointed:

Executive Committee: Dr. Titsworth; Program, Dr. Esther M. Dole; History, Dr. E. Clarke Fontaine; Pageantry, Miss Doris T. Bell; Marketing, Horace Spots, Marion deli; Smith; Reception of Guests, Wm. G. Smyth for men, and Mrs. James G. Beck for women; Cooperation of Kent Public Schools, Prof. Louis C. Robinson; Publicity, Dr. H. Russell; Finance, W. R. Hoy; Entertainment, of Guests, Conly E. Nolan; Transportation, A. Lynde; Music, Dr. Fred G. Livingood; Procession, J. Thomas Kibler; Costumes, Henry F. Jefferson; Tree Planting, Stanley B. Sutton; Alumni, Dr. J. S. William Jones; Campus, Dr. Esther M. Dole.

The plans for the celebration also include a colonial dress ball in which a few colonial dances will be featured as a part of the regular dance program. This will be under the auspices of The Washington College Co-tillion Club.

The cooperation of the various campus organizations on the Eastern Shore will be asked to make this the most elaborate event ever held in this vicinity.

Prosperity Prom Staged By Co-tillion Club Friday

With old newspapers and magazines for decorations and an orchestra clad in old clothes "The Prosperity Prom" was ushered in Friday evening, Feb. 5th, by the Washington College Co-tillion Club college gymnasium. It was the third formal dance given by that organization this year.

The patrons for the co-tillion were: Dr. and Mrs. Burton, Miss Doris T. Bell, Mr. Wilbur B. Hubbard, Mr. John W. Barrall, Dr. J. S. William Jones, and Miss Margaret C. Brewer. The decorations were in charge of Mr. U. O. Coulbourn assisted by Mr. Warren Kington and Mrs. Bardette Naff.

Music was furnished by The Washingtonians, a local dance orchestra.

Concert Of Hampton Quartette Postponed

The performance of the Hampton Institute Quartette which was scheduled for this college on Feb 27 has been postponed due to insufficient funds.

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

Editor IRVING S. ROSS
Assistant Editor Phillip Wingate
Feature Editors Walter Karfigin and William H. Danenberg
Alumni Editor A. E. Howard
Society Editor W. M. C. Richard
Exchange Editor John A. Wagner

REPORTERS

Jaquet Atwater, Foland Bailey, Walter Branford, Mildred Covey, Joseph H. Freedman, Albert P. Geratis, Roland C. Ready, Annabelle Storey

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

DeWitt F. Clark, Edward F. Fitzgerald, Paul Pippio
SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES
Elizabeth Cooper, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager JOHN J. LUDDY
Assistant Business Manager Joseph B. Dickerson
Circulation Manager Edwin T. Coulbourn

ASSISTANTS

Louis L. Goldstein, Scott Beck, Jr.

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, FEB. 13, 1932

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

That The Student Government of Washington College which was once an active force in student life is now not much more than an empty honor for the leaders of our college is a fact that any observer of student life cannot with honesty deny.

We realize that we are stepping into an extremely hot argument when we venture on this, for the opinions held on the subject are many. The warmth with which they are defended is by no means small. The faculty feels that the student body has not shown itself completely capable of handling many of the cases that come up; some students believe that the Faculty Discipline Committee encroaches upon the domains of the Student Council; others state that that body is just simply inefficient. In the midst of all this stands the poor Council wondering in what incidents it should act and how. It passes its time by deciding the weighty question of activity pins for all organizations.

Now we have no case against the members of that body themselves. We honestly believe that they are the leaders of their respective classes, and that they themselves are capable of more meaningful work. The reasons for the lack of confidence that is now so plainly present on the campus and even in the council itself is found outside the room in which the body meets. They are two: the bounds of their jurisdiction are not clearly enough defined; and the clause of the Member Pledge stating that a student must report a violation of the Honor Code to the Student Council is not upheld by the students. We might add as an after thought that we have our doubts as to whether any parts of the Membership or Honor Pledges are upheld by enough of the student body to make them practical.

The fiasco that was held in 1929 is certainly not the way to remedy these very apparent defects. A meeting of committees from both the Student Council and the Faculty Discipline Committee should be held wherein a few feasible amendments to the constitution could be drawn up. These could then be submitted to the student body for voting as is provided for in the constitution. The faculty would then certainly give them the necessary approval.

If we, as students, want an organization with vitality some such action must be asked for. In no sense would this be in a spirit of antagonism towards the administration. If it is decided that the Student Council shall be a body devoted to passively receiving the "back" and deciding the date of the Sophomore-Freshman football game and other such vital affairs, we would then know how to rate it. It would no longer be a sham or a pretense. If it is decided to give it more power, we would again know where to rate it; it would become a power in molding student opinion and in carrying out its other duties. With this would appear social sense necessary among the students to carry out the Membership Pledge to its last clause.

STUDENTS REVOLT

At last the students have revolted! A very minor revolt it is true, but still a revolt. This natural and supposedly ever-occurring youthful activity has at last been found on our campus. Unfortunately we have to record it for the eternities, that the stimulus that first brought about this response was felt in the bellies and not the brains of our fellow knowledge seekers.

It is very sad that with all the false and unjust things presented by this unheaving world we should choose such a cause to fight for. No longer ago in Spain the university men fought and were wounded for a new republic. In Russia thousands of them are dying in the coal mines for their cause. Throughout the world more thousands of them are armed for the almost lost cause of peace. And it takes the reactions of our stomachs to stir us up! It is very sad.

INTERCOLLEGIATE

A date at the "Plumbers' Ball," a feature of the Engineering School of McGill University must be a tough, tight and in other words a hard working good time. Their programs are even printed on blueprint paper.

We extend heartiest congratulations to the Catholic University "Tower" on its Tenth Anniversary.

Use your noodle and you won't get in the soup—Houghton Star.

The following "ad" appears in the HOUGHTON STAR, FEEDS OF JUALITY—Chamberlain Bros., Concord, N. Y. We leave you to your own imagination—Cattle feed, chicken feed, may we suggest "cafeteria feed,"—or whatnot.

Seniors at the University of Baltimore, according to "Ballico" will have to be contented with ordinary paper diplomas this year rather than the customary sheepskin. Something else to credit to the depression, eh?

Received: a new exchange! "The Purple and Gold" from West Chester State Teachers College. Glad to have this fine paper on the list.

Recently at the American University the Student Council did two highly meritorious acts: first, to change a name of a course and second, to accomplish the real purpose for which a student council is organized; the upholding of student interests. The account is reprinted below. Read it yourself.

"Considering the matter of the proposed compulsory 'Bible' course for new students, the Council was of the opinion that the new course is not objectionable since it is to be studied from a historical and literary point of view rather than from a sectarian attitude. It was thought, however, that another name should be substituted for the present title of the course, 'Freshman Bible.'"

It was voted to have a committee appointed to consider the administration of athletics and make recommendations for changes. Mr. F. is chairman of the committee.

A committee was appointed to investigate prices of food in the Dining Room. The Council felt that board fees should be lessened in keeping with the general lowering of costs of food."

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE

306 Park Row MAKES YOUR BEAUTY SCINTILLATE

For the coming-out party, the "first" dance, the formal dinner or the ball of balls.

Our Beautician's many years of experience as a beauty adviser have taught her the "finishing touches" that emphasize beauty by concealing every blemish that might otherwise mar the loveliness of your most fastidious woman countenance.

Join the ranks of the Park Row Beauty Shoppe's large clientele. Our coiffures are always smartly becoming, and our facial and make-up treatments not only tone the skin for the newest colors but also accentuate one's best features.

Phone 334

By Appointment

DEPTH SOUNDERS FOR AIRCRAFT

WITH the application of electricity to aircraft instruments, another chapter was written in the annals of air transportation. To-day's ship is not only swifter but safer and more dependable. Modern depth-sounding devices indicate instantly the height of the ship above the ground surface. A unique feature of General Electric's recently purchased monoplane is the almost completely electrified instrument panel.

The most recently developed instrument is the sonic altimeter, which provides a quick means of indicating changes in height above ground. Sound from an intentionally oriented air whistle is directed downward. The echo is picked up in a receiving megaphone, and the sound is heard through a stethoscope. The elapsed time between the sound and the echo determines the height. Tests show that water, buildings, wood, etc., produce echoes that are different and characteristic.

Besides developing a complete system of aircraft instruments, college-trained General Electric engineers have pioneered in every electrical field—on land, on sea, and in the air.

GENERAL ELECTRIC
SALES AND ENGINEERING SERVICE IN PRINCIPAL CITIES

Dr. Murphy, Former Biology Head, Writes Of Life In China

Gives Account Of Chinese Luncheon She Attended

By Janet Atwater

News of Dr. Helen Murphy, former head of the biology department at Washington College, now at Ling Nan University in Canton, China, was received by Miss Snodgrass on Jan. 20th, by a letter from the former's sister, Miss E. Murphy. Dr. Murphy's family for a while had been quite worried because they had received no word from her. On Nov. 15, a three months silence was broken by a brief cablegram: "Fine," which, although very unsatisfactory, at least meant she was alive. The day after Thanksgiving the first letter arrived, in which she explained that she had been putting her letters in the Nationalist Government mail box, and only quite accidentally discovered that the Cantonese Government did not collect mail from it. At that date nothing more had been heard from her, except a cable just before Christmas saying: "Season's Greetings! Better Canton tonight." Since several days before, a message

MT. VERNON ELECTS OFFICERS FOR COMING YEAR

The Mt. Vernon Literary Society held its regular semi-annual election Wednesday, January 20th. Nominations had been made the preceding week.

The election resulted as follows:
President: Walter Brandy.
Vice President: Robert Cary.
Secretary: Calvin Brimfield.
Treasurer: Annabelle Storey.
Sergeant-at-Arms: Roland Bailey.
Board of Censors: William Baker, Wesley Sadler, Mildred Covey.

QUARTET GIVES RECITAL IN ELKTON ARMORY

A quartette from the Washington College Glee Club presented a program for the benefit of the Elkton Protestant Episcopal Church at the Elkton Armory on Thursday, Feb. 4.

The quartette was composed of Walter Brandy, tenor; Linwood Cook, 2nd tenor; L. C. Williams, 1st bass, and Charles Harris, Jr., 2nd bass. During the course of the program Mr. Harris rendered a solo.

The performance was given in co-operation with the college orchestra.

If there is any person who has a copy of the first issue of THE ELM and who would like to donate it to THE ELM staff it would be greatly appreciated, for the office files are lacking this issue.

Y. W. C. A. Holds Second Discussion Group In Reid Hall

"Vacations For Women" Is Topic For Discussion

The second of the series of discussions groups being sponsored by the Young Women's Christian Association was conducted by a committee of Freshmen on Sunday evening, February 7th.

The topic for discussion was "Vacations for Women." The program, being well arranged and prepared, proved to be one of the most interesting and profitable of the programs conducted thus far. There was a marked increase in attendance over the former meetings.

The Freshmen in charge of the group were Ruth Barnett, Helene Serravallo and Evelyn Roe.

Dr. Paul E. Titsworth Gives Address On Journalism

Dr. Paul E. Titsworth gave the second of a series of talks on journalism in room 11 of William Smith Hall on the evening of Wednesday, February 10 at 6:30.

In the brief period of time allotted him, Dr. Titsworth suggested various ways in which the composition of THE ELM might be improved.

ALAN T. GOLDSBOROUGH PRESENTS TWO BILLS

On Feb. 2, Alan T. Goldsborough, member of the class of '09, and a Congressman of Maryland introduced two bills, one "To equilibrate tariff duties by compensating for depreciation in foreign currencies," and the other "To amend the Anti-dumping Act of 1921."

Dr. Helen E. Murphy

from the Trustees office, had come saying she was in good health, the "better" was rather puzzling, and also the fact that a trip to Canton should be important enough to cable about at $8 a word.

She finds China even more interesting than she had anticipated. Apparently there is a good deal of social life, judging from the number of teas and dinners, at which she had been entertained. Her account of one particular luncheon was amusing.

A large party—30 Americans and Chinese—were taken to the top story of a building in an old section of Canton, arriving at 12:30 o'clock. They made themselves comfortable on hackles chairs and were served tea, peanuts, and squash seeds for several hours while they talked continuously. Then at 3 o'clock the real feast began, and since it consisted of twenty-two courses, Dr. Murphy wished she had "gone easy" on the tea. Among the dishes mentioned were: shark fin soup, bird's nest soup, pickled eggs, preserved eggs, (ancient and dried) snake steak, roast duck, lima beans—"and other things too numerous" to mention. They finished at six o'clock and left immediately since it is polite to leave as soon as one finishes.

So far she had not learned much of the language. Meaning depends on voice inflection and she found the singing chant a little difficult. She did, however, write her name on the envelope in Chinese characters.

Dr. Murphy is living with Miss Gilroy, with whom she went across, and Miss Gill of the Home Economics staff. They had a house-maid, a landlady, and a cook, and were getting along famously in their establishment, according to that latest bulletin. Dr. Murphy seemed to be having a great time and was thoroughly enjoying the adventure.

"Cream of the Crop"

LUCKY STRIKE
"IT'S TOASTED"
CIGARETTES

Douglas Fairbanks

"LUCKIES are my standby"

CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOCK

Cash is on Papa's famous record! Not Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. For months he labored as a five-day-a-week "native." Then he crashed into a part like a brick through a plate-glass window. Doug looks like a pro, and we don't mean a polio... he has muscles like a wrestler. When undressed, he hangs his clothes on his shoulder. The box office like his latest FIRST NATIONAL PICTURE, "UNION DEPT." Doug has won his LUCKIES four years, but didn't stick the makers of LUCKIES anything for his kind words. "You're a brick, Doug."

"LUCKIES are my standby. I buy them exclusively. I've tried practically all brands but LUCKY STRIKES are kind to my throat. And that new improved Cellophane wrapper that opens with a flip of the finger is a ten strike."

Douglas Fairbanks

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against Irritation—against cough
And Moisture-Proof Cellophane Keeps that "Toasted" Flavor Ever Fresh

TUNE IN ON LUCKY STRIKE—60 modern minutes with the world's finest dance orchestras and Walter Winchell, whose gossip of today becomes the news of tomorrow, every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evening over N. B. C. networks.

Maryland Wins Over Washington

Southern Conference Champs Too Good For Locals

Washington College's Flying Pentagon bowed to University of Maryland's championship team to the tune of a 36 to 16 score Wednesday night, February 10th, in the new Ritchie gymnasium at College Park. The brilliant Terrapin quintet had the edge over Washington's eagles throughout the contest and although the game was more closely contested than the score indicates, after the first few minutes the Kiblerites never seriously threatened.

Washington gained possession of the ball at the opening tap and Johnson and Capt. Robinson worked themselves free for set shots in the corner and around the foul circle, in quick succession, but each failed to sink his shot, although both shot straight the basket and rolled precariously near the rim. Had the locals succeeded in rasing several of these shots early in the game, it would have probably turned the game into a neck and neck affair as such a condition would have greatly aided the confidence of the Kiblerites.

As usual Capt. Robinson played a brilliant defensive game and held Maryland's clever forward, Rowland, to two field goals. Frankie Carozza easily played the best game on the attack for the locals and was one of the outstanding eagles on the floor.

The Terps had one advantage over the Flying Pentagon that was not due to superior basketball ability. This advantage lay in the fact that Maryland's eagles were familiar with the playing floor in the old Ritchie gymnasium, while the Kiblerites have been used to playing on a smaller court and one which does not lay as much in the open, away from the stands, as does the court of the Old Liers.

	G	F	T
Maryland	16	0-0	2
Chalmers, f	3	0-0	2
Ronkik, f	3	1-1	7
Chase, f	2	0-0	0
Wilson, f	0	0-0	0
Ochen, f	0	1-1	1
Vincent, c	2	2-2	6
Norris, c	0	1-1	1
Berger, g	1	1-11	11
Ruscher, g	2	0-0	4
May, g	0	0-0	0
Snyder, g	0	0-0	0

Totals 36-16 36-16

	G	F	T
Washington	17	9-36	16
Carozza, f	3	0-0	0
Johnson, f	0	0-0	0
Ward, f	1	0-0	2
Hodges, f	0	0-0	0
Rasin, f	0	0-0	0
Proffoot, c	0	0-0	0
Fitzgerald, c	2	0-0	4
Robinson, g	0	1-2	1
Huey, g	1	1-2	3

Totals 36-16 36-16

Scores by halves: 7-15 17-19-36

Washington 17 9-36

Referees—Morton and Neun.

Faculty And Seniors Lead Hall And Class Leagues

The standing of the teams in the dormitory and class league is:

	W	L
Faculty	2	0
A. K.	3	1
Phi Sigma Tau	1	1
Middle Hall	2	2
West Hall	1	1
Phi Sigma Phi	0	3
Class League	3	0
Seniors	3	0
Freshmen	2	1
Sophomores	1	2
Juniors	0	3

HERB'S QUICK LUNCH

Sandwiches of all kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Vashell House

The
Third National Bank
Chesterstown, Md.

The Only
National Bank
in Kent County

RESTAURANT

For a Delicious Electric Toasted Sandwich, Special Dishes,
Regular Six Dinners, Fancy Sandwiches, Ice Cream,
Soda, Candies, Cigarettes, etc.,

Visit The

CANDY KITCHEN

(Open 6 A. M. Until 12 P. M.)

"Old fellow."

"Fall"

"News?"

"Front page!"

"What?"

(Whispers.)

"Yeh?"

"Sure—telephone."

"Long Distance?"

"Nuthin' different."

LOW EVENING AND NIGHT RATES
ON STATION-TO-STATION CALLS

EVENING (Between 7 p. m. and 9:30 p. m.) 15% to 20% lower than day rates

NIGHT (Between 9:30 p. m. and 4:30 a. m.) 40% to 50% lower than day rates

These reductions apply on all calls over 15c

The Chesapeake and Potomac
Telephone Company
of Baltimore City

(Bolt System)

Sports Notions

By Philip J. Wingate

The Flying Pentagon meets Hopkins tonight and the major problem for the locals will be the stopping of Don Kelly, ace of the Blue Jay quintet. If Coach Kibler succeeds in finding a man who can do this, the Washingtonians should have little trouble in averaging the one sided defeat which they received at the hands of the Hopkins' quintet in Baltimore earlier in the season. The local eagles will need to play the type of fast, aggressive basketball that they turned loose on St. John's in the second half of last Saturday's game, in order to be most effective against their Baltimore rivals. George Darley's Hopkins game exponents eat up a slow moving team and when attacking their opponents goal, use a style of play that is hard to guard. Particularly is this true of Kelly who uses the basket shot considerably and shoots from over his head.

The service given for the Hopkins, Mt. St. Mary's, and Maryland games by THE ELM will be continued for every "away" game that the college athletes participate in.

The Dulany-Vernay Co.

337-339-341 North
Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest

Art China, Leather Goods,
Toys, Books, Athletic
Equipment

Robinson Leads Team In Individual Scoring

Up to present Captain Robinson is the highest scoring basketball for the Flying Pentagon this season, with Frank Carozza running a close second to his captain.

Scoring for team members is as follows:

	Goals	Fouls	Total
Robinson	21	15	37
Carozza	18	15	31
Huey	12	14	38
Fitzgerald	8	18	34
Proffoot	12	10	32
Crutts	10	9	29
Ward	6	2	14
Johnson	3	1	7
Hodges	1	2	4
Rasin	1	1	3
Gambler	0	1	1
Makenzie	0	1	1

Total points scored 272

SUBTLY flattering to the woman of affairs is the well-placed finger wave. Whether her hair is long or bobbed, visits to the Gray Beauty Salon are an investment in well-groomed expression.

Gray's Beauty SALON

Phone 253

CHESTERSTOWN, MARYLAND

NOLAND'S Department Store

Get anything you want from Dry Goods to School Supplies.

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store

Where Your Dollar

Has More Cents

Students Will Find Our
Store a Very Desirable
Place To Visit

TOULSON'S
Drug Store

Phones—26 and 311

ADVERTISE IN THE ELM

THE REXAL STORE
EASTMAN KODAKS
FILMS

DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING
BY EXPERTS

DRUGS and
SUNDRIES
Of All Kinds

A. L. STERLING

Compliments
of Chesterstown

Electric Light and Power
Company

JUST UP THE ROAD AT

SCHAUBER'S

For Delicious

ICE CREAM, MILK,
CAKES, SANDWICHES,
CANDIES, DRINKS and
TOBACCO of all kinds

Phone 320

221 - 223 High Street
Chesterstown, Maryland

JOE'S Newsstand

Cigars, Cigarettes,
Soft Drinks, Newspapers,

Magazines
Of All Kinds

READ THE ELM

Loyola Falls Before Kiberites

Robinson, Proudfoot, And Huey Star

The Flying Freshmen struck its real pace for the first time this season against a state opponent, and defeated its old rival, Loyola, by a comfortable margin of 10 points, and thereby won its first state game. The game was played January 22nd, and a capacity crowd filled into the local gymnasium to watch Coach Kibler's pupils thoroughly rout the Greyhounds who had just a few days before won the University of Maryland Southern Conference quint down to a one point defeat. The game was featured by the brilliant playing of Del Proudfoot, Carl Robinson, and Harry Huey. Ohio Robinson camped over Vince Carling, one of the jeunails, and by a brilliant exhibition of guarding held him to a single field goal, which Carling rang up from a long shot from the center of the floor.

On the attack the Kiberites played a careful game, passing in and out through the Loyola zone defense and the ball break came that resulted in a shot for the basket. This attack centered around Huey, in the bucket, and Proudfoot over in one corner of the court. Harry Huey, playing a hanging up game throughout the contest and was high scorer for the night. However, it was the brilliant Proudfoot with his uncanny shots under and around the basket that completely wrecked the Loyola zone defense and scattered the fragments about the court. This tall, supple forward stationed himself just inside the first line of the Greyhound defense and worked himself free for a shot by one of the most marvelous exhibitions of weaving and ducking ever seen on a state court or the socked in the academy. The ball was passed to one of his team-mates. The Baltimoreans were completely at loss as to how they might solve the problem of keeping Proudfoot from caging double-dunks until he went out of the game due to a knee injury, with about ten minutes remaining to be played.

Loyola threatened only once after the early part of the game. This was shortly after the second half started, when a shot by Tannehill and Carlin's lone field goal cut the lead of the locals to a single point. Tannehill played the best brand of basketball for the Greyhounds.

The lineup and warm-ups:

	G	F	T
Washington	1	0-2	2
Johnson, f	1	1-5	2
Carozza, f	1	1-5	2
Huey, f	3	5-7	11
Proudfoot, c	3	3-4	9
Fitzgerald, c	0	0-0	0
Ward, g	2	1-2	2
Ward, g	1	0-0	2
Totals	11	10-20	32

	G	F	T
Loyola	1	0-2	2
Carlin, f	1	0-2	2
Lundak, f	3	2-4	8
Behr, f	0	0-0	0
Curtis, c	1	2-4	4
Tannehill, g	2	3-5	7
Bender, g	0	1-3	1

	G	F	T
Totals	7	8-18	22
Scores by halves:
Washington	14	18-32
Loyola	8	14-22

Referee—Mr. Naylor and Mr. Gallagher, of Wilmington.

For Better COAL SERVICE
Phone 149
C. W. Kibler & Sons
Chestertown, Maryland

ST. JOSEPH'S WINS FIFTH STRAIGHT OVER LOYOLS

St. Joseph's College, of Philadelphia made its five straight basketball victories over Washington College, by winning a very close game in the Washington College gymnasium, Saturday night, January 30th, by the low score of 18 to 16.

The game was featured by very close guarding, attested to by the large number of fouls each side committed, and by the fact that only five field goals were made during the entire game, three of these being made by St. Joseph's.

The first half ended with Washington leading 11 to 7, although making good on only two field shots, Fitzgerald was dead on the foul line and before the game ended, he had made eight free throws successful for a perfect record.

The second half was one in which Coach Kibler used five forwards and St. Joe three. But these eight together could score but one field goal during the half, this being made by the visitors.

During the half continued to wreck the reputation of visitor's aces, by holding the high scoring Zuber scoreless as far as field goals were concerned. Time after time he would ruin perfect shots of this star. The game was no night for forwards, and only because St. Joseph's was able to break the monotony of hand shooting, by sinking just one in the second half, was the local quint beaten.

DROP IN AND LET US SHOW YOU OUR FULL LINE OF VICTROLAS - RADIOS AND FURNITURE THE LATEST IN MUSIC AND RECORDS

W. P. NEWMAN
CHESTERTOWN, MD.

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing
103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

The Best Of EVERYTHING Needed FOR BUILDING
E. S. Adkins & Co.
Chestertown, Centreville
Easton, Salisbury

A Special Lace To-Thee Athletic Deck for Womens' Gym Work.
Harry F. Jefferson

Book Reviews

"THE BROWNING—A VICTORIAN IDYLL"—Loth

With much understanding Mr. Loth has given us an ideal picture of the Brownings; their romance, their careers, and their retirement in Italy. We meet Robert Browning as a dashing, gallant lover, composing poetry to amuse the gentle Elizabeth Barrett, of Wimpole Street. As a young intellectual the poet first tried to write plays, but meeting with failure, he answered the call of the muses, who had endowed him with an remarkably poetic sense, delicate and flowery.

The love affair between the two poets, Robert and Elizabeth Browning stands out in history as one of the noblest and most beautiful affairs. At first courting Miss Barrett by means of letters, the poet became an eloquent and ardent Don Juan. Upon actually meeting the promising poet, Browning became so fascinated by her charming personality that for days he was entranced in a state of ecstacy. To the invalid woman, Browning came like a gift of the Gods, for she had never before experienced a friendship. Their lives together seem like a flash—an eclipse in Italy, and then the untimely death of Mrs. Browning. The death of his wife changed the life of the poet entirely, as he soon emerged from his retirement, in an attempt to forget his sorrow. In London he became England's foremost social leader. Says Mr. Loth, "He was an ideal social lion, so gentle a child might approach him, yet preserving all the regal dignity of his untamed, unpredictable, temperamental, and unnamably colloquial."

Browning, for the first time met with much popularity. "Browning Societies" became quite fashionable the world over and the ageing poet spent his remaining years in a series of dinner and theatre parties.

Mr. Loth has done an admirable piece of work, that is sure to afford the reader much pleasure. Written in a highly sympathetic tone, the reader can not help but appreciate the true genius of both Robert and Elizabeth Browning.

After A Studios Day

Relax at JIM'S and HICK'S Billiard Parlor

The Chestertown Bank of Maryland
Bank of Service

Branches at Galena, Kennedyville, Betterson

Main Branch Chestertown, Maryland 4% On Savings 4%

GIRLS' BASKETBALL GETS UNDER WAY

The Girls' Inter-Class Athletic Association will stage the first of the basketball games on Thursday at 6:30 P. M. when the Freshmen will meet the Sophomores and the Juniors will face the Seniors. They will resume the fight on the Thursday and Tuesday of the following weeks during the season.

A definite lineup has not yet been voted upon by the Board of Managers, but a hard fight is predicted between the present Junior class, who were last year's champions, and the present Freshman class. The members of the lineup last year's champions are:

Ann Kresger, Lou LeKites, Hilda Ryan, E. Walbert, Mary Parks, and Elizabeth Schmidt.

The prospective players of the Freshman team are: Nola Hill, Anna Harris, Clara Wiley, Ruth Cannon, Evelyn Roe and Kathryn Hyland.

GILL BROS. ICE CREAM Assorted Blocks Dainties

PAUL and SAM Quality and Service SHOE REPAIRING Next To Sterlings Drug Store Chestertown, Maryland

DEL-MAR-VA RESTAURANT —FOR— AFTER DANCE LUNCHEONS AND REGULAR MEALS

QUALITY SPORTING GOODS
Catalog on Request
McCallisters
Est. 1894
124 W. Baltimore St.
Baltimore, Maryland

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students Offers Complete Line of Conklin and Wahl Pens and Pencils. Penmanship, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery, And School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3-15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

NEW 700 ROOM CLUB HOTEL

Transient Rates $1.50 per day up, with bath $2 up

Club life, restaurant, free swimming pool, gym, library, spacious lounges, roof garden, separate floors for men and women. Six minutes from Penn or Grand Central Station.

GEORGE TURKEL, Manager $8 to $14 Weekly KENMORE HALL 145 EAST 23rd ST. N. Y. CITY

GRenmore 8-3840

Just West of Lexington Avenue

Robert C. Thackston, Esq., member of the class of '70, and the oldest member Cecil County Bar died at his home in Elkton, Md., Feb. 6.

Try the new style Drinkables KAYWOODIE Initials Extra UNITED CIGAR STORES Sales—Agency

WE KNOW What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style centers.

You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.

Our clothes will meet every one of these demands.

BORDLEY & SON

When Traveling Use The BALTIMORE-TOLCHESTER FERRY

Direct Route From The Eastern Shore To The Heart of Baltimore

For Passengers, Automobiles and Trucks—LOW RATES. For information — Phone Chestertown 810-F3; Baltimore Plaza 8165; BALTIMORE-TOLCHESTER FERRY

Museum Removes Abbey Paneling

College Loses Possible Chance For Museum

The Baltimore Museum of Art removed the fine paneling from "The Abbey" on Tuesday, January the second to new quarters where it will be housed as the "Johnson Memorial."

"The Abbey," one of the finest old Colonial houses in Maryland, was built by the Murray family in 1696. It has been held since by many people prominent in the history of Maryland and Washington, College. The paneling believed by some to have been the work of Grinling Gibbons has no peer in these parts save that in the Prince and Hays-Hammond Houses in Annapolis. The woodwork from "the Grante Rooms," obtained by the Museum brought fifteen thousand dollars.

Its removal aroused a great deal of alarm and was protested by many students and Eastern Shoremen. Quite a substantial fund was being raised to preserve the building for the college as a museum, but the Baltimoreans realizing the value of their art treasure and disregarding the charm of it in its true environment, did not release their purchase.

Much concern was felt when it was rumored that the remaining paneling had been sold to the Yale Metropolitan and Boston Museums, but all three of these officially denied that they had any interest in it.

Local Alumnus Dies

William F. Russell, 64, former State Senator for Kent county, and member of the class of '89, died at his home in Chestertown early Tuesday morning, Feb. 2.

THE PEOPLES BANK

Commercial

and

Savings

Accounts

Rock Hall

Chestertown

Students Of
Washington College
A Safe Place To Deal
THE STAM DRUG CO.
Everything in Drugs

Prescriptions Filled by Registered Pharmacists
Only

A Full Line of
School Supplies
Whitman's Candy
Cigars and Tobacco

SOCIETY NOTES

PHI SIGMA TAU NOTES

The Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity have named as pledges, Richard Hall and Philip Wingate.

KAPPA GAMMA NOTES

Kappa Gamma regrets that Miss Collins, '34, has left Washington College, but wishes her all luck and success in her new work at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Among the Alumnae visiting Reid Hall last week end were Misses Elizabeth Mace, Sally Linthicum, Louise Crouse and Bernice Wooters.

Miss Theodora Chapman entertained at tea in honor of Miss Katherine Collins Sunday, January the thirty-first.

GAMMA SIGMA NOTES

The Gamma Sigma Sorority welcomed Dr. Esther M. Dole home from her trip to Egypt. The sorority is the recipient of a lovely Egyptian tapestry and pillow from her. She also presented each member of the sorority with an Egyptian Scarab.

Miss Ethel Herrera spent two days preceding the second semester at the home of Miss Elizabeth Walbert.

Miss Henrietta Newman entertained with a buffet supper, Friday evening, January the fifth, at her home on Washington avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Sanford were at home Sunday, January thirty-first.

The Shakespeare Class attended Walter Hampden's performance of Cyrano de Bergerac at the Playhouse, Wilmington, Del., Saturday, January the thirtieth.

The Washington College Episcopal Club will entertain at tea, Sunday afternoon, February the fourteenth, at Emmanuel Rectory.

Dean Brewer, Roland Bailey, Joseph Freedman and Frederick G. Uall-ton attended the performance of Cyrano de Bergerac at Wilmington.

PHI SIGMA PHI NOTES

The house guests for the Centillion were Mr. Calder L. Hope, Baltimore; Mr. William E. Freeman, Pocomoke City; and Mr. C. L. Kilmarten, Suffolk, Va.

Mr. William McA. Richards was the week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Kellogg-Smith, Quaker Neck.

ALBER L. WHEAT

"The Young Men's Shop"

Chestertown, Maryland

CLOTHING

SHOES

HABERDASHERY

READ THE ELM

The Emerson Hotel Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled

Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged

Private Rooms and

Banquet Halls

For All Occasions

The Chesterfield soloist
ALEX GRAY

..and how he can Sing!"

The Chesterfield Cigarette program...Every night except Sunday...Entire Columbia Network, coast to coast...15 minutes of "Music that Satisfies."

Whether it's a tender old love song or a dashing hit from the latest show, there's the deep thrill of real music in whatever he sings. Hear his fine voice in the Chesterfield Radio Program. And hear Nat Shilkret, too, with his beautifully-balanced big orchestra.

© 1932, LORETT & MVALS TOBACCO CO.

Chesterfield

Score of Game will be given at Frolic

The Washington Film

Frolic to be Held in Reid
Hall To-nite

VOL. XXXI. NO. 8.

SATURDAY, FEB. 27, 1932

PRICE TEN CENTS

WASHINGTON FACES LOYOLA TO-NIGHT

HEPBURN TALKS TO STUDENTS

TELLS OF WORK WITH ORGANIZED CHARITY

The Thursday Assembly of Feb. 25, was addressed by Dr. James M. Hepburn, head of the Maryland Crime Commission, on the subject of "Organized Charity." This popular speaker, the recipient of an honorary degree from Washington College, alluded indirectly for a better understanding of the work of organized charity.

"In urban communities," said Dr. Hepburn, "it is impossible, without the aid of organized charity, to know who is in need." In praising the Community Fund method the speaker said that money is raised for charitable work at a cost of two cents to the dollar. In the other method, with numerous charity organizations in the field, the cost was from ten to forty cents on the dollar.

"Without proper investigation," he continued, "Professional paupers are easily identified. In the Baltimore study charity agencies clear their cases through the Social Service Exchange. This bureau investigates and keeps a record of all cases, and prevents people from securing aid at a number of agencies.

To prove that the work was being done by trained people, the speaker stated that an A. B. and an M. A. degree besides a year's experience in the field were required by all.

Dr. Leon C. Prince Begins Celebrations By Speech

Addresses Group On Subject of "Washington Up-To-Date"

"George Washington Up-To-Date" was the subject of the speech chosen by Dr. Leon C. Prince, Professor of History at Dickinson College, to officially begin the Washington College Sesqui-Centennial and the Washington Bi-Centennial Celebrations on Thursday, Feb. 18 at William Smith Hall.

In his talk, Dr. Prince discussed George Washington as a man, disregarding the legends and stories that have long since attempted to obscure his personality. "He was graduated from the school of experience, whose colors are black and blue, and whose degrees are the only ones one hundred percent worthwhile," said the speaker. "He also touched on Washington's prowess as an athlete, and related some of his feats.

Dr. Prince scathingly denounced the many writers that have attempted to lower the popular opinion of Washington by pointing out that he had played cards and had engaged in other similar activities. It was the speaker's belief that Washington only adapted himself to the customs of his age in these matters.

Above all, Dr. Prince praised Washington's life of unselfish service, and the qualities of the man which allowed him to risk everything for his country.

NEXT COTILLION WILL FEATURE AL HOLLANDER

PAUL PIPPIN TO BE IN CHARGE OF DECORATIONS

Al Hollander of York, Pa., whose music was heard at the Mid-Winter Formal at the University of Virginia has been engaged to play for the Home-Coming Cotillion to be held at the Washington College Gymnasium, Friday, March 11th under the auspices of the Washington College Colliion Club.

The decoration committee headed by Paul Pippin, chairman, consists of William Richards, Burdette Nuttle, Edwin Coulbourn and James Parsons. If arrangements permit the committee hopes to disguise the gym as a pent house with blue and gold streamers for a ceiling and with a New York city line drawn with charcoal on the paper covered sides. It is believed that the eleven pieces in the orchestra could be enclosed in a smaller pent house.

The issuing of the invitations is in the hands of U. O. Coulbourn, Jr. This is the fourth cotillion staged by the Colliion Club this school year.

Washington Players Plan Three One Act Plays

To Be Directed By Student Players

Three one-act plays will be produced before the Easter Holidays by The Washington Players whose performance of "Adam and Eva" was given on January 13th under the direction of Prof. John D. Makovsky. As rehearsals have not yet begun no definite date for the performances has been set.

The three plays will be under the direction of three student players, Dorothy Johnson, Lindley Cook, and William Danneberg.

The play chosen by William Danneberg is "Rip Van Winkle" as adapted by Joseph Jefferson. This four act play has been revised by the student director to be produced within the limits of one act with two scenes. The cast is:

Rip Van Winkle—William Danneberg
Derrick Van Beckman—George Cordry.

Meenie Van Winkle—Helen Norris.
Henrik Vedder (as a boy)—Willard Seuder.

Henrik Vedder (as a man)—Howard Plummer.

The parts of Nick Vedder and Gretchen Van Winkle are yet to be cast.

The players under the direction of Dorothy Johnson are considering several plays among them being "The Donovan Affair."

Lindley Cook who is heading the third group hopes to produce Bernard Shaw's one act play "Why He Lied To Her Husband."

TO DONATE CUPS

SCHOLARSHIP CUPS TO BE GIVEN BY MRS. FOX

TO BE COMPETED FOR BY GREEK LETTER SOCIETIES

Ethel S. Fox

The decoration committee headed by Paul Pippin, chairman, consists of William Richards, Burdette Nuttle, Edwin Coulbourn and James Parsons. If arrangements permit the committee hopes to disguise the gym as a pent house with blue and gold streamers for a ceiling and with a New York city line drawn with charcoal on the paper covered sides. It is believed that the eleven pieces in the orchestra could be enclosed in a smaller pent house.

That two silver cups for the fraternity and sorority that attains the highest total scholarship will be donated in the memory of Dr. Errol Lionel Fox, late Professor of Chemistry at Washington College, by his wife Ethel Spurgeon Fox was announced here today. The first cup will be engraved with "Errol L. Fox Memorial, Inter-Fraternity Scholarship Cup" and the second with "Errol L. Fox Memorial, Inter-Sorority Scholarship Cup."

The first cup will be awarded to that fraternity that has an average index higher than the other two groups. The sorority cup will be awarded on the same basis. The name of the winning fraternity or sorority will be engraved on the cup and it will become the possession of that organization until its average index is bettered by some other Greek letter society.

The cups will go into the permanent possession of the fraternity or sorority that wins them any three years.

This year these materials to Dr. Fox will be awarded on the basis of the grades received during the spring term. In the following years the marks for the entire school year will be the basis of the award.

Three Faculty Members Attend N. E. A. Convention

The meeting of school superintendents and allied organizations, held in Washington, D. C. from Feb. 21 to Feb. 25 under the auspices of the National Education Association, was attended by Dr. Paul E. Titwirth, Dr. Fred G. Livingood, and Miss Florence Snodgrass, all of Washington College. Miss Snodgrass was also present at the meetings of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

The program for the main meetings consisted of a number of discussions conducted by the various educational leaders. Papers were read by authorities in the numerous fields of Education.

The main meetings were held in Constitutional Hall and the speakers included United States Senators, superintendents, and high school teachers. Approximately 15,000 educators, superintendents, and teachers were present.

FACULTY UPHOLDS VOTE OF STUDENT COUNCIL

FRESHMAN ORDERED TO CARRY OUT PENALTY

By supporting the decision of the Vigilance committee in the recent Freshman case the administration, today, greatly strengthened the authority of that body as well as that of the Student Council which had also upheld the decision of the Committee.

The penalty in question was the order to wear a dress about the college for the period of one week. The freshman on whom it had been indicted refused to carry it out and had appealed the case to the Student Council. When this body upheld the previous decision the case was taken to Dean Jones, a member of the Faculty Discipline Committee.

The letter giving this committee's stand on the matter was received today by Oliver Robinson, President of the Student Council, Richard Garner, President of the Sophomore Class, and Frederick Rhinebold, Head of the Vigilance Committee.

Dean J. S. W. Jones Holds Bi-Weekly Cabinet Meeting

Asks Cabinet To Assist In Celebration

By asking the Cabinet to aid in every way possible the Washington Sesqui-Centennial Celebration, Dean J. S. William Jones opened the regular bi-weekly meeting of the Dean's Cabinet held in his office Thursday, Feb. 16th.

A discussion on the questions arising out of Student Government and the College Commons was asked for by Mr. Robinson. All the members of the Cabinet expressed their personal satisfaction with recent meals in the Commons. Some suggestions were made concerning the breakfasts and Mr. Robinson said that he would refer them to the stewards. No definite conclusion was reached in the discussion on Student Government.

Those students present were: Oliver Robinson, Albert Baker, Harold Shriver, Walter Bradford, Irving Ross, DeWitt Clarke and Richard Garner.

Baltimore Alumni Hold Annual Dinner Dance

The Annual Dinner Dance of the Baltimore Alumni Association, which was held Friday evening at the Hotel Emerson in Baltimore was attended by the following from Washington College: Dr. Paul E. Titwirth, Dean J. S. W. Jones, Prof. and Mrs. Dunschott, and Mr. James W. Johns.

Dr. Titwirth To Speak To State Normal School

"Obersermmergung and the Passion Play" will be the subject of Dr. Paul E. Titwirth's speech which will be delivered before the students of the Towson State Normal School on Tuesday morning, March 1.

GAME STAGED AT LOYOLA

ROBINSON LEADS MEN IN LAST GAME FROM HOME

The Flying Pentagon moves over to Baltimore tonight to play Loyola's Greyhounds tonight, and for the first time in several years, the state championship will not hinge on the outcome of this game. During the past several years, the second of the home and home series between the Kibbles and the Jesuits has been played down here, but this year the order of the games was reversed.

However, the intense rivalry that has grown up between Washington and Loyola still makes the game of vast importance to Washington and Loyola backers and to the players themselves. A victory by either of these teams over the other would yield him enough to relieve the sting from several defeats suffered elsewhere. The reputation that these two teams have of always playing great hard-fought ball whenever they meet should pack the big Washington crowd at Evergreen. The Flying Pentagon has yet to turn in a single victory on a foreign court, and the desire to do so at least once away from home will be added to the great emphasis that is always attached to the fray with the Greyhounds.

Coach Kibler will use the same style of attack over in Baltimore that he employed down here, earlier in the season to defeat Loyola by a ten point margin. Robinson and Carrara will play outside, passing the ball into either Huey, Johnson or Proudfoot. Proudfoot and Johnson would station themselves in the corners of the court and Huey will play the bucket. The locals will get shots, using this system and with Proudfoot back in form, should chalk up sufficient two pointers to take the decision.

The Greyhounds will bank heavily on Carlin, their long shooting forward and Tannehill, his clever running game.

Probable lineups:

Washington	Loyola
Carrara, f	Carlin, f
Johnson, f	Tannehill, f
Proudfoot, c	Curtis, c
Robinson, g	Nauk, g
Huey, g	Bender, g

Senior Class To Vote On Commencement Gift

The Senior Class is considering for the Annual Gift of the Graduating Class to the college a plaque engraved with a facsimile of the Hiram's crest of Washington and bearing the legend—"Washington Bicentennial 1732-1932, presented by the class of 1932." It is a product of the Hefv Jones Co.

A meeting of the class has been called for Monday in William Smith Hall by President Shriver for the purpose of voting to accept or reject the gift.

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

Editor IRVING S. ROSS
Assistant Editor Philip Wingate
Alumni Editor A. E. Howard
Society Editor W. M. A. Richards
Exchange Editor John A. Wagner

REPORTERS

Janet Atwater, Roland Bailey, Walter Branford, William Baker, Mildred Cury, Charles B. Clark, Joseph H. Freedman, Albert P. Geratis, Roland C. Ready, Annabelle Storey

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

DeWitt F. Clark, Edward F. Fitzgerald, Paul Pippin
SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES
Elizabeth Cooper, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager JOHN J. LUDDY
Assistant Business Manager Joseph B. Richards
Circulation Manager Edwin T. Coulbourn

ASSISTANTS

Louis I. Goldstein, Scott Beck, Jr.

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, FEB. 27, 1932

FRESHMAN

Now that the commotion brought on by a Freshman's refusal to carry out an edict of the Vigilance Committee and wear a dress about the college for a week, has subsided, we find that the Student Council's position has been strengthened by the support of the administration and that also, the authority of the Vigilance Committee remains unquestioned in such matters. The Freshman will carry out the original order of the Sophomore.

Now that is all very fine and as it should be, but we are beginning to question all that is back of this. Many semester hours have been worked away since these Freshmen sang "How Dry I Am" on the gymnasium steps, and during that time we have gotten to know many of them very well. And, if our memory has not deserted us the ten or twelve "rat" rules were beginning to get very tiresome to us about this time of our Freshman year. With this in mind we wonder if it is not rather foolish to still plague these men with our rather childish rules? Perhaps not all should go, for their work on the mail route, the cottages, and on other such functions is often necessary. Certainly saluting, and the wearing of caps—to mention but two—should have been disposed of before mid-year. Such is the custom in the majority of colleges where "ratting" is still preserved. Let us, too, be lenient.

STUDENT OPINION

Except for this issue THE OPEN FORUM has been noticeably lacking. This is just a reminder to the Editor that it is still open.

The restrictions are few and should not hamper anyone. The writer must be known to the editor, and his work must not contain any profane language. All contributions can be left in THE ELM office or can be handed to the editor.

A FITTING MEMORIAL

We feel sure that the entire student body as well as the Greek letter men and women are especially grateful for the establishment of two such fine prizes as the Errol L. Fox Memorial Cups for inter-sorority and inter-fraternity scholarship.

It is particularly fitting that awards for scholarship be given as a memorial to Dr. Fox who was himself an excellent scholar and a fine judge of scholastic ability in others. We have no doubt but that the awards will accomplish the aims of their giver, Mrs. Errol Fox, who hopes in this way to stimulate the scholarship of those groups whose interest Dr. Fox had ever at heart.

One nice thing about going to the electoral college is that one doesn't have to have any credits.

If it's time that every man is the architect of his own destiny, some have poor ideas of upper stories.

The greatest trouble about trying to kill two birds with one stone, is that we are very apt to miss both of them.

SLIPPERY ELM

If ever there was a dull week for news, this last one has been it. Even the full session assembly subsided.

Many of the basketball fans are looking forward to the alumni game when all the old stars lumber up their stiffened joints. That, with the Home-Coming Cottillion featuring Al Bellander's band, will make the old college wake up for awhile.

We predict that this will probably be the last year for the above orchestra as to late for it has become nationally popular. And the coffers of the Cottillion Club have very decided limits.

If the chairman of the decoration committee had the same idea of the same things that hamper all decoration chairmen we also predict that his pent house scheme will make the best decoration seen for many a moon.

What has happened to all the plans to make the Loyola game the excuse for ha cha ching in Baltimore? Is the depression or the fact that there is no longer a game here congenial enough to ha cha cha to gether, to say nothing of very noisy neeny-neeny?

And do you know that: this has been the quietest year, so the administration reports, from the standpoint of discipline; last Saturday was St. Christopher's Feast Day observed by all good church men; there is a Gamma Sigma sorority at Connecticut College as well as at our own institution; the paper being put out by the Writer's Club is the first one in the known history of the college that could be called a literary magazine; THE ELM, then THE COLLEGIAN, was printed eight times in 1928-29; Harry Russell, now connected with THE ENTERPRISE, was the first to publish the college paper in newspaper form; it was then an eight page paper; there were sororities in 1905-06; Dean Jones used to live in Reid Hall!

221 - 223 High Street
Chestertown, Maryland

JOE'S Newstand

Cigars, Cigarettes,
Soft Drinks, Newspapers.

Magazines
Of All Kinds

NEW 700 ROOM CLUB HOTEL

GRamercy
5-3840

Transient Rates $1.50 per day up, with Bath $2 up

Club life, restaurant, free swimming pool,
gym, library, spacious lounges, roof garden,
separate floors for men and women.
Six minutes from Penn or Grand Central Stations

GEORGE TURKEL, Manager

$8 to $14 Weekly

KENMORE HALL

145 EAST 23rd ST. N. Y. CITY

Just East of Lexington Avenue

RESTAURANT

For a Delicious Electric Toasted Sandwich, Special Dinners,
Regular 50c Dinners, Fancy Sundries, Ice Cream,
Sodas, Candies, Cigarettes, etc.,

Visit The

CANDY KITCHEN

(Open 6 A. M. Until 12 P. M.)

Open Forum

To The Editor of THE ELM:
Sir:

Social refinement, good taste, and proper etiquette, everyone will agree, should mark the college educated man or woman. He or she has been refined, and carefully nurtured scholastically, and when the day of graduation arrives, he is announced by the institution as being "well rounded," mentally. However, I and the others who have talked with you, believe that there is still remaining another branch, before the college can call its graduates "well rounded" men and women. That branch remains along social lines. I am sure that most of the students will agree with the writer that the greater number of those in attendance at Washington are relatively ignorant, socially speaking. Backwardness is more or less natural along these lines, and only now and then is some fortunate student made to realize the fact of his short-comings along social lines, in time for him to get down to work in making the "values" for himself.

Why shouldn't the college give a course in "Social Education," say, for want of a better name? Offhand, we might suggest this course, of one Semester, to consist of the elements of table etiquette, proper dress; proper manners when in formal and informal company; proper forms of social correspondence, elementary dancing, and other minor points. While this course might mean, the admission by some of the so called "social lights" that they still have some things to learn, it would tend to place the social status of the entire student body on a plane by far exceeding the present level.

John A. Wagner.

STOP AT THE VOSHELL HOUSE

ROOMS WITH BATH
MODERATE RATES

HERB'S
QUICK LUNCH
Sandwiches of all kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Voshell House

INTERCOLLEGIATE

From the MONTANA EXPONENT comes the following notice:

"There will be a meeting of all independent women tonight at 7:30 P. M. in Herrick Hall. All independent women are urged to be present." Take it for yourself what it means, girls. Are you independent?

A group of interested students at George Washington University is being organized into a formal club "for the inspection and intellectual enjoyment of the works of Shakespeare."

The following sign appeared in a Scotch Restaurant:

Use less sugar.
This place is no swell.
Duck your doughnuts,
But stir like _____

Editor's note: We hope the doughnuts aren't like the sugarless variety. —Drexel Frlingane.

It seems as though Swarthmore College is the only college where the coeds organize themselves into fraternities. (Brotherhoods.)

A 1932 novelty in automobile equipment is a lighter that takes the first few puffs from a cigarette. "Hugh" says the old sage, "we had a lot of those around the college for years."

—The Greyhound.

The COLBY ECHO recently appeared as the RE-ECHO edition, a number edited by the Frosh, which apparently served the purpose of giving the down-trodden boys a mythical whack at the Sophs. From the way things were written this group of Calbys, took into account the fact that the press might really have some power in their stander of their lords, the Sophs. No doubt, there was a little reception after the issue was placed in the hands of the Sophs.

THE REXAL STORE

EASTMAN KODAKS

FILMS

DEVELOPING

and

PRINTING

BY EXPERTS

DRUGS and

SUNDRIES

Of All Kinds

A. L. STERLING

The

Third National Bank

Chestertown, Md.

The Only

National Bank

In Kent County

READ THE ELM

Colonial Dress Is Style For June 11

When the bicentennial celebration of the birth of George Washington is brought to its climax here on June 11th at the joint festivities of Washington College and Kent county it will be the aim of the Committee on History, of which E. Clarke Fontaine, is chairman, to have everybody appear in colonial costumes.

This committee, which is to be a court of final authority on the authenticity of costume, has organized into sub-committees and will be very active between now and the time of the celebration. A committee on costumes has been formed and will be composed of Miss Jennie Wilkins, Mrs. W. T. Brown, Miss Leah N.

Ware and Mrs. Amy McMenamin.

A committee on the historical association of Washington with Kent county is composed of Dr. W. R. Howell, M. deK. Smith, Miss Bessie Stuart, F. H. Ruth and Morris Keene Barrell.

A committee, which will aim to arrange a museum exhibit of colonial pieces is composed of Mrs. H. G. Stine, Mrs. Edward V. Clark, Mrs. W. G. Smyth and Page Gale.

The costume committee has issued the following bulletin on colonial dress:

"The period of Washington's life is marked by great richness and extravagance in dress. Boston, New York and Philadelphia were centers of fashion.

"Materials of which costumes were made were imported: brocades, taffetas, poplins, silks and satins. Ladies adorned themselves with necklaces, flowers, aigrettes, handkerchiefs, silk gloves, mitts, satin shoes and silk hose and in winter with fur.

"Colonial gentlemen of the period wore the fashionable dress adapted from the French of 1760. The coat was straight and full skirted and the tails stiffened with buckram or wadding. Waistcoats were long, often elaborately trimmed with lace and embroidery. Shoes with square toes were giving way to the more pointed, with red heels still in vogue.

"Colonial dames wore low cut bodices. In the National Museum in Independence Hall, Philadelphia, is a costume of the period. It is of yellow damask silk looped back with narrow braid and ribbons. The bodice and edges of the skirt are edged with ruchings (double ruffles) of quink material. The dainty slippeers are of white satin.

"Powdered hair became fashionable about 1750.

"About 1755 the wattle came in high favor. These were long sashes falling to the floor and often looped in polonaise fashion to show the costly petticoat. These were made of silks and brocade, and also of muslin, dimity and other dainty fabrics. Between 1770 and 1776 quilted petticoats were in high favor.

"The little cap so fashionable in Washington's administration dates back to colonial times. It was made of laces and fine gauze and remained in vogue for nearly half a century.

"Distinguishing characteristics of colonial dress.

"WOMEN. The hooped petticoat, the pointed bodice, the fichu, and the little cap.

"MEN. Straight long coat, elaborate long waistcoat, knee breeches, low shoes with buckles."

ADDRESSES ROTARY

Dr. Esther M. Dole addressed the Chestertown Rotary Club Monday evening at its celebration of the bicentennial of Washington's birth.

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store

Where Your Dollar

Has More Cents

"Sure, they Taste Better"

LIKE TO HEAR A REALLY GOOD RADIO PROGRAM?

● Tonight... tune in on the Chesterfield broadcast at 10:30 Eastern Standard Time and listen to music by Nat Shilkret's Orchestra and Alex Gray, popular baritone. It's on the Columbia Network every night, except Sunday.

● "I'm sort of restless... always on the lookout for something that hits the old taste spot... and clicks! But I've noticed that I never get tired of Chesterfields. They always taste better to me.

"That can't be an accident. It stands to reason... a cigarette that always tastes better... has got to be made better. You know what I mean... purer materials... more up-to-date ways of working. I'm willing to bet that's why my last Chesterfield of the day is as mild and satisfying as the first!"

Lacrosse Starts At Washington

George Ekaitis Is New Head Coach Here

By Charles B. Clark

The official Lacrosse season at Washington College opened during the past week, marking the beginning of the fourth year of the old Indian game at the Shore Institution.

The Spring Sport will be under the supervision of Coach George Ekaitis, who put on three years as player, at Western Maryland College, and who, during his Senior year, 1931, netted as player-coach. It might be remarked that his team last year scored a 4 to 1 victory over Washington, then coached by "Gus" Grothers, former University of Maryland star.

Games have been scheduled with the three strongest teams in the country, St. John's, Maryland, and Hopkins. Other contests with the University of Virginia, Lafayette, Swarthmore, and Western Maryland will follow team to team in our class of competition.

The squad has suffered greatly from graduation and withdrawals from college. Captain Karginfing was with him only Robinson, Gamble, J. Williams, Gerstis, and Reichard and Plummer as letter men of last season.

Coach Ekaitis should find some good material from among the players of last year's squad: Willie Carey, Hall, Pippin, M. Williams, Morris, Trapp, Dobbin, Harris, Charley Clark, Burkhardt, and Kankak. What the Freshman class has to say is yet unknown.

Lacrosse is the true American game and ideal for colleges.

French explores found Indians playing a game which they named "lacrosse" because of the stick, or "Crosse" they used to hurl the ball resembled a cross. It was a sport which tested endurance and required great stamina. Goals then consisted of a single post, which when struck by the Lacrosse ball, signified the scoring of a goal. These posts were anywhere from three to five miles apart, and games lasted for several days in many cases.

The sport progressed rather slowly and not until about 1800 was there intercollegiate competition. From then on, and especially during the last ten years, great progress has been made. An Intercollegiate Association consisting of about twenty teams has been formed, and changes in rules, eliminating some of the danger, it formerly had, have been put in effect. In 1928 the United States was represented at the Olympic games, played in Amsterdam, by Johns Hopkins University of Baltimore.

The State of Maryland leads as the center of Lacrosse and for the past three years, St. John's College of Annapolis, has been the National Champion. The latter last June defeated Canada in an international series.

Washington Wins In Overtime Contest Here

Playing one of the best brands of basket ball, it has displayed all year, the Flying Pentagon defeated a powerful Swarthmore quintet by a 40 to 35 count in an overtime contest played in the Washington gymnasium, Feb. 15. At the end of the regular game time the score was deadlocked at 32 all, but the Kiblerites proved better men down the stretch than did the Pennsylvaniaans.

The game opened fast and the Flying Pentagon, led by Hodgson, playing at forward, soon had a pretty big lead over the Little Quakers. However, Swarthmore's big center then began to work his favorite bucket shot with telling effect and at the end of the half, the count stood at 16 to 15 in favor of the Kiblerites. The lead shifted back and forth in the second half, with long shots playing a big part. Percy dropped one in from outside, with about two minutes to play to give the locals a lead which they lost a few seconds later, as the Pennsylvania's center again counted to tie the score. The game ended the regular game as Carozza's long shot bounced off the basket.

After the two minutes rest, the local score was fast as Carozza slung two long ones and dribbled through the Swarthmore defense to make a nice under-the-basket shot for Proudfoot. The game ended with the ball in Washington's possession.

Faculty And Seniors Lead Hall And Class Leagues

The Faculty and Seniors have virtually clinched the championships of the Hall and Class Leagues, respectively. Both of these teams have won all of their games so far, defeating every other team in their league at least once. The ranking of the clubs is as follows:

Class League	Wen	Lost
Seniors	6	0
Sophomores	3	3
Freshmen	3	3
Juniors	0	6
Hall League	Wen	Lost
Faculty	5	0
West Hall	3	2
A. K. K.	3	3
Mid Hall	3	3
Phi Sigma Tau	2	4
Phi Sigma Phi	1	5

A Special Lace To Toe Athletic Keds For Women's Gym Work.

Harry F. Jefferson

Students Will Find Our Store a Very Desirable Place To Visit

TOULSON'S Drug Store

Phones—26 and 311

BASKETBALL CAPT. OF '31 HELD UP AND ROBBED Flying Pentagon, 34-14

Ed Stevens, '31, captain of last year's basketball team, was a victim of four armed bandits who made off with the work and records of the EKO Palace Theatre, Columbus, Ohio, last Sunday night, where he is employed as assistant manager. The loss was estimated at $4000.

The Johnny's were being taken to the safe in Stevens's office, with a police guard, when the hold-up was staged. Stevens was forced to open the vault after the bandits got the cash from the cashier. The officer's gun was part of the loot.

The thieves took the phone from the wall and left in quiet order at the conclusion of their theft.

Sports Notions

By Phillip J. Wingate

Washington College's present Flying Pentagon once more demonstrated that it is headed for surprises. After playing great basketball against Swarthmore and Mt. St. Mary's, the locals travelled over to Annapolis and allowed St. John's to romp away with an easy victory. Against Mt. St. Mary's and Swarthmore, the Kiblerites were a bunch of fast moving, hard fighting basketballers. They played of the fast cutting style of game that is Coach Kibler's favorite and in general looked like worthy successors to the captains that have made Washington College famous for its great basket ball teams. Games like these and the second half of the St. John's game over here made it hard for Washington backers to believe that the Jehnemies could out-class the Flying Pentagon so badly as they apparently did over in Crabtown.

The game with Loyola to be played tonight should be a victory for the Flying Pentagon. When these two teams meet, no matter where, or what the conditions, cage fans realize that they will see a hard fought game with plenty of good basketball scattered about in generous portions. Both Loyola and Washington have played some great games of basket ball this season and likewise both have enjoyed some nights that were decidedly spotty.

The Flying Pentagon defeated the Greyhounds down here earlier in the season by a margin of ten points and, with the Kibler system against a zone defense in use, should be able to repeat. However, it is well known that the locals play more consistently before a friendly crowd, although Washington backers declare the locals will need nothing to urge them to play their best against their arch rivals, the Jesuits.

After A Studious Day

Relax at

JIM'S and HICK'S

Billiard Parlor

READ THE ELM

ANNAPOIS.—St. John's brought its long range guns into play here Tuesday night and used them effectively in securing trouncing the Washington College quintet by a 34 to 14 score and thereby avenging a 26 to 23 defeat administered by the Shoremen earlier in the season.

Washington was never dangerous last night and after Johnson had led the first double-decker of the game to mare the lead for the Shoremen St. John's opened up with its first attack, went ahead by a score of 8 to 2 and never relinquished the lead.

The Johnny scoring came, McCarter and Carpenter, were completely smothered by the Washington guards, Robinson and Huey. The Chesterton defensive players allowed the St. John's luminaries to divide one lone foul goal for their total score of the evening. But while the Johnny players were being held in check by the tight defensive play of the Washington guards the St. John's centers and forwards were indulging in a first class scoring spree.

St. John's took no chances of Washington staging a second half rally like the one which snatched an apparent victory from the arms of the Orange and Black live at Chesterton and put on full pressure in the second half.

St. John's	G	F	T
Captain, f	0	1	1
McCarter, f	0	0	0
Ziegler, c	4	2	3
Pender, c	1	0	2
Lots, c	4	2	4
Sanford, g	4	0	1
Cassius, g	1	2	3
Morris, g	0	0	0
Total	14	6	13

Washington	G	F	T
Carozza, f	1	3	3
Fitzgerald, f	0	0	0
Hodgson, f	0	0	0
Markham, f	0	0	0
Johnson, c	1	0	2
Proudfoot, c	1	1	2
Robinson, g	0	1	1
Gambler, g	0	1	2
Huey, g	1	0	2
Grisin, g	0	2	2
Ward, g	0	0	0
Total	4	6	13

Score by halves:
St. John's 19—24
Washington 8—14
Referee—Paul Menton. Time of halves—20 minutes.

When Traveling Use The BALTIMORE-TOLCHSTER FERRY

Direct Route From The Eastern Shore To The Heart of Baltimore

For Passengers, Automobiles and Trucks—LOW RATES.

For information—Phone Chesterton 810-F3; Baltimore Plaza 8165.

TOLCHSTER COMPANY

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149 C. W. Kibler & Sons

Chestertown, Maryland

The Dulany-Vernoy Co.

337-339-341 North Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest Art China, Leather Goods, Toys, Books, Athletic Equipment

Mounts Fall Before Kiblerites

Captain Robinson Sinks Winning Goal

The Flying Pentagon avenged its defeat at the hands of Mt. St. Mary's, earlier in the season, by forcing the Mounts to take the short end of a 28 to 20 score in a thrilling basket ball game played in the local gymnasium, Friday, Feb. 19th. Capt. Robinson was the big cog in Washington's wheel and climaxed his brilliant work throughout the game by sinking the winning field goal with less than a minute to play.

The game was fiercely fought and the lead shifted several times during the contest. At the end of the half Washington had an comfortable lead, but the Mounts opened up a fierce attack at the start of the second half and in a short time were in the front by a margin of 8 points. Joe Lynch led the visitors with a brilliant assortment of tricky passing and fine outside shooting.

With the score 23 to 15 against them, the Kiblerites came to life with a rush and started bombarding the Mounts in earnest. On two plays from out of bounds under the visitor's basket, Capt. Robinson blocked off his man and rang up two quick double-deckers. Huey sank a foul and Johnson robbed the Flying Pentagon back into the thick of the fight again with a two-pointer from the edge of the foul circle. Shortly after, Hodgson sent the ball near his own goal and started a furious dribble down the court, with two Mounts pursuing him. He was fouled as he shot and made good one of his two free tosses to tie the score.

Mt. St. Mary's missed a foul shot and a moment later Capt. Robinson ended the scoring with a field goal. The spectators were still standing and cheering frantically as the gun fired.

Students Of Washington College A Safe Place To Deal THE STAM DRUG CO. Everything in Drugs

Prescriptions Filled by Registered Pharmacists Only

A Full Line of School Supplies Whitman's Candy Cigars and Tobacco

ADVERTISE IN THE ELM

The Chestertown Bank of Maryland Bank of Service

Branches at Galena, Kennedyville, Betterton

Main Branch Chestertown, Maryland 4% On Savings 4%

WE KNOW

What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price

You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style centers.

You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.

Your clothes will meet every wish you demand of them.

BORDLEY & SON

ADVERTISE IN THE ELM

Alpha Kappas Hold Formal

"Reds" Moffett's Washingtonians Furnish Music

Saturday evening, February 26th, marked the presentation of the Thirtieth Annual Dance given by the Active Chapter of the Alpha Kappa Fraternity, at Reid Hall. The event had as its Patrons and Patronesses, Miss Margaret Brewer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank V. Simpser, Dr. and Mrs. Harry G. Simpser, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Usilton, and Mrs. Mae C. Wood.

Both lounges of Reid Hall were attractively decorated, each presenting a different effect. Entrance to the dance floor was gained between two gaily bedecked pillars of color, beneath a suspended Alpha Kappa banner. Each window presented a solid triangle of black and gold, having, in one lounge, a rainbow background of graduated colors in pastel shades, and in the second lounge, a background of brilliant colors, forming a conception of futuristic design. The "Washingtonians," under the direction of "Reds" Moffett, played from a rectangular shaped pavilion of many shades and hues, and were barely visible through a hanging veil of royal purple and silver.

Over the mantel of the fire-place, the A. K. Triangle, surmounted by its Shell and Cross-Bones, was thrown into relief against the red brick of the chimney wall by effective indirect lighting.

The returning Alpha Kappa Alumni named among their number, Emerson Russell, '25; Vernon Kirby, '27; Fred W. Dumschott, '27; Charles Smith, '28; Patrick J. Schnauffer, '28; Harry Poole, '29; James Marvel, '29; George Carrington, '29; William B. Usilton, '29; Stanley Gerstlin, '30; Thomas Worther, '30; Eric Wood, '30; Nelson Hurley, '31; and Victor Hollingsworth, '31.

Y. W. C. A. PLANS DISCUSSION OF DEPRESSION

That the Young Women's Christian Association of Washington College will hold its weekly discussion, in Reid Hall tonight, was announced on the bulletin board today.

The discussion is entitled "Depression."

JUST UP THE ROAD AT SCHAUBER'S

For Delicious
ICE CREAM, MILK,
CAKES, SANDWICHES,
CANDIES, DRINKS and
TOBACCO of all kinds

Phone 330

ADVERTISE IN THE ELM

GILL BROS.
ICE CREAM
Dainties
Assorted Blocks

BOOK REVIEWS

"Voltaire" by Theddeus is a colorful study of the great Frenchman. Subtitled "genius of Mockery" it reveals quite intimately the cynic at the height of his career, when "tyrants and tyrants turned pale at his name."

Another fascinating book is "Quiet Street" by Ossorgin. It is a Russian story with a mystery, told in a delightful manner.

"Easter Island" by Cosey is a travel book dealing with adventures in the islands in the South Pacific. It reveals for the first time the secrets of one of the world's most mysterious cultures, half occidental, half oriental.

Rilaine Bellois' biography of "Wob" the phenomenon of the 16th Century, attempts to establish the character and motives of the churchman, who figured so prominently during the reign of Henry VIII.

Van Loon's "R. V. R." is a detailed account of the last years and death of the celebrated painter and etcher Rembrandt. It discusses quite freely the great tragedy of the Dutch genius, who met with failure during his own life time, but who is today considered one of the world's greatest artists.

Another interesting book is "Ancient Civilizations of the Andes" by Houts. This book gives accurate accounts of the South American civilizations, that have been hidden from us for several centuries. By far the most remarkable, is the glamorous Incan Civilization, which is treated at length.

"Napoleon and His Family" by Geer, is a detailed account of the laws of the French Emperor, and shows quite simply the married influence of his brothers and sisters over him. The book attempts to account for the downfall of the man "best endowed by picture, and the best served by Destiny, that History has ever known."

"Plume of the Avonron" by Ackerson is a story of the life and customs of the New Zealand natives, particularly of the Maori tribe, a mysterious people, about whom little is known.

"Highway Into Spain" by Arosean is an account of travels on foot through Modern Spain. The book transports to the reader the feeling of all the magnificence and grandeur of romantic Spain, and at the same time the simplicity of the life of the peasant class.

Try the new style Drinkies
KAY WOODIE
Initials Extra
UNITED CIGAR STORES
Sales—Agency

THE PEOPLES BANK

Commercial

and

Savings

Accounts

Rock Hall

Chestertown

ALBERT L. WHEAT

"The Young Men's Shop"

Chestertown, Maryland

CLOTHING

SHOES

HABERDASHERY

The Emerson Hotel Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled

Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

DEL-MAR-VA RESTAURANT

—FOR—

AFTER DANCE LUNCHEONS
AND REGULAR MEALS

Freshman Lounge In Preparation

Located At Rear Of Dormitory

After two months of steady work the new lounge room in West Hall is about to be completed. This addition is a long felt need for the residing Freshmen, who heretofore have had no general recreation hall. To be sure they are eagerly awaiting the opening, as it means many pleasant hours at home. The lounge is located in the rear of the West Hall building. It will be a great improvement to the school, and will better the living conditions of the freshmen to a great degree.

PAUL and SAM
Quality and Service
SHOE REPAIRING
Next To Sterlings Drug
Store
Chestertown, Maryland

READ THE ELM

QUALITY SPORTING GOODS
Catalog on Request

McCallisters

Est. 1894
124 W. Baltimore St.
Baltimore, Maryland

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students
Offers Complete Line of Conklin and Wahl Pens and Pencils. Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationary,
And School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

"Greetings!"
"Greet!"
"Happy!"
"Yah!"
"Gul fren?"
"Yah!"
"Sue here?"
"Nopes!"
"How eum?"
"Telephone!"
"Long Distance?"
"Yah, cheep!"

LOW EVENING AND NIGHT RATES
ON STATION-TO-STATION CALLS
Evening (Between 7 p.m. and 6:30 p.m.)
15% to 20% lower than day rates.
Night (Between 6:30 p.m. and 6:30 a.m.)
40% to 50% lower than day rates.

These reductions apply on all rates above 30c

The Chesapeake and Potomac
Telephone Company
of Baltimore City
(Bell System)

Society Notes

Dr. Gertrude V. Ingalls entertained the cast of "Romeo and Juliet," at dinner, Tuesday, February the twenty-third, at the Belhaven Inn. After the dinner the cast organized into the "Shakespeare Players" whose purpose it shall be to sponsor a Shakespearean play every year at the college.

The annual banquet of the Mount Vernon Literary Society commemorating its eighty-fifth anniversary of its organization will be held in the College Gymnasium Saturday night, March the twelfth. Many of the Alumni are expected back for it.

Among the visitors here for the week end were Miss Mary Egan Roberts and Miss Ursula Ward, Cumberland; Miss Joy Casady, Hood College; Miss Chase Hill and Miss Dorothy Clark, Baltimore and Miss Clara McGill, of Mount Royal, New Jersey.

Dr. J. S. William Jones visited in Washington over the week end.

PHI SIGMA PHI NOTES

The fraternity is pleased to announce that Dr. Kenneth F. Buxton has become an honorary member.

Mr. John L. Bond, '30, was the week end guest of the fraternity.

Mr. Franklin K. Cooper, '30, who is now a student at the University of Maryland Law School visited here over the week end.

Mr. James L. Nicklin, Washington, D. C., was a visitor.

Mr. William McA. Richards is spending this week end at the home of Mr. Joseph Mooney, Baltimore.

Mr. William Norris was here for the Mt. St. Mary's game Friday night.

Mr. Richard P. Chambers is spending the week end at his home in Baltimore. It is expected that he will attend the game at Evergreen.

GAMMA SIGMA NOTES

The Gamma Sigma Society regrets that one of its members, Miss Emory Lou Le Kites, has withdrawn from college. We wish her much success in the work which she will enter.

KAPPA GAMMA NOTES

A tea was given by the Kappa Gamma Sorority in the Kappa Gamma room, Reid Hall, on Sunday, February 14. Mrs. William R. Howell was guest of honor.

Mrs. Howell has accepted an invitation to become a hostess of the sorority.

Among the Alumnae attending the A. K. Fraternity Dance were the Misses Naudine Moore, Betty Sutton, Berice Wooters, Elizabeth Baker and Dorothy Simmons.

SIGMA TAU DELTA NOTES

Three new members have recently been initiated into the society. They are Elizabeth Jones, Katharine Bishop and Evelyn Roe.

MT. VERNON TO HOLD BANQUET MARCH 12

The Mount Vernon Literary Society of Washington College will hold its annual banquet in the Cafeteria on Saturday, March 12, at 10 P. M. A varied program and delightful menu, the latter under the supervision of Miss Pontz and a menu committee, await the members and the guests that each may bring.

Activity has characterized the program committee. Mr. T. H. Deen Knight, '28, has consented to be the toastmaster of the occasion. Mr. John I. Coulbourn, of Philadelphia, will in all probability be the principal speaker. Short addresses will be made by Alumni of varying years, among whom will be Kenneth Douly, '31. Dean Jones has been invited to speak on the program. He is to be key; Ticket—P. Pippin, chairman, T. remembered as one of the staunchest Chapman, S. Herrera, K. Bailey, and supporters of the Mount Vernon. C. Rogers; Menu and Decoration—

The committees in charge of the G. Council, chairman, E. Jewell, W. banquet are: Program—M. Covey, Richards, C. Clark, M. Noble and J. chairman, E. Tiltworth and R. Beach. Atwater.

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE

366 Park Row

MAKES YOUR BEAUTY SCINTILLATE

for the coming-out party, the "Frit" dance, the formal dinner or the ball of balls.

Our Beautician's many years of experience as a beauty adviser have taught her the "finishing touches" that emphasize beauty by concealing every blemish that might otherwise mar the loveliness that every fastidious woman covets.

Join the ranks of the Park Row Beauty Shoppe's large clientele. Our cultures are always smartly becoming, and our facial and make-up treatments not only tone the skin for the newest colors but also accentuate one's best features.

Phone 334

By Appointment

Copyright 1931
The American Tobacco Co.

"Now I use LUCKIES only"

"I have had to smoke various brands of cigarettes in pictures, but it was not until I smoked LUCKIES that I discovered the only cigarettes that did not irritate my throat. Now I use LUCKIES only. The added convenience of your improved Cellophane wrapper that opens so easily is grand."

Sue Carol

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough
And Moisture-Proof Cellophane Keeps that "Toasted" Flavor Ever Fresh

TUNE IN ON LUCKY STRIKE—60 modern minnows with the world's finest dance orchestras and Walter Winchell, whose gossip of today becomes the news of tomorrow, every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evening over N. B. C. networks.

Treat Your Hair Kindly!
The delicate beauty of your hair deserves your most tender care. Let us show you how to preserve and develop its natural loveliness.

Gray's Beauty
SALON

1 home 106

CHESTERD Vn, MARYLAND

National Unemployment Committee Will Investigate College Conditions Here

BOULCOURNE CAMPAIGN MGR. DENIES SHOE RUMOURS

As counter propaganda, the "Boulcourn Campaign" it was circulated that as a child he had patronized English shoe companies.

MacDoom, Boulcourn Campaign Manager, said in protest of the reports:

"It was I, myself, that first put shoes on Boulcourn, the People's man, the Beer Bottle's Friend. Well, do I remember that exciting day. For two weeks he had been lying and roaring about the coral in which we had caged him after his capture from a tree in the heart of dismal swamp. He was only a kid—not a devil. My hearted love for him as the men approached to first tie shoes on him. He was going to college. In a trice he was hog tied and in much less than twice (excuse my impetuosity) the shoes were on. And gentlemen, they were American shoes! Boulcourn was off to college in a cloud of dust only stopping to show the less unfortunate his new possessions. My, my, how that boy took to shoes. Even his old Manny could see it! 'Mama Boulcourn,' she said, 'You ought to wear them more. You'd do look good in shoes.'"

"And, gentlemen, let me add that a vote for Boulcourn is a vote for Boulcourn!"

PEOPLE'S CHOICE

O. U. Boulcourn
(At a Tender Age)

The above picture shows O. U. Boulcourn as he appeared when first caught.

PAGEANT HEAD VOTED ON; 1 CANDIDATE DROWNS

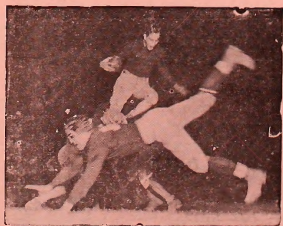

Voting was held today after a heavy week of campaigning for the student to take the part of George Washington in the coming celebration.

Col. Lee Well, was expected to win by a nose, the other candidate's profile having been spoilt by an opposition tomahawk in the Braddock's Defeat pageant.

The third candidate was eliminated

early in the race when he was drowned when a Freshman, who was the crew in his self staged pageant of Crossing the Delaware, stepped to wade to a coed and he was pitched into the Chatter.

Coed excitement ran high as the place of Martha in the Washington at Home pageant had not as yet been chosen.

Picture shows Washington Candidate being thrown into river at the end of Delaware Crossing Pageant. Rescuers can be seen in the foreground with co-ed in background. It is difficult to see the freshman, tanned as he was from the summer suns and being at the time the picture was taken on the bottom of the river.

NEWS FLASHES

(EDITORS' NOTE)—Below is found the only serious news in the paper this week. For the most part we have been asked to put these items in our columns.

Mt. Vernon Plans Banquet

The annual banquet of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society, which marks the eighty-fifth birthday of the oldest literary society in the State of Maryland, will be held in the college commons tonight. The banquet will be served by the ByKota Club of the Chesterman M. E.

Y. M. C. A. Brings Speaker

Mr. T. H. Owen Knight, class of '25, a prominent alumnus and a former President of the Mt. Vernon, will act as toastmaster. Dr. William R. Howell will be the principal speaker.

Mr. Virgil Lowder, head of the Y. M. C. A. at the University of Maryland, will address the local Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. groups on Thursday, March 17 in Reid Hall. The public is invited.

Tennis Courts Planned

Work will begin on two new tennis courts as soon as the weather permits, it was announced here today by the administration.

The courts will be located directly in back of the Phi Sigma Phi house in line with the present playing surfaces.

Frelie Held Tonight

There will be a Frelie in Reid Hall tonight immediately following the Alumni game.

A blue coat, with brown gloves, a scarf and a pen in the pocket, was left by mistake in the cloak room in the Gym last night. The initials on the pen are E. A. R. It is now held in the Phi Sigma Phi house.

To All Seniors:—

Interest in any of the numerous activities on the campus is a minus quantity. There are a few persons who would like to see members of our campus community take a progressive and aggressive policy instead of a lifeless, spineless policy such as has been manifest in collective activities so far. This is nowhere more noticeable than in the present Senior Class. The few who take any interest get no support from the class as a whole and are usually condemned as trying to put something shady over on the rest of the class. If you want to just graduate this is all right, but if you want to amount to something as a class, please give some support and a little of your valuable time to those who are using up quite a lot of their time, which, by the way, is just as valuable as yours, in trying to make the class a real class and not just a group of lifeless individuals. Can't we make our graduation mean more than getting a sheepskin handed to us on June 11th?

Harold D. Shriver.

Reporters Sent To Study Queer Natives In The College Vicinity

The National Committee for the Relief of the Unemployed today assailed Washington College, located on the good of untold shore for harboring a band of unemployed.

Reporters were immediately sent to the college to check on the statement. Little of fact was obtained. Several young men loitering about the buildings were found and when their subject was overborne by gifts of big

FACULTY COMMENT ON UNEMPLOYMENT REPORT

When interviewed, Beon Dones said: "It is false, quite false. Why it was only a few days ago that a boy came to me and said: 'Beon Dones, I have worked, I have worked!'"

Aides and Mencken were accused of sending forth the false news by Dr. Wowell and by the local press in an extra which was the cause of the collapse of two employees and a score of readers.

Bishop Dickard said, when found at his ecclesiastical home, "Horror. It can't be true."

On being questioned on the matter Prof. E. B. Wingle said "Now the Greeks, they had a word for it."

BEAN'S CABINET MEETS

The meeting was called to order and it was resolved that there be no more meetings. It was moved, seconded, and passed that there be no more meetings.

The members of the cabinet were carried off on the shoulders of the cheering crowds that had been waiting outside the meeting. After marching them around the town square the crowd adjourned to the river.

Y. W. C. A. AND Y. M. C. A. HOLD DISCUSSION GROUP

Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. hold joint meeting to discuss "Repression," a continuance of their talk some weeks ago entitled "Depression." The above picture shows the happy group deep in controversy (argument to you).

red apples they were questioned. "What building is this?" they were asked. After a furtive consultation one of their number replied: "We all call it Middle Hink, but you all can call it what you all want to if you all give us all another big red apple."

"It is true that you all don't work here," said the reporter quickly falling into the diatribe from which he was saved by his fellow newsmen.

(He will be buried at the old reporter home.)

"Now," said one of the natives, "we just go over yonder to them their classes and sit. Or else we just sit yet."

"Do you know that the National Government is after you?"

"Who's them?"

"Don't show your ignorance Pete, there's the guys what live up there in Washington." "Now we didn't know."

No other results were obtained by the R. I. men.

SPECIAL

No word heard from reporters sent on Washington unemployment story.

SPECIAL

Reporters believed missing.

SPECIAL

Reporters sent on Washington now! s'ory heard from. Telegram reads: "Resign. This is the softest cake struck yet." You all ought to come down yet."

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

Editor
Assistant Editor
Alumni Editor
Society Editor
Exchange Editor

IRVING S. ROSS
Philip Wingate
A. E. Howard
W. McKa. Richards
John A. Wagner

REPORTERS

Janet Atwater, Roland Bailey, Walter Branford, William Baker, Mildred Covey, Charles B. Clark, Joseph H. Freeman, Albert P. Geratis, Roland C. Ready, Annabelle Storey

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

DeWitt F. Clark, Edward F. Fitzgerald, Paul Pippin

SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES

Elizabeth Cooper, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager
Assistant Business Manager
Circulation Manager

JOHN J. LUDDY
Joseph B. Dickerson
Edwin T. Coulbourn

ASSISTANTS

Louis I. Goldstein, Scott Beck, Jr.

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year.

Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, MARCH 12, 1932

The staff is included in the humor edition.

FOR THOSE WHO LAUGH LAST

This is, allegedly, a humour edition of THE WASHINGTON ELM. If it isn't funny, please remember it is hard to be funny when you're trying to get out an edition of THE ELM. No personal offense is meant towards anyone. Excuse it please; we all have our weak moments.

EDITORIAL

Now the idea of this editorial is to get you to read all the way down the page, as you are doing now, only to find that, after you have read all the way down, as you are doing now, we really weren't going to say anything at all

Ha. Ha! We must have our little joke!
Hold your fire men.)

INTER-COAL-LEG-LATE

Word has just reached us from the famous Zikville College, that there has been invented an automatic Bull shooting machine for use at Bull Sessions. Several of these were placed together in the same room, and witnesses stated that the combined voices seemed to be as realistic as the bull sessions they had heard way back at Washington.

The "Farthest Y U Collegian" reports that hot air from the earth (especially over certain local places such as Ch—n) keeps the school warm on coldest days. In fact it is so full of hot air, that we have received a fresh shipment of palm leaves.

Latest inventions from Ooskville College. Double sharp knives for cutting college cooked beef; Automatic cigarette passing-around machines for use in fraternity houses. Necking machines (several models); Folding remote seats for use in college where auto—just ain't allowed; Double refracting prismatic eyeglasses to enable student to look at crib, and professor at the same time; College friends, we believe that you have benefited by these inventions and if you have, please write in care of the ELM, in care of your bull shagger, Joe Oosk at the College at Ooskville. He will send you the latest line of everything for the Kollegiate Kollege Kowboy for he and his Kid. More news to be given later. Until tomorrow, March 32, Thank you! until tomorrow night, Thank you!!

HEART ACHES

By DOROTHY FIX

Dear Dorothy Fix—

My boy friends became embarrassed when some one walked in the Willow Hall lounge. Does this man his ardor is cooling?

bashful Heart.

Dear Bashful Heart—

No, he was probably only protecting the trade secrets.

Dear Dorothy Fix—

What would happen if the boy friend, who is very good-looking and strong, suddenly got muscle bound?

Anxious.

Dear Anxious—

I can answer in full on receipt of your boy-friend's address.

CUTEST SAYING DEPT.

(THE Elanette will say one dol for her baby's cutest saying)

One day I had baby out for a ride. I said, "Will baby give papa a kiss?" And baby said, "Why didn't you say that an hour ago. Where you been hiding that gin? And my baby is only nineteen. Isn't she cute?"

PAUL and SAM

Quality and Service
SHOE REPAIRING
Next To Sterlings Drug Store
Chestertown, Maryland

Try the new style Drinkless
KAYWOODIE

Initials Extra
UNITED CIGAR STORES
Sole Agent—Agency

ADVERTISEMENTS

LOST—Horse with white spots, a taste for rye for one job. Easy Neighs with a Southern accent. Call terms, no questions asked. By name and he will follow. Return P. O. Box, 1187.

FOR SALE—1931 Washington diploma. Good condition, fine Latin, no assortment of names. Solicited. Can be exchanged—plus ten cents, anywhere for cup of coffee.

MISSING—Professor who gave assignment over holidays. If found do not return. Reward.

FOUND—Course offered in college catalogue, nice selection. Reward expected.

WILL trade one diploma, four notebooks, book of college yells, and REWARD—Chapel speaker. Description—big mouth, large lungs. Wanted on three charges—Reading "I," talking after bell, and hollering to awaken sleepers. Substantial reward is offered for not returning him.

For Better COAL SERVICE
Phone 149
C. W. Kibler & Sons
Chestertown, Maryland

Students Of
Washington College
A Safe Place To Deal
THE STAM DRUG CO.
Everything in Drugs

Prescriptions Filled by Registered Pharmacists
Only

A Full Line of
School Supplies
Whitman's Candy
Cigars and Tobacco

The Chestertown
Bank of Maryland
Bank of Service

Branches at
Galena, Kennedyville,
Betterton

Main Branch
Chestertown, Maryland
3 1/2% ON SAVINGS

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE

326 Park Row
MAKES YOUR BEAUTY SCINTILLATE
for the coming-out party, the "frat" dance, the formal dinner or the ball of balls.

Our Beautician's many years of experience as a beauty adviser have taught her the "finishing touches" that emphasize beauty by correcting every blemish that might otherwise mar the loveliness that every fastidious woman covets.

Join the ranks of the Park Row Beauty Shoppe's large clientele. Our coiffures are always smartly becoming, and our facial and make-up treatments not only tone the skin for the newest colors but also accentuate one's best features.

Phone 334 By Appointment

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students
Offers Complete Line of Konkin and Wahl Pens and Pencils. Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery, and School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

DEL-MAR-VA RESTAURANT

—FOR—
AFTER DANCE LUNCHEONS
AND REGULAR MEALS

The Emerson Hotel

Baltimore
Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled

Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

College's Friend Studies Theory

Dr. Schauder Investigates
Relativity

The Einstein theory of relativity is still a very profound subject and up to the present, only one person on the Eastern Shore has shown any proficiency in interpreting it. Dr. Adam C. Schauder, who has for many years been directly or indirectly connected with Washington College, is the honored man representing the Eastern Shore in the field of relativity. Dr. Schauder has been conducting intermittent classes on the fourth dimension for some time and as an association has held light lectures to his students. After several years of painstaking statistics gathering on the subject of the relative density of college students with respect to the rest of the world's population, Dr. Schauder recently stated that he is now preparing to publish his new book, entitled, "Why College Students are so Bored." Dr. Schauder is understood to have received considerable personal fun while doing research work on this subject.

VISITS COLLEGE

Princess Eugenie

Princess Eugenie appeared on the campus last night showing the latest creations from Piccadilly.

RUMOUR DENIED

CHESTERTOWN, (DP)—The rumour that a professor had received an offer to pose for a mountaineer cap advertisement was denied here today by officials of the institution.

WE KNOW What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style centers.

You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.

Our clothes will meet every thing you demand of them.

BORDLEY & SON

ADVERTISE IN THE ELM

The Dalany-Vernay Co.

337-339-341 North
Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest

Art China, Leather Goods,
Toys, Books, Athletic
Equipment

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store

Where Your Dollar

Has More Cents

After A Stodious Day

Relax at

JIM'S and HICK'S

Billiard Parlor

Students Will Find Our

Store a Very Desirable

Place To Visit

TOULSON'S

Drug Store

Phones—26 and 311

Now You Can Have
Your Wish!

How many times since you were a little girl you have wished your hair were curly! Now, like a miracle, your wish can come true with lasting joy in the perfection of our expert permanent wave.

Gray's Beauty

SALON

Phone 106

CHESTERTOWN, MARYLAND

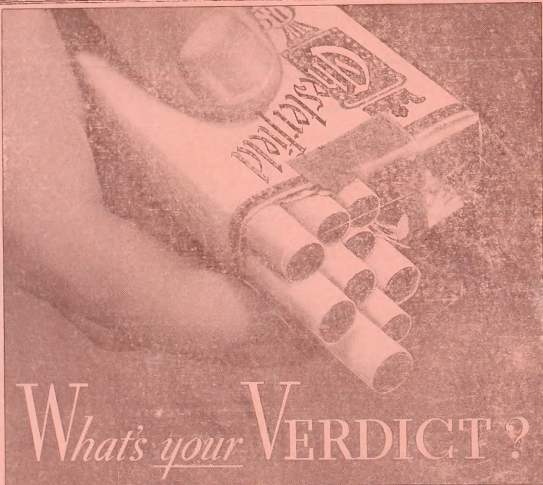

A Special Lace To-The-Toe Athletic Keds for Women's Gym Work.

Harry F. Jefferson

NOLAND'S
Department Store

Get anything you want from Dry Goods to School Supplies.

© 1932, LAMAR & PERRY TOBACCO CO.

Light up... Convince Yourself that Chesterfields Satisfy

FLIP OPEN a pack of Chesterfields! Help yourself to a cigarette...Light up...and let's get the facts.

Mister...you're dead right. They're milder!

It's no secret in tobacco circles that Chesterfield buys the finest tobaccos that grow...Turkish and Domestic...sun-ripened, mellow, pure!

Chesterfields are blended first... then cross-blended... to make them milder... and milder still! There's no mistaking that rare balance of flavor built up by Cross-Blending. You enjoy it in every fragrant puff!

Even the cigarette paper is different. Cleaner, whiter, tasteful... the purest that money can buy.

Listen, smokers... this is straight. You can't put taste in a cigarette... unless quality goes in, too.

● Pass your verdict on Chesterfield's Radio Program, too! Nat Shilkret's 35-piece Orchestra with Alex Gray, soloist, are on the Columbia Network every night except Sunday, at 10:30 Eastern Standard Time.

THEY'RE Milder • • THEY'RE Pure • • THEY TASTE BETTER • • They Satisfy

VOL. XXXI. NO. 10.

SATURDAY, APRIL 9, 1932

PRICE TEN CENTS

WOMEN SEEK EQUAL RIGHTS

Mrs. H. W. Wylie Speaks At Assembly

"It is suitable in a college that bears the name of Washington to have a discussion of equal rights," said Mrs. H. W. Wylie, Chairman of the Council of Women's Party of Washington, D. C., in her address before the student body on the "History of the Equal Rights Movement" at the March 31 assembly.

That the new economic order throughout the country has brought about changes that necessitate doing away with the old common law belief in man's superiority, was the text of Mrs. Wylie's speech. She also emphasized the slogan of the Women's Party: "To secure equal opportunities for men and women, and to do a service to the country."

On the subject of protective labor legislation Mrs. Wylie said: "We are trying to reconcile the old idea of the new needs when such legislation is passed. Protection should be extended to individuals in industry. There should be no distinction shown between the sexes."

"The profound changes in one life span prove to us that these laws, based on the old ideas, and discriminating against women, can be done away with."

Mrs. M. F. Luer, of Washington, followed Mrs. Wylie on the platform. She stressed the appeal the Equal Rights Movement had for the youth of the country.

Her speech was concluded with the announcement that, for an essay on "Equal Rights Amendment," two prizes of $500 and $200 would be given.

REHEARSALS BEGUN FOR "SAVING DAD"

Gladys Council Directing
M. Vernon Group

Rehearsals are in progress for "Saving Dad," a one-act play, which will be given at the regular weekly meeting of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society, Wednesday, April 27th, at 7:00 P. M. The play is being directed by Gladys Council. The characters are as follows: Tom Walker, young at fifty, Ralph Harrison; Aunt Jerusha, his sister-in-law, Alice Dodel; Mary Rogers, his stenographer; May Farr; Mrs. Jane Rogers, Mary's mother; Katherine Kaufman.

The meeting of April 27th, will be open to all members of the student body. In all probability a small additional charge of fifteen cents will be made.

Last year the Society gave a successful performance of Booth Tarkington's "The Trying Place."

Student Council Plans To Advance Old Election Date

At the instigation of the editorial entitled "ELECTIONS," found in this edition of THE ELM, the Student Council in its meeting on Monday evening, April 4th, passed a resolution to move the election date for the Editor and Business Manager of both THE ELM and THE PEGASUS from the fourth Friday in May to the first Friday of that month. Their selection at this date, the Council decided, would aid the leaders of these two student organizations to have more complete plans for the coming college year. It was planned to have the incoming Editor and Business Manager of THE ELM issue the final number.

It is feared, however, that there will be difficulty in securing an open assembly period for the elections.

Local Pastor Speaks On "Religious Prejudices"

"Religious Prejudice" was the title chosen by the Rev. Mr. Charles Atwater, of the Episcopal Church of Chestertown, for his speech before a joint meeting of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. held in William Smith Hall on Thursday evening, April 7.

After the address by Mr. Atwater the group met in an informal discussion and decided to charter a bus to attend the Student Mass Meeting held at the American University in Washington, D. C., on April 23. The topic under discussion at this meeting will be "A Christian Viewpoint on the Sino-Japanese Situation." The principal speaker will be Mr. Kirby Page, world traveler, author, speaker and editor.

New England Alumni Meet

John J. Carroll, former Flying Dutchman star, was elected president of the New England Chapter of the Washington College Alumni Association, at a meeting held in Waterbury, Conn., March 18 at the Hotel Waterbury.

TO ATTEND SEMINAR

Dr. William R. Howell

Dr. William R. Howell, Professor of the Social Sciences at Washington College, has been invited to become a member of the Seminar now being formed to study social and economic conditions in Mexico. This Seminar meets in Mexico City July 3, to 23, 1932.

PRIZES OFFERED HIGH SCHOOL AND COLLEGE

Pagants For Commencement
Started By College

That prizes of ten dollars each will be offered to the high school seniors of Chestertown, Rock Hall, and Getters and to the students of Washington College for a pagant to be used in the Washington College Sequi-Centennial and George Washington Bi-Centennial to be held on the college campus June 11, was announced recently by President Paul E. Titmorth.

The rules governing the contests for the high school students have been published in the local papers. College students may find the rules posted on the bulletin board in William Smith Hall.

The pagant written by the students of the college must concern the visit of George Washington to Washington College in May, 1784. During this visit Washington attended a meeting of the Board of Visitors and Governors, and saw the play "Gustavus Vasa," which was given in his honor by the students.

Pagants must be turned in by April 17.

PICTURE SCHEDULE FOR YEAR BOOK ANNOUNCED

The following pictures will be taken for THE 1932 PEGASUS on Monday, April 11 by Dr. Simmons, of Chestertown:

Cottages Club Committee, 1:00-1:15, in the chapel.
Pegasus Staff, 2:10-2:15, in the Dean's Cabinet, 3:10-3:15, in the chapel.
Basketball Squad, 4:10-4:15, in the gym.
Captain of Basketball, 4:15.
These will be the last pictures taken for THE 1932 PEGASUS.

J. J. COOP GIVES TALK ON PHYSICS IN ASSEMBLY

Demonstrates Theory
Of Broadcasting

J. J. Coop, Professor of Physics at Washington College, spoke to the students at the Thursday, April 7 assembly in William Smith Hall on the natural phenomena that could be explained through the science of Physics.

In his talk Mr. Coop demonstrated the principle of the microphone by using a model of the machine as it is found in the modern transatlantic steamer. In explaining how the lights of the World Fair to be held in Chicago will be turned on by the light of a star that is forty light years away from the earth, the speaker discussed the theory of the photo-electric cell and demonstrated its use by a model mounted on the stage.

Mr. Coop announced the conclusion of his speech through a miniature broadcasting station after explaining briefly the general principles of sound transmission.

Emmett Kaufman Assumes Presidency Of Mt. Vernon

The first meeting of the Adelphe Literary Society under the leadership of President Emmett Kaufman was held on Wednesday evening, March 9, in William Smith Hall. The other officers that took their positions at that time were: John J. Luddy, Vice-President; and Mary M. Parks, Secretary.

Mr. Kaufman brought before the Society plans for the future programs and for the awarding of the Adelphe medal, which is presented at commencement.

The program presented consisted of: Readings by Eleanor Dudley; Piano Solos, "Dark Eyes," and "The Piano Solo," by Richard Cooper; Speeches by the President; and "Moonbeams" by Richard Sayler.

Study Of College Activities Plan Of Dean's Cabinet

At the regular meeting of the Dean's Cabinet held in the offices of the Dean on April 7, a committee was appointed to investigate the number of activities now present on the campus. The members of this committee were: Harold Shaffer, Albert Brice, Oliver Robinson and Irving Ross. The committee was instructed to report to the Cabinet the organizations they found to have little cause for existence. The Cabinet, in turn, planned to recommend to the Student Council the proposals of the committee if they were acceptable.

A discussion was held on the subject of student attitude towards the coming Sequi-Centennial Celebration. Dean Jones asked for the cooperation of the Cabinet in the planning of the affair.

Damschott To Issue Pica

A special piece by Frederick W. Damschott, Assistant Secretary of the Alumni Association, to the alumni of the last ten years to attend the one hundred and fiftieth commencement of the college will be issued in March-April number of the Washington Alumni Bulletin, which will be published April 30.

LACROSSE MEN FACE MARYLAND

Powerful Terrapin Twelve Is Favorite

Coach George Eklatit's band of stick-throwers stuck up against the powerful University of Maryland twelve at College Park. This afternoon affair, a game, where the fondent hopes of the locals, lie in making the affair a real issue for Maryland. The Washingtonians can hardly expect to do much better than hold down the Terrapin score.

This is the third game of the current season for the locals and the opening contest for Maryland's eleven. Washington's impeded attack game to St. John's national champs but came back to completely outplay and defeat Lafayette college in its second contest. The game which Maryland will play the second of these encounters scheduled for the locals with the trio of outstanding American lacrosse teams, Johns, Maryland, and Hopkins. The Maroon and Black will meet Hopkins later in the season.

Against Maryland Coach Eklatit will have his pupils play a different style from that which they used against Lafayette. Against the latter outfit, the Washingtonians played a very aggressive game, riding the Pennsylvanians far up the field. However, Coach Eklatit does not believe that such a type of game would be most effective against Maryland's clever stickmen. The Washington attack should function better than it did against St. John due to the experience which has gained since then. Ok-Id Robinson, one of the Washington attack and great all around athlete has now completely recovered from an ankle injury and will be ready to go in earnest today. Robinson started his team on its way to victory over Lafayette by a clever piece of work in scoring the first goal of the game.

REID HALL DANCE TO BE GIVEN TONIGHT

The second dance given by the women students of the college will be held in the gymnasium tonight with Paul Wilkinson and his Commanders furnishing the music.

The committees for the dance are: Finance, Mary Parza, Chairman, Thelma Odessa Chapman; decorations, Dorothy Kimble, Chairman, Marie Peck, Finance Section; programs, Harriet Ragan, Chairman, Hilda Ryan, Helen Norris; chaperons, Elizabeth Brice, Chairman, Florence Roan.

Local Orators Lose To Western Maryland

The Washington College debaters fell before the eloquence of the Western Maryland orators by the score of two to one in a debate held in William Smith Hall last night on the question, Resolved: That the best interests of the United States demand that definite steps be taken looking toward a decentralization of Federal authority.

Lindley Cook, Wesley Sadler, and Lucien Powell, of Washington College, supported the affirmative side of the question. William Spawor, Richard Kiefer, and John L. Smith, of Western Maryland, supported the negative side. For W. Md.

PEGASUS TO BE ISSUED TO STUDENTS ON MAY 30

May 30 has been set as the date of publication for the 1932 PEGASUS, edited this year by Irving S. Ross and A. O. Coulbourn, Jr.

The theme of the annual fittingly commemorates the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the college.

The name of each senior will be stamped in gold letters on the cover of the book. Any other student wishing to have his name on his annual may do so at cost price by arranging it with W. Coulbourn.

College Arranges For Intramural Sports

In accordance with the programs of intramural athletics started at Washington last fall, local athletic authorities are arranging to have all college students participate in some form of sports this spring.

A wide variety of games will be offered, making certain that all take part in some sport. Besides the variety lacrosse and track teams, there will be a series of interclass basketball games, tennis, golf and volleyball. Every student of the Freshman, Sophomore and Junior class will arrange to spend at least three hours a week on one of the above sports.

READ THE ELM

Holland To Box In Baltimore

Chance To Represent U. S. In Olympics

"Charlie" Holland, will be the first to carry the Maroon and Black of Washington College into the ring, when he climbs through the ropes this coming Monday night to battle for the light weight championship of the Southern Amateur Athletic Association, in Baltimore. Holland, has had considerable experience boxing in amateur shows and is believed to have a good chance of battling his way through the crowd of lightweights who will be on hand seeking a chance to land a position on the American Olympic boxing team.

The winners of this meet will go to New York to battle for the opportunity to represent the U. S. in the coming olympics.

Several other state college's have sent their best boxers to similar tournaments to the one in which Holland is entered. Western Maryland, Navy and Loyola have entered men in the meet to be held at Penn State in the near future.

DEL-MAR-VA RESTAURANT

— FOR —
AFTER DANCE LUNCHEONS
AND REGULAR MEALS

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students
Offers Complete Line of Conklin and Wahl Pens and Pencils, Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery,
And School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

QUALITY SPORTING GOODS

Catalog on Request

McCallisters

Est. 1894
124 W. Baltimore St.
Baltimore, Maryland

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE

306 Park Row
MAKES YOUR BEAUTY SCINTILLATE

for the coming out party, the "frat" dance, the formal dinner or the ball of balls.

Our Beautician's many years of experience as a beauty advisor have taught her the "finishing touches" that emphasize beauty by concealing every blemish that might otherwise mar the loveliness that every fastidious woman covets.

Join the ranks of the Park Row Beauty Shoppe's large clientele. Our coiffures are always smartly becoming, and our facial and make-up treatments not only tone the skin for the newest colors but also accentuate one's best features.

Phone 334

By Appointment

The Emerson Hotel

Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled

Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged

Private Rooms and

Banquet Halls

For All Occasions

Many pretty girls
like a MILD and
PURE cigarette that
TASTES BETTER

Chesterfield Radio Program
MON. & THUR. 12:15-1:15 P.M. WED. & SAT. 10:30-11:30 P.M.
BOSWELL ALEX. RUTH SISTERS GRAY ETTING
10:30 P.M. EST. 10:30 P.M. EST. 10:30 P.M. EST.
SHILBERT'S ORCHESTRA every night but Sunday
NORMAN BROOKSHIRE Announcer
COLUMBIA NETWORK

Chesterfield

They Satisfy

LAFAYETTE FALLS UNDER WASHINGTON'S ATTACK

Ekakit's Men Gain First Win Of Season

Washington College defeated Lafayette College at Easton, Pa., in Lacrosse Wednesday, April 6, by the score of 3 to 0. It marked the first triumph of the locals in this old Indian game during the current season, they having previously lost to St. John's.

Appearing to have profited in defeat at the hands of St. John's, Coach Ekakit's team completely outclassed the Maroons of Lafayette. Using the St. John's system of a hand-dragging game, the Washington attack left little for their defense to do, but the latter successfully frustrated the few scoring efforts of the opposing team. Much team work was evidenced, especially in clearing the ball out. Washington Positions Lafayette

Blindfold	Goal	Dynes
James	Point	Rozer
Plummer	Cover Point	Hughes
Gamber	First defense	Weed
Wiegman	Second defense	Zahn
Pippin	Third defense	T. Sales
Clark	Centre	H. Sales
Karlin	Third attack	Arch
Girault	Second attack	Roberts
Robinson	First attack	Angvine
J. Williams	Out home	Pierce
Chambers	In home	Wilson

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

The football schedule for the college year of 1932-33 was announced here today by Graduate Manager Duncumett. It includes ten games, four of them being state contests. The games are:

Sept. 24—U. of Md.	Away
Oct. 1—John Hopkins	Away
Oct. 8—Gallaudet	Away
Oct. 15—Loyola	Away
Oct. 22—Susquehanna	Away
Oct. 29—Drexel	Home
Nov. 5—Mt. St. Mary's	Away
Nov. 12—Haverford	Away
Nov. 19—St. Joseph's	Home
Nov. 26—Delaware	Home

FOR HAIR BEAUTY—THE FAMOUS

ARNOLD STEAM TREATMENTS

$1.00

Conditions hair for permanent... Steps follow hair... Gives the natural sheen and lustre so much desired.

GRAY'S BEAUTY SALON

PHONE 283
Chestertown, Md.

NOLAND'S

Department Store
Get anything you want from Dry Goods to School Supplies.

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing

103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

HERB'S

QUICKLUNCH
Sandwiches of all kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Vostell House

STOP AT THE VOSHALL HOUSE
ROOMS WITH BATH
MODERATE RATES

LACROSSE TEAM FACES A DIFFICULT SCHEDULE

Washington College's lacrosse team faces one of the toughest schedules in the country as far as stick teams go this season. The locals play the three outstanding lacrosse teams in the country in St. John's, Maryland, and Johns Hopkins. The schedule is as follows:

April 2—St. John's	Away
April 6—Lafayette	Away
April 9—Maryland	Away
April 12—N. Y. U.	Home
April 23—Western Md.	Away
May 7—Lehigh	Away
May 14—Hopkins	Away
May 21—Swarthmore	Home

Students Will Find Our Store a Very Desirable Place To Visit

TOULSON'S Drug Store

Phones—26 and 311

PAUL and SAM
Quality and Service
SHOE REPAIRING
Next To Sterlings Drug Store
Chestertown, Maryland

Try the new style Drinkless
KAY WOODIE
Initials Extra
UNITED CIGAR STORES
Sales—Agency

The Chestertown Bank of Maryland
Bank of Service

Branches at
Galena, Kennedyville,
Betterton

Main Branch
Chestertown, Maryland
3 1/2% ON SAVINGS

Students Of
Washington College
A Safe Place To Deal
THE STAM DRUG CO.
Everything in Drugs

Prescriptions Filled by Registered Pharmacists
Only

A Full Line of
School Supplies
Whitman's Candy
Cigars and Tobacco

READ THE ELM

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149

C. W. Kibler & Sons
Chestertown, Maryland

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store

Where Your Dollar

Has More Cents

THE REXAL STORE

EASTMAN KODAKS

FILMS

DEVELOPING

and

PRINTING

BY EXPERTS

DRUGS and

SUNDRIES

Of All Kinds

A. L. STERLING

221 - 223 High Street
Chestertown, Maryland

JOE'S Newstand

Cigars, Cigarettes,
Soft Drinks, Newspapers,

Magazines
Of All Kinds

GILL BROS.

ICE CREAM

Dainties
Assorted Breads

ADVERTISE IN THE ELM

The
Third National Bank
Chestertown, Md.

The Only
National Bank
In Kent County

RESTAURANT

For a Delicious Electric Toasted Sandwich, Special Dishes,
Regular 50c Dinners, Fancy Sundries, Ice Cream,
Sodas, Candies, Cigarettes, etc.,

Visit The

CANDY KITCHEN

(Open 6 A. M. Until 12 P. M.)

"Comment ça va?"

"Not so hot."

"Gai?"

"Cousin."

"Remonstete."

"Yeah?"

"Telephone."

"Hah?"

"Long Distance."

"Harro!"

LOW EVENING AND NIGHT RATES
ON STATION-TO-STATION CALLS
EVENING: (Between 7 p. m. and 9:30 p. m.) 15% to 20%
lower than day rates
NIGHT: (Between 9:30 p. m. and 4:30 a. m.) 40% to 50%
lower than day rates
These reductions apply on all rates above 30c

The Chesapeake and Potomac
Telephone Company
of Baltimore City
(Bell System)

WE KNOW

What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style centers.

You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.

Our clothes will meet every thing you demand of them.

BORDLEY & SON

The Dolan-Vernoy Co.

337-339-341 North
Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest

Art China, Leather Goods,
Toys, Books, Athletic
Equipment

Alter A Studios Day

Relax at

JIM'S and HICK'S

Billiard Parlor

A Special Lace To-The-
Toe Athletic Ked for Women's Gym Work.

Harry F. Jefferson

VOL. XXXI. NO. 11

SATURDAY, APRIL 23, 1932

PRICE TEN CENTS

Washington Faces Western Maryland

Ekaitis Has Coached Both
Twelves

Coach Ekaitis' lacrosse players will play his former team-mates this afternoon at Westminster when Washington College engages in its third state game of the season against Western Maryland College. The Maroon and Black will be presented an opportunity to make up for losses to the "Big Three" in Maryland Lacrosse, St. John's, and the University of Maryland.

The defeat that Western Maryland gave to the Chestertown boys last year at Westminster is still fresh in their minds, and an entire revival is their aim.

Coach Ekaitis' plans to have his team play a type of game which has produced such good results in the last three contests, that aggressive game with the attack playing the opposing defense off over the field. On the attack, a fast cutting game will be used. The local players are small but fast and it is thought that such cutting will produce better results against large but slower players, the type the Green Terrors will present on the defense.

The Washington team will be welcomed at the point position by the absence of J. Lawton Jones, who has been declared ineligible for intercollegiate competition for the rest of the present term. Jones has performed quite well in the past season, and his necessary expense to make him a fine and dependable defense player. Mike Williams is scheduled to fill the vacated position and this Chestertown product should make a very creditable showing. Other than this line up will be no other changes in the line up. The attack consisting of Chambers, Williams, Gustin, Korffig, Robinson, and Clark, will remain intact, and judging from practice scrimmages this week will be ready to roll up a score. The defense composed of Pippin, Wingate, Gamble, Plummer, Williams and Reinhold will be primed to frustrate the scoring efforts of the Terrors.

College Plans Washington Bi-Centennial And College Sesqui-Centennial Celebrations

Colonial Dances Will Be Feature Of June Ball

To bring back to the Washington College campus the color, the life, and some of the personalities of the college's brilliant colonial period is the ultimate aim of the various committees under the direction of President Paul E. Titsworth, who is guiding the plans for the Sesqui-centennial and Bi-Centennial Celebrations. The boom of the sunrise gun on the morning of June 11 will officially begin the exercises—although the June Ball to be held on the previous evening is an integral part of the celebration—and the last echo of the sunset gun on the same day will mark the close.

A special committee with Stephen B. Collier, chairman, and with Mrs. H. B. Rogers, Miss Doris T. Bell, Dean J. S. W. Jones, Harold D. Shriver, and Paul T. Pippin assisting are planning to open the June Ball with a series of colonial dances

ORCHESTRA AND GLEE CLUBS PLAN CONCERT

Quartet and Glee Club To Broadcast

The Girl's Glee Club, the Men's Glee Club, and the orchestra, of Washington College, will give a joint concert at William Smith Hall, on Thursday, May 19. The Girls' Glee Club will feature a scene in costume from the Gilbert and Sullivan Comic Opera, "Mikado." The Girls' Glee Club will be under the direction of Mrs. Cleveland S. Smith, the Men's Glee Club, Mr. Raymond Moffett, and the orchestra, Dr. Frederick G. Livingston.

The Double Mixed Quartet and the Girls' Glee Club will broadcast over WCAO, on Sunday, May 22, at 4 P. M., under Mrs. Smith's direction.

The Men's Glee Club, of Washington College, will broadcast over WFBK on May 3. Mr. Raymond Moffett, under whose direction it will be presented, will sing a solo number and the single quartet and the Men's Double Quartet will each have a number, also.

Albert W. Dowling Wins College Pageant Prize

Albert W. Dowling, of Rock Hall, was announced today as the winner of the Sesqui-centennial pageant contest by the Judges Dr. Edgar M. Davis, Margaret G. Brewster, Doris T. Bell, and Doris T. Bell, head of the pageant committee.

The details of the winning paper will not be announced until a description of it appears in "The Pegasus," but it will probably concern the visit of George Washington to the college in May, 1784. It was at that time that the first President bore the name of "Gustavus Vasa." It was also at that time that Dr. William Smith referred to Washington as a man similar in character to Gustavus Vasa, the deliver of the Swedish people. It is believed that Mr. Dowling has worked these events into his paper.

NAMED CLASS ORATOR

Walter A. Branford

Walter A. Branford, of Nanticoke, Md., has been elected Class Orator by a committee of members from the present's graduating class. His speech, which will have for its theme the effect the one hundred and fifty years of tradition should have on Washington College graduates, will be delivered during the commencement day exercises to be held on June 11.

CLASS ORATOR A L S O WINS W. C. T. U. CONTEST

W. M. Richards Gets Honorable Mention

Walter A. Branford, senior, was announced winner of the twenty-five dollar prize offered by the Chestertown branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union to students of Washington College for the best essay on "Modern Science's Contribution to the Understanding of the Alcohol Question." William McAlpine, juniors was given honorable mention. The paper will be entered in the national W. C. T. U. contest.

The judges for the contest were the Rev. E. A. Scrimm, the Rev. Charles L. Atwater, and the Rev. Harry Wright. Mrs. F. G. Uillon, of Chestertown, conducted the contest. Mr. Branford will read his prize paper before the county convention of the W. C. T. U. to be held in the Chestertown M. E. Church on Thursday evening, April 28.

The prize was won last year by Kenneth Doty, '31, whose paper later took first honors in the national contest.

A. D. MACKAY TALKS TO STUDENT ASSEMBLY

Discusses Law As Possible Profession

"Law as a Profession," was the subject of a vocational address given in Chapel Thursday by Mr. Albert D. Mackay, member of the class of 1909 of Washington College, and now a prominent lawyer of Elkins, Md.

In his talk, Mr. Mackay discussed the advantages and disadvantages of following the legal profession, and the various qualities required for an individual to be a success in this particular field of human endeavor.

Mr. Mackay is the second of a series of vocational speakers to be brought to the college by Dr. Frederick Livingston, head of the faculty committee on assembly speakers.

STUDENTS VOTE DOWN PROPOSED CHAPEL RULE

Protest Against Donning
Coats

The sentiment against a rule compelling all male students to wear coats for the evening meal in the college commons was so strongly expressed in a meeting of the male members of the four classes held in William Smith Hall on Thursday, April 21, that President Oliver E. Robinson dismissed all plans to adopt such a ruling.

A rule requiring all Freshmen to wear coats during the assembly hour—to be enforced next year—was practically unanimously endorsed with cheers and some catcalls. The reaction to a ruling that all male members be required to wear coats during the assembly period—to be enforced this year—was indefinite, with half of the group opposed and half in favor of the ruling.

President Robinson concluded the meeting with a warning against the use of "slugs" in the Middle Hall telephone.

Washington Players Will Present 3 One-Act Plays

Three one-act plays are to be given in William Smith Hall on the night of Thursday, May 5th, at 8:30. The plays are "The Love Pegasus" by W. W. Jacobs, directed by Miss Dorothy Johnson; "How I Lied To Her Husband" by George Bernard Shaw, coached by Mr. Lindley E. Cook; and "Big Van Winkle" by J. M. Barrie, directed and coached by Mr. William H. Danneberg.

The actors in "The Love Pegasus" are: Mildred Spinks, DeWitt F. Clark, Wilma Duba, Roland J. Bailey.

The cast of "How I Lied To Her Husband" is: Robert Furman, Royce Scotten, Paris Ratin.

In "Big Van Winkle" the players are: William Danneberg, Henrietta Newman. Other troupsers are Howard Plummer, Helen Norris and Wilhard Souder.

May 7th Is Tentative Date Set For College Spring Elections

'The Pegasus' Office May Be Used For Balloting

Selection of a suitable date for the spring elections is the problem that faces the Student Council at their next meeting. The assembly period of May 7 is the tentative date set for the nominations, but selection of this time depends on the acceptance of this date by Dr. George Perdon, member of the Mental Hygiene Society, who is scheduled to address the students at that assembly.

Even if this date is secured for the nominating and electing of the student officers, it will be necessary to hold another balloting day, it is believed by President Oliver E. Robinson, to fill completely the list of officers under the new system of balloting introduced by the Student Council in planning to have the incoming officers take their positions before the middle of May, it is expected that "The Pegasus" office may have to be used in voting, as the booth to allow the students to express their opin-

Last Cotillion Held Last Night

Decorations Score Big Success

As though tired of old age, Washington College held its Sesqui-centennial Class From in the college grandmum Friday evening, April 22, with a lack of spirit that even the St. Louis Blues could not revive. It was the fifth and last dance held under the auspices of the 1932 Washington College Cotillion Club.

The orchestra, from the LaVale Inn near Cumberland, Md., and playing under the name of Robinson's Orchestra, was received with silence by the crowd of approximately seventy couples.

The decorations which covered the roof of the dance floor with a tent of brilliant red crepe paper, and draped the windows in red and white gave a brilliant background for the sensibly performed, which belated the drabness of the occasion. They were in charge of James M. Parsons. He was assisted by John J. Luddy, George H. Cordery, Jr., John L. Sanford, Albert E. Baker, and Oliver E. Robinson.

The patrons for the cotillion were: Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth S. Buxton, Dr. and Mrs. William R. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ford, Miss Margaret Brown, Dr. Thomas H. Fowler, Miss Doris T. Bell, and Mr. Frank Goodwin.

The cotillion committee for this year was: Harold D. Shriver, president; Uriah O. Colbourne, Jr., secretary; DeWitt F. Clark, treasurer; and William M. A. Richards, Walter E. Kargin, Burdette Nuttle, and Edwin T. Colbourne.

The motto of the dance was from Shakespeare:

"When you do dance, I wish you
A wave 'o' the sea, that you might ever do
Nothing but that."

uses on the entire ticket of candidates.

If this takes place, the results of the balloting during the Thursday afternoon session will be posted on the bulletin board in William Smith Hall as soon as the tallying is over. Those officers and candidates yet to be voted for will be indicated and, on the next day, Friday, the students will go to "The Pegasus" office to file their ballots. Here Student Council members will check the voters and tally the votes. The final result on each officer will be printed in THE WASHINGTON ELM, which is scheduled to appear the Saturday morning following.

The new policy of the Student Council—to install the incoming officers early in the year—has been adopted by that body with the aim of acquainting the new men with their duties for the coming college year.

(Continued On Page 5)

(Continued On Page 5)

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

Editor IRVING S. ROSS
 Assistant Editor Philip Wingate
 Alumni Editor A. E. Howard
 Society Editor W. M. A. Richards
 Exchange Editor John A. Wagner

REPORTERS

Janet Atwater, Roland Bailey, Walter Branford, Charles B. Clark, Roland C. Ready, Annabelle Storey

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

DeWitt F. Clark, Edward F. Fitzgerald, Paul Pippin
 SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES
 Elizabeth Cooper, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager JOHN J. LUDDY
 Assistant Business Manager Joseph B. Dickerson
 Circulation Manager Edwin T. Coulbourn

ASSISTANTS

Louis L. Goldstein, Scott Beck, Jr.

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.
 Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

SATURDAY, APRIL 23, 1932

THE WASHINGTON ELM AGAIN

Continuing our campaign for an improved college newspaper, which was begun in the last edition by the suggestion that the incoming men edit the final number of this year's paper, or we pass on to the editor of next year a style book for the editing of copy. In this, with the help of members of the staff, we have attempted to set a standard for the copy going into the paper and to set up a few arbitrary rules concerning capitalization, punctuation, and style. In the creation of this book we are following the custom of all reputable publications. In fact, we have used the style book of "The Baltimore Sun" to guide us in our efforts.

It is our firm conviction that THE ELM cannot be a force in moulding student opinion, nor can it carry conviction to its readers, until it improves technically and mechanically. In the representation of this college to outsiders the newspaper can be one of the most potent influences, and this step towards what we think is an improvement in the paper will unquestionably aid in advancing the better side of our college life. We pass it on as our small contribution to newspaper work in Washington College.

The other great fault with the mode of conducting the paper in this college is still to be explained in these columns. Our opinion on it will appear in the next issue.

I HEAR YOU CALLING ME

With the advent of this warm spring weather we can imagine, although we cannot state it as a fact, that the telephone in Middle Hall is having its share of use. The mystical numbers—263—have probably been whispered, panted, or sighed into the ear of the operator times beyond count.

That is as it should be. We are a firm believer, if not a devotee, of the pleasures of co-edification. We stand firmly for bigger and better telephones and we endorse any plan that tends towards comfort during long winded calls. We imagine that our fellow students, the denizens of Middle Hall, support us in our beliefs.

If you men do believe in telephones, then may we whisper gently in your eager ears that for some time now Uncle Sam has curiously refused to take "slugs" in exchange for the currency of the land? Equally as strange, the telephone company has upheld him in this practice. The conclusion to this interesting little problem is that very soon the boys will be able to keep all their "slugs" without having to lose them down the telephone box. We recommend the solving of this little problem of how the boys can keep their "slugs" and the Hall can keep its phone to the Middle Hall Club. It would be a fine way to justify its existence—as all organizations should do—on the campus.

INTROSPECTION

We notice that one college editor in an eastern university has been expelled for his violent editorial policies. Now we have not once been even threatened with dismissal. We are wondering if this is not a sign of decadence. If we had not been conducting the paper on staid, stodgy, and conventional lines, we feel sure that someone would have objected to our residence in this vicinity—that is, violently objected.

Any person can suggest something that is utterly absurd, and there will be hundreds of people ready to believe it, especially if it is at the expense of some other person.

Because a man has a reputation for telling the truth is no indication that his truthfulness in all cases is commendable.

INTERCOLLEGIATE

NO CAVE MEN!

The "cave man" probably was a mild, meek husband. All the evidence indicates that his domestic status has been grossly misrepresented. Dr. John M. Cooper, of Catholic University told the Catholic Anthropological Conference at its annual meeting here during the Easter recess.

There are no actual "cave men," left in the world, Dr. Cooper said, but among the most primitive peoples extant, who may represent the nearest approach to the primeval condition of man, the status of women is clearly that of absolute equality with the males. Dr. Cooper, however, gave little credence to the theory of a primeval matriarchy in which woman was supreme.—From "The Tower."

AN ATHLETIC IDEAL BECOMES FACT

The traditional Swarthmore ideal of athletics differs widely from the ordinary college standard. Instead of the usual "a winning team at all costs—even at the expense of undesirable publicity" slogan, there has been incultation from the beginning the motto, "athletic for all."—From "The Swarthmore Phoenix."

YOUR SUGGESTIONS

We have asked for and received suggestions for "improving the Collegian." A great number of the answers received were not to be taken at all seriously, but here are some of the suggestions more worthy of acceptance.

1. Make the Student World column a regular feature.
 2. Insert some "good, clean, witty jokes." (Ed. Note: Is there such an animal?)
 3. Insert a "Freshman's Letter Home."
 4. Have a regular worthwhile alumni column.
 5. Have advance write-ups of theatre concerts.
 6. Run a weekly measure from the President.
 7. Run a six-page paper.
 8. Some anonymous person asked that we advocate changing the name of the college to King William's College.
 9. Do away with all politics and counter-intellectualism.
 10. Less intellectual bunk and more articles of entertainment. (He matters us.)
 11. More sports, current news, and less intellectualism.
 12. Insert each week a caricature of members of the graduating class.
 13. Editorials on Communism, Prison Reform, wanted.
 14. Re-establish a Forum.—From "The St. John's Collegian."
- Can it be that somewhere students do take an interest in their paper?

THE PEOPLES BANK

Commercial

and

Savings

Accounts

Rock Hall

Chestertown

AS I LIKE IT

"As I Like It," huh? Well at this moment I don't like it a bit. If you care about things at this four year hanger you would feel that way, too. The Senior Class—just to begin—is the one hundred and eighty class, as you might have heard. In the past, classes have always given he college something to remember them by. But are we doing it this year? The answer rings out NO. Perhaps the gift was too much; perhaps it wasn't what the majority would like; but there was any suggestion for another type of gift? There were a few cries by the more or less articulate about being jipped and then they all went back to their argument as to who won the last rubber of bridge. Someone ought to cut a niche in the side of Bill Smith Hall and place therein nothing. Beneath it it would be fitting to write, "Above find the contribution of the Class of 1932 to the life, the equipment and the heritage of Washington College."

Enough of all that. The weather of late has made us feel as though we could excuse that, not to say anything of a few murders or lynchings.

We wonder if the Seniors are rejoicing over the newly announced fact that they do not have to don the regalia of the eighteenth century. And what about the prophets? And the Board of Visitors and Governors?

And did you know that: we are going to be in the movies, and over the air? one of the most famous or infamous men, according to your view, might be here on June 11?

The problem that faces this special committee of the Dean's Cabinet is not cutting down the number of activities, as is the intention, but the suggesting to the leaders of those organizations that they give up? there are so many "Presidents" around this place that you can't move without stumbling over one? there used to be an association in the college that was called the "Student Protective League"? It later developed into what is now jokingly called the "Student Council!"

STOP AT THE VOSHELL HOUSE
 ROOMS WITH BATH
 MODERATE RATES

GILL BROS.
ICE CREAM
 Dainties
 Assorted Blocks

NEW 700 ROOM CLUB HOTEL

Transient Rates $1.50 per day up, with bath $2 up

Club life, restaurant, free swimming pool, gym, library, spacious lounges, roof garden, separate floors for men and women. Six minutes from Penn or Grand Central Stations.

GEORGE TURKEL, Manager

$8 to $14 Weekly

KENMORE HALL

145 EAST 23rd ST. N. Y. CITY

Grocery
 5-3840

Just East of Lexington Avenue

Mornin' "
 "O."

"News?"

"I'll say!"

"Yeah?"

"Talked home!"

"When?"

"Last night."

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

"Every time!"

"No!"

"Yeah, telephone!"

"Long distance!"

DR. ESTHER DOLE TELLS College Retains Scholarship; ABOUT TRIP TO EGYPT Received By Dr. Dole

Illustrates Talk With Pictures Collected

Dr. Esther M. Dole delivered a lecture on "Egypt," in the Parish House of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, the evening of April 19, which was based on her recent trip through that country, and illustrated with pictures collected there.

After first picking out the exact route of her trip, on the map shown on the screen, Dr. Dole proceeded to tell of the various points of interest on the way. She described her personal impressions of Cairo, the Pyramids, and the Sphinx, the beauty of the Isis, Capitula of the little temple of Denderah, the grandeur of the temple of Luxor, and also that of Karnak, with the twin row of Sphinxes leading to it. She went on to portray the impressiveness of the Egyptian Dam, the biggest in the world, and the beauty of the Temple of Philae, now inundated by the Nile as the result of the building of the dam.

The scholarship for the study of art given by the American Institute of Architects has once again been received by Dr. Esther M. Dole, professor of History at Washington College. The scholarship includes complete expenses for travel and research work. It also carries with it an additional sum of one hundred and fifty dollars to be used in the purchase of pictures for the college halls.

Dr. Dole will begin her work this summer at the University of Harvard.

Mt. Vernon To Hold Card Party In Reid Hall

The Mt. Vernon Literary Society will hold a card party Wednesday, May 4th, at Reid Hall. Faculty, students and townspeople are cordially invited to attend. Prizes given. Refreshments served. Admission twenty-five cents.

Dr. William E. Butler, '94, died at his home in Hartford, Conn., April 14th.

KAPPA GAMMA NOTES

Miss Florence T. Snodgrass has accepted a bid to become an honorary member of the Kappa Gamma Society.

Eleanor Titworth has become a Kappa Gamma pledge.

Last week, the Kappa Gamma and pledges cooked a picnic supper down by the Chester River.

The Misses Dorothy Simmons and Katherine Collins returned to the campus to attend the Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity dance.

Double Mixed Quartette To CO-EDS BEGIN SPRING Give Concert In Easton, Md. SPORTS UNDER MISS BELL

The Washington College Double Mixed Quartette will take part in the concert given by the Eastern Choral Society, of Easton, under the direction of Mrs. Cleveland S. Smith, on Sunday, May 8, at 3 P. M., at the New Theatre, in Easton. The members of the quartette, the Misses Johnson, Neale, Carvel, and Jewell, and Messrs. Harris, Furman, Hodgson and Brantford, will sing in the "Easter Chorus" from Massenet's opera "Cavalier Rusticain."

Volley Ball May Become Major Sport

The spring season of co-ed athletics has opened with volleyball, tennis, and archery. Class teams in volleyball are to be formed this year for the first time. If this sport proves a success, tennis will be dropped to the rank of a minor sport and volleyball made a major one. The spring tennis tournament will begin as soon as the courts are put in order. Everyday the archery teams come out to practice to raise their scores in preparation of the archery tournament to be held next month. The co-eds are trying hard to break the new record of 90, set by Miss Doris Bell. With the close of cold weather, the indoor sports of basketball and fencing came to an end.

Faculty Is Entertained At Bridge Party

The faculty of Washington College was entertained at a bridge at the home of President and Mrs. Titworth Thursday evening, April 21.

Alumnus Dies

Hyland P. Stewart, '83, died at his home on April 5.

Mr. Stewart was a resident of Baltimore and a member of the Baltimore Bar Association.

NOLAND'S Department Store
Get anything you want from Dry Goods to School Supplies.

Just for you . . .

"YOU'LL LIKE THEIR BETTER TASTE"

Chesterfield

They Satisfy...ALL YOU COULD ASK FOR

Md. Basket Ball League Is Planned

Coach Kibler Is Chairman Of Organization Committee

That Washington College will be come a member of a Maryland Intercollegiate Basketball League might be the outcome of the meeting held in Baltimore, April 19, which was attended by representatives from Hopkins, Loyola, Mt. St. Mary's, Western Maryland, St. John's and Washington College. Coach F. Thomas Kibler and Graduate Manager Dunn Schott were the representatives for Washington College. While the St. John's and Western Maryland men were not able to speak with complete authority for their institutions, the remaining four college groups showed a willingness to form the league.

With Western Maryland almost certain to enter it was decided to organize the league in the event that five teams could be signed up. Coach Kibler was named chairman in charge of the organization of the circuit.

Some doubt as to St. John's entering the league was expressed although Valentine "Dutch" Lente, Jr., St. John's coach, was in accord with the idea.

The University of Maryland and Navy were not able to join the league since neither could comply with the schedule requirements. Officials at the State university and the Naval Academy, however, expressed approval of the plan.

The decision of the Western Maryland authorities is expected by next week and if it is favorable, Coach Kibler will take steps toward permanently organizing the conference.

After A Studious Day

Relax at

JIM'S and HICK'S

Billiard Parlor

FOR HAIR BEAUTY—THE FAMOUS

ARNOIL
TEAM TREATMENTS

$1.00

Conditions fair for permanent... Stops falling hair... Gives the natural sheen and lustre so much desired.

GRAY'S BEAUTY
SALON

PHONE 106
Chestertown, Md.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE LACROSSE SQUAD

Pictured above is the 1932 Washington College lacrosse team which has been compiling a fine record against larger college foes. Front row, reading left to right: Harris, Trapp, Dobkins, J. B. Williams, Gaudier, Captain Kargis, Goals and Planner, Second row: Wingate, C. Clark, Pippin, Morris, Paris, Burkhardt, Williams, Chambers. Third row: Mooney, Knoffel, M. Clark, Hall, Beachley, Murray, Noble. Back row: Coach Ekaltis, Neasel, McLain, Manager Colbourne and Assistant Manager Rickards.

HORSE SHOES BECOME POPULAR AT COLLEGE

GOLDSTEIN INTRODUCES SPORT AT COLLEGE

Overnight horse shoes has become a popular diversion at Washington College and the clank of metal from the direction of the old gymnasium is no novelty. The horse shoe had started about a month ago when Louis Goldstein, a freshman, drew a couple of stakes out beside the tennis courts and proceeded to tie over all who challenged him. Incidentally, Goldstein claims his county championship, which was won in the P. A. L. tournament in 1929.

The sport has grown so popular that the college athletic authorities have set up a number of horse shoe courts in the vacant lot back of middle hall.

"Is there much graft in the Army?"
"Hell, bud. Even their bayonets are fixed."

Students Will Find Our Store a Very Desirable

Place To Visit

TOULSON'S
Drug Store

Phones—26 and 311

A Special Lace To-Toe Athletic Keds for Women's Gym Work.

Harry F. Jefferson

Sports Notes

By Philip J. Wingate

Coach George Ekaltis' stickmen met the terrorious Green Terrors of Western Maryland today and the locals expect once again to demonstrate the old adage of "the bigger they come the harder they fall." The Maroon and Black has been far outwheeled in every game played up to date, but size has been a matter of great importance to the hard-sliding Washingtonians. Western Maryland will present a big defense, but Coach Ekaltis expects his charges to have a sufficient advantage over his former college mates in speed and stick work to take the decision.

Joe Deckman, Maryland coach of defense, and unanimous selection for All-American point last year, after watching the Maryland-Washington by-score game, declared the present Washington twelve to be by far the best coached stick combination that Washington has ever put on the field. Deckman was not the only Marylander impressed with the fight and ability of the Maroon and Black, for Willie Pugh, All-American center for the Terrapins, pronounced Charlie Clark one of the toughest men he had ever tangled with.

Fritz Reinhold probably will not be the general choice for all-American goalie this year, because goal tenders on more successful teams will receive more publicity. However, discerning critics, who have seen the Washington net-wizard in action realize that Fritz is a goal keeper par excellence. Reinhold gave an exhibition in front of the net during the Maryland game that was equaled only by his punting in the foot ball game with the Terrapins last fall.

The announcement that Washington will enter two relay teams in the Penn Relays has given an added impetus to the local track stars, who are taking daily workouts under Coach Kibler. Among the quarter milers that have shown much promise are: Fleetwood, Bagerman, Chase, Dickinson and Bradley.

PAUL and SAM
Quality and Service
SHOE REPAIRING
Next To Sterlings Drug Store
Chestertown, Maryland

TRACK STARS WORK OUT DAILY ON CINDER PATH

COLLEGE IS REPRESENTED IN PENN RELAYS

Representatives of Washington College on the cinder-path have been working out for the past three or four weeks on the local track. It marks the renewal of this sport at Washington after a lapse of four years. Coach Kibler is coaching the locals and expects to develop a creditable team.

Although a full schedule will not be attempted this year, one will be presented next season which will give the Maroon and Black runners a chance to show their wares after this year's organization and experience. Washington College will be represented at the Penn Relays on the twenty-ninth and thirtieth of this month and other meets with Sonoma and Galsheid have been arranged. Among the candidates for track laurels are Chase, Bagerman, Fleetwood, Dickinson, Bonwill, Hopkins, Stark, Anthony, Eiland, Ward, Proudfoot, Bradley, Cooper, Lord, Squires, and Brougham.

The Dulany-Vernoy Co.

337-339-341 North
Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest

Art China, Leather Goods,
Toys, Books, Athletic
Equipment

READ THE ELM

WE KNOW What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style centers.

You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.

Our clothes will meet every thing you demand of them.
BORDLEY & SON

N. Y. U. Victor In Peculiar Contest

Visitors Rally To Defeat Local Second Stringers

"New York University's lacrosse team got a wind fall that came like manna from heaven here yesterday afternoon and a smart little Washington College twelve suffered a most peculiar and undeserved defeat."

"The final score of 6 to 5 tells such a completely misleading story of what actually happened that it should be stricken from the records on the grounds that it is not pertinent."

"New York University did not defeat the Maroon and Black variety twelve, didn't come within forty miles of doing so."

The above paragraphs taken from Bill Wingate's writup in "The Baltimore News" tell the true account of the Washington-N. Y. U. lacrosse game played on Kibler field April 23.

A misunderstanding as to the time remaining to be played after the Washington variety had piled up a 5 to 1 lead in the second half caused the locals to suffer defeat at the hands of a slick bunch of New Yorkers.

A misunderstanding as to the time remaining to be played after the Washington variety had piled up a 5 to 1 lead in the second half caused the locals to suffer defeat at the hands of a slick bunch of New Yorkers. After being told by the time keeper that there remained but 5 minutes to play, Coach Ekaltis, thinking to give his substitutes some experience, sent in a complete second string, mid-field. However, it then developed that the timekeeper had misinformed the Washington coach and there was in reality 21 minutes to play.

It was then that the N. Y. U. team rallied and overwhelmed the Maroon and Black second stringers to turn certain defeat into a 6 to 5 victory. The New Yorkers shot the winning goal thirty seconds before the final gun, as Captain Kargis and other Washington regulars, forbidden by the rules to return to the contest, sat sulkily on the bench.

Try the new style Drinkless

KAYWOODIE

Initials Extra

UNITED CIGAR STORES

Sales-Agency

The Best Of EVERYTHING
Needed
FOR BUILDING
E. S. Adkins & Co.
Chestertown, Centreville
Easton, Salisbury

THE REXAL STORE

EASTMAN KODAKS

FILMS

DEVELOPING

and

PRINTING

BY EXPERTS

DRUGS and

SUNDRIES

Of All Kinds

A. L. STERLING

Washington Bi-Centennial Celebration To Take Place Afternoon Of June 11

Local High Schools To Play Big Part In Celebration

(Continued From Page 1)

without unduly prolonging the program. There will be brief contributions of the eighteenth century Latin and French orations and the opening phrases of the commencement will probably be spoken in the scholarly tongue. The members of the graduation class will not wear colonial costumes. The ushers, made up of members of the Silver Pentagon chapter of the Blue Key fraternity, will wear, however, the bright blue and buff of the Continental Army.

The main speaker of the day has not been determined, but he will, in all probability, be a prominent member of the diplomatic circle in Washington.

Governor Albert C. Ritchie will also be among the notables that will that day address the graduating class and visitors.

George Steptoe Washington, a collateral descendant of the first President, will be one of the guests of honor as was his forbear in May 1784.

In the afternoon the celebration of the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Washington will be held on the campus with the college students and the residents of the surrounding towns participating. Arrangements have already been made for the broadcasting and filming of these events.

A procession of floats portraying historic events will begin in Chestertown and proceed towards the college unrolling as it goes the Washington markers and the tablets commemorating historic spots. Prizes have been offered of ten dollars each for the most artistic float from among each of the following groups: one room schools, graded elementary schools, high schools, and the adult organizations of the county. The prizes will be offered separately to each group. There will be no competition between the groups.

On the arrival of the procession at Washington College the dedication of the markers, that are to be placed at the historic spots throughout the state, will take place. The organization of the procession and the general arrangement for the procedure of the afternoon program will be under the direction of J. Thomas Killeen, director of athletics at Washington College, and head of the local branch of the American Legion.

The pageants, under the leadership of Miss Doris T. Bell, assistant director of Physical Education at Washington College, will take place in approximately the following manner:

Prologue.
Beech Hall High School Pageant.
Galena High School Pageant.
Millington High School Pageant.
Chestertown High School Pageant.
Washington College Pageant.

Epilogue.
The pageants by the local high schools will take approximately fifteen minutes each and will concern some event in their town's history in which Washington figures. The pageant offered by the students of the college will probably concern the visit of George Washington to the campus in 1784. Included in this will be a shortened version of the play, "Gustavus Vasa," which was presented in its entirety by the students during Washington's visit in May, 1784. Because of the inclusion of the play in the college pageant, this speaking will take approximately forty-five minutes.

The members of the local branch of the American Legion will serve as ushers for the occasion.

All visitors, students, and local residents are invited to attend all the functions of the college during these days of gala celebration dressed in the colorful costumes of the period that is being commemorated.

RESIGNS PRESIDENCY

Col. Hiram S. Brown

At a meeting of the directors of the Radio Keith Orpheum Corporation on Wednesday, April 18, Col. Hiram S. Brown, member of the Board of Visitors and Governors, resigned as president. He was succeeded by Merlin H. Aylesworth, head of the National Broadcasting Co.

Col. Brown will continue as a member of the board of directors and as advisor to Mr. Aylesworth. The Radio Keith Orpheum is a subsidiary of the Radio Corporation of America.

Philadelphia Alumni Chapter To Hold Bridge Party

The Philadelphia Chapter of the Washington College alumni will hold a card party at the home of John L. Couchman, of Philadelphia, on the evening of April 30. The receipts of the party will be added to the Philadelphia Loan Fund, which is used to help needy students pay their college expenses.

President and Mrs. Titwirth will attend.

Student Council, A. A., and Elm Offices To Be Filled

(Continued From Page 1)

The officers to be voted on at the spring elections are: President, Vice-President, and Secretary of the Student Council; President of the Athletic Association, and Editor, Business Manager, Assistant Editor and Assistant Business Manager of THE WASHINGTON ELM.

The dates for the election of Editor and Business Manager of "The Pegasus" and the presidents of the four clubs have not as yet been announced.

High School Superintendents And Principals Hold Meeting

The county superintendents and the high school principals of the five northern counties of the Eastern Shore held their annual convention at William Smith Hall on Wednesday, April 18. Luncheon was served in the college for those attending.

The convention was presided over by Dr. E. Claude Fontaine, supervisor of the northern district.

HERB'S QUICKLUNCH

Sandwiches of all kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Voshell House

JAMES E. NEWTON Cleaning — Pressing Repairing

103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

Students Of Washington College A Safe Place To Deal THE STAM DRUG CO. Everything in Drugs

Prescriptions Filled by Registered Pharmacists
Only

A Full Line of
School Supplies
Whitman's Candy
Cigars and Tobacco

ADVERTISE IN THE ELM

For Better
COAL SERVICE
Phone 149
C. W. Kibler & Sons
Chestertown, Maryland

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store
Where Your Dollar
Has More Cents

Herrera Elected President Of Local Y. W. C. A. Group

Organization To Send Representatives To Washington

Ethel M. Herrera was elected president of the Y. W. C. A. for the college year of 1932-33 at the meeting held in Reid Hall Tuesday evening, April 18. The remaining officers elected at that time were: Evelyn J. Jewell, vice-president; Genevieve F. Carvel, secretary; and Evelyn Roe, treasurer.

Miss Herrera and Miss Jewell have been chosen by the organization to represent Washington College at the spring conferences to be held on April 21 at the American University. The newly elected officers will take office following the next open meeting, when the new members will be accepted.

JUST UP THE ROAD AT

SCHAUBER'S

For Delicious

ICE CREAM, MILK,
CAKES, SANDWICHES,
CANDIES, DRINKS and
TOBACCO of all kinds

Phone 330

221 - 223 High Street
Chestertown, Maryland

JOE'S Newstand

Cigars, Cigarettes,
Soft Drinks, Newspapers,
Magazines
Of All Kinds

The
Third National Bank
Chestertown, Md.

The Only
National Bank
In Kent County

When Traveling Use The BALTIMORE-TOLCHESTER FERRY

Direct Route From The Eastern Shore To The Heart of Baltimore

For Passengers, Automobiles and Trucks—LOW RATES.
For information — Phone Chestertown 810-F3; Baltimore Plaza 8165.
TOLCHESTER COMPANY

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE

306 Park Row
MAKES YOUR BEAUTY SCINTILLATE

for the coming-out party, the "frat" dance, the formal dinner or the ball of balls.

Our Beautician's many years of experience as a beauty adviser have taught her the "finishing touches" that emphasize beauty by concealing every blemish that might otherwise mar the loveliness that every fastidious woman covets.

Join the ranks of the Park Row Beauty Shoppe's large clientele. Our offerings are always smartly becoming, and our facial and make-up treatments not only tone the skin for the newest colors but also accentuate one's best features.

Phone 334

By Appointment

DEL-MAR-VA RESTAURANT

—FOR—
AFTER DANCE LUNCHEONS
AND REGULAR MEALS

The Emerson Hotel

Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled

Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

Compliments of

Chestertown

Electric Light and Power

Company

ALBERT L. WHEAT
"The Young Men's Shop"
Chestertown, Maryland

CLOTHING

SHOES

HABERDASHERY

DROP IN
AND LET US SHOW YOU
OUR FULL LINE OF
VICTROLAS - RADIOS
AND FURNITURE
THE LATEST IN MUSIC
AND RECORDS

W. P. NEWNAM
CHESTERTOWN, MD.

Middle Hall Me Object To Outsiders In Lounge

President Instructed To Write Fraternities

That a disagreement between the fraternity and non-fraternity factions of the college seemed close was shown today by the demand of the Middle Hall Club members on Walter A. Brandford, the president, to ask the presidents of the three fraternities in a formal letter to have fraternity members show "a feeling of reserve" in their use of the Middle Hall lounge room.

The letter, in part, follows:

"It seems as though some fraternities may have been using the Middle Hall Club room and its facilities indiscriminately. This has caused friction within our club between the members and those who do not feel obligated to pay the nominal dues. We are glad to have fraternity men mingle with us, but we feel that at least a feeling of reserve should prevail.

"We need your cooperation in this matter. We hope you will comply with our wishes and our connections may be of the highest and friendliest type."

No answer has as yet been made by the three fraternities.

Miss Lavina Engle To Address Students At Assembly

Mayor Of Baltimore To Close Assembly Programs

Miss Lavina Engle, of the League of Women Voters, of Baltimore, will address the student body in the Thursday assembly to be held on April 28. Miss Engle is also a member of the Maryland State Legislature.

The following speakers are scheduled to speak at the remaining Thursday assemblies:

May 5—Dr. George Preston, of the Mental Hygiene Society.

May 12—The Rev. George Duvenport, Bishop of the Diocese of Eastern.

May 19—Mr. David Weglien, Supt. of Schools for Baltimore.

May 26—The Hon. Howard Jackson, Mayor of Baltimore.

Mt. Vernon To Present "Saving Dad" April 27

The Mt. Vernon Literary Society will present "Saving Dad," a one-act comedy, on Wednesday, April 27th, at 7:00 P. M. All students are invited to attend. Admission, fifteen cents.

NOTICE

"Society Notes," the column that usually graces this section of THE ELM, is not included in this issue due to the resignation of the society editor, William McAlpine Richards.

The Chestertown
Bank of Maryland

Bank of Service

Branches at
Galena, Kennedyville,

Betterton
Main Branch
Chestertown, Maryland

3 1/2% ON SAVINGS

Olympia "Doings"

(Special To THE ELM)
By Leonard Herwin
INTRODUCING

Good morning, folks.

We introduce ourselves as your special news announcers on the Olympic Games, bringing to you for the next few months interesting side-lights on the "doings" as American prepares its athletic party for the world.

UNCLE SAM THE HOST

During the last days of July and the first fourteen days of August, the United States plays host to the world and the games of the Xth Olympiad. To date, the record number of 40 nations have announced their intention to participate. Southern California, the "Playground of America," and the state of the events, is preparing a rip-roaring welcome.

IT'S NOT SO

"People think of the Olympic Games as a type of glorified track meet."

Bill Henry, famed sports writer and expert, for twenty years a leading correspondent on assignments to every part of the globe, now sports technical director of the Olympic Games, was telling us of his work.

"They are more than that. Besides including an international contest of the purest of the globe, now sports technical director of the Olympic Games, was telling us of his work.

"They are more than that. Besides including an international contest of the purest of the globe, now sports technical director of the Olympic Games, was telling us of his work.

OLYMPIA

These games had a deep symbolism in mosaic-covered antiquity.

It is a matter of historical fact that down in ancient Greece great battles were called off when the moon reached a certain position in the heavens during the summer solstice. The homieidic squads on both sides of the battlefield would then adjourn and tarry off to Olympia on the west coast of Greece to hold the games.

In truth, they were not games, but athletic rites of purification dedicated to Zeus, invisible ruler of heaven and earth.

The serious business over, and the victors crowned with the proper herbs, the athletes would return to the horae-play on the battlefield.

It seems fitting that the Olympic Games, in which the physical perfection of the youth of that ancient day inspired eternal works of art, should have been revived by a youth in this modern day when the games, with their intense competition, are an invaluable physical expression to men being dwarfed by the machine age.

DEATH AND REVIVAL

Although the Greeks had a word for him and more, the Roman Emperor Theodosius finished both Greeks and games in the year 394 A. D.

And that was for nearly fifteen centuries until the year 1892.

In that year the athletically-minded Frenchman, Baron Pierre de Coubertin, then a youth of seventeen, proposed the revival of the games before the French Sports Union. His dream was realized at Athens four years later—the city which once be held the glory that was Greece in the days of the Olympiads, now witnessing the first modern edition of the ancient games.

(Editor's Note — An Olympic Games story will appear as a regular feature of this paper.)

Six Blue Key Men To Serve As Ushers June 11

Six members of the Blue Key fraternity will don the blue coats of Washington's army to serve as ushers for the one hundred and fortieth commencement of Washington College, it was announced here today by Oliver E. Robinson, president of the local Blue Key Chapter.

The men, who volunteered at the suggestion of Dr. Paul E. Titworth, are: Hubert F. Ryan, Fred G. Uilson, Albert E. Dohkins, DeWitt F. Clarke, and Richard M. Gamber.

NOTICE

A meeting has been called for the committee of the Dean's Cabinet, which was to investigate the number of activities now present on the campus, for Thursday evening, April 28, at 6:30 P. M.

The members of the committee are: Harold D. Shriver, Albert E. Baker, Oliver E. Robinson, and Irving S. Ross.

"Goodness, George, this is not our baby! This is the wrong carriage."

"Shut up! It's a better carriage."

"My wife has found a new use for worn-out 'Time' magazines. She kills flies with them."

"Why, any magazine will do that."

"Oh no—Time softens the blow."

Attendant at Filling Station: "Here comes another I. W. W. customer."

Leader: "What's that?"

A. A. F. S.: "A motorist who wants information, Wind and Water."

WATCH THIS PAGE FOR SPECIAL FEATURE ARTICLE

ON PSYCHOLOGICAL RESEARCH IN THE NEXT ISSUE

QUALITY SPORTING GOODS
Catalog on Request

McCallisters

Est. 1894
124 W. Baltimore St.
Baltimore, Maryland

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE
CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students
Offers Complete Line of Conklin and Wahl Pens and Pencils. Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery, And School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

RESTAURANT

For a Delicious Electric Toasted Sandwich, Special Dishes,
Regular 50c Dinners, Fancy Sandwiches, Ice Cream,
Sodas, Candies, Cigarettes, etc.,
Visit The

CANDY KITCHEN
(Open 6 A. M. Until 12 P. M.)

The Washington Players

Will Present

Three One-Act Plays

"Rip Van Winkle"

—Under the direction of
William H. Danneberg

"How He Lied to Her Husband"

—Under the direction of Lindley E. Cook

"The Love Passage"

—Under the direction of Dorothy A. Johnson

IN
WILLIAM SMITH HALL
Thursday, May 5th

Hoover Receives Washington Delegation

RYAN ELECTED PRESIDENT OF COUNCIL; WINGATE MADE EDITOR

LIGHT VOTE CAST IN STUDENT ELECTION

Major Offices Of College Filled

One hundred and sixty-five students from among the two hundred sixty-five enrolled marched into the Deen's office on May 4 to elect the following men to office for the next college year:

President of the Student Council—Hubert Ryan.

Vice-President of the Student Council—Joseph Dickerson.

Secretary of the Student Council—Richard Gamber.

Editor of THE WASHINGTON ELM—Phillip Wingate.

Business Manager of THE WASHINGTON ELM—John McLain.

Assistant Editor—Charles Clark.

Assistant Business Manager—Edwin Coulbourn.

President of the A. A.—John E. Fitzgerald.

Hubert Ryan was elected to office on the first ballot with 97 votes out of the 117 cast in the nominations, which were held in the morning of the election day. Joseph Dickerson, his closest contestant for the presidency was elected to the office of Vice-President on the first ballot. Richard Gamber, who was elected to the office of Secretary, followed his future colleagues to office on the first ballot with a total of 57 votes. Eugene Nuttle, the next highest candidate, received 29 votes.

Phillip Wingate was elected Editor of THE WASHINGTON ELM on the initial ballot with 89 votes. William Richards, the only other candidate with more than a handful of votes, tallied 18 in the counting. John McLain outscored Joseph Dickerson by 22 votes to become Business Manager of THE ELM by the count of 91 to 69. Charles Clark, this year's sports reporter, was elected Assistant Editor with a total of 105 out of the 165 cast. While Edward Coulbourn was chosen to assist McLain in the control of the paper's purse strings.

The presidency of the Athletic Association went to Edward Fitzgerald on the second ballot where he scored 77 votes over the 44 and 43 of his two opponents.

New Lamp Posts

Now Being Erected

Two lamp posts, done in the same style as those on the gateway, are being erected at the beginning of the walk to Middle Hall.

CHOSEN PAGEANT LEAD

Elizabeth M. Brice, of Betterton, Md., will play the part of Nellie Curtis in the celebration of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Washington College, it was announced here today.

Florence C. Resin, of Galt, Md., will impersonate the character of Betty Fairfax in the same celebration.

Both of these historical characters played by Miss Brice and Miss Resin, were the famous ladies of the Colonial period.

MISS LAVINA ENGL'S SPEAKS TO STUDENTS

Says Students Can Effect Local Thinking

"The geographical and social structure of the Eastern Shore gives the students of Washington College an excellent opportunity to effect the political and economical thinking of this locality," declared Miss Lavina Engles, of the Maryland House of Delegates, in addressing the student body the assembly held in William Smith Hall on Thursday, April 28.

"The colleges and universities, in comparison to those of other countries, are too detached from the political and economical life of the community about them. The students must make their contact with the problems that are raised," said the speaker.

"Often times," she continued, "the university or college, in a busy city, is too close to the events to see the economical and political factors involved. But you at Washington College, in the seclusion of the Eastern Shore, can view them calmly and in perspective."

At the conclusion of Miss Engle's speech, Oliver E. Robinson, president of the Student Council, read a letter from President Paul E. Titusworth to the student body. Theodora Chapman, president of the Women's Society, addressed the students on a current college problem.

Council Acts On Cabinet Resolutions

No Action Taken This Year

The resolutions of the Dean's Cabinet, which implied the discontinuance of the Middle Hall and Golf Clubs, and the merging of the two literary societies into one with the name of Mt. Vernon, was received by the Student Council at its meeting on May 2 and upheld in part and otherwise referred to the groups concerned. No official reaction to their decisions has been received.

It was stated by the Council that the golf course, now located on the college campus, will be situated on the new athletic field next year and golf will then come more naturally under control of the Athletic Association. In this way, the activities of the Club will be taken over by the Association and the need for the Club will disappear. No action will be taken this year. The Club will continue to exist with the same officers and the same functions.

The Middle Hall Club will exist next year only if the members of Middle Hall care to organize informally, for their present activities, the maintenance of the lounge and the purchasing of minor equipment, will be assumed by the college authorities. It was recommended by the Council that J. J. Johns, business manager of the college, assess the residents of Middle Hall one dollar for the purchasing of equipment and he maintain the lounge.

(Continued On Page 5)

STUDENTS HEAR DR. PRESTON AT ASSEMBLY

Dr. George Preston, commissioner of Mental Hygiene for the State of Maryland, told the students at the assembly on June 4 that education should protect them from mental ill health, but added that he was not sure that it would.

To enable the students to determine when they were in good mental health, Dr. Preston defined it as "producing the appropriate behavior for a given situation." He admitted that the word "appropriate" was as indefinite as the words "mental ill health," which he said were almost impossible to define.

"Education should teach us," the speaker continued, "to evaluate our own behavior and thinking with the behavior and thinking of others. We must always realize that people present a 'front' that hides the real state of their minds. The 'slips of the tongue' are always the real things that people are thinking."

"It is not the situation we are in that determines our behavior," he said, "it is our attitude toward the factors of that situation that determine whether we produce 'the appropriate behavior'."

"Education," concluded Dr. Preston, "should enable us to define the intangible and thus to estimate our position in the scale of other people's thinking."

Junior Girls To Hold Tea This Afternoon

The Junior women will entertain the Senior men and women at a tea to be held in Reid Hall today at 3 P. M.

Spring flowers, gathered from local gardens, will be used as decorations for the function.

This affair is an annual event held in honor of each graduating class of the college.

German Ambassador Will Speak Here June 11

Friedrich von Prittwitz, German Ambassador to the United States, has accepted the invitation to be the Commencement speaker for the one hundred and fiftieth Commencement of this college, it was announced here today by President Paul E. Titusworth.

Herr von Prittwitz began service in the German Foreign office in 1908 and, since that time has served in St. Petersburg, Rome, Trieste, and Washington. His war record was terminated by a wound that retired him to service in Berlin. He was also co-editor of "Die Deutsche Nation" from 1919-1925.

COLLEGE PLAYERS GIVE THREE ONE-ACT PLAYS

Were Directed By Students

The Washington Players presented three one-act plays in William Smith Hall, Thursday evening, May 5th. They were: "How He Lied To Her Husband," directed by Lindley E. Cook; "Rip Van Winkle," directed by Willam H. Dunsberger; and "The Love Passage," directed by Dorothy Johnson.

The cast in "How He Lied To Her Husband," the brilliant Shavian comedy of carnal passion, was: Henry Apjohn, A. Faria Rahn; Mrs. Bompas, Roseline Scott; and Mr. Bompas, Robert Furman.

In the amusing tale of that famous old reprobate, Rip Van Winkle, the players were: Nicholas Vender, Roland Ready; Derrick Van Beekman; George Gendry; Rip Van Winkle, William H. Dunsberger; Henck Vender, Willard Souder and Howard Plummer; Greichen Van Winkle, Henrietta Newman; Seth Slough, Roland Ready; and Meenie Van Slough, Helen Norris.

"The Love Passage," which explained how smearing mustard on pictures brings true love, had for its cast: DeWitt Clarke as Jack Hall, Roland Ready as Sam Cross, Mildred Sepires as Capt. Allen and Wilma Dahm as Hetty Allen.

This is the last presentation of the Washington Players.

Ask President To Speak Here

No Delinite Promise Given

President Hoover received at the White House Thursday, May 5, a delegation from Washington College asking him to make an address here on Commencement day, June 11.

Mr. Hoover told the delegation, led by Dr. Paul E. Titusworth, president of Washington College, and Senator Phillips Lee Goldsborough, of Maryland, there was a strong possibility of a message from him in person at the date set.

The delegation, who were courteously given an audience of about ten minutes, were told that present conditions made it almost impossible for the President to leave the White House at any time. They were assured, however, by Mr. Hoover that if it was at all possible, he would be present to address the Commencement day gathering.

A member of the delegation stated that the group was pleased with the results of their audience.

If the President arrives, a national broadcasting hook-up is practically assured for the exercises.

Minuet Planned For Jane Ball Opening

A minuet, with the participants dressed as Colonial soldiers and Colonial ladies, will be a feature of the opening of the June Ball to be held here on the evening of June 10.

All the Senior women will participate as well as Theodora Chapman and Arlene Gels, of the Junior class. The men that will take the parts of the Colonial soldiers are: James Williams, Robert Furman, Howe Davis, D. B. Ford, Walter Bradford, John Lashley, Oliver Robinson, Robert Carey, Albert Baker, Charles Holland, Edwin Coulbourn, John Mandrel, Richard Gamber, Ralph Hurries, and Lindley Cook.

Student Comment On Resolutions Of Cabinet

Robert L. Cary—"I approve of their decision concerning the Golf and literary societies, but why should the Middle Hall Club be chosen from among the social societies?"

Albert W. Dowling—"I think that we can get along without all those things—as long as we have our Shakespeare."

David C. Fisher—"The Golf Club should be kept. But I don't think that the Middle Hall Club is being used in the way it was intended."

Helen W. Norris—"It isn't fair. The Middle Hall Club has as much right to exist as the three fraternities. But I don't think that anyone would object to the combining of the two literary societies. What is the job Club?"

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

Editor IRVING S. ROSS
Assistant Editor Philip Wingate
Alumni Editor A. E. Howard
Society Editor W. McA. Richards
Exchange Editor John A. Wagner

REPORTERS

Janet Atwater, Roland Bailey, Walter Branford, Charles B. Clark, Roland C. Ready, Annabelle Storey

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

DeWitt F. Clark, Edward F. Fitzgerald, Paul Pippin

SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES

Elizabeth Cooper, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager JOHN J. LUDDY
Assistant Business Manager Joseph B. Dickerson
Circulation Manager Edwin T. Coulbourn

ASSISTANTS

Louis I. Goldstein, Scott Beck, Jr.

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.
Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

SATURDAY, APRIL 23, 1932

THE WASHINGTON ELM

This is our Swan Song. For one collegiate year what we had to say was determined only by ourselves. That is as much as anything is determined by ourselves, for here, as everywhere, the great American game of "playing ball" has had a year-round lining. Now we have the world for a subject and the six pages of THE ELM as our only limit. It would be foolish for any one to sue us for libel, for we have not red cent and we are entirely square with the college. The possibilities are stunning.

We ignore all this and, with a purely altruistic motive, go to labor on THE ELM again. Here is the picture. A college activity—one of the few that could actually have life value—has been made an office for fraternities to bid for. Never has there been more than three men concerned with the work of editing, and each year the little sun which they have learned has gone with them off the college campus. The same low grade of journalism is the only thing that, like the poor, has stayed with us. A fine medium for the English department, it has been ignored by them and left to the bad management of the students.

Yes, we advocate faculty control of this paper. But that will mean repression of student opinion, you say. The answer for that is, the students have no opinion worth the type to print it. It is an axiom of the Editors that, if there was no cafeteria "here would be no "Open Forum." If the English department had control, there would be, at least, an opportunity to train the students who were interested in the technique of writing.

The college is ignoring a fine opportunity to make "THE ELM" what the college catalogue says it is and what it should be. A brief lecture course could be tacked on to the editing of the paper, the office could be fitted out with a few old typewriters, and, with the authority he would have as a faculty member, the professor could bring about the production of a paper that would, aside from its other uses, give the students one dollar and fifty cents worth of newspaper. A student, subject to the petty monstrosities and the cliques of collegiate life, cannot do this. If he is a noble young fellow when his term of office begins, he soon develops a "capitalistic" cynicism and the result is not a better paper.

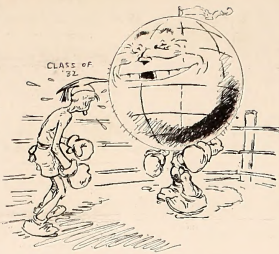

All this means work for some person who is probably struggling right now with a heavy teaching load. But there is enjoyment in this business of getting out a college newspaper. Making news stories, laying out pages, seeing people actually read and talk about them; all of that has its thrills for the group that is together behind it all.

We leave these suggestions to the incoming Editors and to the administration and we hope that, when we send in our one fifty for a subscription, we will get back a better ELM than we produced. Good luck to you!

*What about a complimentary copy?

L'ENVOI

We march off this campus with one definite feeling about ourselves, the college, and education in general. As perhaps you might have heard, we are the one hundred and fiftieth class to walk beyond these walls armed with a Washington diploma. We are sure that at the graduation exercises someone will say something about "one hundred and fifty years of progress." For all these reasons our feeling is one of bewilderment. We have roomed with, eaten with, and studied with this one hundred and fiftieth class for four years and we have a fair understanding of most of them. Now, in our lifetime we have seen improved automobiles, airplanes, refrigerators, and garbage cans, but Lord help us, can we be "the latest, modern improvement" in college graduates? If so, what was that first class like, and what will the three hundredth class resemble?

HE'S TOWN OUT DON'T LET HIM CLUFF YOU!

NOTICE

The Editor of THE WASHINGTON ELM wishes to thank President Paul E. Thoworth, Dr. J. S. W. Jones, Miss Mattie Whitaker, Harry S. Russell, of THE ENTERPRISE, and all the more persistent members of the business and editorial staffs for their cooperation and assistance to him in a hundred ways during the editing of this year's ELM.

Clubs At Other Colleges

The decision of twenty undergraduate members of the League for Industrial Democracy, to form an active student chapter at Swarthmore marks the inauguration of another undergraduate activity in what has frequently been called "Swarthmore's overgrown student life." From "The Swarthmore Phoenix" Swarthmore College.

NEW BOOKS

Among the new books received by the library are: S. S. San Pedro—Crazes, Only Yesterday—Allen, The Works and Novels of Winston Churchill (ten volumes), The Art of Being a Woman—Knopf, Mr. and Mrs. Pennington—Young, Barretts of Wimpole Street—Bentley, Mozart—Davenport, Past Years, An Autobiography—Lodge, Manchuria, The Cradle of Conflicts—Lattimore, As I See It—Norman Thomas, Goethe: Man and Poet—Nevelson.

NOTICE

THE WASHINGTON ELM staff is deeply indebted to Charles H. Sykes, of the Philadelphia Evening Ledger, for the creation of the drawing found on this page; and to Paul W. Pippin for the inkling of Mr. Sykes' work.

INTERCOLLEGIATE

The demure young bride, a trifle pale, her lips set in a tremulous smile, slowly stepped down the long church aisle, clinging to the arm of his father. As she reached the low platform before the altar her slippered foot brushed a petted flower, upsetting it. She looked at the spilled dirt gravely; and then raising her childlike eyes to the sedate face of the old minister, she said: "That's a h— of a place to put a bride."—"From The Log," U. S. Naval Academy.

Just An Udder Stunt

Amateur milkmaids at the University of Minnesota have challenged coeds of the University of Wisconsin to a milking contest. An artistically engraved milk can will be awarded to the winning team.

Left handed ping-pong has been introduced at the University of Minnesota, in an attempt to cure stammering students.

A young coed, requesting a book entitled "Horses' Out" at the University of Utah library, was informed that the book she really wanted was "Horse's Odds."

Bartering at Beloit

Meat, potatoes, eggs, fruit, chickens and vegetables are acceptable at Beloit College in lieu of registration fees. The faculty announcement of the return to barter explained that it was one measure to combat the dele.

Love, intoxication, and faculty intelligence are causes for freshmen flunking out of college, according to the Dean of the University of Nebraska.

A senior at Georgia Tech took and passed a course, and then discovered that he had taken and passed the same course, in the same room, with the same professor, before.

—From "The University Bachelors" George Washington University.

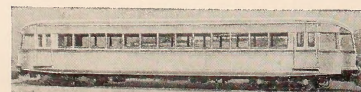

"ELECTRIC BULLETS"

THE result of exhaustive wind-tunnel tests of conventional trolley car models revealed that at speeds of 70 and 80 miles per hour, 70 per cent of the total power was consumed in overcoming air resistance. Streamlining saves approximately 80 per cent of the power.

When the Philadelphia and Western Railway Company decided to replace its cars with faster and more efficient equipment, it chose "electric bullets"—new streamlined cars—each powered by 4 G-E 100-hp. motors. The cars, constructed of aluminum alloy, with tapered noses and tails, are much lighter in weight and capable of greater operating efficiency.

In developing transportation apparatus, college-trained General Electric engineers have conducted extensive tests to improve operating conditions. On land, on sea, and in the air, to-day's equipment is safer, swifter, more dependable, and more comfortable.

GENERAL ELECTRIC
SALES AND ENGINEERING SERVICE IN PRINCIPAL CITIES

Washington Meets Lehigh In Lacrosse

Locals Are Favored To Take Decision

Washington College will be presented its best opportunity to score its second Lacrosse win today at Bethlehem, Pa., when it meets the Lehigh University twelve. It will be the third game for the locals against Northern foes.

So far this season Lehigh has proven very weak in the Old Indian game and have lost three games by over twenty points. However, playing against rather good teams, they have gained experience. At this stage of the season and will be ready to offer stiff opposition of some sort. On the other hand, Washington players are still stinging from bitter defeats at the hands of Western Maryland and New York University. Still practices have been held for the last two weeks and the Maroon and Black will be on the warpath when they take their positions.

Coch Eklat's plan to have his team play the same type of Lacrosse as in other games. On the attack, back plays will be used with no alterations except in their identification. The usual hard-driving game will be played by the attack, who once in possession of the ball keep it moving on the outside till openings for plays are made. The same lineup of Reinhold, Plummer, Williams, Pippin, Gamber, Wingate, Clark, Robinson, Kargin, Geriatis, Chambers and Williams will probably start the game. All are in good shape after one or two minor injuries in the Western Maryland game and are ready to win.

TRACK TEAM MEETS SUSQUEHANNA TODAY

Washington's representatives of the elder path meet Susquehanna in a dual meet at Schenectady today. Coach Kibler and a squad of eighteen men left Chestertown last night with hopes of bagging the first track and field meet that the college has participated in for several years.

The locals will be stronger in running events than in field events. Coach Kibler has a very creditable set of dash men in Chase, Baker, Fleetwood and others. While definite information as to which men would be entered in the various events was not given out the following lineups are probable: 100 yard dash—Chase, Baker, Fleetwood; 220 yard dash—Fleetwood, Paris, Chase; 440 yard dash—Beaman, Bradley, Stark; one half mile—Bunwell, McCullough; one mile—Harris, McCullough; two mile run—Holland, Harris; 110 yard hurdles—Bradley, Fleetwood; 220 yard low hurdles—Bisland, Fleetwood.

In the field events, the following lineups are probable: Running broad jump—Baker, McCullough; Pole vault—Proodfoot, Barkhardt; Pole vault—Lozza, Barkhardt; Javelin throw—Ward, Bradley; Discus—Squires, Groat; Shot put—Groat, Ward, Nicholson.

DROP IN
AND LET US SHOW YOU
OUR FULL LINE OF
VICTROLAS, RADIOS
AND FURNITURE
THE LATEST IN MUSIC
AND RECORDS
W. P. NEWMAN
CHESTERTOWN, MD.

The Chestertown
Bank of Maryland
Bank of Service

Branches at
Galena, Kennedyville,

Betterton
Main Branch
Chestertown, Maryland
3½% ON SAVINGS

Third National Bank
Chestertown, Md.

The Only
National Bank
In Kent County

Fresh Milk Daily

SPECIAL FEATURE ARTICLE

ON

PSYCHOLOGICAL RESEARCH

IN THE NEXT ISSUE

QUALITY SPORTING
GOODS
Catalog on Request
McCallisters
Est. 1894
124 W. Baltimore St.
Baltimore, Maryland

LACROSSE CAPTAIN

Walter Kargin

Captain Walter Kargin will lead Washington's stick men in the lacrosse game played with Lehigh to day. Kargin plays a wing attack position and has shown himself to be a clever mid-fielder, being adept at both attack and defense. Kargin has earned four letters in lacrosse, having gained experience in high school before entering college.

For Better
COAL SERVICE
Phone 149
C. W. Kibler & Sons
Chestertown, Maryland

Try the new style Drinkies
KAYWOODIE
Initials Extra
UNITED CIGAR STORES
Sales—Agency

P. A. U. L. and S. A. M.
SHOE and Service
SHOE REPAIRING
Next to Sterlings Drug
Store
Chestertown, Maryland

Students Will Find Our
Store a Very Desirable
Place To Visit
TOULSON'S
Drug Store
Phones—26 and 311

A Special Lace To-The-
Toe Athletic Ked for
Women's Gym Work.
Harry F. Jefferson

MARYLAND BASKETBALL ASSOCIATION FORMED

After several years, during most of which time the prospects of ever attaining the end desired were dim, the Maryland Intercollegiate Basketball Association has at last been formed and basketball in the Free State hereby advanced several paces. The cage league with Washington, Mt. St. Mary's, Loyola, Hopkins and Western Maryland as members will fill a long waited place in the sports circles of the State. St. John's, at the present time, a little stubborn because of a disagreement over eligibility rules, will in all probability be in the association before many seasons past.

There is some discussion about the trophy to be awarded the winner and some talk of letting the trophy go permanently to the first club to win it three times in succession. We feel that it would be far better to let the team which wins the cup three times, not necessarily in succession, retain it permanently. It will be almost an impossibility for one team to win the trophy three years running and so each year's winner would get its name engraved upon the cup. It would seem to be necessary to replace it for lack of engraving space.

We extend our congratulations and best wishes to the broad-viewed athletic authorities of the various colleges for their willingness to start the league. It should mean a big thing for Maryland basketball.

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing

103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

When Traveling Use The
BALTIMORE-TOLCHESTER
FERRY
Direct Route From The Eastern Shore To The Heart of Baltimore

For Passengers, Automobiles and Trucks—LOW RATES.
For information—Phone
Chestertown 810-73; Baltimore
Plaza 8165.
TOLCHESTER COMPANY

"Cheerful"
"Bah!"
"Queasy?"
"Awful."
"Blue?"
"You said it."
"Talk to her?"
"Gone."
"Call her."
"Yeh?"
"Long Distance!"
"Whetman!"

LOW EVENING AND NIGHT RATES
ON STATION-TO-STATION CALLS
EIGHTH: (Between 7 p. m. and 8:30 p. m.) 25¢; 20¢ less than day rates
NIGHT: (Between 8:30 p. m. and 4:30 a. m.) 40¢; 15¢ less than day rates
These reductions apply on all rates above 35¢

The Chesapeake and Potomac
Telephone Company
of Baltimore City
(S. C. System)

Western Maryland Wins Close Game

Washingtonians Lack Usual Fight

Coch Eklat's former teammates and Lacrosse pupils struggled through an extremely hard fought game at Westminster on Saturday, April 29, to win by the count of 3 to 0. All goals were registered in the first half. The game witnessed the first victory for the Western Maryland Terrors this season and for Washington, the fourth defeat out of five years.

Playing in a temperature which would have better suited baseball in midsummer, the Eastern Shoremen were unable to muster up sufficient aggressiveness and pep to stop the onslaught of an inspired Western Maryland team, which was in a mood to stop some of the best of them. Neither team was able to score in the first ten minutes. At this time one of Western Maryland's winged defense men, Callahan obtained an opening and scored the first goal. Before the half was up, Doughty and Boyd registered once each and for the scoring for the day.

The second half saw the Maroon and Black playing much better Lacrosse. The team played more aggressively but were unsuccessful on what amounted to be two or three certain goals.

Western Maryland	Washington
Hernick	G. Reinhold
Hammill	P. M. Williams
Lucas	CP. Plummer
Cleiman	FD. Pippin
Paterson	SD. Wingate
Callahan	TD. Gamber
Doughty	C. Clark
Leitch	T. G. Geriatis
Wiley	SA. Kargin
McNally	FA. Robinson
Boyd	OH. Chambers
Maloney	HH. J. Williams

Score by halves:
Western Maryland 3 0—3
Washington 0 0—0
Substitutions—Western Maryland: Javer for Wiley, Saitz for McNally, Borse for Lucas, Washington: Gaudin for McClain for Pippin. Goals—Western Maryland: Callahan, Doughty, Boyd. Referee—Lieut. West.

ELM EXCHANGES NOW
PLACED IN LIBRARY*Collegiate Papers At Disposal Of Students

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Ethel S. Fox, librarian, copies of the several collegiate newspapers which regularly exchange with THE ELM, will be placed in the library for student use, beginning Monday, May 2.

Some of these papers display excellent editorial ability, as well as items of general interest to all collegians. The exhibit will include all the newspapers of the various Maryland colleges, and many other well known student publications.

Any suggestions for the further increasing of the number of worthwhile exchanges will be appreciated by the Exchange Department of the ELM.

SIGMA TAU DELTA
NOTES

Elizabeth L. Jones, of Galena, Md., was elected president of Sigma Tau Delta at a recent meeting of the sorority. The other officers elected at that time were: Ellen Flick, vice-president; Alexina Robson, secretary; Dorothy Kimble, treasurer; and Evelyn Roe, sergeant-at-arms.

Charlotte C. Holloway was head of the sorority during the past college term.

On Saturday, April 30, the sorority entertained at a bridge luncheon. Among the alumni that attended were: Mrs. G. C. Bounds, Mrs. C. H. Metcalfe, Mrs. Roland C. Bailey, and Mrs. James E. Merritt.

An alumni chapter of the sorority has been formed and the following officers elected: Mrs. C. H. Metcalfe, president; Mrs. James B. Merritt, vice-president; and Charlotte Holloway, secretary and treasurer.

DR. PAUL E. TITSWORTH TO HEAD MEETING

Paul E. Titsworth, president of Washington College, will preside over the annual Conference of the 34th District of the Rotary International, of which he is President, to be held in Washington, D. C., May 7, 8 and 9.

The body will be addressed by John Nelson, vice-president of the Rotary International, and vice-president of the Sun Life Assurance Co., of Canada.

Mt. Vernon Holds Card Party In Reid Hall

Between thirty or forty guests attended the Mt. Vernon Literary Society's card party held in Reid Hall on Wednesday evening, May 4, from 8 to 10:30.

Both a women's and men's prize was given at the completion of the playing.

ELECTED PRESIDENTHubert Ryan

Hubert Ryan, who was elected President of the Student Council on Wednesday, May 4, is a member of the Blue Key and Phi Sigma Tau fraternities.

His home is in Waterbury, Conn.

PHILADELPHIA ALUMNI Y. M. AND Y. W. MEET
RAISE $150 AT PARTY AT GROUP CONFERENCE

The Philadelphia Alumni Loan fund received $150 from the card party held at the home of John I. Coulbourn in West Philadelphia, May 30. More than one hundred alumni and visitors attended.

President and Mrs. Titsworth, Dr. Thomas H. Fowler, and Paul A. Soudant were among those that attended from Chestertown.

"Lynching Is Justifiable" Is Decision Of Recent Class

Lynching is justifiable, was the decision handed down by the public speaking class during a recent debate in which the affirmative was defended by William McShane Richards and Albert Warner Dowling. The count was 14 to 1 in favor of the two men who opposed Emily Jewell and Theodosia Chapman on this question.

Local Representative Leads Group

The Washington College Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. were represented at the Tri-State conference of those two organizations held in Washington, D. C., on April 23 by Ralph Harries, Harry Smith, Emily Jewell, and Ethel Herrera.

Ralph Harries, president of the local Y. M. C. A., was the chairman of the conference, which concerned the Sino-Japanese affair.

Kirby Page, noted editor, speaker, and traveler addressed the group.

The transportation for the trip was provided by President Paul E. Titsworth.

ADVERTISE IN THE ELM

Ruth Etting

of "Harvest Moon" fame.
Now a regular Chesterfield
Radio feature

Every Wednesday and Saturday night at 10 o'clock E.D.T. Columbia
Coast-to-Coast Network

The Cigarette that's MILDER
—that TASTES BETTER

The Dulany-Vernay Co.

337-339-341 North
Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest

Art China, Leather Goods,
Toys, Books, Athletic
Equipment

The Best Of EVERYTHING
Needed
FOR BUILDING
E. S. Adkins & Co.
Chesertown, Centreville
Easton, Salisbury

WE KNOW

What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style centers.

You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.

Our clothes will meet every thing you demand of them.

BORDLEY & SON

READ THE ELM

© 1932, LUDWIG & STEVEN TOBACCO CO.

DOES "WATER SEEK IT'S OWN LEVEL?" IS INVESTIGATOR'S QUERY

Investigation Proves That In Love It Does

In the course of a short period of years a faculty member has made many students, noting scholastic aptitude, scholastic attainments, out of class activities, and in all probability makes some observations on the companions a student selects, whether they be of the same or of the opposite sex.

One of nature's laws, expressed in proverb form is, "Water tends to seek its own level," and it is on the suggestion of the above proverb that the little study made possible. The question may well be raised whether the college man and college woman is attracted by a member of the opposite sex with a higher level of intelligence, the same level of intelligence, or a lower level of intelligence, or whether there is an absolute disregard of intelligence, in common parlance "gray matter," in the college male's appeal to the college female. Any campus observer can cite cases of any one of the three instances mentioned, but the case cited may be an exception to the general rule, hence opinions are likely only to be surmises. The reader should be warned in advance that a study of the intelligences of campus couples may be as meager of results as the thesis of the aspiring doctorate candidate who wrote on the question, "Has the squid a nose?" only to come to the decision that the squid had no nose, which was information to some people in spite of a negative conclusion.

First of all it is necessary to set up some criteria as to what constitutes a campus couple or a "case." That a young man and co-ed apparently paired off a year period or longer was determined upon as a measure, hence any such couples on the Washington College campus during the past six years, including the present year, may regard themselves as included in this little investigation. It is interesting to note that during the six year period several campus romances have blossomed into married bliss, while some of the campus cases are married but not to each other.

Examination of student records for the period of 1928 to 1932 furnished forty-five campus couples who met the above criteria, either by reason of length of time that they "kept company" or because of the avowal of their attention and interest in each other, or both. Forty-five couples are too small a number to give really any great reliability, yet the results do indicate tendencies that might be revealed if a larger number of "cases" were available. Having carefully pored over eligible campus couples and employed mathematical computations, the degree of relationship between matters of mind and heart were determined. Using the scientific method for determining correlation, it was found that the degree of relationship was a positive .25, a correlation that would be labeled as low. The highest degree of direct relationship that could be attained is 1.00 and the lowest degree of relationship is .01. Had the results been .60 or better the relationship would have been labeled high, .40 to .60 it would have been labeled substantial, while the range of .20 to .40 labels the degree of relationship low. Had the results been less than .20 the relationship would have been labeled very low.

A search of the records between the years of 1926 and 1928 yielded an additional twenty-six couples, making a total of seventy-one couples. On figuring the degree of relationship for the total seventy-one couples the result dropped to a positive .21. While the low degree of relationship was somewhat disappointing, it must be admitted that the results do show a positive relationship, and do indicate that levels of intelligence are a factor in determining the make-up of campus couples. An accumulation of additional student records and computations probably not produce any substantial change in results. It might be an interesting study to follow campus couples, if they marry, once another, to determine what effect happy married life is dependent upon the possession of the same or closely related levels of intelligence. If there is a relationship, it might be of value in knowing something about your intended's I. Q. as well as knowing something about his family history, social status, and chances for success. If on the other hand, we were to discover that couples differing widely in I. Q.'s live happier than those whose I. Q.'s are closely related, then we might be forced to concede that "Love is blind" and disregard the level of intelligence as being a guide in matters of heart, proving that maybe the intellect and emotions are but slightly related.

The writer conceals that similarities or interests, social status, religious, degree of education, and related factors are vital influences in the choice of a "campus friend" and a life mate, but raises the question as a result of this study whether after all water does not tend to seek its own level.

Sophomores Take General Culture Examination

Are Dazed By Questions

Dazed and overwhelmed by their first glimpse of the range of human knowledge, the Sophomores were taken on a flat party when Dr. Fred C. Livingston passed out the three-hour general culture test issued by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching on May 3. It was followed the next day by another three-hour mental inventory on the subjects of English and General Science.

The test is being used in a national survey of the colleges and universities by this Foundation. It will be used as an aid in determining admittance to the Junior class.

Mt. Vernon Plans Its Annual Faculty Program

The faculty of Washington College will entertain the students of Washington College, not in the class room but in the Faculty Program of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society to be held on May 11, in William Smith Hall.

The program will consist of:
Reading of "The Congo"—Dr. Kathleen C. Carpenter.
Vivian selection—Dr. Fred G. Livingston.
Piano solo—Louis B. Russell.
Reading—Frank Goodwin.
"Athletics"—George L. Khatiss.

Gamma Sigma Plans Dinner

The Gamma Sigma society will hold its annual dinner at the Royal Swan Hotel in Betterson on Thursday evening, May 12.

ALBERT L. WHEAT

"The Young Men's Shop"

Chestertown, Maryland

CLOTHING

SHOES

HAERDASHERY

Students Of Washington College A Safe Place To Deal

THE STAM DRUG CO. Everything in Drugs

Prescriptions Filled by Registered Pharmacists Only

A Full Line of School Supplies

Whitman's Candy

Cigars and Tobacco

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store

Where Your Dollar

Has More Cents

COUNCIL ACTS ON RESOLUTIONS

PASSED BY DEAN'S CABINET

No Action To Be Taken This Year

(Continued From Page 1)
The Council referred the consolidation of the Literary Societies to the members of the organizations to thrash out at their respective meetings. It is believed that the selection of the name for the society that will come into existence will be the barrier to a speedy uniting of the two groups. In its resolution, the Cabinet suggested that the name of Mt. Vernon be kept in the annals of the college for the sake of tradition. These recommendations were included in letters sent to the heads of the organizations concerned.

The resolutions of the Cabinet, in full, follow:
TO THE SECRETARY OF THE STUDENT COUNCIL:

I have been instructed by the Dean's Cabinet to present to you the following resolutions passed by the body at its regular meeting on Thursday evening, April 28.
(1). That the GOLF CLUB be

(re)instituted and that its activities be assumed by the Washington College Athletic Association. We recommend that the money contributed by the members and spent in the purchasing of equipment be refunded to the members by the Athletic Association.

(2). That the two Literary societies now present at Washington College be merged into one organization. We also recommend that the name of the MT. VERNON LITERARY SOCIETY be kept as the name of the resulting organization for the sake of the tradition of the college.

(3). That the organization known as the MIDDLE HALL CLUB be abandoned through the room and the equipment be kept as a part of Middle Hall. We suggest that the handling of the present functions of the Club should be done by the administration of the college.

Respectfully submitted,
IRVING S. ROSS,
Secretary.

THE REXAL STORE
EASTMAN KODAKS
FILMS

DEVELOPING

and

PRINTING

BY EXPERTS

DRUGS and

SUNDRIES

Of All Kinds

A. L. STERLING

Compliments

of

Chestertown

Electric Light and Power

Company

ADVERTISE IN THE ELM

READ THE ELM

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE
CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students
Offers Complete Line of Conkling and W. P. Pens and Pencils. Pannants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery, and School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

RESTAURANT

For a Delicious Electric Toasted Sandwich, Special Dishes, Regular 50c Dinners, Fancy Sardines, Ice Cream, Sodas, Candies, Cigarettes, etc.,
Visit The

CANDY KITCHEN

(Open 6 A. M. Until 12 P. M.)

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE

306 Park Row

MAKES YOUR BEAUTY SCINTILLATE

for the coming-out party, the "Frat" dance, the formal dinner or the ball of balls.

Our Beautician's many years of experience as a beauty adviser have taught her the "finishing touches" that emphasize beauty by correcting every blemish that might otherwise mar the loveliness that every fastidious woman covets.

Join the ranks of the Park Row Beauty Shoppe's large clientele. Our offerings are always smartly becoming, and our facial and make-up treatments not only tone the skin for the newest colors but also accentuate one's best features.

Phone 334

By Appointment

DEL-MAR-VA RESTAURANT

— FOR —

AFTER DANCE LUNCHEONS

AND REGULAR MEALS

The Emerson Hotel

Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings

Unexcelled

Rooms $3 ap—Autas Garaged

Private Rooms and

Banquet Halls

For All Occasions

"Fencing to my mind, is an artistry almost more than a sport."

Some of its masters, such as the 76-year old Hungarian, István Bártfai, called it the man of fencing who is fast to pounce even yet the world's fastest dueling hand, have spent lifetimes in perfecting it.

And H. G. Fernand—lucky, lucky faced fencing master of the U. S. A. C. and one of the three members of the Director Technical managing the bouts of the Xth Olympiad—passed to wave his hand toward the pictures of those who had made good, looking down from the walls of his office.

The elderly master of the cold steel art added laughingly—"Perhaps also because of the great technicality of the game, a high type of intelligence is required. At any rate, technicians have made possible some very unsportsmanlike acts and even unfair play, especially in the heated Olympic struggle."

There are times when the ultimate end of sportsmanship will be lost sight of in the ultimate goal of victory—a contestant denying the human eye of a judge is needed to follow it as the lightning attack is met by the clinch and the fighters go in to a corps-a-corp.

GREEKS HAD AWORD FOR IT.
Those ancient sports-lovers who thronged the Olympic Stadium in the final year of the foot of the hill of Crete and offered up physical perfection as a tribute to Zeus, knew well the value of strict rules and the temptation to unsportsmanlike acts.

Before the huge altar to Zeus rising in the center of the sacred Altis—the athlete, his father, brothers, and even gym teacher had to swear to commit no unethical acts. And with all that, a whole row of bronze images were set up along the Altis out of fines exacted for violation of rules.

NEW FOR OLD.
The ancient Altis at the foot of the hill of Crous is exchanged in 1932 for a modern city with its never-ending line of habitations, parks, and pleasure resorts spreading at the foot of high-flung ranges and upon the "contains themselves"—spreading from mountains to sea, from sea to desert, and from desert to orchard-covered plain.

The rude Stadio is, in the case of fencing, exchanged for the $300,000 Olympic Fencing Pavilion, capable of housing several thousand onlookers, and flooded with light through a glass roof installed at a cost of $150,000. The Pavilion stands next door to the Olympic Stadium.

A heavy wooden floor is being constructed over a part of the grill room and four tamped earth strips, 170 feet 7 1/4 inches long and 10 feet wide, inserted in the floor as the dueling area.

The events themselves, taking place every day of the 16-day Olympiad, are divided into three classes—fencing, dueling swords or epee, and dueling or the cut-and-thrust weapon. Each of the thirteen nations expected to participate in August will be represented by a 4-man team and three entries for the women's events, with no team events among the women—about 125 fencers in all.

Homer tells us in his Iliad of Polyphemon, one-eyed giant and cannibalistic son of Neptune, whom Ulysses outwitted. Polyphemon thought there wasn't a heavier of logs or heaver of weights in all the ancient world who could equal him, as he lifted boulders off the coast of Sicily and threw them into the ocean far below in a mad effort to crush Ulysses and his tiny fleet.

When Homer was much less of an exaggerator than we suspect he was. Polyphemon would lose a lead of conceit could be seen Charles Rignolet, the professional French weight lifter in the modern days—or Randolph Lemay, the chubby German university lift, lifted their 400 and 248 pound bar-bells respectively.

And would Polyphemon's single eye peep could he see the $100,000 Egyptian buyweight, Nasrallah, lift poundages which are expected to make the Olympic Auditorium, scene of the weightlifting events in 1932, rock.

POLYPHEMON'S STEP-CHILDREN.
In the massive Olympic Auditorium, built by the Los Angeles Athletic Club at a cost of $500,000, on a site only a mile away from the quaint Mexican plaza where 151 years ago Felipe de New lifted the flag of the Imperial Spain and declared La Ciudad de Los Angeles founded, brawny men from a score of lands will do another kind of lifting in 1932.

Polyphemon's step-children will perform in an 18-foot ring lighted by six 1500 candle-power lamps and surrounded by 10,400 spectators and a wall of fresh air provided by eight large exhaust fans and two intake fans. Preparations have been made to cover the floor of the ring, later to be used for the boxing and wrestling events, with a 3-inch extra layer of hardwood to withstand the pressure of the weightlifting events on the evening of July 30 and 31 in the Xth Olympiad.

AN EYE OPENER.
"Weightlifting, as it will be demonstrated to the Olympic spectator," says handsome Jere Kingbury, assistant coach of the American weightlifting team, "will be a revelation to the sporting fraternity."

"They will find that modern weight lifting, far from being the sport of plain-movers and human oken, is a sport in which the finest type of speed, co-ordination, and balance combined with strength are demanded."

Weight lifters are classified into 5 groups—featherweight, lightweight, middleweight, light-heavyweight, and heavyweight; and they compete only with men in the same weight class. Each nation has two men in each category, making a ten-man team. Each of the husky gentlemen kept three urns at the following lifts—Two Hand Military Press, Two Hands Snatch, and Two Hands Clean and Jerk. His best efforts are added, and he total obtained is his score.

A CARBON COPY OF NATURE.
In Sparta, according to history lore, there was confined to pockets where the young aspirants could get away with it.

In Southern California, the Xth Olympiad of 1932 will find men of the world initiating on a miniature scale the forces of nature which lifted the mountainous grandeur of Mt. Pelion out of the bowels of the earth.

COMMITTEE NOMINATES ALUMNI TRUSTEES

Elections To Take Place In May

Nominations for the four Alumni Trustees of the Board of Visitors and Governors were made by the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association in the offices of the Dean on April 30th.

The men nominated were: Hiram S. Brown, of the New York district; P. Watson Webb, of Dorchester County; Albert D. Macley, of Cecil County; W. Lester Baldwin, and J. Parrell Johnson, both of Baltimore county. The elections will take place in May.

"Saving Dad" Is Presented By Mt. Vernon Society

"Saving Dad," a one-act comedy, under the direction of Gladys Cady, was presented at the April 27 meeting of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society.

The players were: Ralph E. Hargis, John K. Smithson, Alice E. Dole, Mary E. Farr, and Katherine C. Eastman.

The play, which concerned the attempts of a family to rescue their father from a supposedly dangerous typhoid, is the second annual play of the Society.

NOTICE

THE ELM apologizes to all those concerned for its premature announcement of the winning of the Washington College pageant prize by Albert W. Dowling, of Rock Hall.

It was finally decided by the committee, who were appointed to settle this question, that Mr. Dowling should receive the gold piece and that Nola Hill, of Kennedyside, should receive honorable mention.

THE PEOPLES BANK

Commercial
and Savings
Accounts
Rock Hall
Chestertown

JUST UP THE ROAD AT

SCHAUBER'S

For Delicious
ICE CREAM, MILK,
CAKES, SANDWICHES,
CANDIES, DRINKS and
TOBACCO of all kinds

Phone 330

Celebration Announcements Done In Colonial Style

Announcements of Washington College's one hundred and fiftieth anniversary and the celebrations in connection with that event are being printed by W. H. Holt and Co., of Philadelphia.

The programs are done in old Colonial style on parchment paper with the irregular lettering characteristic of the work of that period. They contain a brief account of the events of June 11, and a hearty invitation to all to attend.

C. HOWARD WALKER ADDRESSES STUDENTS

C. Howard Walker, leading architect of Boston, spoke to the student body at Saturday, April 30, on the subject of Architecture. Mr. Walker came to Washington College under the auspices of the American Association of the student body at the coming Foundation. His talks are heard by every college that enjoys a scholarship from this foundation.

This year Dr. Esther M. Dole, who has received the scholarship given to the college, will continue her work at Harvard with study in the fine arts.

Next Speaker Announced

The Rev. George Davenport, bishop of the diocese of Eastern, will address the student body at the coming assembly period, Thursday, May 12.

STOP AT THE VOSHALL HOUSE
ROOMS WITH BATH
MODERATE RATES

NOLAND'S
Department Store
Get anything you want
from Dry Goods to School
Supplies.

Alter A Studios Day
Relax at
JIM'S and HICK'S
Billiard Parlor

NEW 700 ROOM CLUB HOTEL

Transient Rates $1.50 per day up, with bath $2 up
Club, bar, restaurant, free swimming pool, gym, library, spacious lounges, roof garden, separate floors for men and women. Six minutes from Penn or Grand Central Stations.
GEORGE TURKEL, Manager
$8 to $14 Weekly
KENMORE HALL
145 EAST 23rd St. N. Y. CITY
Just East of Lexington Avenue

BASEBALL AND LACROSSE CARRIED NEXT YEAR

Will Provide Athletics For All

At a meeting of the Athletic Association of Washington College it was decided to carry both Lacrosse and Baseball as spring sports, during the coming year.

Baseball was dropped two years ago in order to make room for Lacrosse. However, after the disease game was discontinued, considerable agitation arose for its return and it was rumored that Baseball would replace the old Indian game at the college. If track is continued at Washington, there will be plenty of opportunity for all those who desire a taste of athletics.

The new athletic field is expected to be completed and in good shape by next spring and this field will probably be the practice grounds for the Lacrosse men, with home games being held in Kibler field as usual.

WINGATE RECEIVES ELM PROPERTIES SUNDAY

With fitting ceremony and pomp, the accoutrements of the editorship of THE WASHINGTON ELM will be turned over to Philip Jerome Wingate, newly elected Editor, by Irving S. Ross, retiring Editor, on Sunday evening in THE ELM office. Editor Wingate will take command of the next issue.

The accoutrements include 1 poorly arranged file, 1 dictionary (section C is missing), 1 razor blade, 1 Diamond Gering Ale bottle (empty), and 2 broken glasses.

GILL BROS.
ICE CREAM
Dainties
Assorted Blocks

HERB'S
QUICK LUNCH
Sandwiches of all kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Voshell House

221-223 High Street
Chestertown, Maryland

JOE'S Newstand
Cigars, Cigarettes,
Soft Drinks, Newspapers,
Magazines
Of All Kinds

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

Editor
Assistant Editor
Alumni Editor
Society Editor
Literary Editor

PHILLIP J. WINGATE
Charles B. Clark
A. E. Howard
W. McA. Richards
Roland C. Ready

REPORTERS

Janet Atwater, Roland Bailey, Walter Branford, Charles B. Clark, Roland C. Ready, Annabelle Storey

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

DeWitt F. Clark, Edward F. Fitzgerald, Paul Pippin
SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES
Elizabeth Cooper, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager John G. McLean
Assistant Business Manager Edwin T. Coulbourn
Circulation Manager Robert W. Beachley
Advertising Manager Louis Goldstein

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief. Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

SATURDAY, MAY 21, 1932

BICENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

The celebration of the 200th anniversary of the birth of George Washington by the only college to bear his name with his express consent, coincident with the celebration of its own 150th anniversary by the same college promises to be one of the most outstanding events in the state during this year. This celebration should ideally illustrate the motto of the Eastern Shore's only institution of higher learning, which is, modern efficiency backed by years of honorable tradition. Every effort will be made to give a colonial air to historic old Chestertown and several of the foremost men of the present day will be in attendance to speak in honor of George Washington and the college that bears his name.

This celebration cannot fail to have great significance for the entire state and particularly the Eastern Shore. With Governor Albert C. Ritchie, and German Ambassador Baron von Fritzwitz already secured as speakers for the day, and President Hoover as a probable feature speaker, a national broadcasting hookup is practically assured. Thus Washington College, the Eastern Shore and the State of Maryland, will be brought in contact with the entire nation on June 11.

Washington College is ideally situated and conditioned to do honor to the father of our nation. Its location in Chestertown, so intimately connected with General Washington's activities in Maryland gives it another advantage to be added to the one relating to Washington's activities in the founding of the college. Tradition and culture have been blended with modernism at Washington College in such a manner as to make it very worthy of the honor and aid bestowed upon it by the greatest of Americans.

LACROSSE TO CONTINUE AS MAJOR SPORT

The decision of the board of athletics of Washington College to continue Lacrosse as a major sport at the College reflects the real sentiment of the student body. Furthermore, this action on the part of the athletic board met with the approval and desires of many outsiders who are interested in the future of lacrosse at the only college on the Eastern Shore.

Indeed this action on the college authorities would seem to be a very wise and far-sighted one. Lacrosse is certainly the coming college sport, if indeed it can not be said to have already arrived at its place in the sun. This old Indian game is the big spring sport for many Eastern Colleges at present. The publicity that it will receive from the coming Olympic games should cause the spread of the game among schools and colleges to be even more rapid and sensational than it has been in the last few years. It is hard to see how lacrosse can fail to do other than that which is predicted for it by its backers for it is justly called "the fastest game on two feet, with the dash of basketball and the crash of football."

Washington College is ideally situated to benefit from the spread in the popularity of lacrosse. The State of Maryland is the acknowledged center of lacrosse of both intercollegiate and scholastic variety. There are more than five hundred school boys playing the game in this state alone and consequently the finding of good material for the stick game should be a simple problem for Washington. This available material, coupled with the brand of coaching Washington is now in line to receive, should soon advance the Maroon and Black to a leading position in lacrosse.

Society Notes

Meane, DeWitt Clark, Burdette Nettle and Richard Cooper attended the Junior-Senior Prom at St. Mary's Seminary, St. Mary's City, Md.

Mr. Joseph T. Kilmann, '28, and Miss Myra S. Baker, of New York, were visitors over the week end.

Miss Eleanor Fitzworth entertained a number of friends at buffet supper last night.

Miss Anne Kreeger spent Tuesday in Baltimore.

Dean Jones entertained the faculty at bridge Tuesday, May the tenth.

Dr. Gertrude Van A. Ingalls entertained the English Majors at dinner Tuesday, May the tenth.

Dean Brewer entertained the Senior girls at tea Saturday, May the fourteenth.

The Junior Class gave a tea for the Senior Class Saturday, May the seventh.

MEANS, Dickerson, Fitzgerald, Duffey, Cooper, Chambers, Carozza and Sykes attended the dance given by the nurses of the Eastern Hospital, Tuesday, May the tenth.

Miss Gertrude Chaney attended the Delta Sigma Tau dance at the Akeley on Friday, May the thirteenth, in Baltimore.

Students Will Find Our Store a Very Desirable Place To Visit
TOULSON'S
Drug Store
Phones—26 and 311

THE REXAL STORE
EASTMAN KODAKS
FILMS
DEVELOPING and
PRINTING
BY EXPERTS
DRUGS and
SUNDRIES
Of All Kinds
A. L. STERLING

.. NEW 700 ROOM CLUB HOTEL ..

Transient Rates $1.50 per day up, with bath $2 up

Club life, restaurant, free swimming pool, gym, library, spacious lounges, roof garden, separate floors for men and women. Six minutes from Penn or Grand Central Stations.

GEORGE TURKEL, Manager

$8 to $14 Weekly
KENMORE HALL
145 EAST 23rd ST. N. Y. CITY

GRemery
3-3840

Just East of Lexington Avenue

SLIPPERY ELM

By ROLAND C. READY

During the past few years the administration of Washington College has greatly improved the living facilities of the students; dormitories have been rejuvenated, lounge rooms equipped and a more efficient janitorial system maintained.

Despite all of this one small important detail has been overlooked, Washington College dormitories are without drinking fountains. Perhaps his statement means nothing to most of us as we are all aware of the fact.

Why should we discuss this apparently trivial matter. Simply this—students are forced to drink from faucets and whether or not a glass is used this is not a sanitary condition. The lavatories are used by dozens of students every day, soap suds and other paste suds cast from tooth brushes are dried upon the faucets and often trickle down over the nozzle.

One has only to get a drink to detect the various brands of tooth paste being used by students. Do you like water flavored with tooth paste, soap suds and what not? I don't.

Perhaps all this sounds a bit "old miltish" but each year we are forced to attend one or two health talks in chapel. Freshmen must take the course in Hygiene and yep, due to the lack of proper facilities, dormitory students must continue an unsanitary practice.

Here's a hope that we find each hall equipped with a drinking fountain when we return next fall.

The High School Teacher And Athletics

A number of Washington grads go out into the world as high school teachers. Sooner or later many of these are called upon to coach high school athletics. Some have been college athletes, many have only had a passive interest in athletics and find coaching a terrible burden instead of a pleasure.

Why can't a course in coaching be included on our curriculum. Let us say a one hour course with credit given in education. The result would be that Washington College could graduate students better trained to meet the needs of Maryland High Schools.

After A Studious Day

Relax at

JIM'S and HICK'S

Billiard Parlor

Compliments

of

Chestertown

Electric Light and Power

Company

EASTERN SHORE SCENE Concert Given By WASHINGTON WINS

OF MARATHON RACE College Musicians

Bill Agee Favored To Win

Saturday, May 28, will be a rather day in the history of athletics on the Eastern Shore. On that day the much heralded tryout to pick a marathon runner to represent the United States in the coming Olympic games will be held at Salisbury and more than 200 runners will be on hand to show their wares. This tryout is one of the three held by the American Olympic Committee to pick three men to carry the red, white and blue this summer at Los Angeles. One of these has already been held at Boston and the third will be held June 17, in Los Angeles.

The course over which the marathoners from a distance that starts a few miles outside of Cambridge and ends in the center of Salisbury. Due to the levelness of the ground, this course will be ideal for the man competing. William Agee, of Baltimore, internationally known marathon runner is, considered by the experts as the man most likely to take first place. Agee has been quoted as expecting to set a new all time record for this famous run and declare this course to be ideal for a record breaking attempt.

The Olympic Committee will award badges to all those who finish the distance. Independent of the awards of the Olympic Association the following prizes will be given: A silver loving cup for the first Eastern Shore runner to finish, given by

A concert, by the combined musical organizations of Washington College, was held in William Smith Hall, Thursday night, May 19. The following organizations participated in the program: The College Orchestra, under direction of Dr. Frederick G. Livingston and student director Lindsey E. Cook, The Men's Glee Club and Double Male Quartet, directed by Raymond R. Moffett, and the Women's Glee Club and Double Mixed Quartet, directed by Mrs. Cleveland S. Smith.

Some of the feature events were also by Charles Harris, Robert Farnham, Miss Dorothy Johnson, and Miss Mary Jane Neild, scene from The Mikado, and several numbers by the Men's Glee Club.

A fairly large crowd attended the concert and received the efforts of the participants enthusiastically.

The Baltimore Eastern Shore Association, and silver cups to the two first Dorchester County runners to cross the finish line, given by the Cambridge Chamber of Commerce. Several long distance runners from the shore have signed up to compete for new awards.

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149

C. W. Kibler & Sons

Chestertown, Maryland

Capt. Karfigin Receives Injury

The Washington College Lacrosse team annexed its second victory of the season by defeating Lehigh University at Bethlehem, Pa., on Saturday, May 7, by a 3 to 1 count. All goals were registered in the first half.

Captain Karfigin started his team off to victory by scoring on a beautiful shot within the first two minutes of the game. Unfortunately, he was forced to leave the contest soon afterwards with a broken nose. Al Dohkins replaced Karfigin and played a creditable game. Dick Gamber scored the second goal for the Maroon and Black about midway of the first period and Paul Pippin soon afterwards ended the scoring of his team.

The game was a hard fought affair and played in an extremely hot temperature. Though both teams were slowed down, their efforts never relaxed.

The Dalany-Vernay Co.

337-339-341 North Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest

Art China, Leather Goods, Toys, Books, Athletic Equipment

Sophomores And Freshmen Elect For Coming Year

The annual class elections of the Sophomores and Freshmen were held May 10 and 11, respectively, for the scholastic year of 1932-33. The offices filled by next year's Juniors were as follows:

President—Richard Gamber.
Vice President—Albert Dohkins.
Secretary—Miss Genevieve Carvel.
Blue Key—Charles B. Clark.
Student Council—Burdette Nuttle, Charles B. Clark.
The present freshmen elected the following to hold office during their sophomore year:
President—Harry Huey.
Vice President—Harold McCrone.
Secretary—John Lord.
Student Council—Michael Wallace, William Goswirth.
Blue Key—Michael Wallace, Harry Huey, John Lord.

DROP IN
AND LET US SHOW YOU
OUR FULL LINE OF
VICTROLAS - RADIOS
AND FURNITURE
THE LATEST IN MUSIC
AND RECORDS

W. P. NEWMAN
CHESTERTOWN, MD.

STOP AT THE VOSHALL HOUSE
ROOMS WITH BATH
MODERATE RATES

WESLEY MAY TALKS ON SINO-JAP AFFAIR

Says Japan Is Seeking New Territory

Mr. Wesley May, Chinese student at Johns Hopkins University, addressed a combined audience of the "Y" Clubs Thursday evening on the world-interested Sino-Japanese affair. After showing the historical relationship of the two countries Mr. May pointed out that possession of Manchuria, cause of the trouble, is aimed at by overpopulated Japan for civilization purposes and for the richness of its national resources. He further explained that as pretences Japan involved the question of ownership and rights of the Eastern China R. R. and of dual Korean citizenship, an added menace is the desire of a military clique, which has built up Japanese nationalism to prove its strength and power. Mr. May concluded that as depression in America concerns all nations, as England's suspension of the gold standard affects international conference, so the difficulty of two states far off and almost unknown to us, is the problem of the entire world.

At the close of the meeting, Mr. May offered a most unique musical presentation; the playing of several Chinese folk songs and popular songs with a violin bow and a saw.

Mr. Harries, President of the Y. M. C. A. introduced the speaker and conducted the meeting.

READ THE ELM

RUTH ETTING
Distinguished radio and musical comedy star. Every Wednesday and Saturday at 10:30 a.m. E.D.T.

BOSWELL SISTERS
Famous for the rhythm and harmony of their vocalizing. Every Monday and Thursday evening at 10:30 E.D.T.

ALEX GRAY
One of the outstanding voices in radio. Every Tuesday and Friday evening at 10:30 E.D.T.

HOW DO YOU DO!

This is
NORMAN BROKENSHIRE
...and once again, music that satisfies. And how it satisfies. Listen, you folks who never miss a date with Chesterfield... there's a treat in store for you tonight.

Chesterfield
They Satisfy

... all you could ask for!

Washington Meets Gallaudet In Track

Kiblerites Journey To National Capital

The track and field men of Washington College will compete against Gallaudet College, of Washington, D. C., today at the Capital City. Though weak in field events, it is expected that the slender path stars of Washington will have a fine chance of winning the dual meet.

Since the meet with Susquehanna University, Coach Kibler has had his men working out and strengthening weak points which were apparent two weeks ago. All the men that did so well at that time are available today. Bob Fleetwood was his high point scorer by virtue of great all-around performance, is expected to continue his pace. Charley Harris expects to run the mile and two mile even faster than before and will do it. Pat Parry, the high jumper, Synphome has been taking his track more seriously and will again run the 100 and 200 yard dashes. Pat possesses great speed and looks only a real good star. In the high jump, Del Proudfoot will stop at nothing lower than first place, and he can get over that bar when he wants to.

Others who are expected to score points are Pat Beaman, good 440 yd. dash man, and Chase, Starke and Bradley in the same event. Bonwill will again run the half-mile and mile and Bradley will compete in the hurdles. Growth will high jump and pole-vault. The weights will be taken care of by Ward, who also is a fine javelin thrower, Lord and Squipes. Al Baker will be the main attraction in the running broad jump.

GILL BROS. ICE CREAM

Dainties
Assorted Blocks

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing
103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

VARSITY CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR

The Washington College Varsity Club will round out their activities for the 1931-32 college year, next Wednesday night, May 25, when they will hold a banquet at the Maryland Tea Room. All members of the Club are to be present. Arrangements for the banquet which were completed at the Varsity Club meeting on Tuesday, May 17, are in the hands of Walter Karfigin and Fred Reinhold.

At the same meeting the following officers for the next year were elected: Dickinson, President; Johnson, Vice President; Gamber, Secretary; Dokkins, Treasurer; and Giraffe, Sergeant-at-Arms. Other members of the club are Robinson, retiring President; Plummer, Robert Baker, Karfigin, Fitzgerald, Dickerson, Johnson, Dokkins, Gamber, Proudfoot, Giraffe, Reinhold, Lord, R. Baker, C. Clark, Groszick, At the commencement exercises, gold, silver and bronze medals denoting participation in three, two or one sports respectively, will be awarded to the outgoing Seniors. Robinson, Plummer, Badart, Baker and Karfigin will receive these emblems in June.

NOLAND'S Department Store

Get anything you want from Dry Goods to School Supplies.

Students Of
Washington College
A Safe Place To Deal
THE STAM DRUG CO.
Everything in Drugs

Prescriptions Filled by Registered Pharmacists
Only

A Full Line of
School Supplies
Whitman's Candy
Cigars and Tobacco

National Lacrosse

At present, Maryland and Hopkins seem to be riding on the crest of the wave that is destined to lead some college lacrosse team in Los Angeles to represent the U. S. in the Olympic games. Washington's stickmen have faced both Maryland and Hopkins. Here is how the leading lacrosse teams have figured in their games to date:

Johns Hopkins

Hopkins 14; Varsity Club 3.
Hopkins 15; C. C. of N. Y. 1.
Hopkins 16; Swarthmore 3.
Hopkins 11; Princeton 0.
Hopkins 12; Washington 0.

Maryland

Maryland 7; Washington C. 1.
Maryland 12; Georgia Tech 0.
Maryland 12; Georgia 0.
Maryland 7; Virginia 1.
Maryland 5; Penn State 1.
St. John's 4; Annapolis 1.
St. John's 13; Washington C. 1.
St. John's 15; Virginia 0.
St. John's 5; Alumni 0.
St. John's 10; Penn State 1.
St. John's 5; Swarthmore 1.

Army

Army 11; Western Maryland 0.
Army 13; Lafayette 0.
Army 8; Dartmouth 1.

Navy

Navy 4; Mt. Washington 5.
Navy 10; Western Maryland 2.
Navy 24; Lehigh 0.
Navy 6; Harvard 2.

Mount Washington

Mount Washington 15; Princeton 0.
Mount Washington 5; Navy 4.
Mount Washington 2; Varsity C. 1.
Mount Washington 11; W. Md. 0.

Rutgers

Rutgers 8; Pennsylvania 7.
Rutgers 6; Stevens 0.
Rutgers 25; Lehigh 0.
Rutgers 8; Lafayette 0.

ALBERT L. WHEAT

"The Young Men's Shop"
Chestertown, Maryland

CLOTHING

SHOES

HAERDASHERY

The Best Of EVERYTHING Needed FOR BUILDING

E. S. Adkins & Co.
Chestertown, Centreville
Easton, Salisbury

WE KNOW What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.
You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style creation.
You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.
Our clothes will meet every wish you demand of them.
BORDLEY & SON

SUSQUEHANNA DEFEATS LOCAL TRACK MEN 81-45

The Maroon and Black inter-path team had their first track meet of the year to Susquehanna University Saturday, May 7, at Sellinggrove, Pa. Decided lack of field event men caused defeat for the Washington College fellows held their own in track events. The final scoring was 85 to 41. It was the revival of track competition for Coach Kibler's men, as it was the first meet in four years.

Though a complete summary of the meet is not available, Washington's representatives held their own as follows:

One mile run, Charles J. Harris, first place; Two mile run, Charles J. Harris, second place; High jump, Del Proudfoot, first place; 440 yard run, Fleetwood, first; Beaman, third; 100 yard dash, Parry, second, Fleetwood, third; 220 yard dash, Parry, second, Fleetwood, third; 800 yard run, Bonwill, second, Fleetwood, third; Pole vault, Fleetwood, third; 220 low hurdle, Bradley, third; 120 high hurdle, Blizard, third; Running broad jump, A. Baker, third; Javelin throw, Ward, first.

Fleetwood with nine points, Harris with eight, Parry with six and Proudfoot and Ward with five each, led Washington College scorers.

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store

Where Your Dollar

Has More Cents

HERB'S
QUICK LUNCH
Sandwiches of all kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Voshell House

"Cheerful"
"Bash"
"Quarry"
"Awah"
"Blue"
"You said it"
"Talk to her"
"Gone."
"Call her"
"Yeh"
"Long Distance"
"Whameant!"

Hopkins Defeats Washington 12 - 0

Blue Jay Attack Too Powerful For Locals

Johns Hopkins, of Baltimore, continued to show superiority over college foes in Lacrosse last Saturday, May 13, when they handed Washington College a 12 to 0 setback. The game, played on Homewood field was a hard-contested affair in which injuries on both teams were numerous. Lawton Jones, point for the Eastern Shoremen received a nasty cut over his eye and nose which necessitated his being removed from the game. Al Dokkins also was not able to continue play when his ankle was badly twisted.

The Blue Jays of Hopkins started off fast, scoring twice within the first five minutes. Hopkins' second stringers then took the field and proved to be equal to the regulars in playing ability. Led by Boots Ives who was afterwards removed after having received a face injury, they scored at two or less regular intervals until the game was ended. The score at the end was 6 to 0.

Coach Kibler's men were unable to check a fast and tricky Hopkins' attack, but exhibited fine spirit and fight. Goal keeper Fritz Reinhold made many fine stops for Washington during both periods of the game.

During the second half Washington players played better lacrosse but had six goals scored against them, making the final score 12 to 0.

John Hopkins	Washington
Brogden	G Reinhold
Meriken	P Plummer
Reynolds	CP Jones
Yearley	FD Baker
Inelp	SD Wingate
McGowan	TD Gamber
Teeler	C Clark
Gault	TA Dokkins
Stone	SA Gristis
Turnbull	FA Robinson
Darrell	OH J. Williams
Orth	IH Morris
Johns Hopkins	6 — 12
Washington	0 — 0

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE

306 Park Row
MAKES YOUR BEAUTY SCINTILLATE
for the coming-out party, the "first" dance, the formal dinner or the ball of balls.

Our Beautician's many years of experience as a beauty adviser have taught her the "finishing touches" that emphasize beauty by concealing every blemish that might otherwise mar the loveliness that every fastidious woman craves.

Join the ranks of the Park Row Beauty Shoppe's large clientele. Our cutlures are always smartly becoming, and our facial and make-up treatments not only tone the skin for the newest colors but also accentuate one's best features.

Phone 334

By Appointment

The Emerson Hotel

Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled
Rooms $3 ap-Autos Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

The Chesapeake and Potomac
Telephone Company
of Baltimore City
(Bell System)

"AMERICAN FLOATING" UNIVERSITY IS PLANNED BY EASTERN EDUCATORS

Plans For a 35,000 Mile Trip Are Being Made

Plans for a 35,000 mile trip around the world by more than 600 American college students, to sail from New York in October and return in May, and to be joined enroute by students from England, Germany, Norway and Italy, are being made by a group of nationally known leaders and by men and women prominent in the social, educational and business life of this and other States, it was learned today.

Senators Arthur Capper of Kansas and Royall S. Copeland of New York, Secretary of Labor William N. Doak, Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Henry J. Allen, former Governor and Senator from Kansas, and Mrs. Allen, together with others well known here are included among the patrons of the movement, which is designed to broaden the outlook of American university men and women and give them a first-hand knowledge of foreign peoples, places and conditions, without loss of time in their regular college work.

A trans-Atlantic ocean liner, equipped with study halls, lecture rooms, science laboratories, auditorium, library, gymnasium and swimming pool, and chartered for the exclusive use of the "American Floating University," will serve as home and campus for the students during the eight months, or two college semesters spent on the world tour. Forty-three countries, sixty-one ports and 100 additional places of international significance will be visited and studied.

The University World Tour will be under the direction of a board of trustees of which Dr. Stanley P. Woodard of New York City is chairman, and which includes Charles K. Cooper, treasurer of the States, F. R. Railway, Dr. Charles F. Thwing, president-emeritus of Western Reserve University, Dr. John L. Merrill, president of All America Cables, and Dr. James E. Loach, former dean and director of extra-mural activities at New York University. Headquarters have been established at 66 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

A faculty of fifty-five professors and instructors, most of whom will be on sabbatical leave from American colleges, is now being assembled by Dr. Loach, under the direction of the board. Classes corresponding to those in the usual college curriculum will be held regularly at sea, supplemented by field trips in the various countries visited.

The students will be selected for the tour on the basis of character and scholastic standing, with a quota assigned to each State in proportion to the number of college students resident in the State. Because of the international aspect of the movement and the interest shown by foreign Governments and university groups, a special effort will be made to have the student body represent the best in American college life, it is said. Patrons and patronesses are now being chosen here and in other States to aid in making these selections.

The quota allotment allows for 45 students from the Pacific Coast States; 95 from the Western States; 115 from the Middle West; 100 from the South; 125 from New York and the Middle Atlantic States; and 100 from New England.

Some men from this section interested in the movement are listed below:

Maryland
Joseph H. Apple, Ph. D., LL. D., President of Hood College, is a member of the Faculty Advisory Board.

Virginia
Charles C. Maphis, Ph. D., LL. D., Dean of the University of Virginia is a member of the Faculty Advisory Board.

North Carolina
Floyd T. Reynolds, M. A., formerly of the Department of English at the University of North Carolina is interested in the movement.

(Continued On Page Six)

SENIOR PRESIDENT

Joseph Dickerson

Joseph Dickerson was elected president of next year's Senior Class in his elections held by the present Junior Class, May 9 in William Smith Hall. At the same time William Richards was elected editor-in-chief of the 1932 Pegasus and Roland C. Ready was made business manager of the Pegasus. Other elections were as follows:

Vice President—DeWitt Clarke. Secretary—L. Milton Noble. Treasurer—Miss Ann Kreeger. Blue Key—J. Warren Carey. Student Council—Charles Morris, Fred Vaiting.

Dickerson succeeded DeWitt Clarke to the class presidency. The new president held the same office for his class during its first year at Washington College.

Miss Ann Kreeger, newly elected treasurer for the 1933 seniors, enjoys the distinction of being the only co-ed to hold an office for her class during its four years at Washington College. Miss Kreeger is a resident of Chestertown.

PAUL and SAM
Quality and Service
SHOE REPAIRING
Next To Sterlings Drug Store
Chestertown, Maryland

THE PEOPLES BANK

Commercial

and

Savings

Accounts

Rock Hall

Chestertown

JUST UP THE ROAD AT

SCHAUBER'S

For Delicious

ICE CREAM, MILK,

CAKES, SANDWICHES,

CANDIES, DRINKS and

TOBACCO of all kinds

Phone 330

Elizabeth Schmidt Women's Glee Club President Of Girls Broadcasts Sunday

Mary Parks Is Elected Vice-President

Will Be Heard Over WCAO In Baltimore

Miss Elizabeth Schmidt was elected to the presidency of the Women's Student Council for the school year if 1932-33, at a meeting of the women students of Washington College held in Held Hall, May 11. The vice-president of the Women's Council is a member of the present Junior class and also a member of the Sigma Tau Delta society.

Miss Mary Parks, of Centerville, was elected to the Vice-Presidency of the Women's Student Council. Other members elected to the Women's Student Council are: Juniors—Eleanor Dailey. Sophomores—Ellen Flick, Genevieve Carvel. Freshmen—Kitty Hyland.

BRINSFIELD NEW DEBATING PRESIDENT

The Washington Debaters met on Thursday, May 11, 1932, for the election of officers. Calvin Brinsfield will succeed Raymond McCullough as President, and Roland Ready will take over Brinsfield's managerial duties.

The Debaters are expecting a fuller schedule next year and may ask for a larger appropriation from the administration for this purpose. It is hoped that interest in debating will be revived among the students of the college.

Treat Your Hair Kindly!

The delicate beauty of your hair deserves your most tender care. Let us show you how to preserve and develop its natural loveliness.

In preparation for your Permanent—
Eugene Permanent for $7.50

GRAY'S BEAUTY SALON

PHONE 106
CHESTERTOWN, MD.

The
Third National Bank
Chestertown, Md.

The Only
National Bank
In Kent County

221 - 223 High Street
Chestertown, Maryland

JOE'S Newsstand

Cigars, Cigarettes,
Soft Drinks, Newspapers,

Magazines
Of All Kinds

The Chestertown
Bank of Maryland

Bank of Service

Branches at
Galena, Kennedyville,

Betterton
Main Branch

Chestertown, Maryland

3 1/2% ON SAVINGS

The Greeks had a word for it!

XZESPIO (born with wings)
EXHIBIT A. MERCURY-EXHIBIT B. PEGASUS

In the best families (or any others for the matter) that doesn't happen nowadays. Hence the United States Air Corps offers some attractive inducements to college students for whom it has built a $10,000,000 institution at San Antonio, Texas, where they teach you to fly and while you are learning:

Pay you a salary of $75.00 per month. Pay your living expenses.

Supply you (free, of course) with snappy, tailor-made, sky blue uniforms.

Grant you the social and military privileges of potential officers.

Pay your traveling expenses from your home to the new field at San Antonio. 700 Men are taken in each year. The course requires a year to complete and includes over 200 hours of solo flying. Those who stay the full year are commissioned as Lieutenants in the Air Corps Reserve.

If you don't like the training you may resign at any time. For Example:

Should you stay three months and then resign you will receive $225.00 cash, your round trip expenses from your home to San Antonio, and about 50 hours of solo flying.

The service and associations of the Air Corps gives its members a very real distinction and a very noticeable breadth and poise.

If you have applied and are ready to go, we have compiled information and tips giving you inside angles and hope that will be invaluable when you arrive at the field. If you haven't applied yet then by all means get our information. We tell you the entrance procedure and certain twists that make your getting in easier and quicker. The information written by men who have been thru the school covers all points from beginning to end that you are interested in knowing. This information cannot be obtained elsewhere; it is complete. Nothing else to buy. The price is $1.00 or sent C. O. D. If you desire.

NATIONAL AVIATION SERVICE,

742 S. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CALIF.

A Special Lace To-The-Toe Athletic Sock for Women's Gym Work.

Harry F. Jefferson

VOL. XXXII. NO. 1.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 24, 1932

PRICE TEN CENTS

Washington To Face Maryland Today

Large Enrollment At College For '32 DIES SUDDENLY

Many Girls In Freshman Class

With the opening of the 1932-1933 scholastic year, Washington College finds its halls filled with a greater number of students than have ever before presented themselves at the institution. Records in the Registrar's office show that, to date, two hundred and eighty students have registered and are attending class. There are one hundred and ninety upperclassmen and ninety members of the freshman class. The latter group have a somewhat larger percentage of women than has usually been the case, and a correspondingly smaller percentage of men. The class of 1936 shows a roster of thirty-five women and fifty-one men. Their names and residences are as follows:

The list of new students, registered to date, are: Robert Elliott Bean, Waldorf, Md.; Charles Gibson, Berry, New Castle, Del.; Albert Blumstein, Waterbury, Conn.; George Elmer Bly, Betterton, Pa.; Paul E. Bernhart, Chestertown, Md.; Morris O'Brien Campbell, Jr., Wellesley, Mass.; Carroll Wesley Castet, Oakland, Md.; Charles G. Cawley, Marion Station, Md.; Robert Henry Clifford, Jr., Mountain Lake, N. J.; Robert C. Endrey, Cambridge, Kennebec, Md.; Walter C. Emswiler, Baltimore, Md.; Samuel Charles Dudley, Church Hill, Md.; Don Trego Fale, Jr., Chestertown, Md.; Robert Mathias Finn, Hagerstown, Md.; Bernard Irvin Gais, Paterson, N. J.; Robert Thackeray Garrett, Elkton, Md.; Nordean Thomas Gibson, Chestertown, Md.; William Clarke Griek, Jr., Chestertown, Md.; Michael James Higginson, Waterbury, Conn.; Ernest Greenfield Holland, Berlin, Md.

David Chaucery Holly, Halethorpe, Md.; Henry James Jones, Cambridge, Md.; Abraham Jay Kaplan, Paterson, N. J.; Millard Kepper, Baltimore, Md.; James Samuel Kepper, Jr., Chestertown, Md.; Ham Edward Kirk, Cumberland, Md.; George Elmer Leary, Rock Hall, Md.; Roland Edward Lekebusch, Strickland, N. Y.; John L. Lintum, Cambridge, Md.; John Marcus Little, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Allen Samuel Love, Pittsburg, Md.; William Francis McDonald, Jr., Brooklyn, N. Y.; James Brice Mueser, Chestertown, Md.; William Paul Myers, Philadelphia, Pa.; Thomas Capri Norris, Still Pond, Md.; Edward George Nowak, Wilmington, Del.; Henry Lawrence Owsen, Jr., Cambridge, Md.; Thomas Pratt, Queenstown, Md.; James Everett Rickards, Frankford, Pa.

Allen Burrell Robson, Chesapeake City, Md.; Walter Owen Rodney, Rock Hall, Md.; Mark Woodhull Ross, Jr., Cumberland, Md.; Philip James Skipp, Bristol, Conn.; Emerson Philip Skipp, Stoughton, Cambridge, Md.; Irving Franklin Smith, Denton, Md.; Albert Frederick Smith, Jr., Md.; Robert Hastings Tignor, Nanticoke, Md.; Robert Pennington Watkins, Chesapeake City, Md.; George Weer, Kennedyville, Md.; Charles Shelley Wells, Cambridge, Md.; Henry Samuel Williams, Federalburg, Md.; Lawrence E. Williams, Baltimore, Md.; Larry Lafayette Winbrow, Salisbury, Md.

DR. T. H. FOWLER TOURS COUNTRY

German Professor Dies During Vacation

Dr. Thomas Howard Fowler, died of his major losses in a century when on July 13, 1932, a great teacher, a wise counselor, a talented professor, a brilliant scholar and a friendly man. Dr. Thomas Howard Fowler, died in Baltimore, Maryland, of a cerebral hemorrhage, at the age of 57 years. Dr. Fowler was born on January 21, 1875, and has been a life-long resident of Chestertown, Md. He entered Washington College in September, 1893, and was graduated with the A. B. degree in June, 1897. During the following year he did graduate work in Modern Languages at his Alma Mater, in conjunction with an instructorship there. From 1898-1900 he taught at Homer Military School, Oxford, S. C. Following his sejour there, he was an instructor at Williams College, Mass., for one year. Severing his connections with Williams, Dr. Fowler enrolled in the Graduate School of Johns Hopkins in 1902, and was awarded the Ph. D. degree two years later. For the next twenty-two years he was Professor of German at Wells College, in New York City, where, in 1924, poor health necessitated his resignation. Upon recovery from his illness, Dr. Fowler accepted the Professorship of German at Washington College, and at the time of his death was head of the Department of Modern Languages.

Many of Dr. Fowler's summers were spent in study and travel from the University of Berlin and the University of Munich.

His works and his friends render his memory immortal.

Elizabeth Palmer Childs, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Dorothy Clark, Baltimore, Md.; Katherine Marsh Clifton, Kenton, Del.; Miriam Virginia Ford, Chestertown, Md.; Leah Hackett Frederick, Baltimore, Md.; John L. Harrison, Chestertown, Md.; Jane Clatterton, Rock Hall, Md.; Carolyn Louise Helms, Betterton, Md.; Helen Nicholson Jones, Still Pond, Md.; Anna Carolyn Jewell, Chestertown, Md.; Jean Louise Leary, Rock Hall, Md.; Ann Lucille Lee, Elizabethville, Md.; Lotie Lettner, Bedford Hills, N. Y.; Ruby Elizabeth Lewis, Chesapeake City, Md.; Florence Bernice Matchar, Baltimore, Md.

Emily Sue Matthews, Worton, Md.; Anna Mae McKenney, Price, Md.; Doris Emma Mae Metcalfe, Baltimore, Md.; Margaret Louise Rogers, Chestertown, Md.; Mabel Smith, Chestertown, Md.; Elizabeth Taberner, Chestertown, Md.; Mary Jo Whealey, Chestertown, Md.; Jean Francis Young, Pocomoke City, Md.; Elizabeth Zittel, Chestertown, Md.

Due to the fact that the college requires that its management be requested that all students refrain from walking across the grass any more than is absolutely necessary.

DR. TITSWORTH VISITS WEST

College Presidents Travels During Summer

Dr. Paul E. Titsworth

Dr. Paul E. Titsworth traveled considerably this summer, visiting a great many colleges and universities. Article appears elsewhere on this page.

Dr. F. W. Truscott New Professor

Dr. Frederick Wilson Truscott, of Shippensburg, Pa., and formerly of Wilson College, Chambersburg, Pa., recently assumed the position as Chief of the Modern Language Department and Professor of German at Washington College to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Dr. T. H. Fowler.

Dr. Truscott received his A. B. degree from the University of Indiana, and later was awarded the M. A. degree from the same institution. From Harvard, he won his doctorate as well as another A. M. signification. He was a scholar in Germanic philology and German literature at the University of Berlin, thus much of his study of German has been with the source material.

Professor Truscott began his career as an educator as an instructor in German at his Alma Mater. Thence he was Professor of Germanic languages at the University of West Virginia, which he held for twenty-six years. In the eight years preceding his coming to Washington, he was Professor of German at Wilkes College, Chambersburg, Pa.

Dr. Truscott's abilities are well evidenced by the veracity of his achievements. He is joint translator of Laplace's Philosophical Essays on Probabilities (1802); the editor of Widenbrach's Kindertheater, with notes and vocabulary, and joint author of Elementary German Composition (1914). He is also author of German in the High Schools of West Virginia in 1912-1912. In 1912, Dr. Truscott became a member of the Military Intelligence Division, General Staff, U. S. A., with the rank of a First Lieutenant. He subsequently was promoted to Captain and holds that office in the Officers Reserve Corps today.

A member of the Phi Beta Kappa and the Phi Kappa Psi, Dr. Truscott also belongs to the Harvard Club (Phi) and to the Modern Language Association in America. He is given prominent mention in Who's Who in America.

DR. TITSWORTH VISITS WEST

College Presidents Travels During Summer

Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, president of Washington College, spent the majority of the past summer touring various parts of the United States. The president's trips, which totaled slightly over thirteen thousand miles in distance, took him through the heart of the Middle West, the Northwest, the South, and the Northern part of the country. Dr. Titsworth visited Chicago, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Denver, Chapel Hill, North Carolina, Glacier Park, The Grand Canyon, The Thousand Islands and other places of varying importance and interest.

On June 13, shortly after the joint celebration of Washington's Bicentennial and the 150th Anniversary of the founding of Washington College held on the college campus, Dr. Titsworth, left Chestertown on a trip through the west. The president and his wife went by way of Chicago, stopping there four days to visit friends. Their next main stop was at Glacier Park, where Dr. Titsworth had been invited to attend the dedication ceremony of Glacier National Park. The president declared this section to be one of the most beautiful in the entire country. Dr. and Mrs. Titsworth next continued on to Seattle, Washington, where Dr. Titsworth, who is governor of the 34th division of the rotary international, attended a rotary conference. In Seattle, Dr. Titsworth met Mr. Edwin Feeney, who graduated from Washington College in 1931.

Dr. Titsworth returned to Chestertown around the middle of July, and later in the summer visited The Thousand Islands. The head of Washington College also visited the University of North Carolina, at Chapel Hill, where his daughter Eleanor of the class of '32, has entered the library department.

The president stated that the remainder of his busy summer was spent interviewing prospective students of the college; he expressed satisfaction with the enrollment this year, which is the largest in the history of Washington College.

Dr. Titsworth visited a large number of colleges and universities during the summer. The complete list of the schools inspected by the president of Washington College is as follows: U. of Chicago, U. of Minnesota, U. of Washington, U. of California, U. of Southern California, U. of Colorado, U. of Denver, Colorado State College, U. of Kansas, Wake Forest College, Whitier College, and Scripps College for Women.

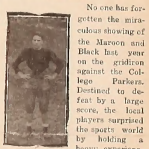

Herrera, Wingate, Given Senior Scholarships

At the regular meeting of the Washington College faculty held Sept. 13, 1932, the following were given senior scholarships: Herrera, Philip J. Wingate was awarded a Visiting and Governors scholarships for one senior woman and one senior man, respectively. Each of these scholarships is worth $125 to the recipient.

Reinhold To Do Team's Punting

Locals Conceded Little Chance To Win

Captain Joe Dickinson will lead a band of eleven football stalwarts and about a like number of reserves against the University of Maryland this afternoon at College Park. The Shoremen, light but fast and deceptive, will be offered their first opportunity to exhibit the results of the fine tutoring of Coach Kibler and Ekahlis. However, these same grid-ironers are conceded little chance to defeat a good and heavy yet inexperienced Maryland team.

No one has forgotten the miraculous showing of the Maroon and Black last year on the gridiron against the College Parkers. Destined to defeat by a large score, the local warriors, through the sports world by holding a heavy, experienced team.

Reinhold best team the University of Maryland ever had to two touchdowns, one of which was doubtfully earned.

However, this fall, the protégés of Captain Dickinson are largely new-comers to the varsity team as eight regulars were lost last June by injury. This new team, though inexperienced will be no setup in any of its games this fall.

Fritz Reinhold will be the mainstay of the Washington defense with his very timely and excellent punting. It was this small but mighty athlete of the Shore institute who purred such a menace to Maryland and nearly brought about a very great upset last year. Reinhold hurls best under pressure with his kicking and also is quite adept as a ball carrier, shrouded too light for continuous tugging of the pigskin.

Washington's line-up will consist of players who performed last year except at the center post. MacDonald and Skipski, two fine front prospects are battling along with Harries, letter man for the pivot position.

Maryland's lineup, as stated before, will consist largely of new comers to varsity football at the Old Line University. However, the emblems of Poppleman and Woods, Maryland's marvelous ball toting and kicking arrangement, will be back shining in all its glory.

The probable line-ups today:

Washington	RE	Maryland
Wingate	BE	Bonner
Lord	RG	Farrell
Harries	C	Webb
Dickerson	LG	Rouser
Nicholson	LT	Kearns
Johnson	LE	Vincent
Robbins	QB	Poppleman
Reinhold	HB	Nelson
Nicholson	HB	Kiernan
Gerrits	FB	Woods

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.
Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1872.

Editor PHILLIP J. WINGATE
Assistant Editor Charles B. Clark
Alumni Editor A. E. Howard
Literary Editor Roland C. Ready
Society Editor W. M. Richards

REPORTERS William Baker
Feature Reporter Albert E. Dobkins
Albert E. Dobkins, Albert C. Girault, Janet Atwater, P. Skippinski, James Kreeger, Campbell

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES
Charles Clark, DeWitt Clarke, William Baker.

SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES
Elizabeth Cooper, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF
Business Manager John G. McLean
Circulation Manager Robert W. Beachley
Chief Staff Photographer Emory Burkhardt

ASSISTANTS
Louis L. Goldstein, Scott Beck, Jr., Dorman.

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as a second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 24, 1932

DR. HOWELL ON SCHOOL SPIRIT

Dr. Howell said the other night that, even more than a course in unified science or unified mathematics, Washington College needs a course in unified school spirit. The head of the economics department stated that the present school spirit is not even a decent skeleton of the Washington College spirit of eight or nine years ago. Dr. Howell said he believed that Old Washington was losing something vital in this decline. He said that this year the school spirit is not as good as it was in the past. He was gradual but nevertheless certain and definite. We have noticed it even in the last three years.

Something must be done to alter this disastrous condition of affairs that is settling about Washington College. We know that this year school life has been on a worn out subject but conditions leave no other way open. We know that organized cheering and other demonstrations of school pep and unity have been decreed even in print recently at this college, but such things are lamentable errors on the part of their authors. It seems that the majority of Washington College students are either too lazy or think themselves too sophisticated to give outward demonstrations of enthusiasm. Some of them seem to think it looks foolish to yell for their teams. It does look foolish for one or two persons to try to give a college cheer. But it is far from foolish for the entire student body to cheer its teams from whistle to whistle and then some more.

Organized cheering unconsciously leads to better school spirit and better school spirit makes life at the college more interesting. On these grounds we advocate cheer practices for freshmen and upper classmen alike—plenty of them. The students may kick at first but in the end they will like it.

Let's show Dr. Howell and others who have been regretfully watching spirit and pep go from bad to worse, that Washington College isn't developing into a seminary.

THE EASTERN SHORE

A prominent Baltimorean who lived the early part of his life on the Eastern Shore of Maryland recently stated that this same Eastern Shore was in at least one respect the most remarkable section in the country. He stated that depression had affected the ordinary working people of the Eastern Shore less disastrously than they affect similar people of other sections. He continued to say that no matter how bad conditions got it was very hard actually starving people on the Eastern Shore of Maryland as it has been done elsewhere. His reasons for this fact seemed to be ironclad.

While the Eastern Shore has no single predominant industry it has grouped a remarkably large number of them together in a comparatively small area. Hence, if conditions put one industry on the rocks, the Eastern Shoremen can turn to another. The Shore is not preeminently a manufacturing section, and most of its factory work is concerned with the production of food stuffs, canned goods, etc. Consequently this manufacturing is not likely to lose its market. Furthermore, the Chesapeake Bay offers all sorts of sea food and supplies work for thousands. The agricultural sections of the Shore can grow all of the stable farm products of this country and many that are restricted to particular sections of the country.

We mention this fact to console and relieve those who have financial worries, with the thought that though the wolf may be at the door, he is not likely to go through it so long as they remain on the Maryland Eastern Shore.

SLIPPERY ELM

By ROLAND C. READY

With the opening of each school year the subject of freshmen discipline arises and is constantly under discussion. No matter how well a freshman is treated he continues to believe he is being mistreated; no matter how well he behaves he usually feels that his classmates are sure to think he is still too fresh.

The old fashioned brutal board treatment is being gradually eliminated and today freshmen are quietly and usually effectively and uniformly disciplined by the Vigilance Committee. The new plan is much more satisfactory than the old. Yet in certain elements of unfairness exists in individual contact between upper classmen and freshmen.

Have you ever noticed that: the Rat who receives the worst treatment are often those who need it least; that upper classmen when trying to make a clown of a freshman usually choose one whose wits are already well scattered by his having been thrown into a set of circumstances; that the cool self-possession big Rat can insult upper classmen and break rules without ever being called to account for it; while some humble, frightened kid is punished for the slightest misdeed.

At the initial Rat Party my attention was called to the fact that the Freshmen group grew smaller and smaller. Occasionally I noticed some Freshie quietly usher some freshman to the door of the gymnasium and dismiss him. When the time arrived for the "How Dry I Am" show only a small group of Rats were present.

I can remember when Rats were punished for handshaking upperclassmen but now it seems that upperclassmen handshake the freshmen Rats. It would be a good idea to treat Rats according to their actions and not according to their position in life in the campus.

When trying to take the ego out of a Rat choose one who has no ego. Despite the foregoing criticisms, conditions at present seem better than during any of the previous four years and both Rat and upper-classmen have less reason for complaint.

MRS. HARRY WHITE
Washington
Cannon St. next to Bowling Alley

Del-Mar-Va Restaurant
For
After Dinner Lunches
And Regular Meals

BARNETT'S
BARBER SHOP
Over Sterling's Drug Store
First Class Service and Expert Workmen

Shop At The
B. & L. 5c to $1.00
VARIETY STORE
321 High St.
For Your Wants

Greek Letter Notes

PHI SIGMA TAU

The Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity wishes to extend to the Faculty student, and others connected with the college, the heartiest wishes for a pleasant and successful school year. Several of our alumni of last year have left. Albert Baker, former president of the Tau's, is teaching and coaching at Salisbury High School. Frank Budart, last year's vice-president, is an analyzer at the Cleveland Dairies, Baltimore. Raymond McCullough is teaching at Oakland High School, Oakland, Md. Lindley Cook is studying to be a Presbyterian minister at Princeton Theological Seminary.

The officers of the Fraternity for this year are:
President—Warren Carey
Vice Pres.—Joseph B. Dickerson
Secretary—Charles B. Clark
Treasurer—Calvin L. Brinsfield
Sgt.-at-Arms—Hubert F. Ryan.

(PHI SIGMA PHI)

The Phi Sigma Phi Fraternity regrets the loss of its valued member, and Treasurer, Edwin Coulbourn. James D. Davis, III, has been elected Treasurer to occupy the vacancy. The Fraternity is daily appreciative of the painting and other improvements to the house, during the summer. The Phi Sigma Phi welcomes the return of Joe Bringham, a member, to the college.

A plan of beautification of the house grounds is being formulated, by the addition of shrubs and hardy perennials.

Compliments of
H. D. OREM & SON

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT

(Formerly Candy Kitchen)
For food of the Best Quality at Popular Prices. Home Cooking, Prompt Service. Sandwiches of all kinds, Candles, Sodas, Fancy Sandwiches, Home Made Pies and all kinds of Soft Drinks at the Fountain.
Try Our 50c Dinner
Guaranteed Satisfaction

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT

(Open 6 A. M. to 12 midnight)

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students
Offers Complete Line of Conklin and Wahl Pens and Pencils. Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery, and School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

NEW 700 ROOM CLUB HOTEL

Transient Rates $1.50 per day with bath $2 up

Club life, restaurant, free swimming pool, gym, library, spacious grounds, and garden, separate floors for men and women. Six minutes from Penn or Grand Central Stations.

GEORGE TURKEL, Manager

$8 to $14 Weekly
KENMORE HALL
145 EAST 23rd ST. N. Y. CITY

GRanmery
5-3840

Just East of Lexington Avenue

IT IS TRUE

By WINGATE

That at one time the entire faculty of Washington College consisted of but one man.

That the original Flying Pentagon, coached by J. Thomas Kibler, won five basket ball games on five successive nights during a Southern trip, and was first given its famous name by W. Wilson Wingate, now of the "Baltimore News" and "American."

That during the two years that George Elzais was quarterback here, Western Maryland never lost a football game.

That Dr. Kenneth S. Buxton, head of the Department of Chemistry at Washington College, received his Doctor's degree from McGill University with highest possible honors.

That Eddie Kanan, former 319 pound guard for Washington College, was, when he played here, the heaviest man in college foot ball.

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing

103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

Eyes examined and glasses fitted by a graduate
Optician. Fountain
Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films
and Developing.

J. S. KREEGER
Jeweler & Optometrist
Chestertown, Md.

Jas. S. Kreeger, Jr., Wins Golfing Cup

Fights Way Through Kent Tourney

James Kreeger, town student and member of the Freshman Class, is the newly crowned golf champion of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club of Chestertown. In the annual tournament, held during the weekend of Sept. 15th and sponsored by Mr. W. J. Stenger under the auspices of the Country Club, young Kreeger fought his way among a large field of older and more experienced golfers to reach the finals and then win the championship.

Kreeger was paired with Col. Hiram S. Brown for the first round of 18 holes and conquered the old Washington grad 9 up and 8 to play. Next in order Jim played and beat Harry Russell and Coach Kibler, 4 up and 3 to play. In the finals held on Labor Day Kreeger won from Mr. Stenger in 26 holes of gruelling golf, with 9 up and 6 to play.

Harry Russell was awarded the qualification medal while Jim walked off with the club championship medal. As a golfer Jim has everything to be a Bobby Jones. Should Kreeger continue to improve as he has, all things remaining the same, it will be only a matter of experience and time before he breaks into national prominence in golfdom.

A. PARKS RASIN, JR., IS KENT TENNIS CHAMPION

A. Parks Rasin, Jr., a member of the class of '32, won the Kent County Tennis Championship during the summer by overpowering the Rev. J. L. Marker in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, 6-0.

Rasin defeated D. B. Ford, Jr., another member of the class of '32, in an earlier round and advanced to the finals by virtue of a 8-6, 6-2, 6-4 victory over Joe Lewis, former Chestertown High School basketball star.

In the doubles championship Rasin teamed up with D. B. Ford and made it two in a row by downing John Bibbe and Robert Wright, two High School boys, in the finals.

The matches were all played at Elison's court.

Modern Shoe Repairing Store

PAUL SAPIA
Next to Sterling Drug

STUDENTS

We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.

Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Letheric Line from Paris.

Abbott's Delux Ice Cream.
Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

Toulson's Pharmacy

Cordially invites the students to enjoy the privileges of a well-stocked drug store.

Parker Pens our specialty.

THE REXAL STORE
EASTMAN KODAKS

FILMS
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING
BY EXPERTS

DRUGS and
SUNDRIES
Of All Kinds

A. L. STERLING

GILL BROS.
ICE CREAM
Dainties
Assorted Blocks

Foot Ball

By George L. Ekaltis

With a ten game schedule, headed by the University of Maryland, before them, the Washington College football squad has been hard at work for the past two weeks. Fortunately in having almost perfect football weather the first week, the squad attacked the routine work with vigor. Fundamentals, punting and passing were stressed. Last Saturday the first scrimmage was held. Coaches Kibler and Ekaltis were pleased with the work done by the first offensive team.

The squad was hard hit by the graduation of Plummer, Robinson, and Baker all backs, and Carey, a lineman. The failure of Groszwich, Carozzo and Jones to return will leave gaping holes in the line. This group will have better men and their absence will be felt.

Out of the squad of thirty-five, two teams have been formed with a tentative third team. One team is composed of letter men of last year, this team will probably start the game against Maryland, and the other team is interspersed by freshmen. The coaches have been pleased with the work of the first group, but have been working, almost frantically, to discover replacements for them. With the long schedule, the replacements football have a great deal to do with whether Washington College's football season will be a success or not.

The probable line up for the Maryland game:
Johnson—L. E.
Nicholson—L. T.
Lord—L. G.
Harries—C. G.
Dickerson—R. C.
Ward—R. T.
Gamber—R. E.
Dobkins—Q. R.
Gruatin—R. E.
Reinholt—H. B.
Ullston—F. B.

This is the first of a series of articles dealing with football written by George Ekaltis for the "Elm". Mr. Ekaltis is well qualified to write on this subject, having been star quarterback on Western Maryland's undefeated team of two years ago, and having enjoyed a successful season of coaching at Washington College, last year. The "Elm" is fortunate in securing Mr. Ekaltis as a columnist. Coach Ekaltis' return to Washington College as assistant to Coach Kibler in foot ball and head coach of lacrosse is a bright spot on the college sports program.

HERB'S
QUICK LUNCH
Sandwiches of all kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Voshell House

Compliments

of

Chestertown

Electric Light and Power

Company

FOOT BALL TEAM FACES TOUGH SCHEDULE IN '32

The football schedule which Washington College faces this year is the toughest one arranged in recent years. It consists of ten games, three of which are with Maryland, Hobbes and Delaware rated as first class football teams in the East. While the rest of the schedule is with teams of lesser caliber, Washington will find hard taste before it all season. However there is a good chance of beating such teams as Galloway, Washington State, St. Joseph's and Haverrord.

The schedule:

Sept. 24—Maryland	Away
Oct. 1—Hobbes	Away
Oct. 6—Delaware	Away
Oct. 15—Lynch	Away
Oct. 22—Susquehanna	Home
Oct. 29—Drexel	Home
Nov. 5—Mt. St. Mary's	Away
Nov. 12—Haverford	Away
Nov. 19—St. Joseph's	Home
Nov. 26—Delaware	Home

Washington - Delaware Contest To Be Feature

When the Washington College eleven faces the University of Delaware gridlers on the local field on Saturday, November 26, it will mark the resumption of grid relations between these old rivals after a lapse of nearly ten years and will begin what is hoped to be a new era of athletics on the Peninsula.

Washington and Delaware are natural rivals. Situated on the Delmarva Peninsula and that section only institutions of higher learning it is only to be expected that they should be sports rivals of the highest degree of intensity. Such and is the case but as frequently happens there came a disagreement. The schools parted company along athletic lines for a number of years.

They are back together again. It is expected that within a few days an announcement will be made of the donation of a trophy for which the teams will battle annually.

If plans now being discussed are carried out the November 26 contest here with Delaware will be a notable occasion. Tentative plans call for a dance at which the Washington student body will be the hosts to their neighbors from Delaware and a dinner, following the game, at which the two squads will be the guests of honor.

WE KNOW What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style centers.

You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.

Our clothes will meet every thing you demand of them.

BORDLEY & SON

DEAR MISS CO-ED:

Welcome home! We are glad to hear that you are back in town.

In keeping with the times, we have tempered our prices, but we still luxuriously indulge in as many crisp, fresh linen towels as we believe essential to the facial.

We still continue extravagantly (perhaps?) using the best waxy lotion and we haven't the heart to cut our permanent waving preparations, either.

So, you see, we are offering you our best at the best prices. What can we do for you?

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE
306 Park Row Phone No. 334

Reinholt, Gamber Honored, Lacrosse

Local Stickmen Picked On All Star Teams

For the first time since Lacrosse was made a major sport at Washington College, several mason and black stickmen were honored with mention or positions on the all star teams picked by Baltimore newspaper experts last spring. Both "Frits" Reinholt and "Gambler" Gamber were picked as outstanding lacrosse in college circles during the past stick season, by W. Wilson Wingate of the Baltimore "News" and "American". Reinholt was given honorable mention for the position of "All American" goalie and was second "All Maryland" goalie on the team picked by Wingate for the "American". Gamber was given honorable mention for the position of third defense and Howard Plummer who played point for the locals was similarly honored. Reinholt was also chosen as "All Maryland" goalie by Paul Broderick of the "Baltimore Evening Sun."

Both Reinholt and Gamber who played brilliant lacrosse for Coach Ekaltis last year are members of the present junior class which fairly glitters with stick brilliancy. The juniors, who were instrumental in giving the locals last year, their best lacrosse season since Lacrosse was introduced here, also list among their numbers such stick notables as Al Gmitris, Charlie Clark, and Paul Pippin. These stalwarts, aided by their experience gained in the last two years, should push their way right up to all star caliber during the coming year.

After A Studious Day

Relax at

JIM'S and HICK'S
Billiard Parlor

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149

C. W. Kibler & Sons
Chestertown, Maryland

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store

Where Your Dollar

Has More Cents

Compliments of
H. F. Jefferson

PROGRAM FOR FRESHMAN WEEK IS GOOD

Dr. Livingston in Charge Of Newcomers

On Sept. 13 Washington College opened for the 151st year with the eighth annual Freshman Week in charge of Dr. Frederick G. Livingston.

Seven standard tests were given in all, which were used as the background of the Freshman and for sectioning the class. Bu Freshman Week was not all made up of tests. There were many delightful programs given for the benefit of the new students.

On Tuesday night, Sept. 13, the Faculty reception was given at Reid Hall, this reception took the place of the old Student Government Reception. Wednesday evening the entire Freshman class made up a movie party to the New Lyceum, the whole class being the guests of Manager Emerson Russell, '25. That is probably the only time the students will sit downtown this year, as the "past gallery" seems to be the favorite spot for some peculiar reason. Thursday afternoon Dr. Oscar Backwelder, of Baltimore, delighted the Freshman with a well received speech.

Thursday evening a welmer toast was held jointly by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. on the banks of the Chester River. Friday morning all the Freshmen boys got together in Room 25, "Bill" Smith, and met the captains of all the sports at Washington College, each captain giving a short talk. Coach Eralis gave an interesting talk on the game of Lacrosse. The feature speech was presented by Coach J. Thomas Kibler, who spoke on "Athletic Opportunities for Men at Washington College." A similar meeting was held by the women members of the Freshman class with Ann Kreeger presiding. Friday afternoon at an assembly with Hubert F. Ryan, president of the Student Council, presiding, all the Freshmen were made acquainted with the various clubs, fraternities and sororities and other campus activities. This was done by short speeches given by upper freshmen representing the various campus activities. That night the entire Freshman class was entertained at an assembly in charge of the Mount Vernon Literary Society, Emily J. Jewell, presiding. This assembly was one of the features of the entire week and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Then came Saturday, the final day of the week. The last assembly was held at William Smith Hall. At this meeting, James W. Johns, business manager, gave a talk on the "Financial Relations of the Students," also short talks were given by the pastors of the churches of Chestertown.

Saturday evening the Blue Key Society played host to the whole student body. After much hand shaking the dancing began. This lasted until eleven o'clock. And to the strains of a haunting good-night waltz the curtain was rung down on the most successful "Freshman Week" in the history of this annual occurrence.

Breakfast Given To Episcopal Students

A breakfast for the Episcopal students of the Freshman Class of Washington College, was held last Sunday morning, Sept. 18, at 8:45 A. M., in the Parish House adjoining the Protestant Episcopal Church. It was served by Mrs. C. S. Atwater, Mrs. Thomas Kibler, and Mrs. James G. Beck, of Chestertown.

Besides the Freshmen, there were several upperclassmen present among them, William McA. Richards, Miss Theodora Chapman, and Miss Sarah Ellen Byrne. The Rev. C. L. Atwater acted as host.

Dr. J. S. W. Jones Visits West Coast

During the past summer Dr. J. S. William Jones, dean and professor of mathematics in Washington College, spent sometime in the West. While there he stayed six weeks at the University of Southern California taking auditing courses in mathematics and also courses in College Administration. The primary purpose of the trip however was to attend a meeting of the National Association of Deans and Advisors of men on August 22, 23, 24 and 25, at the University of California in Los Angeles as a representative of Washington College.

His itinerary included Chicago, Denver, Yellowstone National Park, Salt Lake City, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Catalina Island, Seattle, Portland and the Grand Canyon.

The high-spot of the tour was a viewing of motion picture production arranged by "Ed" Luckey, a former Washington College student who is now working in Hollywood.

Dr. Jones who is especially interested in Astronomy was exceedingly fortunate in having been able to spend a little time at the Astronomical Observatory at Mt. Wilson, which incidentally has the largest telescope in the world.

In his travels Dean Jones visited the U. of Calif., Leland Stanford, U. of Wash., U. of Utah, and Wash. U. of St. Louis. He was at the opening of the Olympic games Aug. 27. The contacts made by Dr. Jones while out West proved to be both valuable and interesting.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE IN MIDDLE DORMITORY

During the past winter, Middle Hall has been made a better place in which to live. Most of the rooms have been attractively repapered, and the wood work painted. Robert Ready's "Slippery Elm" article in the final issue of this paper last year, seemed to have helped, for a water fountain presents itself on the first floor. The shower room has been painted also, insuring on all sides greater sanitation.

The Fraternity houses, and East and West Hall have similarly been altered in a small but necessary manner. The foundation of East Hall has been strengthened, to reject decaying.

The new athletic field has not been worked on much this summer, and consequently is yet far from being ready for use, but it is hoped that by next spring, it will be completed.

DR. PAUL E. TITSWORTH TO SPEAK TO ELM STAFF

Dr. Paul E. Titsworth will give a lecture to the "Elm" staff in the classroom adjoining the president's office, Tuesday, Sept. 27, at 6:30 P. M. Dr. Titsworth will give valuable suggestions concerning the best methods to be used in editing a college newspaper. President Titsworth was editor of the college newspaper when he was a student at Alfred University. He also has had a great deal of experience in newspaper work since graduating from Alfred.

Dr. Titsworth, last year, gave a series of similar talks that were exceedingly valuable and interesting.

The editor of the "Elm" most definitely requests that all members of the "Elm" staff be present at this lecture.

RAT PARTY IS BIG AFFAIR AT COLLEGE

By Phil Skippinski '36

At exactly 12:00 o'clock Sunday night a furiously hoard of upper classmen lead by Harry Housy poured in to Rat Hall. The "Rats" were dragged and driven out of their holes, and taken outside, where they were blindfolded. Then started a loud and noisy procession. In single file, the "Rats" were lead around Rat Hall, by Middle and East Halls, to Reid Hall, where the fair occupants there were serenaded by (or to) strains of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." Then falling into single file again, the Rats were lead down the Sacred L passing many "low bridges," and through barbed-wire fences. During all this time, above the din, could be heard the whack of paddles and still above all this—Mike Wallace, leading on his vandals. Finally the "Rats" were lead into the gym where the fun began. The floor was soon covered by a mass of humanity that seemed to have gone insane. In one corner Gaze was tackling chair, the Nowak brothers were pushing each other all over the floor. While in the center Charlie Berry and Skipp were putting on a passionate love affair, Mike Higginson was dribbling up and down the floor blindfolded. He was making basket after basket until he hit a radiator and had to leave.

The Freshies deserved the name of "Rats" judging from their appearances after the festivities. They were a sorry sight.

"RIVER"

stay away from my Door"

Who sings it better than the Boswells?

Every Monday and Thursday... Connie, Vet and Martha, in that bubbling Boswell rhythm... as irresistible as Ol' Man Rivab himself!

And while you listen, light up a Chesterfield. Enjoy their fresh fragrance, their mildness and better taste.

They're mild... and yet they Satisfy.

Chesterfield Radio Program—Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays—10 p. m., Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays—9 p. m., E. S. T., Columbia Network.

Chesterfield

THE CIGARETTE THAT'S MILD
... THAT TASTES BETTER

© 1932, LAMBERT & ARYER TOBACCO CO.

Gridders Meet Gallaudet In Washington

Third Celebration Held On Shore

Big Armistice Day Affair At Cambridge

The third mammoth Eastern Shore celebration of this year will be held in Cambridge on Armistice day, November 11th.

This celebration follows the George Washington Bi-Centennial and Washington College 150th anniversary celebration held on the college campus, also the city of Salisbury's celebration of its 200th anniversary.

1932 being Bi-Centennial year, floats showing important events in the life of George Washington will predominate in this number of the annual Cambridge Armistice celebration.

Indications point to a celebration fifty per cent greater than last year's, when 67,000 people witnessed the affair, according to accounts of the authorities. The military display will be the greatest ever shown on the Del-Mar-Va peninsula. The parade will include Infantry, Artillery, Tanks, etc. More than twenty bands and ten drum corps will be present to provide music for the affair, and at night a Mardi Gras will be staged. The celebration will last all day and the city is preparing to entertain 100,000 people.

Whether or not the celebration will provide the international flavor given to the Washington College 150th anniversary by the German Ambassador, Baron Von Fritzsche, and the presence of the Mayor of Salisbury, England, at the Eastern Shore's metropolitan celebration has not been made known.

The executive committee for the affair is: George Holder, chairman; H. L. Harper, C. B. Wall, J. P. Swing, I. J. Barth, J. W. Hastings, G. D. Todd, R. Weygand, F. Albaugh, D. H. Smith, E. C. Harrison, Jr., A. C. Hage, N. Claggett, and J. E. Parks.

Dr. Kenneth S. Buxton On Activities Committee

Dr. Kenneth S. Buxton, head of the department of chemistry at Washington College, was recently elected secretary of the Student Activities Committee. The new secretary last year as a graduate of McGill University where he received his doctor's degree after finishing a very brilliant record there.

The Activities Committee, which meets on Wednesday of each week, will be the final authority on all student functions.

The Secretary gave out the following statement for publication:

The Student Activities Committee will meet on Wednesday of each week. All petitions to the committee must be presented to the secretary, Professor Buxton, not later than noon of the preceding Tuesday.

The Student Activities Committee, K. S. Buxton, Secretary.

ON COMMITTEE

Dean Margaret M. Brewer
Dean Margaret M. Brewer has been chosen head of the Auxiliary Committee, which will have charge of the Cambridge held in Reid Hall during dances sponsored by the Washington College Cotillion Club.

PAUL HARRIS, JR. TALKS ON PEACE

According to a brilliant entertaining speech given by Paul P. Harris, noted pacifist from Washington, D. C., on October 6th in the Washington College Assembly, war within ten years is inevitable, from an economic standpoint, if there is not an immediate international disarmament. It was also added that the present generation would be the ones to fight the war, so if they wished to avoid it, they should do everything in their power to reduce the present increasing armament.

In the opinion of Mr. Harris the policy, "the well armed country is safe," has been continually proven incorrect in past history. The main issue in the world today is not whether we should have peace or war but whether preparedness by armament, or general disarmament leads to a continued peace.

To have a better understanding of European people and affairs Mr. Harris made a tour through France, Switzerland, Russia and other countries. His accounts of his experiences there were both entertaining and educational.

The student body as a whole enjoyed the speech as it was characterized by subtle humor on one side and intense sincerity on the other. Such a spirited, forceful speech was a welcome change from the usual uninteresting talks which often are given in chapel, in the opinion of many students.

HENRY W. CATLIN, EX-'94, DIES IN NEW YORK

Henry Whaland Catlin, ex-'94, died suddenly on September 27, at his home in New York City. After witnessing the fight between Schmeling and Walker he returned to his home for a late supper. Shortly after the fight he collapsed to the floor and was pronounced dead from a heart attack.

Assembly Speakers Announced For Oct.

Dr. Livingood Arranges Good Schedule

Announcement of the list of October speakers for the regular weekly assembly program, held each Thursday morning at 11 o'clock at Washington College, was made this morning by Dr. F. G. Livingood, chairman of the assembly program committee.

Memorial services for the late Dr. Thomas Howard Fowler, former head of the Department of Romance Languages, will be held on October 20. The program will include talks by faculty members, students and a musical program suitable for such an occasion.

The Reverend Father Eugene J. Kraemer, rectifier of Mother of Sorrows Church, Centerville, will be the assembly speaker on Thursday, October 27.

Dr. Livingood, in announcing the assembly programs, stressed the fact that the public is cordially invited to attend the weekly programs along with the students and faculty.

John E. Davis Talks To College Students

At last Monday's Assembly, Mr. John E. Davis, who is a graduate of Washington College and Senior Athlete Director of the U. S. Veterans' Hospital at Perry Point, gave a most interesting talk on insanity and the way it affects the human mind.

He described the common aspects of this dread disease saying an insane person lives for the most part in and by himself, that he usually made no effort to come down to reality.

He told how it was often possible to get these poor people started on the road back to normalcy by coaxing them into playing some physical game where they get in touch with "things as they are," and so often stayed a day in an old fashioned school. The part of the teacher was well acted by Miss Alice Deid.

He showed the really tremendous improvement that has taken place in dealing with these folk in the last few years. Mr. Davis closed with the hope that society would deal with the insane in the future even more humanely than it does today.

Dancing Lessons Being Held By Miss Bell

Dancing lessons were begun for the benefit of the Freshman boys in the Gym at 12:30 P. M. Tuesday, Oct. 4, under the direction of Miss Bell, Physical Educational Instructor for women.

Every year the Cotillion Club sponsors these lessons and Miss Bell is put in charge with many of the girl students as willing assistants. Lessons will be given every Tuesday and Friday from 12:30 to 1:15 P. M. until the first Cotillion, there is no charge any of the men students desiring to learn to dance report at the Gym at time stated above. The students who do not desire to take dancing lessons are barred from the Gym during instruction period.

RECEIVES MAYOR

Prof. Lawrence Ford
Prof. Ford, a member of the Washington College faculty, was a member of the reception committee that greeted and entertained Mayor Howard Jackson, of Baltimore last Sunday.

MEETING HELD BY MT. VERNON

On Wednesday, October 5, 1932, the Mount Vernon Literary Society met for their last open meeting. A program was presented under the title of "Mount Vernon Literary Society in 1847." The program presented was as follows: Reading, Ann Kreeger; Piano Solo, Vincent Brandolini; Encore: Recitation, Mary Farr; Quartet, C. Harris, C. Kerwin, A. Hodgson, M. Farr; Contrast of the house of 1847 with that of 1932, Paul Pippin.

After the program a brief business meeting was held. New members were sworn in by the president and a list of applicants were voted upon. The new members are Vincent Brandolini, Emerson Skarum, Walter Dodman, Carroll Cantor, Alfred Hodgson, Roland Leokobash, Marian Cough, Elizabeth Hephner, Mary Jane Neill, Carolyn Jewell and Merdie Gibson.

Wednesday, Sept. 28, the opening meeting was held and a brief program presented. The program presented was as follows: Recitation, Alice Barclay; Current News Items, arranged in "Believe it or not" fashion by J. Milton Noble; Piano Duets by L. C. Bell and C. Kerwin; Song by Elizabeth Walbert; and Recitation by Alice Barclay.

Vigilance Committee Elected By Sophs

The Sophomore Vigilance Committee has begun to function again this year as is evidenced by the queer mode of dress seen on several members of the Freshman class, as well as other somewhat humiliating forms of punishment.

Capt. Dickerson To Lead Locals

Al Dobkins Will Quarterback Today

The Maroon and Black of Washington College stack up against the Mutes of Gallaudet College, this afternoon at Washington, D. C. This team will offer about the weakest opposition that the Shoremen will encounter this season, and nothing less than a victory is looked for.

Captain Dickerson and Kibler were greatly disappointed at the showing of their pupils in the early part of the Hopkins game last week. This week witnesses the efforts of the starters to impress upon the football team the importance of a jump on the other team, rather than to realize that such is necessary only after too much damage has been done.

The locals came out of their battle last week practically unscathed and are improving on defenses apparent since then. Bill Nicholson is being groomed for the fullback position. Playing his first game last week in the backfield Al Dobkins is a continual bitter pill to the Blue Jays. Defensively, he backed up the line in grand style and consequently Hopkins gained little ground after his entrance into the game in the second quarter. This big fellow also shows great promise of becoming a real plugging back, filling in a vacancy which has been unfilled at Washington College for quite a while.

Charles Berry who played such a fine game against Maryland as a safety man, has overcome a foot injury and is ready to perform once again.

It is expected that Washington will resort to an aerial attack. This branch of the game was particularly successful against Hopkins, a large number of passes being completed for nice gains.

The lineup for this week will be unchanged as now foreseen, except that Nicholson is likely to start at fullback instead of Upton. Lord will play at center, Captain Dickerson and Carey at the guards, Ward and Bihard at the tackle posts, and Johnson and Gamber will perform at the wings. In the backfield Al Dobkins will quarterback, Garritt and Reinhold will play at the halfback positions, and Bill Nicholson will hold down the fullback job. Fritz Reinhold will again kick.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL TO HOLD TEA SUNDAY

The Women's Student Council will hold a tea in Reid Hall, Sunday afternoon at 4 P. M. The purpose of the tea is to give the new students an opportunity to become acquainted with the faculty.

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.
Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

Editor
Assistant Editor
Literary Editor
Society Editor
Exchange Editor

PHILIP J. WINGATE
Charles B. Clark
Roland C. Ready
W. M. Richards
Roland E. Lebackuch

REPORTERS

Feature Reporter William Baker
Albert E. Dobbins, Albert Girault, Janet Atwater, P. Skippin, ski, James Kreeger, Morris Campbell, Jr., Carrell
W. Castell, Richard Gamber

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

Charles Clark, DeWitt Clarke, William Baker.
SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES
Alixina Robinson, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager John G. McLean
Circulation Manager Patterson Beaman
Chief Staff Photographer Emory Burkhardt

ASSISTANTS

Louis I. Goldstein, Scott Beck, Jr., Walter F. Dorman

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, OCT. 8, 1932

AN IMPROVEMENT

Since we have been at Washington College a very marked improvement in the general attitude of the student body has taken place. We refer to the attitude existing toward the system of "rating."

Three years ago "rating" was a very vigorous and definite custom, carried on as such until near the end of the year. Now a great many of the most undesirable features of this custom have been gradually but none the less definitely, eliminated. To the satisfaction of all concerned, this elimination has been initiated and carried out by the student body. As a concern of any moment, "rating" is now over by Christmas.

It is significant that the leading "raters" are not the students holding the respect and confidences of the general student body, but rather the ex-freshman who last year maintained a weak and wary attitude but, who over the summer underwent a metamorphosis and came back to college with a hard shell.

Perhaps the hard boiled "rat eater" is more to be pitied than to blame for we know that he is really trying to work off an inferiority complex given him by one of his species during his freshman year in college. It is, however, a real pity that he must harm some other inoffensive boy in the process and thus keep up the vicious circle, which once broken would certainly stay broken.

We must admit that we have indulged in "rating" and argued ourselves into believing that it was a blessing to all concerned but always upon cool and fair consideration we have realized that such was not the case.

It is not unreasonable to expect the freshman to abide by certain regulations applying only to himself and this will probably go far for a long, long time, but it is certain that many oil-fertless and objectionable practices now observed in rating will disappear just as many others have before them. It always seems just a little strange to break away from a precedent no matter how silly and such will be the case with those who have been used to "rating." However, example and precedent in other and more famous colleges with advanced cases on the handling of freshmen are even now exerting an influence on Washington College students in this respect.

THE ELM wishes to congratulate Coach George Ekaitis upon his promotion to the position of head coach of football at Washington College.

Coach J. Thomas Kibler, director of athletics and head coach of football, basketball and base ball here for almost two decades told the editor that he believed Coach Ekaitis to be now experienced enough to take over the football reins in full charge. The first of these was that the Washington director of athletics has been performing here the work of two men and the second was that the present style of football taught at Washington was instituted by Coach Ekaitis. Coach Ekai will report to Coach Kibler in the latter's capacity as director of athletics.

This placing of Mr. Ekaitis in the position of head coach of football here appears to be a very wise act. As a player and student of football the former Western Maryland quarterback established himself as one of the greatest backs ever to play in the State of Maryland and as a coach he has shown that he possesses the ability to impart to others the wizardry he knows himself. The new head coach is a past master in the psychology of handling of college athletes. He knows how and when to urge on a band of football players.

SLIPPERY ELM

By ROLAND C. READY

I wonder whether I should say anything upon a subject about which much has been said and little done. At last Washington College is having "pep meetings" and its, at least, a start toward developing school spirit. But what "pep meetings"? They rather remind one of a group of children learning a new song who, everyone an error is made hide their embarrassment by glancing at one another and smiling a shame-faced smile.

What's wrong with us? Why, after having spent one or more years here do we have to read our cheers from a book? Why, when a cheer is partly finished do part of the group decide to give the ending of some other cheer. Why is there a lack of wholeheartedness when we yell?

The answer is to be found in the individual. We go to cheer practice. Why? Because we feel that it is duty. One student says to another: "Are you going to 'Pep meeting' to night?" The other student sighs or groans out: "Well, I guess I really should" and they move along to the gym to give a few un-enthusiastic yells.

Not a pleasant picture of our college life, is it? Or is it our college? Are we true Washingtonians or just a disunited group of individuals who are making burdensome duties of our college customs?

Let's hear our cheers and leave the books at home. Let's forget our private animosities, our little jealousies and petty dislikes, and appear as a strong united college group full of whole hearted enthusiasm for a hard fighting team.

An old idea comes to me. Maybe you'll think it its not so "hot" but I'll at least mention it. The evening before our first home game lets have good old fashioned "Pep Parade." Like the days when the class of '33 were Rats. We'll get a few musical instruments, have the Rats make some banners and storm down town. If this doesn't stir our dormant senses into some spirit nothing else ever will. What you say? Let's go!

THE REXAL STORE

EASTMAN KODAKS

FILMS

DEVELOPING

and

PRINTING

BY EXPERTS

DRUGS and

SUNDRIES

Of All Kinds

A. L. STERLING

Toulson's Pharmacy

Cordially invites the student to enjoy the privileges of a well-stocked drug store.

Parker Pens our specialty.

PURLOINED PHRASES

For Political Science Students:

Why go to college? Is college made for political science or is political science made for college? Who made it? How did he die?
—Temple University News.

In the "Fourth North Collegian" we read that madstone, nemetho, teeth and tucks, and prehistoric vults are being unearthed in the vicinity of the college. We wonder what amazing discoveries might be made if extensive excavations were carried on in the plot of land adjacent to our football field.

Why should an absent-minded professor play miniature golf?
—Temple University News.

Dean Archibald L. Boston of the College of Arts and Science of N. Y. U. suggests that college advise graduates on earning a living.

"It's not many cases," he said, "the lack of professional and practical studies comes as an unwelcome discovery to the liberal arts graduate and for a time he finds himself not pleased by the difficulty of getting a start in the business of a livelihood. At this point the college should provide wise, kindly, and efficient counsel. There can be no doubt that we need a fuller recognition of the difficult problems that confront students on graduation."

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149

C. W. Kibler & Sons

Chestertown, Maryland

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT

(Formerly Candy Kitchen)

For food of the Best Quality at Popular Prices. Home Cooking, Prompt Service. Sandwiches of all kinds, Candies, Sodas, iced Sundae, Home Made Pies and all kinds of Soft Drinks at the Fountain.

Try Our 50c Dinner

Guarantee Satisfaction

Visit The

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT

(Open 6 A. M. to 12 midnight)

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students Offers Complete Line of Conklin and Wahl Pens and Pencils. Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationary, and School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

. NEW 700 ROOM CLUB HOTEL .

Transient Rates $1.50 per day up, with bath $2 up

Club life, restaurant, free swimming pool, gym, library, spacious lounges, roof garden, separate floors for men and women. Six minutes from Penn or Grand Central Stations.

GEORGE TURKEL Manager

$8 to $14 Weekly

KENMORE HALL

145 EAST 23rd St. N. Y. CITY

Just East of Lexington Avenue

GRIMMEY
5-3840

Hopkins Defeats Washington 21 To 0

Nicholson Plays Best Game For Locals

Washington College received its second setback of the season when defeated by Johns Hopkins, of Baltimore, at Henshaw field, last Saturday, Oct. 1, by the count of 21 to 0. The locals play poor football in the first and second quarters, allowing Hopkins to amass three touchdowns and the extra point after each of these. No score was made in the second half.

Blair kicked off poorly for Washington. Hopkins had possession of the ball for their 45 yard line. After gaining some ground, Hopkins kicked deep into Washington territory. Reinhold returned the kick, Hopkins having gained about fifteen yards on the exchange. Soon afterwards Blair circled right end for the first touch-down. Washington chose to receive and soon after the kick-off, Hopkins scored again when Weeks crossed the goal line, following a fumble by Washington on their 20-yard line. Shortly after the second quarter began, Beeler completed a long pass to Kelley, and then Weeks scored for the final touch-down. After each score the extra point was made.

Washington presented a more spirited team in the second half and held the Jays scoreless. During the third and fourth periods new passes were completed and a dropped pass over the goal line ruined chances for a touch-down. However, Grannis who played a nice game defensively, intercepted a pass and ran forty yards to Hopkins 20-yard line before being stopped. A certain score it seemed would result, but Hopkins' displayed an air-tight defense and withstood the Maroon and Black threats.

Dick Gamber at right end, and Bill Nicholson at fullback, played best for Washington.

VARSITY CLUB HOLDS FIRST REGULAR MEETING

The first regular meeting of the varsity club was held, Sept. 28th in William Smith Hall. The holding of the annual dance was discussed and it was decided that if possible should be given October 22nd after the home game with Susquehanna.

A number of rewarding men who had never made their varsity letter but had been diligent in reporting to practice in the various sports, was discussed. It was decided to bring his up at the next meeting where it could be given more careful attention.

Del Proudfoot was appointed to provide entertainment for the visiting football team. It was decided that an initiation should be held before the close of the football season to enroll men having made their letter last spring in lacrosse or track. Before adjourning the regular meeting rights were decided as the first and third Wednesday in the month.

—Richard M. Gamber, Sec.

University Of Maryland Wins First Game Of Season

In the opening game of the State football season at College Park, Md. Saturday, Sept. 24, Washington was overwhelmed by a score of 61 to 0. The hard-fighting, Maroon-clad warriors led by Joe Dickerson were no match for the heavy, powerful Maryland team. Led by Ray Poppleman and Earl Widemeyer, two of the best backs in the East, the Old Line scored two or more touchdowns in each period. The Byrd-coached team made nineteen first downs to four first downs by Washington College.

But the "pride" of the Eastern Shore went down fighting. Time after time the backfield men had to make difficult tackles. Joe Dickerson proved himself a fine all-around player. He was given very good support in the line by Johnny Lord, Wardy and by "Mike" Higginson. The latter is a freshman who was playing his first football game.

MRS. HARRY WHITE
Washing
Cannon St. next to Bowling Alley

Del-Mar-Va Restaurant
For
After Dance Lunches
And Regular Meals

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing
103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

DEAR MISS CO-ED:
Welcome home! We are glad to hear that you are back in town.
In keeping with the times, we have tempered our prices, but we still luxuriously indulge in as many crisp, fresh linen towels as we believe essential to the facial. We still continue extravagantly (perhaps?) the best waxing lotion and we haven't the heart to cut our permanent waving preparations, either.
So, you see, we are offering you our best at the best prices. What can be more fair?
PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE
306 Park Row Phone No. 334

J. S. KREEGER

Jeweler & Optometrist
Chestertown, Md.

GIL BROS.

ICE CREAM

Dainties

Assorted Blocks

The Dalany-Vernay Co.
337-339-341 North
Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest

Art China, Leather Goods,
Toys, Books, Athletic
Equipment

Foot Ball

By George L. Ekaitis

With the Maryland and Hopkins games behind them, the coaching staff is looking forward to the game this Saturday with Gallaudet. Missions pokers were found in the two games thus far and many drastic are the changes being made.

The work of Billy Nicholson in the backfield against Hopkins was very pleasing. Despite the fact it was his first game in the backfield, he disposed himself well. Along with Billy, the work of the ends was satisfactory. Outside of this group a clever play was poor.

There has been a great deal of shifting around among the players on the squad in an attempt to bolster the weaknesses shown in the two games. John Lord is playing center, Baker has been moved to guard, Skip and Newark have been moved to tackle, and Tigner is being tried in the backfield. Three new men joined the squad and may be some use before the season is over. They are: Evans, a back; O'Farrell, an end; and Miller, a tackle.

The probable starting line-up against Gallaudet—Johnson or Clark and Gamber at the ends; Blair and Ward, tackle; Dickerson and Baker or Carver, guards; Lord, center; Dobkins and Nicholson, bucking backs; Grannis and Reinhold wing backs.

The Best Of EVERYTHING
Needed
FOR BUILDING
E. S. Adkins & Co.
Chestertown, Centreville
Easton, Salisbury

BARNETT'S
BARBER SHOP
Over Sterling's Drug Store
First Class Service and
Expert Workmen

Shop At The
B. & L. Sc to $1.00
VARIETY STORE
321 High St.
For Your Wants

Compliments of
H. D. OREM & SON

EKAITIS IS NEW HEAD COACH OF FOOT BALL

George Ekaitis was recently made head coach of foot ball at Washington College.

This is Mr. Ekaitis' second year of coaching at Washington. Last year he was assistant to Coach Kibler in foot ball and head coach of lacrosse. Mr. Ekaitis' coaching was very pleasing and he was asked to return to Washington for the 1932-33 year.

Coach Ekaitis learned his foot ball under "Dick" Harlow, of Western Maryland, and the famous Green Terror coach declared Ekaitis to be one of the smartest students of foot ball he has ever known. While in college Ekaitis was twice picked on the All-Maryland foot ball team, chosen by Baltimore newspaper men. The new head coach of foot ball gained fame, while at Western Maryland, as one of the greatest defensive backs ever to play in the East.

Coach Ekaitis will again coach the Washington lacrosse when Spring rolls around. Last year, Ekaitis turned in a season record in the old Indian game that was truly remarkable. The former Green Terror raised lacrosse from a tottering place on the college sports program to the position of one of the most popular sports at Washington College.

With better material for this bustling young coach to work with this year, local lacrosse enthusiasts are confident that the stick wielding pastime will continue its advance on the Maryland Eastern Shore.

WE KNOW
What Young Men Want
You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.
You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style centers.
You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.
What clothes will mean every thing you demand of them.
BORDLEY & SON

Compliments of
H. F. Jefferson

The Emerson Hotel
Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled
Rooms $3 up—Antos Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

Fall Practice In Lacrosse Is Held

Reinhold, Gamber, Out For Foot Ball

A somewhat informal fall lacrosse practice is now being held daily on Kibler field before foot ball practice starts.

Due to the fact that most of the varsity men from last year are out for foot ball, the men writing out are for the most part freshmen. Dick Chambers and Paul Pippin are varsity initiators of the 1932 team who are instructing the new-comers in the fundamentals of the old Indian game. Charley Morris, John McLean and Jack Knobloch are veterans from last year's squad who are also working out and helping with the recruits.

Dick Gamber, Fritz Reinhold, Charley Clark, and Al Giraltis, all big cogs in the 1932 lacrosse wheel, are now out for foot ball and so unable to attend the stick swinging activities.

Capt. Phil Wingeat has his afternoons occupied with foot ball managerial duties and consequently he is seldom able to chase the famous bounding rubber ball.

Lacrosse seems to be very popular with the first year men if the number reporting each day for practice can be taken as an indication. Few of these men have played any lacrosse before, but with the practice in stick work they will get this Fall some of them may be of benefit to Coach Ekaitis next spring. Some of the promising material will probably be seen in the class of '36, when the freshmen now engaged in foot ball practice unlimber their sticks. Some of the Fresh out for Fall lacrosse are Eberman, Kemper, Casteel, Taylor, Pratt.

Modern Shoe Repairing
Store
PAUL SAPIA
Next to Sterling Drug

STUDENTS
We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.
Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Lenthic Line from Paris.
Abbott's DeLuxe Ice Cream.
Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

Cotillion Club Offers Feature

Miss Kreeger On Auxiliary Committee

The Cotillion Club will this year offer a new feature in sponsoring a cabaret. The reception rooms of Reid Hall will be taken over by the club where food will be available to attendees of the Cotillion. The club will have a committee of young women to supervise the menu which will be prepared by caterers engaged by the club. Feature entertainment will also be provided. It is expected that this innovation will be very successful and members of the Cotillion Club whose ticket will entitle them to free cover charge will be given preference in event of a crowd.

Those composing the auxiliary committee are Dean Brewer, Miss Chapman, Miss Kreeger.

Members are now being subscribed for the Cotillion Club. The dues are ten dollars, five of which is payable before or at the first German which will be during Halloween. In taking out a club membership, one will save eight dollars on dances not regarding the extra advantages offered by the club this year.

SMITH'S
KUT-RATE
DRUG STORE
Chestertown, Maryland
Owen C. Smith, Prop.
Phone 189

HERB'S
QUICKLUNCH
Sandwiches of all Kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Voshell House

Compliments
of

Chestertown

Electric Light and Power
Company

The
Third National Bank
Chestertown, Md.

The Only
National Bank
In Kent County

DR. ESTHER M. DOLE TALKS TO ROTARIANS

Dr. Esther M. Dole, professor of history at Washington College, addressed the Chestertown Rotary Club at its meeting on Monday evening. The topic of the address was the trip to Egypt made during the past summer by the speaker.

Three members of the Centerville club were present at the meeting here Monday.

It was announced by Dr. Paul E. Thaworth, chairman of the Rural-Urban committee of the club, that a meeting of the organization in the near future would be held at some place in the county other than Chestertown and that meeting, each Rotarian would have as his guest some farm man and boy.

Definite plans for the Rural-Urban meeting are to be announced at the meeting next week.

A. M. Hanna, Class Of '93, Dies In N. C.

A. M. Hanna, '93, President of the Bank of Chiles Grove, North Carolina and a prominent business man of that town for more than a quarter of a century, died August 8 at the Charlotte-Sanatorium, Charlotte, N. C. In addition to his being president of the bank, he was chairman of the Board of Education and of the Farm Life School Board. Mr. Hanna was a native of Rock Spring, Cecil County, Md.

A. L. SPARKS
Specials in
Ladies' Hose
Newest Colors and
Weights

Compliments of
MARSHALL
Cleaners, Dyers, and
Repairers
Easton, Maryland

Clements & Clements,
Inc.
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
"Keep your clothes fit"
Prompt Service
Phone 437
Dover, Delaware

After A Studious Day
Relax at
JIM'S and HICK'S
Billiard Parlor

FOX'S
5c to $1.00 Store
Where Your Dollar
Has More Cents

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

ATTILA—"THE SCOURGE OF GOD"
"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the great painter, Horsey Dunn
... inspired by the barbaric cruelty of Asia's most dreaded plunderer...
"the grass could not grow where his horse had passed!" ... 433-453 A. D.

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies
... the mildest cigarette
you ever smoked

WE find the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies

If a man writes a better book, preaches a better sermon, or makes a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, the he build his house in the woods, the world will make a better path to his door.—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.
Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?

VOL. XXXII. NO. 3.

SATURDAY, OCT. 22, 1932

PRICE TEN CENTS

Washington Faces Susquehanna Here

Memorial Service For Dr. Fowler

Students, Faculty Members Speak

Memorial services for Dr. Thomas Howard Fowler, the late Professor of German and head of the Modern Language Department at Washington College, were held on Thursday, October 20, at the Assembly of the College. Short speeches by members of the Faculty and by students were given on various phrases of Dr. Fowler's life and character, the orchestra, under the direction of Dr. F. G. Livings, and Mr. Raymond Moffett, as well as the Washington College choir, produced the musical part of the service.

President Paul E. Titsworth delivered the opening address concerning Dr. Fowler in relation to the Administration and as a personal friend. Dr. Titsworth gave a brief history of Dr. Fowler's educational career, and mentioned the occasion of their first meeting. Continuing, he cited those qualities of courtesy and firmness which characterized Dr. Fowler as a faculty member. Dr. Titsworth praised Dr. Fowler's cooperation and his true loyalty and devotion to his Alma Mater.

Following the address of the President, Mr. Raymond Moffett rendered an appropriate valedictory. Mr. Moffett is the Director of vocal music at the Washington College Assemblies. Representing the students, Mrs. Theodore Chapman discussed Dr. Fowler as a teacher. Especially did she laud his methods, his procedure and his manner in class. She told of the desire to study and work under him, inspired by his sincere interest in each student. She suggested the good fortune of the freshmen who might have begun his college career with a class under Dr. Fowler.

William Baker, another student, spoke of Dr. Fowler as an advisor and friend.

Mr. Paul Selandt, instructor in Latin and in French recalled some of the joys and benefits of having Dr. Fowler as a fellow faculty member, and as head of his department. Mr. Selandt spoke of Dr. Fowler's friendship for people, and of his philosophy and the serenity which he had attained by it. In conclusion, he quoted Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar" as indicative of Dr. Fowler's own faith as a Christian and a good man.

Dr. G. Van A. Ingalls, Professor of English at Washington College, concluded the program by a mention of Dr. Fowler's contributions to the College. These, as Dr. Ingalls noted, were very many, but chief among them, was his gift of a cosmopolitan point of view. She stressed the gift this "citizen of the world" had made to a section somewhat inclined to be provincial, in the form of a broad perspective regarding many lands, from contact with many peoples. Dr. Ingalls cited the credit due Dr. Fowler for his formation of the small German library at the College.

QUARTERBACK

Al Dobkins

Al Dobkins, hard fighting Waterbury boy, will call signals for the locals when they take the field this afternoon against their Pennsylvania grid foes.

Pro Meeting And Parade Held At College, Bonfire

Excitement at Washington College last night reached the fever heat stage.

Practically the entire student body came over to the assembly hall at 6:45 P. M. and cheered the coaches and various players to the echo.

However, this did not relieve the pent up feelings of the students so they shortly afterward massed together and took the town by storm, blocking traffic and parading everywhere.

New Rules Given Blue Key Here

Registration Fee Will Be Charged

New rules and regulations governing every local Blue Key Chapter of the National Honor Fraternity have been recently drawn up. President O'Brien has been notified of these mandates in communication received from Mr. B. C. Riley, National President at headquarters in Gainesville, Florida.

New members who will be taken in this Fall must pay a charge of $5.00, which will be known as a registration fee and will be forwarded to National Headquarters to be used to maintain National offices, necessary clerical help, for pay travel news letters, etc. Other important new rules are to govern the relationship of all local chapters. Men selected by their classes as candidates must be approved by the faculty and in turn by National Headquarters before they can be members of Blue Key. Expulsion is the penalty for violation of many of these mandates, rules or regulations.

They do not pertain to any present member of Blue Key at Washington College as the most recent elections were made in the Spring of 1932 and these new regulations were not effective at that date.

In its recent meeting Blue Key decided to hold its annual banquet or Wednesday evening, October 26, at the Bell Haven. Choice of a speaker has not been decided on as yet.

TO LEAD TEAM

Joe Dickerson

Capt. Joe Dickerson will lead the Maroon and Black of Washington College against Susquehanna today in the first home appearance of George Ekaltis' foot ball machine.

W. Wilson Wingate Picks Washington To Win Here

W. Wilson Wingate, feature sportswriter for the BALTIMORE NEWS and BALTIMORE SUNDAY AMERICAN, last night, picked Washington College to defeat Susquehanna today by a touchdown.

Wingate, it will be remembered, picked Washington to beat Gallaudet by a touchdown two weeks ago. Last week he picked the locals to receive a neat lacing at the hands of Loyola.

Reinhold Back In Form Today

Close Game Is Looked For

In what is expected to be their toughest game of the season Washington's gridlers battle a well balanced and powerful team from Susquehanna in their first home game at 2:30 this afternoon on Kibler Field.

The Maroon and Black eleven came out of the Loyola fray with no major injuries and with the exception of Blencome, promising Fresh backs who suffered a cracked rib in Monday's drill, will have its entire strength available for today's struggle. The locals worked out for an hour in a pouring rain Monday stressing tackling. In scrimmages held Tuesday and Wednesday the backfield showed better timing and running form than they have to date.

MacDonald, with his foot injury received in the first scrimmage of the season now completely healed, may set the nod to start at the center post. Higginson is very likely to start at left end. Johnson, still bothered by a sprained ankle, and Chast. Clark, and O'Farrell will see duty on the wing positions. Gamber will be at the right end berth. Capt. Dickerson, Warren Carey and Lord, recently changed from center, will fill in the guard places as needed. Ward and Eissard will play the tackle positions with Skipp and Bringhurst ready to substitute. Harries, Kaplan, Omar Carey, and Saylor may be called to action in the center of the line during the game. Coach Ekaltis has a large number of backs from which to select—ten in all. Berry, who has not been ready to go since the Maryland game is sure to be seen under fire and Reinhold, Washington's best punter, has recovered from an attack of grip and will see more service than he did in the Loyola encounter. More than likely two nets of backs will be used.

Susquehanna has a strong line both offensively and defensively supporting a backfield of two heavy backs and two lighter but speedier ball-carriers. Susquehanna's men of the gridiron have an attack equal in deception to U. of Maryland's tricky offense and in addition have a scoring punch as evidenced by the large scores rolled up against opponents. Washington will look for everything. The Pennsylvanians have been pointing to this game and are primed to a keen fighting edge for their battle with the Shom'ens.

The student body and a large crowd of fans will have its first glimpse of the Maroon and Black at home in what should prove a gridiron classic. The teams are evenly matched and both are ready and eager for the opening gun that will start the battle. Anything may happen.

PROBABLE LINEUPS FOR TODAY

Washington

Susquehanna

R. E. GAMBER (5)	L. E. SCHLEGAL (17)
R. T. WAARD (17)	J. T. EXTROUN (66)
R. G. CAREY (13)	L. G. CARMICHAEL (56)
C. C. LORD (15)	FISHER (34)
R. H. EVANS (14)	R. G. SASSAMAN (64)
Q. B. DOBKINS (6)	F. B. HANNA (92)
F. B. NICHOLSON (25)	Q. R. MYERS (25)
L. H. B. GIRATIS (7)	R. H. B. MARTINEC (65)
DICKERSON (8)	KRAMER (60)
BLISSARD (16)	R. T. TICE (59)
L. E. BAKER (19)	R. E. ROACH (41)

WASHINGTON PLAYERS

10—Clark	5—Gamber
23—Bringhurst	17—Ward
15—Lord	12—Carey
4—Harries	24—MacDonald
1—Kaplan	18—Dickerson (c)
24—Skipp	16—Blissard
20—Higginson	19—Baker
12—Hall	44—Carmichael
9—Uhlton	7—Giratis
11—Berry	21—Blencome
14—Evans	25—Nicholson
3—Johnson	6—Reinhold

SUSQUEHANNA PLAYERS

5—Carl	17—Schlegel
7—Subella	66—Extroun (c)
2—Rosen	60—Carmichael
12—Vanuys	54—Fisher
13—K. Waslewski	60—Kramer
24—Schoffstall	37—Eisenhower
26—Ribel	61—Roch
44—Carmichael	52—Myers
45—Alexander	15—W. Waslewski
17—Pianezchi	65—Martinec
48—Fanti	62—Hanna
53—Walsh	2—Badger

Referee—Bradley (Temple); Umpire—Willinson (Hopkins); Head Lineaman—Ogden (Swarthmore).

heartily recommend "The White House Cook Book."

Depression College Is Being Formed

Dr. Arthur C. Kill Is The Originator

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22, 1932.—Announcement of the faculty of the "depression college" at Port Royal, Virginia, was made by Dr. Arthur C. Kill, Jr., Organized Secretary of the institution and originator of the idea from which it is developing.

As so far appointed, the faculty consists of fourteen professors, of whom two have studied abroad in universities ranging from Edinburgh to Shanghai. Analysis of the faculty list shows that three of its members are graduates of Dartmouth, two of Columbia, and one each of Princeton, Harvard, Trinity, Illinois, Syracuse, Pittsburgh, Tufts, Rice Institute, and Oxford University, England. The English representative on the faculty is William Meadon Cowten, Esquire, who is a recipient of first class honors in the School of Philosophy, Politics, and Economics at Balliol College, Oxford University, England. The English representative on the faculty is William Meadon Cowten, Esquire, who is a recipient of first class honors in the School of Philosophy, Politics, and Economics at Balliol College, Oxford University, England. The English representative on the faculty is William Meadon Cowten, Esquire, who is a recipient of first class honors in the School of Philosophy, Politics, and Economics at Balliol College, Oxford University, England.

The "depression college" is designed to bring together experienced teachers who are without position because of the depression, and students who, because of financial stringency, are unable to continue their courses in existing institutions. The faculty will serve without pay, while undergraduate fees are being held to $250, covering all living expenses as well as tuition. A library of five thousand and carefully selected volumes, contributed by other existing institutions and interested individuals will shortly be established in the bank building at Port Royal.

Dr. Hill said today that great interest is being shown by the local authorities there in the development of the college, which is to be known as Port Royal College. Arrangements have been completed whereby the old town hall will be placed at the disposal of the college for public lectures and the more important social gatherings. It is planned to open this unique institution on November 1, while the newly appointed faculty are expected to be in residence at Port Royal a week earlier.

"I am greatly encouraged at the response which the depression college project is receiving," said Dr. Hill today. "Inquiries have been pouring in from every section of the country, and the co-operation of many leading educational institutions is assured. One concrete problem on which we are now engaged is obtaining a room for about 100 students at other institutions. We believe that the quality of the instruction at Port Royal will merit and assure such recognition."

Remembering that he had just returned from a visit to the college campus, Dr. Hill stated "Of course a great deal still remains to be done, but most of the uncompleted details will be handled under our plan of student help and should be more than made up by the students who will be housed in two old colonial homes, whose wooded estates run down to the banks of the historic Rappahannock. Seventy years ago rival armies were warring across that stream. In the same environment we are hopeful of playing our part in a national crisis perhaps as serious as that of the Civil War."

A detailed list of the faculty members so far appointed at Port Royal College is as follows:

Edward B. Aranis, Art; A. B. Bloe, 1925; D. B. (Architecture)

(Continued On Page Six)

Alumni Notes

Miss Charlotte Holloway, '32, is teaching mathematics and French at the Rock Hill High School.

Miss Ruth Johnson, '32, is working in Salisbury, Md.

Miss Dorothy Johnson, '32, is at home in Philadelphia.

Charles N. Bradley, '32, has secured a position with an employment agency in Baltimore.

Albert E. Baker, '32, is teaching mathematics and coaching at the Salisbury High School, Md.

Raymond McCullough, '32, is teaching in Oakland, Md.

Irving Scranton Ross, '32, former editor of the ELM in New England, representative of the Letts Photo-Engraving Company.

Oliver E. Robinson, '32, is teaching and coaching in Chester, Pa.

John Mandrell is teaching at the Tri-County High School, Md.

Frank Badart, '32, is analyzer for a large Baltimore dairy.

Edward Stevens, '31, is at his home in Waterbury, Conn.

F. Stanley Getz, ex-'30, having recently graduated in dentistry, is now practicing his profession at Chester, Pa.

A. S. Garrison, with a bachelor's degree from Washington and an engineering degree from Lehigh, has charge of the Montgomery and Sutton Building, one of the largest office buildings in San Francisco.

Julo del Toro, an instructor for a year and two at Washington College following his graduation in 1913, has been teaching since then at the University of Michigan. He is an assistant professor in Romance Languages and ranks second on a teaching staff of forty in the department.

T. Alan Goldsborough, '99, who has represented the First Congressional District of Maryland for the past twelve years, is a candidate for a seventh term.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry G. Simpers have announced the approaching marriage of their daughter Mary to Elias Nattle, of Denton. The contracting parties are graduates of Washington College.

M. Ermya Jewell, '24, teaching in the High School, Palmyra, New Jersey, spent most of her summer vacation on a motor tour across the continent. She attended the opening exercises of the Olympic Games.

Franklin K. Cooper, '30, after two years at the University of Maryland Law School, has accepted a position in the law office of Wallis & Robins, Salisbury, Md.

Allan Robinson, '30, has gone to Lehigh for a course in Civil Engineering.

Dr. A. S. Hall, Professor Emeritus of Science, is spending his declining years in happiness and contentment at his old home, Saline, Mich.

William T. Smith, ex-'24, is manager of the Louisville office of the New York Indemnity Company, with headquarters in the Sparks Building, Louisville, Ky. William is to be congratulated on the recent arrival of a second daughter.

Eugene Pruitt, '09, recently resigned the Superintendency of the Talbot County public schools to accept a similar position in Frederick County.

A. Leonard Leary, '16, is principal of the Frederick High School, a position which he has held for several years.

Walter A. Brannford, of last year's class, is teaching English and Latin in the Lord Baltimore High School, Millville, Del.

Ann Harris was initiated into the Kappa Gamma Sorority at a recent meeting.

A seal for the sorority has been made up, drawn, and framed.

What the '32 graduates are doing: Elizabeth Brice is engaged in social service work in Baltimore.

Helen Norris has a temporary teaching position in Denton.

DEAR MISS CO-ED:

Welcome home! We are glad to hear that you are back in town.

In keeping with the times, we have tempered our prices, but we still luxuriously indulge in as many crisp, fresh linen towels as we believe essential to the facial.

We still continue extravagantly (perhaps?) using the best waving lotions and we haven't the heart to cut our permanent waving preparations, either.

So, you see, we are offering you our best at the best prices. What can be more fair.

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE Phone No. 334

306 Park Row

The Emerson Hotel

Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings Unexcelled

Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged

Private Rooms and

Banquet Halls

For All Occasions

College Addressed By Y. M. C. A. Man

Mr. Little, Of Baltimore, Here

On Thursday, October 13, the Washington College Assembly was the scene of an interesting and thoughtful address to the student body by Mr. Little, of Baltimore, Md., on the subject of putting "first things first" in college and in life. Mr. Little is a native of Minnesota, and is a graduate of Hamline University of St. Paul, Minn. Previous to his residence in Baltimore, Mr. Little has been actively identified with Y. M. C. A. and welfare work in the state of Missouri, where he has conducted a number of enlightening researches among college students. His participation in and subsequent connection with the life of the latter enabled him to speak with conviction concerning the problems confronting the student of today.

According to Mr. Little, many of us are unable to view our tasks and joys in life with a proper sense of their relative importance. He continues that the student must seek a balanced diet of activities on the campus if he is to maintain that balance in life. The utmost care he says must be exercised in the choosing of one's friends on the campus. Particularly did he emphasize to the Freshmen the importance of a discriminating selection of one's associates during the first three months of his campus life.

Mr. Little's speech was unusually rich in personal anecdote and human interest stories. Chief among these latter was his mention of "Peck Jackson, a famous mid-western football star. Jackson, a personal friend of Mr. Little, recently committed suicide in Baltimore as the result of continued dependency, and the speaker noted that Mr. Little had some time before taken an interest in the strange mental (Continued in Next Column)

Student Council Minutes

Student Council Minutes for Oct. 10th, 1932.

The meeting was called to order by Pres. Ryan at 6:45. The committees had no reports to make.

Under new business it was decided to have the Soph-Fresh tug-of-war on Monday, Oct. 17th at 3:45 P. M. and to be conducted on the rules as laid down last year. A motion was made and carried that the "Palma Parade" should be held Thursday, October 21st, and to be started at 9 P. M. 27th, and to be started at 9 P. M.

The Council discussed the possibility of chartering a boat to take the student body to the Loyola game in Baltimore. A meeting of entire student body was to be called on Tuesday to determine extent to which this scheme would be supported. Fred Lulliton to call Tulchester Company to get rate for boat. Council to present petition to the Faculty for permission in this matter and for the terminating of classes at 9:45 on Saturday.

The holding of various dances, such as those given every year by the Blue Key, the Varsity Club, etc., was discussed. Pres. Ryan appointed a committee to meet with the Student Activities Committee on Wednesday, Oct. 12th to attempt to reach some decision in this matter. There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

tal decline of the Star and cited his case as fundamentally the result of a poor choice of friends following his rise to prominence.

Mr. Little was entertained at luncheon following his address by representatives of the Washington College Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A.

Conclude: "A depression is a dent. A dent is a hole. A hole is nothing."

Davling: "Much ado about nothing."

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT

(Formerly Candy Kitchen)

For food of the Best Quality at Popular Prices. Home Cooking, Prompt Service, Sandwiches of all kinds, Cakes, Sodas, Fancy Sandwiches, Home Made Pies and all kinds of Soft Drinks at the Fountain.

Try Our 50c Dinner Guarantee Satisfaction

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT

(Open 6 A. M. to 12 midnight)

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students Offers Complete Line of Conklin and Wahl Pens and Pencils, Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery, and School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

NEW 700 ROOM CLUB HOTEL

Transient Rates $1.50 per day up, with bath $2 up

Club life, restaurant, free swimming pool, gym, library, spacious lounges, roof garden, separate floors for men and women. Six minutes from Penn and Grand Central Stations.

GEORGE TURKEL Manager

$8 to $14 Weekly

KENMORE HALL

145 EAST 23rd St. N. Y. CITY

Just East of Lexington Avenue

Gleimery 3-3940

Loyola Defeats Washington 51 To 0

Carlin Stars For The Greyhounds

Resorting to a tricky forward passing game, mixed with a deceptive running attack, Loyola's Greyhounds dashed to victory over Washington at the Baltimore Stadium last Saturday.

The Maroon and Black started aggressively with their opening kick-off, recovering two Loyola fumbles deep in the enemy territory, but the local backs were stopped cold and Washington yielded the ball on downs. After this opening thrust the Loyola goal was never in danger and the Jesuits had very much their own way the rest of the afternoon after winning points and runs to roll up a 58 point lead in the first half.

The third quarter opened with Washington offering stubborn resistance and the opponents were unable to score a single point. Late in the first period after Coach Ekblat made several replacements, a Carlin to Egan pass and a one yard plunge by Haley after four successful passes, brought the Loyola score up to a total of 51.

The Greyhounds have a heavy alert, vivacious, charging line which turns to an unyielding steel wall on defense. The backfield is fast and deceptive, with Al Carlin, powerful and punishment-absorbing fullback, supplying the scoring punch, and Vince Carlin, quarterback, throwing bullet-like passes in a manner that will make fans forget the Delaware football player's name. The Greyhounds have the best balanced team in the State and will have opponents plenty of trouble.

Warren Carey played an exceptional game at right guard, consistent in stop and slowing up Loyola plays directed at his side of the line. Higginson at end, Skip, tackle, and Blinnard at half back, displayed flashes of football ability and speed and reliability in the remaining game. Washington came out of its uneven encounter with practically no injuries, and will have its full strength available for its locally treasured game with Susquehanna this Saturday.

The lineup and summary:
Loyola Washington
Miraglia LT Baker
Farrell LE Bland
Morris LG Carey
Pletkyk C Dickinson
Axtell BC
Walshner RT Ward
Dunne RB Gamber
Carlin QB Goshalk
Farnham LH Giratini
Egan RH Reinhold
Bell FB Nicholson
Score by quarters:
Loyola 13 26 0 19—51
Washington 0 0 0 0—0
Touchdowns—Farrell 2, Callen 2, Dunne, Egan, Carlin, Robinson. Points after Touchdown—Morris 3, (placements). Substitutions—Loyola, Binkoff, Kampka, Bender, Biggs, Benge, Jaudin, Ford, McVeyers, Farley, Colvin, Bankoski, Gordon, Bandu, DeStefano, Bracken, Molnar, Giedelski, Washington, Blinnard, Evans, Ustilton, Clark, Higginson, Skip, Kaplan, Harris, Johnson, Noma, Kremer—Kolly. Umpire—Armstrong. Head linesman—Caffrey.

*First point awarded on an offside penalty.

BASKET BALL SCHEDULE RELEASED BY COLLEGE

Washington Meets U. Of Md. At College Park

The Physic Pentagon of Washington College, this year plays a total of eighteen games. Five state team Hopkins, Mt. St. Mary's, Western Maryland, Loyola and St. John's will be encountered both at home and on their travels. Maryland, the other State opponent will be played only once, at College Park. Head Coach Kibler expects another winning season.

Mr. Dumacott is in charge of basketball each day in the gymnasium during the early practice. The schedule is as follows:
Dec. 16—West Chester
Jan. 10—St. Joseph
Jan. 12—Hopkins
Jan. 14—Mt. St. Mary's
Jan. 17—Western Md.
Jan. 19—Delaware
Jan. 21—Western Md.
Jan. 23—Loyola
Feb. 4—St. John's
Feb. 8—Maryland
Feb. 11—Hopkins
Feb. 13—Mt. St. Mary's
Feb. 21—St. John's
Feb. 24—Delaware
Feb. 26—Loyola
Feb. 28—St. Joseph's
Mar. 4—Swarthmore
Mar. 11—Alumni

Gill Brothers Team Victorious Grid Team

Gill Bros. ice cream company entered into the spirit of the occasion when Washington tripped Gallaudet and decided the Maroon and Black squad deserved besides cheers and praise, something in the way of ice cream. Accordingly, Sunday night, Dec. 9, the custom was observed generously of their product. We thank Gill Bros. again for their co-operation and fine spirit.

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning—Pressing

103 Court Street
Chesertown, Maryland

Compliments of
H. F. Jefferson

SMITH'S
KUT-RATE
DRUG STORE

Chesertown, Maryland
Owen C. Smith, Prop.

Phone 189

THE WASHINGTON ELM

Football

By George L. Ekstis

With the warm glow of victory rays thoroughly quenched by the overwhelming defeat by Loyola; the coaching staff is looking forward to the Susquehanna game with anxious eyes. Susquehanna is reputed to have one of the finest "small college" football teams in the East and a total of 82 points against their opponents, none in the last two games, is ample proof of their power. In Wednesday's scrimmage, a team using Susquehanna plays romped through the varsity, scoring four touchdowns on power plays alone; thus causing greater anguish in the coaching ranks.

The defense against forward passes was very weak in the Loyola game, and a lot of work has been spent in an effort to strengthen this department of play. Tackling too, has been stressed, along with timing and coordination in running of offensive plays. In offensive scrimmage the early part of the week, the backfield finally began to run hard and as a result the offensive plays were run more of much more than any time this season; bringing a ray of hope that the offense may start going some where.

One of the finest Washington College football squads in recent years, faces the climax this Saturday. Perhaps that something that makes for winning football teams will be found before the "home folks." That something will have to be evident if Susquehanna is to be defeated.

Modern Shoe Repairing
Store
PAUL SIPALA
Next to Sterling Drug

STUDENTS
We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.

Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Lenthic Line from Paris.
Abbott's DeLuxe Ice Cream.
Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

The
Third National Bank
Chesertown, Md.

The Only
National Bank
In Kent County

HERB'S
QUICK LUNCH
Sandwiches of all Kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Vothell House

GALLAUDET BOWS 6 TO 0 TO WASHINGTON TEAM

Bill Nicholson Scores Winning Touchdown

The Maroon and Black of Washington College defeated Gallaudet College in football by the score of 6 to 0. The game played on Kendall Green in Washington, D. C., on Saturday, October 8, was outstanding because it marked the first victory for the Shoremen since the 1929 season when American University left before them.

From the outset, Coach Ekblat's Shoremen showed marked superiority over the home team in every department of the game. However, frequent fumbles marred several scoring opportunities and not until the latter part of the fourth quarter was the winning tally shored over.

The first half witnessed the Shoremen penetrating continuously into Gallaudet territory. Time after time Gallaudet would either recover a fumble or kick out of danger. Bill Nicholson proved himself an able backing back by making yardage at will through the center. Al Geratini and Fritz Reinhold skirted the end for long gains.

In the last quarter, Washington blocked a Gallaudet kick deep in the latter's territory, and then recovered Ganshlin's fumble. This paved the way for the winning touchdown. Geratini carried the ball around end for a score but offside penalties on both teams nullified this score. Bill Nicholson then ploughed through the center of the line for the tally which counted. The kick for extra point was blocked. Later Geratini returned a punt sixty yards for his second touchdown, but he stepped out of bounds on the thirty yard line and was unsuccessful again.

In general all-around performance, Dick Gamble at right end played the outstanding game for Washington. Evans, in his first college game, showed his makings of a nice backfield man.

Compliments

Chesertown

Electric Light and Power

Company

A. L. SPARKS

Specials in

Ladies' Hose

Newest Colors and

Weights

Compliments of

MARSHALL

Cleaners, Dyers, and

Repairers

Easton, Maryland

Tug-o-War To Be Held October 24

Rats Outweigh Sophs 54 Pounds

At 3:40 P. M. on Monday, October 24th, the anxiously awaited Freshman-Sophomore tug-o-war will take place at Brook's Mill. The battle was originally planned for October 17th, but a heavy rain and timely consideration for the spectators caused it to be postponed a full week. However, the rainfall has caused the mud stream to greatly increase in size, and the mud will now be very easy to find for the contestants and the whole scene more interesting to the spectators.

The tug-o-war is an annual contest between the two lower classes and the "Sophisticated" men of Brook's Mill. The latter place, located a half-mile out of Chesertown on the Tollchester road, is the scene of many an exciting contest. Although the "middle-punchers" have won the event for the past few years the "Rats" have been able to put up a creditable showing. It is hoped that this year will see as good a tug-o-war and hard fight as the last few years have witnessed.

Wall Street has been very quiet regarding its bets on the outcome of Monday's fracas, but rumor has it that the wise boys are putting their money on the "Sophisticated" men. Regardless of this fact, the odds appear almost even. Seldom have two teams apparently been so evenly matched as those who meet to do battle for the honor of the title on Monday. According to our figures the "Rat" team as a whole outweighs its rival team by only fifty-four pounds. To offset this slight disadvantage, the "Sophisticated" men have a year's experience, memories of a defeat last year, and the psychological advantages of Sophomores over Freshmen. Perhaps Wall Street is right in its five-to-three betting against the "Yearlings" but it almost appears that "wisdom" may stay in pockets. The outcome is a gamble either way; each class is getting keyed up for the fray; and it looks as though the clash ought to be interesting from anybody's point of view.

The probable line-up arranged alphabetically, with approximate weight is as follows:

SOPHOMORES	RATS
Baker, R.	190 Brice 165
Blinard 175	Clifford 166
Clements 165	Evans 160
Cohen 170	Falls 150
Johns 170	Gaiz 160
Kennemer 180	Higginson 166
Lerd 175	Kaplan 186
Mooney 160	MacDonald 177
Murray 160	Miller 172
Nicholson 198	Nova 205
Sadler 155	Palmer 150
Saylor 170	Skipp 160
Wallace, M. 160	Tignor 180
Ward 180	Williams, H. 160
Huey 165	Winbroe 160
Gardiner, Coxswain, Kemper, Coxswain	Total 2500 Total 2584

Clements & Clements, Inc.

CLEANING

PRESSING

REPAIRING

"Keep your clothes fit"

Prompt Service

Phone 437

Dover, Delaware

GILL BROS.
ICE CREAM

Dainties

Assorted Flavors

Miss Emily Jewell Leads Glee Club

Women Singers Have Interesting Program

At the meeting of the Women's Glee Club on October 6, the following officers were elected for the coming year: Emily Jewell, President; Gladys Couell, Manager; Genevieve Carvel, Secretary and Treasurer; Mary Jane O'Neill, Librarian. The Women's Glee Club is under the direction of Mr. Raymond Moffett and is looking forward to a successful year. It was founded only last year and is already gaining prominence on the campus which is in keeping with the musical program set up by the college authorities. The director and his assistant, Miss Louise B. Russell have selected the following compositions to be given this year: Reveries, by Alex Speaks; Medley from Sunny South, by V. Harris; Dawn by P. G. Lurvan; Have You Forgotten by Le Maz-Nal; Symphony by E. Field; Will You Remember by Remberg-Rigger; Sylvia by Alex Speaks; Oh Promise Me by DeKoven. The members of the club are as follows: E. Berkeley, D. Clarke, C. Jewell, C. Kierwan, D. Slater, M. Smith, M. Trygve, M. Wheatley, J. Rouse, M. Poole, M. White, E. Childs, E. Herrera, H. Baker.

"W" Club Plans To Take in New Members

The W. Club will give their annual dance in the gymnasium tonight for the entertainment of the visiting players, returning alumni and the student body. This will be the first informal dance to be held here since the beginning of the school year.

The dancing will be from 8 to 12. Music to be furnished by Vicki Vickert and his orchestra. The admission price is $1.00 per couple and 50 cents for single. The W. Club asks for the support of the student body in making this affair a success.

The Dulany-Vernoy Co.

337-339-341 North Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest

Art China, Leather Goods, Toys, Books, Athletic Equipment

Eyes examined and glasses fitted by a graduate Optician. Fountain Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films and Developing.

J. S. KREEGER

Jeweler & Optometrist

Chestertown, Md.

DR. CARPENTER SPEAKS AT MT. VERNON MEETING

The Mount Vernon Literary Society was very fortunate this week in having to address them, Dr. Carpenter on the topic of England. Her topic dealt with the country life of England and the beauty that nature has bestowed upon that beautiful island. This topic was of great interest to all members of the society and gives them all a much clearer view of our neighbor land across the Atlantic Ocean.

The next feature on the program was a solo by Miss Mary Jane Neld. Next week the society will hear an address on the topic of Germany.

After the program a brief business meeting was held and a number of new members were sworn in.

Wednesday, October 12, 1932, the program of the society was put on by the freshmen members of the society. The program consisted of: Revellie, Doris Metcalfe; Recitation, Carroll Costello; Talk, Michael Higgins; Musical Skit, Charles Wells; and Hill-and-Kimpey; Talk, Morris Campbell. Piano selection, Caroline Jewell, and Taps by Doris Metcalfe.

The business meeting followed the program and an unusually large number of new members were sworn in. The society now has a very large number of members.

Del-Mar-Va Restaurant
For
After Dance Lunches
And Regular Meals

Men's Glee Club Now Under Way

Mr. Raymond Moffett Directs Singers

The Men's Glee Club is off to a flying start this year with 23 members.

The officers of the club are: Chas. Harris, President; A. Hodgson, Manager; M. Noble, Secretary and Treasurer; S. G. Bell, Librarian. The Glee Club expects to broadcast again over WFER this year and plans are being made for some extra trips. The members so far are: S. Bell, Boynton, Clarke, Campbell, Costello, Pink, Furman, Garrett, Harries, Harris, Hodgson, Lanford, LeKabeuch, Luthin, Mooney, Noble, Reinberg, Smith, Taylor, Wells, Williams, Hall.

A quartet consisting of Morris Mooney, Charles Harris, Furman has been selected from the club and will make their first appearance locally at the assembly Oct. 27.

Toulson's Pharmacy
Cordially invites the student to enjoy the privileges of a well-stocked drug store.
Parker Pens our specialty.

DRAMATIC CLUB CHOOSES FRAUD AS FIRST PLAY

The dramatic club has chosen as its first play, "A Bachelor's Honeymoon," a hilarious and somewhat risqué comedy by John Stapleton. It concerns the troubles of a middle-aged bachelor who is trying to keep his recent marriage a secret from the family.

The cast has been picked and practices has begun. The play will be produced sometime just before Christmas vacation. Watch for the date. We want your support. Those in the cast are as follows: Evelyn Walcott, R. Furman, K. Ready, L. Burt, M. Trupp, E. Childs, Dorothy Clarke, R. Scotten, T. Chapman, H. Rogers, L. Lightner, DeWitt Clarke.

THE REXAL STORE EASTMAN KODAKS FILMS

DEVELOPING and PRINTING BY EXPERTS

DRUGS and SUNDRIES OF ALL Kinds
A. L. STERLING

—Advertise in The Elm.

Compliments of
H. D. OREM & SON

WE KNOW What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style centers.

You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.

Our clothes will meet every thing you demand of them.
BORDLEY & SON

Shop At The
B. & L. 5c to $1.00
VARIETY STORE
321 High St.
For Your Wants

BARNETT'S BARBER SHOP
Or Sterling's Drug Store
First Class Service and Expert Workmen

One Smoker tells Another

Chesterfields are Milder, They Taste Better

—the things smokers want most in a cigarette

IN CHESTERFIELD there is no harshness—no bitterness. They are made from ripe, sweet Domestic tobaccos and the right amount of Turkish. The taste and aroma are just right.

CHESTERFIELD

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149

C. W. Kibler & Sons

Chestertown, Maryland

Cotillion Club To Hold First Dance

Floyd Mills And His Orchestra To Furnish Music

The Cotillion Club of Washington College will hold its Autumnal German, Friday, the twenty-eighth of October in the Gymnasium.

The committee in charge are as follows: John G. McLean, chairman; Stuart H. Shinn, John C. Knott, Richard W. Cooper, Ralph Miller, George W. Murray and Paul W. Phipps.

The colors to be used in decoration are brown and yellow supplemented with corn stalks and leaves.

The patrons will be Bishop and Mrs. George W. Davenport, Mrs. Hope H. Barroll, Sr., Mr. John W. Barroll, Mr. and Mrs. Morris K. Barroll, Captain and Mrs. William Stayton, Miss Doris Bell, Miss Margaret Brewer and Mr. and Mrs. Reginald L. Ford.

The music will be furnished by Floyd Mills and his orchestra, well known radio and recording artists.

Quite a few alumni and out of town guests are expected and everything points to a most successful dance.

The dates for the five dances are as follows:

Friday, October 28, 1932.
Friday, December 9, 1932.
Friday, February 3, 1933.
Friday, March 17, 1933.
Friday, April 14, 1933.

The favorable returns from the subscription drive assure five good dances. Among the orchestras to be engaged for the others are Al Hollander and Lou Caruso.

Certain Central African natives have a ceremony which includes beating the ground with clubs, uttering savage cries and then imbibing freely of a potent native spirit. This explains the rumor that some one had been teaching them to play golf—Humorist.

An "Up to Washington" movement is being advocated by some of the students on the hill. If anything comes of this, there'll be more later concerning it.

Listen to the chatter of the ELM,

Listen to the boys that know,

Look at the mess that's gone to press,

And what we say is so.

P. J. W.

Compliments of

L. A. PENNINGTON

Contractor — Builder

McCALLISTERS

Est. 1894
Baltimore's Oldest Sport Store
Outfitters in Washington
College
124 W. Baltimore, St.
BALTIMORE, MD.

MRS. HARRY WHITE

Washing
Cannon St. next to Bowling Alley

—Advertise in The Elm.

SKIP BOYNTON'S BICYCLE AROUSES MUCH INTEREST

On Wednesday of last week we observed a somewhat dignified, well-dressed gentleman wearing a derby, riding furiously across the campus on a rather undersized bicycle.

"What is that?" one asked the other.

"I don't know!"

It was "Skip" Boynton, the illustrious new arrival on our campus.

People laughed when they first saw the vehicle and wondered why Boynton had introduced it as a means of betaking one's self down town, but now, judging by the number of students seen cycling on the affair, it seems to have met with popular approval.

Depression College Is Being Formed

Dr. Arthur C. Kill Is The Originator

(Continued From Page Three)

Rice, 1927.

Alfred W. Briggs, Economics, A. B., Illinois, 1935; M. A., Wisconsin, 1924; Ph. D., Wisconsin, 1929.

Norman C. Bruce, German Language and Literature, A. B., Syracuse, 1931; A. M., Syracuse, 1932.

Arthur W. Calhoun, Sociology, A. B., Pittsburgh; A. M., Wisconsin; Ph. D., Clark.

Hamish Cameron, Classics, A. B., Princeton, 1923; completed Ph. D., requirements Columbia, 1932.

Lloyd Flewelling, English Literature,

A. A., Dartmouth; A. M., Maine; Ph. D., Michigan.

Arthur Cheney Clifton Hill, Jr., Economics, A. B., Dartmouth, 1929; Ph. D., Brookings, 1931.

Ralph Brandreth Kennard, Physical Science, Chemical Engineer, Columbus, 1916; A. M., Columbia, 1919; Ph. D., Chicago.

Paul Lewinson, History, B. Litt., Columbia, 1922; Graduate diploma in Sociology, London School of Economics, 1925; Ph. D., Brookings, 1927.

William Meades Newton, Government, B. A., (Oxon.) Balliol College.

Paul Stephen Parsons, English Literature, A. B., Trinity College, 1929; A. M., Trinity College, 1924.

Edward Schouten Robinson, Philosophy, A. B., Harvard, 1926; Ph. D., Harvard, 1932.

Harold B. Stanton, Romance Languages and Literature, A. B., Dartmouth, 1906; A. M., Harvard, 1912;

Ph. D., Brown, 1927.

George Waskovich, History, B. S., Tufts, 1923; Diploma in Slavonic, London, 1924; Ph. D.

Negotiations are in progress which will probably result in the addition of six other teachers of Psychology, English, Art, Geography, Biology and Drama. The faculty will be supplemented by numerous guest specialists. These will include experts from various government departments, and private research organizations, outstanding political figures, journalists, etc.

Father: "So you first to marry my daughter?"

Suitor: "Yes, but first I want to know if there is any insanity in your family."

Father: "No, and there's not going to be any."

THE
FORT DEARBORN
MASSACRE

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the artist, N. C. Wyeth... inspired by the heartless treachery of a band of vicious Miami Indians, who massacred the settlers with inhuman ferocity... August 15, 1812.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, the host build his house in the words, the world will make a better place in his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.

Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?

BEAT HAVERFORD

Washington TIME Film

BEAT MT. ST. MARY'S

VOL. XXXII. NO. 4.

SATURDAY, NOV. 5, 1932

PRICE TEN CENTS

Maroon And Black Meets Mt. St. Mary's At Emmitsburg

MT. VERNON Dr. Paul E. Titsworth Offered

HOLDS MEETING Presidency of Alfred University

Ward, Gamber Back In Shape For Today

Ekatitis Looks For Close Game

Washington's Maroon and Black gridder has better than an even chance of victory when they clash with a definitely powerful Mt. St. Mary's eleven at Emmitsburg this afternoon in their last State game of the season.

Gamber and Ward have sufficiently recovered from injuries and will bolster a forward line that showed plenty of offensive drive in the Drexel tangle last Saturday. It is hoped that Harries, who received a broken nose while stopping play after play directed by Drexel backs over the middle of the line, will see some service at the center post. This position has caused the coaches much anxiety during early game. The local backfield worked better in that game than it has all season and is slowly acquiring the smoothness of timing and co-ordination that go to make a backfield.

During the week forward passing has been stressed and should the Mountaineers stop Washington's running attack, the Shoremen will take to the air as St. Mary's is especially well equipped with the aerial game. The consistent kicking toe of Reinhold will be depended on to keep the enemy out of Washington territory.

Mt. St. Mary's has a heavy powerful line backed by an equally big secondary and have earned the reputation of a defensive team. They have not won a game to date and have scored only six points. In six games, but they are the ground gainers as proven in their making eleven first downs against an exceptionally strong Albright grid machine a week ago. The veteran Mt. St. Mary's squad is anxiously waiting for its first victory and will be ready to shoot everything for a win. After various shifts and changes, Coach Art Malloy of the Saints has hit on a combination that he thinks capable of tripping the Elizabethtown team.

In the daily practice sessions during the week attention was given to weakness in fundamentals as displayed in the encounter with Drexel. Short punting sessions were held on Tuesday and Wednesday. The entire Washington squad, with the exception of Harries, is free from injuries and in good physical condition.

This struggle with Mt. St. Mary's may be regarded as a game, the outcome of which will determine how successful a season the Maroon and Black will have. All are ready for the opening whistle.

Varsity Club Holds Dance; Vickers' Music

The first informal dance of the season given by the "V" Club in the College Gym on October 22, proved very successful socially.

The gym was plainly decorated in the college colors of Maroon and Black. Music for the occasion was furnished by the well-known Vic Vickers and his orchestra.

GRID COACH

Coach George L. Ekatitis

Coach George L. Ekatitis will take his Maroon and Black gridmen up to Emmitsburg today to engage the Mounts of Art Malloy. Ekatitis has visited the stamping grounds of the Jesuits before, when wearing the famous Green and Gold of Western Maryland. If the local coach meets with as much success against the up-staters today as he did when calling signals against them, there will be rejoicing in the ranks of the locals.

SILVER TROPHY TO BE GIVEN GRID VICTORS

Announcement has been made of the donation of a silver trophy to be battled for annually by gridiron teams from Washington College and the University of Delaware. The trophy is the gift of United States Senator Daniel O. Hastings, of Delaware.

The trophy will first be contested for by Washington and Delaware on November 26 this year when the gridiron teams of the rival schools meet on Kibler Field, Chestertown. The team winning the trophy will hold it for one year. In the event of a tie the trophy will stay one year to the team not holding it at the time of the contest.

Senator Hastings expects to be in Chestertown on November 26 to present the trophy to the winning captain and plans are being formulated here to make the occasion of the first battle for the Hastings' Trophy a memorable one.

Annual Pajama Parade Held Last Thursday

With a burst of yelling and quite a lot of chatter from the upper classmen and especially the sophas the annual pajama parade got under way on Thursday evening, October 27 at eight o'clock. The rats were paraded to Reid Hall where they "willingly" performed in the presence of the women students. From Reid Hall the parade continued through town as usual and at nine thirty the rats were told to get word for a bonfire and bring it to the foot of the campus. Several things were going smoothly until every city police came from nowhere and ordered gates and benches taken from the fire before it was lighted. When this was done an egg of some age seemed to come from nowhere and unceremoniously hit an officer back of the ear.

The parade this year lacked the pep and spirit of other years and unless more interest is taken in it the tradition will more than likely be discontinued.

THIRD FLOOR MEN GIVE ENTERTAINMENT

On Wednesday evening, November 2, the Mount Vernon Literary Society met in the auditorium of William Smith Hall. After a business meeting, during which a number of new members were sworn in, the program was turned over to the "Fifty Alley" group.

The first appearance on the program was made by a dirty little pig—representing "Fifty Alley" as it used to be. This was followed by a talk by Wesley Sadler, telling of the origin of the name and describing the "Alley" as it is kept today. Following this was a Show-Talk by Robt. Stuart. The next feature on the program was piano selection by Vincent Brandolini. A short mystery play entitled, "The Haunted House" was presented by Messrs. Rogers and Rhodes. Other features on the program were: Cornet Solo, Leroy Remberg; Ballad, "Sail Away," Robert Shaull; "Herman and George," Dave Wallace and Ray Wilson; The Super Salesman, Louis Goldstein; he grand finale—all the members of Fifty Alley arranged in a semi-circle around the pig which was all dressed up in a suit and tie. The pig sang: "Fifty Alley" and added to the "Sail Away" and to the "Fifty Alley" in the form of a shower of pig in lights. Hot dogs!

The radio announcer of the program was R. Shaull. The success of the program was greatly aided by the music furnished by Brandolini on the piano. It added much to the creating of a mysterious air in "The Haunted House," and added to the effect of "Sail Away," the "Super Salesman" and the Cornet solo.

Members of the Fifty Alley group included: R. Shaull, Alfred Gardner, Henry Rhodes, Calvin Rogers, George Jones, Joe O'Farrell, Bill Watson, Leroy Remberg, Dave Wallace, Vincent Brandolini, Ray Wilson, Jim Messall, Harold Kennerly, Louis Goldstein and Wesley Sadler.

This was the first program of this kind ever presented before the society and was greatly enjoyed by all present. The program was entirely original and each member of the group contributed something to the program.

Last Wednesday the society had as its guest Dr. F. W. Truescott, who spoke on the topic of Germany. He pointed out to the society many points of interest, discussing the history of the religion, education and every day life in Germany. He gave a route that one might follow in order to see the most interesting parts of the country. It was a very interesting talk and they all have a clearer view of this country of Europe.

Urges For College Band

In the home game with Susquehanna the college with the aid of the Chestertown band, helped to add spirit, but last week only three of the college players showed up and played. The talk at the college didn't appear at the Drexel game. It is the least that one who is capable can do to play in this kind. If you have any ideas at all the college should be happy to help organize for the last two home games.

PHYSICS HEAD

Prof. J. J. Coop

Prof. J. J. Coop, head of the Department of Physics at Washington College, recently received permission from the college authorities to start a new physics laboratory on the fourth floor of William Smith Hall. Since Prof. Coop has been at the college he has done much to improve his department.

His recent action was a part of his general plan to make physics a major department at Washington College.

PROF. J. J. COOP STARTS NEW JOB

Professor J. J. Coop of the physics department has drawn up plans for a new physics laboratory in the attic of William Smith Hall.

As the plans are now, it will occupy the North wing of the attic and be divided into the two main rooms, which will contain the two main windows, and this will be used as the main laboratory. Another small room with no windows will be constructed and used as a light laboratory. This plan will relieve a great deal of the crowded conditions in the present laboratory, and also allow room for more apparatus. As the school is not in a position to spend money on this project at present, student aid will probably be utilized in building it.

In the three years Professor Coop has been at Washington College he has helped greatly in the advancement of the Physics Department. Since 1930 he has added two new courses for the curriculum, increased the laboratory equipment about 100 per cent and now his aim is to make Physics a major subject at Washington College. With the new proposed laboratory a reality, this aim will, no doubt, soon be realized.

Father Kramer Speaks On The Church In Assembly

Father Kramer, Catholic Priest of Centerville, Md., spoke to the Washington College Assembly, Oct. 29, 1932, on the matter of Religion.

It was his contention that most people considered a church as a dismal gloomy affair for this reason church attendance was decreasing. He believed that if people approached religion from an intellectual standpoint this misconception would not occur. In his mind there are two ideas to religion, intellectual and emotional, therefore a good religion must be one which must appeal to both of those qualities.

The talk was characterized by Father Kramer's fluent use of elaborate figures of speech.

Washington Head Succeeds Dr. Davis Has Served As President Here Since 1923

Dr. Paul Emerson Titsworth, president of Washington College since 1923, will become president of Albright University, N. Y., on July 31, 1933, when the resignation of Dr. Boethe C. Davis, as president of Albright takes effect.

Dr. Titsworth is a graduate of Albright University at which he later (University at which he later) taught and served as dean. His appointment was made recently at a meeting of the trustees of Albright. During the years that Dr. Titsworth has been the head of Washington College, the institution has shown marked advancement along many lines. The enrollment at the college has been brought to the highest point ever reached in the one hundred and fifty years of its existence. The college has reduced its debt and is running within its budget. The buildings and grounds belonging to Washington College have also been materially improved during the retiring president's term here.

Dr. Titsworth was born at Akaaway, R. I., May 1, 1881, and took his Ph. D. degree at Albright in 1904. Previously he had studied abroad in Berlin and Dresden. He attended the Ohio State University, 1903-04, University of Marburg, 1913, and took the Ph. D. degree at University of Wisconsin in 1911.

After graduating from Albright, he was instructor of modern languages there in 1904-07, professor of English 1910-23, and dean of the University 1920-23, after which he was elected president of Washington College.

He won fame as author of "A Biography for High School Teachers of Modern Languages," published in 1902, and co-translator from the French of "Emancipation of Medical Forms," in 1908. He has long been a contributor on literary topics. In 1904, Dr. Titsworth married Miss Vida Koss Stillman, of Albright, N. Y., who has three daughters, two having graduated from Washington College.

Albright University, which on July 31, 1933, will be placed under the leadership of Dr. Titsworth, has a total enrollment of about 720 students, divided between an engineering college, a college of liberal arts and an agricultural school. Dr. Titsworth last year, engineered one of the most important affairs in the history of Washington College, when the 150th anniversary of the founding of Dr. Titsworth, has a total enrollment of about 720 students, divided between an engineering college, a college of liberal arts and an agricultural school. Dr. Titsworth last year, engineered one of the most important affairs in the history of Washington College, when the 150th anniversary of the founding of Dr. Titsworth, has a total enrollment of about 720 students, divided between an engineering college, a college of liberal arts and an agricultural school.

Assembly Program For Nov. Given Out

The assembly program for the remainder of November was given out by Dr. Livingsood.

Nov. 10—A College Sing under the leadership of Raymond Moffett.

Nov. 17—The Annual Psychology Exam by the entire school.

Nov. 24—Thanksgiving Day and holiday.

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleven oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

EDITOR PHILLIP J. WINGATE
Assistant Editor Charles B. Clark
Literary Editor Roland C. Ready
Society Editor W. M. A. Richards
Exchange Editor Roland E. Leebusch

Feature Reporter William Skipp
Albert E. Dobkins, Albert Giraitis, Janet Atwater, P. B. Kipper, James Kreeger, Morris Campbell, Carroll W. Casteel, Richard Gamber

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES
 Charles Clark, De Witt Clarke, William Baker
SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES
 Alexina Robinson, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF
Business Manager John McLean
Circulation Manager Patterson Beaman
Chief Staff Photographer Emory Burkhardt
Advertising Manager Louis Goldstein

ASSISTANTS
 Walter F. Dorman

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as a second class matter.
 Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, NOV. 5, 1932

DR. TITSWORTH

It is with great regret that we learn of Dr. Titsworth's leaving of Washington College after the present collegiate year. We regret his departure because we are losing a man of such high caliber. However, at the same time we wish to congratulate Dr. Titsworth on his having been chosen as the new President of Alfred University, Alfred, New York, to take effect next July. As a graduate of this University, and also because he has been connected with it as a member of the Faculty and as Dean, Dr. Titsworth is returning to his Alma Mater. We wish also to congratulate Alfred University on acquiring for their Head a man who has proven so well qualified in every respect to hold such a position.

Dr. Titsworth has done more for Washington College in his domicile here than anyone in the more later years. In the first place the college enrollment has been doubled, and that in itself serves as proof of his untiring efforts and abilities. Again, the college has been raised from a tottering one, to the place that it now occupies among the small colleges of the United States. During his Presidency, Washington College has risen from one of C grade to the highest ranks of A classification.

Dr. Titsworth has proven himself a real Napoleon in the cause of our college. His enormous amount of activities outside the college proper, have not in the least taken away from his effectiveness in the institution, but rather have inspired him to do more for those and for the college under his influence.

Therefore, in losing such a man we are unfortunate, but in having had contacts with him, we are greatly benefited. Our wishes for continued success in the future are extended to Dr. Titsworth, in his new position.

IMPROVEMENT

The spirit shown by the general student body during the Drexel foot ball game was gratifying. It was as it should be. Washington College showed the most real and spontaneous enthusiasm that it has exhibited for a pig skin game in several years. When Russ Baker crossed the lead Drexel white line standing up, neither Hoover nor Roosevelt would have voted more than a vote apiece, if a presidential poll had been taken among the college students at that time. It was as it should be.

However, there is still something lacking. Washington College should not take the attitude that "until we are shown otherwise we expect to get licked." Such an attitude, taken by the students at large, naturally seeps into the ranks of the players. That is fatal. Such an attitude is not justified in relation to the present college team. The Maroon and Black CAN win every remaining game on its schedule—but only if it is backed up fully by the entire college. That would be as it should be.

Washington College right now has an aggressive, improving team. One big reason for that is because it has been backed up fairly well during its last two games. Things should not be allowed to slow up now. Those who want their alma mater to come ahead should not lay back and wait for a break to come. Assume the attitude at the start of the next two home games that we expect to click. Such an attitude will bring about the break that everyone seems to need.

With this attitude Washington College will go places, athletically. And that would be as it should be.

SLIPPERY ELM

By ROLAND C. READY

Do we want to make the Delaware football game at Washington College a big event? The lets get together and help perfect the plans by giving the various committees in charge our whole-hearted support.

Another "faux pas" like the last one committed by this column, the Editor of the "Elm" will surely drag little "Slippery Elm" in crepe. In fact the article which appeared here in the last issue was wrong, all wrong. The Student Activities Committee did grant the Blue Key the right to issue $1.50 tickets for frolics and we twisted the facts around backwards. Apologies are offered to the Student Activities Committee and to anyone who may have read that article.

There is a bit of life in us after all. At least the enthusiasm the night before the Susquehanna game and during that game and the Drexel game certainly made us all feel more like putting up a fight. Oh boy! What a game last Saturday! What a surprise the Dragons got and did the Maroon and Blacks play football! Great wasn't it! But we did miss our new hand and hope they won't disappoint us again.

Perhaps the person who wrote the letter signed "Spectator" is using better judgment than most of us wish to admit. Some of the incidents surrounding the "Rat Pajama Party" were really humorous and I enjoyed many a hearty laugh. After all is said, however, we probably allowed our emotions to get the upper hand over our common sense. I understand that some of our uncivilized pranks have antagonized a few of our best friends among the town's citizens.

What's this we've been hearing about scandal. Well the other day I heard a fellow say it would be an excellent idea if some one would publish a scandal sheet in which would be printed only the "low down" on these individuals who always deluged in seeing other people scandalized. Maybe the fellow wasn't far wrong. I suppose he had in mind the passage of scripture which reads, "Judge not lest ye shall be judged," or words to that effect.

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students
 Offers Complete Line of Conklin and Wahl Pens and Pencils. Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery, and School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

GR-Mercery
 8-3840

NEW 700 ROOM CLUB HOTEL
 Transient Rates $1.50 per day up, with bath $2 up

Club life, restaurant, free swimming pool, gym, library, spacious lounges, pool garden, separate floors for men and women. Six minutes from Penn or Grand Central Stations.

GEORGE TURKEL, Manager
$8 to $14 Weekly
KENMORE HALL
 145 East 23rd St. N. Y. CITY

Just East of Lexington Avenue

PURLOINED PHRASES

He: "Look here, you're cheating."
 She: "I'm not. I had that all long before the game started."
 —The "Log" of the U. S. Naval Academy.

In Chapel Hill, N. C., teachers are being urged to abstain from dancing, smoking, drinking or card playing. They will also be selected with respect to age, as to whether or not they are married, and as to whether or not they attend church regularly.
 —McGill Daily.

In connection with this, I see in the Rollins College "Sandspur" that the Jackson County, Florida, School Board has threatened to censure any teacher who attends a dance.

Wife: "Oh, I am so sleepy! I've everything shut up for the night!"
 Husband: "That depends on you. Everything else is."
 —"The Log."

From the University of Michigan come news of a feminine style rule on that campus. Gloves and hats are always worn to classes. The code which breaks this unwritten law is socially scorned by her more conventional sisters.

He: "I once had a girl and she made a fool out of me."
 She: "What a lasting impression some people make."
 —"The Log."

At the Masters State College will be instituted a "Marriage Club" at which the married students will get together to discuss the virtues and faults of their mates.

"Certain Freshmen girls remind me of the Pied Piper of Hamelin because all the 'Rats' run after them."

Greek Letter Notes

KAPPA GAMMA NEWS

Among the new ventures to the "hall" have been many Kappa Gamma Alumnae: the Misses Bernice Wooters, Elizabeth Mace, Louisa Bowen, Louise Crouse, Edith Rice, Dorothy Simmons, Elizabeth Brice, and Helen Norris.

A check and pictures have been acquired for the Sorority room.

TOLD TO ME

By I. ONLY HEARD

There seems to be a lot of chatter about the incoming Sororities' Ball which is being given on the 18th at the home of our fair co-ed. Many of the "S. Y. T. R." think that forty smackers in teacup buckles to plant down for an orchestra. Maybe the ones who are objecting were a little too slow in getting their particular choices in the "call-em-up-and-drag-em-affair."

Now that even Fraternity rush season is only a month or so away, the first undercove men are working hard to smooth things over for the "big push." It is even reported that some of the men have moved their trucks into "Rat Hall" until after the battle, however. How and is the disillusionment of praised, pampered and petted freshmen a few days after Pledge Day!

Although the entire personnel of the world of medical science will disagree with us, we have a theory that appendicitis may be contagious. We present only the facts; draw your own conclusions. Betty went to the first formal wrestling match with Billy and he went down with appendicitis shortly after the pause that refreshes. Jack, substituting for Billy at better half, fell a victim of the same bad luck after the last seven bouts, and joined the order of "minus appendices." But, we're just as much in the dark as you are when we hear that, after nursing the telephone with Jack for one hour and a quarter, Jane ups and downs with an also wayward appendix. By and by there will be enough ambulances to go around.

According to all reports, Monday night's Halloween Dance might better have been named the "Bunny Hop" from the number of ripe eggs that were laid in the street.

Speaking of Halloween, we hear the field Elm contained a number of dark secrets on Monday night. Where was Moses when the lights went out? In the dark, lighting candles, of course.

Did you know that the truck ran out of gas when Dottie and Dorman tried to make 10:30 in the hop-rider route the boys had a surprise party for Bill Nick the other night. The success of the idea was going to sell hot dogs and hamburgers. "Doc" Sterling struck a swell idea when he decided to furnish us line-ups at our home games the lights if the boys are shining eyes. Frank Mac's "Nemadec Poetry" class used: "Isn't It Romantic" as a theme song—Henry Gill proposes to hold a strictly collegiate dance at his armory every two weeks if Red Hall girls will be allowed to go, and that it seems to be an excellent substitute for the fast-fading frolics and that there is a movement on foot to nominate him for president???

Toulson's Pharmacy

Cordially invites the student to enjoy the privileges of a well-stocked drug store.

Parker Pens our speciality.

Susquehanna Wins Close Game 6 To 0

Gamber, Ward, Play Best For Locals

Scoring the only touchdown of the game in the opening minutes, Susquehanna University defeated Washington College in the latter's first home game of the season on Saturday, Oct. 22.

The game was a closely contested affair throughout, with Susquehanna continually keeping the Shoremen deep in their own territory. The defense playing of Coach Ekastis' players was outstanding and their ability in preventing Susquehanna from scoring any more touchdowns was the result of having been inspired with the determination to win if at all possible.

Blizard kicked off well for Washington and it was necessary for Susquehanna to kick out of danger. In possession of the ball the Maroon and Black of Washington fumbled and lost the ball on their first play as a result of a bad pass from center. By a series of short line plunges, Susquehanna brought the ball to Washington's 5 yard line from which Sasasman, visiting left halfback went for a touchdown. His try for extra point failed.

In the second quarter a series of runs for good gains threatened Washington's goal again, but Susquehanna could not advance beyond the 11 yard line.

Three or four times in the second half the Shoremen were driven within their own 5 yard line but continued to play excellent football at these crucial moments. Fritz Reinhold punted from behind his own goal line on one or two occasions, and this great punter thus prevented a higher score. Neither team made ground by the use of forward passes, and Washington gained by a succession of kick exchanges as the game neared its end.

Higglston at left end, Gamber at right end, and Reinhold in the backfield played exceptionally well for Washington, represented by eleven fighting men throughout the contest. The lineup:

WE KNOW What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style centers.

You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.

Our clothes will meet every thing you demand of them.

BORDLEY & SON

Shop At The
B. & L. 5c to $1.00
VARIETY STORE
321 High St.
For Your Wants

—Advertise in The Elm.

BARNETT'S
BARBER SHOP
Over Sterling's Drug Store
First Class Service and
Expert Workmen

DREXEL WINS HARD GAME BY 28 TO 13 SCORE

By holding them on even terms for almost the entire game last Saturday, Washington College upset the predictions of Drexel, which came to Chestertown with the idea of using the Maroon and Black as a breather in their schedule before their major game with Ursinus. The final score 28 to 13 in favor of Drexel does not tell the story of the hard fought contest which took place. It was only in the final quarter, when the heavier weight of the Dragons actually forced the ball over the goal line twice, that they appeared to have an edge on the Shoremen.

The first touchdown was scored by Drexel when Potter broke loose for a short run. Immediately following this Baker, a Washington end, intercepted a lateral pass to gallop thirty yards for a touchdown. Reinhold proceeded to kick the extra point. The half ended 13 to 0 with the Philadelphiaans on the long end of the score. In the third quarter the boys from the Shore carried the ball to Drexel's eight yard line from which Nickelson bucked his way through to a touchdown.

Eyes examined and
glasses fitted by a graduate
Optician. Fountain
Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films
and Developing.

J. S. KREEGER
Jeweler & Optometrist
Chestertown, Md.

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149
C. W. Kibler & Sons
Chestertown, Maryland

Del-Mar-Va Restaurant
For
After Dinner Lunches
And Regular Meals

THE REXAL STORE
EASTMAN KODAKS
FILMS
DEVELOPING
AND
PRINTING
BY EXPERTS
DRUGS
AND
SUNDRIES
Of All Kinds
A. L. STERLING

Compliments of
H. D. OREM & SON

Football

By George L. Ekastis

The final state rival is to be met this Saturday. With an average of nothing at all to boast about against three State rivals thus far, the entire team and staff are pointing to this game and an opportunity to credit one winning effort in the state. Mr. "M. Mary's started the current season boasting one of the finest squads to represent that institution. The squad failed to live up to its early promise, but has been getting stronger as the season rolled on. Each succeeding game finding them giving a better account of themselves. The coaching staff has been bothered no little by this accumulation of power and the knowledge that the Mountaineers are difficult to defeat on their home field.

Work this week has been devoted to the ironing out of mistakes apparent in the two home games. The general play in these games was good, but there are a lot of fundamental faults that have to be taken care of before the team can hope to win football games.

Pass defense and offense has been given a great deal of time too. The Mount having two very good passers and receivers in Lynch and Hopkins.

The loss of Ralph Harries will be a serious handicap. His general play at center has been very good all year and his steadiness will be missed. MacDonald will probably start in his place. The rest of the squad has suffered no major hurts and shall be in good shape to start the game Saturday.

The starting team will probably be the same as the one that started against Drexel with MacDonald replacing Harries and with Gamber and Baker at the ends.

—Advertise in The Elm.

DEAR MISS CO. ED:

Welcome home! We are glad to hear that you are back in town.

In keeping with the times, we have tempered our prices, but we still luxuriously indulge in as many crisp, fresh linen towels as we believe essential to the facial. We still continue extravagantly (perhaps?) using the best water in the world, and we haven't the heart to cut our permanent waving preparations, either.

So, you see, we are offering you our best at the best prices. What can be more fair.

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE

306 Park Row Phone No. 334

The Emerson Hotel Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled
Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT
(Formerly Candy Kitchen)
For Food of the Best Quality at Popular Prices. Home Cooking, Prompt Service. Sandwiches of all kinds, Candies, Sodas, Fatty Sundae's, Home Made Pies and all kinds of Soft Drinks at the Fountain.
Try Our 50c Dinner
Guarantee Satisfaction
Visit The
CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT
(Open 6 A. M. to 12 midnight)

NORTH-SOUTH GAME TO BE HELD IN BALTO.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 4.—The city of Baltimore, through Mayor Howard W. Jackson, will toss its hat in the football ring on December 10th, when it will stage a North-South All-Star football game at its huge municipal stadium seating more than 80,000 persons.

The North team will be recruited and coached by Jack Sutherland, of the University of Pittsburgh, whose Panthers recently electrified the football world by a brilliant victory over Notre Dame, while the Southerners will have Dick Harlow, great coach of the Western Maryland eleven, as mentor.

From the North it is expected that such colleges and universities as Pittsburgh, Colgate, Cornell, Columbia, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Fordham and a host of others will be recruited for outstanding players, and the pick of graders from the smaller institutions will also be on the eligible list. The South has colleges like Alabama, V. P. I., Georgia, Tennessee, Western Maryland, Tulane and many others on which to draw.

Compliments

of

Chestertown

Electric Light and Power

Company

Lacrosse Schedule Partly Filled Out

Locals Meet Lehigh On Kibler Field

The 1933 Washington College lacrosse schedule has not been completed yet but graduate manager, athletics, Frederick W. Dinwiddie, has already listed six stick engagements for George Ekastis' lacrosse. All of these six teams have appeared on the local schedule before.

The Maroon and Black were scheduled to meet four State teams in 1933. Three of these contests, the ones with Hopkins, U. of Md. and St. Johns, will be games in which the Shoremen will be conceded small chance of a victory. However, the game with Western Maryland will be a tussle toward which Coach Ekastis will probably point his fingers. Last year the Terror stickmen "laid for" their former team mate and defeated his former band of lacrosse men from the Eastern Shore by a 3 to 0 score. The former Western Maryland star will not be satisfied until that count is evened.

The other two games listed so far are with Lehigh and Virginia. In the only contests ever played with these institutions Washington each time emerged the victor, defeating Lehigh 3 to 1, last year, and Virginia 3 to 1 in 1931.

If a couple of other engagements with out of state twelvees are booked, the locals will have a satisfactory schedule despite the fact that they face very tough opposition in at least three of their games.

The games scheduled up to date are as follows:

- April 2—St. Johns at Annapolis.
- April 8—Hopkins at Baltimore.
- April 23—Western Maryland at Westminster.
- May 6—U. of Virginia at Charlottesville.
- May 13—U. of Maryland at College Park.
- May 20—Lehigh at home.
- *This game may be played May 27th.

STUDENTS

We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.

Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Lanthier Line from Paris.
Abbott's DeLuxe Ice Cream.

Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

A. L. SPARKS

Specials in
Ladies' Hosiery
Newest Colors and Weights

Compliments of
MARSHALL
Cleaners, Dyers, and
Repairers
Easton, Maryland

Open Forum

BEWARE students of Washington College that you do not hurt yourself and your college by being "College late" as it were.

REMEMBER that Washington College is only an organization IN Chestertown and it IS not Chestertown.

For the betterment of Washington College in the future you as present day students must act so as not to provoke the wrath of "Public Opinion," not of the nation, POSITIVELY NO, not even the State but of the town in which Washington College must live, long after you are gone. You surely would rather have a co-operation town rather than a town which looks down with distance upon the action of HER GREATEST INTELLECTUAL body.

Use "DISCRETION," that is the word for the topic.

Yours for bigger and better "Discretion."

The "Spectator."

Compliments of H. F. Jefferson

The

Third National Bank
Chestertown, Md.

The Only
National Bank
In Kent County

Clements & Clements,
Inc.
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING

"Keep your clothes fit"
Prompt Service
Phone 437
Dover, Delaware

The Dalany-Vernay Co.
337-339-341 North
Charles Street
Baltimore's Largest

Art China, Leather Goods,
Toys, Books, Athletic
Equipment

PENNINGTON
CONSTRUCTION CO.
Contractors and Builders
Chestertown, Md.
Phone 88W and 305

MRS. HARRY WHITE
Washing
Cannon St. near Bowling Alley

SMITH'S
KUT-RATE
DRUG STORE
Chestertown, Maryland
Owen C. Smith, Prop.
Phone 189

The Best Of EVERYTHING Needed FOR BUILDING

E. S. Adkins & Co.
Chestertown, Centreville
Easton, Salisbury

McCALLISTERS
Est. 1894
Baltimore's Oldest Smart Store
Outfitters to Washington
College
124 W. Baltimore St.
BALTIMORE, MD.

After A Studious Day
Relax at
JIM'S and HICK'S
Billiard Parlor

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store

Where Your Dollar

Has More Cents

HERB'S
QUICK LUNCH
Sandwiches of all Kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Voshell House

GILL BROS.
ICE CREAM
Dainties
Assorted Blocks

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing
103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

THE FALL OF TICONDEROGA

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by F. C. Yohn—inspired by that horror-filled dawn when the bloodthirsty savages fell on Ethan Allen's gallant "Green Mountain Boys" of Fort Ticonderoga fame. "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes.

No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies

Copyright, 1932,
The American
Tobacco Co.

The Friendly College

An Editorial

Some years ago "The Friendly College" was a slogan frequently used in connection with our own school. At that slogan was adopted by the Washington student body and turned loose with all its vigor for the week end of November 20th, when University of Delaware students and alumni visited our campus in connection with the renewal of gridiron relationships between the two institutions.

We have extended an invitation to the Delaware groups to be our guests on the coming occasion and by so doing have done much to heal the breach that occurred long before the present student bodies, at either institution, initiated. Failure to back up this invitation with the spirit in which it was extended, and accepted, would result in a wasted effort.

It is not our intention to call upon the Washington students to be gentlemen and good sports. These they already are. We are urging, however, that all connected with Washington College display a spirit of friendliness on November 26. In the intensified rivalry that is bound to exist we do not want to forget that our friends from Delaware are our guests.

The following lines should characterize our attitude:

"Hall Guest. We ask not what thou art
If Friend—we greet thee
Hand and Heart
If Stranger—such no longer be
If Foe—Our Love shall conquer

And we should greet our own alumni with the same spirit. They are, in a manner, visitors and guests. Although they knew these halls long before we did we are the present tenants and therefore the hosts. Let's give them a rousing welcome.

We know, too, that we are expressing the feelings of our coaches, Eklund and Kibler, when we say that the Washington eleven is expected to play hard and aggressive football but at the same time play fairly and with a minimum of foul play, without which the playing game goes naught.

Let's Washington truly be "The Friendly College."

Heavy Rain Makes Poor Playing Conditions Today

A heavy rain that began last night at about 8 o'clock and continued all night will make strained playing conditions for the Washington-St. Joseph's football game.

When the ELM went to press this morning, Kibler field was a muddy patch of ground with water standing three inches deep in places on it and the side of a lettuce from the heavens was visible. This condition of the field will probably work advantages for the visitors, who outwaded the locals. The wet condition of the ball and field will also greatly hamper the forward passing, where Washington was conceded to have an edge.

However, while it is generally conceded that the weather will be favorable to St. Joseph's, Washington coaches can not help recalling the Maryland game of two years ago when the little men of Eklund slopping about in the mud of Byrd Stadium played one of the finest teams ever to represent the Old Liners to a standstill.

The Washington Evening Star

VOL. XXXII. NO. 5.

SATURDAY, NOV. 19, 1932

PRICE TEN CENTS

ST. JOSEPH'S HERE TODAY

Home Coming To Be Held Nov. 26

Delaware Grid Team Here

Washington College is planning to make Nov. 26 a big day in the athletic history of the college. That day will mark the renewal of gridiron relationships between the Maroon and Black and the University of Delaware.

The awarding of the Daniel O. Hastings trophy to the winning team and the fact that this day will be "home-coming" for Washington alumni is expected to make the affair even more colorful.

The athletic authorities are making preparations to accommodate one of the largest crowds ever to attend a pigskin game played on Kibler field. Temporary stands are now being erected on the west side of the field, opposite the main body of stands, to help provide seats for the expected crowds.

For several weeks the students and alumni have been planning for the event. On Tuesday, Nov. 15th, Hubert Ryan, president of the Student Council, and Joe Dickerson, football captain and President of the Senior Class, travelled up to Newark, Del., to extend an invitation to the Delaware Undergraduates to be present. Similar invitations have been extended to Delaware alumni and faculty members. Fred Daumchmidt, graduate manager of athletics at Washington College, made a special admission rate to the Delaware students who are expected to attend the game, accompanied by their band and cheer leaders.

Under the direction of Harry S. Russell, of THE ENTERPRISE, plans have been formed to organize an alumni "W" club. This club will consist of all men who earned a major athletic letter while attending Washington College. A luncheon given at 12:30 P. M. for the alumni will be another feature of the day.

The day's festivities will be climaxed in the evening by a dance at which the Delaware groups will be the guests of the Washington students and alumni.

The football game will start promptly at 2:30 P. M. and will be preceded by "grid" hockey game held in the rear part of the campus. Between the halves of the game, the freshmen will put on a mock grid game and other humorous stunts.

Dr. Howell Goes To Brother-in-law's Funeral

Dr. William R. Howell, head of the Department of Economics at Washington College has been absent from the college during the majority of the past week due to the death of his wife's brother.

Dr. Howell accompanied Mrs. Howell to New York and went from there to Illinois, where the funeral services were held.

Vickers Orchestra Sought

Harry Hark, chairman of the committee appointed to secure an orchestra for the Home-Coming announced that he was trying to secure Vic Vickers orchestra for the event.

DIRECTS ORCHESTRA

Dr. H. C. Livingston
Dr. Fred G. Livingston will direct a musical program to be given by the Washington College symphony orchestra tomorrow afternoon in the auditorium of William Smith Hall. The program will be under the student direction of Fred Ullston.

Honored By Teachers

Prof. David McKennan, principal of the Alfred I. Du Pont School was recently elected director of the primary division of the Delaware State Teachers' Association. Mr. McKennan is the son of Mrs. Amy McKennan, of Chestertown and graduated from Washington College in 1924. He also attended Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland.

APPENDICITIS CASES RECOVER AND RETURN

Two of the three Washington College students who were stricken with appendicitis have returned to the college and are resuming their studies. John C. Knellhoff and William McAlpine Richards are the two convalescents who have returned to their old stamping grounds. Miss Jane Youse who was also stricken is understood to have undergone a successful operation and is expected back at school in a short time.

Both Knellhoff and Richards are members of the Phi Sigma Phi fraternity. Richards being president of the fraternity.

St. Joseph's "Buried" At Pep Meeting

Last night at the regular weekly pep meeting the occurrence of "Big Alby" came forward with a time honored procedure for urging on the grid team. They enacted, solemnly, the burial of a dummy representing the football team of St. Joseph's College. A suitable ritual was read by "Father" Wes Sinder as parts of his coffin were added. Nails were added to represent the touchdowns made by Washington and an extra up was given for each of the fine place kicks made by Reinhold. This was the first time that such an act has been put on this year, and it was received well by the assembled students who seemed to take a rather unholty delight in the unhappy end of their "fallen foe."

MUSICAL PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN SUNDAY, NOV. 20

At three o'clock on Sunday afternoon, November 20th, the Washington College musical associations will present the first of a series of musical programs to be given during the college year of 1932-1933. All of the programs will be scheduled for the auditorium of William Smith Hall.

The first program will be a concert by the college orchestra of sixteen members under the direction of Dr. Frederick G. Livingston, faculty director of the orchestra, and Fred G. Ullston, student leader. The orchestra will be assisted in this program by Mr. Raymond Moffett, director of the college glee club. Mr. Moffett will sing two groups of songs.

The public is cordially invited to the 1932-1933 series of programs and to the other college exercises.

- The program for Sunday follows:
1. (a) "No. 1 Prelude" Chopin
(b) "No. 8 Prelude" Chopin
2. (a) "Goodbye" Tost
(b) "Gloria" Creighton
3. (a) "O Censate di Figarini" Scarlatti
(b) "Caro Mio Ben" Giordani
(c) "Il Lacrante Sordani" Verdi
(d) "Simon Boccanegra" Verdi
4. Overture, "Zion" Zarnack
5. "The Lost Chord" Sullivan
6. (a) "Hear Me Ye Winds and Waves" Wolfe
(b) "The Glory Road" Hoff
7. (a) Overture, "King Rose" Barsad
(b) "Funiculi-Funiculi" Denza
Orchestra
Miss Louise Russell, Accompanist

Rogers At New Lyceum

Will Rogers plays the leading role in "Down To Earth," will be shown at the New Lyceum Theatre, November 23-24.

The story is the recital of a business man's efforts to balance his dwindling income against the whimsical ambitions and extravagance.

Rushing Regulations Made By Fraternities

The regulations for the 1932 freshmen rushing period were set recently at a meeting of the fraternity committee called by Dr. J. S. W. Jones.

Each Fraternity will be limited to one rush rush function to be held during the last three weeks before the Christmas vacation begins. In the casting for lots, the Phi Sigma Phi, drew the first date. The Alpha Kappa will hold its function second, while the Phi Sigma Tau drew the last week before the holidays for the time of its rush function.

The "Silence Period" will begin at 12:00 P. M. on the Sunday before Christmas holidays and extend until 5:00 P. M. on Monday. During this time no fraternity mass will be permitted to speak to any freshman. The same rules will apply to upper class students spending their first year at Washington, as applies to freshmen.

Reinhold Will Punt Today

Close Game Is Looked For

Disappointed by the one-point defeat last week at the hands of Haverford, Washington College today faces St. Joseph's College, of Philadelphia, on Washington Field. All indications point to a victory, and the squad has been working out hard all week, polishing up on weaknesses.

St. Joseph's defeated Washington last year by a score of 28 to 0, at Philadelphia to score their only victory of the 1931 season. This year they have been unsuccessful as far as winning games, but boast a hard-fighting team, and can be expected to give the Maroon and Black a real battle. However, basing the year on their merits, Washington seems to have the edge. Last year the absence of four or five injured regulars accounted for their defeat. This year, with the entire team intact, with a better stellar attack, and a better all-around team though unfortunate in several games, the locals have proven themselves plenty tough.

At Dobkins will be calling signals for the Maroon and Black. Backfield mates will be Charley Berry, Fritz Reinhold and Fred Ullston or Bill Nicholson. This combination played last week but lost and is expected to go places against St. Joseph's. On the line Harries or McDonald will be play center, Captain Dickerson and Carey or Lord will fill in at guards. Blizard and Ward at tackles, and Dick Gamby and Mike Higginson will cavort at the wings. These latter two played long-up games last week and little gain will be made around their end-posts this afternoon.

Fritz Reinhold will handle the kicking assignments, and so the Shoremen can expect an advantage along that line. Playing before a home crowd, sure from defeat last week and hoping to avert a disastrous season, the Maroon and Black will be on their toes today for their second victory of the current season. Watch for a close game.

The probable line-ups for the game are:

Washington	St. Joseph's
(5) Gamby	LE Kane (3)
(17) Ward	LT Oreska (23)
(13) Carey	LG McNeil (24)
(23) Macdonald	C Barnes (22)
(18) Dickerson	RG A Tomson (34)
(16) Blizard	RT Gettin (37)
(20) Higginson	RE Sullinger (27)
(8) Dobkins	QB Zubler (25)
(11) Berry	HB Morris (26)
(8) Reinhold	HB McGovaly (16)
(25) Nicholson	FB Becker (77)

Dr. J. S. William Jones Announces Reservations

Dr. J. S. W. Jones, secretary and treasurer of the Alumni Association announced this morning that reservations for the Alumni luncheon to be held Nov. 26 were coming in daily. The dean stated that one alumnus had written asking that his reservations be made for his party.

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

EDITOR PHILLIP J. WINGATE
 Assistant Editor Charles B. Clark
 Literary Editor Roland C. Ready
 Society Editor W. McA. Richards
 Exchange Editor Roland E. Leekbusch

REPORTERS

Feature Reporter William Baker
 Albert E. Deinking, Albert Ciraitis, Janet Atwater, P. Skipp, James Kreeger, Morris Campbell, Carroll W. Casteel,
 Richard Gamber

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

Charles Clark, DeWitt Clarke, William Baker

SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES

Alexina Robinson, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager John McLain
 Circulation Manager Patterson Beasman
 Chief Staff Photographer Emory Burkhardt
 Advertising Manager Louis Goldstein

ASSISTANTS

Walter F. Dorman

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.
 Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, NOV. 19, 1932

A THOUGHT

Washington College, it seems to us, is located very favorably as far as a chance for expansion is concerned. It is the only college on the Eastern Shore of Maryland and if the college were to draw the per cent of students that it should naturally be expected to draw from this section, the enrollment would easily be tripled.

This institution has shown its worthiness by over one hundred and fifty years of existence. The only college named after George Washington by his expressed consent has seen its star sink very low on occasions but right now it is resting at about the highest spot it ever knew. The progress made by this college under the leadership of Dr. Paul E. Titusworth has been tremendous and this advancement according to our way of thinking, has placed Washington in a unique position for far greater development. It has made the people of the Eastern Shore cognizant of the fact that the Shore's only college is offering an education to their sons and daughters that compares favorably with the training they could receive at other colleges.

It also seems to us that the Eastern Shore of Maryland should be an ardent supporter of Washington College. It is this same Eastern Shore that has often been accused of being plebeian and uncultured by other sections of Maryland. Yet the Eastern Shore boasts the oldest seat of culture in the entire State of Maryland. Washington College was an exponent of higher learning among other universities and colleges in the state were as yet unthought of. Surely this college with its long record of service and benefit to the section where it is located deserves the energetic support of every Eastern Shoreman.

All of which brings us to the following point. In order to realize this development which the college has earned the right to expect, it is necessary that the material effects of the institution be increased. If Washington College is to minister to the needs of and represent this section of Maryland as it should, it must be given means and it has been receiving. Washington must be given means for the building of dormitories and halls that would enable it to accommodate many more students than it can at present. It must not be forced to continue to restrict its enrollment.

It is not unreasonable to expect a great deal of this aid to come from the state—in view of the sums now being appropriated for education and in view of the service that the expending of the necessary money would enable Washington College to render to an important section of Maryland.

Eastern Shoremen who realize the attitude (often given public expression) that they are culturally and intellectually behind the rest of the state should be firm supporters of Washington College. It is one of the best arguments they can offer in refutation of the above statement.

THANKSGIVING

It seems a pity that the college authorities have decided to give only one day vacation for all future Thanksgiving holidays. We maintain that this is not enough time off from college work to enable the average student to express his gratitude to the powers that make things as they are.

The faculty undoubtedly has a preverted idea of the amount of thanksgiving that students here would like to indulge in. If they think we can do this, we can do that much time to write a two page history paper. Well maybe it isn't twenty-four long.

SLIPPERY ELM

By ROLAND C. READY

Some few students do visit the library during the evening hours for the purpose of working. The great majority, however, seem to consider the library a club room or a general get-together meeting place.

During the past few weeks I have observed many frowning countenances and heard quite a few mutinings of discontent on the part of the more diligent students who were trying to study. A few have expressed the desire to see the system of eye gone days put into effect which would, of course, bar the fair sex from entering library privilege. Although both sexes converse in loud voices, the giggling girl seem to be the greater source of disturbance.

A little thoughtful on our part can remedy existing troubles and remove the current causes of complaint.

We all have a philosophy of life. The following sketch was given to me by a traveling salesman in whose philosophy I think we can find some humor and an element of truth.

THE LONG, LONG TRAIL

Man is of few days and full of trouble. He laboreth all the days of his youth to pay for gasoline chains, and when at last the task is finished, lo, the thing is junk and he needeth another.

He planteth cotton in the earth and glean it diligently, he and his servants, and his asses, and when the harvest is gathered into the barn, he sweeth the landeth $8.40 more than the crop is worth.

He borroweth money of the lenders to buy pork and molasses, gasoline and to pay the interest eat up all that he hath.

He begeth sons and daughters and educateth them to smoke cigarettes, and wear white collars, silk underwear and hose, and lo, they have soft hands and neither hair in the heels nor anywhere under the sun. The children of his loins are enervous and one of them becometh a lawyer and another stockish up a filling station and a third a shoepeg with the suitcase thereof. The wife of his bosom stocketh with a stranger and when he rebuketh her, lo, she stocketh him in the finale.

He goeth forth in the morning on the road that leadeth to the city and a jibber smiteth him so that his rightjibbereth through his epidemics. He dickereth a drink of whoopee juice to forget his sorrows and it burneth out his loins from his liver.

All the days of his life he findeth no parking place, and is tormented by traffic cops from his going forth until his coming back.

An enemy stealeth his car, physicians unravel his inner parts and a dentist his teeth, also his bank roll. His daughters showeth their legs to strangers, his arteries harden in the evening of his life, and his beast sauteh trying to keep the Fourth of July.

Sorrow and bill collectors followeth him all the days of his life, and when he is gathered unto his Father, the neighbors sayeth: "How much did he leave?" Lo, he hath left it all.

And his widow jeereth in a new coupe and she catcheth the young buck that stocketh his hair and playeth a nifty game of poker.

Woe is man. And from the time of his birth to the time when the earth swallow him no more, he laboreth for nothing and catcheth the dead end. So he was in the beginning, and now his name is mud.

PURLOINED PHRASES

She: "You remind me of the ocean."

He: "Wild, romantic and restless, huh?"

She: "Now, you only make me sick."

—"The Log."

Co-eds are allowed to stay out until 2:15 every night of the year at the University of California, except on "Big Game" night, when there are no rules.

"Acacia has the most exaggerated idea of her abilities."

"Why?"

"Her mother wrote me that she had double pneumonia and was in bed with three doctors."

—Rice Owl.

—And then there was the abominable Professor who fell into the lake, forgot he could swim—and drowned.

—"The Log."

Discovering that there were only $250 in the class treasury at DePaul University, the treasurer wrote to Ted Wozens, asking him how many pieces he could send down to the freshman dance for that price. He replied that he would send three sheets of music and a piccolo playing for that price.

—Drexel Triangle.

Senior: "Would you rather an elephant killed you, or a Gorilla?"

Freshman: "A Gorilla."

—"The Log."

Wellesley girls have decided not to speak to one another when meeting on the campus. They say "that by ignoring the some persons several times a day is tiring."

Sad Sam arises to remark: "A girl may have a good line and still not be a football coach."

—The Fasquino.

The Institute of Family Relations points out that the college campus is rapidly replacing the church societies as a place for mating ground. It has found that while one of every six marriages end in divorce, only one in seventy-five sown in college crush.

Prof.: "How near were you to the answer?"

Freshman: "Only two seats away."

—"The Log."

Greek Letter Notes

PHI SIGMA TAU

At a recent meeting, Milton Noble, Michael Wallace, Boyd Hopkins and Roland Ready were taken in as active members. Others, pledged recently are Emory Burkhardt and John Smithson.

The Fraternity is working on plans for a memorial tablet in memory of J. Fred L. Fox.

A new radio and some furniture were recently been purchased by the Tau.

SIGMA TAU DELTA

The Sigma Tau Delta Sorority room has been recently made quite attractive and comfortable by the addition of a Queen Anne davenport and chair.

This year the sorority is celebrating its twenty-sixth anniversary. On Saturday, November 19th, an Alumni meeting will be held at which many of the older members are expected.

TOLD TO ME

By I. ONLY HEARD

Now that the elections are all over, and voting students have collected papers due to them for the election, it is returning home to vote, we find that campus comment have turned from the presidential candidates to the prospect of the legal sale of light wines and beer. It is generally aiming to imagine wine bottles and beer lugs taking the places now occupied by the coffee, tea and cocoa burners of the cafeteria. Students might then enjoy even eight o'clock classes and Thursday morning assemblies.

Speaking of the cafeteria, and a column of this sort is compelled to do so, we surprise ourselves by admitting that in our humble opinions and omitted stomachs, the meals to which we are exposed seem to have improved slightly over those of former years. However, we've heard much criticism against our beloved cafeteria and we wish to present three points in its defense:

1. Times are bad. In fact they are awful. Salaries are worse this year than they were last year. Everything is worse. Therefore the meals have a right to be worse.
2. "An army," someone said, "travels on its stomach." We don't see enough time or means to do any travelling, so therefore we don't need good meals.
3. Consistency is one of the secrets of success. No one can say the meals are not consistent.

Rumor has it that a certain senior has been seen secretly married. Wonder who it is?

According to downtown newsstands, the sale of "Brevities" has noticeably increased as a result of the interest it has aroused among the literary lights. Reid Hall. And possibly the lights are not so fair students are still trying to figure out who turned off the lights in their dormitory on Hollowell. You never call anything about Reid Hall and if you can, you'd better not.

During one of the noon-day meals, we noticed a freshman come in to get a second order of liver ahead of his turn, for which he was promptly called down by an upperclassman. We surely hope that he didn't want to get his liver out of order.

We've heard the library characterized by the titles of "court room" and "recording office." We don't know what to call it when we hear that Mary Jane wants it to attend to her "Pots and Pans."

Did you know that? When "Wardie" took over the helm, the "Helm" took over the steering. "Dick" has joined the "Fourteen Miles-A-Night Club." "Charles" has found a new attraction at Gill's the Dramatic Club has a swell play to put on before the Xmas holidays. Delaware may enjoy their visit here but they will care particularly for the football game. After getting stuck twice in two weeks, "Bud" has finally realized that concrete roads are less slick than the "dead end road new West" is looking for a ride to Florida over the Xmas holidays. The Dean's slips may be gotten from his secretary at any time. Our last assembly was a test of our intelligence. There is little or no spirit over the coming Freshman-Sophomore football game. The "Scotchmen" Ballroom needs the girls on the floor. It is opportunity to serve a poor program at a cotillion. Selecting a "Pair Orchard" at the home of "Elms" and "Cherry Trees" might prove interesting. No one knows why this you slice it, it's still bloody!!!!

Chapel Speakers Are Announced

Dr. Fred C. Livingston, chairman of the Assembly Committee, recently gave out the list of assembly speakers for the next six official assembly periods. Most of the speakers have addressed the Washington College student body before. The list of speakers with the dates of their appearances follows:

Dec. 1.—Hon. T. Ellis, Commissioner for the Blind, Stables Colony, Delaware.

Dec. 8.—John Schilling, Supervisor of Delaware High Schools.

Dec. 15.—Bishop Davenport, Diocese of Easton, Md.

Jan. 5.—Rabbi Morris Lazerson, of Baltimore City, Md.

Jan. 12.—Dr. E. Cordell Powers.

Jan. 19.—Dr. Oscar F. Blackwell, Jr.

ALUMNI NOTES

JASPER YEATES BRINTON, a descendant of William Smith, the first president of Washington College, has for some years been Justice of the Court Appeals, Mixed Courts of Egypt. It is said that the Mixed Court, to the maintenance of which fifteen nations have contributed during the past fifty years, is the most successful international experiment, outside of the Roman Church, in all history. Judge Brinton has taken advantage of his connection with the Courts to make a study of the origin, the development, and the working of the entire system, and has embodied the results of his comprehensive survey in a volume of several hundred pages. Washington College conferred an honorary degree on Dr. Brinton in 1915.

FRANKLIN K. COOPER, '30, has resumed his law studies at the University of Maryland. He is a member of the Senior Class and expects to meet the requirements for the LL. B. degree this year.

MISS GRACE LILLIAN STRICKLAND, '27, is Librarian of the High School, Belleville, N. J.

WENDELL D. ALLEN, '13, a member of the law firm of Armstrong, Machen & Allen, is chairman of the Republican Committee, of Baltimore City. When Alexander Armstrong was Attorney-General of Maryland, Allen was an assistant in the office. The Baltimore Sun says: "The new chairman practices law, plays politics, smokes cigars, leans to known nuts and cultivates an extensive flower garden. The garden and politics run neck and neck in furnishing him the most amusement."

MISS MARIE G. HALES, '30, has accepted a position with the National Drug Co., in their Bio-Chemical and Research Laboratory in Philadelphia.

JULIO DEL TORO, '13, Assistant Professor of Romance Languages of the University of Michigan, was elected last year Corresponding Member of the History of Cuba. Only four other American professors have been so honored by the Academy. Professor del Toro is also Vice-President of the National Federation of Modern Language Teachers, Middle West and South.

HARRY PRINGLE FORD, '70, whose love for his college increases with the years, was a most welcome visitor on the Hill a few Sundays ago. The Alumni Association acknowledges with thanks Ford's donation of a pamphlet, published by the Government in 1865, which contains in full the last will and testament of George Washington.

J. PURNELL JOHNSON, '10, accompanied by his wife and daughter, motored last Saturday from his home at Glen Burnie, Md., to Cherttown to see the football game between Washington and Drexel.

MRS. MARY CLOUGH CAIN, '10, while in Paris during the early days of September happened to be in a section of the city at the time a communist convention was being held. Traffic was congested to such an extent by thousands unable to gain admission to the Convention Hall, already packed and jammed with a crowd of 7500, that hundreds of policemen were necessary to check the mob spirit. Mrs. Cain learned later through the Paris edition of the New York Herald that an American by the name of Unna, a grandson of Longfellow and of the Dims, who wrote "Two Years Before the Mast," was the principal speaker at the convention.

MISS ELIZABETH BAKER COVEY, '27, after teaching Mathematics in a New England Preparatory School for three years, returned to Columbia University at the opening of the present session to continue graduate work. She received her Master's degree three years ago.

Fire Sweeps Girls' Dormitory At Alfred University

Fire swept a five-story dormitory for women at Alfred University Sunday afternoon, driving many of the 110 girls who lived in the building out on the snow-covered campus.

Alfred University, at Alfred, N. Y., is the college of which Dr. Paul E. Titworth will become president next summer, he having formally accepted the call last week.

The fire broke out in the top floor at noon, while some of the women students were at church and others in their rooms. Burning fiercely, the fire spread through the entire building, but the girls were all accounted for.

Many ran out with personal belongings, which were strewn about the campus, but the advance of the flames kept them from returning for more. Sunday night they were being housed in private homes and tenacity houses, while university officials took up the problem of finding permanent homes for them. The dormitory was valued at $150,000, and its contents at $12,000.

Dr. Titworth said yesterday that a movement to replace the burned dormitory had already been started.

Modern Shoe Repairing
Store
PAUL SIPALA
Next to Sterling Drug

Shop At The
B. & L. 5c to $1.00
VARIETY STORE
321 High St.
For Your Wants

BARNETT'S
BARBER SHOP
Over Sterling's Drug Store
First Class Service and
Expert Workmen

McCALLISTERS
Est. 1894
Baltimore's Oldest Sport Store
Outfitters to Washington
College
124 W. Baltimore St.
BALTIMORE, MD.

—Advertise in The Elm.

Chesterfields are Milder —
Chesterfields Taste Better

You know how it is. If a cigarette is mild—that is, not harsh or bitter, but smokes cool and smooth—then you like it and don't worry about how many or how often you smoke.

And if it tastes right—that is, not over-sweet, not flat—then you enjoy it all the more.

The right kind of ripe, sweet Domestic and Turkish tobacco—the right ageing and blending—make Chesterfields milder, better-tasting... They Satisfy!

Haverford Noses Out Shoremen 7-6

Successful Kick For Extra Point Gives Slim Victory

In a game played at Haverford Saturday afternoon, November 12th, the Maroon clad warriors led by Dick Stevens were humbled by a weak Haverford team. The score 7 to 6 did not give the least hint as to the manner in which the "Frieze of the Eastern Shore" outplayed its opponent throughout the whole game.

Haverford scored first with only a minute remaining to play in the second quarter, when Pleasant, the outstanding tack of the day, went over for a touchdown from Washington's two yard line. Patten, Haverford's best drop kicker then came into the game and kicked the extra point. The half ended soon after the kick off.

In the second half a silent but determined Washington eleven gained enough ground to score three or four touchdowns. But still only six points were obtained. Berry threw a long pass to Higginson who after making a five catch made thirty yards to a touchdown. The try for extra point was len.

It now seemed that Washington could not be stopped. Time after time the ball was carried deep into Haverford territory. But then the breaks went against the Maroon warriors. Each march for a touchdown was ended by a fumble or a penalty.

In the closing minutes of Washington backs threw pass after pass, but very few were completed. The game ended with the ball on Washington's 30 yard line.

Haverford was the weakest team played by Washington this year. In Saturday's game Haverford scored its first touchdown of the year as well as its last victory.

For Washington MacDonald, Higginson and "Jehmie" Lord starred on the line while Ullston and Berry were outstanding in the backfield.

GILL BROS. ICE CREAM

Dainties
Assorted Blocks

A. L. SPARKS

Specials in
Ladies' Hose
Newest Colors and
Weights

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students
Offers Complete Line of Conklin and Wahl Pens and Pencils. Penknives, Pillboxes, Stickers, Stationery, and School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

DEAR MISS CO-ED:

Welcome home! We are glad to hear that you are back in town.

In keeping with the times, we have tempered our prices, but we still insist on indulging in as many crisp, fresh linen towels as we believe essential to the facial. We still continue extravagantly (perhaps?) using the best waving lotions and we haven't the heart to cut our permanent waving preparations, either.

So, you see, we are offering you our best at the best prices. What can be more fair.

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE
306 Park Row Phone No. 334

MT. ST. MARY'S FINISHES STRONG TO WIN 19 To 6

Washington College's foot ball team took another one in the clinch when Mt. St. Mary's up at Emmitsburg November 5 and bowed its head to the tune of a 19 to 6 score.

Throughout the first three quarters of the game, the men of Ekaltis played good football, outstriking and outplaying the Mounts in general. However in the last quarter the shamless willets, and the Jesuits came ahead strong to push across two touchdowns. The score at the half read 7 to 6 in favor of Mt. St. Mary's.

Washington scored its touchdown in the second quarter when Charlie Berry heaved a thirty-yard pass to Dick Johnson who then scampered unopposed across the goal line.

The outstanding man on the field was little "Fritz" Reinhold whose brilliantly accurate punting time after time made the spectators gasp. This mighty mile of Washington, repeatedly dodged about among the charging Mountaineers forwards to get off kicks that seemed certain to be blocked. This exhibit of punting was equaled only by Reinhold's masterpieces against Maryland this year and against Susquehanna this year.

Marxhom Wingate Wins Place In Cambridge Race

Henry Stevens, of Cambridge capped first place in a five mile race held at Cambridge, Md., in connection with the Armistice day celebration at that city. Stevens hit the tape 30 minutes and 25 seconds after the starter's gun set him in motion.

Woodrow Simmons and Marxhom Wingate, both of Wignac, Maryland finished second and third respectively. Their time was but a few seconds slower than that of Stevens.

The winner of this "baby" marathon received a silver cup, while the second and third place runners each received gold medals. The prizes were donated by the Cambridge Armistice Day Committee.

MRS. HARRY WHITE

Washing
Cannon St. next to Bowling Alley

HERB'S

QUICK LUNCH
Sandwiches of all kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Voshell House

Foot Ball

By George L. Ekaltis

St. Joseph's and Delaware. What a glorious thing a double victory would be. A victory over St. Joseph's would be ample revenge for last defeat in football and basketball. And a victory over Delaware, before a large, clamoring crowd would call a homecoming day that Washington College and Chestertown would long remember.

Coach George L. Ekaltis
Give the football squad a head; students; talk victory and think victory until those boys talk and think the same way.

This is the last of a regular series of articles written by Coach George L. Ekaltis for the "Elm." This column was instituted by the editor because of his desire to secure for the student body a man who could give some reliable information and write with considerable authority on the subject of football at Washington College.

F. J. W.

Toulson's Pharmacy

Cordially invites the student to enjoy the privileges of a well-stocked drug store.

Parker Pens our specialty.

Eyes examined and glasses fitted by a graduate Optician. Fountain Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films and Developing.

J. S. KREEGER

Jeweler & Optometrist
Chestertown, Md.

Compliments

o l

Chestertown
Electric Light and Power
Company

JUNIOR - FROSH HOCKEY TEAM WINS FIRST GAME

Although not much public mention has been made of the girls' athletic life so far this year. They have been progressing in the playing off of the inter-class hockey games. On Monday, November 14th the first of the three sister games for championship was played. The second will be played on Saturday, November 19, and the third on Monday, November 21st.

Helm, with her lightning drives and general good playing, was the star of the first contest which resulted in a 2 to 6 victory for the Junior Freshmen team. Insley ran her close race for honors with her tackles and scrimmage; this is Insley's first year on the field and she shows wonderful promise. Kroeger played her usual steady game, stealing the ball from the opponents and dribbling down the field at a fast pace.

The Junior-Freshman team showed a tougher back field and better formation when in action. The Senior-Sophomore team proved over-anxious when in a tight place. Thus, they lost chances for rushing the ball into the circle.

STUDENTS

We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.

Whitman's Candy.

Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Lather Line from Paris.

Abbott's DeLuxe Ice Cream.

Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

The Best Of EVERYTHING Needed

FOR BUILDING E. S. Adkins & Co.

Chestertown, Centreville
Easton, Salisbury

The Emerson Hotel

Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled

Rooms $3 up-Autos Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT (Formerly Candy Kitchen)

For food of the Best Quality at Popular Prices. Home Cooking, Prompt Service, Sandwiches of all kinds, Cakes, Sodas, Pop, Sundaes, Home Made Pies and all kinds of Soft Drinks at the Fountain.

Try Our 50c Dinner
Guarantee Satisfaction

Visit The
CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT
(Open 6 A. M. to 12 midnight)

Freshmen Prepare For Sophomores

Annual Game To Be Played Week After Thanksgiving

For the past several weeks the Freshmen and Sophomores have been practicing football in preparation for the game which is to be played soon after the Delaware game. Both classes have been afforded with coaches, Fred Ullston and John "Stag" Lord are directing the destinies of the Sophomore outfit while "Dobky" Dobbins and "Dick" Gamber are taking charge of the first year men.

Because of the extreme severity on the part of both teams it has been difficult to obtain very much information regarding the tentative lineup. However it has been inferred that "Pinky" McMorney will be the backfield mainstay of the Sophomore team with triple threat man, Duffy, (stumble, fumble and fall) as his assistant. It has been rumored that the tactics which the Freshmen intend to pursue is, to have "Bruiser" Kemper and "Pepper" Campbell batter down the opposition with their powerful smashing line backs.

The men who will form the nucleus of the Sophomore team are: McMorney, Chambers, De Socio, Cooper, Messall, Goldstein, Comella, Szyler, and Rhodes. The most promising looking players on the Freshman squad are: Nyak, Evans, Tigner, Skipp, Miller and Fink. Should some of the Freshmen who are on the football squad fail to make their letter the first year team's chances would be greatly enhanced.

During the next week the training of both teams will be tapered off in order to assure perfect physical condition for this annual spectacle. As yet not many bets have been placed due to the fact that Sophomore money seems to be unduly scarce.

Relax at

JIM'S and HICK'S
Billiard Parlor

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning - Pressing
Repairing
103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

Chance For Foreign Study Is Offered

Scholarships Given To French Schools

Announcement has recently been made by the Overseas Educational Institute of Hanover, N. H., of twenty-five full scholarships that it is offering to deserving students for study in France, Germany, and Switzerland.

A new development in modern educational organization is revealed in the program of the Institute, a school which, in addition to preparing for senior college and college entrance requirements, presents the opportunity of travel and association with European universities and the cultural advantages to be derived therefrom.

The Institute provides its entire year's program of travel and study abroad at a cost approximating an average year at a junior-senior school or college, and through the medium of an experienced faculty, offers a high standard of scholarship. The majority of the time abroad is spent between the study centers of Grenoble, France, and Bonn, Germany, and the remainder of the time in excursion and residence in other important centers.

A complete social program is sponsored by the Institute, as well as a recreational requirement. In addition, tennis, in the French Alps, is near one of the great winter sports resorts of Europe.

Further information pertaining to the Institute may be procured at the regional bureau of this school. Requests for information pertaining to the scholarships should be addressed to the Scholarship Department, Overseas Educational Institute, Hanover, N. H.

College Sing Is Held At Assembly

Raymond Moffet Directs Program

The students enjoyed a pleasant program of singing sponsored by Mr. R. Moffet, director of the Men's Glee Club, on November 10th at the weekly assembly.

Also at this time Mr. Ryan, President of the Student Council, presented Coach Khalits who spoke briefly on Home-Coming, which is to be celebrated on November 20th in connection with the Washington-Delaware game, and the part the undergraduates must play to make Home-Coming a success for the Washington Old Grads. Next Capt. Dickerson spoke of the need of true spirit and the backing of the entire student body and the necessity and desire of a victory over Delaware to crown the outstanding college event of 1932-33.

Mr. Moffet led the students in singing an arrangement of three modalities composed of Negro spirituals, hymns, and marches. Messrs. Mooney, Clarke Harris and Furman, who composed the quartet of the Glee Club offered three numbers which are very enthusiastically received by the student body. Mr. Charles Harris and Mr. Moffet rendered several solos accompanied at the piano by Miss Russell, teacher of music at Washington.

As the college orchestra conducted by Dr. Livingston, began to swing in the strains of "Armenia and Black Peruvia" the students rose to close the program with singing of the Alma Mater.

It is hoped that in the course of the remainder of the Thursday assemblies the students may again have the opportunity to participate in a similar student program, which is highly beneficial for student and collegiate life.

HIGH SCHOOL COACH

Oliver E. Robinson, '22, former four-letter man at Washington College, is teaching and coaching football at Chester High School. Chester, Pa. "Ollie" is reported to be enjoying success in his first season as grid mentor.

"AMERICAN COLLEGE VERSE" IS PUBLISHED

Publication of "American College Verse," an anthology of poetry by 167 students representing 72 colleges and universities, was announced today by Henry Harrison, publisher, of 27 East 7th Street, New York. The book is edited by Mr. Harrison, and illustrated by Charles Cullen.

Sheldon Christian of Tufts College was awarded first prize of twenty-five dollars for his poem, "The Paper Poet." J. Russell Lynes, Jr., of Yale University took the second prize of fifteen dollars for his contribution, "Parade," and Betty Law of Elmhurst College and Mary Six of Wellesley College split third prize of five dollars each for their respective poems, "Two Women," and "Song of Youth." The judges who selected the prize-winning poems were Benjamin Musser, William Griffith, Lucia Trent and Ralph Cheyne.

The Dulany-Vernoy Co.

337-339-341 North Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest

Art China, Leather Goods Toys, Books, Athletic Equipment

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store

Where Your Dollar

Has More Cents

NEW 700 ROOM CLUB HOTEL

GRanery 5-3860

Transient Rates $1.50 per day up, with bath $2 up

Club life, restaurant, free swimming pool, gym, library, spacious lounges, roof garden, separate floors for men and women. Six minutes from Penn or Grand Central Station.

GEORGE TURKEL Manager
$8 to $14 Weekly
KENMORE HALL
145 EAST 23rd ST. N. Y. CITY

Just East of Lexington Avenue

Literary Society Holds Meeting

Prof. Solandt, Skipp Byington Speak

The Mr. Vernon Literary Society held its regular weekly meeting Wednesday evening, Nov. 16, 1932, in the auditorium of William Smith Hall. A business meeting was held and new members were sworn in. Those being sworn in included Richard Chambers, W. Kight, P. Beaman and Allen Brougham. The society also voted favorable on the admission of Millard Kemper to the society.

The society was indeed fortunate to have at its guest Prof. Paul A. Solandt of the modern language department of the college. The subject of his talk was France. He told us some things about the history of France and classes of people. He pointed out many spots of interest in France, which was very interesting. As a conclusion to the address several numbers in French were sung by Skipp Byington. He also gave us a description of a French University and ended the program by singing another number in French.

The society held a meeting last Wednesday, Nov. 9, and presented an interesting program. It was a presentation of the "Shooting of Dan McGrew" put on in pantomime. The part of Dangerous Dan was portrayed by Bill Wright. Other characters included, the miser, N. C. Duffy; the girl known as Lou, Betty Childs; the bar tender, Robert Beachley; other miners, Jean Young, Bobt. Spauld, Alfred Gardner, Harry Rhodes, Vincent Brandolini and Calvin Rogers.

Compliments of

MARSHALL
Cleaners, Dyers, and
Repairers
Easton, Maryland

THE REXAL STORE
EASTMAN KODAKS
FILMS

DEVELOPING

and

PRINTING

BY EXPERTS

DRUGS and

SUNDRIES

Or All Kinds

A. L. STERLING

Minstrel Show Given By Blue Key Frat.

A minstrel show given by the Blue Key Fraternity of Washington College and directed by Mike Wallace is to be given the first or second week of January. The cast is already rehearsing and anyone interested will be welcome to join in. The boys are doing their best to make this show a success and its style will be something new to Eastern Shore residents. It will consist of the latest popular song hits and jokes, and if it goes over and meets with the approval of the audience, the "Blue-Key" Fraternity will make this an annual event every year.

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149

C. W. Kibler & Sons

Chestertown, Maryland

—Advertise in The Elm.

WE KNOW

What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style contours.

You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.

Our clothes will meet everything you demand of them.

BORDLEY & SON

Del-Mar-Va Restaurant

For
After Dance Lunches
And Regular Meals

Compliments of

H. D. OREM & SON

Something for pipe smokers to think about!

ABOUT 1864,
farmers began to grow White Burley Tobacco. A few casks were taken to the St. Louis
Fair in 1867 and sold for 58¢ a pound.

White Burley Tobacco is used to make Granger. It is the best pipe tobacco that grows.

You will notice the difference as soon as you light up your pipe of Granger. It burns slower, smokes cooler and never gums a pipe.

America's pipe tobacco

YOU CAN DEPEND ON A LIGGETT & MYERS PRODUCT

Second Cotillion To Be Held Dec. 6

"Stags" To Be Permitted To Attend

The second formal of the Cotillion Club will be held Friday, the sixth of December, in the gymnasium.

The decorating committee will be headed by Richard W. Cooper, who plans to use a scheme suggestive of Christmas.

For the first time in the history of the club "stags" will be permitted to attend the Cotillion. It is not to be a program dance. Because of this innovation it has been deemed necessary by the committee to remain the "stags" of certain rules they have been lax in observing. They are:

- (1) There will be no "breakings" until after the figure which comes after the second dance. The "stags" will of course not participate in the figure, but, after it, may be received by the patrons and patronesses.
 - (2) If one "breaks" he must return the young lady to her escort at the end of the dance.
 - (3) One must never break the same person twice. In case he is dancing with another than his guest it is permissible to "break" once again after a time has passed. Never under any circumstance break a person more than twice. Constant "breaking" in on the same person is very annoying and is a stamp of poor breeding on the part of the offender.
 - (4) If one is broken and is not engaged with another, he should claim his guest at the end of the dance. Never, under any circumstances, allow another to be burdened with the one you escorted.
- This new system is to be given a trial here. If it is successful, it will be continued, if not, the former program system shall be used again.
- The charges for the dance will be three dollars a couple or two dollars "stag."

The
Third National Bank
Chestertown, Md.

The Only
National Bank
In Kent County

Compliments of
H. F. Jefferson

THE PROBABLE LINEUP FOR HOCKEY GAME

Probable lineup for today's Hockey game is:

Junior-Soph	Byron
Jiaris	RW
Hyland	RI
Kreger	C
Ryan	LI
Walbert	LW
Jesley	RH
Schmidt	CH
Farr	LH
Dole	RF
Cannon	LF
Herrera	G

Goal, First half—Helms; Second half—Hobbs.

Substitutions—Slater for Jewell. Timekeeper—Kilwan, '35.

The Editor wishes to make known that he did not write the headlines for the sports page.

Larry Wimbro Elected President Of Frosh

Larry Windbro was elected President of the Freshman class during the election held Tuesday, November 8th. Ralph Miller was chosen as Student Council Representative for this class.

In the continued election held the following day Lawrence Williams was elected Vice President and Emerson Slacum chosen to fill the Secretary and Treasurer position.

The elections of the first year class are never held before November for the freshmen must be given time to get acquainted.

He: "I'd like to buy a white shirt."

Girl Clerk "Neck?"

He: "Yeah, but I've got a class in a few minutes."

—Southern Calif. Wampus.

HUGH BRADLEY IS FAMED SPORTS WRITER

Hugh Bradley, a former Washington College student and Baltimore sports writer is breaking into Nationally circulated magazines.

He recently resigned a position as sportswriter on a New York newspaper to devote all his time to Magazine, Redbook, American Mercury and others. His latest article appeared in Liberty a week ago.

Articles and stories by Mr. Bradley have appeared in the American magazine.

PENNINGTON
CONSTRUCTION CO.

Contractors and Builders
Chestertown, Md.
Phone 88W and 305

SMITH'S
KUT-RATE
DRUG STORE
Chestertown, Maryland
Owen C. Smith, Prop.
Phone 189

Clements & Clements,
Inc.

CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING

"Keep your clothes fit"
Prompt Service
Phone 437
Dover, Delaware

—Advertise in The Elm.

"Nature in the Raw" is seldom MILD

THE PILGRIM'S FIRST WINTER
"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by Herbert Ross, celebrated painter...inspired by the bitter hardships endured by America's first settlers in their conflict with raw, wild nature (1620). "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobacco has no place in cigarettes.

No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies

©1932
The American
Tobacco Co.

VOL. XXXII. NO. 6.

SATURDAY, DEC. 3, 1932

PRICE TEN CENTS

Alumni Chapter Holds Banquet

Meridan Club Scene Of Dinner

On Friday evening, November 18, the twelfth anniversary banquet of the Philadelphia Chapter of the Washington College Alumni Association was celebrated in the Meridan Club, Philadelphia, in the presence of a goodly number of "old grads," ex-students, and under graduate students of the college.

Under the efficient direction of W. Coulbourn Brown, Class of '95, a most enjoyable dinner was served, after which President Paul Titusworth gave a very encouraging statement as to the present condition of the college, but saddened the hearts of all by the announcement of his intention to accept the presidency of Alfred University, his alma mater, at the close of the college year next June. This announcement was received with many expressions of sincere regret, as it was convincing that the change would mean a serious loss to Washington College which institution Dr. Titusworth has served for a number of years with conspicuous zeal and ability.

The singing of the college glee club was greatly enjoyed, as was also the able address by Mr. Charles H. Sykes, cartoonist of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin. The interesting talk by Dr. Howell, of the college, Dr. Titusworth showed a number of unusually valuable and worth mentioning pictures of the college and surroundings, including a number of views taken at the time of the recent sesqui-centennial celebration of the college.

H. P. Ford, Class of '76, thought that the color scheme of the evening (orange and black) should have been all black, for three reasons: 1st, because of the resignations of Dr. Titusworth; 2nd, because of the recent death of Dr. Sewall Hephurn, the oldest Washington College graduate; 3rd, in order to be in accord with the feelings of any Hooverites who might be present.

The Association has never enjoyed a more successful evening. Memories of the college and Chestertown are still dear to the hearts of many of the old students.

HOWARD T. ENNIS ADDRESSES ASSEMBLY

Howard T. Ennis, Supt. of Delaware Colony, Stockley, Delaware, presented a talk to the student body at the annual assembly of the subnormal individual at Stockley Colony. Mr. Ennis mentioned the way the colony is organized telling of the colony made clothes, colony garden and almost normal home-life of the inmates. The patients are grouped according to mental age with due regard to chronological age, cripples and physically deficient.

The speaker gave several interesting examples of patients at the colony stressing the fact that they all have some peculiarities. Mr. Ennis implied that care of subnormal individuals lies in work of succeeding generations.

FROSH VICTORY DANCE HELD LAST NIGHT

Washingtonians Give Music

Jubilant Freshman, disappointed but good natured Sophomores, upper classmen, and Faculty Members, all combined last night in an informal dance in the gymnasium. The dance sponsored by the Frosh and Soph classes was one of the nicest held at Washington College in quite a while.

Celebrating a decisive victory over the Sophomore football warriors, the Freshman team and classmates enjoyed themselves to the greatest extent, while the not too large group of upper classmen intermingled in friendly feeling. The Sophomores, though badly beaten, were willing to offer no alibis, all helping to make more firm the calling of Washington College a Friendly one.

Though it was planned that the Silver Duncum Cup be presented to the Freshmen at this dance, the presentation was put off until a later time. It is remembered that last year, the cup was first given to the winner of this annual Frosh-Soph Classic which in that case was the present Junior Class.

The Washingtonians furnished excellent music, the gym was simply but effectively decorated, and in general everything went off smoothly. Among the chaperones were Dr. J. S. William Jones, Dr. Howell, Prof. and Mrs. Duncum, Miss H. S. Gower, Prof. Goodwin, Prof. and Mrs. Ford, Coach George E. Eklitis.

Mt. Vernon Literary Society Holds Meeting

The regular weekly meeting of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society was held Wednesday, November 30, 1932, in the auditorium of William Smith Hall. The meeting was turned over to Emerson Titusworth who had charge of the program for the evening. The society was taken by songs and talks to Spain, the fifth step in its trip around the world. The opening feature of the program was a song in Spanish by Roland Lekebach, accompanied by Lee G. Bell on the piano. The main speaker of the evening was President Paul Titusworth who told us of his trip to Spain. He first took the society to the famous Rock of Gibraltar and gave a very interesting description of this world famous fortress. He then spoke of his passage into Spain giving descriptions of various cities and spots of interest. The history and natural features of the country were also discussed.

After the program a short business meeting was held. Edwin Lowe and Ray Wilson were sworn in as members of the society.

There was no meeting held last week because of a number of holidays. The members went home for the holidays.

Alpha Kappa Gives Frosh Movie Party

The Alpha Kappa Fraternity held its rush-function last Wednesday night. The program consisted of a trip to the movies, singing of spirituals by the returned Junior League, refreshments and a talk by President Upsilon. Coach Kibler and Prof. Duncum were the faculty members present.

1933 GRID CAPTAIN

Dick Gamber

Dick Gamber will captain the 1933 Washington College football team. Dick has been Varsity end for the last three years.

Gamber Elected Football Captain

At a meeting of the football letter men, held yesterday, Richard M. "Dick" Gamber was elected Captain of the 1933 Washington College grid team.

Gamber is a Junior and succeeded Joseph B. Dickerson to the Captaincy. The new captain has earned three varsity letters in football, having gained his early gridiron training as an end at Swarthmore Prep School. Gamber has earned an enviable reputation as an athlete during his two and a half years at Washington College, having made one or more letters in three sports: football, basketball and Lacrosse. This fighting Maroon and Black athlete was last year rated as one of the outstanding defensive linemen in college lacrosse circles.

Popular with his teammates and ex-student body, the new captain should make an excellent leader. Coach George Eklitis expressed confidence that his gridlers had chosen such a "fighter" to lead them.

Gamber is also outstanding in many things outside of athletics. He is president of the junior class, secretary of the student council, secretary of the Blue Key Fraternity, and holder of a Washington College Merit Scholarship. He was recipient of the 1932 Character Medal awarded last June.

Dick was elected to his grid honors by a large vote over Al Dobkins, regular quarterback during the past season, and Fritz Reinhold, sensational punter for the Maroon and Black.

PHI SIGMA TAU TO HOLD FUNCTION

The Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity will hold its rush function Tuesday, Dec. 6.

The Alpha Kappa and Phi Sigma Tau Fraternities have already held their functions, having drawn earlier dates at the meeting of the interfraternity committee.

The fraternity initiations to freshmen and men spending their first year in the "Hill" will be given out Monday afternoon. President Carey announced that the fraternity had completed arrangements for the night's program but he did not choose to give out the particulars concerning the affair. However, it is understood that Dr. Frederick C. Livingston, Prof. Makosky, and Prof. Coep will make some contribution to events of the evening.

PHI SIGMA PHI HOLDS BANQUET FOR FROSH

Dr. William R. Howell Speaks

The Phi Sigma Phi Fraternity held its annual "rush function" in the form of a dinner in the banquet room of the Kitty Knight House, at Georgetown, Md., on the evening of Monday, November 28. More than forty of those affiliated with the Fraternity and their first-yearmen guests were present at the occasion. A number of speeches appropriate to the time were given, notably by the honorary members, namely, the trustees in faculty, Mr. Harry S. Russell, and the President of the Fraternity, Wm. M. A. Richards.

Early in the evening the company gathered in the reception rooms of the stately and historic old mansion which, surrounded by its ancient, formal, boxwood garden looks out upon the Potomac River below it. Interested spectators were given the opportunity of examining closely the hundreds of priceless antiques which make the spot one of the most unusual and delightful in all of Maryland. After the dinner Wm. M. A. Richards, President of the Phi Sigma Phi, gave an introductory talk which was followed by speeches by Dr. Howell, Professor of Economics and the Registrar, Mr. Frank Goodwin, Assistant Professor of Economics, Dr. K. S. Howell, Professor of Chemistry and Mr. H. S. Russell, Assistant Editor of the Chestertown Enterprise.

An informal entertainment was held at the Fraternity House following the dinner.

Dr. Kenneth S. Baston, Professor of Chemistry at Washington College, has changed his place of residence to occupy the Frazer Russell house on Washington Avenue. Dr. Baston, since his coming to Washington a year ago from Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., has occupied one of the Baldwin Apartments on Water Street.

Christmas Holidays Begin December 16

The Christmas holidays for Washington College will officially begin Dec. 16, 1932, and end January 3, 1933.

The college year of 1932 will be terminated as far as local students are concerned, at 5:15 P. M. on Friday, Dec. 16, when the last regular class period of the day will have been completed. The total vacation will last seventeen days.

About the only event of importance scheduled by the college before the holidays is the basket ball game played with West Chester State Teachers' College up at West Chester, Pa.

Dr. Paul E. Titusworth Honored At U. Of Md.

Dr. Paul E. Titusworth, president of Washington College, was one of eight men pledged to Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary leadership fraternity, at an assembly in the University of Maryland at Baltimore on Wednesday, Dec. 7. Titusworth will next be president of Alfred College next year. Dr. Titusworth and H. C. Byrd, vice-president of the University of Maryland, both spoke on leadership and stressed its value in campus life and its necessity in the business world after graduation.

Frosh Gridmen Crush Sophs 27-0

Evans, Pratt, Brice Score

In the annual Frosh-Frosh game held on Kibler Field yesterday afternoon, the first year men showed a powerful football machine that registered four touchdowns to rout a beaten but desperately fighting Sophomore eleven.

The Freshmen, averaging 173 pounds in the line and 170 in the backfield, resorted mainly to straight running plays, mixing in off-tackle plays and a power line back with occasional effective forward passing to overpower the lighter upper classmen. The Sophs forced continually on the defense had little opportunity to stop an offense of any kind. The Frosh goal was never in danger.

After a scoreless first period the Frosh opened the second quarter with an attack that gained 41 yards on rushes and placed the ball in position for Evans to take over for the first score of the game. Rhinehart kicked the extra point. In the same period after an exchange of punts, Sailer of the Sophs was viciously tackled by Tignor and fumbled into the waiting arms of Brice who sprinted 40 yards unopposed over the goal line. The try for extra point failed. The half ended shortly after. Score 13 to 0.

The second half started with the Freshmen kicking off to the blue jerseyed Sophomores who were ferociously tackled two yards from the line. During this period the Frosh added four more first downs and completed a pass. Evans to Rhinehart, rushed for 70 yards but just failed in a score when the quarter closed.

After three minutes of the final period had been played, Evans again got off tackle for his second touchdown. Rhinehart scored the extra point on an off tackle play from close formation. The Frosh then kicked to the Sophs, Sailer returning the ball on a 15 yard run. An attempted Soph pass was knocked down by Kappa. On a beautifully executed lateral pass, Mooney fumbled but recovered to make a run of 36 yards and a set down, the only one netted by the Sophs during the entire game. A flock of replacements was made in the Frosh ranks at this time. The Sophs yielded the ball on downs and the Frosh began their last drive. Tignor hammered at the broken blue line for substantial gains. A Rhinehart to Tignor pass gave a first down. Pratt, substitute for Kibler, found a wide gap in the center of the line, and then cut to the left racing 20 yards over the final white stripes for a touchdown. Rhinehart made the extra point standing up, on a run from the line. Score 27 to 0 as the game ended.

The lineup:

FROSH	SOPHS
Miller	LE
Clifford	LT
Kaplan	LG
Clifford	LC
Kaplan	RG
Clifford	RT
Brice	RE
Rhinehart	QB
Kibler	QB
Evans	QB
Tignor	QB
	Sadler

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

EDITOR PHILLIP J. WINGATE
 Assistant Editor Charles B. Clark
 Literary Editor Roland C. Ready
 Society Editor W. M. C. Richards
 Exchange Editor Roland E. Lekebusch

Feature Reporter REPORTERS William Baker
 Albert E. Dobkins, Janet Giratis, Janet Atwater, P. Shipp, James Kreeger, Morris Campbell, Carroll W. Castet,
 Richard Gamber

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

Charles Clark, Dewitt Clarke, William Baker

SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES

Alexina Robinson, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager John McLain
 Circulation Manager Patterson Beaman
 Chief Staff Photographer Emory Burkhardt
 Advertising Manager Louis Goldstein

ASSISTANTS

Walter F. Dorman

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, DEC. 3, 1932

BASKETBALL

Basketball is now the magic word at Washington College. Football has been tucked away for another year and now every Washingtonian is asking how fast a piece the 1932-33 Flying Pentagon is going to take.

During a ten year period lasting from about 1920 to 1930, Washington College turned in such a remarkable cage record that in the mind of the Maryland sports fan, Washington and its team became synonymous words. Coach Tom Kibler's teams turned in all sorts of remarkable feats during this golden age of basketball. One season was completed without a tie or defeat. Five victories on five successive nights were turned in on a trip through the South. A Maroon and Black basketball scored five field goals in the first seconds of play. The state championship race developed into a contest between the other teams for second place honors, and in most games the question that worried the backers of the Flying Pentagon was how many points it was going to win or how many points will Dumshot or Giratis get tonight.

However the tide has changed somewhat and the Maroon and Black no longer outclasses practically all its opponents. Tom Kibler's outfits are still feared and respected by cage opponents, but the Maroon and Black has to scrap for most of its victories now. Last year the Flying Pentagon had one of its poorest seasons in recent years and still finished tied for second place in the state championship race. This year Coach Kibler will not be satisfied with second place honors. Such a role does not fit him well. Washingtonians who have watched the various Flying Pentagons will have to be shown a poor one before they believe that the Dean of Maryland Cage Coaches could turn out such a mination.

Consequently, most of the students here are confidently looking forward to another speedy Flying Pentagon. In basketball, spirit will not have to be drilled into the student body, it will develop naturally because it has become customary for the local students to take their basketball very, very seriously. The present Flying Pentagon's fighting captain will not hinder this situation in the least.

CHRISTMAS VACATION

In two short (7) weeks the Christmas holidays will have begun for Washington College students and believe you me "Count de Days" until Xmas is our closest friend. From a vote of the students have been experiencing the famous "homing call" with great frequency.

Anyway we can certainly say for ourselves that we will be glad when the day of temporary departure arrives and we can grasp our thumbs and start "bike, bike, hiking down the highway." We figure that a strip of college life lasting from the middle of September to the middle of December is a sufficiently large portion to be taken hold of at once and that now a little time will be in order.

The only thing that clouds this golden picture of a two weeks lay-off is the spectre, that becomes less and less a spectre as time goes by, of the mid-year exams. Alas, fellow sufferers, we are sure to be reminded you of such an unkind subject, it certainly grieves our soul as much as it does you.

At any rate it certainly will be one grand and glorious feeling to lay in bed every morning for two weeks until about ten or eleven o'clock. Anyone who knows the terrific mental pressure that the poor college student lives under, must realize that this period of rest is very necessary. What with term papers, laboratories, campistry and what not it is easy to see that college is a truly selective institution and those who survive must certainly be most superior beings. If you don't believe what we are saying ask any college student.

SLIPPERY ELM

By ROLAND C. READY

Washington, the Friendly College? Many times in the past two years this name has had a hollow meaningless sound and many lips have curled in derision at the mere mention of the term "friendly." For the most part we believe these sneers have been undeserved but yet sometimes we are suddenly forced to pause and wonder. During a certain period each year excitement and enthusiasm reaches a high pitch on the campus. At this time there is a tendency to become over zealous and set in a hasty manner which is later to be regretted.

Especially was this time last year when a fairly representative group of Washington men conducted themselves in an ungenerally manner toward their fellow men.

Disinterested students, who are in a more favorable position to observe, have often been amused by the capricious actions of members representative of these groups. Let's face the situation squarely and not debate ourselves by unjust feeling. How about abusing the words "cut throat" and "back slashers" from the college dictionary.

OPEN FORUM

The following came to the Editor through the mail with a request that be printed. So here goes.

PUN MY SOUL

To Wyle time we be Galized at her and Beck-oned, "Come here McCy Child. My Rapan Jewell, I feel like doing a Hyland fling or a Puddin'."

"You Furman" she cried.

"Oh Lord, you're a Pippin."

"You eass like a Trupper," said he.

"So be so Doleful, my Buxton bid."

"You eass like 'Curry me Back to Aldridge-in'."

"I don't remember it."

"De Witt is dumb. You should Knoolf the bat."

"You Mcneeny sap, don't give me all that Hooey and with her Proud-fol she kicked him on the Skins."

"You Bryn you'll woman!"

"Let's go out in your Ford Broum-man, I'm Ready," she said as she went into the Hall and Donned her White Skulls.

"We should want till the storm Bates."

"Scotten cold hasn't it?"

"Yeah, this inClement weather with its Gale and Blizzard almost gives me a Measell."

"They rode along quietly, Moore or until they came to a Young Fisherman by a Peels."

"He Watson know the Wright Rhodios to Culver City," she said.

"Listen Saylor, turn Eastman, go up that Long Hill till you come to a Brown Cowbell, then turn North Taint Parr."

"Com-ell, we'll go to the Bell Haven Thibeden while."

"What'll Youse have?" asked the waiter.

"Bring us some Campbell's soup, Pyle of Lytle Beans, some fish Roe and don't forget the Rogers's silverware."

"Hitch at you Everett. Rasin bread it that the Baker makes?"

"Yes, but I'd rather have some Berry pie."

"Here's the tip!" Howled the waiter.

"Sorry, I haven't a Nichol-son, see you Slater."

And with that they Skipped out.

Ann N.T.T.

PURLOINED PHRASES

"Gee, dear, with a moon like that there are only two things to do and I don't feel like writing poetry." —The Log.

Freshman to Professor: "Professor would you mind if I digressed a moment and asked a question about today's lesson?" —The Carolinian.

Doctor: "You've been working too hard, what you need is recreation. If I were you, I'd go home and take my wife to a movie."

Patient: "O. K. Doc, thanks a lot. By the way, what's your address?" —The Log.

"I seem to have lost my interest in girls. I prefer the company of fellows."

"Yes, I'm broke too." —The Log.

The "dating bureau" is a flourishing institution at Arkansas Wesleyan College. The bureau has a scale of prices, and fees are in accordance with desirability of the date secured for the evening. Men or women anxious to make a date must submit four names in the order of their choice. If the dater gets his first choice it costs him 25 cents. Second choice costs 20 cents, third choice 15 cents, and fourth choice 10 cents.

"I wonder why my girl closes her eyes when I kiss her?"

"Look in the mirror."

The "Female Aid Society" at Washington University wants fraternal gifts to unattractive co-eds at nominal charges.

"Despite the depression, girls without principle still draw interest."

—Drexel Triangle.

The Native Dance "Juggler" says: "Even his best friends wouldn't tell him, so he flunked the exam."

At Amherst the students beat the numbers of hymns to be called out in chapel.

Greek Letter Notes

KAPPA GAMMA NEWS

Many Kappa Gamma Alumnae came back to the "Hill" for homecoming last week. They were Edith Rees, Dorothy Simmons, Louise Crouse, Louisa Bowen, Elizabeth Baker, Elizabeth Brier, Eleanor Thibault, Helen Norris, and Wilma Paul.

On Sunday morning, the Kappa Gamma had a breakfast in the Sorority Room for its alumnae and members.

MRS. HARRY WHITE

Washington
 Cannon St. next to Bowling Alley

WE KNOW

What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the style of the fashion in your clothes is a recognized authority in style centers.

You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.

Our clothes will meet every thing you demand of them.

BORDLEY & SON

TOLD TO ME

By I. ONLY HEARD

From what we have heard, it seems as though last Saturday marked a successful resumé of relationships of all kinds. It might almost be known as "Saturday After, wrapping kites and things on the porch in the afternoon, the rest of the day was spent in swapping anything from congratulatory slips on the back and coats of herring cord, to the food and coats and dates at the dance that night. And the tackles made on the field had nothing on the tackles made on the dance floor. And on the dance floor, the tackles themselves had nothing on that was necessary — for 'twas a cold and wintry night. And yet, as cold as the gym was, judging from the "beiled" appearances of some of the dancers, the heat must have been terrific. Undoubtedly, the canned heat was.

"Thanksgiving" has assumed a new meaning to some of the "stewards" on the hill. About fifteen of them attended the dance at the Centreville Army, where the "beiled" appearances of some of the dancers, the heat must have been terrific. Undoubtedly, the canned heat was.

One enterprising freshman has established himself in the art of bottle collecting. His inspiration came out of the "Dance Of The Resumes"—or to be more exact, out of the windows and Jeckermons. To date, his interesting collection numbers twenty-three bottles, of all sorts, sizes and labels. Oh yes! They are all empty!

It is rumored that two lofty Seniors, each with an eye for business enterprise, are trying to make a killing in the out-of-the-way corner of the gym. However, their funds were not as numerous as the freshmen's, for, where he found twenty-three bottles of "East vs. West" he only found of the same paint size. Oh no! They were both full!

It is still a "little white lie" when girls plead "previous engagement" to Kaydet offering a Cotillion date because he is not recognized as the world's best dancer? From what we hear there seem to be plenty of "fair" co-eds who swear that they have dates for the next Cotillion, and yet, strangely enough, are still hoping someone will ask them to. Possibly the answer will lie in the importation of dates for protection, or that week-end spent at home.

Following the example of good old Uncle Sam, Alma Mammy again starts the "Sho" by announcing that the great "East vs. West" Football game will be played on the "Cannon Game" Sunday at three P. M. East Hall and West Hall have accepted each other's challenges and are going to meet in a real football battle. The scene should be touching football, at all events.

Did you know that: "Bill Smith" has bats in the belfry. Out of the three newest orators, we've seen one incision. Our lone football hero's score has been rubbed out of the books. "East vs. West" is the only three "W" freshman in Reid Hall. When the cat's away, the mice will play—but the cat may be having a pretty good time too. The Rats may not be the only class wearing caps before the year is over. Charley prefers the "Red" "sag" Trosky" made by the "Cannon" from Chestertown to the hills in Western Maryland and back again with nary a flat tire, carrying neither tools nor spares. You can lead a horse to Vassar but you can't make him drink. If you are only thirteen days, till the Christmas vacation begins?!!?

Basket Ball Practice Starts

Captain Johnson To Lead Locals

With football over for the year, Coach Kibler is now able to devote his entire time to Basketball. The prospects for the 1932-33 season are exceptionally bright, and it is hoped that at the end of the season the State Championship, which hasn't been returned to Washington College since the 1930-31 team lost it, will again rest in the hands of the Flying Pentagons.

As a nucleus, Coach Kibler has the following letter men to build a team from, Captain Johnson, Rod Proudfoot, Harry Huey, Dick Gamber, Ward and Al Geratis. In addition to these lettermen are Al Hodgson, Al Dobkins, and McLean who played good basketball last season and should see plenty of service this year. Some likely prospects from last year's Freshman team include Bill Nicholson, and Dale Rees. This year's Freshman class presents some fine material in MacDonald, Higginson, Barry, Evans, Skipp, Caplan, Reinhardt, Falls and Blalock. Although these are not haven't been given a chance to show what they can do, they will show to good advantage on either the Varsity or Freshman squad.

The team will miss the valuable services of last year's captain and guard, Ollie Robinson; and also the dependable shots of Frank Coruzzi who failed to return to college. Others missing this year are Fitzgerald and Bains, both lettermen of last year's edition of the Flying Pentagons.

If early season predictions count for anything it is safe to say that Washington College will be among the leaders in the leader of the newly formed Maryland State College Basketball league.

BASKET BALL COACH

J. Thomas Kibler

Coach J. Thomas Kibler issued his call for basketball applicants last Monday and is now putting the squeeze through daily practices.

Compliments of MARSHALL

Cleaners, Dyers, and
Repairers
Easton, Maryland

The Dalany-Vernoy Co.

337-339-341 North
Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest

Art China, Leather Goods,
Toys, Books, Athletic
Equipment

Gridmen Bow To Delaware

Visitors Take Game By 8 - 0 Score

In a hard-fought football game last Saturday, before an enormous crowd, the stubborn Washington College eleven was finally beaten by the University of Delaware grid warriors. The final score 8 to 0 was the result of two blocked kicks which enabled the boys from Newark to put across a safety and a touchdown.

This game, which was intended to be the initial battle of a continuous series of annual classics, was attended by a swarm of representatives from all over the Delaware Peninsula. Because of the unusually long line of cars waiting to enter Kibler Field for the game the time for the opening whistle had to be postponed for half an hour. A line of automobiles entirely surrounded the playing area, and the grandstand was filled to capacity. It was the largest crowd ever assembled to witness a football game at Washington.

All of the scoring was done during the first half. In the first quarter when the Shoremen had the ball on their own ten yard line Delaware blocked a kick and one of their men fell upon the ball over the end zone line for a safety. Just before the opening whistle another kick was blocked near the Washington goal line. The ball was pushed across as the second quarter started. The try for the point after touchdown was futile. For the remainder of the game both teams battled on even terms without any additional scoring.

The contest was characterized by unusual defensive strength shown by both teams. Several nice runs were made by Kemke and Green of Delaware. The outstanding linemen of the day, however, was "Billy" Nicholson who time after time made long gains through the Delaware line practically unaided.

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT

(Formerly Candy Kitchen)
For food of the Best Quality at Popular Prices. Home
Cooking, Prompt Service. Sandwiches of all kinds.
Candies, Sodas, Fancy Sundaes, Home Made Pies and all kinds of Soft Drinks at the Fountain.
Try Our 50c Dinner
Guarantee Satisfaction

Visit The

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT

(Open 6 A. M. to 12 midnight)

NEW 700 ROOM CLUB HOTEL

Transient Rates $1.50 per
day up, with bath $2 up

Club life, restaurant, free swimming pool,
gym, library, spacious lounges, roof garden,
separate floors for men and women.
Six minutes from Penn or Grand Central Stations.

GEORGE TURKEL, Manager

$8 to $14 Weekly

KENWORE HALL
145 EAST 23rd ST. N. Y. CITY

Just East of Lexington Avenue

GRanberry
5 3840

"I ought to be jealous of that old pipe!"

"BUT INSTEAD

I actually find myself looking forward to the moment when you pack the bowl with Granger. It's the aroma that I like."

Smokers like Granger because it is made just right for pipes.

© 1932
LORNEY & STERN
Tobacco Co.

The tobacco that's right — and the package that's right

GRANGER IS AMERICA'S PIPE TOBACCO

THE REXAL STORE EASTMAN KODAKS FILMS

DEVELOPING

and

PRINTING

BY EXPERTS

DRUGS and

SUNDRIES

Of All Kinds

A. L. STERLING

Del-Mar-Va Restaurant For After Dance Lunches And Regular Meals

Compliments of

H. D. OREM & SON

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students
Offers Complete Line of Conklin and Wahl Pens and Pencils. Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery,
And School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

DEAR MISS CO-ED:

Welcome home! We are glad to hear that you are back in town.

In keeping with the times, we have tempered our prices, but we still luxuriously indulge in as many crisp, fresh linen towels as we believe essential to the facial.

We still continue extravagantly (perhaps?) using the best waving lotions and we haven't the heart to cut our permanent waving preparations, either.

So, you see, we are offering you our best at the best prices. What can be more fair.

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE
306 Park Row Phone No. 334

The Emerson Hotel Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled

Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged

Private Rooms and

Banquet Halls

For All Occasions

DANCE IN GYM HUGE SUCCESS

"Vic" Vickers And His Orchestra Furnish Music

Following the Washington College Delaware football game last Saturday, the gymnasium was the scene of a dance given to help make better feeling between the two colleges. In this respect it was a huge success. Everyone had a good time. The floor was crowded with many Delaware students as well as other outsiders and the home crowd.

"Vic" Vickers and his orchestra furnished the music.

Clements & Clements,
Inc.

CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING

"Keep your clothes fit"
Prompt Service
Phone 437
Dover, Delaware

The

Third National Bank
Chester town, Md.

The Only
National Bank
In Kent County

A. L. SPARKS

Specials in
Ladies' Hose
Newest Colors and
Weights

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing

103 Court Street
Chester town, Maryland

STUDENTS

We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.

Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Lenthic Line from Paris.

Abbott's DeLuxe Ice Cream.

Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.

STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

HERB'S
QUICKLUNCH
Sandwiches of all Kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Voshell House

GILL BROS. ICE CREAM

Dainties
Assorted Blocks

Toulson's Pharmacy
Cordially invites the student to enjoy the privileges of a well-stocked drug store.

Parker Pens our specialty.

The Best Of EVERYTHING Needed FOR BUILDING

E. S. Adkins & Co.
Chester town, Centreville
Easton, Salisbury

Modern Shoe Repairing
Store
PAUL SIPALA
Next to Sterling Drug

Shop At The
B. & L. 5c to $1.00
VARIETY STORE
321 High St.
For Your Wants

After A Studious Day
Relax at
JIM'S and HICK'S
Billiard Parlor

Compliments
of

Chester town

Electric Light and Power

Company

—Advertise in The Elm.

Eyes examined and glasses fitted by a graduate Optician. Fountain Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films and Developing.

J. S. KREEGER

Jeweler & Optometrist
Chester town, Md.

BARNETT'S
BARBER SHOP
Over Sterling's Drug Store
First Class Service and
Expert Workmen

McCALLISTERS

Ex. 1609
Baltimore's Oldest Sport Store
Outfitters to Washington
College
124 W. Baltimore, St.
BALTIMORE, MD.

Chesterfields are Milder

Chesterfields Taste Better

As smokers become more experienced, they demand milder cigarettes. Chesterfields are milder. Their mildness is just as much a feature as the beauty of their package.

The tobaccos are mild to begin with. Patient ageing and curing make them milder still. And Chesterfields contain just the right amount of Turkish—not too much—carefully blended and cross-blended with ripe, sweet Domestic tobaccos.

Chesterfields are milder. They taste better. That's why "They Satisfy."

VOL XXIII. No. 7.

SATURDAY, JAN. 14, 1933

PRICE TEN CENTS

Assembly Schedule For February Given

Dr. Frederick Livingston Arranges Schedule

Through the splendid efforts of Dr. Livingston the following assembly program has been secured:

Jan. 19.—Dr. O. F. Blackwater, "Life Problems."
Feb. 2.—Dr. Paul E. Titworth, Feb. 9.—Dr. Raymond A. Pearson, President of University of Md. Feb. 23.—Dr. Raymond Walbert, former Dean of Swarthmore College. Those at the L. E. D. will be confirmed upon Dr. Walbert.

Michael Wallace Injured In Intermental Basketball Game

Michael Wallace, a sophomore at Washington College, suffered a painful injury to his neck and right shoulder last night when he was thrown against a post during an intermental basketball game.

The college physician, Dr. Harry G. Simpers, examined Wallace and then sent him to the Easton, Md. hospital for an X-ray examination of his shoulder. The injury, though painful, is not expected to have any permanent trace.

Wallace played a forward position for the Phi Sigma Tau fraternity against the Hail at the time of his injury was dribbling down the south side of the court when he was tripped by Henry Newark, of the West Hall team. Wallace lost his balance and fell against the post in the corner of playing space.

Several Opinions On New Council Rule Expressed

The following are opinions held by various people about the campus concerning the new Student Council rule allowing smoking in class rooms:

Ralph Harrison—"It is no harm in the rule, provided the content of all concerned can be obtained."

William MacDonald—"I think it all right to disregard examinations but not during regular classes."

Prof. John D. Makowsky—"I have no personal objections concerning the rule."

Reiland C. Ready—"It is an excellent rule."

Melvin Clark—"I do not choose to state my opinion concerning the question."

John M. Raymond—"Huh?"

Student Council Requests Students Not To Cat Camps

On numerous occasions, Dr. Titworth has spoken to the Student Body in regards to their care of the camps. His suggestions all for our own benefit, have not been followed. If the beauty of Washington College's campus is to remain intact, it is absolutely necessary that each member of the college avoid taking "short cuts" to classes and refrain from running up and down the terrace. It is a very simple matter. However, the Student Council asks the fullest cooperation from each student in order that the campus will be properly cared for and retain its beauty.

The Student Council

TO GIVE LECTURES

Dr. Ester M. Dale

Dr. Ester M. Dale will give a series of six lectures on art for the benefit of the Chesterdown Public Library during the coming month.

The lectures will be held in the Kent County Court House. The charges will be 15 cents per lecture for students or 75 cents for a season ticket; outsiders may attend for 30 cents per lecture of $1.50 for a season ticket.

Dr. Powers Addresses Sta- dents At Jan. 12 Assembly

The college was entertained on Thursday, January 12th, in Assembly by Dr. Edward Cardell Powers, of Baltimore, Md. Dr. Powers is Chaplain at the Maryland State Penitentiary and has several other important positions.

In his speech he stressed mainly the point, "Let us not be weary in well doing." He quoted many poems and ditties that had a distinct bearing on his subject, being effectively used. Dr. Powers urged the student body to realize that "small things are important and might influence their earthly and eternal destiny." Two books, "Mother Goose" and the "Bible," especially the latter are believed by Dr. Powers to offer specific examples as well as solutions, of life problems.

Delaware Quintet Here Wed. Jan. 18

Close Cage Game Expected
To Be Played

The University of Delaware's fast moving basketball quint will appear here Wednesday, Jan. 18, to engage the Flying Pentagon in what should be one of the best attractions scheduled for the local cage center.

The keen sense of rivalry between the Penninsula's only colleges, renewed last fall after a lapse of several years, should add color to what is certain to be a great exhibition of brilliant basketball. This will be the first game of a home and home series between the Flying Pentagon and the Newark eagles.

On the basis of performances up to date there is little to choose between these two quintets. Both Washington and Delaware have engaged the cagers of West Chester, State Teacher's College and St. Joseph's, Philadelphia. The Delawareans defeated St. Joseph's by a comfortable margin while the Flying Pentagon was given a stiffer contest by the Jesuits. However, Washington defeated West Chester by five points and the teachers later put the skids to Delaware.

It is certain that Coach Kibler will have his men at peak form for this important game. Several of the Maroon and Black eagles who sported grid uniforms last fall will be particularly anxious to see the Delaware "take a case count" on the cage. Rogers gridders pinned on the locals last fall.

Delaware expects to have a large contingent of backers follow the team and the friendly but nevertheless intense rivalry between the two student bodies should lend tension to a basket ball atmosphere already packed with N. T. T.

OFFERS NEW COURSE

Dr. Kenneth S. Buxton

Dr. Kenneth S. Buxton, head of the chemistry department at Washington College, will offer a course in physical chemistry for the coming semester.

Up to date six people have signed up to take the course, which has never been given at the college before. Physical Chemistry was offered by Dr. Buxton last year but due to the fact that only one or two signed up for the course it was not given.

Friedrich Von Prittwitz Figures In Government Force

Friedrich Wilhelm Von Prittwitz, German Ambassador to America who spoke at the Washington College Commencement exercises last June, and the rest of the German Embassy staff figured in a farce put on by Sen. Henry P. Long for a reporter of the "Princetonian" according to an article in the Baltimore "Sun" of Friday morning.

The story relates how the Louisiana Senator, wishing to treat a "new" event for a Princeton cub reporter, called up the German Embassy and declared that the German Government had insulted the American Government. It developed that the insult was merely the failure of Henry Von Prittwitz to serve beer to the Southern Senator, when the latter visited the embassy.

Hopkins Defeats Flying Pentagon

Blue Jays Lead Throughout Game

BALTIMORE.—John Hopkins University defeated the Washington College basketball quintet last night by a 23 to 20 score in one of the wildest games seen at Evergreen for a long time.

The Flying Pentagon was held scoreless for half of the first period despite the fact that Hodgson and Johnson worked themselves loose for several under the basket shots. The Maroon and Black boys from Chestertown still seemed to be suffering from the jinx that caused them to give such a miserable exhibition against the Blue Jays last year.

The game was featured by very close guarding, the score at the end of the half being 12 to 4, in favor of the Jays. Washington's 4 points had been scored by means of a field goal and two foul shots.

In the second half, the game was speeded up considerably by both teams and consequently there was more scoring. Don Kelly, captain and star guard for the Hopkins quint was high scorer for the night with a total of 7 points. However, the game was held down to a close fight this year than last when he scored 21 points against the Flying Pentagon.

The Washington quint had superior floor work and passing and consequently secured more close-in shots. However, Hopkins was far more effective in capitalizing on whatever shots they obtained.

Del Proudfoot, tall and supple forward for the Flying Pentagon, entered the game in the waning minutes of play and though still suffering from a back injury that has kept him out of practice for two weeks, improved the appearance of his team almost one hundred per cent.

This defeat for the Flying Pentagon puts Tom Kibler's boys with their backs to the wall as far as the race for the Maryland Intercollegiate Basketball championship is concerned. The Maroon and Black plays Mt. St. Mary's up at Emmittsburg tonight and a defeat there will virtually eliminate them from this championship. Hopkins and Loyola are the only undefeated quintos now left in the race.

Lineup and summary:
John Hopkins G F T
C. Kelly, f 1 0-0 2
Chancellor, f 2 0-0 4
Camacho, c 2 0-0 6
D. Kelly, g 2 3-4 7
G. Margolis, g 2 0-0 4

Totals 10 34 23

Washington G F T
Hodgson, f 0 0-1 0
Johnson, f 0 0-0 0
Proudfoot, f 1 1-1 3
Kelly, c 2 2-2 4
Girley, f 1 2-3 4
Harris, f 1 3-4 5
Ward, g 1 2-4 4
Blancino, g 0 0-0 0

Totals 8 8-14 20

Score by halves:
Johns Hopkins 12 11-23
Washington 4 16-20

Referee—Bill Lilly, Delaware. Time of halves—20 minutes.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 24, 1933

7 P. M.—8 P. M.

Music 1 Auditorium

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 25, 1933

9 A. M.—12 M.

Biology 7 Room 35

Economics 1 Rooms 20 and 21

History 17 Room 11

Mathematics 1 (Dr. Jones) Room 25

Physics 9 Room 24

Psychology 8 Room 22

Public Speaking 3 (Sec. 1) Room 26

1:30 P. M.—4:30 P. M.

Biology 7 Room 35

Chemistry 1 and 3 Room 25

Education 8 Room 30

German 1 (Section 1) Room 10

Mathematics 11 Room 24

Science 31 Room 29

Spanish 1 Room 36

THURSDAY, JANUARY 26, 1933

9 A. M.—12 M.

Education 25 Room 22

French 3 (Section 2) Room 21

Government 25 Room 25

History 7 Room 11

Mathematics 6 (Section 2) Room 25

Mathematics 7 Room 25

1:30 P. M.—4:30 P. M.

Education 1 Room 21

Room 10 Chemistry 2 Room 35

Latin A Room 24

Public Speaking 3 (Sec. 2) Room 26

United States 21 Room 20

Social Mathematics 25 Room 25

FRIDAY, JANUARY 27, 1933

9 A. M.—12 M.

Economics 8 Room 20

English 3 (Dr. Ingalls) Room 25

English 3 (Prof. Makowsky) Room 11

English 3 (Prof. Brewer) Room 20

German 7 Room 10

History 1 Rooms 21 and 26

Mathematics 9 Room 24

1:30 P. M.—4:30 P. M.

Economics 9 Room 20

English 1a (Dr. Ingalls) Room 26

German 3 (Section 1) Room 10

Government 21 (Section 1) Room 21

Mathematics 3 Room 35

Spanish 3 Room 25

SATURDAY, JANUARY 28, 1933

9 A. M.—12 M.

Chemistry 8 Room 25

Elementary Science Rooms 25 and 26

French 3 (Section 1) Room 21

French 3 Room 11

German 1 (Section 2) Room 10

Government 21 (Section 2) Room 21

Physics 8 Room 23

Public Speaking 3 (Sec. 3) Room 22

1:30 P. M.—4:30 P. M.

Chemistry 8 Room 25

English 23 Room 24

Latin 1 Room 22

MONDAY, JANUARY 30, 1933

9 A. M.—12 M.

Economics 15 Room 20

Education 21 Room 22

English 11b Room 24

French 1 Room 11

History 5 Room 21

Math 1 (Prof. Hartley) Room 35

Mathematics 5 (Section 1) Room 25

1:30 P. M.—4:30 P. M.

Chemistry 9 Room 35

English 7b Room 35

French 5 Room 25

German 3 (Section 2) Room 21

Government 29 Room 11

TUESDAY, JANUARY 31, 1933

9 A. M.—12 M.

English 1b (Prof. Brewer) Room 24

Eng. 1b (Prof. Brewer) Rooms 25-26

Eng. 1c (Prof. Brewer) Room 25-26

History 3 Room 11

Physics 1 Room 10

1:30 P. M.—2:30 P. M.

How to Study Rooms 21 and 29

Music 3 Auditorium

Report all conflicts to the Registrar.

No changes in this schedule will be permitted without the consent of the Registrar.

TOLD TO ME

Clements & Clements,
Inc.
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
"Keep your clothes fit"
Prompt Service
Phone 437
Dover, Delaware

PROFESSOR MARRIES

Frank Goodwin

On December 27, 1932, when the spirit of the Yuletide was still strong, Prof. Frank Goodwin, Instructor in Social Sciences at Washington College, and the former Miss Eunice Wimberly, of Thomsville, Ga., were united in holy matrimony. The marriage took place at the home of the bride's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard Simmons, Baltimore, Md.

Dr. and Mrs. William Howell were prominent guests at the ceremony.

Alumni Notes

James W. Dykes, '17, employed in a manufacturing plant, Charleston, W. Va., barely escaped serious injury when a portion of his clothing was accidentally caught in a machine near which he was standing. Mrs. Dykes, formerly Carmeta Russell, ex-'17, was visiting relatives in Chestertown when notified of the accident. She at once returned to Charleston. Recent reports are to the effect that he is recovering slowly, but surely, from the injury.

Dr. Ralph P. Pruitt, ex-'06, director of the Psychiatric Clinic, University of Maryland, was elected president of the Eastern Shore Society of Baltimore at its annual meeting in November. L. Wethered Barroll, '08, was named as head of the Ken County Chapter.

Through the efforts of J. Purnell Johnson, president of the Alumni Association, the presentation of fifteen side-line operators to the football team was made possible. The following contributed: Dr. Mary C. Burchinal, John I. Goulbourn, Charles F. Haeley, John H. Hasey, W. Robert Hoey, J. Purnell Johnson, L. R. Langdale, F. E. Maddox, F. Stanley Porter, Dr. Irwin O. Ridgely, Dr. Ralph P. Pruitt, Judge Lewin W. Wickes, and Page G. Young.

The Baltimore Alumni Chapter held its annual benefit card party in the Club Room of the Emerson Hotel on the evening of December 16th. The receipts will be donated to the Edward Cain Memorial Student Loan Fund, which was established last year. Page G. Young, '19, is president of the Chapter.

Charles E. Smith, '28, an ex-president of the Student Council, under date of November 29, from New Castle, Del., where he is a teacher in William Penn School, writes as follows: "I think it fitting at this time to congratulate the students of Washington College on their fine spirit of friendliness and hospitality shown to the Delaware guests the last week end. It has been my privilege to know some of the Delaware football men and other students personally and I must admit I felt rather proud upon hearing them comment so favorably on their visit at "The Friendly College." Might I also commend the student body on their gentlemanly characteristics at the dance on Saturday night.

It is unnecessary for me to mention the success of the contest itself, or to laud the football team for their splendid work in the game. All present were aware of the brilliant exhibition they gave to fall victims to bad breaks of the game.

"In closing, I would say that the week-end was a great success, and I would offer my congratulations to all those who were in any way responsible for it."

Austin P. Wheeler, '22, who has been teaching at Sparks High School, Baltimore County, is now principal of Sowers Point High School, Louis Knox, '31, is teaching Mathematics in the same school.

Judges Joseph L. Bailey, '83, and Robert F. Duer, '91, of the First Judicial Circuit of Maryland, whose fifteen-year terms expired in November, were reappointed by Governor Ritchie to serve until their successors are elected in November, 1934.

Announcement was made on December 22 of the marriage of Miss Sarah Emmett, of Cambridge, Md., to Theodore Boston. The marriage took place November 13 at Princess Anne, Boston, who is a graduate of Washington College, a member of the class of 1910, is teaching at Cambridge.

Edwin T. Luckey, '31, was married on December 9 to Miss Jean Cameron Whitman. Since graduation he has been at Hollywood, California, in the employ of the E. R. O.

*When I like something
I evermore like it!*

THEY'RE Milder—
THEY TASTE BETTER

—and I like CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes.

To me, they are mild—that is, they don't seem to be strong; and there is certainly no bite, so far as I can tell.

To me, they taste better and they have a pleasing aroma.

Every CHESTERFIELD that I get is well-filled, and I feel like I am getting my money's worth—that there is no short measure about it.

I like CHESTERFIELDS. They satisfy me.

Cagers Triumph Over St. Joseph's

First Victory Over Philadelphians Since 1930

In a thrilling basketball contest last Tuesday night, January 10, the Washington College team defeated the strong St. Joseph's quintet of Philadelphia by the count of 23 to 20. The game played on the floor of the Maroon and Black marked the first victory for Washington College over St. Joseph's since the 1929-1930 season.

Starting off fast, St. Joseph's lead 3 to 0 in a few seconds. Ward tied the count with a foul shot and then a field goal. Zuber, dusky forward of St. Joseph's, sunk several field goals from near mid court to raise his team's score to 10. Led by Hodgson and Ward the score was soon halved by Washington College. Playing first a brilliant and then a rough game, the two teams were again tied at the half 15 to 15. It appeared that breaks none would determine the final result.

Hodgson and Skipp scored quickly in the second half to push the Flying Pentagon ahead. The contest was a tip and tuck affair. Players scrambled madly for loose balls. Toward the close, Washington College increased their lead at one time to seven points, and when the gun fired, were leading by four points at Blencioni, who substituted for Huey when ejected as a result of fouls, scored a double dicker.

Hodgson was high scorer for the Flying Pentagon, with nine points. Ward and Huey ran a close second and third. Skipp played a fine game at center.

For St. Joseph's, Zuber was high scorer with fourteen points, which lead all players. His play was the best seen here in quite a while, and bothered Washington's star guard, Harry Huey, no little.

VARSITY AND JAYVEES BEAT WEST CHESTER

The 1933 edition of the Flying Pentagon, showing new faces, opened a new basketball season with an impressive 23 to 19 victory over the highly ranked West Chester State Teachers College, of Pennsylvania, on December 14.

Due to over cautiousness, the Kibler men got off to a slow start that found them trailing the Teachers, 9 to 6, at half time. The Maroon and Black quintet came back in the second period, with a new vigor to tie the score and then pass the opponents when Hodgson sunk two beautiful shots at the psychological time, never again to be overtaken.

Washington looked especially good on defense. All of West Chester points were scored on outside shots and foul tries. The local combine needs polishing offensively but should begin to click before many more games. Proofread tied the scoring with 8 points. Skipp and Higginson first year men held up well and lack only the experience of seasoned courtiers.

Coch Kibler expressed himself as being well pleased with the strong knick that his loggers made. The head mentor was also impressed with the work of the H. Varsity that had singer much its own way in trouncing the West Chester, Jr. Varsity, 30 to 26, in the preliminary game.

THE REXAL STORE EASTMAN KODAKS

FILMS

DEVELOPING

and

PRINTING

BY EXPERTS

DRUGS and

SUNDRIES

Of All Kinds

A. L. STERLING

Compliments of

H. D. OREM & SON

HERB'S

QUICK LUNCH

Sandwiches of all Kinds

Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks

Under the Voshell House

Shop At The

B. & L. 5c to $1.00

VARIETY STORE

321 High St.

For Your Wants

Modern Shoe Repairing

Store

PAUL SIPALA

Next to Sterling Drug

LIST OF COLLEGE LETTERMEN OUT

There are twenty-eight men at present attending Washington College who have earned the right to wear the official variety "W." Each of the twenty-eight has made letters in one or more of the sports having a major rating at the college.

Records show that of the twenty-eight, holding the variety certificate, eight are seniors, nine are juniors, seven are sophomores, and four are freshmen.

There are only three "three-letter" men in college.

The letter men together with sports they have earned letters in are listed below:

Seniors—
Brighton—Lacrosse, Football.
Carey, J. W.—Basketball, Football.
Dickerson—Football (Capt.).
Fleetwood—Track.
Harris—Lacrosse, Track.
Johnson—Basketball (Capt.), Football.
Luitke—Football.
Wingate—Lacrosse (Capt.), Football (Capt.).
Juniors—
Clark, Charles—Lacrosse, Football.
Dokkins—Football.
Gamber—Football, Lacrosse, Basketball.
Girault—Basketball, Lacrosse, Football.
Haji—Football.
Harries—Football.
Pridgitt—Lacrosse.
Proofread—Basketball, Track.
Renzelle—Lacrosse, Football.
Sophomores—
Baker—Football.
Elliard—Football.
Chambers—Lacrosse.
Eugene—Basketball.
Lord—Football.
Nicholson—Football.
Ward—Football, Basketball, Track.

Freshmen—
Berry—Football.
Blancioni—Football.
Higginson—Football.
MacDonald—Football.

Coch Ekahitis Giving Series Of Boxing Lessons

Coch George Ekahitis gave the first of a series of boxing lessons to Saturday, January 7. That the experiment of last year continues to grow in popularity was evidenced by the large number of turnouts, including many Freshmen, for the initial workout.

Ekahitis plans to give the instructions in a series of 16 lessons, three each week. A new policy is being tried in that those members who attend these sessions will be credited with gym class attendance, and will not have to be present at the regular physical education period but the customary penalty will be imposed for "cuts" from the boxing classes.

GILL BROS. ICE CREAM Dainties Assorted Blocks

Toulson's Pharmacy

Cordially invites the student to enjoy the privileges of a well-stocked drug store.

Parker Pens our specialty.

TWO NEW OPPONENTS FOR LACROSSE TEN

A revised Lacrosse schedule for the 1933 Washington College team, presents the Mt. Washington Club of Baltimore, and Swarthmore College, of Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, as two teams of opposition. These two stick teams are taking the place of the formerly scheduled University of Virginia and Western Maryland College teams, which have temporarily at least, dropped the game from their spring sports program. These two, along with St. John's, the University of Md., and the World Champion Johns Hopkins Ten will round out the toughest schedule in the country. Lehigh also will be engaged.

The innovation of several new Lacrosse men this spring will make the game better all-around. The shorter playing field of eighty instead of a hundred yards will give the spectators the opportunity to witness all the play. This decrease in length will also probably throw more weight on the shoulders of the mid-field men. In twelve this, the "Lacrosse Twelves" no longer exist. Ten men will take the field this year for battle.

In these respects, Washington College should profit. In the first place, there are ten letter men back on the squad and secondly, the Maroon and Black exhibited last year a tireless midfield that could hold its own fairly well with any opposition.

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149
C. W. Kibler & Sons

Chestertown, Maryland

Flying Pentagon To Face Mt. St. Mary's

Kiblerites Expected To Win At Emmitsburg

Continuing a two day road trip, the Flying Pentagon today journeys to Emmitsburg, Maryland, to engage Art Mallory's quintet there tonight. The Washington College team lost to Mt. St. Mary's on their floor last year but are expected to return victorious tonight.

Coch Kibler is missing the services of Del Proofread who has been out since Christmas. The play of Hodgson, Skipp, Ward and Huey has been very pleasing to the mentor. Hodgson especially seems set for a fine year. His agility and fight has already been outstanding in his team's play. These four along with Captain "Dick" Johnson who is slowing rounding into form following his football operation will take the floor tonight for a game that will be closely contested.

Although Mt. St. Mary's lost to Loyola the other night, they still are rated as a leading candidate for the championship in the newly-formed Maryland Basketball League. The Mounts are especially hard to defeat in their home floor. Lynch and Hopkins are two fine basketballers and are ably assisted by others. The game is one of importance to both teams as each is anxious for an early start in the League.

Probable starting lineups:
Washington Mt. St. Mary's
Hodgson F Chonowicki
Johnson (c) F T. Lynch
Skipp C Hopkins
Huey G Cardell
Ward G J. Lynch (c)

—Advertise in The Elm.

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store

Where Your Dollar

Has More Cents

BARNETT'S BARBER SHOP

Over Sterling's Drug Store
First Class Service
and Expert Workmen

McCALLISTERS

Est. 1894
Baltimore's Oldest Sport Store
Outfitters to Washington College
124 W. Baltimore, St.
BALTIMORE, MD.

After A Studious Day

Relax at

JIM'S and HICK'S

Billiard Parlor

—Advertise in The Elm.

Cherry 5 3450

NEW 700 ROOM CLUB HOTEL

Transient Rates $1.50 per day up, with bath $2 up

Club life, restaurant, free swimming pool, gym, library, spacious lounges, roof garden, separate floors for men and women. Six minutes from Penn or Grand Central Station, New York.

GEORGE TURKEL Manager

$8 to $14 Weekly

KENMORE HALL

145 East 23rd St. N. Y. CITY

Just East of Lexington Avenue

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students
Offers Complete Line of Corsets and Wash Pins and Pencils. Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery, and School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

DEAR MISS CO-ED:

Welcome home! We are glad to hear that you are back in town.

In keeping with the times, we have tempered our prices, but we still luxuriate indulge in as many fresh, fresh linen towels as we believe essential to the fast.

We still continue extravagantly (perhaps?) using the best waving lotions and we haven't the heart to cut our permanent waving preparations, either.

So, you see, we are offering you our best at the best prices. What can be more fair.

PARK ROAD BEAUTY SHOPPE
306 Park Road Phone No. 334

Students Organize To Oppose War

Delegates Elected To Visit Chicago

NEW YORK—"The National Student Congress Against War represents one of the most important developments among the students of the United States," according to Professor George S. Counts, of Columbia University. "It suggests that American students, like students in other lands, are beginning to exhibit a genuine interest and concern in social and political affairs."

Delegates have been elected in colleges in all parts of the country to attend the Congress, it has been announced by Edmund Stevens, chairman of the national committee which is laying the plans for this nationwide meeting, which is to be held in Chicago on December 28th and 29th. Among the speakers at the Congress will be Jane Addams, Scott Nearing, Upton Claiborne, Joseph P. Kamp, J. B. Matthews, and Sherwood Anderson. Nearing and Matthews are both members of the national committee, which includes in addition Henry Barbusse, Corliss Lamont, H. W. L. Dunn, Robert Morris Lovett, George S. Counts, and the prominent in the anti-war movement. Student representatives from many colleges and universities are also members of the committee.

Announcement has been made of the receipt of numerous endorsements of the undertaking. Countee Cullen, distinguished poet, has declared: "It is heartening to know that the fight against war is originating in the hearts and minds of those on whom war most depends for its victims, the youth of the world. A united front made by youth and students against war should mean its utter and absolute repudiation."

"The students of America and throughout the world cannot remain unconcerned and untouched by the danger of war," the national committee has asserted. "Students in China are being murdered and crushed by the war movements already taking place; students in Germany are being armed by Fascism for their own destruction; students in the Latin-Americas are suffering the full force of American and English imperialism whenever the puppet governments are menaced; throughout the world, students are being 'educated' by text books, by administrations, by military authorities to become willing leaders in crushing resistance to war, in leading regiments to save profits."

"War must be combated," the statement continues. "Whatever may be our views of how best to combat it, we students must join in an organized protest against war, with a determined effort to do what we can lay down a program for effective action."

The

Third National Bank
Chestertown, Md.

The Only

National Bank
In Kent County

John Lord Honored At December 15 Assembly

John Lord, a Sophomore at Washington College was honored in the Assembly of Dec. 15 when Mr. Harry Russell in behalf of Mr. Wade G. Bounds, presented him the Wade G. Bounds gold football.

This gold football is presented annually to the one who has done most for the promotion of Washington College football. The recipient is usually confined to a member of the first team, but may be a member of the second team, or one who doesn't play football. Mr. Bounds, of the Washington College Alumni Association, is the donor. Last year Robert L. Cary, of the class of 1932, received the award.

"Johnny" Lord was the recipient because of his fine all-around playing, and also because of the great fighting spirit he exhibited in each contest. Mr. Russell emphasized the fact that Lord had played at different times at the center, guard and tackle positions, attesting to his versatility.

Lord is a native of Cumberland, Maryland, and a graduate of Allegheny High School in that city.

He played his first football there. We hope his even greater success in the next two football campaigns, and congratulate the Coaches upon their selection.

Blue Key Fraternity To Give Minstrel Show

The Blue Key Minstrel Show scheduled to take place on January 20, in Bill Smith, is something to look forward to. It will be something different to be seen in these parts and consists of a well harmonized chorus. Some of the soloists will be Roland Lebeush, Charlie Harris, D. W. Clark, Jerry Gierakis, Joe Mooney, Bill McDonald, Dave Walcott, and others.

Also in the night's program will be such men as Ellery Ward, John Lord, Phil Skipp and Harry Wey holding down the end men berths.

Also a few dance steps will be shown to the audience by a well known dancer.

So what do you say we all give our support and come see this show for only 35 cents.

Compliments

of

Chestertown

Electric Light and Power

Company

Eyes examined and glasses fitted by a graduate
Optician. Fountain
Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films
and Developing.

J. S. KREEGER

Jeweler & Optometrist

Chestertown, Md.

RECOVERS FROM ILLNESS

Dr. J. S. W. Jones

It has been of great interest to the faculty and student body of Washington College to hear of the return of Dean J. S. William Jones to his class on Wednesday of this week. He was taken ill last Thursday and until this Wednesday he was confined to his home where his condition was said to have been serious.

Messick, Class Of '23, Visits College; Has M. D. Degree

Joseph M. Messick, '23, and wife, were among the many welcome visitors at the Alumni Office on Homecoming Day. After graduation, he taught for a year or two at Salisbury and then entered the University of Pennsylvania Medical School. He received his M. D. degree in 1928. He spent a year as an interne at the Reading Hospital. A fellowship appointment for three years made it possible for him to take a special course in the Graduate School of Medicine, the Mayo Clinic, at the University of Minnesota. He completed his work there in October. After a short vacation, he expects to take up the practice of his profession also up the year of his profession.

WE KNOW What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style centers.

You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.

Our clothes will meet every thing you demand of them.

BORDLEY & SON

The Best Of
EVERYTHING
Needed
FOR BUILDING
E. S. Adkins & Co.

Chestertown, Centreville
Easton, Salisbury

Compliments of

MARSHALL

Cleaners, Dyers, and
Repairers
Easton, Maryland

Student Council Minutes Of January 9 Given Out

The regular meeting of the Student Council was called to order by Pres. Ryan at 7 o'clock, January 9th, 1933.

Chas. Clark, chairman of the committee to revise the penalties of the Violation Committee, reported no progress.

Under new business a motion stating "Smoking is now forbidden only in the corridors and Chapel of William Smith Hall, and that smoking in the class rooms is now up to the discretion of the instructor" was made and carried. This rule does away with the old rule which prohibited all smoking in William Smith Hall.

The replacing of the Soph-Fresh tug-of-war of past years by some other inter-class contest was discussed. Pres. Ryan requested that this matter be considered by the members and brought up at the next meeting.

Fred Ullston requested the support of the council for the Student Budget, which is to be presented before the student body by the Blue Key Fraternity in the near future. Pres. Ryan assured Blue Key of the council's support in this matter.

Edith Miller proposed that some of the Rat Rules should be removed at this time, but his proposal met with little approval and was dropped.

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned.

Richard M. Gamber, Sec.

Activity Fee Of Seventy-Five Cents Added To Student Bill

It is a well known fact that various organizations on the Hill are hampered in their work by the lack of funds. The financial burdens are carried by a few who are members of one or more of the groups. A plan has been delivered by the Blue Key Fraternity whereby the representative bodies such as the Student Council, Blue Key, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A. and the M. V. Vernon Society may receive a fixed sum each semester. The plan calls for the small sum of 75c to be added to the school bill for each semester to be known as the Student Activities fee. This plan has been approved by President Titworth and Business Manager Johnson, and a petition will be circulated before exams for the signature of every student giving permission to the Business Manager to place the fee on the next semester's bill.

It is hoped that this plan will greatly aid organizations to improve their work and be of greater service to the Student body.

—Fred Ullston

A. L. SPARKS

Special in

Ladies' Hose
Newest Colors and
Weights

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing
103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

The Dalany-Vernoy Co.
337-339-341 North
Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest
Art China, Leather Goods,
Toys, Books, Athletic
Equipment

Football Banquet Held In Cafeteria

Prof. Frank Goodwin Is Toastmaster

The annual football banquet was held on Wednesday night, January 11.

Prof. Frank Goodwin was an excellent toastmaster, exhibiting some of his Southern qualities. After filling up on turkey and ample accessories, the gridders, cones and visitors settled back for a series of speeches. Coach Ekaltis lead off by stressing that cooperation is absolutely necessary between the coach and players before a true team can be placed on the field. Coach Kilmer then told of his associations with team-mates and then of fellows he had crunched. He ended by truly stating that in the final analysis it was the game that was tricky. Prof. Goodwin told of a few of the tricks played by football teams in the "Golden Age" of the sport. Warren Carey, guard of the 1932 team, told of the honors derived from his quickness, especially that of associations which otherwise wouldn't occur, but which are very beneficial. Dick Johnson, end, cited the advantages that football has in its immediate return. Johnny Gamber told of the opportunities for next year, congratulated the retiring captain and asked for even more cooperation in 1934. Retiring Captain Dick Johnson, Captain-elect of Senior speakers, thanked his team-mates for their support and expressed an unwillingness of having to end his football days for the Maroon and Black.

These present included, Prof. Frank Goodwin, Prof. J. J. Coop, Dr. P. G. Livingston, Prof. Makosky, Mr. James Johns, Coaches George L. Ekaltis, Howard Kilmer, and Russell Russell. The football men present who were previously presented the Varsity "W" were: Retiring Captain Joe Dickerson, Captain-elect Dick Johnson, Fred Ullston, Dick Johnson, Fred Ullston, Dick Johnson, Al Givatis, Ralph Harries, Fred Reinhold, Charles Clark, Richard Hall, Ellery Ward, Howard Kilmer, and Russell Russell. John Lord, Bill Nicholson, Al Blacien, Charley Berry, Mac McDonald, Mike Higginson and Phil Winston, Manager.

A singing vote of thanks was given Miss Bees Pontz for the fine banquet. She was very ably assisted by several of the coeds.

STUDENTS

We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.

Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Lanthier Line from Paris.

Abbott's DeLuxe Ice Cream.
Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

Washington Grid Stars ALUMNI TO HOLD CARD Given All-Maryland Mention PARTY AT SALISBURY

Dickerson, Gamber, Reinhold, Ward and Nicholson Named

Several of Washington College's grid stars were given honorable mention by W. Wilson Wingate in picking the Baltimore AMERICA'S All-Maryland football team for 1932.

The local players who were mentioned by Wingate included: 1932 Captain of the Maroon and Black and also the Captain-elect of the 1933 eleven. The complete list of those mentioned was as follows: Dickerson, Gamber, Ward, Reinhold and Nicholson. Wingate commented upon the fine defensive work of Dickerson in the line and Reinhold's accurate punting for the heels.

At the Committee Meeting of Washington alumni in the Southern Delaware area, called last fall in Salisbury by J. Funnell Johnson of Glen Burnie, president of the general Alumni Association, preliminary preparations were made for the holding at Salisbury on Friday evening, February 10, an informal alumni get-together and card party.

The committee of preparations is: Gilbert V. Byron, Lewes, Del., Chairman; Neval M. Cordry, Snow Hill, Md.; A. Roy Woodland, Marion Station, Md.; Albert E. Baker, Salisbury, Md.; Elizabeth A. Mace, Cambridge, Md.; Nelson F. Hurley, Greensboro, Md.; Elias W. Nottle, Denton, Md.

George H. Carrington, Crisfield; and J. Funnell Johnson, Glen Burnie, Md. There is abundant material in this area for a strong unit of the Washington College Alumni Association. With the growing prestige of the College its former students should become acquainted with each other and create a Washington College sentiment which would make real to the people of the lower Shore and lower Delaware the vitality and value of the College.

PENNINGTON
CONSTRUCTION CO.
Contractors and Builders
Chestertown, Md.
Phone 88W and 30S

SMITH'S
KUT-RATE
DRUG STORE
Chestertown, Maryland
Owen C. Smith, Prop.
Phone 189

—Advertise in The Elm.

Compliments of
H. F. Jefferson

Del-Mar-Va Restaurant
For
After Dance Lunches
And Regular Meals

You smoke a Pipe—

and we'd like to talk with you about it

All races of people since the beginning of time, so far as we have been able to read, have had some kind of a pipe and have smoked something—whether they called it tobacco or what not.

AND since smoking a pipe is so different from smoking a cigar or cigarette, we made a most painstaking, scientific study in an effort to make, if we could, a tobacco which was suited to pipes.

We found out, first, that there was a kind of tobacco that grew in the Blue Grass section of Kentucky called White Burley, and that there was a certain kind of this tobacco which was between the tobacco used for cigarettes and the tobacco used for chewing tobacco. It is this tobacco which is best for pipes.

We found out that Mr. J. N. Wellman, many years ago, made a pipe tobacco which was very popular. But it was never advertised and after he passed away nothing more was heard about it. We acquired this Wellman Method and that is what we use in making Granger.

©1931
SIGGETT & SMITH
TOBACCO CO.

TEN CENTS

The Granger pouch
keeps the tobacco fresh

Next was the cut. We knew that fine tobacco burnt hot because it burnt so fast. You could hardly hold your pipe in your hand, it got so hot at times. So remembering how folks used to "whittle" their tobacco we cut GRANGER just like "whittle" tobacco—"Rough Cut." It smokes cooler, lasts longer and never gums the pipe.

So far, so good. Now we wanted to sell this tobacco for 10c. Good tobacco —right process—cut right. So we put Granger in a sensible soft foil pouch instead of an expensive package, knowing that a man can't smoke the package.

GRANGER has not been on sale very long, but it has become a popular smoke. And we have yet to know of a man who started to smoke it, who didn't keep on. Folks seem to like it.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

VOL. XXXII. NO. 8.

SATURDAY, FEB. 11, 1933

PRICE TEN CENTS

FLYING PENTAGON MEETS HOPKINS

Student Assembly Held Friday

Discuss Improvement Of Honor Code

A special assembly of the entire Washington College student body was held yesterday in William Smith Hall to discuss ways and means of improving the functioning of the honor system at the college.

The assembly was called to order by Hubert Ryan, president of the Student Council. Mr. Ryan led to the business of the assembling by pointing out the fact that violations of the honor code have been increasing in numbers of late and that general laxness on the part of the student body has been developing in regard to the honor code.

Richard Gamber, secretary of the Student Council, next addressed the assembly, stating that he acknowledged the fact that the Council had not been functioning properly but he continued on to say that the Council would guarantee strict observance of the rules of the student government association in all future cases. Miss Genevieve Carvel next spoke, as representative of the Women's Council. Miss Carvel's speech was followed by short talks by Mr. Ready and Mr. Sadler. Both of these men expressed confidence in the Student government association as a workable organization.

Following these talks the assembly was turned over to a discussion of any plans or suggestions that the student body at a whole might have to make. The discussion was directed by Joseph Dickinson, Vice-President of the Student Council. During the discussion the question of whether or not the Council intended to support the entire body of rules of the student government association. The consideration of whether the Council should or should not handle drinking cases consumed a great deal of the discussion.

Near the close of the assembly it was requested by Miss Emily Jewell and Mr. Boyd Hopkins that a vote be taken to decide whether the student government association should be retained or not. However, it was decided to postpone the actual vote until some later date to be fixed by the Student Council.

The assembly was then dismissed without further business being brought up.

Assembly Schedule For Next Month Given

Dr. Frederick Livingston announced the following programs for the next four regularly scheduled assemblies.

Feb. 16—Dr. Raymond A. Pearson, President of the University of Maryland, College Park, Md.

Feb. 23—Dr. Raymond Walters, President of the University of Cincinnati, Cincinnati, Ohio.

March 2—Irvin F. Thomas, Coach with the Philadelphia Athletics, Philadelphia, Pa.

March 9—W. Wilson Wingate, feature sports writer of Baltimore News, Baltimore, Md.

BLUE KEY FRATERNITY TO GIVE MINSTREL SHOW

The Blue Key Fraternity, of Washington, presents its minstrel show on Wednesday evening, February 15, after a postponement of two weeks, the period of examinations.

The minstrels have put this extra allotted time in rehearsal, adding new bits and brushing up on their songs and dances. Practices will continue to be held up until the eve of presentation when the company will go through a full-dress rehearsal.

The Fraternity's foremost male theatrical talent has been successfully solicited to frolic in a gay jangle of music, song, dance and comedy. Be prepared to catch the jests of nimble-wit Huey in his exchange of quips with end-man Lord. Grog sentimental in song with Al Giriatz's rendering of heart-breaking numbers "A Little White Lie," "Dear "Sespey" Harris singing his heart-love song. Swing into jig time with the Washington quartet. Let yourself be carried off with Roland Leichbach's "Martha."

Besides the "circle" the cast will include such stars of minstrelsy as Skipp and Brinsfield, "Mullins" Moner, "Muckers" Gamber and "Bland-Venus" Ward, together with many lesser lights.

Blue Key is reviving the old time black face minstrel show after a lapse of some ten years. The company, consisting about the sensation of a decade. Curtain time is 8 P. M. Tickets are available from all Blue Key members. Enjoy two hours of ruckin' fun.

Freshmen Fatalities Great This Year

Within the past few weeks one freshman after another has dropped out from the first year class at Washington College. The causes are numerous. But the main reason is the lack of funds caused by the depression.

"Mick" Higginson the most popular freshman here was the first to leave. He is now working in Waterbury, Conn. He was followed by Edward Newark, of Wilmington, "Bill" MacDonald the chess athlete and crooner left a few weeks ago. Others who left are: S. S. Baker, Wyoming, Del.; Herbert Matt, Baltimore, D. C.; Harry, Takfort, Md.; Fred Brown, Chestertown; J. E. Richards, Frankfort, Del.; Ralph Hopkins, Sudersville; Loretta Lightner, Bedford Hills, N. Y.; Roger D. Watkins, Chesapeake City; J. E. Lerry, Rock Hall, Md.; J. B. Massey, Chestertown; A. B. Robson, Chesapeake City; J. E. Bries, Betterton; J. F. Smith, Denton, Md.; Anna Macdonald, P. M.; Paul E. Brubaker, Centerville; Don T. Falls, Chestertown; B. I. Gaiz, St. Michaels, Md.; H. J. Jones, Cambridge, Md.; Thos. Norris, Still Pond, Md.; A. J. Kaplan, Patterson, N. J.

Ballcock Applies For Postmaster's Position

Roland E. Bullock, a senior at Washington College, recently applied for the position of postmaster at Kelson. Bullock is a resident of Kelson.

ADDRESSES STUDENTS

The Shakespeare Players of Washington College, an organization composed chiefly of members and past members of the Shakespeare Class of Dr. Gettrude van A. Ingalls, will present, under the direction of Dr. Ingalls, "A Midsummer Night's Dream" at a time probably about three weeks distant.

The play will be given in William Smith Hall, and shortly, the tickets will be put upon sale. The cast has been well and skillfully chosen, and the play promises to be a worthy successor to the new historical "Roméo and Juliet," the first production of the players, and given last year.

Costumes are in the process of manufacture, and a most becoming collection can be predicted. The play will be given on a very close approximation of the Elizabethan stage at least in so far as stage properties are concerned. The Players are, in many cases, of last years experience, and so therefore more nearly finished actors and actresses.

"A Midsummer Night's Dream," it is recalled, is one of the most delightful and most finished of the Comedies, with its "Times of dewy gossamer." It is as a preface in the famous GLOBE EDITION says: "A Midsummer Night's Dream" is "a strange and beautiful world, delicately by a youthful poets fancy." The play is thought to have been written about 1593-94, and closed one of the playwrights early periods.

Due to the proximity of Feb. 14, the occasion was known as the "Valentine Cottle." In harmony with the spirit of the affair, the gymnasium was artistically decorated in red and white. The windows were hidden by single, full red hearts placed upon a white background. All lights were encased in white, upon which numerous smaller hearts were silhouetted, and from which a series of miniature hearts dangled. The orchestra played from a low platform at one end of the gymnasium, and as by its background a gigantic red heart, the strings of which led out to numerous smaller hearts bearing the names of the more prominent campus couples. That this distinctively original touch met with the approval of the students is evidenced by the fact that the last notes of the orchestra had scarcely died away before the platform and its decorations were rushed "en masse" by souvenir hunters seeking the particular heart which bore his or her (or their) names.

The patrons of the Valentine Cottle were: Mr. and Mrs. James G. Beck, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Uillon, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kibler, Dr. Gettrude van A. Ingalls, Dean Margaret Brewer, Mrs. John Speicher and Miss Anna Smith.

The Cottle Club Committee, which controls the destinies of the entire series of dances it composes of: William McA. Richards, John Gray McLain, deWitt Forman Chase, James D. Davis III, Joseph Mooney, Richard W. Cooper and Wm. W. T. Pippin.

Music was furnished by Herman Richards and his orchestra and refreshments were served in Reid Hall Lounge during the intermission.

SHAKESPEARE PLAYERS TO GIVE SECOND PLAY

The Shakespeare Players of Washington College, an organization composed chiefly of members and past members of the Shakespeare Class of Dr. Gettrude van A. Ingalls, will present, under the direction of Dr. Ingalls, "A Midsummer Night's Dream" at a time probably about three weeks distant.

The play will be given in William Smith Hall, and shortly, the tickets will be put upon sale. The cast has been well and skillfully chosen, and the play promises to be a worthy successor to the new historical "Roméo and Juliet," the first production of the players, and given last year.

Costumes are in the process of manufacture, and a most becoming collection can be predicted. The play will be given on a very close approximation of the Elizabethan stage at least in so far as stage properties are concerned. The Players are, in many cases, of last years experience, and so therefore more nearly finished actors and actresses.

"A Midsummer Night's Dream," it is recalled, is one of the most delightful and most finished of the Comedies, with its "Times of dewy gossamer." It is as a preface in the famous GLOBE EDITION says: "A Midsummer Night's Dream" is "a strange and beautiful world, delicately by a youthful poets fancy." The play is thought to have been written about 1593-94, and closed one of the playwrights early periods.

Mrs. Ingersoll Gives Library Painting

Washington College is particularly fortunate to have received in connection with a year of historical richness a fine oil representation of the original college building, the generous gift of Mrs. D. W. Ingersoll, done by her hand, and which now adorns the undecorated walls of the College Library.

The picture is a fancied reproduction of the first academic hall, and shows the campus as rich with trees and shrubs. The general outlines of the building are like those used on various papers of the Seneca-centennial celebration last June.

The picture now hangs at the south end of the Library. Mrs. Ingersoll is to be complimented on her most appreciated gift.

It is recalled that in connection with the visit of the Ambassador from Germany to the college last June, Baron von Prittwitz presented the institution with a cast in bronze of the First President. This likewise artistic object has not yet accordingly been exposed to public view.

Howell E. Donnell Addresses Students

On Thursday, February 2nd, at 11 o'clock A. M., Mr. Howell E. Donnell, Superintendent of the Maryland Penitentiary, spoke at the Washington College Assembly on the general subject of crime sources, and new trends in reform by imprisonment.

Blue Jays Seek Second Victory

Harry Huey Back In Shape

Johns Hopkins pays a visit to Chestertown to line up against the Flying Pentagon of Washington to play in a Maryland State League game. The Hopkins five will have its full strength available in an attempt to duplicate its 23-20 January victory over the Maroon and Black, and will bank heavily on Don Kelly to take out a winner.

Coch Kibler has his charges in position and ready to smash out a decisive triumph. The entire local squad is in good condition. Harry Huey and Al Hodgson who saw no service in the St. John's game of last week will be used in tonight's fray. Ward will probably play up in reserve for the back court berth. Shipp will start at center with Proudfoot and Grier at the forward position completing the local line-up.

In practices this week the Pentagon determined spirit and will not be satisfied with anything less than a victory by a 10 to 15 point margin. Should Proudfoot kick and Kelley be bottled up the Kibler combine will have a real trouble for a while.

Before the game is well won, we expect to see the entire red-jerseyed squad given a chance to show its wares.

Probable lineups:

Washington	F	Hopkins
Pre-effort	F	C. Kelley
Giriatz	F	Chancellor
Skipp	C	Camnitz
Ward	G	D. Kelley
Huey	G	Margolis

Dick Johnson Coaches High School Guards

Richard (Dick) Johnson, captain of the Washington College basketball team and a senior at the college, is acting as Coach of the Chestertown High School boys' basketball team. Johnson held this same position during the latter part of the 1932 season.

Coch Johnson will shortly enter the Washington College Athletic League Tournament to determine the champion high school college on the Eastern Shore.

Al Giriatz

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.
Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

EDITOR PHILIP J. WINGATE
Assistant Editor Charles B. Clark
Literary Editor Roland C. Ready
Society Editor W. McA. Richards
Exchange Editor Roland E. Leebusch

REPORTERS
Feature Reporter William Baker
Albert E. Dobkins, Albert Girault, Janet Atwater, P. Skipp.
Ervin L. Koerber, Morris Campbell, Carroll W. Casteel,
Richard Gamber

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES
Charles Clark, DeWitt Clarke, William Baker
SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES
Alexina Robinson, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF
Business Manager John McLean
Circulation Manager Patterson Beaman
Chief ST Photographer Enory Burkhardt
Advertising Manager Louis Goldstein

ASSISTANTS
Walter F. Dorman

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, FEB. 11, 1933

A GOOD SUGGESTION

We have heard considerable favorable comment upon Prof. Goodwin's suggestion to the Washington College student body that the students aid the administration in its attempt to enroll a large freshman class next fall. We consider such comment to be a favorable reflection upon the intelligence of Washington's citizenry. It proves to us that our fellow students think along consistent lines; they realize that the same conditions that caused them to choose Washington as the college most suited to their needs still exist for a great many of their friends who will be faced with the problem of deciding on a college to cast their lot with next fall.

There is a remarkable tendency of people to overlook the most obvious facts and conditions in any given situation. Consequently we would like to bring out several points that because of their very obviousness may have been neglected in thinking over the question of encouraging students to express themselves to others concerning their college.

We know that most Washington students and alumni, when speaking of their college to prospective students, will be motivated by thoughts of gratitude and love for their Alma Mater. The fact that so many Washingtonians have such thoughts concerning their college indicates a realization of the unique advantages offered by the Eastern Shore's only institution of higher learning. However we wonder how many alumni realize, when they direct others to this college, that besides repaying the college in part for services it has rendered them, they are indirectly helping a large group of other people including themselves.

It is certainly true that the student who is guided by such advice to complete his education at Washington College will be benefited by his association with a modern and efficient institution supported by over one hundred and fifty years of honorable tradition. But it is not, just as certain that this individual's associates and community will be benefited by contact with him?

Most clearly of all, however, the graduate himself will be benefited. No college ceases to influence a man on the day he walks from its doors with a diploma in his hands; to the man who has caught the true college spirit his Alma Mater remains a vital thing. And certainly a growing and dynamic college will be a far more significant thing in its graduate's life than one that is in the process of decay.

If we wish our college to be one to which we can point with pride and turn to for aid, then we must support it.

SORRY

It seems that we wasted a lot of effort and space in our recent editorial concerning the library's fine situation. We went to great pains to advocate a system that was already in existence and functioning. According to the librarian a complete list of all students having overdue books has been posted regularly three times a week throughout the semester on the main bulletin board. The "Elm" regrets any misunderstanding this error on our part may have caused.

SLIPPERY ELM

By ROLAND C. READY

According to all reports a major crisis has hit the campus. An organization which has in the past met with a fair degree of success, is being challenged. Perhaps no problem of the last four years has caused such wide spread propaganda, and aroused the interest of so many students for we are all more or less involved. The student body is being over a problem which could have been prevented.

As in any problem each of us are seeking for a solution which will at least satisfy our own narrow thinking. In this case we are too prone to choose the way of least resistance and place all the blame on the hand-out object—in this case it is the Council and we will be hearing the Council does not function as it should.

After we have all decided the Council has failed we ask the question why? This is where we hesitate and develop the question no further. Why do we hesitate? Because in seeking for a cause for Council failure the evidence begins to point to us as individuals and as a student body.

Has the Council failed or have we failed? We have elected ten men to office, thrown the entire burden on their shoulders. Then we folded our hands, relaxed, sighed and said: "It might work, it might not, who cares."

Naturally, it did not work and the student who cared least began to protest when he saw the student officers turned into a lower mark through someone's "cribbing."

Now we have arrived at another angle. Was the Council made the proper effort? We are forced to give the rat and try it his way and some of its members have fallen into the rat, violated the honor system and are in no position to act as a judge.

Some of the individual faculty members have also helped weaken the system. Students are objecting to various classroom practices of the professors, which are not conducive to the Honor System. If a true professor in the room who does not search for "cribbing" lends dignity to the class room. But when professors number seats, pass out exam questions and before the test starts inspects the papers to see that no notes have been written on them, moves pupils from the rear to the front of the room and continually sneers the class with a critical eye, the student is sure to feel that he is under an espionage and not an Honor System.

The Honor System can function and will function if we as students frown upon violations. I believe there is no need for re-organization if the Council decides to re-pledge themselves and give this warning in a public statement that the past is deleted out and that they will function with the proper support of students and administration.

Next year when a new body comes into power an assembly period should be devoted for publicly swearing in the Council and to explain the Honor System. What Washington needs is honor consciousness and public path is one step toward that goal.

BARNETT'S
BARBER SHOP
Over Sterling's Drug Store
First Class Service and
Expert Workmen

Greek Letter Notes

GAMMA SIGMA NOTES

Miss Ruth Cannon, has accepted a bid to the Gamma Sigma Sorority. We are very glad to welcome her as a pledge and hope to accept her on a full-fledged member soon, together with our Freshman pledges, Carolyn Helms, Carolyn Jewell and Gladys Rebecca Albridge.

Miss Gertrude Chancy spent the last week end with Miss Bertha Faulk at her home in Collamer, Pa.

Miss Mary Jane Nield was elected as a Sophomore member of the Women's Student Council.

SIGMA TAU DELTA

The furnishing of the sorority room has been quite adequately completed by the addition of a table and mirror recently.

Miss Virginia Waller was a welcome visitor to the campus last week.

Clements & Clements, Inc.

CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING

"Keep your clothes fit"
Prompt Service
Phone 437
Dover, Delaware

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store

Where Your Dollar

Has More Cents

McCALLISTERS

Est. 1894
Baltimore's Oldest Sport Store
Outfitters to Washington College
124 W. Baltimore, MD.
BALTIMORE, MD.

After A Studious Day

Relax at
JIM'S and HICK'S
Billiard Parlor

THE REXAL STORE EASTMAN KODAKS

FILMS
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING
BY EXPERTS
DRUGS and
SUNDRIES
Of All Kinds
A. L. STERLING

TOLD TO ME

By I. ONLY HEARD

We've often heard that upper classmen forget that they once were freshmen, but now it seems that freshmen forget that upper classmen once were rats. Otherwise, how could that group of this year's rat class expect to find protection on the auditorium stage, to whom they have been fled, when they heard rumors of a probable "rat party"? They seem to forget that it, and when the much promised "party" does paddle its way into full swing, all the possible big places will be thoroughly searched by students who in their freshman days, realized forcibly the futility of trying to evade "the board of education." A certain group of the present yearlings can very wisely profit by the unfortunate results that followed the senior class when they, as freshmen, also evaded decorating and undercoating the gym at earlier times.

Although we cannot presume to "agitate" for such a move, it seems to us that to allow the girls in Reid to have their own rat party, a series of dances being inaugurated at the Chestertown Armory would be an excellent idea. These dances give promise of being excellently chaperoned and should be given in a highly desirable manner. It is logical that if the entire college has permission to "leave the hill" to attend the opening dance, it will not a precedent for the succeeding dances to follow and the entire series will assume an atmosphere from the start that will be very similar to such affairs held by the college. As such, where else there is cause for objection?

Did you know that—
Maurice finds his tonic extremely effective. There is an interesting comparison between Wednesday's assembly speaker and some others we've been exposed to. There are ten casualties in the freshman class since exams started. Hodgson is likely going to die. How long awaited rainstorm should ought to be interesting as well as amusing the repeal of the 18th Amendment will be broadcast on a nationwide basis. There should be a choir for everyone in the cafeteria between exams and fish whenever the latter are served. Even dreams must apparently be rehearsed although there was a time when a tap on the arm of a dancing couple at a cotillion meant, "May I break?"—it now seems to be a command to reinvent instead of "what?" a constant "nope" is as undesirable as a dry tray in the cafeteria????

MRS. HARRY WHITE
Washington
Cannon St. next to Bowling Alley

Compliments

of

Chestertown

Electric Light and Power

Company

Washington Five Defeats St. Johns

Take Easy Contest From Johnnies

In a game lacking the thrills and closeness that is generally characteristic of a Washington College-St. Johns contest, the Flying Pentagon team easily defeated the Chalkboard eagles by the score 31 to 21 last Saturday night in the Washington College gymnasium.

Dol Proudfoot started his team off with a beautiful shot a few seconds after the opening whistle, and shortly afterwards, followed up with another double-decker and a foul shot. St. Johns did not score until the Shoremen had rung up ten points and eight minutes had been played. The Johnnies were playing cautious basketball and made sure of themselves. The game was similar to one played by the two teams last year, except that in this encounter, Washington College had a large lead at half time instead of St. Johns' score by Skipp, elongated center, Girault and Proudfoot gave the Flying Pentagon this lead.

The game ended with the Flying Pentagon's lineup consisting of second and third stringers, and Dutch Lertz sending in substitutes for St. Johns'. The final score read 33-21.

Shop At The
B. & L. 5c to $1.00
VARIETY STORE
321 High St.
For Your Wants

Compliments of
H. D. OREM & SON

Modern Shoe Repairing
Store
PAUL SIPALA
Next to Sterling Drug

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149
C. W. Kibler & Sons
Chestertown, Maryland

Eyes examined and glasses fitted by a graduate Optician. Fountain
Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films
and Developing.

J. S. KREEGER
Jeweler & Optometrist
Chestertown, Md.

Compliments of
MARSHALL
Cleaners, Dyers, and
Repairers
Easton, Maryland

U. OF MD. DEFEATS LOCAL CAGERS BY 35-27 SCORE

The University of Maryland's basketball quintet defeated the Flying Pentagon by a score of 35 to 27 last Wednesday night in the Ritchie gymnasium at College Park.

The game was a see-saw affair throughout the first half with the Terrapins showing a more marked superiority in the second period. The score at half time was 18 to 14 in favor of the Old Liners.

Vincent was high scorer for the night with a total of 12 points. Al Giraults of the Flying Pentagon and Chase of Maryland tied for the second high scoring honors with 10 points each.

Summary:

Maryland	G	F	T
Chase, f	4	2	10
Stieber, f	3	0	0
Walton, f	0	0	0
Evans, f	0	0	0
Vincent, c	3	6	12
Wober, g	0	0	0
Boucher, g	2	0	4
Levine, g	0	0	0

Totals 32 11 55

Washington	G	F	T
Proudfoot, f	1	4	6
Giraults, f	5	10	0
Hodges, f	0	0	0
Gambler, f	0	1	1
Skipp, c	1	3	5
Ward, g	0	0	0
Johnson, g	1	1	3
Blancett, g	0	2	2
Blancett, g	0	0	0

Totals 8 11 27

Score by halves:
Maryland 18 17-35
Washington 14 13-27
Referee—Menton and Neun

Flying Pentagon Bows To Loyola

Jesuits Take Over-Time Game 36-35

The Washington Flying Pentagon met defeat by a hair's breadth by Loyola, 36 to 35 in an extra period game at Evergreen January 28.

The contest opened with Capt. Johnson sinking three baskets from the floor in rapid succession. Washington held the lead at the end of the first half 19 to 17 after a spurt when players were dropping baskets from all angles. Washington continued to lead in the second period until Loyola tied at 23-all and then the lead see-sawed back and forth. The regular game ended in a 22-22 tie. In the extra five-minute period Loyola scored four points to Washington's three. A Washington basket, which would have meant victory just at the end of the extra period, was disallowed because the ball was not in the air as the whistle blew.

GILL BROS. ICE CREAM

Dainties Assorted Blocks

STUDENTS

We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.

Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Lanthier Line from Paris.

Abbott's DeLuxe Ice Cream.
Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

The
Third National Bank
Chestertown, Md.

The Only
National Bank
In Kent County

WE KNOW
What Young Men Want
You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.
You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothing is a recognized authority in style centers.
You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.
Our clothes will meet every type you demand of them.
BORDLEY & SON

DEAR MISS CO-ED:
Welcome home! We are glad to hear that you are back in town.
In keeping with the times, we have tempered our prices, but we still luxuriously indulge in as many crisp, fresh linen towels as we believe essential to the facial.
We still continue extravagantly (perhaps?) using the best waving lotions and we haven't the heart to cut our permanent waving preparations, either.
So, you see, we are offering you our best at the best prices. What can be more fair.
PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE
306 Park Row Phone No. 334

DEL PROUDFOOT LEADS CAGERS IN SCORING

Del Proudfoot is high scorer for the Flying Pentagon with a total of 78 points, according to the records given out by Manager Willard Sander. Al Giraults ranks second with a total of 50 points. The standing is as follows:

Proudfoot	78
Giraults	50
Huey	46
Skipp	44
Ward	29
Hedgson	25
Johnson	18
Clements	6
Bilancetti	5
Gambler	4
Evans	2
Nickelson	1
Total	308

Toulson's Pharmacy

Cordially invites the student to enjoy the privileges of a well-stocked drug store.

Parker Pens our specialty.

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students
Offers Complete Line of Conklin and Wahl Pens and Pencils. Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery, And School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

NEW 700 ROOM CLUB HOTEL

Transient Rates $1.50 per day up, with bath $2 up

Club life, restaurant, free swimming pool, gym, library, spacious lounges, roof garden, separate floors for men and women. Six minutes from Penn or Grand Central Stations.

GEORGE TURKEL, Manager

$8 to $14 Weekly

KENMORE HALL

145 East 23rd St. N. Y. CITY

Just East of Lexington Avenue

The Emerson Hotel

Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled
Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT

(Formerly Candy Kitchen)

For food of the Best Quality at Popular Prices. Home Cooking, Prompt Service. Sandwiches of all kinds. Cakes, Sodas, Fancy Sundae, Home Made Pies and all kinds of Soft Drinks at the Fountain.

Try Our 50c Dinner
Guarantee Satisfaction
Visit The
CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT
(Open 6 A. M. to 12 midnight)

DWYER RETURNS TO WASHINGTON COLLEGE

Alpha Kappa Is Leading Frat Basketball League

Former Chester Athlete Was Grid Star

Ellis Dwyer, a social senior, returned to Washington College at the beginning of the present semester, after an absence of two years due to temporary financial difficulties.

This rugged Pennsylvania will be a big asset to the local football team. However he has not decided whether he will play football or basketball during the coming spring. Should Dwyer decide to play lacrosse he would greatly strengthen Coach Elvath's stick combination as the local (Continued In Next Column)

The intra-mural basketball leagues have progressed with a great deal of rivalry and spirit among the opposing teams. The standings on Wednesday, Feb. 7, of the teams were:

Fraternity and Dormitory League

Team Won Lost Percentage

Alpha Kappa 4 1 800

Phi Sigma Tau 3 1 750

West Hall 3 2 600

Phi Sigma Phi 2 3 400

(Continued In Next Column)

Each team has produced one or two outstanding players. Prominent among these are Rice, of Alpha Kappa, MacDonald (who has left college) of West Hall, Carey of the Jun-

East Hall	1	3	250
Middle Hall	1	4	200
Intra-Class League
Team	Won	Lost	Percentage
Sophomore	3	0	1000
Freshmen	2	1	666
Junior	1	2	333
Senior	0	3	000

Each team has produced one or two outstanding players. Prominent among these are Rice, of Alpha Kappa, MacDonald (who has left college) of West Hall, Carey of the Jun-

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing
103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

iors, Shaull of the Sophomores and Mooney of the Phi Sigma Phi team.

FENNINGTON
CONSTRUCTION CO.
Contractors and Builders
Chestertown, Md.
Phone 88W and 305

SMITH'S
KUT-RATE
DRUG STORE
Chestertown, Maryland
Owen C. Smith, Prop.
Phone 189

Del-Mar-Va Restaurant
For
After Dance Lunches
And Regular Meals

HERB'S
QUICK LUNCH
Sandwiches of all Kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Voshell House

— Advertise in The Elm.

Tobacco to smoke right has to be a different kind of tobacco from that used in cigarettes... and it has to be made by an entirely different process...

OUT in Kentucky, where they have pretty women, fast horses, and blue grass, there grows a tobacco called White Burley. It doesn't grow anywhere else in the world.

There is a type of this White Burley that is best suited for pipe smoking. It is neither too thick nor too thin. It is not light and chaffy; at the same time, it is not rank or strong. "U. S. Type 31" is the government classification for White Burley.

Since no other pipe tobacco has yet been found which seems to equal White Burley, this is what we use in making Granger Rough Cut.

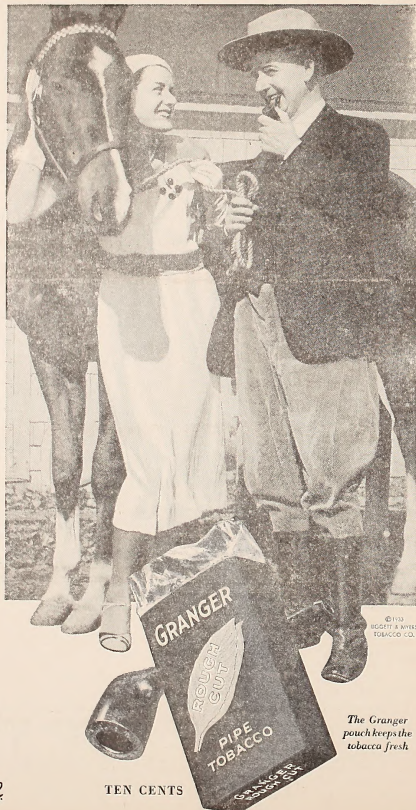

Next, we use the Wellman Method, a famous 1870 method of making pipe tobacco, to give Granger its fine flavor and fragrance. Then, too, Granger is "Rough Cut"—just like they used to "whittle" their tobacco off a plug with a jack-knife. It smokes cool, lasts longer and never gums a pipe.

And finally, we want to sell Granger for 10 cents. Good tobacco—right process—cut right. So we put Granger in a sensible soft foil pouch instead of an expensive package, knowing that a man can't smoke the package.

Granger has not been on sale very long, but it has grown to be a popular smoke. Folks seem to like it.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

TEN CENTS

©1933
LIGGETT & MYERS
TOBACCO CO.

The Granger
pouch keeps the tobacco fresh

Washington Meets Loyola Quintet Tonight

Flying Pentagon Defeats Delaware 20-16

Seek Revenge For Early Defeat

Kiblerites Take Second Contest

Dick Gamber Stars For Washington

(Special to The "Elm")

Newark, Del., Feb. 24.—The Flying Pentagon defeated the University of Delaware's basketball quint last night by a 20 to 16 score.

The game was featured by very close guarding on both sides. In the first half neither of the two quintets opened up but seemed to be content to control the ball and feel out the opposition.

Dick Gamber played a brilliant game of basketball for the Maroon and Black and took high scoring honors for the night with a total of 18 points.

Led by O'Connell, the Delaware quint held a 9 to 6 advantage at half time. The Blue Hens were unable to lead the basket with any degree of accuracy due to the excellent defense of the Flying Pentagon. In fact Coach Kibler's charges limited the opposition to a total of three field goals, the remaining points being scored on foul shots.

Couch Tom Kibler started almost an entirely different lineup from the one that easily took the measure of the Delawareans in the first game of a home and home series this winter. Proudfoot and Clements at forward, Skipp at center and Huey and Gamber at guard completed the visitor's lineup. The brilliant work of Gamber throughout the game will probably earn him a position in the starting lineup of the Flying Pentagon tonight against Loyola at Chestertown.

De Proudfoot and Skipp at forward and center respectively for the Flying Pentagon turned in very creditable exhibitions of basketball. Skipp jumped well at the tap-off and fought hard throughout the contest while Proudfoot's punting was as small factor in the attack of the Marylanders.

The summary:

Washington	G	F	T
Proudfoot, f	1	2	3
Clements, f	0	0	0
Girault, c	1	0	2
Hodgeson, f	0	0	0
Skipp, c	3	0	6
Gamber, g	4	1	9
Huey, g	0	0	0
Ward, g	0	0	0
Totals	5	3	20

Delaware	G	F	T
O'Connell, c	0	0	0
Kaufman, f	2	1	5
Greer, c	0	0	0
Kemke, g	1	3	3
Leahy, g	0	0	0
Haggerty, g	0	0	0
Totals	3	10	16

Umpire—Gallagher.
Referee—Naylor.

ALBERT E. DOBKINS INJURED AT ST. JOHNS

Albert E. Dobkins of the Junior Class of Washington College suffered a painful injury last Tuesday night, February 21st in the St. John's College gymnasium prior to the Washington College-St. John's basketball contest.

Dobkins was practicing on the floor with the rest of the Flying Pentagon Squad, when in the act of passing to Al Blahodiet he ran too far under the basket, tripped over a temporary bleacher seat and fell headlong into a radiator. He was stunned by the impact and taken immediately to the St. John's infirmary where six stitches were taken to close a deep cut over his right eye which was too injured to see from. Dobby has spent most of the week recuperating and is now well on the road to recovery. Coach Kibler expressed regret that Dobby was hindered from participating in basketball practice this week, for he is an excellent fighter and valuable in making his teammates work harder.

Ready, Richards Elected To Pegasus Offices

Roland C. Ready and J. Nelson Richards were elected Editor and Business Manager, respectively, of the 1933 "Pegasus" at a meeting of the senior class held February 16 in Room 21 in William Smith Hall.

The meeting was called by President Joseph B. Dickerson, when William M. A. Richards, who had been editor of the "Pegasus" left school. Ready had been Business Manager for Richards.

The class voted that Richards be given credit in the "Pegasus" for laying out the plan for the book. The seniors voted that Paul Pippen be asked to continue in his position of assistant editor of the "Pegasus."

White Studio Photographers To Be Here Next Week

The photographers from White Studio will be here during the first part of March. This year will be their last trip to the Campus this year and all "Pegasus" pictures must be taken at this time. Notices will be posted on the bulletin board in time to allow those scheduled to appear. Failure to appear as scheduled will result in the picture being left out of the book. If anyone finds he is not able to appear when scheduled, he will notify the Editor as soon as possible. Your kindness co-operation is asked. The "Pegasus" is your annual and you can contribute your share to making it a success by cooperating with the staff.

Roland C. Ready, Editor.
All students are required to cast a ballot for the officers of the Men's Student Council this Monday, February 26, in the Dean's office between the hours of 9 A. M. and 2:30 P. M.

BIOGRAPHER

Dr. Gertrude van A. Legalle, head of the English department at Washington College, is completing a biography of Jonathan Swift.

Student Council Resigns In Body

The Men's Student Council of Washington College yesterday, Friday, February 23, resigned as a body. The resignation was the culmination of a Student Assembly in which the Student Council presented the Honor System, that it had drawn up of the Student Government Constitution.

Mr. Hubert Ryan, President of the Student Council, presided at the Assembly. Ryan called for the purpose of the meeting, he set forth the proposed changes in the Constitution. These changes deal with Articles III, IV, and IX which include Membership, Duties and Powers, and the Honor System respectively. Mr. Ryan noted the nature of said changes and then asked for discussion or questions on the part of Students.

After a brief Student discussion, Mr. Ryan asked for a motion to the effect that the changes be accepted by the Student Body. Before this motion was made however, Mr. Hopkins of the Senior Class made a motion to the effect that a vote be taken on the question of whether or not the Student Government should continue to exist or be abolished at Washington College. This vote was taken and by a large plurality the Student Government was retained. Mr. Ryan then called for a vote on the proposed changes to the Constitution. After the proper procedure was gone through this vote was taken with the result that the changes were almost unanimously accepted. These changes provide that the Honor System shall be taken to mean all that pertains to individual responsibility in academic work.

After the vote on proposed changes was taken and the result tabulated, a motion was made that elections be held by the Student Body and the various classes to elect Student Council Members over again. Before this motion was even seconded, the Student Council necessitated such elections by resigning as a body.

MIDDLE HALL DEFEATS EAST HALL CAGERS

Middle Hall defeated East Hall last night in a thrilling basketball game which ended 11 to 10 as Davis, elongated center for the winners, tossed in the winning point on a foul after the final whistle had blown. In the other interhall game, played last night, the Phi Sigma Phi forced the Phi Sigma Phi Fraternity to take the first game of a 18 to 6 count.

The first game was a nip and tuck affair from start to finish with the Middle Hall Club holding a slight advantage throughout the contest except once in the second half when a shot by Cohee made the count 9 all. Barnhart and Measell started for the winners.

The Phi Sigma Phi Fraternity assumed a 6 point lead early in the game with the Phi Sigma Phi Fraternity and never lost the lead after that.

Assembly Speakers For Next Month Given

Speakers for the weekly eleven o'clock Thursday morning Washington College assemblies for the month of March will include the following men:

- March 2.—Mr. Ira F. Thomas, Special Representative of the Guild Re- Co., Philadelphia, Pa.
- March 9.—W. Wilson Wingate, Baltimore News, Baltimore, Md.
- March 16.—Rabbi Edward Israel, Har Sinai Congregation, Baltimore, Md.
- March 23.—Superintendent Ignatius Bjorkie, Md. State School for the Deaf, Frederick, Md.
- March 30.—Dr. James M. Hepburn, Director Criminal Justice Commission, Baltimore, Md.

College Board Meets To Choose President

The board of Visitors and Governors of Washington College, met at the college Thursday, February 23rd to consider applications for the presidency of the college. The meeting was conducted by Col. Hiram S. Brown, chairman of the board.

The board was unable to agree upon any of the many applicants for the position, according to Dr. Paul E. Titworth, retiring president who will next year take over the presidency of Alfred University, his Alma Mater. Dr. Titworth stated that the board expected to reach an agreement in the near future.

According to a statement in the "Enterprise" Dean Rogers of Piedmont College, Georgia, is one of the leading candidates for the vacancy.

George Eliatt, head coach of football and lacrosse here, will stage a little "combate" at his Alma Mater, Western Maryland, next Saturday night when the Terror Alumni meet Dick Harlow's present crew of glove swingers.

Lineup For Big Game Uncertain

The Flying Pentagon will engage Loyola's Greyhound quintet tonight, the local gymnasium in an effort to wipe out a 36 to 35 over-time defeat pinned on it earlier in the season by the Jesuits.

A capacity crowd is expected to attend this game clinic which has long been recognized as the high light of Maryland college basketball scraps. Excitement in Chestertown and at the college has reached the fever heat stage as Eastern Shore fans contemplate this imposing struggle between the Maroon and Black and the Green and Grey. According to Graduate Manager Fred Dammichoff the entire reserve seat section has been sold out and still requests are pouring in from all over the Shore for tickets.

Coach Kibler has been experimenting with the starting lineup of the Flying Pentagon during the past week. Against St. Johns, De Proudfoot was shifted to center in place of Phil Skipp and Al Hodgson played off with Girault at the forward posts. The local manager has given out no announcement as to what is likely to be his starting combination in the all important affair tonight. However, it is fairly certain that harring injuries Huey will hold one of the guard positions.

The Greyhounds will bank heavily on "Chief" Bender at guard and Vince Carlin and Bobbie Belts at the forward posts in their efforts to repeat their earlier triumph. It was Carlin who bagged a long one from mid court to send the Evergreen afloat into an extra period after the Flying Pentagon had taken a two point lead with 35 seconds left to play.

A victory over Loyola tonight would be even more pleasing to the locals than in former years in view of the fact that several members of the Flying Pentagon believe that the confusion existing about the timing of the game at Evergreen cost them the contest. Should De Proudfoot regain the form that he exhibited against Loyola in the game down here last year, it is certain that the Kibler combination will be hard to beat. Coach Kibler is satisfied with the work of Ward and Huey as guards and is confident that these huskies will be set to give a good account of themselves. It is not known whether or Hodgson will be given a chance to display his wares or not, however those who saw it at St. Joseph's game this year know that this tiny forward is capable of playing brilliant basket ball on occasions.

Probable Lineups:	Washington	Loyola
Proudfoot	F	Belts
Clements	F	Carlin
Skipp	C	Taneyhill
Huey	G	Bender
Gamber	G	Lusk

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

EDITOR PHILIP J. WINGATE
 Assistant Editor Charles B. Clark
 Literary Editor Roland C. Ready
 Society Editor W. McA. Richards
 Exchange Editor Roland E. Leckebusch

REPORTERS

Feature Reporter William Baker
 Albert E. Donkins, Janet Atwater, P. Skipp
 Edwin L. Koerber, Morris Campbell, Carroll W. Casteel,
 Richard Gamber

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

Charles Clark, DeWitt Clarke, William Baker

SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES

Alexina Robinson, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager John McLain
 Circulation Manager Patterson Beaman
 Chief Staff Photographer Emory Burkhardt
 Advertising Manager Louis Goldstein

ASSISTANTS

Walter F. Dorman

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, FEB. 25, 1933

"TAKING IT"

The tragic death of Ernie Schaaf brought into bold relief the attitude that so many sport fans took toward their idols.

The "sport fan" not only insists that his athletic hero be able to "take it" but that he actually take considerable of it. Only a short while ago Schaaf was a brilliant young heavyweight who was considered to be a good prospect for the heavyweight championship. He had won a reputation as a hard, willing fighter. Consequently crowds packed the sports centers to watch him fight and cheer his greatness—when he won. No one questioned Schaaf's greatness then. However, when he sank to the canvass at the hands of a giant who far out-matched him after having "taken" all that the bravest of men could take, fifteen out of the twenty thousand spectators in the stadium rose up with the cry of "fake." They did not think of his limp and dying gladiator. They could not give him their money's worth. They wanted to see him stand and have his face cut and pounded until it could not be recognized as human flesh. Not one of these blood-thirsty human beings believed Schaaf capable of getting up from the floor and defeating Carnera; they were certain that if he did get up the final result would be a victory for the Italian. Yet, these "sport fans" did not want Schaaf to escape in such an "easy" manner. Even the next day when Schaaf lay dying many newspapers carried accounts by men declaring the whole thing to be a fake.

This attitude can be observed in sports other than boxing. The fans cry for "blood" in all sports. A vicious tackle, a hard body check in hockey or a punishing hold in wrestling will bring the spectators to their feet cheering. It does not matter that the victim may be lying in mortal agony.

The emotionally overwrought athlete who insists on "sticking in there" even after punishment and fatigue have seriously impaired his effectiveness is encouraged to continue "taking it." However, after the athlete has obeyed this "call of the wild" so often and "taken in" until he is no longer able to, this fact is quickly forgotten by the public. The savage continues to demand his pound of flesh and "thumbs down" is the reward of the one who can no longer "take it." The reason for his inability does not enter into consideration.

WILLIAM MCA. RICHARDS

Washington College lost a real artist when Bill Richards left school a short while ago. Richards had the enviable reputation of having done just exactly those things which he wanted to while in college. Naturally in following out such a policy Richards earned himself some enemies.

However, even the enemies of this cultured Cumberland gentleman recognized his ability in the various fields that interested him. This fact is testified to by the many offices which Richards was entrusted with by his fellow students. Richards' originality and straightforward acknowledgment of his views won for him the respect of all those who had occasion to work with him even though his views were often not those held by the majority or those in authority. But like the true artist that he was Bill continued his way undisturbed when his policies aroused the clomping of the wolves at his door.

SLIPPERY ELM

By ROLAND C. READY

Through lack of interest one of the most worth while activities is dying in slow death. Several years ago Washington College produced a debating team which was worthy of representing the college. Each year interest is shown by fewer candidates report for tryouts, the managers become discouraged; fewer debates are scheduled and consequently the activity is being erased from our calendar of college events.

Few will deny the fact that debating is excellent training in public speaking, not only in the speaking aspect itself but in the organization and preparation of the speech. The lack of interest, however, seems to lie in the dread word "preparation." The answer that most students give when asked why they don't interest themselves in debating is, "well, I would like to debate but it's too much trouble. Who wants to sit down and dig up material? No, I just let it come out this way." It certainly is a wonderful excuse. It seems that the afternoon nap or the half hour of bridge can not be neglected for the world.

This year one person in addition to two last year members answered the call. There could have been three trips and one home debate if the interest shown would have merited it. Now, it looks as if the whole matter will have to be dropped completely.

Although I have no statistics to prove my point I understand that at most colleges the cheer leaders receive a letter at the end of their senior year. I have often wondered why Washington College did not adopt this policy. Not that cheer leaders should come out merely for the sake of the letter but the fact that there was a letter to be earned would place cheer leading on a level with other activities.

What has happened to the Blue Key petition? It suddenly appeared and just as suddenly disappeared. At least it is no longer talked about. From observing a defeat of the petition seemed inevitable and the argument that is usually given against it is one of principle and not that of money. I too, believe that it made provisions for the support of organizations that the student body at large should not be called upon to support. But setting this prejudice aside I contained enough words alone provisions to justify its existence and should have been supported by the student body.

JAMES E. NEWTON

Cleaning - Pressing - Repairing

103 Court Street
 Chestertown, Maryland

PENNINGTON CONSTRUCTION CO.

Contractors and Builders
 Chestertown, Md.
 Phone 48W and 30S

SMITH'S DRUG STORE

Chestertown, Maryland
 Owns Smith, Prop.
 Phone 189

PURLOINED PHRASES

Here is a poem found in the "Brooklyn Polytech Reporter":

"What have you done," Saint Peter asked,
 "That I should admit you here?"

"I found a paper," the editor said,
 "Of my college for one year."
 "St. Peter pitying shook his head
 And gravely touched a bell;
 "Come in, poor thing, and select your hall."
 "You've had your share of hell."

Freshman: "Aren't the stars numerous tonight?"

Said: "Yes, and aren't there a lot of them?"

The "Tower" relays a Bowdoin poet's contribution:
 "We laugh at all the professor's jokes
 No matter what they say;
 It's not because they're funny ones,
 Just 'cause it's policy."

1st Co-ed: "That Sophomore proposed to me last night!"

2nd Co-ed: "Yes, doesn't he do it beautifully!"

It is fifty-fifty. Women have their credit beauties.

He: "You can't believe anything you hear."

Co-ed: "No, but you can repeat it."

An "American Intercollegiate Association of Giggles," has been organized at Santa Barbara College to escort the co-eds. The sponsors promise to provide the "proper man in the proper attire" for what is hoped are proper occasions.

King Solomon: "We've got to fire these gold-digging sheas out of the temple or this nation is sunk."

Court Jester: "They, sure do heat up the prophecies."

And then there was the Scotchman who said the scraggy was so good that he left a tip.

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

TOLD TO ME

By I. ONLY HEARD

Our fair co-eds not only believed that they were really going to have a "hot" time at their Valentine Dance but they even prepared for emergencies. Otherwise, who could have guessed that the music could be blasted out by the Pocomoke City Fire Company Band.

We wonder whether or not others noticed the humor in the fact that as the convulsional production entered the sacred portals of Bill Smith. The orchestra played the "War March of the Priests."

The recent minstrel show was truly "howling success." We cannot understand whence came the invitation for the show to be given on Kent Island. We could swear that it could have been heard at least that far when it was given here.

We hear that the Shakespeare Players have been invited to present their "Macbeth" production in Cambridge after its opening night on the hill. If there must be two productions, why can't one be given in Cambridge and the other in Siam?

It is a shame that there is no longer a society column in "Ye goede old Elms." Now we have no means of knowing who spent the week end in Baltimore. And, speaking of leaving college for week ends and often one-day holidays, we hear that "Skip" asked "the Major" not to go home for George's birthday—and forgot that she had agreed. No wonder she was wiped when he realized that he had left for a holiday himself.

And who is the freshman co-ed who bet Jack Knoloff a twenty-five gold piece against eight dates that she could keep a resolution of some kind during Lent. Even though that may be just another means of having dates, at least we can figure on the value of each date in Reid Hall.

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

SHAKESPEARE CLUB TO PRESENT PLAY

Midsummer Night's Dream Chosen

Elaborate Production Planned for March 10th

The Shakespeare Club of Washington College, under the direction of Dr. Gertrude van A. Ingalls, will soon sponsor its second annual Shakespeare play. "A Midsummer Night's Dream" has been chosen for presentation this year.

The play is supposed to have been written for production at Queen Elizabeth's Court, probably on the occasion of some court wedding. Hence the two compliments to the Queen, one in Act I, Scene i, line 65 ff. The other compliment is in Act II, scene ii, line 157 ff.

As the play belongs to Shakespeare's early maturity it is full of fun and exuberance. The "Mechanicals" part in Midsummer Night's Dream is as good as he ever did along that line. It is always the favorite part and often taken out as a separate play. Only the "Comedy of Errors" was more riotous, but not nearly so interesting.

The Fairy parts in this play are unequalled in Shakespeare or out, for daintiness or grace. At the end of his career Shakespeare again turned to the same theme in the "Tempest." However Ariel and Caliban are too philosophic to rival Titania and Puck and lack their realism. To the Elizabethans the Fairies were not the little folk we imagine but to them were more ethereal. They have quarrelsome dispositions and are still favorite parts, often acted by maionettes.

The Mortals were to honor Elizabeth for whose wedding the play was written. Perhaps there were local references to the cruel father, Eggeus, but they are now lost. Their entangled love affairs compose the theme of the play, but their troubles are never taken seriously. "The rousers of true love never did run smooth." These surface worries only add piquancy. We know with fairies taking charge that all will turn out well.

The "Midsummer Night's Dream," requires a more elaborate production than does "Romeo and Juliet." The fairy scenes require moonlight, and a modicum of scenery. Thanks to Mr. Kaufman satisfactory lighting effects are hoped to be attained. The costumes will be elaborate, as last year and particularly are the players fortunate to secure an extra good Ann's head for the character Bottom.

The orchestra is working up some Mendelssohn incidental music which will serve as an overture, and as incidental music for the songs and Fairy dances.

The cast which this year consists of forty-one people as compared with nineteen last year in "Romeo and Juliet" is as follows:

Puck—Emily Jewell.
 Titania—Clady Cowell.
 Oberon—Albert Dowling.
 Theseus—James Anthony.
 Hippolytus—Theodosia Chapman.
 Hermia—Alice Dole.
 Helena—Genevieve Carvel.
 Eggeus—Emory Burkhardt.
 Lysander—J. B. Dickerson.
 Memetrius—Mason Trupp.
 Philostrate—Hollingsworth.
 Quince—Roland Ready.
 Snug—Albert Dobkins.
 Bottom—J. W. Carey.
 Flute—William Baker.
 Snout—Stuart Shinn.
 Starveling—Erwin Korchner.
 Fairy—Mary Jane Neild.
 Pease-Blossom—Ann Kreeger.

Mustard Seed—Mabel Babcock.
 Cobweb—Ada Stutz.
 Moth—Evelyn Walbert.

Fairies attendant on Titania—
 Mary Jane Neild, Sarah Ellen Byrne,
 Mary Parks, Fatiense Pyle, Lucille
 Rasin, Rosiemee Scotten.

Fairies attendant on Oberon—
 Margaret White, Elizabeth Bell, Thelma Smith, Harriet Ragan.

Attendants on Hippolytus—Janet
 Atwater, Margaret Thornton, Eleanor Dudley, Hilda Ryan.

Attendants on Theseus—Michael Wallace, Abe Seymour.

SOUTHERN DELMARVA ALUMNI CHAPTER ELECTS

At the recent organization meeting of the Southern Delmarva Chapter of the general alumni association, held at Salisbury, the party was well attended and the following officers chosen for the year: President, Gilbert V. Byron, of Lewes, Del.; vice-president, A. Roy Woodland, of Marion, Md.; and secretary-treasurer, Miss Elizabeth Mace, of Cambridge. Stanley Robins, of Salisbury and Elias Nuttle, of Denton, with the officers, will make up the executive committee.

Miss Emily Jewell Again President Of Mt. Vernon

On Wednesday, February 16th, 1933, the Mt. Vernon Literary Society met in Room 21 of William Smith Hall for the purpose of electing officers for the second term. The following elections were made: President, Miss Emily Jewell; Vice President, Miss Mary Furr; Secretary, John Smithson; Treasurer, Mary Jane Neild. The board of curators was also elected at this meeting. These members are Richard Chambers, Caroline Jewell and Wesley Sadler.

COTILLION CLUB TO HOLD CARD PARTY, MARCH 4

The Cotillion Club will hold a combination card party and Jig-Saw Puzzle Contest, Saturday, March 4. It will undoubtedly be one of the most interesting minor social functions of the year. To those persons who play neither auction nor contract bridge, a Jig-Saw contest has been devised. The prizes will attract everyone and one can feel assured that the price will be most attractive. The proceeds will go toward the fund for procuring better orchestras for the next two dances.

SPICY leaves of TURKISH tobacco are strong to dry
 and cure in the sun.

Well, that's something about cigarettes I never knew before

*the cigarette that's Milder
 the cigarette that Tastes Better*

I'd never thought much about what's inside a Chesterfield cigarette. But I have just been reading something that made me think about it.

Just think of this, some of the tobacco in Chesterfield—the Turkish—comes from 4000 miles away! And before it is shipped every single leaf is packed by hand. All because Turkish tobacco is so small and delicate.

Of course I don't know much about making cigarettes, but I do know this—that Chesterfields are milder and have a very pleasing aroma and taste. They satisfy—and that's what counts with me!

Del Proudfoot Is Leading Scorer

Harry Huey Is Second Highest

The Flying Pentagon had won a total of 7 games and lost 6 up until the Delaware game, scoring a total of 370 points in the 12 games against a total of 361 for the opposition. Del Proudfoot still leads in individual scoring with a total of 96 points while Harry Huey has displaced Al Giratis for second place with a total of 60 points. The ranking is:

Proudfoot	96
Huey	60
Giratis	50
Shapiro	45
Ward	40
Hodgeson	30
Johnson	18
Gamber	10
Clements	5
Bilancioni	2
Evans	2
Nicholson	1

St. John's Takes Close Game From Washington

Washington College suffered its sixth defeat in basketball Tuesday night when St. John's took over the Shore from a score of 16 to 15.

Until the last fifteen minutes of play St. John's seemed to have the game in the bag. At this time, however, the Washingtonians began a bold offensive led by Huey, who scored twice in quick succession. Gamber tested in a field goal as did Proudfoot, who then made good a foul shot. The mad dash was halted when Donohoe converted a foul low. Hodgson made good his foul shot awarded by Donohoe and the Johnnies lead was now but one point. In the remaining minutes and a half the Johnnies kept the ball until the end of the game by passing it in an endless line between the Shore guards. The Craktown boys did not chance taking a shot but were content with their one point lead.

MacCarte turned in his best performance of the year for St. John's, while he and Donohoe fared as defense that could not be pierced except by long range shots. MacCarte was high scorer with 14 points, 12 of which came in the first half and were largely responsible for the 17-9 lead held by St. John's at half time.

MT. ST. MARYS DEFEATS FLYING PENTAGON 32-14

Twisting goals from every possible angle and some that seemed impossible the Mt. St. Mary's basketball team boosted its stock in the Maryland Collegiate Basketball Association Friday night by defeating Washington College 32 to 14 on the local court for the early liking the Shoremen had ever received on their home floor.

Taking an early lead the Mounts were never headed and a sport near the close of the first half gave them a lead which they never relinquished. Washington had of overtake the victors.

Taking three minutes of the first half remaining the score was 7 to 1 in favor of the Mounts. A scoring spree, featuring three shots from the very middle of the floor by Capt. J. Lynch, brought the count to 15 to 5 before the half ended.

The visitors took up where they had left off as the second period opened and brought their total to 22 before Washington could advance past the five mark.

Defensively the victors kept Washington at bay and at the same time J. Lynch and Cardell were caging the ball from what seemed to be almost a monthly position. Only three field goals were registered by the Kibor machine while the Mounts were totaling an even dozen double-doubles.

Washington	F	2-4
Proudfoot, f	0-1-3
Cardell, f	1-2-2
Hodgeson, c	0-0-0
Shapiro, c	1-1-3
Ward, g	1-3-3

Totals	3	13-13
Mt. St. Mary's	G	F
Chansowky, f	1-3-5
Cardell, f	4-11-9
Hodgeson, c	0-2-2
J. Lynch, g	6-12-11
P. Lynch, g	12-10-32

Totals	2	6-31
--------	---	------

McCALLISTERS
Est. 1894
Baltimore's Oldest Sport Store
Outfitters to Washington
College
124 W. Baltimore, St.
BALTIMORE, MD.

BARNETT'S BARBER SHOP
Over Sterling's Drug Store
First Class Service and
Expert Workmen
Visit The
CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT
(Open 6 A. M. to 12 midnight)

NEW 700 ROOM CLUB HOTEL

For food of the Best Quality at Popular Prices. Home Cooking, Prompt Service, Sandwiches of all kinds, Cakes, Sodas, Fancy Sundaes, Home Made Pies and all kinds of Soft Drinks at the Fountain.

Try Our 50c Diner
Guarantee Satisfaction
Visit The
CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT
(Open 6 A. M. to 12 midnight)

Transient Rates $1.50 per day up, with bath $2 per day
Club life, restaurant, free swimming pool, gym, library, spacious lounges, roof garden, separate floors for men and women, Six minutes from Penn or Grand Central Stations.
GEORGE TURKEL, Manager
$8 to $14 Weekly
KENMORE HALL
145 EAST 23rd St. N. Y. CITY
Just East of Lexington Avenue

Sports Notions

By Charles B. Clark

With the basketball season nearing its close the Flying Pentagon has not played up to expectations. Only if remaining games with Loyola tonight, and Delaware, St. Joseph's and Swarthmore later are won can the team help to redeem the six defeats already tallied. The cause of the seemingly bad season isn't known. Coach Kibor has worked with his own enthusiasm and has tried every conceivable device in his attempt to get his charges to play as they should. The team has followed the example of last year's in that it has been unable to win away from home consistently. However to date two games have been won on foreign courts, whereas the 1931-32 team won only on the home court. The present edition of the Flying Pentagon lacks the fight and spirit that has been characteristic of past teams. Probably this is due to lack of support of the Student Body in away games, but certainly the spirit of hot some body at the home games could be better.

It is generally said of the Mt. St. Mary's team that gave the Shoremen the worst defeat on the local court in a decade that they were lucky. Any team that played as they did needed more than luck. Still shore was the cause of their overwhelming victory. However it can be said that Coach McCallery of the Mounts had his team at peak. The victory over the Pentagon was their ninth consecutive one. The next night LaSalle College of Pennsylvania defeated them 32 to 14, identically the same score by which we "lost it on the chin." The Emmitsburg players are outstanding favorites to win the Maryland Interscholastic League, especially after the unexpected defeat that Hopkins landed on Loyola. In games with Hopkins and Western Maryland, though, the Mt. St. Mary's team will have to go at top speed for the Terror and Blue Jays have nothing to lose and all to gain and will consequently not be on edge, but in a better position to win. The Flying Pentagon is favored to take over the Greybonds tonight.

Outstanding basketball players in the state are numerous this year and there will be difficulty in picking out the All-Maryland five. Proudfoot and Ward are Washington's best players and will be considered for the All-Maryland. Ward, in particular, now shown that he is to be counted on a lot.

MRS. HARRY WHITE
Washington
Cannon St. next to Bawling Alley

Compliments
of Chertstown
Electric Light and Power
Company

BASBALL SCHEDULE HAS TEN GAMES FOR LOCALS

The call was issued for baseball men by Coach Kibor Thursday, Feb. 23rd. After a lapse of two years baseball is returning to Washington College. The season promises to be a successful one although the only letter man answering the call is Warren Carey. However there seems to be much good material in Hodgson, O'Farrell, Bilancioni, Turner, Huey, Reinhardt, Clements, Evans and others.

The schedule to date is as follows:
Osteopathy—April 5 Home
Dickerson—April 20 Home
Delaware—April 22 Home
Mt. St. Mary's—May 3 Home
Susquehanna—May 6 Away
Janista—May 6 Away
Mt. St. Mary's—May 13 Away
Delaware—May 30 Away
Maryland—May 24 Away
A tentative game with Baltimore Fireman.

West Hall Leads Intermural Basketball

The class and fraternity games are now well under way, about half of the total games having been played. To date no one can pick a winner with any degree of certainty but West Hall in the Fraternity League and the Sophomores in the Class League have the upper hand on the other teams at present. The standing of the clubs is as follows:

Class	Won	Last Standing
Sophomores	4	0 1000
Juniors	2	2 600
Freshmen	2	3 400
Seniors	1	4 200
Fraternity	Won	Last Standing
W. H.	6	2 750
E. H.	4	2 600
A. K.	5	3 625
P. S. T.	3	3 500
P. S. P.	2	6 286
M. H.	1	6 143

HERB'S QUICK LUNCH
Sandwiches of all kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Voshell House

—Advertising in The Elm.

After A Studious Day
Relax at
JIM'S and HICK'S
Billiard Parlor

THE REXAL STORE
EASTMAN KODAKS
FILMS
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING
BY EXPERTS
DRUGS and
SUNDRIES
Of All Kinds
A. L. STERLING

—Advertising in The Elm.

Lacrosse Practice To Start Soon

Eight Veterans Remain From Last Season

With the start of the Lacrosse season only a little more than a month off, the various Lacrosse Coaches in Maryland and in the North are ready to issue equipment and start practice. Coach George I. Eklatis of the Washington College. Ten announced early in this past week that he would give out sticks and other equipment today.

St. John's College of Annapolis started practice early this week under the direction of Dirty Moose who coached three consecutive National Lacrosse Championship teams there between the years 1928-1931. Washington College's St. John's at Annapolis on April 1st at which time both teams inaugurate the 1933 season.

The fact that baseball is being resumed at Washington College this spring leaves a question as to whether several lacrosse players will continue that sport or switch to baseball. Chief among these are Al Giratis, regular third assistant of the Maroon and Black for the past two years, Ellis Reinhold, who played some in 1931, and Russ Baker who was coming along fast at the end of last year in the Old Indian Game. Al Dobkins has definitely decided to play baseball.

Should Giratis play lacrosse, Coach Eklatis will have nine lettermen back this spring. These men who played various lacrosse last year are Dick Gamber, Fritz Reinhold, Paul Higgins, Captain Phil Wiegman, Charles Clark, Al Giratis, Charley Harris, Dick Chambers, and Joe Bringham, who played in 1931. The rest of the squad will be picked from last year's second team and from the old or Freshman of this year.

It is too early to do more than guess which team will be the National Champions this year. Johns Hopkins, Olympic and World Champions of 1932 will have plenty of opposition from St. John's and the University of Maryland. The North will put out several good teams, principally West Point and Harvard. The latter team made great strides forward in 1932 under Bobby Poole, ex-St. John's player and now a professional star. This year his team will play St. John's early in the season and will meet in Annapolis for several days and practice with the Johnnies before meeting Navy.

At the present time the Shoremen have only five games scheduled due to the fact that one or two opponents cancelled their games. It is hoped, however, that their places will be filled to round out a nice program.

STUDENTS
We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.
Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Lentic Line from Par.-
Abbott's DeLuxe Ice Cream.
Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

BLUE KEY FRATERNITY
GIVES MINSTREL SHOW*Michael Wallace Directs Affair

The First Annual Maroon and Black Minstrel Show presented by the Blue Key Fraternity of Washington College and directed by Michael Wallace on Wednesday evening, February 15th at William Smith Hall, was a great success. From all aspects did the Performance exceed even the most optimistic expectations. The Blue Key Fraternity realized a neat profit which will help to carry out some of the Service Aims it fosters. The Minstrel decided for itself that much talent exists in Washington College, not hitherto brought to light.

Michael Wallace as interlocutor displayed ability which would denote him as experienced in the Art of questioning the End Men. These End Men who were Johnny Lord, Elery Ward, Harry Huey and Phil Skipp continually kept the audience on edge with their witty sayings and actions. Johnny Lord in particular, was much complimented upon for jokes which were excellently put across. Wardie and Harry delighted the onlookers with their gestures and antics. Phil Skipp pulled several fast ones in his drill tone.

Nike and the End Men were very capably assisted by the Chorus consisting of Dick Gumber, Richard Cooper, Henry Nowak, Lee Bell, DeWitt Clark, Joseph Mooney, Charley Harris, Robert Furman, Alfred Taylor, Dave Wallace, Albert Giratis, Albert Bilancioni, Thomsen Brown and Alfred Hodgson. The Duette Specialty Feature by William Sheppard was given huge applause. Roland Lekebusch in a special number sang "Martha" very well.

The complete program was as follows:

- Opening No. "Maroon and Black Forever"—By the Entire Chorus.
- How deep is the ocean—Dave Wallace.
- Brother can you spare a dime—John Lord.
- Say it isn't so—Jerry Giratis.
- I'll take you home again Kathleen—Joe Mooney and Quartette.
- Dance Specialty—William Sheppard.
- Special Number, Martha—Roland Lekebusch.
- Underneath the Harlem Moon—Elery J. Ward.
- I'll never have to dream again—DeWitt Clark.
- All American Girl—Harry Huey.
- Trees—Charlie Harris.
- My Fraternity Pin—Phillip Skipp.
- Closing Chorus, "Maroon and Black Forever"—By Entire Chorus.

FOX'S5c to $1.00 Store*Where Your Dollar*Has More Cents*HEALTH DIRECTOR*Dr. R. G. Beachley

The naming of Dr. R. G. Beachley, Kent health officer and director of student health at Washington College, to organize the Mid-Atlantic section of the Student Health Association, has been announced by Dr. H. H. Smiley, of Cornell University, president of the American Student Health Association.

The area to be organized by Dr. Beachley comprises Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia and the District of Columbia. In this area are 41 institutions of higher learning.

The American Student Health Association is composed of the directors of health at the various preparatory schools, colleges and universities in the country. The association has been divided into ten groups in order that more frequent meetings

W. Wilson Wingate To Speak At Assembly*To Speak At March 9
Assembly

W. Wilson Wingate, of the "Baltimore News" and "Baltimore Sunday American," will address the Washington College student body at the March 9th assembly hour. The speaker is a former Washington College student, having attended this college during his freshman year. He later transferred to Western Maryland where he received his A. B. degree.

Wingate, who has been intimately connected with Maryland College sports for the last fifteen years, will be remembered by Washington College basketball fans as the writer who gave Coach Tom Kibler's great cage team of 1923 and 1924 the title of "Plying Pentagon."

The speaker is feature football and lacrosse writer for the "Baltimore News" having picked the All-Maryland teams in these sports for about the last ten years. Wingate attended the 1928 and 1932 Olympiads as representative of the American Olympic Lacrosse Association.

might be held.

Dr. Beachley has issued a call for the first meeting of the Mid-Atlantic section for May 16 at the Washington Hotel, Washington, D. C. All schools of higher learning in this area will be invited to send representatives to the meeting. Officers will be elected, a constitution adopted, dues fixed and committees named to arrange for scientific sessions.

POET'S CORNER

Dr. Gertrude V. Ingalls recently suggested that the "Elm" carry a "Poet's Corner" in order to encourage budding young poets at the college. The head of the English Department also has started plans to offer prizes for the best poems submitted to the column. Further information concerning these poetry contests can be obtained from Dr. Ingalls.

The head of the English department considered the following efforts to be worthy of publication. The first imitates the "concoits" of John Donne and the second is a spring poem.

By Ella Barkley

My mind is like the sea—
So fathomless and wide
That, changing though it be,
I cannot find the tide.

The waves that dash on high
Are but my lines of thought,
Which I let quickly fly,
Lest I be drowned and taught.

By Nola Hill

All the little woodland folk
Were gay as they could be;
For Spring was coming in one move,
With all her company.

The birds, the bees, the very trees
Were glad to say "Hello,"
For Spring had banished ice and snow,

(Continued On Page Six)

The Shakespeare Club Of Washington College Presents A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM As Played Before Queen Elizabeth

Mendelssohn's Incidental Music
By the Orchestra

Moonlight Dances
By Troops of Fairies

Friday, March 10
At Eight O'clock

Tickets Fifty Cents
Students, Thirty-Five

All Seats Reserved At STAM'S DRUG STORE, From Wednesday, March 8 to Friday, 10

Convocation Held At College Feb. 24

Dr. R. Walters Receives Degree

The first mid-year convocation and annual Washington's birthday assembly of Washington College was held Thursday morning, February 23rd, 1933, in the auditorium of William Smith Hall. At the beginning of the ceremony the faculty and seniors of the college marched into the auditorium from the Washington entrance on the campus. The program consisted of the Proclamation, "War March of the Priests," played by the college orchestra; hymn "Onward, Christian Soldiers," the lesson for the day, read in unison; prayer, in unison; An anthem by the college choir, and music by the college orchestra. President Titworth then introduced to the assembly the main speaker, President Raymond Walters of the University of Cincinnati. He spoke on the topic "Washington and Leadership Today." He told of all the qualities of leadership exemplified by Washington and compared him as one peak standing out over the other mountain range of leaders. He also spoke of our need of outstanding leadership today.

At the close of his address the honorary degree of "Doctor of Letters" was conferred upon President Walters.

BLUE KEY MINSTREL TO GO ON ROAD

The Blue Key Minstrel Show, having found great favor with the public after their most entertaining performance last Wednesday, February 15th, is now going on the road.

Thanks to the publicity given to it by the G. K. in a performance scheduled in Steepleville, Md., on Wednesday, March 8th.

It is expected that a performance will also be given in Salisbury shortly.

Toulson's Pharmacy

Cordially invites the student to enjoy the privileges of a well-stocked drug store.

Parker Pens our specialty.

Eyes examined and glasses fitted by a graduate Optician. Fountain Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films and Developing.

J. S. KREEGER

Jeweler & Optometrist

Chestertown, Md.

Compliments of

MARSHALL

Cleaners, Dyers, and Repairers

Easton, Maryland

DR. R. A. PEARSON SPEAKS AT ASSEMBLY

Dr. R. A. Pearson, President of the University of Maryland, was the Assembly speaker at Washington College on Thursday, February 16th, at 11 o'clock. Dr. Pearson was introduced by the President of the College, who was glad that at last Dr. Pearson should get a first-hand acquaintance with the College of the Eastern Shore. Dr. Pearson spoke on "The best bet for a college student in 1933."

President Pearson, a particularly capable man, as the growth of his University attests, included a large number of illustrative, personal experiences in his address. He insisted that "the best bet for a college graduate in 1933 is himself." He discussed a number of qualities essential to the welfare of such a graduate, ranging among them health and general knowledge.

Dr. Pearson blamed the present economic and social difficulties to the incantation and departure from "first principles" of his own generation. He looked to the coming Year '34 for a solution of reorganization of present conditions. His talk was replete with hints of quiet humor.

Dr. Pearson, in his introduction, lauded Washington's own President, about to retire, and expressed the general feeling of the College and Community in his regrets.

The visit of the President of the University of Maryland is especially notable in that it points to even more firmly cemented relations between the sister institutions than ever before.

POET'S CORNER

(Continued From Page Five)

The wood-folk's mortal foe.

So all the little woodland folk Did offer up a prayer,
To God, for making warm Spring time,
And thanked Him then and there.

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149

C. W. Kibler & Sons
Chestertown, Maryland

GILL BROS. ICE CREAM

Dainties

Assorted Blocks

Compliments of H. F. Jefferson

Fraternities To Hold Joint Dance

Seek Orchestra Of Tim Crowe

The three Fraternities of Washington College have decided to this year inlaid with the usual three separate dances sponsored by each of them and to unite in an interfraternity dance.

The move by the three fraternities in the "Hill" was partly due to the fact that none of the three could put on a dance which would be of true good quality because of the lack of necessary funds. The combined dance will be held in the gymnasium and will enable the bringing of five orchestras to the College as for the large Culliton Dances. Aside from this advantage such a dance will witness a larger number of Alumni members back on the campus. It will bring together fellow students in same classes who ordinarily would come back to different interfraternity dances at different dates during the year.

An executive council has been organized consisting of one representative of the three Fraternities. This committee is composed of Mr. Fred Uilson on The Alpha Kappa Fraternity, Mr. Warren Carey of The Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity and Mr. John McGinn of The Phi Sigma Phi Fraternity. This committee will appoint the lesser committees composed of members of the different Fraternities and who will carry out the details of the Dance. These details will be announced later.

The Executive Committee announced that it is attempting to get the orchestra of Tim Crow, former Washington College football star, to play at the dance.

Compliments of

H. D. OREM & SON

The Best Of EVERYTHING Needed

FOR BUILDING
E. S. Adkins & Co.
Chestertown, Centreville
Easton, Salisbury

The Dalony-Vernay Co.

337-339-341 North
Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest

Art China, Leather Goods,
Toys, Books, Athletic
Equipment

A. L. SPARKS

Specials in

Ladies' Hose

Newest Colors and
Weights

TWO MORE GAMES ON LOCAL CAGE SCHEDULE

Two more regular games remain on the schedule of the 1932-33 Flying Pentagon. Both are to be played next week and both are off the local court.

The Kilmerites meet St. Joseph's in Philadelphia February 28th in the second of a home and home series between these two cage rivals. Washington took the first game by a narrow margin. Del Proudfoot did not play in the game.

Swarthmore is the last college foe scheduled for the Maroon and Black. The Flying Pentagon meets the Quakers up at Swarthmore, March 4. Last year the Hawks took an extra period game from the Pennsylvaniaans after a real hot scrap and all indications point to another

Del-Mar-Va Restaurant For After Dance Lunches And Regular Meals

The

Third National Bank
Chestertown, Md.

The Only

National Bank

In Kent County

DEAR MISS CO-ED:

Welcome home! We are glad to hear that you are back in town.

In keeping with the times, we have tempered our prices, but we still luxuriously indulge in as many crisp, fresh linen towels as we believe essential to the facial.

We still continue extravagantly (perhaps!) using the best waving lotions and we haven't the heart to cut our permanent waving preparations, either.

So, you see, we are offering you our best at the best prices. What can be more fair.

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE
306 Park Row Phone No. 334

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students Offers Complete Line of Conklin and Wahl Pens and Pencils. Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery, And School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

The Emerson Hotel Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings

Unexcelled

Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged

Private Rooms and

Banquet Halls

For All Occasions

loss up affair this year.

The Alumni will probably meet the varsity March 11th to end the cage season.

Shop At The B. & L. Sc to $1.00 VARIETY STORE 321 High St.

For Your Wants

Modern Shoe Repairing Store PAUL SIPALA Next to Sterling Drug

WE KNOW

What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style centers.

You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.

Our clothes will meet every thing you demand of them.

BORDLEY & SON

Clements & Clements, Inc.

CLEANING PRESSING REPAIRING

"Keep your clothes fit"

Prompt Service
Phone 437
Dover, Delaware

VOL. XXXII. NO. 10.

SATURDAY, MARCH 11, 1933

PRICE TEN CENTS

Mid-Summer Night's Dream Postponed Due to State Bank Holiday

New Date For Play Not Certain As Yet

Due to the general inconvenience caused town people and a number of students with the temporary closing of local banks, Dr. Gertrude V. Ingalls announced the postponement of the presentation of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," which was to be presented last evening, until an indefinite date. In conference, members of the Shakespeare Club reached the decision that presentation of the comedy with conditions in Chertown as they are at present would deprive many towns people of the opportunity to attend the play and the success of the play might thus be endangered.

Dr. Ingalls expressed her disappointment in the unavoidable postponement as all of the incidental business of the production had been arranged and the play itself would be worked up to a point of near perfection on the originally fixed date of performance.

The shipping of costumes from Baltimore has been stopped and tickets will not be placed on sale. Meanwhile, Dr. Ingalls will continue to direct practices of all parts regularly, stressing the more difficult action and polishing the entire play.

All is in readiness and the new date of presentation will be made immediately with the return of "normal" conditions in Chertown. Dr. Ingalls hopes that the play may be given next week or sometime in the very near future.

Chertown High Advances In State Tournament

Chertown High Schools' basketball quintet easily defeated the Centreville exponents in a game played in the college gymnasium last Tuesday by a score of 25 to 10.

The game was of interest to many of the college students due to the fact that the winners were coached by "Dick" Johnson who captained the local varsity this year, while "The Don" Carey had charge of the Centreville eagles. Carey graduated from Washington College in 1932. He did not play basketball but expended much of his athletic efforts on the football field, winning the Wade C. Boards gold football his senior year.

Maryland Basketball League Meeting Postponed

Coach J. Thos. Kibler was summoned to attend a meeting of the Maryland Basketball League last Wednesday. Due to unforeseen complications other coaches and officials were unable to attend. The local member is president of the league.

Bridge Party And Jig-Saw Contest This Afternoon

The bridge party and jig-saw puzzle contest that was scheduled by the Grilling Club for last Saturday was not held. It has been postponed until this afternoon and will be given in Reid Hall.

HILDA RYAN MARRIED TO ROY BERGY, TEACHER

Announcement Of Ceremony Made Recently

Miss Hilda Ryan, a member of the senior class at Washington College, and Mr. Roy Bergy, were married at Princess Anne, Md., November 26th, 1932. The wedding was not announced until recently. The ceremony climaxed a romance of several years duration.

Miss Ryan's home is at Berlin, Md., where she graduated from high school in the spring of 1929, enrolling at Washington College in the fall of that year. Miss Ryan majored in Economics while attending college. Mr. Bergy is a resident of Allentown, Pa. He has been an instructor in the public high school at Georgetown, Del., for the last several years.

NEW LYCEUM PRESENTS ATTRACTIVE PICTURES

The New Lyceum Theatre has showed a rather attractive set of cards for the week of March 13-18. "Second Hand Wife," starring Sally Eilers and Ralph Bellamy, is the picture scheduled for Monday and Tuesday, March 13 and 14. The picture is taken from the novel written by Kathleen Norris.

Mac West is the star, in Wednesday's and Thursday's picture which is entitled "She Done Him Wrong." The story was made particularly for Broadway's Bad Girl.

A double feature program with a Betty Boop Cartoon will show at the New Lyceum on Friday and Saturday. Spencer Tracy and Joan Bennett star in the main feature which goes by the title of "Me And My Gal." Zane Grey's "Heritage of the Desert" is the second feature.

Blue Key Fraternity Sponsors Frolic Tonight

The Blue Key Fraternity will be in charge, as on previous occasions of the Frolic to be held tonight at Reid Hall. Delbert Proudfoot, one of the Junior members of the Honor Fraternity at the college, was appointed by President Union of the organization to act in charge of the affair.

Due to the failure of a sufficient number of students to sanction with their signatures the Student Activities Budget, it is doubtful whether or not these Frolics can be continued on Saturday nights, because of lack of means to pay for musicians. As matters stand the Washingtonians who have been playing at these Frolics are unsatisfied with a method whereby they might or might not receive well-earned remuneration. The Blue Key has done all it can to make the small dances workable but cannot be expected to continue when cooperation is lacking on the part of some students.

LIBRARY OFFICIAL

Mrs. Ethel S. Fox

Mrs. Ethel S. Fox was recently chosen second vice-president of the executive board of the Maryland Library Association. The association held a meeting in Baltimore, Md., last night.

Daughter Born To Bringhursts

An eight pound baby daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bringhurst, of Chertestown, Md., last Tuesday, March 7th. The baby was born in Milford, Delaware.

Bringhurst is a senior at Washington College this year. He entered this college in the fall of 1928 and at the end of his junior year entered the school of medicine at the University of Pennsylvania, which he attended last year. This year Bringhurst returned to Washington College to take education. Mrs. Bringhurst is the former Miss Bertha Teet. Her home is in the state of Iowa. Before her marriage, Mrs. Bringhurst was a nurse.

Bringhurst has carried off considerable honors as an athlete at this college. Before transferring to Pennsylvania, he held down a guard position on the Maroon and Black grid team and was regular point on the horroze team. Joe should prove a valuable addition to Coach George Ekaltis' stick wielders this spring.

Minstrel Troupers To Visit Salisbury Soon

According to an announcement made by Michael Wallace, the Blue Key Fraternity is planning to give its minstrel show at Salisbury State Normal School sometime before the Easter holidays begin.

This minstrel, which was the first of its kind ever given at the college, was very successful when it first played in the Auditorium of William Smith Hall. Through the efforts of Mr. Lee C. Ball it was given a second time at Stevensville.

Richard Cooper, who has a part in the minstrel, has been designated as a committee of one to make arrangements for giving the show in Salisbury. Cooper is a resident of Salisbury.

Dr. Titsworth And Dr. Livingston Return From South

Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, President of Washington College, and Dr. Frederick Livingston, head of the department of education here returned last night from an educational conference held at Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

Delbert Proudfoot Elected To Lead 1933-34 Flying Pentagon

TWO INTERMURAL CAGE GAMES THIS AFTERNOON

West Hall To Play Phi Sigma Tau

The intermural basketball games will be continued this afternoon under the direction of Coach George L. Ekaltis when the West Hall team meets the Phi Sigma Tau fraternity outfit in the first game of a double header, the Phi Sigma Phi fraternity meeting Middle Hall in the second tilt.

The first game will be much to decide the league leadership as West Hall is at present leading the league with the Phi Sigma Tau fraternity holding down second place. In the last game played between these two teams the West Hallers took a close decision. The game between the Phi Sigma Phi and Middle Hall should also be a good scrap as both of these teams have shown great improvement in their last contests.

WEST HALL CAGERS WIN INTERMURAL GAME

The West Hall basketball team which is leading the Inter-Fraternity and Inter-Dormitory intermural league last night defeated the Middle Hall Club by the score of 25-13. In the second game Alpha Kappa won over East Hall by the count of 12 to 8.

The first game was noteworthy especially because of the accuracy of which existed at the end of the first half. Players of both teams made tries for goals time after time but could not fix their eye accurately on the basket. At the beginning of the second half Menzel, forward of Middle Hall sank a long toss from two points. This was followed by a successful foul throw by his team. However the upper classmen had shot their bolt, and could score no more. Bean, diminutive yet fast forward for West Hall, then scored three straight points, one a foul shot to tie the count. Here Nowak and Elbie Dyer, he big men on West Hall's team then settled their team down and worked he ball in for two successful fouls to clinch the game 25-13.

The fighting boys of East Hall were unable to check an Alpha Kappa onslaught and trailed 7 to 3 at half time. Morris scored. East Hall's new goal while Richards made a spectacular shot. Keen was the mainstay of the Fraternity team. In the second half Mason Trupp scored two goals from under the basket and Richards made good on his second foul shot. These were counteracted however, by double deckers scored by Alpha Kappa.

Robert W. Beachley Tries For Hopkins Scholarship

Robert W. Beachley, a senior at Washington College has gone over to Baltimore to keep an appointment with his state senator, concerning a senatorial scholarship to Johns Hopkins University. Beachley has made mathematics his major subject at this college and plans to enter the engineering school at Hopkins.

Captain Elect Led Scorers In 1932-33

Delbert Proudfoot was elected Captain of the 1933-34 Washington College basketball team at a meeting of the letter men held yesterday in William Smith Hall.

Proudfoot is a member of the present Junior Class, having enrolled at this college in the fall of 1929. Del has earned three varsity letters in the case sport. During his freshman year Proudfoot played at forward entirely. However, during the last year spent, during his sophomore year, he jumped center for the Flying Pentagon on occasions.

The Captain elect is a product of Bobby Cavanaugh, former Proudfoot Flying Pentagon star and one of Washington's greatest Captains. Del played seasonal basketball for Cavanaugh during his three years as a regular on the Penn Avenue High School championship team.

Proudfoot was high scorer for the 1932-33 Flying Pentagon. The new Captain has won an enviable reputation as an useful basketball player. Del plays a highly brand of basketball and is particularly hard to guard if given the ball anywhere near the basket.

Proudfoot has made Economics his major subject at Washington College. He is also a member of the Blue Key Fraternity and the Varsity Club.

The following letter men were allowed to vote in the captaincy election: Johnson, Gipsakis, Gombor, Hodgson, Ward, Huey, Shipps and Proudfoot.

White Studios Finish Taking Year Book Pictures

The White studio photographer was on the campus last Tuesday to take the remaining photographs for the 1933 "Pegasus." The photographic work was under the direction of Roland C. Ready, editor and J. Nelson Richards, business manager. Photographs were taken of the winter and spring athletic teams and other organizations, missed when the studio representative was here last fall. Due to the fact that the weather was stormy Coach Kibler would not issue equipment for the baseball squad.

Memorial Plaque For Dr. Errol L. Fox

The Phi Sigma Tau fraternity has purchased a memorial plaque for the late Dr. Errol L. Fox. The plaque is of bronze and is mounted on a wooden frame. It will be officially placed in the fraternity building at a dedication ceremony to be held soon. All members of the faculty will be invited to attend the ceremony.

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.
EDITOR PHILLIP J. WINGATE
Assistant Editor Charles B. Clark
Literary Editor Roland C. Ready
Society Editor W. McA. Richards
Exchange Editor Roland E. Leebusch

REPORTERS

Feature Reporter William Baker
 Albert E. Dobkins, Albert Giralet, Janet Atwater, P. Skipp,
 Edwin L. Koerber, Morris Camille, Carroll W. Casteel,
 Richard Gamber

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

Charles Clark, DeWitt Clarke, William Baker

SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES

Alexina Robinson, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager John McLean
 Circulation Manager Patterson Beasman
 Chief Staff Photographer Emory Burkhardt
 Advertising Manager Louis Goldstein

ASSISTANTS

Walter F. Dorman

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.
 Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.
 Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, MARCH 11, 1933

OUR SUMMARY

The final outcome of the student assemblies concerning the honor system satisfied us that the view we had held all along was essentially correct.

We maintained all throughout the affair that there was nothing fundamentally wrong with the system that so many students seemed to be taking very violent objections to. We think that Professor Ford struck to the heart of the situation when he declared the main trouble to be a desire on the part of the students "to create a sensation and blow off a little steam." For about two weeks the honor system was assailed from every side and all indications pointed to a departure from this "standard" by Washington College. However, after a considerable disturbance had been created, the student body voted by a very large majority to retain this so seemingly objectionable institution, after making amendments that in our humble opinion leave matters much as they were before.

We do not wish to discourage those who are trying to improve the moral tone on the Campus of Washington College but we do believe that these "reformers" became over zealous in their statements on occasions. These over zealous statements would do no harm as far as people who are in position to know actual conditions are concerned but they may create unwarranted impressions in the minds of people outside our campus. One student who earned a reputation for himself as a critic of local current events declared Washington's student body to be entirely too apprehensive concerning possible slips in its code of honor.

However, we do believe that the students assemblies helped conditions some what—even though there are practically no concrete accomplishments to which to point. By bringing the honor code so strikingly before the general student body the individual has probably been influenced to analyze his actions more closely. This will unconsciously result in a more strict observance of the honor system.

CURLY'S CASE

We have wondered considerably as to just exactly what will be the result of the "Baltimore Sun's" vicious attack on the University of Maryland in general and Mr. H. C. (Curly) Byrd in particular. We wonder what Mr. Byrd could have done to offend the "Sun" so greatly. We certainly do not believe that his laudable accomplishments and positions at our State University could be the real cause for the editorial lashings that he has received through the columns of the "Sun."

The vaunted "power of the press" has been turned loose full blast upon the University of Maryland's Vice-President and football coach. If Mr. Byrd emerges from such a storm, unscathed, his position must indeed be a firm one.

SLIPPERY ELM

By ROLAND C. READY

I wonder if table service will ever replace the cafeteria at Washington College. A faint rumor exists that his night come to pass.

From a student's point-of-view the present system has many disadvantages. First, is the matter of waiting in line. Then one is forced to eat greasy trays and to eat at unwieldy tables. It gives the effect of a poor class restaurant.

Could table service be introduced without necessitating any great or expensive changes. I may be overlooking some vital factors but it seems to me that the change could easily be made before another college term begins. The steam table could be utilized by the waiters at a place from which to serve and the time of service would not necessarily have to be extended.

Table service would give a more homelike atmosphere, eliminate trays and cover our bare tables.

The undoubtedly a poor suggestion. We need more student expression at Washington College. Murmurs of discontent is the best heard in the way of opinion. At least colleges the student body take more interest in affairs. At least college papers contain quite a few open forum letters many of which contain excellent suggestions and criticisms. If the student body prefers table service to the cafeteria why isn't some attempt at expression made.

To the wide of most students "the Bread Situation" is amusing. After all only a very small quantity disappears by being carried out. The bulk would not amount to more than a few sacks of wheat. It has been estimated that a group of one hundred fifty or a hundred and seventy-five students does not present such a mighty problem. It is no wonder that the "Bread Situation" remains so acute as ever.

Greek Letter Notes

KAPPA GAMMA NEWS

Miss Elizabeth Mace, '31, has been elected Secretary-Treasurer of the Salisbury Chapter of the Washington College Alumni Association.

BARNETT'S BARBER SHOP

Over Sterling's Drug Store
 First Class Service and Expert Workmen

HERR'S QUICK LUNCH

Sandwiches of All Kinds
 Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
 Under the Voshell House

After A Stodious Day Relax at JIM'S and HICK'S Billiard Parlor

PURLOINED PHRASES

Webster says that TAUT means TIGHT. I guess we've all been TAUT quite a bit at college.

She: "Let's drive in the park." He: "Let's park in the drive."

Statistics obtained from the women in the various dorms at Denison University show that walking shoes have a margin of 62 per cent over all other types. Church dates are decreasing and movie dates are out of the question.

This week's theme song: She was only a baker's daughter trying to get her fingers into some guy's dough.

There doesn't seem to be a depression at the Ohio State University. During the past year 648 dances were run by clubs connected with the University.

Whereas: The great fire of 61 years ago on dancing was removed at Ohio State North in 1871. The last dance took place in 1871.

"Doesn't that soprano have a large repertoire?" "Yes, and that dress she has on makes it look worse."

—The Paquin.

I think that I shall never see A "D" as lovely as a "B"; A "B" whose rounded form is pressed Upon the records of the blessed. "D's" are made for folk like me, But only Prof. concede a "B."

Oh, cigaret life if you don't wink out!

OPEN FORUM

To The Editor Of The Elm:

Sir: In the past few months, the cafeteria system of serving at Washington College has been greatly criticized. It is a known fact, however, that if the majority of students want to abolish the cafeteria system a dining room plan will be installed. Certainly, everyone who rather have food placed before him instead of shoved at him with a "take it or leave it" appearance.

The classes, with the dining system, will probably not be given the result will be more class and college spirit, as well as more unity.

In colleges many times larger than ours, the dining plan is used, therefore, no argument can be given concerning the disadvantage or inability to serve large numbers of people.

To install this new system, some changes will be necessary which will make the money expended for installation will more than be made up in the amount of food saved—the loss of which now being tremendous.

Every person does not have the same appetite or equal eating capacity and the cafeteria usually lacks adequate provision for these individual differences, whereas, in the dining system the food is at the person's own disposal, including the amount and variety desired.

As stated above the matter is entirely up to the students "to have or to leave, that is the question."

Ed is the main item in some people's lives and it is of next importance in most of our lives, therefore, the question naturally affects each and every individual that eats at Commons and only by his uniting and seeing this opportunity, can a step be made for the better.

E. L. Koerber.

TOLD TO ME

By I. ONLY HEARD

All hail to the Equestrian! Alms Money has another claim to fame! The spotlight falls on the "Princess of Wales" and H. R. H., the "Princess of Whales." Rumor has it that they are giving riding lessons—on merry-go-rounds. And you certainly can't blame the horse. That's what they get for trying to make one horse carry the combined weight of the whole royal family. No wonder the poor horse now looks like a camel.

This column wishes to take this opportunity to congratulate the lucky men and to wish for the recent bride, the former Miss Hilda Ryan, and the lately betrothed, Miss Genevieve Carvel, a long life of increasing happiness and success.

That noise you heard last Wednesday night was the performance of the minstrel show given on Kent Island. The boys were all ready to give 'em the blatz when they got there, and the school when they heard for miles.

We thought "Gracie Allen" must have found her long lost brother, but she says she's never in luck again. What we want to know is whether she's "Mookey" or just in a "Happy-go-lucky" stew.

From the number of out-of-town newspapers that featured the resignation of the Student Council, it seems that it might be a good policy to do it every month or so, as a means of advertising. However we welcome the introduction of "Studentocracy" in the college class rooms, where it can be of some real service.

Rumor has it that the "Blonde Menace" is on the war-path again, and this time the "X-mas" scalp is more other than that of the famous Doctor Murray. When we asked the intended "victim" for a statement for the press, he gave us one, but we hesitate to quote it.

Perhaps we have a medium in our midst! Rumor has it that, in a recent session, "Ruffie" was able to tell the senior boys what they would feel like when they had daughters to send to college. Father—sighted, to say the least!

The co-eds will be glad to hear that the next collition will be a Depression Hop—now, if never before, their dates will have to get good programs for them since the boys will carry them embroiled across their chests. (The programs—not the girls!)

Did you know that—although the Northern Lights may be shining for Broughton, he still has to contend with a suppressed little glimmer for Alkie the "High-flying Star" now use a plane to shuffle off to "Buffalo" the inauguration found a good percentage of "stewards" in Washington cheering for Roosevelt and Prohibition and our little freshmen girls were room-camped for three days this week. The original plan of a "Buffalo" collition probably be paid in script the Two-Bit Card Party and Jig-Saw Puzzle Contest in Reid Hall this afternoon ought to be fun. Mary Farr is now being called "Uge" by Miller's restaurant may help Lee's shoe-shining business there are exactly thirty-nine days until Easter vacation!!!!

MINSTREL SHOW GIVEN AGAIN BY BLUE KEY

The entire troupe of the Blue Key Minstrels, including orchestra, journeyed to Kent Island on Wednesday, March 8th to present their show at Stevensville, Md.

The performance was given in the high school auditorium under the auspices and for the benefit of the Stevensville High School Alumni Association of which Mr. T. S. Bell, is president.

The presentation was enthusiastically received by a large gathering of Stevensville Alumni and friends, who entertained the troupers after the show.

The minstrel show itself was somewhat revamped with Mr. Norris Duffy on end in place of Huey. Duffy was one of the high lights in the auditorium and proved himself a born trouper when on having a laparotomy of his lines he swung into his dance at big tempo. "Rudy" Hodgson, replacing "Little White Lie"

Girardin who could not be spared had to make 3 certain calls in response to thunderous applause. The comedy was especially enjoyed.

This was the first engagement of a profound "road tour" of the minstrel show. Although no financial remuneration is realized, the minstrels enjoy putting on their show and by such engagements Blue Key hopes to give advertisement to Washington College in this old but valuable form.

FOX'S5c to $1.00 Store*Where Your Dollar*Has More Cents*GIRLS' HONORARY BASKETBALL SEXTET CHOSEN

The Women's board of managers picked the honorary girls varsity basketball team last Tuesday. This "sextet" consisted of Kreeger and Helms, forwards; Cannon and Frederick, centers; and Schmidt and Walbert, guards. Mary Farr and Barbee Humphreys were given honorable mention for the positions of forward and side-center respectively.

Three members of the "varsity" are Seniors. Anne Kreeger at forward, and Elizabeth Schmidt and Elizabeth Walbert at guards were the three fourth year women honored. They have been consistent stars on the class sextet that has reigned supreme in women's basketball for the last three years here. Incidentally the entire "varsity" was picked last year from the present Senior class. The Seniors who failed to regain their positions this year were Mary Farr at forward and Hilda Rynn and Mary Parks at the center posts.

The play of each of these feminine cagers was outstanding this year, but not quite up to the brilliance displayed by those picked on the "varsity sextet."

Other women basketneers who played good brands of feminine basketball are: Metcalfe, Harris, Ford and North.

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing
103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

PENNINGTON
CONSTRUCTION CO.
Contractors and Builders
Chestertown, Md.
Phone 88W and 30S

MR. IRA THOMAS SPEAKS ON BASEBALL, MARCH 2

At the regular weekly assembly held in the auditorium of William Smith Hall, Thursday, March 2, 1933, Washington College had as its speaker Mr. Ira F. Thomas, special representative of the Gulf Refining Company at Philadelphia, Pa. Mr. Thomas is also a coach and a scout for the Philadelphia Athletics baseball club. He told several baseball stories and the audience was kept laughing by his humor. He brought out the point that all good athletes should abstain from the use of alcohol and tobacco. He exemplified this point by giving illustrations of great men in baseball.

Mr. Thomas was catcher for the Philadelphia Athletics in 1914, when they were proclaimed by many as the world's greatest baseball team.

People know it..

"Chesterfields Satisfy"

WHEN smokers keep buying the same cigarette day after day... it's a pretty good sign that they're getting what they want... mildness, better taste—a smoke that's always the same.

So we're going right on making Chesterfields just as we always have... selecting choice, ripe tobaccos... ageing them... blending and cross-blending them... making them into cigarettes in the most scientific ways that are known.

As long as we do these things we know that smokers will continue to say, "They Satisfy". For that's what people are saying about Chesterfields.

If you smoke, why not find out about them? A package or two will tell you the whole story.

© 1933, Equated in U.S. Pat. & Tm. Office

Chesterfield

THEY'RE Milder —
THEY TASTE BETTER

Baseball Season Gets Underway

J. W. Carey Elected To Lead Nine

The 1933 baseball season got underway last Monday, after an absence of the national pastime for two years at Washington, when Coach Kibler called a meeting of all candidates. Some 35 ball players reported including among the first year men, Evans, Berry, Rheinhardt, Trimmer, Brien, and others. The wares of the entire squad is practically unknown. Carey, newly elected leader, being the only letter man left since Kibler had been heavily on Carey's pitching to keep the opponent's earned run down to nothing "for" O'Farrell has had experience as the sound at the bat. The latter appear true on the local schedule, and Evans has handled the rosin bag.

Among the candidates for the re-election positions are Ray Baker, Garrett, and Blumstein. There is a host of infielders and outfielders who are eager to show their ability both in the wiff and in the field.

Inclement weather has curtailed the practice sessions but the strong March wind should subside soon and the Maroon line will be set for their opening game with Outenquah at home on April 5. The next home games follow including Delaware on April 22 and then Washington encounters Sinschmann, Juniata, Mt. St. Mary's, Delaware, and Maryland in order on foreign fields. There is also a tentative game with the Baltimore Firemen and recently a night game to be played at Gettysburg. Washington U., has been added to complete the schedule today.

Washington College has always had a formidable ball club and although Coach Kibler "has a problem in building a new machine from raw material, his reputation for developing ball players is respected even in the Big Time, and Washington should be enthused about the coming season and the possibilities of the Kibler line to stay ahead in the race of State colleges for recognition in the Baseball World.

A. L. SPARKS

Specials in

Ladies' Hose
Newest Colors
and Weights

The Best Of EVERYTHING Needed FOR BUILDING E. S. Adkins & Co.
Chestertown, Centerville
Easton, Salisbury

Clements & Clements, Inc.
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING

"Keep your clothes fit"
Prompt Service
Phone 437
Dover, Delaware

SWARTHMORE TROUNCES FLYING PENTAGON 56-33

Washington College was trounced by Swarthmore at Swarthmore, Pa., 56 to 33, last Saturday night.

It was the last game of the season for both the Garnet and the Maroon and Black. The last hopes of the old Flying Pentagon disappeared before the excellent form in fast passing and accurate shooting of the Quakers. MacCracken led the onslaught scoring 26 points, most of his shots being from mid-court. For Washington, Gamber and Johnson led for the high scoring honors with eight points apiece.

Swarthmore started fast and piled up an early lead of 16 to 10 in the first 30 to 35 at half time. In the second period Washington scored a change in spirit and held Swarthmore checked until the score stood at 36 to 24 only to see the Quakers pull away and the season of '32-'33 went over the horizon with a 56 to 33 victory for Swarthmore. It was Washington's worst defeat in a decade.

West Hall Leads Fraternity League

The standing of the class and fraternity leagues up to March 10, 1933, is as follows:

Team	Won	Lost	P. C.
W. H. T.	8	2	.800
P. S. T.	6	4	.600
A. S. K.	6	5	.545
E. H. H.	5	5	.500
P. A. P.	4	7	.363
M. H. H.	2	8	.200

Class	Won	Lost	P. C.
Soph.	1	1	.500
Juniors	4	2	.667
Fresh	2	3	.400
Seniors	1	6	.143

MRS. HARRY WHITE
Washing
Cannon St. next to Bowling Alley

SMITH'S KUT-RATE DRUG STORE
Chestertown, Maryland
Owen C. Smith, Prop.
Phone 189

Eyes examined and glasses fitted by a graduate Optician, Fountain Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films and Developing.

J. S. KREEGER
Jeweler & Optometrist
Chestertown, Md.

Toulson's Pharmacy
Cordially invites the student to enjoy the privileges of a well-stocked drug store.

Parker Pens our specialty.

Sports Notions

By Charles B. Clark

By defeating the Flying Pentagon by an overwhelming score, Swarthmore ended up for Washington College its most disastrous basketball season of the last fifteen years.

Right games were won and nine lost. This is something new for the Eastern Shoremen. It is a bitter pill to take. It is especially hard to express condolences when one realizes the team did not, absolutely, play as it was capable of. Seemingly each fellow on the squad was sincerely earnest in his endeavors. It is not doubted that the players themselves knew at least one cause for the team's inferior showing. That cause was internal friction among several of the cagers. No team can play its best with such pent-up feelings. Some of these were let-alone in an after season game between members of the variety squad. Enough has been said, the college is still fairly back of the team, and looks for a complete reversal of form next year. Dick Gamber and Phil Slipp in latter games exhibited fine fighting spirit and both should be big assets again next year. Al Hodgson should come through also.

The boys are at it again. Every afternoon the familiar crack of Lacrosse sticks and the swishing of the net is heard as shots bound in. The baseball men also are lumbering up, working arm stiffeners, and getting their eye on the ball again. Each team has a difficult schedule and will both have to set fast paces throughout the season.

The Dulany-Vernoy Co.
337-339-341 North
Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest
Art China, Leather Goods,
Toys, Books, Athletic
Equipment

WE KNOW
What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style centers.

You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.

Our clothes will meet every real demand of them.

BORDLEY & SON

THE REXAL STORE
EASTMAN KODAKS
FILMS

DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING
BY EXPERTS
DRUGS and
SUNDRIES
Of All Kinds
A. L. STERLING

COACH GEORGE EKAITIS WINS BOXING BOUT

In an Alumni vs. Varsity boxing match last Saturday night at Western Maryland College, Westminster, Md., Coach George L. Ekaitis, of Washington College, won a decision over Kaplan, outstanding College Terror boxer, in the 175 pound class.

The mittmen, who in former years won many bouts for Dick Harlow, proved they could still "make it." The varsity won only three of six bouts, one of these from Doug Crosby in the 135 pound class who although twice inter-collegiate champion in his college days, was in no position to beat his opponent. Wooley in the 125 pound class won the first victory for the Alumni. Klepac defeated Garski in the 165 pound class to give the old grid two wins.

Coach Ekaitis fighting in the 175 pound class felled Kaplan with a swift left hook, the first blow of the bout. At the count of nine Kaplan got up, but for the rest of the fight showed effects of that first blow. Ekaitis used these same tactics in his college days and his victory usually lasted only part of the first round. During the rest of his bout he continually used his left effectively, and received only one or two minor blows himself.

Loyola Takes Close Game From Washington

On February 23, in the last home game of the 1932-33 basketball season, the Washington dribblers were defeated by the Loyola quintet 22 to 20.

The game was nip and tuck all the way but with Loyola able to maintain a slight lead during the greater part of the game.

In the second half a spirited Washington rally fell short of tying the score by one point. This was the first time in several years that Loyola has been able to gain a basketball victory on the local floor.

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT (Formerly Candy Kitchen)

For food of the Best Quality at Popular Prices. Home Cooking, Prompt Service. Sandwiches of all kinds. Candies, Sodas, Fancy Sundaes, Home Made Pies and all kinds of Soft Drinks at the Fountain.
Try Our 50c Dinner
Guarantee Satisfaction

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT (Open 6 A. M. to 12 midnight)

DEAR MISS CO-ED:

Welcome home! We are glad to hear that you are back in town.

In keeping with the times, we have tempered our prices, but we still luxuriously indulge in as many crisp, fresh linen towels as we believe essential to the facial. We still continue extravagantly (perhaps?) using the best waving lotions and we haven't the heart to cut our permanent waving preparations, either.

So, you see, we are offering you our best at the best prices. What can be more fair?

PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE
306 Park Row Phone No. 334

The Emerson Hotel Baltimore

Casine and Furnishings
Unexcelled
Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

Seniors Lead In Girls Cage League

Miss Doris T. Bell Directs League

The Seniors are leading in the girls' class basketball league up-date having defeated each of the other three teams one. The Freshmen hold second place position having lost only one game, that being a single point decision to the league leaders. The Sophomores and Juniors stand third and last, respectively.

According to Miss Doris Bell, director of girls' athletics at the college, the schedule of games for the feminine sextets is arranged so that each team will play each of the other three two times. The final contest will bring together the Seniors and Freshmen in a return match that should be the climax of the feminine cage games. This game may decide the championship as neither of the other classes have given those two combinations any serious competition. If the Seniors win the title will be theirs, but if the first year women win a play-off will be necessitated.

Miss Doris T. Bell

According to Miss Bell, the Senior sextet, undefeated so far and champions for the last three years, will be a slight favorite to cop the title.

The writer is certainly no expert on the women's variety of the cage game but it seems that Miss Bell's analysis of the situation is essentially correct. The Seniors will concede several points to the Freshmen on the basis of physical build to the generally taller and larger first year women. However, they have shown a clear margin over their rivals in the matter of passing and guarding. Elizabeth Walbert and Elizabeth Schmidt form a guarding combination in a class all by itself.

Ann Kreeger and Carolyn Helms have shown themselves to be the outstanding forwards in the league. The latter is particularly hard to guard once she obtains the ball.

Team Standings

	W	L	Pct.
Seniors	3	0	1.000
Freshmen	2	1	.666
Sophomores	1	2	.333
Juniors	0	3	.000

You could tell she was an optimistic daughter—two glasses and she made a spectacle of herself.

GILL BROS.
ICE CREAM
Dainties
Assorted Blocks

Compliments of

MARSHALL
Cleaners, Dyers, and
Repairers
Easton, Maryland

STUDENT COUNCIL MINUTES

The reorganized Student Council held its first meeting on Tuesday evening, March 7th. The meeting was called to order by President Ryan and after the taking of the oath by the Council members the regular business of the Council was taken up.

A committee was appointed to draw up a letter to be sent to all faculty members explaining the new status of the Council and requesting the cooperation of all faculty members.

It was decided to remove the following rat rules, to become effective Wednesday, March 8th.

1. Wearing of Rat caps.
2. Smoking.
3. Use of back walks to the cafeteria.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

Richard M. Gamber, Secretary.

Students Re-elect Much The Same Council

Following the resignation of the Student Council on Friday, March 24, re-elections were held on Monday, February 26th for the officers of the Council.

Hubert F. Ryan was re-elected President by a large vote. Fred Upton, a Senior member of the old council, was chosen as Vice-President and Richard Gamber of the Junior class was re-elected as Secretary.

The different classes then proceeded to elect their members. The Seniors selected Charles Morris again, and Mason Trapp was named by his class as the other Senior member. The Junior Class unanimously re-elected Charles B. Clark and Burdette Nuttle. The Sophomores chose Wesley Sadler again and elected John Lord as a new member. Albert Bilancioni was the choice of the Freshman class.

The personnel of the Council remains the same except for three members. Mason Trapp, John Lord and Albert Bilancioni. The Council has met and pledged themselves to do all possible in enforcing the revised Constitution.

She: "When we are married, I shall share all your joys and sorrows."

He: "But I have no sorrows."
She: "When we are married—"

Shop At The
B. & L. 5c to $1.00
VARIETY STORE
321 High St.
For Your Wants

STUDENTS
We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.

Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Lanthier Line from Paris.

Abbott's DeLuxe Ice Cream.
Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

Pan-Hellenic Dance To Be Held

Committees Preparing For Large Social Function

The Pan-Hellenic dance is to be held March 24th in the Gymnasium. All committees are now under way preparing for the biggest social function of the year. A large number of Greeks, with returning alumni to swell their ranks, will make up one of the largest crowds ever to attend a midseason dance at Washington College.

The executive committee guiding the affair is composed of Warren Carey, John McLain and Fred G. Upton, Jr. At the present time plans are being formulated for procuring an orchestra, inquiries have been sent to the National Agency and in a few days an answer will be forthcoming. Also Floyd Mills who played for the first Cotillion has been approached.

This is the first time that the Campus Greeks have gotten together to hold their annual dance as a joint function, having one person from each organization on a committee. In doing this it will bring back alumni so that they will be together, which would not happen otherwise. Besides uniting the old grads again which is in itself beneficial for the school, the plan will insure a dance that in all respects has never been equaled in orchestra and crowd. The dance will be semi-formal.

Elaborate decorations are being planned but nothing definite has been decided, any ideas or inspiration along this line would be generously appreciated by either D. F. Clarke, S. I. Shinn or Boyd Hopkins who compose the Decoration Committee.

The girls of Barnard College have stolen so many signs from the campus that the administration has requested them to make know their wants. "If a certain sign appeals to you, don't steal it, but tell us and we will have a duplicate made for you."

Compliments of

H. D. OREM & SON

M. CALLISTERS
Baltimore's Oldest Sport Store
Outfitters to Washington College
124 W. Baltimore, Md.
BALTIMORE, MD.

Compliments

of

Chestertown

Electric Light and Power

Company

POET'S CORNER

The following drifted into the "Elm" office with its author unknown. We print it with the request that it be taken in the tenor that it was evidently written—one of humor. Incidentally, we do not expect to see this poem win any prize.

Russ Baker loves his Catonville,
And Allen Broughton his Burley;
While Burkhardt loves his hairy self,
And Beas Pontz loves her Sparky.

Bob Fleetwood has a pretty girl,
Reinhold is not so lucky;
While freshmen Slacum loves them all,
And Ronnie leans for Ducky.

Some think June a silly girl,
And other think blondes upish;
While Dobby thinks Church Hill is nice,
And Dave thinks far coats rubbish.

The Gule leans coily to Mae,
As does the Fliv to Scoop;
And Brougham fears hell lose his gal,
While Dobby thinks Church Hill is nice.

While young Nuttle has high hopes,
McAlpine loves the maidens all,
But Dot Gamber is chesky.
While Saylor loves them large not small,
And Murray loves them not at all.

Signed ZYX

Del-Mar-Va Restaurant
For
After Dance Lunches
And Regular Meals

Compliments of

H. F. Jefferson

Compliments of

H. D. OREM & SON

M. CALLISTERS
Baltimore's Oldest Sport Store
Outfitters to Washington College
124 W. Baltimore, Md.
BALTIMORE, MD.

Compliments

of

Chestertown

Electric Light and Power

Company

Varsity Club To Hold Initiations March 13

The W. Club will hold initiation Tuesday evening, March 13th. All men who have earned the varsity "W" in any sport are eligible. To date, ten men, Ward, Ellard, Pippin, Hodgson, Upton, Fleetwood, Hall, Harris, Skipp, Bilancioni, have signed their intention of joining the club and others are expected to.

The club at the present time is working on a plan to give awards to those men who have participated in sports at Washington College, but who failed to win their varsity man-gems. It is hoped that this plan, when fully worked out will serve to increase the number of men participating in W. C. sports as well as reward the unflinching efforts of the non-varsity men.

It is said that the game of football actually originated in Greece in 600 B. C.

The
Third National Bank
Chestertown, Md.

The Only
National Bank
In Kent County

Modern Shoe Repairing
Store
PAUL SIPALA
Next to Sterling Drug

For Better
COAL SERVICE
Phone 149
C. W. Kibler & Sons
Chestertown, Maryland

NEW 700 ROOM CLUB HOTEL

Transient Rates $1.50 per
day up, with bath $2 up

Club life, restaurant, free swimming pool, gym, library, spacious lounges, roof garden, separate floors for men and women. Six minutes from Penn and Grand Central Station.

GEORGE TURKEL, Manager

$8 to $14 Weekly

KENMORE HALL

145 EAST 23rd ST. N. Y. CITY

Just East of Lexington Avenue

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE
CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students
Offers Complete Line of Conklin and Wahl Pens and Pencils. Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery, And School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

W. WILSON WINGATE ADDRESSES ASSEMBLY

The assembly speaker at the March 9th assembly hour at Washington College was W. Wilson Wingate, feature football and lacrosse writer for the "Baltimore News." He spoke to the student body on the subject of newspaper reporting. He told of the duties of a reporter, putting special stress on the necessity of truth as a requirement for a good reporter. He also spoke of the part that scandal plays in the newspaper business.

Mr. Wingate was secured as an assembly speaker by Dr. Frederick Livingston at the request of Dr. J. S. W. Jones.

During the afternoon Wingate watched Coach George Ekanite's stick-men work out. The speaker and Ekanite are both graduates of Western Maryland College.

Clements & Clements, Inc.

CLEANING PRESSING REPAIRING

"Keep your clothes fit"
Prompt Service
Phone 437
Dover, Delaware

—Advertise in The Elm.

BLUE KEY PETITION TO BE GIVEN NEW CHANCE

The petition which the Blue Key Fraternity has sponsored for a Student's Activity Budget has been laid aside.

This action resulted when enough students, particularly Seniors and freshmen did not add their signatures. The petition provided for the adding on to the regular college bill the sum of seventy-five cents to be distributed among the following organizations: The Blue Key Fraternity, the Student Council, the Literary Society, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.

As matters now stand, the petition will be presented to the Board of Governors and Visitors at their Quarterly Spring Meeting. If the Board approves of adding this additional amount to the College Bill, signatures or approval of the students will be unnecessary.

Toulson's Pharmacy

Cordially invites the student to enjoy the privileges of a well-stocked drug store.

Parker Pens our specialty.

—Advertise in The Elm.

DR. R. G. BEACHLEY'S CAR STOLEN AND RECOVERED

An automobile, belonging to Dr. R. G. Beachley, was stolen and recovered all in less than two hours last Saturday night, and charged with the theft, William Thomas, William "Texas" Johnson and Simon "Keg" Everett, all Negroes, are being held in the Kent jail.

A few minutes after the car was taken from in front of his home on High and Front streets, Dr. Beachley notified Sheriff John T. Vickers. Sheriff Vickers communicated with State Police and town officers in nearby towns and less than an hour after the call, Deputy Sheriff Edward Squires, of Millington, arrested Thomas in possession of the car. There Thomas implicated the other two Negroes.

Don't you get Pipe Hungry

once in a while?

"MAYBE it's back to Nature. Maybe it's something else. I don't know just what it is, but somehow or other I've just got to slip out in the woods and sit down on a log. I always take the old pipe along. Thinking somehow seems easier when you are smoking a pipe. I can fill up my pipe with Granger, and somehow just seem to see things clearer than at any other time.

"Don't know what it is about Granger, but it must be made for pipes—real pipe tobacco.

"Somehow, there's a flavor and aroma about Granger I never found in any other tobacco. When I pack my old pipe tight and good with these big Granger flakes, it's about the coolest smoke I ever enjoyed. It makes me downright pipe hungry every time I look at the package."

Some years ago we made a painstaking, scientific study to find out, if we could, the kind of tobacco best suited for pipes.

Down in the Blue Grass regions of Kentucky, we found a tobacco called White Burley. There is a grade of this tobacco between the kind used for chewing and the varieties suitable for cigarettes that is best suited for pipes. This tobacco is used in Granger.

This tobacco is prepared by a method worked out many years ago by Mr. J. N.

Wellman. It gives Granger a fragrance and mellowness that pipe smokers like, and makes it burn to a clean, dry ash. Granger never gums a pipe.

Granger has not been on sale very long, but it has come to be popular, and there is this much about it: We have yet to know of a man who started smoking it, who didn't keep on. Folks seem to like it.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

VOL. XXXII. NO. 11.

SAT. DAY, MAR. 25, 1933

PRICE TEN CENTS

Music Program To Be Given Sunday

Orchestra And Glee Club In It

The third of the 1932-33 series of Sunday afternoon musical programs by Washington College musical associations has been set for three o'clock Sunday, March 26.

The program will be presented by the Girls Glee Club under the direction of Raymond Moffett, and by the orchestra, directed by Dr. Fred G. Livingston and Fred G. Ussilton, student leader.

Miss Mary Jane Neild, soprano, will be the soloist with the glee club and Vincent Brandolini the pianist.

The program is as follows:

1. (a) "Marche Militaire" Schubert
(b) "Lullaby" Brahms
Orchestra
2. Piano Solo Selected
Mr. Vincent Brandolini
3. Overture, "Venetian Carnival" Zamecni
Orchestra
4. Vocal Solo, "Hark, Hark, the Lark" Schubert
Miss Mary Jane Neild
5. (a) "Menuet in G" Beethoven
(b) "Liebestraum" Liszt
Orchestra
6. (a) "O Promise Me" DeKonen
(b) "Maid Lindy Lou" Strickland
(c) "Sylvia" Speaks
Girls Glee Club
7. (a) "Excerpt from Lucia di Lamermoor" Donizetti
(b) "Minuet from the Military Symphony" Haydn
Orchestra
8. Brass Quartette Selected
Messrs. Fleetwood, Remberg, Ussilton and Clark
9. (a) "Chanson Sans Paroles" Tschakowsky
(b) "Pilgrims Chorus" from "Tannhauser" Wagner
Orchestra

Rabbi Israel Speaks To Student Assembly

Last Thursday, March 16, Rabbi Israel, of Baltimore, capably gave an inspiring speech on the present economic situation and the way in which a remedy might be possible.

During the course of his address this exponent of orthodox theology and modern thought in religion expounded his theory, that if a small percentage of the gross income of our large corporations was legally required to be put aside in the form of an unemployment fund, it would not place any noticeable burden on these firms and would absolutely be a direct and definite aid to charity organizations. He also pointed out several instances, where, in the past World War, many of our patriots aided the enemy by selling them munitions and supplies through underground channels. For this reason he stated that pacifism should be encouraged by everybody.

The discourse was exceptionally well given in view of the fact that the Rabbi is one of the most prominent speakers in this region of the country.

WEEKLY FROLIC TO BE HELD IN REID HALL

The many Washington Alumni and friends who attended the successful Inter-Fraternity Dance last night will be entertained this evening at a Frolic to be held in Reid Hall. Dancing is to begin at nine o'clock.

Through the efforts of the Blue Key Fraternity, this informal weekly dance, a survival of the old Saturday morning frolics held in the gym, has been maintained during the college year. It is the only informal social offered those students who find it necessary to remain on the campus every week end.

Music will be furnished by members of the Washington orchestra. Old grads may enjoy their extended stay on the campus at tonight's dance. Blue Key welcomes Washington Alumni!

New Lyceum Offers Attractive Programs

The following pictures are cycled for the New Lyceum Theatre for the week of March 27 and April 1.

"The Island of Lost Souls" with Charles Laughton, Richard Arlen and Bela Lugosi, will show here Monday and Tuesday. Vincent Lopez and his orchestra are an added attraction.

On Wednesday, "Billions Dollars Scandal" will be the feature, with Robert Armstrong and Constance Cummings playing the leading roles. A double feature consisting of "State Trooper" and "Blondie Johnson" will be shown Friday and Saturday. Joan Blondell and Chester Morris star in the second feature.

Ignacius Bjorlee Addresses Students

Principal Of Frederick Deaf School

Principal Ignacius Bjorlee, of the Frederick School for the Deaf, addressed the regular eleven o'clock Assembly at Washington College on Thursday, March 23rd. Mr. Bjorlee spoke on the general aims and accomplishments of modern education, with particular emphasis on the unnecessary prevalence of illiteracy.

Mr. Bjorlee, after a "customary introduction," gave a definition of education synthesized from several incomplete ones furnished by others. He then proceeded to elucidate upon the definition from the point of view of mental, physical and moral education. In this connection, he suggested that Washington College operated with a proper sense of value of physical education. No spontaneous applause occurred in the audience at this point, although the entire speech was very well received.

After the fashion of that eminent scientist, Mr. Charles Steinmetz, Mr. Bjorlee, who is of Norwegian stock, and is an ardent Rotarian, got around to the body of his address in the last five minutes, and here seemed to expatiate upon illiteracy, upon the control of which he is a natural authority.

He deplored the relatively high percentage of those unable to read or write in this country, and pointed with pride to his Norway, which has a smaller degree of illiteracy than any other nation on earth.

Pan-Hellenic Dance Held Last Night In Gymnasium; Hallet Furnishes Music

ORCHESTRA LEADER

Mal Hallet

EDUCATION NOTE

Graduates of the College who met the requirements for a Maryland High School Teacher's Certificate, but who were not successful in being placed in previous years, are urged to send in their names to Dr. Livingston before April 15th, if they desire to have their names listed on the waiting list.

This list will be sent to all Maryland County Superintendents, principals of preparatory schools in Maryland, and to principals and State Departments of Education in nearby states.

Big Crowd Of Alumni Present At Affair

The first Pan-Hellenic Prom in the history of Washington College was held last night in the gymnasium to the strains of Mal Hallet's orchestra.

The dance was attended by a large crowd composed of fraternity men, pledges and alumni. In the opinion of practically all who attend the affair it was pronounced the most successful social event of the year.

The gymnasium was elaborately and skillfully decorated in orange, red and black to represent the flames and fumes of the infernal regions. At the entrance to the gym was placed a sign on which were the univocal words: "Alumni all welcome, ye who enter here." Inside, flames flicked both walls, and at the rear of the orchestra stand an imitation fire furnace burned merrily beneath "Satan" himself.

The dance was given under the auspices of all the Greek Letter societies on the campus. However, only the three fraternities were connected with the administrative and financial end of the dance. Mal Hallet's orchestra furnished excellent music. This orchestra was probably the most famous and expensive ever to play in the local gymnasium.

The chairpersons, listed under the title of "Guardian Angels" were as follows: Dr. and Mrs. Paul E. Titworth, Dr. J. S. W. Jones, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Livingston, Dr. Esther M. Dele, Miss Florence T. Smogdans, and Mrs. Reed S. Fox.

The executive committee, under the name of "Satan," consisted of the three fraternity presidents: Casey, McLean and Ussilton. Other committees were as follows: "Flowers"—Clarke, Hopkins, Shinn; "Charon"—Baker, McCrone, Nuttle; "Minors"—Davis, Noble, Saylor.

"Minors"—De Socio, Lord, Wallace; "Limbree"—Bringham, Furman, Giraults; "Cerberus"—Carey, Huey, Wells.

Varsity Club Holds Annual Initiations

The Washington College Varsity Club held its annual initiations last week when several new letter men were taken into the organization.

The applicants for membership were put through a rather rigorous ordeal, being fired upon at close range with "grape shot" and other missiles. The feature of the ceremony was an operation performed by the mysterious "Dr. Whiskey" upon each of the applicants.

Among those who joined were: David Pippenger, Edgar H. Chambers, Skipp, Blaisdell and Berry.

The Board of Visitors and Governors of Washington College held a meeting in Wilmington, Del., last Thursday night.

The meeting was for the further consideration of applications for the vacancy which will occur when Dr. Titworth finishes his stay as president here this coming July. No announcement was made as to the result of the meeting.

Women's Student Government Situation In Regards To Freshman Regulations Reviewed

By Albert E. Dobbins

At a meeting held on Monday, March 20th, 1933, and attended by the Dean of Women the Reid Hall Council judged the Freshman members of Reid Hall incapable of having representation and removed Miss Dorothy Slater from the position she had held since her election to the Council early in November. Further as a punishment because of their general disregard of all rules and because of their "general attitude toward upper classes," during the remaining time of the college year the Freshmen are deprived of the privileges of studying in the library during the evening period, 7:00 P. M. to 9:00 P. M., and of receiving calls of a date, or having any kind of date, from 5:00 P. M. to 7:00 P. M. Also the Freshmen must at all times account for their absence from Reid Hall and are compelled to wear a form of room-campus while serving a form of room-campus while in the dormitory.

The entire procedure of indirection was inept and unjust; an insult to the Freshmen. The Freshman, including Miss Slater, were summoned en masse before this legislature, executive and judicial body of the Reid Hall Division of the Student Government Association of Washington College, with Miss Elizabeth V. Schmidt, chairman, president, and Miss Margaret C. Brewer, head of Reid Hall present. The announcement of the ousting of the Freshman representative came as a bolt out of the blue to the complete surprise even of Miss Slater who had just been informed of her removal.

Understand that there is no charge of any nature made against her. She was dropped from the Council because the Freshmen are "incapable of being a part of a self-governing body." At least the Council might have shown the courtesy and respect due one of its own members. Incidentally the By-Laws of the Girls Student Government Association make no provision for impeachment of Council members and in removing Miss Slater, the last clause of Sec. 4, Act II, which reads "The member of the Freshman class shall take office immediately following her election and shall continue to function throughout the entire college year," was violated. Some Freshmen made this discovery and became bold enough to send a petition to the Council, with the fifteen Freshman signatures alphabetically affixed, asking for their rights. They received a very harsh reply from the Council would be glad to consider their case at their next regular meeting; meanwhile the Freshmen continue to remain without representation.

The whole affair shows with petty spite and revenge. Note that no one violator was singled out nor was any definite rule or regulation pointed out as having been violated; just a "general disregard of all rules." The punishment inflicted because of the Freshmen's "general attitude toward upperclassmen" certainly is unreasonable. Whoever took the lead in the formulation of the penalties plunged headlong into blindly without consideration of any person or the possibility of any harmful effects. The innocent are being punished in the same degree along with any so-called guilty.

Regardless of the opinion of the body of Councilmen in regard to the lack of capabilities of the Freshmen, there are among them those who are here in Washington College with a definite end serious purpose and to them being deprived of the liberty to use the library and its many facilities when convenient is a grave matter. To some Freshmen the whole thing only means solo walks to Reid Hall after dinner and the loss of an occasional date in the library, while others taking their first glimpses of life are through the wrong end of the telescope and cry out, "They can't do that." After such treatment should the Freshmen be expected to have respect for rules and order? Should they be expected to cooperate with a body that considers them unfit, unworthy, and incapable of being a part? Or should they laugh off the insult?

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1832.

EDITOR PHILIP J. WINGATE
 Assistant Editor Charles E. Clark
 Literary Editor Roland C. Ready
 Society Editor W. M. Richards
 Exchange Editor Roland E. Leckebusch

Feature Reporter Albert Grafius, Janet Atwater, P. Skipp,
 Albert E. Dobbins, Robert Grafius, Janet Atwater, P. Skipp,
 Ervin L. Korbier, Morris Cambell, Carroll W. Casteel,
 Richard Gambler

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

Charles Clark, DeWitt Clarke, William Baker

SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES

Alexina Robinson, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager John McLain
 Circulation Manager Patterson Beasman
 Assistant Circulation Manager Emerson Slacum
 Chief Staff Photographer Emory Burkhardt
 Advertising Manager Louis Goldstein

ASSISTANTS

Walter F. Dorman

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.
 Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, MAR. 25, 1933

MISS WHITTAKER

We would like to nominate for the position of quarterback on the All-American team of college secretaries, Miss Mattie Whittaker of Washington College. Incidentally we also pick her as Captain and Best Bet of said team. Just in case you don't clearly understand what we mean by all of the above we will continue on to say that in versatility, dependability, and all around ability we believe the secretary to the Dean and Registrar to be unexcelled.

The round of applause that greeted Miss Whittaker at the showing of the college moving pictures last Wednesday made it clear just what opinion the student body at large has of her. We think that we are safe in saying that Miss Whittaker does more to make the phrase "friendly college" an actuality than any other individual on the Hill. We will be most surprised to hear a single denial of the above statement.

Back in the fall of 1931, Miss Whittaker was ill for a time and consequently unable to perform her duties. As we remember it, one regular secretary and two part time secretaries took her place, which was still not properly filled.

Mr. Ross, former editor of the "Elm" once told us that if we wanted to find out anything whatever concerning Washington College to go see Miss Whittaker. We do not wish to pile any more work on one who now does the work of three, but we pass on Mr. Ross' advice as your best bet in case you ever desire any such information.

FRATERNITIES AND ATHLETICS

The resignation of Coaches Kibler and Ekafitis from the Alpha Kappa Fraternity should entirely remove the basis for rumors circulated at various times in the past. Minded and uninformed persons to the effect that fraternity politics played a part in Washington College athletics. We speak plainly concerning this matter because we know that practically every student here has at one time or another heard such rumors. However, we hasten to add that the athletes and those in position to know have not aided such rumors but have flatly denied them. Although no direct statement was made it should be clear to all what the purpose of both coaches' action was.

In a college with an enrollment as small as that of Washington College, fraternities naturally are somewhat over accentuated. However, it is essential that all things in the way of athletics be as far removed as possible from the competitive and other undesirable features of the fraternity system.

Even the most ridiculous rumor will find believers in certain people and eventually these people begin to construe the most simple and direct actions into secret plots with concealed purposes. Thus no matter what is done it finds a critic in some one and finally these suspicions cause a demoralizing affect on college spirit which is then either directly or self-consciously transmitted to the athlete.

Therefore while the action that the Washington Coaches have seen fit to take will of course not change the actual straight-forward handling of affairs that has existed all along, it should change the opinion of certain groups toward the handling of these affairs. And after all the general opinion or conditions is almost important as the actual conditions in such matters as this.

SLIPPERY ELM

By ROLAND C. READY

Due to many comments and severe criticisms from the student body last week, Slippery Elms felt obligated to express some of these opinions.

The current protest seems to be due to the lack of adequate facilities in the Women's Athletic Department. The need for an improvement has always been felt but until recently the protest was what.

However, the cry seems to be growing louder each day and it seems as though something must be done before another college year begins.

The surprising part is that the matter has apparently never been considered by the administration nor has there been any united action taken by the co-eds to better the conditions.

We realize this is no time to be suggesting improvements but as soon as possible another shower room should be added to the gymnasium.

The Washington College moving pictures shown last Wednesday night certainly were excellent. These pictures should prove to be a fine piece of advertising for the college. Dr. Tidworth and the other persons responsible for this piece of work are decidedly in line for congratulations.

OPEN FLOOR

Dear Editor:

The early part of this year in one of the Elm's columns the shortcomings of the Saturday night Frolics were pointed out. Since that time with but few exceptions, these week-to-week get-togethers have been below their old par, in fact, they have been far from successful. What is the trouble?

The first thought would be to mention the music. Are we being fair in our criticism of the fellows who have been playing? The situation is such that we can't expect an Iliad Jones here every week. But we do have a number of talented musicians on the campus. These fellows have been giving their services faithfully with little pay. I ask the Student Body if they really believe they have been supporting them as they should. Have you done anything to show them that you appreciate their efforts? It is so easy to give them a good applause after a dance, or say "word" to them about enjoying their music. Little things like that would go a long way in raising more enthusiasm in our orchestra.

Another thought. Here on the campus we have a quartette that is hard to beat, as well as several other good singing groups. These fellows we don't get to hear them enough. The Frolics seem the logical place to get acquainted with our campus stars and nothing would be more welcome than to have dancing a few moments and hear the quartette give one of their specialties. Perhaps someone would volunteer to become master of ceremonies and be in charge of all the singing.

Let's do something better, it is too late. Give your moral support, even though your financial assistance might be limited.

—Dick Cooper.

A. L. SPARKS

Special in

Ladies' Hose

Newest Colors and Weights

PURLOINED PHRASES

C. F.: "Why do you have dates with that girl?"

S. R.: "Because I want to."

C. F.: (Suspiciously) "Want to what?"

She frowned on him; and called him Mr. Because in fun merely Kr.

And then for spite

The following night

The naughty Mr. Kr. Sr.

Dr.: "You have acute indigestion." Jane: "Yes, hee? Do you think so?"

L.: "We're going to give the bride shower tonight."

V.: "Count me in. I'll bring the soup."

B.: "Boy that's some girl I've got."

L.: "I'll say she is."

B.: "What's that?"

L.: "I say—er—Is She?"

He: "I hear your girl is very temperamental."

2nd He: "Yes, 90 per cent temper, 10 per cent mental."

"Did you vote for the honor system?"

"You bet I did, four times."

"Many a girl who, when dressed, has the graceful lines of a yacht—looks like a seam after stripping for action."

"A Romantic Complex." Moonlight night, Dumb chicks, Minutaires, Fifty Bucks.

"What color is best for a June bride?"

"I prefer a white one."

Advice to girls—Never let a fool kiss you and never let a kiss fool you.

Greek Letter Notes

GAMMA SIGMA

The Gamma Sigma Sorority is very glad to welcome the Misses Carolyn Helms, Carolyn Jewell, Gladys Rebecca Adair and Ruth Cannon as full fledged members of the sorority.

KAPPA GAMMA NEWS

The Misses Bowen, Childs, Clark, and Metcalfe, were initiated into the Kappa Gamma Sorority recently.

We extend our best wishes to Miss Anna Harris, for a speedy recovery from her operation.

TOLD TO ME

By I. ONLY HEARD

Even though the "Snoopercats" may have diplomatically appealed to the freshmen for support, the Rat Rule regarding "decorating the gym" still is in effect. Since the Vice President's Committee seems to have died a natural death, it's rumored that the enforcement of the few remaining rules is falling to the numerous willing hands that are eager to undertake it.

Judging from the activities in Reid Hall, it appears as though the "Snoopercats" are still organized. They seem to have caught up with the pace of the yearling co-eds—we wonder if their sphere of influence couldn't possibly be extended to cover those few young ladies who have not yet realized the mistake which they arouse when they continually "hook in" the "bread line" ahead of their turn.

We nominate for oblivion:

Classes that continually extend over the allotted hour. All eight "closed" classes. Friday's meals in the cafeteria. And the suitcases known as "evening bags" which the men are forced to carry by their thoughtful Cottolien dates.

We nominate for the Hall of Fame:

All short assembly speeches. The legalized sale of beer in the Cafeteria. All scholastic holidays. And this column.

This week's laugh comes from the recent nocturnal activities of our self-styled astronomers. It must be rather embarrassing, after you have focused your field glasses on Reid Hall, to find several night spy-glasses there focussed on you.

These lovers who immediately telephone their "One and Onlies" after their dates are ended at 10:30 P. M. seem to forget that someone may want to call Reid Hall with something really important to say.

Rumer has it that some of the students were not satisfied with the idea of a Pan-Hellenic Prom this weekend, and so they held an Inter-Fraternity Brawl last week end—all of which was hard on Monday morning "cuts."

What we want to know is how can we get the "drag" that will allow us to have OUR breakfasts at 8:30 A. M. We would like to see how long it will take and marvel at his power to charm the Queen.

Rumer has it that the college may have its name changed to "Pig Alley Academy." We wonder how long it will take a congratulatory cable from Mussolini to reach Pig Alley?

Do You Know That:

Someone stacked the cards on Brinsfield "Papoose" tried a dozen times for the Delaware Student Council. It's O. K. for our co-eds to make dates for 2 A. M. on the wing escape, but it's hardly considerate when they don't show up "Moan" figures on rubbing the cradle, it "Suttlery" is tough on "Rudy."

Dan has moved his trunk to High St. "Doc" Murray is now known as "Freddie." The telephone company now has a Derman Evelyn "Dramatic Club" Walker has a stage whisper for "Lord Dandy." Fitts is interested in the jail. It was actually quite complimentary to say that the Prom decorations "looked like Hell!"

Compliments

of

Chestertown

Electric Light and Power

Company

First Lacrosse Game Today

Only Home Game Of Season

Coach George L. Ekinitt's Lacrosse team will make its initial start of the 1933 season this afternoon on Kibler Field when the Sparrows Point High School team will be engaged in a practice game.

Inclement weather during the latter part of last week and on Monday of this week somewhat slowed practice, but since Tuesday the Maroon and Black players have been working hard, polishing up a nice passing and cutting attack, and getting use to the shorter field on clearing the ball out on the defense. All indications point to a better team than the good one of 1932, mostly due to added experience.

The lineup this afternoon will probably consist of eight players who have been regulars in previous seasons. "Pat" Beaman who was out for the sport a short while during fall practice of his Freshman year, has taken up the game again this year. He has made such strides forward that he is expected to start the season as running mate to Al Girattis on the wing attack positions. Omar Carey who played some fine Lacrosse at cover point last year, but who is not a regular, has been shifted to one of the close attack positions. Carey is an excellent stick handler and will wage a merry battle with Charley Morris for the in-home position.

The probable lineups:

Washington	Sparrows Point
Reinhold	Goal: Todd
Bringham	Point: Halstead
Pippin	Cover Point: Nagle
W. gate	Second Defense: Royston
Cumber	Third Defense: Brist
Clark	Center: Grant
Brasman	Second Attack: Nordhouse
Girattis	Third Attack: Kelley
Morris	In Home: London
Chambers	Out Home: Morley
Sparrow	Point Substitutes:
Charles, Bates, Cox, Schwartz, Schure, Mason, Manager Hopmester.

MRS. HARRY WHITE
Washington
Cannon St. next to Bowling Alley

Shop At The
B. & L. 5c to $1.00
VARIETY STORE
321 High St.
For Your Wants

STUDENTS
We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.

Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Letheric Line from Paris.

Abbott's DeLuxe Ice Cream.
Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

BASEBALL HELD UP BY BAD WEATHER

With the passing of the equinoctial storm on last Monday, Coach Kibler was able to put his baseball charges through brief practices during the remainder of the week, the sessions consisting mainly in conditioning workouts. Little real drill could be done but the sport drilled served to help the head mentor get some line on the 36 diamond candidates, practically all new and every one a serious contender for a place on the 1933 baseball combine.

Equipment was issued last week and more than two full miles were outfitted for the time present. Bating and fielding practices were held. Coach Kibler concentrating on the infield positions, trying several combinations in the various spots. Among the first suckers are Evans, Johnson, Rodney and others. Dokhins, Bean, and Boyles were tried at second base, while Winbow, Hodgson and Dwyer, worked out on the hot corner. Berry and Rhinehart alternated at shortstop with Baker and Bilalick taking turns at the backstopping job. Among the host of outfielders are Tigner, Nicholson, Dickerson, Clements, Koebel and Novak. The sole veteran J. W. Carey continues warming up as the fellow no one looked particularly impressive but Evans, Tigner, Baker, Bilalick and Nicholson showed possibilities of developing into consistent and dangerous batters. Tigner and Nicholson stepped into a couple of Coach Kibler's offerings for long hard drives.

At the willow no one looked particularly impressive but Evans, Tigner, Baker, Bilalick and Nicholson showed possibilities of developing into consistent and dangerous batters. Tigner and Nicholson stepped into a couple of Coach Kibler's offerings for long hard drives.

Modern Shoe Repairing Store
PAUL SIPALA
Next to Sterling Drug

Del-Mar-Va Restaurant
For
After Dance Lunches
And Regular Meals

GILL BROS.
ICE CREAM
Dainties
Assorted Blocks

Clements & Clements, Inc.

CLEANING PRESSING REPAIRING

"Keep your clothes fit"
Prompt Service
Phone 437
Dover, Delaware

Toulson's Pharmacy
Cordially invites the student to enjoy the privileges of a well-stocked drug store.

Parker Pens our specialty.

Sophomores Win Cage League Title

Defeat West Hall In Playoff

The Sophomore Class team won the playoff of the Internal Basketball League last Wednesday night, March 22nd, defeating the West Hall team 17 to 16.

The standings of the teams at the close of the season were:

West Hall	W	L	Pct.
Phi S. Tau	11	4	.733
Alpha Kappa	9	5	.643
Phi S. Phi	8	6	.571
East Hall	5	8	.385
Middle Hall	3	10	.237
Soph Junior	1	7	.125
Fresh	5	3	.625
Senior	3	5	.375
	1	7	.125

SMITH'S
KUT-WATE
DRUG STORE
Chestertown, Maryland
Owen C. Smith, Prop.
Phone 189

HERB'S
QUICK LUNCH
Sandwiches of all Kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Vasehl House

THE REXAL STORE
EASTMAN KODAKS
FILMS

DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING
BY EXPERTS

DRUGS AND
SUNDRIES
Of All Kinds
A. L. STERLING

WE KNOW
What Young Men Want
You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style centers.
You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.
Our clothes will meet every thing you demand of them.
BORDLEY & SON

The Dalany-Vernay Co.
337-339-341 North Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest
Art China, Leather Goods, Toys, Books, Athletic Equipment

"ALL INTERNAL" CAGE TEAM OF "ELM" PICKED

The "Elm" picks the following "All Internal" basketball team. Very little comment is needed on the selections as most of them speak for themselves.

Player	Position	Team
Shaul	F	Sophomores
Boyles	F	P. S. T.
Harries	C	Junior
Carey, O	G	Junior
Bean	G	West Hall
Captain—Carey.
Best Bet—Shaul.

Compliments of
MARSHALL
Cleaners, Dyers, and Repairers
Easton, Maryland

BARNETT'S
BARBER SHOP
Over Sterling's Drug Store
First Class Service and Expert Workmen

Compliments of
H. D. OREM & SON

M. C. CALLISTERS
Est. 1894
Baltimore's Oldest Sport Store
Outfitters to Washington College
124 W. Baltimore, St.
BALTIMORE, MD.

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE
CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students
Offers Complete Line of Conklin and Wahl Pens and Pencils, Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery, And School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

The Emerson Hotel
Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled
Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged
Private Rooms and Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

Player	Position	Team
Rees	F	A. K.
Mooney	F	P. S. P.
Light	C	West Hall
Brandolini	C	Sophomores
Dwyer	G	West Hall
Captain—Mooney.
Best Bet—Rees.

Alter A Studious Day
Relax at
JIM'S and HICK'S
Billiard Parlor

The Best Of EVERYTHING Needed FOR BUILDING
E. S. Adkins & Co.
Chestertown, Centerville Easton, Salisbury

—Advertise In The Elm.

The
Third National Bank
Chestertown, Md.

The Only
National Bank
In Kent County

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT
(Formerly Candy Kitchen)
For food of the Best Quality at Popular Prices. Home Cooking, Prompt Service. Sandwiches of all kinds, Candies, Sodas, Fancy Sundaes, Home Made Pies and all kinds of Soft Drinks at the Fountain.
Try Our 50c Dinner
Guarantee Satisfaction
Visit The
CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT
(Open 6 A. M. to 12 midnight)

Minstrel Show To Be Presented In Salisbury

State Normal School To Be Scene Of Show After Easter

Arrangements are being made by the Blue Key Fraternity to give a presentation of the Maroon and Black minstrel show in Salisbury at the State Normal School. A date early after the Easter holidays, — not yet. Members of the production feel that a chance to show their talents in Salisbury would be the fitting climax after its two successful playings, its premier here and a second appearance at Stevensville.

In fact the Salisbury trip would be nothing less than a big "break" for the minstrelers as it presents an opportunity for the fellows to give their show a strictly modern stage, before an appreciating, though critical audience.

Dr. Holloway, president of the State Normal, is doing everything possible in conjunction with the proposed production. In this he is expressing his keen interest in Washington College.

The auditorium of the new two million dollar school ranks second in the East to the Ritz in New York, in regards to modern stage facilities, and lighting technique. With such a background, along with the expected crowd attending, the third showing of the Maroon and Black's should be a howling success.

Louis Goldstein Given Party By Class Mates

The third floor of Middle Hall, fondly called Pig Alley by many successive occupants through the years, witnessed an unusual scene last Thursday night. Perhaps never before in the annals of its blaw life has any of its dwellers given a party like this one in its ancient portals. Goldstein, one of Washington's honored sons, was leaving sweet 18, an occasion worthy of celebration according to his friends in Pig Alley.

So when at 10 o'clock the unsuspecting Mr. Goldstein walked into his room, he was greeted by a rousing cheer from the throats of his fellow class mates. On the table in the center of the room he saw a huge three-deck cake aglow with candles. A number of neatly wrapped presents added more prospects to the general impression.

COACHES KIBLER, EKAITIS RESIGN FROM A. K. FRAT.

Coach J. Thomas Kibler and Coach George L. Ekaitis recently announced their resignation as faculty members of the Alpha Kappa Fraternity of Washington College. Both coaches emphasized the fact that their resignation was not due to any trouble or misunderstanding with the fraternity or any of its members.

Coach Kibler made the following statement: "In resigning from the fraternity I wish to make known that my action was not caused by any disagreement with the fraternity. After consideration, I have decided that a faculty member in the athletic department would be less hampered in performing his duties if not a member of a social fraternity on the hill."

PENNINGTON CONSTRUCTION CO.

Contractors and Builders
Chestertown, Md.
Phone 88W and 30S

—Advertise in The Elm.

Compliments Of
Park Row Beauty Shoppe
306 Park Row
Phone No. 334
Chestertown, Md.

Freshmen Girls Defeat Seniors For Cage Crown

Seniors Lose Title Held For Past Three Years

The Freshman girls' basketball team won the last two games of their three game series with the Seniors to top the interschool title and thereby topple the fourth year women from the pedestal they have occupied for the last three years. The games were played March 14 and 16. The Freshman sextet won both of the last two games by decisive margins despite the fact that the Seniors played very creditable basket ball.

The champions displayed a telling margin in center play. This ability to control the ball in mid court was of vast importance in getting the ball up to Carolyn Helms at forward, who was responsible for most of the Freshman scores.

The series brought out the fact that the Athletic Board probably overlooked the best guard in the league when Velma Carter was left off the honorary varsity. Although the Seniors, had the most efficient guard combination in the league, Miss Carter was superior in individual brilliance to either of them.

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing
103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

For Better
COAL SERVICE
Phone 149
C. W. Kibler & Sons
Chestertown, Maryland

Eyes examined and
glasses fitted by a graduate
Optician. Fountain
Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films
and Developing.

J. S. KREEGER
Jeweler & Optometrist
Chestertown, Md.

They're Milder
and yet

They Satisfy

You get what you want, and you don't have to take what you don't want

It's like this: You don't want a strong, rank cigarette; you don't want one that's tasteless.
You want one that lets you know that you are smoking, but you don't want one that's bitey.
Chesterfields are milder . . .
and yet They Satisfy.

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store

Where Your Dollar

Has More Cents

Compliments of
H. F. Jefferson

Chesterfield
the cigarette that's MILD
the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md. 1782.

EDITOR PHILLIP J. WINGATE
 Assistant Editor Charles B. Clark
 Literary Editor Roland C. Ready
 Society Editor W. McCa. Richards
 Exchange Editor Roland E. Lebeckus

REPORTERS

Feature Reporter William Baker
 Albert E. Dooker, Albert Giralta, Janet Atwater, P. Skipp, Ervin L. Keerber, Morris Campbell, Carroll W. Casteel,
 Richard Gamber

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

Charles Clark, DeWitt Clarke, William Baker

SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES

Alexina Robinson, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager John McLean
 Circulation Manager Patterson Bensman
 Assistant Circulation Manager Emerson Slacum
 Chief Staff Photographer Emory Burkhardt
 Advertising Manager Louisa Goldstein

ASSISTANTS

Walter F. Dorman

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, APR. 29, 1933

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT

The following editorial was taken from "The Gold and Black" of Birmingham-Southern College:

In accepting the presidency of Washington College in Maryland, Dean Gilbert Wilcox Mead gains a signal and highly deserved honor and Birmingham-Southern College loses a brilliant, capable leader. Announcement of his election came somewhat as a surprise to students and friends here.

Washington College, famed for its tradition and work in liberal arts, has recognized in Dean Mead the ability and alertness to modern trends, which for eight years has marked his work in connection with Birmingham-Southern College. His ability and alertness will go far to enhance the prestige of his new charge.

During his eight years here, he has proved an excellent executive and department head. Pedagogical duties have not been the limits of his work. Dean Mead has shown his worth as a critic of contemporary writing and a leader in civic affairs. As a proponent of sportsmanship and athletics he was one of the founders and first president of the Dixie Conference. He has been a prominent figure in Southern educational circles.

The many friends of Dean Mead will join in wishing him the best of success when he goes to Washington College. Those who have studied under him count themselves most fortunate and rejoice in this opportunity and honor afforded him.

STILL AT IT

We note with considerable disappointment that certain Marylanders are still trying to attract attention to themselves by attempting to ridicule a very important section of Maryland. Of course our disappointment is considerably lessened by the knowledge that these persons and concerns are habitually "knockers" and find it hard to cause themselves to receive any notice in any other fashion. We are referring to the "play," if such it can really be called, written by a certain Donald Kirkley and now playing in Baltimore. It is called "Peace Officer" and is a crude and feeble effort to keep alive the unfortunate Salisbury affair of about a year ago. The play reveals the author's lack of knowledge as to actual conditions as well as his inability to see into situations.

We are surprised that the "Baltimore Sun" should give space to the reviewing of such a silly and childlike effort as "Peace Officer" is.

"NO CROWDING"

According to reports, when the rush for beer licenses in Kent County finally took place, Washington College authorities stepped in and said: "don't rush gentlemen; no crowding." At any rate our good friend who recently succeeded Adam Schuber is still without a license and it is called "Peace Officer" flows thru his door it does so without sanction of license.

Of course since we prefer root beer to all others this issue is of small import to us. However, we do hear that certain people are taking the affair pretty seriously. In fact Mr. Schuber is taking it so seriously that he is making great efforts to do something about it. Maybe he will be able to and maybe he will not.

Anyway, we shall see what he shall see.

SLIPPERY ELM

By ROLAND C. READY

Will the Cottillion Club be discontinued and if so what will take its place? At the present time Cottillion Club members are wondering if there is any truth in the rumor that Washington has seen its last year of Cottillion Dances.

According to members the Club within the history of the present student body, functioned smoothly and with a large degree of success.

As has been pointed out it is the only organization on the campus which offers formal dances to the student body and at the present time one cannot see by what means these dances will be sponsored if the Club is discontinued.

It is needless to go into the merits of these dances as most students will testify that to them it has been an entertaining activity and one which they are loathe to see discarded. A large percent of the student body takes advantage of the social opportunities offered and the Club seems to have become an integral part of campus life.

When we no often hear friends of the college say, "Washington College is known for its dances," it is in the sense that the dances are wholesome and enjoyable and represent all that formal college dances should be.

Officers of the club feel that this organization has been conducted efficiently and boast of having secured the best music possible in view of financial conditions.

It is to be hoped that the current rumors to false and next year will see the usual program offered which, unfortunately, was limited this year due to banking conditions.

The council's suggestion in regards to the honor system may be worthwhile but, it seems that the three days grace period will be welcomed by any culprit. It is only to wish to think the situation over and prepare an air tight defense.

Greek Letter Notes

SIGMA TAU DELTA

Betty Thibodeau and Leah Frederick have become active members of the sorority.

Isabel North was recently pledged to the sorority.

Mrs. Kenneth S. Buxton is welcomed as an honorary member.

The following new officers were elected at a recent meeting:
 President, Ellen Flick.
 Vice-President, Elizabeth Cooper.
 Secretary, Betty Thibodeau.
 Treasurer, Dorothy King.
 Sgt.-at-Arms, Leah Frederick.

PHI SIGMA TAU NOTES

The Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity has elected the following officers for the 1933-1934 college year:

President, Charles E. Clark.

Vice-President, Frederick W. Reinhold.

Secretary, Harold W. McCrone.

Treasurer, Michael F. Wallace.

Sgt.-at-Arms, Richard W. Hall.

Historian, John R. Smithson.

Emory Burkhardt and Joseph O'Farrell were recently taken in as active members of the Fraternity.

Otto D. Yeach of the class of '36, ex-football star at Washington College and Phi Sigma Tau member is very ill at his home in Cambridge.

MRS. HARRY WHITE
 Washington
 Cannon St. next to Bowling Alley

PURLOINED PHRASES

It seems that we're cranking the headlines in other college papers.

The "Connecticut Campus" says: At Washington College the Co-eds were granted permission to smoke during the lectures, so the weaker sex swept into a psychology class with cigarette held between their poorly teeth. The professor was a student as well as a professor of psychology. He merely ordered all the windows closed and courteously bade the girls to light up. Not many minutes passed before the psychology class filed en masse to the infirmary.

The "Swarthmore-Phoenix" announces:

Three students at Washington College were arrested for attaching a freshman to the rope of a flagpole and running him up to the top.

No dances, cigarettes, highballs or bridge games are allowed at Muskegon College.

A "Depression Club" has been organized at the University of Chicago. The group blackballs all girls who consume more than a "coke" and two cigarettes on a date.

Carnegie Institute tells of the student who won the 1933 Pulitzer Prize, who when asked to write an "Ode to America" in one of his class was told the following:
 "Ode to America"
 $3,863,650.000
 By France.

A freshman at Drexel began his autobiographical thesis with "I don't know how it all began—"

A McGill University student's definition of a coed: "A Co-ed—just a contradiction of the word co-educational. Applied new to women, applied in contempt for an education with the higher type of human."

My, but they're strict with the student smokers at the U. of California! Staying out later than 2:14 A. M. is absolutely prohibited.

Eyes examined and glasses fitted by a graduate Optician. Fountain Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films and Developing.

J. S. KREEGER

Jeweler & Optometrist

Chestertown, Md.

The

Third National Bank

Chestertown, Md.

The Only

National Bank

In Kent County

—Advertise in The Elm.

TOLD TO ME

By I. ONLY HEARD

New Beer's Eve has passed. Enter Vacation is but a rainy memory, and we return to find a short six weeks separating us from the Day of Reckoning. As in the past, the college student's principle problem concerns the safest mixing of warm, moonlit nights, so that, like beer, the mixture will not suddenly foam up—and over. However, unlike the past, there is the added problem as to whether or not we will walk a block or a mile for a "schooner." Unfortunately, that decision has been left to us to decide. Oh well—if we'd "walk a mile for a Camel!"

We hear that the river bank was the scene for a good old pre-holiday party just before Easter. We don't know whether or not the nervousness of the river suggested if or not, but from what we hear it seems that several of the members of the party were giving some really excellent impersonations of a sailboat lugging up a river. But perhaps they merely wanted to show that they would be "a couple of sheets to the wind."

Question: If April showers bring May flowers, what will May 5th bring? It is undoubtedly a red-letter day—we hope that at least the movies will be good on that night.

We thought that St. Patrick's Day was over—at least for another year. But, judging from the color of the news in the "Queer," cafeteria, St. Pat is still honored here about once a week. Possibly the "bearing of the green" is a feudal duty to "Royalty."

We nominate for oblivion:

1. Northern girls who affect that southern drawl.

2. Term papers of any kind, shape, or form.

We acclaim for the Hall of Fame:

1. Musical assembly programs—when the performers are imported.

2. June 15th.

From what we hear, it seems as though in the spring, some young men's fancies turn to the Red Hair fire escape. Judging from the effectiveness of the shot-gun marksmen in the recent campus dog hunt, the only real danger to a date "a la fire-escape" lies in the possibility of falling off.

Do you know that: "Mims" is still "the Berries" the orchestra had an engagement to play in Delaware until the sponsors of the musical heard that the quartet was coming too. "Yanching" at the Country Club is a popular student activity. Priscilla Everett refers to "Skeets" as "someone good enough to eat." "Limer" Bean is someone what attached to Betterson. Mas-on Trapp is the excellent choice for June's Senior Oration. Five years have been spent in cataloging the library and the work is still incomplete. All librarians ought to wear rubber heels so that their shoeing demands for quiet might be more effective.

For Better
 COAL SERVICE

Phone 149

C. W. Kibler & Sons

Chestertown, Maryland

Sports Notions

By Charles B. Clark

The Maroon and Black representatives of Washington College in the lacrosse and baseball fields are in the midst of their schedules. The lacrosse ten has played three of its five games and today will play their fourth against a fastly improving and powerful University of Maryland team. On the one hand, the lacrosse ten has played three of its five games and today will play their fourth against a fastly improving and powerful University of Maryland team.

The present season already has witnessed unlooked for events in the defeat of St. John's by Swarthmore, and in the fine exhibitions of Lacrosse put forth by Barry Pool's Harvard team which lost to St. John's by one point and carried a win by Navy. Sports writers are prone to doubt seriously the superiority of Swarthmore over St. John's in as much as the latter team was too greatly handicapped by too-strict refereeing. Washington College's chances of victory over Swarthmore were brightened considerably when the Hopkins team, conquerors of the Shore by a 9 to 2 score, swamped the Corset ten 14 to 2.

Washington College has produced two players to date, in Fritz Reinhold at Goal and Dick Gamble at first defense, who are good enough for any team in the country. The Shoremen have a good team but are playing two above named players, however have not overshadowed the efforts of Captain Phil Wingate and the rest of the team. With seven Juniors as regulars and a hope for a much better schedule, followers can look forward to next year as a banner one in the Old Indian Game.

Captain Warren Carey, southpaw hurler for the Shore nine, started his team off last Saturday by a 4 to 2 victory over Delaware by pitching a good ball game. Though prospects for a respectable schedule were darkened by the Bank situation, Coach Kibler and Manager Ready have revised the card, listing among other opponents the Baltimore Firemen and Carey's former Rock Hill team-mates, the latter team to be played twice. The feature of the schedule however, is the contest with George Washington University to be played at Griffith Stadium, in a night game after encountering the University of Maryland in the afternoon.

Hillmen Defeat Local Lacrossers In Easy Game

Washington College lost to the Mt. Washington Club in Lacrosse last Saturday, April 22, by the score of 11 to 1, at Mt. Washington.

The Shoremen secured the ball on the opening face-off and controlled it for the first seven minutes of the game. However the former college players, once in possession of the ball, lost no time in cleverly securing their first goal. Before the first quarter was ended the Maroon and Black were trailing by four goals. During this period, Doug and Jack Turnbull led their team.

The second quarter witnessed many new Mt. Washington players, equally as good as those in the starting lineup. Coach Ekabits's players lightened up, though, and only two goals were scored in this period. Stude, of the Hillmen, goalies of last year's Hopkins's World Championship team, was making sensational stops. In the third quarter Dick Gamble scored for Washington following the working of a block by Al Grannis. The Maroon and Black players held the ball more the second half than did their opponents, but were unsuccessful at scoring goals.

In the fourth period, Dick Gamble of Washington College and Kelley of Mt. Washington were forced out of the game after receiving facial cuts. The Shoremen, playing against great odds, were unable to stop a club numbering many former All-American players.

WE KNOW What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style centers.

You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.

Our clothes will meet every thing you demand of them.

BORDLEY & SON

PENNINGTON CONSTRUCTION CO.

Contractors and Builders

Chestertown, Md.

Phone 88W and 30S

—Advertise in The Elm.

Carey Defeats Delaware Nine

Pitches Two Hit Game For Locals

Washington's Maroon and Black nine opened their curtailed season with an impressive 4 to 2 victory over the University of Delaware Blue Hens last Saturday on Kibler field. After a two seasons absence of the spring sport, Coach Kibler presented a formidable ball club, built around "Moxie" Carey, veteran speed-balling pitcher, that had little trouble in tailing the Delaware rivals into camp.

Captain Warren Carey

Carey, master of the situation throughout, fanned fourteen batters and allowed only three hits during the tilt. The first Washington tally came in the third inning when, Berry connected with one of Riley's offerings for a circuit clout into deep center field with none on. The locals scored again in the fourth when Tignor slammed a three banger into center and then scored on Nicholson's infield out.

Delaware annexed a run in their half of the fourth when Minner slipped and brought home their only earned run on a two-base hit by Ed Thompson.

In the sixth, Hudson dropped Tignor's easy fly and on consecutive hits by Baker and Winbrow another run was scored. Tignor struck his tip and the final run for the home team when he singled and registered on a hit by Nicholson.

Hudson, walked, advanced to second on a passed ball and came home for Delaware's second run on a wild pitch by Carey.

Washington showed a strong all-around combination, playing errorless ball in the field, and pitching for nine hits, three of them for extra bases. Coach Kibler expressed his satisfaction of the beginning made by the Washington nine. The locals are ready to exchange hits with the strong Rock Hall aggregation.

Intermar Games In Speed And Volley Ball

Coaches Kibler and Ekabits have launched a program of Intercollegiate Intra-Maral Sports for the male students at W. C.

The sports listed are speed ball and volley ball.

The speed ball league will be comprised of 4 teams; a team being drawn from each of the classes.

The volley ball games will be played also by 4 teams. Each of 3 fraternities and one non-fraternity team will be presented in this league.

The limitations laid down by the coaches for the participants are: no baseball or lacrosse players are to play on the teams and no student can engage in 2 of the sports listed.

These activities have been started mainly for the purpose of fulfilling requirements in Physical Education, as well as a means for diversion.

The games are scheduled to start promptly at 6:30 P. M. and will continue until nature, in the form of darkness or rain, halts the contests. Up-to-date much interest, competition and spirited rivalry have been displayed in these contests.

The results of competition up to April 28, are:

Speedball League

	Won	Lost
Sophs	1	0 1000
Fresh	0	1 1000
Juniors	0	1 1000
Seniors	0	1 1000

Compliments of MARSHALL

Cleaners, Dyers, and Repairers
Easton, Maryland

The Dalany-Vernay Co.

337-339-341 North Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest

Art China, Leather Goods, Toys, Books, Athletic Equipment

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing — Repairing

103 Court Street
Chestertown, Md.

Eight Changes In Cage Rules

None Of Changes Are Important

Among the eight minor changes in the basketball rules for next season is one that was first experimented with at Washington College, found to be successful and later adopted by other teams with similarly small playing courts.

This change concerns the division of the basketball rules for the purpose of the ten second rule which does away with stalling. Washington College, finding its court rather short and therefore having the offensive playing half of the court crowded, decided to draw two lines, the distance of one corner mark, and make forty feet in each offensive zone. This innovation was found to be highly satisfactory and such a rule was placed in the playing code for next season.

The changes as outlined at the New York meeting, at which the name of the organization was changed to the National Basketball Committee of the United States and Canada, are as follows:

1. The 10-second rule will be applied to all courts, regardless of size. On courts 75 feet or more in length the center line is mandatory. On courts of less than 75 feet two lines may be used, so that the offensive half of the court is 40 feet. Where this 40-foot line encroaches within the foul line on exceptionally small courts, it was decided, the prolongation of the foul line will mark the 10 second line.

2. Only the first player to receive the ball in the offensive zone may pass the ball back over the center line.

3. Officials must handle the ball, placing it on the floor, in out-of-bounds play, to prevent quick-action returns.

4. The three-second rule, which had applied only to players in the free-throw area receiving the ball, was changed to the basket, applies now to players receiving in the area regardless of position of the body.

5. A player may reenter the game twice.

6. A ball on the basket's rim may be batted in, providing no part of the basket is touched.

7. Points covering legal and illegal running with the ball are determined in detail.

8. Where games are played in quarters—usually high schools—the second and fourth periods will not start from the center tap, but will be resumed from out of bounds nearest the point where play ceased, and the ball in possession of the team last in control.

The Emerson Hotel Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled
Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged
Private Rooms and Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT

(Formerly Candy Kitchen)

For food of the Best Quality at Popular Prices. Home Cooking, Prompt Service. Sandwiches of all kinds. Cakes, Sodas, Fancy Sandwiches, Home Made Pies and all kinds of Soft Drinks at the Fountain.

Try Our 50c Dinner
Guarantee Satisfaction

Visit

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT

(Open 6 A. M. to 12 midnight)

GILL BROS. ICE CREAM

Dainties
Assorted Blocks

—Advertise in The Elm.

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students
Offers Complete Line of Conklin and Wahl Pens and Pencils. Penknives, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery, And School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

Psychological Study Made

Average I. Q.'s. Of Upper Classes Taken

A study has been made of the intelligence quotient Average of Individual Classes based on the average of intelligence scores of the different Junior and Senior classes in which the identity of the individual was lost. These scores were furnished by the Dept. of Education.

As a result the accompanying figures are presented. The forty-one classes considered were those having over 50 per cent Jrs. and Sen. The I. Q.s. of all Jrs. and Sen. in these classes were averaged and the following results obtained.

We present the higher ten classes without further comment. Public Speaking 1 and 2, which ranking 17th and 21st resp., can arbitrarily be used as the averages for the Sen. and Jr. classes resp.

1. Physics 4	115.50
2. Math 14	117.72
3. Youth of Math	117.25
4. Chemistry 12	117.00
5. German 10	113.00
6. Sociology 22	112.51
7. Sociology 24	112.93
8. Chemistry	112.28
9. Math 8	111.75
10. Music 2	111.42
11. Pub. Sp. 2	109.65
12. Pub. Sp. 2	108.88
13. Lowest Class	101.50

The table of results has been shown to different faculty members, and comments obtained. The following comment of Dr. K. K. Carpenter, Head of the Dept. of Biology, may be of interest. The comment is as follows:

"Although these results are certainly interesting, the numbers of students examined are too few to warrant the drawing of any definite conclusions. They may, however, indicate 'trends', but it is very necessary to remember that many of the courses are either officially or unofficially compulsory, so that we must be careful not to lay undue stress upon the apparent choice of any one by the more or less able students. Finally, I do not personally believe that it is possible to frame any 'Intelligence Test' which is a genuine test of native, and not acquired ability. Such tests do, of course, give some measure of such qualities as speed of thought, accuracy of mind and general 'ability' of some indefinable kind, but I have yet to see one which is capable of testing pure, native, untrained ability."

Revised Baseball Schedule Given Out

The revised baseball schedule is as follows:

April 22—Delaware—Home.
April 29—Rock Hill—Away.
May 6—Rock Hill—Home.
May 10—Baltimore—Home.
May 13—Eaton—Away.
May 20—Delaware—Away.
May 24—U. of M.—Away.
May 24—Geo. Washington—Away.
May 27—Eaton—Home.
June 10—Albany—Home.

The games with the Eaton club are pending. The game with George Washington, in Washington, D. C., will be a night event, following an afternoon engagement with the University of Maryland team.

After A Studios Day
Relax at
JIM'S and HICK'S
Billiard Parlor

Blue Key Fraternity Holds Annual Dance

On Saturday night, April 22, 1933, the Blue Key Fraternity held its annual dance of the school year. This was important because it was the last informal dance of the year.

Excellent music was furnished by the "Centurians" of Dover, Del. Incidentally, several Washington students were members of the orchestra.

The dance was rather poorly attended and was greatly enjoyed by those that participated.

The dance came as a climax to the Washington-Delaware baseball game played on Kibler Field in the afternoon.

The chaperones were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gouldin, Prof. and Mrs. Laurence Park, Dr. Frederick Livingston, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Burton.

Local Sickmen Loose

First Two Games

Washington sickmen took the short end of count in their first two games of the season 5 to 1 and 9 to 2 with St. John's and Johns Hopkins respectively.

The initial game of the 1933 Lacrosse season opened when the Blue Key Fraternity, St. John's at Annapolis. The game for the first quarter was Washington's who bombarded the Johnny goalie but failed to get one point. The second period was a duplication of the first and the half ended St. John's 2, Washington 1. In the third period St. John's scored again, and when the fourth quarter opened, the Maroon and Black went down tooth and nail before the continued stream of Johnny reserves and the final count stood 1 to 1. Dick Gamber, Washington's first wing offense scored the only goal for the locals.

POET'S CORNER

Upon a celestial curtain of fleece,
For me, a star was hung.
Which, as I gazed upon it, grew,
My hope entwined me to long.
My thoughts lifted, and my soul
gasped:
"Let your reach exceed your grasp."

Across its glittering path of light,
For it, dark clouds were parted,
And as it willed—but in strife,
Its winning strength surpassed.
We live and we strive, both here and Else, "What's a Heaven, for?"
—Mary Park.

Raymond R. Peck, ex-32, on leaving here three years ago, entered the Georgia School of Technology. He will be graduated in June with the degree of B. S. in M. E.

Modern Shoe Repairing
Store
PAUL SIPALA
Next to Sterling Drug

The Best Of
EVERYTHING
Needed
FOR BUILDING
E. S. Adkins & Co.
Chestertown, Centreville
Salisbury
—Advertise in The Elm.

ALUMNUS DIES

Judge Lewis W. Wickes

Funeral services for Judge Lewis W. Wickes, Washington Alumnus and member of the board of Visitors and Governors, were held from his late home on April 13 and were attended by many notables including Gov. Albert C. Ritchie.

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store
Where Your Dollar

Has More Cents

Shop At The
B. & L. 5c to $1.00
VARIETY STORE
321 High St.
For Your Wants

Del-Mar-Va Restaurant
For
After Dance Lunches
And Regular Meals

STUDENTS
We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.
Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Lanthier Line from Paris.
Abbott's DeLuxe Ice Cream.
Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store
—Advertise in The Elm.

Student Council Makes Suggestion

In order to secure greater cooperation and efficiency in carrying out the Honor System and in supporting the Student Council at Washington College the following suggestion is made by the Council.

"A student, or faculty member may upon discovering an offense to the Student Government, warn the person or persons concerned; they in turn are bound by honor to report themselves to the Student Council. If the offender disregards the warning, the accuser must report the case himself. The time allotted the offender shall be three days. The defendant shall have the opportunity to prove himself not guilty."

The above policy has been very successful at some outstanding American Colleges and Universities.

McCALLISTERS
Est. 1894
Baltimore's Oldest Sport Store
Outfitters to Washington
College
124 W. Baltimore, St.
BALTIMORE, MD.

BARNETT'S
BARBER SHOP
Over Sterling's Drug Store
First Class Service and
Expert Workmen

Compliments of
H. D. OREM & SON

Clements & Clements,
Inc.
CLEANING PRESSING REPAIRING
"Keep your clothes fit"
Prompt Service
Phone 437
Dover, Delaware

Toulson's Pharmacy
Cordially invites the student to enjoy the privileges of a well-stocked drug store.

Parker Pens our speciality.

SMITH'S
KUT-RATE
DRUG STORE
Chestertown, Maryland
Owned by Smith, Prop.
Phone 189

HERB'S
QUICKLUNCH
Sandwiches of all kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Voshell House

Orchestra To Give Broadcast

The Washington College Concert Orchestra will give its first broadcast of the year May 3rd, over WCAO Baltimore, at 4:30 P. M.

It will be recalled that last year the orchestra broadcasted from WFBR, Baltimore and the program was very well received. This year plans were set afoot to duplicate the performance. This concert is valuable to the school in gaining publicity, and is extremely fortunate in being able to secure a booking at the Baltimore station and will be on the air next Wednesday afternoon.

The orchestra is under the leadership of Dr. F. C. Livingston and student director Fred G. Talbot.

THE REXAL STORE
EASTMAN KODAKS
FILMS
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING
BY EXPERTS
DRUGS and
SUNDRIES
OF All Kinds
A. L. STERLING

A. L. SPARKS
Specials in
Ladies' Hose
Newest Colors and
Weights

Compliments
of
Chestertown

Electric Light and Power
Company

Compliments of
H. F. Jefferson

Blue Key Makes Annual Awards

Louis Thibodeau Given Gold
Pentagon

The Blue Key Fraternity in a special meeting held on Monday, May 7, elected Mr. Louis J. Thibodeau and Mr. Frederick G. Ulfson, Jr., recipients of the Annual Gold Pentagon awards to the alumnus and student who contributes most in interest and effort toward the advancement of Washington College. Richard M. Gamber was judged the best all-around athlete and was awarded the Simpson's medal, donated annually by Dr. Harry G. Simpar, '95, of Chesterton, to the male student who is considered the best all-around athlete of the college.

Mr. Louis J. Thibodeau is an alumnus of Washington College, class of 1912. He has since that time been engaged in educational pursuits earning the education field in a school teacher. At present Mr. Thibodeau is principal of Crosby High School, Waterbury, Conn. position he has held since 1925. Mr. Thibodeau is active in the New England Alumni Association and is interested in directing Connecticut students to Washington College.

Fred Ulfson has been considered the representative college man. He has been prominent in student organizations since his enrollment in college. Among his offices and extra-curricular affiliations are Blue Key Fraternity 2, 4, 1929-30; President 4, President Alpha Kappa Fraternity, Vice-President Student Council 4, Concert Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4, Student Leader 4, Football W 2, 3, 4. Mr. Ulfson, a senior, will graduate in the class of '34.

Richard M. Gamber of the Junior Class prepared at Dyer, Ill. S. and Swanton, Minn. Since his entrance to Washington he has participated in three major sports and has to date won eight letters, three in football, three in lacrosse, and two in basketball. Gamber has had honorable mention for All-Maryland in football and All-Maryland in lacrosse. He was elected to captain the Maroon and Black gridiron eleven next fall.

Dr. David E. Robinson Speaks At Assembly

Dr. David E. Robinson, of the Johns Hopkins University faculty, addressed the Washington College Assembly on Thursday morning, May 11th. He spoke concerning his findings as an archeologist in the ruins of Olynthus, a Grecian city destroyed in 346 B. C., by the father of Alexander the Great.

Many townsfolk of Kent counties attended Dr. Robinson's intellectual talk. He spoke interestingly of his search for buried treasure represented by the ancient art of Greece in Rome. The story of a bathtub used by these people was a source of much interest to Dr. Robinson while doing excavation work. Dr. Robinson is professor of Archeology at the Johns Hopkins University. In his distinguished career he has been accorded the sign of honor of membership in the faculty of the Hellenist School of Classical Studies at Athens, in addition to his services as Professor of Greek and Latin at several institutions of higher learning.

ALUMNUS DIES

Olyn D. Veach

Olyn D. Veach, a graduate of Washington College in 1930, died at the Cambridge, Maryland, Hospital on Wednesday night, May 3, following a short illness. He was 23 years old and the only son of Carl L. Veach, prominent Cambridge oyster packer, and Mrs. Veach.

Veach was an outstanding student while at Washington College. He played regularly on the football and lacrosse teams during his last two years and was on the track squad in his Sophomore year. Aside from his athletic prowess he was an active Y. M. C. A. member and was Vice President during his Senior year of that organization. He was Editor of the Handbook in 1930 and was a member of the Varsity and Colton Club.

His funeral took place on Friday, May 5th at his home. It was attended by several members of the Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity of which Veach was an alumni member.

SHAKESPEARE PLAY GIVEN

On the evening of May 5, 1933, the Shakespeare Club of Washington College presented "A Midsummer Night's Dream" at the Washington College Theatre. The production was made even more finished by the costumes and additional facilities furnished by Jones and Co., costumers, Baltimore, Md.

Some of the talent shown was especially commendable and is worthy of further comment. The part of Bottom, star of the Mechanicals, was well portrayed by J. W. "Moxie" Nary. The players were fortunate in securing for him a mechanically "rictus" face, with rolling eyes, twitching ears and a mouth that all but bared. The parts of the other Mechanicals were well imitated by William Baker, Albert Dobkins, Roland Ready, Stuart Shinn, and E. L. Koerber. Time and again the action of the play was enlivened by the pranks and jests of Puck. This part was exceptionally well portrayed by the light and nimble-footed Emily Jewell. A light and airy atmosphere was created throughout the play by groups of dancing and fluttering fairies.

Special incidental music by Mendelssohn was played by the college orchestra.

Dr. Uphaus Speaks On Technocracy

Economics Dept. Secures
Speaker

Dr. Willard E. Uphaus who at the present time is serving as Field Secretary of the National Religion and Labor Foundation, spoke to several groups at Washington College yesterday, May 12, on topics dealing with the relation of religion to the present world-wide crisis in thought and social life.

Dr. Uphaus who received his M. A. degree at Indiana University in 1917, and his Ph. D. at Yale taught at Vassar between 1923-1929. While there he taught Professor Goodwin, Instructor in Social Science at Washington College. He was brought to Washington College by invitation of President Titusworth, and while here, was entertained and introduced by Ralph Harries, President of the local Y. M. C. A. Dr. Uphaus was accompanied on his trip by Dr. Samuel of Johns Hopkins University.

To three different groups which totaled one hundred and thirty Washington College students, Dr. Uphaus spoke freely on Socialism, then on "The Influences of Technocracy for Education," and lastly on "Can Man Be Civilized in His Social Relationship?" An examination of Reinhold Niebuhr's "Moral Man and Immoral Society," Economics, Government and History studies were required by some Professors to attend these discussions.

RECOUPITATING

Miss Elizabeth Bricc

Miss Bricc, who graduated from Washington College last year, is now recuperating from an appendicitis operation. Miss Bricc has been doing social well-fare work in Baltimore since her graduation.

"Pegasus" Due To Appear Here First Of June

The Pegasus is due to leave the press and be ready for delivery on June 1. We are taking this means of requesting all organizations, who owe for pictures, to make some arrangement to meet this bill sometime within the next two weeks. Unless some arrangement is made for payment of these bills The Pegasus will not be delivered to us, as we too are being swamped by creditors.

J. Nelson Rickards.

TO FIGHT SOON

George L. Ekstis

George L. Ekstis, football and lacrosse coach at Washington College, will make his debut as a professional boxer sometime within the next few weeks. Ekstis, a former intercollegiate champion in the 175 pound class while a student at Western Maryland College, will battle in the heavyweight division.

Coach Ekstis is taking daily workouts with Clarence (K. O.) Burns in the Washington College gymnasium. Burns is a light-heavyweight and has won quite a reputation in Baltimore as a puncher.

Ekstis was recognized as one of the best boxers and hardest hitters ever to wear a crown in intercollegiate circles. Despite his boxing ability he is known generally as a slugger because of his many quick victories while fighting in college ranks.

JITNEY PLAYERS APPEAR HERE

The JITney Players of Middletown, Connecticut, presented at 8 o'clock in the evening of Wednesday, May 10, in William Smith Hall, "Caste," an original comedy in three acts, by Tom W. Robertson.

This famous and talented company, under the direction of Mrs. Alice Cheyney, tripped and swept over the Victorian Stage with their usual charm. "Caste," a production of the Victorian Age, is held as the finest play in the JITney's repertoire, and the small but enthusiastic audience of Wednesday night were unanimous in acclaiming the high perfection of the piece.

"Caste" is the second production of the ten year old company at Washington College, the first being "A Trip to Scarborough," by Richard B. Sheridan, presented about two years ago. The Shakespeare Club and Dramatic Club of the college sponsored this latest visit, which was arranged through the courtesy of Dr. G. Van A. Ingalls.

The stage tableau and expressions of "Caste," the excellent English accents of Major Hawbee and Polly, and the gentle satire with which the piece was done render it unforgettable. It was the sort of acting that one liked the fabled Englishman is always discovering a new bit of humour in an hour a day or even a week after the actual staging.

Reinhold Made Lacrosse Captain

Bert Hastings Is New Manager

"Fritz" Reinhold was elected Captain of lacrosse at Washington College for the 1934 season at a meeting of the letterman held last night in William Smith Hall.

Reinhold has been regular goalie for the Maroon and Black. For the last three seasons and last year was recognized as one of the outstanding net tenders in the country, being picked on all star teams by W. William Winette of the "Baltimore News" and "Sunday American" and Paul Froderick of the "Baltimore Evening Sun." This year Fritz ranks as a leading candidate for the position of All-American goalie. Dinty Moore, coach of the former three-time National Champion St. Lawrence, declared the newly elected Washington Captain to be one of the finest net performers around, after watching Fritz perform brilliantly against his Johnnies early this season.

The new Captain of the old Indian name is also a star on the local gridiron, holding down a regular half-back position and doing practically all the punting for the Maroon and Black. Two years ago Fritz printed his name indelibly on the mind of Maryland foot ball fans by giving one of the greatest exhibitions of place punting ever seen in the old line state when for sixty minutes he consistently put the pagkin out of the hands of Ray Poppleman and was instrumental in helping one of Maryland's finest football machines to thirteen points.

Reinhold, who succeeds Phil Wingate as the Captancy, came to Washington College from Donaldson prep school in Baltimore. Fritz was given his first lessons in goal tending by Andy Kirspatrick, former St. John's ace kicker.

The following men made letters in lacrosse this year: Capt. Phil Wingate, Capt. Elect Fritz Reinhold, Dick Gamber, Charley Clark, Al Gittis, Charley Morris, Paul Pippin, Omar Carey, Dick Chambers, Joe Bringham, Trip Beaman, Macon Trapp and Manager Nelson Rickards.

Bert Hastings was elected to manage the 1934 lacrosse team.

New Lyceum Cards Three New Pictures

"Ex-Laud" will show at the New Lyceum Theatre Monday and Tuesday of next week. Bette Davis is the star of the picture, which was produced by Warner Bros.

A very timely picture will be shown Wednesday and Thursday in "The Fighting President." Stuart Erwin is in an added feature entitled "The Legend About Women."

Jane Grey's "Under The Tonto Rim" is carded for Friday and Saturday, May 19 and 20. Fred Ward and the Marylandians are in an added attraction.

Ed Lucky Returns On Visit To College

Edwin T. Luckey, '31, returned to Chestertown as a visit during the past week. Mr. Luckey has been an employee of R. K. O. Movie Corporation in Hollywood for the past two years.

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

EDITOR PHILIP J. WINGATE
 Assistant Editor Charles B. Clark
 Literary Editor Roland C. Ready
 Society Editor W. McCa. Richards
 Exchange Editor Roland E. Lekebauch

REPORTERS

Feature Reporter William Baker
 Albert E. Dobkins, Albert Giraitis, Janet Atwater, P. Skip, Ervin L. Koerber, Morris Campbell, Carroll W. Casteel, Richard Gamber

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

Charles Clark, DeWitt Clarke, William Baker

SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES

Alexia Robinson, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager John McLain
 Circulation Manager Patterson Benaman
 Assistant Circulation Manager Emerson Slacum
 Chief Staff Photographer Emory Burkhardt
 Advertising Manager Louis Goldstein

ASSISTANTS

Walter F. Dorman

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, MAY 13, 1933

EXIT YE EDITOR

This is our valedictory effort as a college editor and according to precedent we should write a long editorial reviewing the events of the year and making a formal adieu. However, there is nothing that we can think of to review and we wish to make our departure from the editor's chair so quiet and noiseless that the first indication the student body of Washington College will have of our leave-taking will be the sudden improvement in the brand of journalism when the new editor takes the reins.

We have been accused on several occasions during the past year of being entirely too staid and dry. This may be true. Nevertheless, we do believe that our policies pleased a few people besides ourselves. But even if we pleased only ourselves, that is better than pleasing no one. Yea, verily, much better.

Last year the retiring editor formally willed to us the accoutrements of the "Elm." Said accoutrements were: an empty ginger ale bottle, a badly worn file, a 1928 calendar, two electric light bulbs, and some dried orange skins. To justify the student body's faith in us when we were selected to look after these valuables we wish to announce that we have kept the treasures still unutilized even in this period of depression and are prepared to pass them on to our most worthy successor. Of course the calendar has gradually depreciated in value as time has sped by, but our most stupendous efforts to prevent this would have availed us nothing so we wisely saved our energy. We also wish to report an addition to this collection; this addition consists of two slightly worn pen points borrowed from the "Pegasus."

We close this dissertation with the hope that the incoming editor may continue to add to the permanent property of the "Elm," while preserving that already possessed, even as we have done.

ELECTIONS

The general elections for the college will be held during the early part of next week and we can not refrain from asking the student body to use a little more discretion and a little less cheap politics in these elections than have been used in some others we have known.

At the same time we realize that we will probably be accused of the very thing we are trying to avoid, if we make any direct statements of any kind. Therefore, we merely ask the students of the college to realize that there are several positions to be filled next week that would be best filled by certain definite persons on the campus and a grave mistake would be made in electing others to these positions.

Consequently we do not think it unreasonable to ask the students, if they do not already know what individuals are best fitted for the various positions, to seek out some reliable information before casting their ballots.

Greek Letter Notes

KAPPA GAMMA NOTES

Miss Elizabeth Price '32, is recovering from appendicitis.

Miss Helen Norris, '33, visited us last week end.

Mrs. William R. Howell entertained the sorority at ten Sunday afternoon.

Miss Louise Singers is in Easton Hospital with appendicitis.

PHI SIGMA PHI

Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth S. Euston gave a card party for the fraternity at their home last Monday.

After A Studious Day

Relax at

JIM'S and HICK'S

Billiard Parlor

Modern Shoe Repairing

Store

PAUL SIPALA

Next to Stiering Drug

GILL BROS. ICE CREAM

Dainties Assorted Blocks

JAMES E. NEWTON

Cleaning - Pressing

Repairing

103 Court Street

Chestertown, Maryland

The Dalany-Vernay Co.

337-339-341 North

Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest

Art China, Leather Goods,

Toys, Books, Athletic

Equipment

Compliments of

MARSHALL

Cleaners, Dyers, and

Repairers

Easton, Maryland

PENNINGTON

CONSTRUCTION CO.

Contractors and Builders

Chestertown, Md.

Phone 88W and 30S

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149

C. W. Kibler & Sons

Chestertown, Maryland

PURLOINED PHRASES

Ben be nimble,
 Ben be quick,
 Ben fall over the candlestick,
 Ben burrie.

Georgetown University has adopted a new system of casts, leaving the matter to the conscience of the individual.

Speaking of conscience: The Ripon College Days confides the plight of a senior at Wisconsin who found himself without the intellectual equipment to pass an examination, pinned a $5 bill on the blue book, and wrote: "Let your conscience be your guide." He passed the exam.

Finally, folks everywhere, With drops and drops of ink, And never a Prof who'll leave the room, And allow a guy to think.

A college Prof tells us that courtship is only a matter of salesmanship.

Mary had a little lamb, And then the doctor fainted.

Wife: "Darling, I want $20 for a new dress."
 Sterydy Husband: "As-right, but let's finish this dictation first."

Man is a worm of the dust—he appears on the earth for a brief moment, wiggles around noisily, and then some cherub gets him!

One man with a car will boast to a lass,

How far he can go on a gallon of gas; While another, much wiser, will proudly recall,

How far he can go with no gas at all.

A church bulletin announces:—

"The women of this congregation have cast off clothing of all kinds; look them over in the basement."

"Who was that fellow whose paper you kept staring at all during the exam?"

"Oh, just a passing acquaintance."

He: "I think I'll call you 'mustard'!"

Co-ed: "Why?"

He: "Because you're always on my dog's."

Eyes examined and glasses fitted by a graduate Optician. Fountain Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films and Developing.

J. S. KREEGER

Jeweler & Optometrist

Chestertown, Md.

WE KNOW What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style centers.

You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.

Our clothes will meet every thing you demand of them.

BORDLEY & SON

TOLD TO ME

By I. ONLY HEARD

Much to the surprise of some, to the chagrin of others, and to the intense delight of those who attended, Shakespeare's "A Summer Night's Dream" was produced in a highly satisfactory manner. It thus successfully produced a classic with its inherent Shakespearean difficulties on a stage as sadly inadequate as ours, is, in itself, a tribute to the dramatic capacities of director, stage manager, and cast. Even though it is true that this column rarely has the opportunity to bestow praise that is deserved, it cannot help but give each of the individuals responsible for the success of the "Shakespeare Play," in this "Winchellian" style, however, we believe that "orchestra" should be presented to Dr. Legals, without whose efforts the play could not have been presented; Paul Pippin, whose artistic work found expression in the stage setting; the characters of "Puck," "Bottom," and "Helens," who added materially to the audience's enjoyment of the production.

It seems as though "Moxie" has quite a host of admirers at Rock Hall. At the recent baseball game played there, while Moxie was leading his team to victory over the home team, we heard one of the feminine admirers confide to a companion "He certainly is a good man to have around the house!" The fact that this order came from Rock Hall for 12 tickets to see the "Shakespeare Play" and "the perfect ass" is perfect testimony to his popularity.

One of the most amusing things we have ever seen in our years of exposure to weakly student assemblies was the recent assembly of the Board of Trustees. A very interesting speaker suddenly wheeled on the faculty and asked if there were yet any saloons in Chestertown, and, caught unawares, half of them answered with a negative shake of the head, while the other half cheerily admitted it with a decisive nod.

We've still trying to decide whether the Reid Hall "fire-bomb" episode was a freshman protest against a cold dormitory or against a previous "reading" by the "Shoogoo-cats." However from any point of view, aside from that of the Chestertown Fire Department, the incident displayed a stupidity which freshmen are not allowed to show. They should know by now that "doing the unusual" is a privilege reserved for the upper classes alone.

We've been asked to write about a great many things, but never before have we had a request like the one "Scope" asked recently. Says he, "Write about the various 'love spots' around school—I'd like to know where they are!" Tak. Tak! And after living here for the past ten years, too!

We Nominate For Oblivion:

1.—Chapel speakers more narrow-minded than we are.

2.—People who hold a post-mortem over bridge hands.

We nominate For The Hall of Fame:

1.—Doctor Carpenter's "Peter."

2.—The Jitsy Janyer's rendition of "Cater."

Did you know that: since the Akron disaster, Benchley has decided to write a "Huddle" series that is a principal draw-back to co-education is that there are no surprises left after graduating????

Carey To Pitch Against Easton

Washington's Maroon and Black diamond representatives led by Captain Carey take to the road this afternoon to open their two game series with the newly organized Easton Club. The Eastonites will show a strong and aggressive baseball combine having the pick in ball players of the formidable Blue Jays and Easton A. A. of last year who merged this season to form a club which was supposed to prove to be one of the best on the Eastern Shore.

The locals have had a long lay-off, caused by inclement weather, being idle since their eleven inning 3 to 4 win over Rock Hall on April 29. The game with the Baltimore Firemen scheduled for last Wednesday was called because of the threatening weather. The Fire Fighters will visit Chestertown probably on May 17 if Rock Hall is unable to fulfill that date.

Unable to practice for five days the Kibler men resumed activity this week in which arrangements between the regulars and the youngsters featured. Coach Kibler will start with the same line-up he has used up-to-date, relying on Carey to do the pitching. Blumstein who looked impressive behind the plate in the Rock Hall encounter will do the receiving in place of Baker who is out for the season with a sore arm. Should the Kiblers net a winning game Coach Kibler will give second string men a chance to show their wares. The Washington ball tossers have their heads up for a third successive victory.

Probable line-ups:

Washington	Easton
Winbrow	3b Bridges
Rineheart	2b Griffith
Nicholson	cf Mandrell
Clements	rf J. Elliott
Evans	1b W. Elliott
Tignor	lf Carter
Bianconi	c Dillon
Berry	ss North
Carey	p Hammer
O'Farrell	Robison

BARNETT'S
BARBER SHOP
Over Sterling's Drug Store
First Class Service
and Expert Workmen

The Best Of EVERYTHING Needed FOR BUILDING

E. S. Adkins & Co.
Chestertown, Centreville
Easton, Salisbury
—Advertise in The Elm.

Toulson's Pharmacy

Cordially invites the student to enjoy the privileges of a well-stocked drug store.

Parker Pens our specialty.

University Of Maryland Wins Lacrosse Title

On Saturday, April 29th, a strong University of Maryland Lacrosse team trounced the Maroon and Black ten of Washington College at College Park by the score of 13 to 1.

Decided lack of reserves for Washington caused fresh men of Maryland to leave little undone in the last quarter when the Fabermen scored eight goals, three more than their Shore rivals had allowed them during the entire first three periods. A closely contested affair turned into an overwhelming crushing. The Shoremen fought valiantly throughout the contest and never relaxed in efforts though these same efforts were feeble when the game ended.

The pupils of Ekatts secured the ball on the opening face-off but were too anxious to score and lost possession of the covered sphere. The Terapins counted twice in the first period and then in the second quarter two goals were registered. In the third, only on one occasion was the Maryland team able to slip the ball past Goalie Fritz Reinhold who was making one fine stop.

As the fourth quarter started the Shoremen were too fatigued to offer Maryland substitutes who were not lacking in ability. However Omar Carey, playing a good game at the Out-House position for Washington saved his team from a shutout when he perfectly dodged his defense men, Silber and pierced the netting with a well aimed shot.

Vincent and Pugh on the attack and Roubro and Siodoren on the defense played best for a coming Terapin ten while no Washington College player was outstanding over his team-mates.

Clements & Clements,

Inc.
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING

"Keep your clothes fit"
Prompt Service
Phone 437
Dover, Delaware

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store

Where Your Dollar

Has More Cents

STUDENTS

We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.

Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet reparations including L. W.
Lentheric Line from F
is.

Abbot's DeLuxe Ice
Cream.
Pipes, Cigarettes and
Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

Swarthmore Ten Wins Stick Game

By Charles B. Clark

Captain Lloyd Pike led his Swarthmore College Lacrosse ten to a 6 to 5 victory over the Maroon and Black of Washington College at Swarthmore on Wednesday, May 10th.

The two teams presented a night of defense in the first quarter with the result that no score was made by either. Early in the second period, Dick Gamber, Wing Defense man for Washington, was laid open long enough near the crease to receive a pass and open the scoring for the day. However, Pike, who looms as an outstanding candidate for All-American honors this year, soon tied things up and then forced the Little Quakers ahead with his second goal. His third in the same period made the score 3 to 1 at half time.

In the second half, Washington suffered greatly from the one or two player advantage that their opponents had on several occasions, due to shore players being ejected from the game for fouls. The refereeing was much more strict than the local team has been accustomed to and adaptation to it came too late. Three goals were scored while Swarthmore had extra men, and one of these registered while Goalie Fritz Reinhold was on the sidelines for slashing.

A. L. SPARKS

Specials in

Ladies' Hose

Newest Colors and
Weights

HERB'S QUICK LUNCH

Sandwiches of all kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Yonah House

THE REXAL STORE EASTMAN KODAKS

FILMS

DEVELOPING

and

PRINTING

BY EXPERTS

DRUGS and

SUNDRIES

OF All Kinds

A. L. STERLING

Compliments

of

Chestertown

Electric Light and Power

Company

Locals Defeat Rock Hall Ball Nine 5-4

"Moxie" Curry, Maroon twirler, held his former team-mates to five scattered hits while the Kibler nine took the measure of the strong Rock Hall aggregation, 5 to 4, in an eleven inning contest played on the latter's diamond last week. Nine innings of thrilling, though rugged baseball found the sandlotters deadlocked, 4 to 4, and the extra innings gave Al-day Clements the opportunity to perform a "high-diving act" to break the tie.

Approaching the ninth inning both teams threw away chances to clinch the game but failed because of poor base running. In the final inning Clements snatched a drive labelled for a single base hit that got by Archibald, who came in to try the ball, and rolled back into right field. As Clements rounded third, Grant, Rock Hall backstop was forced a few feet to the left of the plate by the throw-in. As Grant bent to grab the rolling ball Clements dove headlong over the catcher and landed prostrate on home plate, safe, with the winning run.

SMITH'S
KUT-RATE
DRUG STORE
Chestertown, Maryland
Owen C. Smith, Prop.
Phone 189

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A Store Run For The Benefit Of The Students
Offers Complete Line of Conklin and Wahl Pens and Pencils. Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery,
And School Supplies

Hours: 9 to 3:15 Every Day But Saturday and Sunday

Compliments Of
Park Row Beauty Shoppe
306 Park Row
Phone No. 334
Chestertown, Md.

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT

(Formerly Candy Kitchen)
For food of the Best Quality at Popular Prices. Home
Cooking, Prompt Service. Sandwiches of all kinds, Candies, Sodas, Fancy Sundae, Home Made Pies and
all kinds of Soft Drinks at the Fountain.

Try Our 50c Dinner
Guarantee Satisfaction
Visit The
CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT
(Open 6 A. M. to 12 midnight)

The Emerson Hotel Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled
Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

Tie Results In "W" Club Elections

The Washington College Varsity Club met on Tuesday night, May 9th, for the election of officers. After several ballots were cast for President, Albert Oubins and Charley Clark were tied in the number of votes received. Due to lack of time the final ballot casting was postponed until next week. One of these will be President and the other Vice-President.

John Lord was elected Secretary and for the Treasurer position Elery Ward, Harry Huey, and Harold Blizard were nominated. As in the choice of President, no one received a majority and this office was left open also until next week. Del Proudfoot was elected to fill the Sergeant-At-Arms office.

The members of the Varsity Club this year are Joseph Dickerson, President; Dick Gamber, Vice President; Dick Gamber, Secretary; Albert Oubins, Treasurer; Al Girault, Sergeant-At-Arms; Charley Harris, Charley Clark, Paul Pippin, Del Proudfoot, Alfred Hodgson, Fred Reinhold, Russell Baker, Harold Blizard, John Lord, Elery Ward, Harry Huey, Dick Chambers, Albert Blaisdell, Charley Berry, Phil Skipp.

Experiments at the University of Michigan have the aim of altering morphine so that it will relieve pain without having its terrible habit-forming effects.

Dramatic Club To Give Play

Sir Arthur W. Pinero's, "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" has been selected by the Dramatic Club as the Commencement Play to be presented on Thursday, June 8.

Pinero, a contemporary of Shaw and Galsworthy, is considered the greatest master of technique of the modern drama.

"The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," a play in four acts, concerns the marriage of a conservative widower to a lady with a past and their subsequent struggle against custom in her attempt to lead a new life.

Mr. Tanqueray, Robert Furman, turns a deaf ear to the advice of his beon companions, Mason Trupp, John Lord, and Roland Ready, and marries Emily Jewell, who thereby becomes the second Mrs. Tanqueray. Evelyn Walbert, Furman's daughter by his first wife, falls in love with Capt. Hugh Ardale. DeWitt Clarke, erstwhile clandestine friend of Mrs. Tanqueray.

Rosine Scotten plays the part of a neighbor who stands high in the social world. The comic element is supplied by Lucille Rasin and Harry Rhodes, aided by the mammoth English Butler, Nelson Rickards.

Pinapples were not named because of any association with pine trees but were really meant to be "pineapples" because of their prickles.

The oldest description of a sundial goes back to the time of Alexander the Great.

Compliments of
H. D. OREM & SON

McCALLISTERS
Est. 1894

Baltimore's Oldest Sport Store
Outfitters to Washington
College
124 W. Baltimore, Md.
BALTIMORE, MD.

"As long as We're Settling things

SUPPOSE YOU
TELL ME WHY
YOU SMOKE
GRANGER

"WELL, it's like this. Back in the old days, when men wore high hats and frock coats, they had plenty of time to think things out, and they had sense, too. They used to sit down on a log and take the time to whittle their tobacco from a plug, to be sure of having a cool smoke.

"In those days, a man named Wellman, right here in Quincy, Ill., made about the best tobacco you could get. He knew how to keep the flavor fine and mellow.

"Well, sir, the people who make this Granger Rough Cut acquired Mr. Wellman's method, and they must have known how the old boys used to whittle their tobacco to make it smoke cool. Yes, sir, this Granger is the real stuff. The same mellowness and fine flavor that Wellman used to hand out to his friends. And it's whittled into big shaggy flakes all ready for the pipe. 'Rough Cut' they call it—'cut rough to smoke cool' is the best way I can describe it.

© 1933
HIGGINS & WHITE
TOBACCO CO.

TEN CENTS

The Granger pouch
keeps the tobacco fresh

"Regardless of price, Granger is about the best pipe tobacco I ever smoked. That's why I smoke it, and that's why they call it America's Pipe Tobacco, sir."

• • •

Now we wanted to sell Granger for 10¢. It was just a question of how to do it for the price. So we pack Granger in a sensible foil pouch instead of an expensive package, knowing that a man can't smoke the package. We give smokers this good

GRANGER tobacco in a common-sense pouch for 10¢.

GRANGER has not been on sale very long, but it has grown to be a popular smoke. And there is this much about it—we have yet to know of a man who started to smoke it, who didn't keep on. Folks seem to like it.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

VOL. XXXII. NO. 14.

SATURDAY, MAY 27, 1933

PRICE TEN CENTS

Gamber Elected Council President Clark Chosen As Elm Editor

Miss Sarah Ellen Byrn
To Head Women's Council

By Philip Wingate
In the general elections held last Tuesday, Richard M. Gamber and Charles B. Clark, were elected president of the Student Council and Editor of the "Elm" respectively.

Other results from Tuesday's balloting were as follows:

President of A. A.—Albert E. Dobkins.
Vice-President of Student Council—Charles B. Clark.
Secretary of Student Council—John M. Lord.

In the nominating ballot which took place May 16 the following men were elected to office due to the lack of other nominees:

Business Manager of the "Elm"—J. Patterson Beauman.

Assistant Editor of the "Elm"—William O. Baker.

Assistant Business Manager of the "Elm"—Louis L. Goldstein.
According to the modification of the Student Joint Association Constitution made last year, these men will take office immediately in order that they may become acclimated to their new duties.

Consequently the new council will be sworn in shortly and will be charged with the regular student council duties in the conductance of the new administrations.

The last issue of the "Elm" this year will be edited by Charles B. Clark and his assistant William O. Baker.

In practically every case this year the men elected to the various positions were given overwhelming majorities. With the exception of the vote for Council Secretary, which John Lord won by a 95 to 49 count, all others elected received at least twice as many votes as the nearest competitor.

Considering the total college population, a light ballot was cast.

Richard Gamber, new Student Council President, is a native of Pennsylvania, having graduated from Sewardville Prep School. Gamber is also Vice President of the Blue Key Fraternity, President of the class of 1934, Captain of the Football, and a member of the Alpha Kappa.

His major subject is Economics.
Charles B. Clark, new editor of the "Elm" is a graduate of Ellitt City High School. He was also recently elected President of the Varsity Club and of the Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity. He is a member of the Blue Key and has earned two letters in both football and basketball.

His major subject is History.

The first election taking place under the new system resulted in the choice of the following officers for the Women's Student Council:

President—Sarah Ellen Byrn.
Vice-Pres.—Marie Poole.
Sec.—Mary Ellen Noble.

Senior Members—Dorothy Kildie, Katherine Eastman.
Junior Member—Ruth Cannon.
Sophomore Member—Carolyn Hahn.

The new system corresponds to that used in the Men's Council, whereby the president, vice president and secretary are elected by the whole student body, and the remaining members are chosen by their respective classes.

PIPPIN AND BURKHARDT
CHOSEN FOR YEAR BOOK

Paul W. Pippin and W. Emory Burkhardt were chosen in Junior Class elections Thursday as Editor and Business Manager, respectively, for the "Pegasus" of 1934. At the same time Richard M. Gamber was for the fourth time elected President of the Class of '34.

Both the Editor and Manager of the Pegasus take over office with experience. Pippin having served on the staff of the Chestertown High School paper while in that school—and this year was appointed by the present Senior Class to act as Assistant Editor after Richards was forced to leave. Pippin has shown his talents also in his decorations and sketches of various Cotillions and dramatic presentations.

Burkhardt at various times was Business Manager and later Editor of the publication put out by Euton High School. This year he served as Assistant Business Manager of the Pegasus. He is also Manager of Football and of the Concert Orchestra.

He is a member of the "Elm" staff and of the Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity.

Others elected were:
Richard M. Gamber—President.
Charles B. Clark—Vice-President.
Ellen E. Fitch—Sec.—Treasurer.
Burdette Nattie—Blue Key Representative.

Albert Givarris, Burdette Nattie—Student Council Representatives.

Kappa Gamma Sorority
To Hold House Party

The sorority is having a house party at Betterton this week end. Many of the alumni are expected to be there.

Mrs. Frank Goodwin has accepted an invitation to become an honorary member of the sorority.

GIVEN MEMORIAL

Dr. Errol L. Fox

A Memorial Service was held by the Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity of Washington College recently for Dr. Errol L. Fox who was a Faculty member of the Fraternity from 1929 when the organization was established, until his death during the summer of 1931 while abroad in Germany.

The service was opened with a prayer by Joseph Dickerson, William T. Willis of the class of 1930 and ex-president of the Fraternity then spoke of Dr. Fox's contribution to the Fraternity life. He stressed particularly the activities of Dr. Fox concerning the formation of the group and of his holding them together during their early existence.

Robert Byrn spoke of Dr. Fox as a co-worker not only as a Faculty Advisor but also relative to Student-Teacher relationships. Dr. Livingston, who with Dr. Fox was greatly responsible for the origin of the group stressed the qualities of the latter as a faculty member.

President Titwirth was the last of the speakers. He told of his connections with Dr. Fox which were always of the most pleasant and intellectual type. He expressed regret that the College and the Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity had to lose such a man.

Warren Carey, retiring President of this year, unveiled a Memorial Plaque which the Fraternity erected in memory of Dr. Fox.

Principal Commencement Address To Be Made By David Lawrence, Publisher

DR. BEACHLEY TO HEAD
HEALTH ASSOCIATION

At the first meeting of the Middle Atlantic Section of the American Student Health Association, held May 17, at George Washington University, in Washington, Dr. R. C. Beachley was elected President of this organization. Dr. Beachley's valuable work as Director of Student Health at Washington College has been recognized.

Other officers elected were: Vice-President, Dr. Mary A. Hodge, George College and Dr. Katherine Chapman, Sec. Treas., of George Washington University.

There were representatives from eleven institutions present at the meeting. President Floyd H. Marvel of George Washington, addressed the organization. There were also addresses by Dr. Daniel Borison, University Surgeon, and Dr. F. A. Harvill, University Physician, and Dr. Miriam Rae, University of Penn.

President Titwirth and Dean Brewer also attended from Washington College.

Dr. David Cole Addresses
Students At Recent Assembly

Dr. David Cole, Professor of Romance Languages at the University of Pennsylvania, addressed the Thursday morning Assembly held at Washington College on May 25th on the general subject of "The Duties of Alumni."

Mr. Parnell Johnson, President of the Alumni Association of Washington College, attended the Assembly after having spoken to the Senior class, also on the duties of an Alumnus.

Baseball Game Here Today

The Killer Baseball team will engage the Eaton Club in a contest this afternoon on Washington field.

Fifty-Six Seniors To Be Graduated On June 12

Mr. David Lawrence, Editor of "The United States Daily," published at Washington, D. C., will deliver the principal address at the Commencement exercises on the morning of June 12, it was recently announced.

Many distinguished guests will attend the graduation exercises. Among these will be Dr. A. Norman Ward, President of Western Maryland College, who will give the Invocation; and Dr. Joseph H. Apple, President of Hood College, who will pronounce the Benediction.

The June Week Program gets under way Thursday, June 8th at 8:15 P. M. when the Dramatic Club under the direction of Prof. John D. Macaulay will present a Commencement Play. The following afternoon the June Fete will be staged on the campus with the Commencement Ball, or Senior Prom, held in the gymnasium that night.

On the afternoon of June 10, Saturday, a baseball game will be played on Washington Field. Previous arrangements for an Alumni Varsity contest, however, will likely be cast aside, but it's place will be filled by another game. On the night of the same day, at the Alumni Dinner in the gymnasium, a bound volume of testimonial letters from the alumni of the college, and others connected therewith, will be presented to Dr. Paul E. Titwirth, retiring President, who on Sunday, June 11, will deliver in William Smith Hall, his final Baccalaureate Sermon. Mr. J. Parnell Johnson, President of the Alumni Association will preside over the alumni meeting following the dinner.

The Alumni dinner will be held following the Alumni meeting, probably starting around 9:15 P. M.

At the Commencement exercises on June 12, 1933, fifty-six Seniors are expected to receive their diplomas. The list of graduates, one of the largest in recent years is as follows:

BACHELOR OF ARTS

Helen J. Atwater, Kathryn H. Baker,
Ann E. Bell, Calvin L. Brinsfield,
Roland E. Bullock, Joseph W. Carey,
Jr., Gertrude S. Chaney, Mary A. Clark,
Charles M. Clark, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole,
Albert W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay,
Mary A. Gale, Edith L. Hepburn,
Ethel M. Howell, Harry P. H. Hopkins,
Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond,
Roland C. Reedy, Rostene E. Scott,
Ada C. Stutz, Mary L. Taylor, Margaret
B. Thornton, Frederick C. Utison,
Anna E. Walbert, Mary E. Walbert,
Jr., George W. Clark, Charles E. Chapman,
Charles M. Clark, De Witt P. Clarke,
Gladys M. Conell, Joseph B. Dickerson,
Alice E. Dole, Albert W. Dorewing,
Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale, Edith L.
Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry P. H.
Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B. Dickerson, Alice E. Dole, Albert
W. Dorewing, Mary E. Doolay, Mary A. Gale,
Edith L. Hepburn, Ethel M. Howell, Harry
P. H. Hopkins, Emily J. Jewell, Mary A. Kreeger,
Emily J. Parks, John M. Raymond, Roland
C. Reedy, Robert E. Scott, Ada C. Stutz,
Mary L. Taylor, Margaret B. Thornton,
Frederick C. Utison, Anna E. Walbert,
Mary E. Walbert, Jr., George W. Clark,
Charles E. Chapman, Charles M. Clark,
De Witt P. Clarke, Gladys M. Conell,
Joseph B

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1792.

EDITOR CHARLES B. CLARK
Assistant Editor William O. Baker
Literary Editor Albert E. Dobkins
Exchange Editor Roland E. Lekebusch

REPORTERS
Feature Reporter W. Emory Burkhardt
Carroll W. Casteel, Ervin L. Koerber, Richard Gamber, Harry Hoy

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES
Alfred S. Hodgson, DeWitt Clarke, William Baker
SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES
Alexina Robinson, Genevieve Carvel, Emily Jewell

BUSINESS STAFF
Business Manager J. Patterson Beaman
Assistant Business Manager Louis L. Goldstein
Circulation Manager Emerson P. Slocum
Advertising Manager Walter F. Dorman
Chief Staff Photographer W. Emory Burkhardt

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.
Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, MAY 27, 1933

OUR AIMS

It is appropriate that we, the newly elected Staff of the "Washington Elm," attempt to make clear to our readers and to those connected in any fashion with our publication, the ideas that we ascribe to. We will attempt to please many and all if possible, though we realize at the start that endeavors of such nature will be difficult to carry through.

It will be one of our major objectives to create at Washington College in the Student Body, a much greater interest for literary works. We can accomplish this only with the cooperation of those students who have the ability but who do not participate even slightly in the preparation and publication of the "Elm." Our idea is to get more students working for the paper other than in a negative destructive way. At the present time only the smallest minority of students aid in the issuance; this statement can be borne out by merely glancing at the top of this column, where one finds other than the Editorial Staff, only three or four reporters. We could go on as they who precede as have and issue a paper consisting of the efforts of just a few. We probably will do just that, but at the same time we wish to urge others to take a part and make the paper have the marked features of a group.

Aside from the above we will attempt to encourage Open Forum letters. If things about the campus don't satisfy you, and you justifiably think they could be made better, express yourself to that effect, rather than sullenly annoying a few people with your contentions. We hope also that our efforts will be as successful and as well received as those of the Retiring Editor. We will strive to make such improvements as can be made, probably with a few minor changes in the make-up. We shall, finally, get out six-page issues, just as this year's Editor has done, when financially able to do so.

PRESIDENT TITSWORTH

Very briefly, the Staff in the last issue of the year, wishes to add its commendations to those already given to our departing President. Already his excellent work for Washington College has been praised in a former edition of the "Elm." However we wish to express our sincere hopes for the success of President Titsworth at Alfred University, his Alma Mater, and to which he returns in July to act as President. We are sorry he is leaving, and can only add that Dean Gilbert W. Meade, our new Head, will have our support to be as successful and as cherished as he who leaves us.

"FAREWELL" SENIORS

In a very short time, the present Seniors of Washington College will have completed their course. To some, this achievement arrived at only after four years of diligent and patient efforts will mean more than to others. A few probably have a set course to follow after graduation, but the greater number will be thrown out into a world which at the present time is unable to find for them a place. Consolation must be gained from the fact that they will not be alone. For quite a while many who have much more need of employment have been walking the streets in quest of subsistence for themselves and ones dependent on them. Having become well acquainted with this group we extend to them our sincere desires for both success in finding employment such as they may want, and in making a good job of what they undertake. We will miss you Seniors next year, and will endeavor to do as well as you have.

SLIPPERY ELM

By ALBERT E. DOBKINS

In true feeling of newness of ensure we look to our predecessor for a path to start us in the running is a columnist. If we recall correctly Mr. Ready's maiden article carried a protestation to being "mocha-pasta" which materialized into modern drinking fountains being installed in the men's dormitories. No one could fail to recognize the improvement and spontaneously Mr. Ready won the reputation of a "reformer." We are not so fortunate there being no problems of such concern at present to warrant advocating change without being considered extremely revolutionary.

After research we find that we can make this column what one will. Everyone who attempts to write even because its fun can appreciate the drudgery of the penny-alien. This is not a solicitation for sympathy; neither is it an apology nor the building-up of a defense mechanism. Our ambitions too are purely of a literary nature.

But we must leave something to write about or leave only a mass of words and as yet we feel no exhalation in our power to manipulate words. Bearing in mind the place that this column has in the Elm and staging within its scope our purpose is to write on everything of sufficient interest and importance that is called to our attention. Our hope is to stimulate thought on the part of the student body concerning all pressing questions. Washington's problems are our problems. Those college is

We shall criticize, advocate for reform, praise, and censure as falls due. Without sparing any measure and in the face of being charged with sensationalism or redaction we shall vent all alike, justly and from an unbiased though personal point of view. In exchange for the fun of writing we accept responsibility of all planned and adverse criticism. We close knowing that this author-to-pub write-up is sure to draw a smile.

Compliments

of

Chestertown

Electric Light and Power

Company

McCALLISTERS

Est. 1884

Baltimore's Oldest Sport Store
Outfitters to Washington
College
124 W. Baltimore, St.
BALTIMORE, MD.

Compliments of

H. D. OREM & SON

PURLOINED PHRASES

A Virgin's Club has been started at Johns Hopkins. From all reports they are very being runned by applications for membership.

"Iring says he can read you like a book."

"Yes, and darn him, he wants to use the Braille System."

Students at Princeton recently held a debate on the following topic: Resolved, that the shorter the kiss, the longer the bliss." The negative arguers won.

The Life of a College Man:

Freshman, Sophomore, Senior College, Culture, Learning, Lots of Knowledge, Phi Beta Kappa, Much Enjoyed, Graduation, Unemployed.

She: "Johnny, are you sure it's me you love and not my clothes?"
He: "Yes, Ted darling!"

"According to latest reports, there are more women under arms in Russia than in any other country in the world."

The Ten Punch Bowl adds: "Except in the U. S. on Saturday nights."

"Why do old maids wear cotton gloves?"

"Because—or they haven't any."

How is a man supposed to answer when a girl says, "Do you think I'm stilly as I appear?"

Greek Letter Notes

PHI SIGMA TAU

Mr. Howard Griffin, alumni member, was back on the "PHI" for the week end. The announcement has just been made of his coming marriage.

The Phi Sigma Tau announces the pledging of J. Patterson Beaman, Alfred Ingersoll and Charles Dudley.

Pledge members Blenheim, A. Williams, Slocum, L. Williams, Skip Lowe, Tignor, Knight and Beaman will be taken in as active members Monday, May 28.

The Annual Fraternity Banquet will be held immediately after the June Ball Friday, the 9th.

SIGMA TAU DELTA

The Sigma Tau Delta Sorority was delightfully entertained at a bridge luncheon given at the Country Club on Saturday, May 26. The hostesses were Mrs. Errol L. Fox, Mrs. J. W. John, Mrs. C. H. Dana, Miss Lorene Hartley and Mrs. Kenneth S. Baxton.

The sorority is spending the week end at Betterton on a House Party. Isabel North will be initiated as a member of the sorority on Monday, May 29th.

GAMMA SIGMA

The Gamma Sigma Sorority elected officers for next year, at their last meeting. Those elected to office were:

President—Elna Barclay.
Vice-President—Mary Jane Nield.
Secretary—Ruth Cannon.
Treasurer—Carolyn Jewell.
Sergeant-at-Arms—Carolyn Helms.
Reporter—Gladys Rebecca Aldridge.

Dr. Esther M. Dole entertained the sorority at dinner at her home last Tuesday evening.

TOLD TO ME

By I. ONLY HEARD

This is our own song. Perhaps in view of the precipitous drop which all present-day college graduates are forced to take in status when they are called our swan dive. It does not help matters particularly when we realize that, contrary to the laws of physics, no matter how flat our swan dive is—it will cause us to splash in the pond of important affairs. We've been inching out on our individual spring boards for a long time, and now that we've reached the end, somehow we seem to have lost the poise and perfection of form which we imagined we would have. For all these years we have pictured the water as being clear, fresh and inviting; instead we find the tide low over a rock bottom—the waters murky, turbulent and forbidding. If it were left to us to decide, we would undoubtedly back up, and wait for a rain to raise the tide, freshen the water, and allow the waves to die out. Instead, the weight of the numbers behind us pushes us steadily forward—we have the choice of a dive or a jump—but in any event—over we go. Man overboard!

Perhaps all this has no place here, but since we told the story this is our last column, we ought to "tuck it back at everything and everybody." Obviously it is an excellent idea, but obviously enough, a strange sense of "Fate" on Earth—good or bad, men, women, children, human beings and the faculty" has invaded our souls. Were disgusted, but helpless; we were built up, rather than destroy. Fax volucrum.

During the few years that we have graced the campus of "Washington—on—Chester," we have found some things that we would like to change. The principal abomination, aside from the existing "cut-system," lies in the apparently ever-growing, ever-spreading disease of "Fraternity Politics." This germ, sown, as it was, immediately preceding our arrival here, has spread to a rather alarming degree. The fact that we haven't checked it is evidence of our own weakness. As yet, we have no substitute to offer. We could take the place of fraternities in elections of all kinds. Not that we want them to play any part—but we haven't found a workable, practical substitute. Yet we believe we have found one in the matter of making and in the matter of pledges who fail to make the required index. Under the existing conditions a freshman is asked to join a fraternity just prior to the Christmas holidays. We believe that they should not be asked to join until after the mid-year examinations. If invitations are issued immediately after the examination period, it will tend to alleviate the conditions as they now exist in the following ways: first, it will allow fraternity members to become better acquainted with the material to be found in the freshman class; second, it will allow the freshmen to observe the fraternities as they actually exist—not as they exist during a rushing season; third, the proximity of examinations will make the last-minute, concentrated backslapping hypocrisy that now exists a danger to the indices of the fraternities; fourth, it will mean that no freshmen who has not made the required index will be considered a candidate for pledging, thus eliminating those pledges who are usually full to make the scholastic grade. We hope that the "Powers That Be" will see what we feel to be the wisdom underlying the suggested change and will act accordingly.

Baseball Team Loses Four In Row

Game With George Washington Rained Out

The Rock Hall Independent Team gained revenge for an early season setback by defeating the Maroon and Black in the second game of the here and there series, 11 to 4. O'Farrell started on the mound for Washington, but gave way to "Eddie" Evans in the third inning. Evans held the invaders well in check, but the heavy damage had been accomplished in the first two innings. Washington sustained several chances for easy scores in the latter stages of the game.

The Maroon and Black traveled to Easton and lost its second game of the season, the score being 4 to 0. Carey pitched great ball throughout the game but had breaks at critical moments spelled his downfall. Several fine plays on the part of the Easton players cut off a late Washington rally.

The Maroon and Black dropped its third game last Saturday at Delaware in a hard fought contest, the final score being 5 to 4. Carey and Riley hooked up in a mound duel, but the latter had the better of the break. Washington staged a rally in the last inning scoring two runs, but a fast double play cut off a possible tie or a win.

Maryland defeated Washington College 7 to 2, at College Park last Wednesday in a well-played game, the score was 2 to 1 up to the eighth inning when Carey weakened and allowed the winners to hit his offerings for five runs. Tignor, of Washington, clouted a home run in the final inning.

The Washington-George Washington game scheduled for Wednesday in Washington, was cancelled because of wet grounds.

EKAITIS WINS BY K. O. IN PROFESSIONAL DEBUT

Coach George Ekaitis made his professional debut at the Sports Center, Baltimore, last Friday night by scoring a 30 second knockout over Frank Sucky, of Philadelphia.

The former Green Terror showed again the flash and power he possessed when in college. When the gong sounded he rushed from his corner, feinted with his left and hit Sucky with his right. It was the hardest blow the "Terror" says he ever struck and had the same results as if he had used one of the ring fists. Sucky went down for the count of nine, at ten he was on his feet, but still seeing the lights. Ekaitis measured him and very soon the Philadelphia joined the long list of those who have gone to make up a long record of one round knockouts for the college coach.

In fact, it looked so simple to the Boxing Commissioners that they held up Sucky's purse, charging him with pulling a dive for Ekaitis. This however was proven not the case and it appears as if the "Green Terror" is slated to get pieces in the professional racket.

VARSITY CLUB ELECTS; TO GIVE AWARDS JUNE 12

The Washington College Varsity Club completed the election of its officers on Wednesday evening, May 17th. The following, to serve during the 1933-1934 College Year were chosen:

President—Charles B. Clark.
Vice-President—Albert E. Dobkins.
Secretary—John Lord.
Treasurer—Ellery Ward and Harry Huey, each to serve one semester.
Sgt.-at-Arms—Delbert Proudfoot.
The Club has chosen the winner of the award given to that Senior who has been out for Varsity teams, but who has been unable to win a letter. This award will be made at Commencement. Seniors who will receive awards in the form of medals for having won Varsity letters and for being a member of the Varsity Club are Joseph Dickerson, Charles J. Harris, and Richard M. Johnson.

John R. Smithson New Mt. Vernon President

At a meeting held in William Smith Hall on Wednesday evening, May 24, the Mount Vernon Literary Society held elections of officers for the 1933-34 term. The officers are as follows:

President—John R. Smithson.
Vice-President—Sarah Ellen Byrn.
Secretary—Ella Barkley.
Treasurer—Louis Goldstein.
Sgt.-at-Arms—Robt. Shaul.
Board of Carators—Wiley Sadler, Carolyn Jewell, Calvin Rogers.
There was no further business taken up.

MISS BUCHWALDER TALKS AT COLLEGE ASSEMBLY

The speaker at the Washington College Weekly Assembly, held at 11 A. M., Thursday, May 18, in William Smith Hall, was Miss Buchwalder, head of the Placement Bureau of Baltimore, Md., who spoke on modern trends in industrial and commercial society.

Miss Buchwalder delivered a well-organized address covering many of the causes of present-day unemployment. She clearly showed how such distress was not sudden, but the result of continuous "breaking-down" of certain industries and businesses over a period of years. She gave a number of examples, and quoted the usual statistics on the subject.

Compliments of H. F. Jefferson

—Advertise in The Elm.

*Then
Satisfy*

.. all you could ask for!

Just two words...

Yes, I have heard about two words; and now and then three words—but "They Satisfy" means "To gratify fully."

Why do these two words "they satisfy" fit Chesterfields? Because Chesterfield Cigarettes are milder. Because Chesterfield Cigarettes taste better.

Chesterfield's way of blending and cross-blending fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos brings out better flavor and aroma.

They Satisfy!

Chesterfield
*the cigarette that's MILDER
the cigarette that TASTES BETTER*

Clements & Clements,
Inc.

CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING

"Keep your clothes fit"
Prompt Service
Phone 437
Dover, Delaware

Phillip Wingate Retires as Editor

Has Made Envious Record While At Washington College

There are always men on the campus who are outstanding but who receive little in the way of recognition. Phillip J. Wingate, the retiring Editor of this year's "Elm" has not been in a position to receive acknowledgments for his fine work.

"Phil" came to Washington College in the fall of 1929, having graduated from High School at Annapolis, Maryland, during the month of June of the same year. In High School he afterwards has been in college, he was a leader, graduating with the highest scholastic honors.

At Washington College, his activities have spoken for themselves, he immediately became a reporter on the staff of the college paper, then called the "Washington Collegian." His excellent work was awarded when he was elected Assistant Editor of the "Elm" for 1931-1932. His Junior year. The crowning achievement in newspaper lines was his election to the Editorship for 1932-1933. During the past year he has been responsible for a college paper that ranks among the best of small college publications. In literary lines, Phil follows in the footsteps of his famous teacher, W. Wilson Wingate, feature sports editor of the Baltimore News and Baltimore Evening Star.

Wingate has also distinguished himself in Lacrosse. An excellent runner, he has been a regular on the Washington College team for two years, serving as Captain during this past year and earning a part of a threefold midfield. As Captain he has set a fine example for his players, and for succeeding Captains.

Many other activities have taken the time of this Senior. He is an active member of the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity, was football manager last fall, has held an Assistant Instructorship in Geometry and was an Assistant in the Chemistry Department. Phil has distinguished himself also by acquiring a "Three Point" index, on at least one occasion. The majors are in Mathematics and Chemistry, and he will receive a Bachelor of Science Degree in June with honors.

Phil is as certain as yet concerning his work for next year. He has qualified as a teacher and will instruct High School students and coach in an opening in that field is found. Possibly he will pursue newspaper work if a position is available.

—The Editor

GILL BROS. ICE CREAM

Dainties
Assorted Blocks

BARNETT'S
BARBER SHOP
Over Sterling's Drug Store
First Class Service and
Expert Workmen

FOX'S

5c to $1.00 Store

Where Your Dollar

Has More Cents

Elections

BLUE KEY FRATERNITY
President—Albert E. Robbins.
Vice-President—Richard M. Gander.
Secretary—Harry R. Huey.
Treasurer—John M. Lord.
Sgt.-at-Arms—Dulbert O. Proudfoot.

The Student's Activity Budget which the Blue Key Fraternity drew up, but which in the form of a petition was not passed upon with signatures of a sufficient number of students, was approved by the Board of Visitors and Governors at their last Quarterly Meeting.

SOPHOMORES
President—Harry R. Huey.
Vice-President—Harold W. McCrue.
Secretary-Treasurer—Mary Jane Neld.
Student Council Representatives—
Wayley L. Sadler, Jr., Richardson W. Gager.
Blue Key Representative—William O. Baker.

FRESHMEN
President—Larry L. Wimbrow.
Vice-President—William Reinhardt.
Sec.-Treas.—Carolyn Helms.
Student Council Representatives—
Robert Benn and Albert Elanconci.
Blue Key Representatives—Albert Elanconci, Charles Berry and George Pratt.

Y. W. C. A.
President—Sarah Ellen Byrn.
Vice-Pres.—Marie Frode.
Sec.—Ella Barkley.
Treas.—Lucille Leger.

Compliments of
MARSHALL
Cleaners, Dyers, and
Repairers
Easton, Maryland

After A Studious Day
Relax at
JIM'S and HICK'S
Billiard Parlor

Modern Shoe Repairing
Store
PAUL SIPALA
Next to Sterling Drug

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing
103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

Toulson's Pharmacy
Cordially invites the student to enjoy the privileges of a well-stocked drug store.
Parker Pens our specialty.

Women Students To Present Fete

Miss Doris T. Bell Will Direct June Week Enactment

The entire student body of women will present, under the direction of Doris T. Bell, a fete consisting of Aesthetics, Characteristic, Fantomine and standard jazz dances. They will enact an old Medieval fairy story "The Charming Princess."

Contrary to previous years when the fete consisted of several distinct interludes, the 1933 fete will present complete pantomime. A quaint old story is developed around a fair princess, Gladys Gough, and her lover, Emily Jewell, a most unusual prince.

The college is fortunate to have the fete under the direction of Miss Bell. With her professional training and experience she is able to present a pageant unlike any other college in the State of Maryland.

The Dalany-Vernay Co.

337-339-341 North
Charles Street

Baltimore's Largest

Art China, Leather Goods,
Toys, Books, Athletic
Equipment

FENNINGTON CONSTRUCTION CO.

Contractors and Builders
Chestertown, Md.
Phone 88W and 306

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149

C. W. Kibler & Sons

THE REXAL STORE
EASTMAN KODAKS

FILMS

DEVELOPING

and

PRINTING

BY EXPERTS

DRUGS and

SUNDRIES

Of All Kinds

A. L. STERLING

HERB'S
QUICKLUNCH
Sandwiches of all Kinds
Ice Cream, Tobacco and Drinks
Under the Vonnell House

SMITH'S
KUT-RATE
DRUG STORE
Chestertown, Maryland
Owen C. Smith, Prop.
Phone 189

Y. M. C. A. REORGANIZES UNDER PROF. GOODWIN

The Y. M. C. A. of Washington College reorganized on Thursday, 7 P. M. The organization will receive help from the Student's Activity Budget to carry on next year under the guidance of Prof. Frank Goodwin.

New officers:

President—Wayley Sadler.

Vice-President—Ralph Harries.

STUDENTS

We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.

Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Letheric Line from Paris.

Abbott's DeLuxe Ice Cream.
Pines, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

Eyes examined and glasses fitted by a graduate Optician. Fountain Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films and Developing.

J. S. KREEGER
Jeweler & Optometrist
Chestertown, Md.

Secretary—Emerson Slacum.
Treasurer—John R. Smithson.
Faculty Adviser—Prof. Frank Goodwin.

A. L. SPARKS

Special in

Ladies' Hosiery

Newest Colors and

Weights

WE KNOW

What Young Men Want

You want to buy finely tailored clothes at a reasonable price.

You want to know that the stylist who fashions your clothes is a recognized authority in style centers.

You want stylish clothes that give satisfactory service.

Our clothes will meet every thing you demand of them.

BORDLEY & SON

Shop At The
B. & L. 5c to $1.00
VARIETY STORE
321 High St.

For Your Wants

Del-Mar-Va Restaurant
For
After Dance Lunches
And Regular Meals

—Advertise in The Elm.

Compliments Of
Park Row Beauty Shoppe
306 Park Row
Phone No. 334
Chestertown, Md.

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT

(Formerly Candy Kitchen)
For food of the Best Quality at Popular Prices. Home Cooking, Prompt Service. Sandwiches of all kinds, Candies, Sodas, Fancy Sundae, Home Made Pies and all kinds of Soft Drinks at the Fountain.
Try Our 50c Dinner
Guarantee Satisfaction

Visit The
CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT
(Open 6 A. M. to 12 midnight)

The Emerson Hotel

Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled
Rooms $3 np—Antos Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

VOL. XXXIII. NO. 2.

SATURDAY, OCT. 7, 1933

PRICE TEN CENTS

Gridders Clash Against Hopkins Today

College Gets Large Gift

$150,000 Fund Is Left By C. F. Harley

As a result of his continued interest in Washington College since his graduation in 1892, Charles Fuller Harley, of Anne Arundel county has provided for the eventual distribution of the residue of his estate amounting to $150,000 to his Alma Mater. Bequests totaling some $47,150 being deducted from that amount.

Coming to Washington as a poor boy, Mr. Harley secured his education here by means of a scholarship. Immediately after his graduation he was admitted to the Maryland bar and only in his career formed a partnership with John B. Fells. The firm has since been enlarged, being, at the time of Mr. Harley's death, Harley, Whittle and Loscheter. He was active until his death in the practice of his profession and a member of the American Law Institute, American Bar Association, Bar Association of Baltimore City, and the American Judicature Society of which he was a member. Among his other activities we note his interest in the Y. M. C. A., of which he was a member for over fifty years, his membership in the Academy of Political Science, and the most interesting to us, his position as a member of the School Board of Baltimore City and of Governor Ritchie's College Commission.

He will left the corpse of the residue of the estate in trust for his widow, Mrs. Edwina Harley, for life. Upon her death it will go to Washington College for construction and building purposes only, and not for endowment purposes.

The will was not made until December, shortly before his death in July. As representative of the college Dr. Mead and Jones attended Mr. Harley's funeral.

Mr. Harley always maintained that he owed his entire success to his Alma Mater and felt that in this way he could repay her.

ACTIVITIES FUND RECEIVERS NOTED

Many Organizations Benefited By Plan

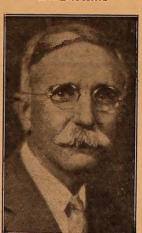

Many students have been wondering where the money appropriated for the Student Budget Fund is being used. One can readily see that it has been divided among the following organizations, who are allowed to use it as they see fit.

Organization	Amt. Total
1. Blue Key Fraternity	$45.-$109
2. Student Government	$15.-$ 30
3. Literary Society	$10.-$ 10
4. Y. M. C. A.	$10.-$ 10
5. Y. W. C. A.	$10.-$ 10

Totals $75-$160
These above figures are subject to change due to the many appeal bills and students leaving school.

Erldman C. Jones, ex-33, and Miss Carolyn L. Fells were married during the summer.

ENTERTAINERS

Dr. J. S. William Jones

Dean's Cabinet Installed By Dr. Jones

The Dean's Cabinet of men had its first meeting of the year in the office of Dr. J. S. William Jones on Monday morning, October 2, 1933. The meeting was called by Dr. Jones to start the year's work of the cabinet. Several items were discussed, chiefly the one concerning the college club, the Cotton Club dancers. Other important matters were laid aside until a future meeting of the group.

The cabinet, headed by Dean Jones consists of the following: The president of the Student Council, Editor of the ELM, Editor of the Pegasus Year Book, The Presidents of the three upper classes, The Mr. Vernon Literary Society President, the President of each of the Social Fraternities and of the Blue Key National Honorary Fraternity.

On Wednesday night, October 4, the Cabinet was entertained by Dr. Jones at his home. The following members and guests were present: Dr. J. S. William Jones, Dr. E. M. Dole, Prof. Paul Solandt, Mrs. Ethel Fox, and the Messrs. Richard Gamber, Charles B. Clark, Albert E. Hopkins, Paul W. J. Pippin, John R. Smithson, James D. Davis, Harry R. Hoxey, William Reinhardt and the Messrs. Dign Shortess, Elizabeth Cooper, Alexina Robinson, Betty Chittick, Carolyn Helms, Margaret Wanders, Jean Young and Lenk Frederick.

Assembly Speakers For Next Two Weeks Announced

By the efforts of Dr. Livingston the following chapel speakers have been secured for the month of October: October 12—Sweepen Earle, Commissioner of Conservation of Md. October 19—Dr. H. V. Holloway, Superintendent of Public Instruction of the State of Delaware.

G. Harry Schrieber, '23, is manager of the Grand Opera House in Cincinnati and Joe Alexander, '30, former star athlete here, is Assistant Manager of the Albee in the same city.

MEN'S COUNCIL TAKES OATH

TAKEN BEFORE WHOLE ASSEMBLY, SEPT. 28

The Men's Student Council of Washington College was officially sworn in as the governing body of the Student Government Association, at the regular Thursday morning assembly, on September 28, before the speech of Mr. Candler Launby.

President Mead first gave the oath to Richard Gamber, President of the Student Council. The latter then gave it to the following officers and Class Representatives: Charles B. Clark, Vice President and Senior Representative, Burdette Nuttle and Albert Grisius, Senior Representatives, Len Lord, Secretary and Junior Representative, Wesley Siddle and Richard Saylor, Junior Representatives, and Albert Bilancini and Robert Bean, Sophomore Representatives. The Student Government Association will not be elected until Frosh elections in November.

The Oath as taken by the above mentioned officers and members reads as follows: "I do solemnly swear that I will, to the best of my ability, uphold and administer the Constitution and the regulations of the Student Government Association of Washington College, in the position to which I have been elected; that I will give a careful and conscientious hearing to all matters brought before the Council; and do my best to render an honest decision on all cases, to preserve the honor and the tradition of Washington College."

Rev. Robert E. Green, '30, pastor of the M. E. Church, Greenwood, Del., was a member of the graduating class, School of Theology, Boston University, the past June.

President Mead States

This is the season of the year when campus publications the country over take stock of the student bodies they report, and comment or criticize them for the amount they possess of that intangible but easily identified undergraduate commodity, "College Spirit." It is well that our college journalists do this, though their measures of what constitutes that spirit are likely to be as various as the multitude of colleges throughout the land.

The truth is, of course, that there is no accepted definition. Each student body arrives at its own standard. There are at the same time, notably those over-republicanized (and sometimes subsidized) athletics, which limit their exhibition of "College Spirit" to the excessively vocal lip-service for a team of men whose names they anxiously know, and whom they think they represent in their street clothes.

The idea of doing anything for Alma Mater except shouting is foreign to these lands.

Such, of course, is not the Washington ideal as I have observed it. I believe in enthusiasm, in organized cheering, in the proper "blowing off steam," in the encouragement it

NEW PROFESSOR

Dr. Arthur L. Davis

Dr. Arthur L. Davis, about whom an article appeared in the last issue of the Elm, is the new Language Department Head.

Miss Eugenia Morgan, '31, became the bride of John Chester Barlow, Jr. in the Baptist Church of Greensboro, on July 15th. Since graduation she has been teaching in Codrington High School.

NOTICE

The Pegasus Photographer will be here within the next few days. At this time the Senior photos will be taken. A sitting fee of $1.50 will be charged. (This is also credited to the purchase of individual pictures). The men must be in formal dress, and the women in dress. Fraternity and Society individuals will be in formal attire. Please cooperate by watching for the schedule and by being prompt for the sittings.

Emory Burkhardt, Business Manager

BALTIMOREANS GIVEN EDGE

CAPTAIN DICK GAMBER LEADS LOCAL PLAYERS

The Maroon and Black of Washington College will today clash with the Blue Jays of Johns Hopkins University at Homewood Field, Baltimore, Md., in the opening game of the season for each team. Baltimore sports writers are granting a light edge to Hopkins, making the Shoremen the under-dogs. Regardless of pre-game dogs, the game will be a close one, with both teams having to fight to the bitter end to exact victory.

During the past three weeks the Elks-Hulder crashed squad has put many bare knuckles, and with more time to get in shape than in previous years, the eleven is in better condition on the opening game drawn night. The past week has been utilized principally for signal perfection. Each dinner time, as well as in the regular afternoon drill, the players have been running through plays. Emphasis has been placed on passing, defense, kick-offs, punting and passing.

The starting lineup has some new faces. Ellis Dwyer, big tackle in the old holding down position following absence from school during the last two campaigns. His running mate is Henry Nowak, who has made great strides forward in his playing this year. He failed to even make his letter in 1932, but this season he shows more improvement than any man on the squad. The guards will be Henry Wallace and John Lord, both veterans of 1932, though Ward then played tackle. The center position will be filled by Ralph Harrison, whose handy play is expected to be instrumental in the team's success this year. Captain Dick Gamber, all-around athlete will again play right end. For a light man, especially in the line, Gamber is one of the best in the state. Russ Baker will perform at the left flank. Charley Clark, Phil Skipp and Joe O'Farrell will be ready to take over, and end position if called upon. In the back field, Fritz Reinhold, star punter, will call signals. Other regular backfield men will be Charley Berry, Al Bilancini, and Grims, the latter a Frosh, and former star at Friends Central High in Philadelphia.

Hopkins is rated as having a fine chance for an undefeated season, prospects being the best since 1925. Their hopes were blasted somewhat, however, when Pete Reynolds, speedy and clever halfback was injured the other day. His play was second only to that of Boats Ives, All-Maryland end last year for Hopkins. Other threats on Hopkins team are McLenn, Broder, Yearley, Russell and Phillips, all of whom are expected to go to the team with the most fight, and to the one getting some breaks.

The Hopkins lineup is unavailable, other Washington substitutes besides the three end, named above are Jones, Hall, Wallace, Carey and Mead, Inman; and Stacey, Dobkins and Tignor, backfield men.

—Gilbert W. Mead.

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

EDITOR CHARLES B. CLARK
Assistant Editor William O. Baker
Literary Editor Albert E. Dobkins
Feature Editor Roland E. Lekebusch
Women's Editor Sarah Ellen Byrn
Sports Editor Harry R. Huey
Alumni Editor Phillip J. Wingate

REPORTERS

Joseph Freedman, Emory Burkhardt
 News Reports—William Emmord, Ervin L. Koerber, Albert
 Giraldis, Carroll W. Costel, Phillip Skp, Ella Barker, Stanley
 Knight, Lawrence Williams, Edwin Lowe, John Lord, Alfred Taylor, Martha Shearer, Isadore Bohrer.

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

Alfred S. Hodgson, Richard Gamber, William Baker

SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES

Alexine Robinson, Sarah Ellen Byrn, Ella Barkley

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager J. Patterson Beaman
 Assistant Business Manager L. L. Goldstein
 Circulation Manager Emerson P. Slacum

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, OCT. 7, 1933

TRADITIONAL "RATING" MUST GO

At Washington College we have a tradition which has continued for too long a period. Usually such things around a College are discarded only with great difficulty, because of the long fact that they are traditions. They become often, though, "worn-out and unintelligent customs." The one we have in mind and which exists too freely in our Institution is called "Rating." At other places it takes other names, for instance, "hazing." But, at the larger and progressive Colleges and Universities, it has become obsolete, regardless of what it is called. Probably the fact that we are "Small" here at our College, in more than one interpretation, is the dominant reason for our backwardness.

We make our position clear to begin with. We do not contend that Freshmen should be treated with too much regard, for that in itself would be harmful to "recent powers" in High Schools. We see nothing about the initial rat party which causes us to advocate its abolishment. In fact, we favor rating for a month or two, but after then it must go. At Washington College it has in the past extended in some forms up until the first of June, nine months after Freshmen matriculation. We admit that it has become less intensive, even since our arrival on the Campus three years ago. But, that is not as it should be. We justly think it must disappear entirely after our designated period.

Our reasons for our stand are several. In the first place, nothing is derived from the continuation of the system after the first of December. We designate the first of December because it is about that time that the Fresh-Sophomore football game takes place, the climax of relationships between the two classes. The Freshman who has not then become aware of his own insignificance, can be made to do so, by an upperclassman's mere disregard of the former's self and actions. Secondly, rating after this period becomes tiresome to Freshmen who tolerate it, by force more or less, without objection at first. It hinders to a certain degree their ability to derive all benefits from College life that they should, and takes away from their complete enjoyment of College. Thirdly, it is no longer practiced in Modern Institutions which cope differently with the situation. Dealing out physical punishments was a method used in the past to make what was, irrelevant of its ethical qualities. It still is used to a limited extent, but every tendency is away from it. Not only are physical punishments being eliminated, but at other places an upperclassman need not yell on the first year class men to perform personal services that they themselves should do. At least this is true, after the first of December. There are other arguments but the related ones suffice.

So, in conclusion, we advocate that after the first of December, all forms of "Rating" be abolished. We are not attempting, however, to urge the elimination of Student Council regulations as those requiring Freshmen mail route, and such other things. Several reasons make it necessary to carry out this plan. The present Sophomore Class and its Vigilance Committee must be the leaders in the movement. The Student Council, which by the way favors such a move, must be willing and ready to back the leaders, and lastly, upperclassmen who have had their time, must altogether refrain from rating.

SLIPPERY ELM

By ALBERT E. DOBKINS

A severe yet just criticism of us as a student body is our lack of intellectual facility, but perhaps one is not wholly at fault for one's lack of scholarly desire for knowledge. The criticism might have been brought closer home by decrying our indifferent attitude toward all student activities. Too many words have been wasted in college spirit, and too much is the cause of our want of interest and enthusiasm in affairs which are our own! Remember that we the students, primarily make up Washington College. Certainly college holds more for us than the necessary requirements for graduation and a degree so why deliberately cut ourselves off?

Are affairs in such a deplorable state that we are not conscious that there is such a thing as student activities? If this is the case, all of us have in some manner conbided to make conditions as they are. Surely there are some worthy and desirable organizations on the Hill, yet nobody is interested in getting full attendance at meetings, read the carefully written contributions to the "Elm," or watch the football squad trying to work through its schedule with six backfield men. Rather than add to the "vicious circle" by retreating and "kripping" or drawing inside and lamenting and still remaining ineffective, let's make a change and let's do it immediately.

Let's us not ask how, let's come out of our shells, let's offer suggestions, if necessary let us grow bold and demand things, and then watch the spirit grow.

CULTURAL COMMENT

In "The Shape of Things to Come" (Macmillan $3.50), H. G. Wells continues to outline the uneven trend of our ways up to the year 2106. The author, a famous Englishman, gives a plausible account of the gradual self destruction of what we call "civilization." The reader finds himself in the Utopian world state of 2106, now bewildered but enthralled with the triumphs of militarism and the eventual decimations of the world population. Mr. Wells has omitted none of his customary cosmic humor, and to it has added a brilliant and surprising that of his other works.

The U. S. is grateful to the Hitler regime for its political exile to the country of Ernst Ludwig, Germany's most outstanding contemporary biographer. The author of "Napoleon," "Bismarck," etc., has decided to turn his attention to history as a result of the recent atrocities of Germany and promises a brilliant record. Among other duties, Mr. Ludwig will supervise the writing of his great work, "Napoleon" in Hollywood.

William Lyon Phelps beloved Yale professor, now retired, has recently published a list of authors and works which he is convinced will survive through the next 100 years. The discriminative list follows:

Kipling, Conrad, Hardy, Yeats, Mark Twain, Meredith, Henry James and George Santayana. Berry's "Peter Pan," Shaw's "St. Joan," Galsworthy's "Fanny Hill," Bennett's "Old Wives Tales" and George Moore's "Evelyn Waters."

Sinclair Lewis' newest novel since "An Vickers" will be called "Wara Of Ark." It is to be published in January 24th by Doubleday, Doran & Co.

PURLOINED PHRASES

By ROLAND LEKEBUSCH

I am afraid that this column has given the impression that all phrases which can be purloined verge upon the frivolous, if not the "nutty" and lifeless—but as the cold grey dawn of a new college year breaks upon us with the same ghastly reality with which a new schedule containing six or seven classes dawned upon our consciousness about three weeks ago, and as I ponder in this chastened and sober mood, I feel it my duty to perpetrate upon my own suffering reader a certain phrase of a more serious nature. So let me see if I can "crack" this "nutty" material and extract a mighty kernel, in the hope that I might inspire my readers to let me say—keep awake in class; spend less time behind the power house; put away those field glasses; or—oh well!

For he dreamed beneath the moon, And slept beneath the sun, And he lived a life of "going to do" And died with nothing done.

To reach the Port of Success, we must sometimes sail with the wind and sometimes against it—but we must SAIL, and not DRIFT, nor LIE AT ANCHOR.

Two little men stood looking at a hill.

One was named CANT and one was named WILL. CANT said, "I never in the world can climb this hill."

So there he is, at the bottom still. WILL said, "I'll get to the top, because I will."

And there he is, now, at the top of the hill.

Two little men are living by a hill; At the bottom is CANT, at the top is WILL.

Now let me add a "crack" by Longfellow:

The heights by great men reached and kept, Were not attained by sudden flight, But they, whilst their companions slept, Were toiling up towards the night.

And for the benefit of some of the students, conclude with one by Disraeli:

To be conscious that you are ignorant is a great step toward knowledge.

THE REXAL STORE
 EASTMAN KODAKS
 FILMS
 DEVELOPING
 and
 PRINTING
 BY EXPERTS
 DRUGS
 and
 SUNDRIES
 Of All Kinds
 A. L. STERLING

PIPPEN'S
 BARBER SHOP
 Phippen's Hotel
 Hair Cutting My
 Specialty

McALLISTERS
 Quality Sporting Goods
 Catalogue on Request
 124 W. Baltimore St.
 Baltimore, Md.

TO TOLL TO ME

By I. ONLY HEARD

As was the case last year, a declaration of just what this column is going to be, is in order. In the first place we shall print nothing but what is true. If it is not all we can say is, "We only heard." A fair warning might be to quote the well placed words of last year's columnist when he wrote: "I don't know if you'll see it but they will tell on you."

We have often read of how graduates have longed to be able to come back and tell their learned professors where to "head in." Now, there is such a story circulating about our own Washington College. We won't vouch for the authenticity, because we did not read it from a wholly veracious person. Last August Dr. Howell was taken fishing by a grad, fresh from the talls of "econ." It was a declaration of unprofessionalism, for no fish were caught and because the best overheard, our good Registrar returned an excellent digging. Knowing "Joe Dick" as we did, perhaps it was premeditated. Tsk. Tsk!

We wonder who the girl was who cried to "Joe" Hall during the entire period he was teaching at High School. What was the name of the place?

The co-ed-bell had a nocturnal feast—no, it was not because they gorge too much although they were rather well fed, but it must have been the devilish crabs that made all sick.

Skip the social beacon is only a "Flicker."

A Froch is starting a new hobby of collecting Scout badges. All year scouts "be prepared," for in four years it may be scalp.

From Reid Hall, the home of mystic and musty secrets, there is a Scotch atmosphere. The bag pipes are playing "The Campbell's Are Coming." Unhappily this has become a display of a rather sordid piece of humor on the part of one whom we think should know better. However, it is offset by an Auld ballad to a new but nice Scot, it's "She's My Anne, He's My Jo."

"Lone Scout" Dwyer commutes many miles each week. Chercher is femme.

The old school is on the back stretch when the men go out for archery while the women take laps around the track. Wall grills, they keep it up and we'll soon have the boys there too. I don't know if they won't be able to stand the pace.

In the truth, Ralph get the bump over his eye from a door!

There were "A. W. O. L's" to Betterson, Nuff said!

Two men attend a football meeting, the same night both coaches were killed.

Perry calls up 3 times in one day, drives 16 miles to find—? (The girl in Gill's with another man.) Personal note: I prefer to see "Ooby" as we saw you propped against a brick wall last week end.

Full many and peaceful are the sighs of those who have scanned this column and failed to find their name herein. But not the latter who refuses to be left out. "John Alden" says read the paper and see "Ooby." The test that went with it was scintillated by Preselle and given to the worthy. What score John got we don't know, but some of you will be able to speak for himself and have that indefinable, irresistible something called charm.

FOOTBALL

—By Geo. Ekanis

The football season opened in many sections of the country a couple of weeks ago. But for Washington College, the opening is beginning this Saturday, with Johns Hopkins University as the opponent. Already there have been upsets in the South, West and Midwest. Tulane's losing to Texas A. & M. in the South, Santa Clara defeating California in the West, and Northwestern falling before Iowa in the Midwest were among them. Our little sport, (or sport I say, nine and Western Maryland fair.) happened last Saturday when St. Thomas downed Western Maryland College.

Our small squad is in the position of accomplishing a little upset. John Hopkins University is reputed to have the best material and finest prospects since 1926, when they won through a difficult schedule and defeated. We shall start the game Saturday as the "under-dog," with Johns Hopkins fans speculating on how large the score will be. But as it may be, Roger says, he was coaching at Princeton said, "A team that won't be beat, can't be beat."

The squad has been working for three weeks on the fundamentals of tackling, blocking, punting and passing, and in mastering a new type of offense; consisting of spins and double spins. This new offense puts a lot of pressure on the boys, at times is essential, too. Timing cannot be accomplished without exceptionally good blocking and hard running.

The schedule this year is blessed by the absence of so-called "big-leaguers." Each of the eight games is within reach of the boys' ability to put in the "win" side of the season ledger. The boys have been attacking the beseeching duties of mastering fundamentals with far greater enthusiasm than shown in the past two years. Barring injuries, this bodes no good for future opponents.

Our college has never had many men experienced in the art of playing football and in this year there are few of these experienced men, that ever before, making the loss of Brimhurst, Dickerson, Johnson, "Noxie" Carey, Dutton, Blaisdell, Nicholson, Evans, Higgins, and Wilmoit, felt more than it would normally have been. With only two substitutes for the backfield, and one experienced man for the position of center, tackle, and center, most of the boys will have to "Iron Man" throughout the entire season. My prayers that no one will be injured!

May I make a request to the student body. Help the squad by taking a load off their minds regarding how you feel about them. Their task will be heavy enough carrying on through eight games, motivated by a new offense and with no chance of a let-down, as all of our games present a difficult problem wherein all of the boys will have to be "on their toes" mentally and physically, and nursing bumps and bruises. They represent you all and the school. Do not add, lighten by cheering them on and giving them your whole-hearted support!

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing
105 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

GIRLS' HOCKEY TEAMS PRACTISING DAILY

Most Successful Year In Sport Hoped For

The hockey season this year is hoped to be more successful than that of any previous year. The girls are practicing every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at three-thirty in the afternoon. Help to beginners is given in the mornings.

Although Walbert, Kreeger, Farr, Schmidt, Dole and Herrers, valuable members of last year's varsity, have graduated, there are many new players to take their place.

Some of the seasoned players, new this year and possibilities for the team, are Port, Brown, Anthony, Westcott, Greisinger, and Harshaw.

Those left from last year's varsity are Frederick, Helms, Metcalf, Byrn and Rasm.

Miss Doris Bell, Women's Athletic Director, feels that the rivalry between the Freshman-Junior teams and Sophomore-Senior teams should be intense, and that each team will have plenty of competition with many hard fought battles waged.

—By Jean Harshaw.

After the Show follow
the Crowd to the Most
Modern Ice Cream Par-
lor in Town.

GILL BROS.

FOX'S

Anything you want at
the Right Price
5c to $1.00
Store

KREEGER'S
JEWELRY STORE

Eyes examined and
glasses fitted by a graduated Optician. Fountain
Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films
and Developing.

Watches, Rings and
Novelty Jewelry.

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149

C. W. Kibler & Sons

THE
MARGARET E. JEFFERSON SHOP

Campus and
Class Room Frocks

That are Smart, Practical and Inexpensive

Gridders To Play Gallaudet Oct. 14

Victory Expected In First Home Game Of Year

The first home football game of the season will be played next Saturday afternoon, Oct. 14, at 2:30 P. M., on Washington field, against Gallaudet College, of Washington, D. C.

This game creates much interest, for last year when the Maroon and Black players beat the Mutes, it was their first victory in three years. The game was won by a score of 6 to 0, following Bill Nicholson's dash off tackle late in the game for the only score.

This year Gallaudet is slightly improved and the pupils of Coach Ekanis will have to play head-on football to beat their Capital City rivals. However, at the same time, the Mutes will present the weakest team on the Shorement's schedule this year.

Barring injuries in today's game against Johns Hopkins in Baltimore, the local players should be in a position to win their first game on the home field in four years, next week. The game will be followed by the Varsity Club's dance in the gymnasium at 8 P. M. That affair must be a Victory Dance.

DEL-MAR-VA
RESTAURANT

Beer and
Special Lunches
We Cater to Parties

SMITH'S
KUT-RATE
DRUG STORE

The only place where you can buy home-made Ice Cream.

Modern Shoe Repairing
Store
PAUL SIPALA
Next to Sterling Drug

H. D. OREM & SON
Headquarters for
Farmer's Hardware and
Supplies
Case Tractors, Thrashers,
Combines
Phone 217. Chestertown

COLLEGE HILL
LUNCH ROOM

Light Lunch

Beer On Draught

W. M. CROWDING, Prop.

FALL PRACTICE FOR ARCHERS BEING HELD

Attempts Will Be Made To Break College Records

The popular sport of Archery has its full share of followers at Washington College this year. There are many new students out for the game during the present fall practice. The regular season is in the spring. Techniques and fundamentals are now being perfected.

The main object of the archers this year will be to beat Clara Wiley's standing score, also the record, of 117. Miss Doris Bell, Women's Athletic Director also presents a record of twenty-three out of twenty-four target hits, that students will attempt to break with a perfect score.

Sea Food Is Our Specialty
HERB'S
RESTAURANT

BEER GARDEN
—Dancing—
Chestertown, Maryland
Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.
Best Food
Prompt Service
Our Beer Is The Best In Town

BARNETT'S
BARBER SHOP
Over Sterling's Drug Store
First Class Service and
Expert Workmen

Visit
ALBERT L. WHEAT
For Anything
in
Men's Wear

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE
CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A store run for the benefit of the students, offers line of Wahl Dollar Pens and Pencils, Penknives, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery and School Supplies.

Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 1:15 to 4:30 P. M. Every Day but Saturday and Sunday.

Pure Food is the Foundation of Your Health
CHESTERTOWN
RESTAURANT

Soda, Candy, Cigarettes, Beer on Draught
Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.

Phone 207 Chestertown, Md.

Safe-guard Your Stomach, It Is Your Best Friend

The Emerson Hotel
Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled
Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

Candler Lazenby Speaks In Assembly

Subject Was "Life At A German University"

Mr. Candler Lazenby, an Assistant Secretary of the Carl Schurz Memorial Foundation, addressed the Assembly of Washington College, held in William Smith Hall on Thursday, September 28, at 11 o'clock in the evening on the subject of "Life at a German University."

Mr. Lazenby was appropriately introduced by his former Dean and Assistant President Mead, who was associated with the Speaker at Birmingham-Southern University. Secretary Lazenby began his account of student life abroad by taking his hypothetical American student, who holds the Bachelor's Degree, and knows but little of German, across the Sea, and to Bremen, the principal port of the Land. Thence to Hanover via railroad, Mr. Lazenby had him become acquainted somewhat with German customs, and especially German courtesy.

With detailed descriptions of the courses, faculty, and the ritual registration, Mr. Lazenby traced the student's activities and experiences through the various semesters, an evacuation period, which he noted differing from ours. He told of the variety of sports, and particularly that of skiing, which offered recreation to the brainy scholar.

Finally, the Speaker explained the origin and purpose of the Carl Schurz Memorial Foundation, and spoke of the many international friendships derived from its wide spread achievements.

The Assembly was adjourned by Dr. Mead, who expressed his wish that sometime soon Washington College might have the opportunity of sending some of her students abroad in exchange for those of other lands.

The evocative of Canadian hockey players continued when it was announced that four Ottawa students would play this winter with the Racing Club of Paris. They are sailing with three Montreal players.

COLLEGE SENIORS

Editor's Note:

It is the aim of the "Elm" to publish in each issue throughout the year, accounts of members of the Class of 1934. After being in college four years, these Seniors merit having their accomplishments placed before all those connected with the college.

RICHARD M. GAMBER

Richard Gamber is a native of Upper Darby, Pennsylvania. He graduated from that High School and later from Swarthmore Preparatory School. He was an outstanding athlete at these places of learning and has carried on in those lines after entering Washington College with the Class of 1934 in the fall of 1930.

"Dick" was elected President of the Freshmen class and since then has been re-elected unanimously three times to the same office. He (Continued In Next Column) has been a member of the Student Council since his Sophomore year, was Secretary his Junior year and is President of that organization this year. He has held other numerous offices as Secretary of the Varsity Club, and Treasurer of the Blue Key, Captain of the Football team. He has twice won the Porter Character Medal and last year won the Sagers Medal for the best all-around athlete at Washington College.

Dick has made a name that will go down in history at the Shore College in athletics. Up to his Senior year he has won eight letters, three in football, three in lacrosse and two in basketball. He has twice been given honorable mention by W. Wilson Wingate of the Baltimore News and Sunday American for All-Maryland (Continued In Next Column)

Lacrosse teams, and was picked by Paul Broderick of the Evening Sun of Baltimore on the Second All-Maryland Lacrosse team. In 1933, Wingate also gave Gamber Honorable Mention in football last year.

This Senior is majoring in Economics and his record since we have known him certainly indicates a bright future. Our hats off to him.

FREDERICK W. REINHOLD

Fred W. Reinhold is a graduate of City College, Baltimore, and of Donalson's Preparatory School at Ilchester, Md. His home is at Irvington, Md. At Washington College Fritz has made many friends and done much fine work.

He is majoring in Mathematics and the Sciences. In the last three years he has made himself well known for his athletic ability. He has been a regular in football and in lacrosse, each year since his matriculation in 1930. His excellent kicking in football has constantly been the worry of opposing eleven. In his Sophomore year his "educated tee" kept (Continued In Next Column)

the University of Maryland constantly backed up to their goal line, and was very instrumental in holding them to a low 13 to 0 score. Other teams have run against the same thing. Although too light to be a constant ground gainer, his open field running is valuable. In lacrosse Fritz has made the largest name for himself. In 1932, his Sophomore year, he was picked on the first All-Maryland team by Paul Broderick of the Evening Sun, and on the second by Wilson Wingate, famed Feature Sports Editor of the Baltimore News and Sunday American, and was given Honorable Mention by the latter for All-American Goal-Keeper. Last year, 1933, he was chosen by Wingate as All-Maryland and was selected by the Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association to play on an All-Star team at the Chicago World's Fair, against an All-Star Canadian Team.

Fritz is Vice-President of the Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity and at one time was Treasurer of that organization. He was President of the Sophomore Vigilance Committee and is a member of the Varsity Club.

Visit

THE COLLEGE
BARBER SHOP

Cross Street
Chestertown, Md.

Compliments of
THE PARK ROW
BEAUTY SHOPPE

Compliments
of
Chestertown
Electric Light and Power
Company

—about Cigarettes

Of all the ways in which tobacco is used the cigarette is the mildest form

YOU know, ever since the Indians found out the pleasure of smoking tobacco, there have been many ways of enjoying it.

But of all the ways in which tobacco is used, the cigarette is the mildest form.

Another thing—cigarettes are about the most convenient smoke. All you have to do is strike a match.

Everything that money can buy and everything that science knows about is used to make Chesterfields.

The right home-grown tobaccos—seasoned with just enough aromatic Turkish—are blended and cross-blended the Chesterfield way.

Then the cigarettes are made right—firm, well-filled. Chesterfield uses the right kind of pure cigarette paper.

There are other good cigarettes, of course, but Chesterfield is the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better. Chesterfields satisfy—we ask you to try them.

Chesterfield

the cigarette that's MILDER

the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

Greek Letter Notes

GAMMA SIGMA

Just before school closed last June, Mrs. John Spatcher accepted an invitation to be a patroness. She entertained the sorority at a tea.

Miss Ingalls had a tea for the sorority at her home Thursday, September 21.

Jean Young has accepted a bid to the sorority.

SIGMA TAU DELTA

Miss Florence Rezin, '32, has accepted a position as governess with a French family in New York.

Miss Catharine Caulk, '32, has recently become the bride of Mr. Lindsey Cook. They are living in Princeton, N. J.

PHI SIGMA TAU

The Fraternity wishes to announce the pledging of William Watson, '35, at a recent meeting.

Recent visitors to the House were J. Warren Carey, William Willis, Robert Fleetwood, Hubert Ryan and Robert Furman.

ALPHA KAPPA

The Alpha Kappa Fraternity has recently pledged Norris Duffey of the class of 1935.

It is reported that an Italian inventor has built a tower of light sheet steel, rubber lined, in which a man can descend 2,660 feet below the surface of the sea.

Editor Of Year Book To Resume Studies

Paul W. T. Pippin Has Been Out Due To Operation

Paul W. T. Pippin, a Senior at Washington College is expected to return to college within the next week. His enforced absence, so far this semester has been due to a serious operation he underwent this past August. Paul is now fastly regaining his usual fine health and by spring he hopes to be in shape for lacrosse. For the past two seasons he has held down in a fine manner a close defense position.

Pippin is Editor-in-Chief of the 1934 Year Book, the "Pegasus." Although away from school these past three weeks, he has been able to do some work on this publication, with the aid of Business Manager, William Emery Burkhardt. His many friends in College will be glad to see him again on the Campus.

NOTICE

In order to make strides forward as far as "ratting" is concerned, the Sophomore Vigilance Committee wishes to ask every upperclassman Juniors and Seniors, to refrain from "taking a turn" at the Freshmen. The example of upperclassmen can go quite a ways in helping to make Washington College a progressive one in regards to the treatment of new men.

—The Vigilance Committee.

Student Council Minutes

Oct. 2, 1933.

The meeting was called to order by President Gamber who reported Dr. Mead's suggestion of a Frosh-Soph tie-up to substitute for the annual tug-of-war and mud fight. After a general discussion the question was referred to a committee composed of Messrs. Sadler, Nettle and Giraltis.

Mr. Giraltis submitted a completed motion that rat rules be suspended after the Frosh-Soph game with the exception of one or two rules; the motion was withdrawn and tabled until a future date. Dr. Livingston suggested that the Council meet with the Vigilance Committee at the beginning of the school year. This was put in form of a motion and carried. Mr. Giraltis suggested that something be done to stop the participation of upper classmen in "ratting." Mr. Lord motioned that a notice to this effect be published in the Elm. The motion was carried. President Gamber appointed the following committee to personally request the cooperation of the Faculty with the Council: Messrs. Clark, Sadler, Bean.

On due motion the meeting was adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,

John Mason Lord, Secretary.

The name "naval stores" was given to turpentine and resin because in colonial days gum from the southern pines was used in caulking ships.

Gems From Alice Leone Moats's Book

"No Nice Girl Swears" Gives Girl's Viewpoint

Alice Leone Moats is a smoothie. She knows the ropes and she can keep track of the score. Any college man would be lucky to inveigle a date with her and any co-ed would be more than lucky to get this unusual society girl into a corner in order to parlor a few pointers. The very fact that she has written a complete volume of her congaulated information should send the whole of Washington College into the seventh heaven of delight. "No Nice Girl Swears" is written from the girl's viewpoint, all of which means nothing at all. Any one of the masculine campus cut-ups, whose mother hasn't told him all, might and some of Miss Moats's words extraordinarily handy. For you, you beaux and belles, and you wanda-be-the-sweeties, we shall excerpt from week to week little gems from "No Nice Girl Swears." (A word about the extensive correspondence passing through the college post office.)

"Effusions of any kind have gone completely out of style, and nowhere is this more true than in letter-writing. When your latest beau goes to South America, don't try to out-Ethel Miss Dell and go into passionate flights of literary ecstasy in an attempt to describe emotions which no one human is capable of feeling. If you can't restrain yourself, at least extract a promise from your correspondent that he will tear the letters up as soon as they are read. And make this a rule with those you yourself receive. Packages of love-letters tied up in pastel ribbon attract ridiculously of the nineties, and if you are a newspaper reader, we need scarcely warn you of the trouble and embarrassment they can cause."

NOTICE!

For College Rings, Belts and Fraternity Pins, See Edwin Lowe, '35, Room 36, East Hall.

STUDENTS

We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.

Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Lenthier Line from Paris.

Abbott's DeLuxe Ice Cream.

Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.

STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

When you happen across a friend

... and he offers you a pipe-load of tobacco, he doesn't make any speeches about it. He just says ...

"It's made to smoke in a pipe ... and folks seem to like Granger."

a sensible package

10 cents

Granger Rough Cut

—the tobacco that's MADE FOR PIPES

VARSITY CLUB TO HOLD DANCE OCT. 14

First Club Meeting Of Year On Wednesday, Sept. 27

The first meeting of the Washington College Varsity Club was called to order by President Charles B. Clark on Wednesday, September 27. The work of the year for the club was outlined and then the rest of the meeting was devoted to making arrangements for the Annual dance of the club. It was suggested that a petition be submitted by John Lord, Secretary to Dr. K. S. Buxton, Secretary of the Students Activities Committee, for acquiring the date of Oct. 14, following the Gallaudet home game for the dance. A committee for securing an orchestra was appointed to act at once.

(Continued in Next Column)

The second meeting of the year was called on Wednesday evening, Oct. 4. Final arrangements were made for the dance. It was reported that the Students Activities Committee had approved of the requested date for the dance. Russell Baker, chairman of the Orchestra Committee reported that he had secured Bob Ryan's Troubadours from Baltimore to play at the affair. This orchestra, it is remembered, played at the "Depression" Cotillion last year. The Club approved of Baker's action. Other committees were appointed and the meeting was adjourned.

A life line for mine rescue work has been constructed which is equipped with an electrical signaling device and also supplies each member of the crew with light in addition to their cap lamps.

LIST OF DATES GIVEN FOR DANCES OF YEAR

Dr. Buxton Is Secretary Of Students Activities Committee

The following communication was received by the Editor of The Elm from Dr. K. S. Buxton, Secretary of Student's Activities Committee: "The Faculty Committee on Student Activities will meet on the first and third Wednesdays of each month. All communications to the committee should be in the hands of the secretary, not later than noon of the Monday of the week of meeting."

"The following list of dates for dances has been approved by the Student Activities Committee. Organizations desiring to hold dances should notify the Committee of their intention and choice of date."

(Continued in Next Column)

October 14, 1933—Varsity Club Dance.
October 27, 1933—Cotillion Dance.
November 4, 1933—Home Coming Dance.
November 18, 1933—Open.
November 29, 1933—Open.
December 8, 1933—Open.
December 15, 1933—Cotillion.
January 6, 1934—Open.
January 20, 1934—Open.
February 9, 1934—Cotillion Dance.
February 24, 1934—Open.
March 10, 1934—Open.
March 23, 1934—Cotillion Dance.
April 7, 1934—Open.
April 20, 1934—Open.
April 27, 1934—Cotillion Dance.
May 5, 1934—Open.
May 19, 1934—Open.

The deepest well that has yet been dug is about a mile, and three-quarters deep.

More fires occur in winter than in summer, and there are more fires at night than in the day.

THE FITCH DUSTDOWN COMPANY

Janitor Supplies
801 South Howard Street
Baltimore, Md.

THE BELLHAVEN

Home of Good Food
College Hill
Telephone 331-M

SO ROUND and FIRM

SO FULLY PACKED

NO LOOSE ENDS

Always

THE FINEST TOBACCOS

Always THE FINEST WORKMANSHIP

These days, smokers pay more attention to their cigarettes. Naturally they're talking about the way Luckies are made. Always so round, so firm and fully packed. Brimful of the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos—without loose ends. That's why Luckies draw easily, burn evenly and are so mild—so smooth.

"it's toasted"

FOR THROAT PROTECTION—FOR BETTER TASTE

Always LUCKIES PLEASE

Copyright, 1933, The American Tobacco Company.

BEAT
DELAWARE

The Washington Evening Star

WELCOME
PRES. ROOSEVELT

VOL. XXXIII, NO. 2

SATURDAY, OCT. 21, 1933

PRICE TEN CENTS

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT HERE TODAY

GRIDMEN MEET
U. OF DELAWARE

President Roosevelt And Party Expected To Attend

LARGE CROWD WILL SEE GAME AT KIBLER FIELD

The fighting Maroon and Black football eleven of Washington College, fresh from crushing Gallaudet College last Saturday by an unexpected 48 to 0 score, will this afternoon attempt to mark the second win of the season when the Blue Hens of the University of Delaware are met on Kibler Field, Chestertown, Del.

Pres. Roosevelt Expected To Attend

Aside from a great desire to avenge the 8-0 defeat handed them last year by this team in the first gridiron clash following the renewal of athletic relationships between the two Colleges, the Shoremen will have several other reasons for victory. In the first place it is very possible that President and Mrs. Roosevelt and party will attend the game, in connection with their official visit here to take part in the Inauguration of Gilbert W. Mead as the Head of Washington College. Then, the day has been designated as Homecoming day, and a large crowd of Alumni and friends are expected to appear. Also the teams will be fighting for the Senator David O. Hastings (of Del.) trophy, which is now in possession of Delaware, as a result of their victory last year when the trophy was first awarded. Added to this, the largest crowd ever to witness an athletic contest on the Eastern Shore of Maryland will be present.

Teams Closely Matched

As far as can be ascertained, the teams should be closely matched in today's fray. Though Delaware lost by nearly the same score by which Washington won last week, it must be considered that the Blue Hens engaged the big-league West Point team. At the same time, however, newspaper men credited Delaware with out-playing the second and third teams of Army during the second half, although outscored. They have potential stars in Pohl and Nigels, end and tackle, respectively, and in their entire backfield of Capt. Branner, All, Green, Keams, and Ed Thompson. One of whom may break loose at any moment and give the Etzels-Kibler combination plenty to contend with. The locals, on the other hand are in better shape than they have been in for many years. A strong defensive line featuring the mighty men of Dwyer, Nowak, Harrier, Gamble, Lord, Skipp and Ward, capable of stopping any running play the visitors have. Ward, out of last week's game by virtue of an injury incurred in the Hopkins game, is back in form today. In the backfield, Fritz Reinhold will bark signals, punt, and do most anything required of a good football player. In the line Al Bokros will play as the halves and Al Bianciani will be at the fullback position.

Delaware Has Better Reserves
The one advantage Delaware will (Continued in Next Column)

TO RECEIVE HONORARY DEGREE HERE TODAY

President Franklin D. Roosevelt

President Roosevelt, who today with Mrs. Roosevelt will visit Washington College, will receive the Honorary Degree of Doctors of Laws which will be bestowed upon him by Dr. Gilbert W. Mead after the latter is Inaugurated as President of Washington College. The largest crowd in the history of Chestertown is expected to witness the ceremonies.

have, and which is a great one, is that of possessing many great and experienced reserves. Although antipathetic with the play of his substitutes in the Gallaudet game, Coach Etzels is hopeful that his first-stringers will not be injured. The line-up and numbers will be found on the sports page.

FOOTBALL MANAGER
THROWN UNDER SHOWER

Burkhardt, Fully Dressed, Is Victim As Tradition Goes On

If traditions count for anything, the Washington College representative on the gridiron should have no trouble with Delaware University today. It has long been a custom to throw the Football Manager, fully dressed, under one of the gymnasium showers, in order to bring victory to the team that performed the act. Consequently, after a peppy practice yesterday afternoon, Football Manager Wm. Emory Burkhardt was the victim of this old tradition. The good part is that he is said to have had on some of his roommate's clothes, but we are sure they both would do anything for victory today.

Last night's pep meeting was the best since they were started anew last year. Prof. Dumchott gave a good talk, and Capt. Gamble, Dohkins, Ward and Reinhold spoke for the players. "Cheer Leader Hodgson and his assistants Boynton and Sterling, were in charge. Raymond Moffett led the singing of the college songs.

INAUGURAL BALL TO BE HELD IN GYM TONIGHT

Under Auspices Of Student Gov't.; Music By Bob Ryan

The festivities of the gala Saturday, October 21, will be brought gallantly to a close after the spectacular celebration of the morning, and the traditional football game of the afternoon, by a dance, given under the sanction of the Student Council of Washington College, held in the College Gymnasium, at which the Delaware team, Alumni, and friends will be guests.

The dance is being planned by a Committee of the Council, and the gymnasium will be simply but appropriately decorated. An orchestra, probably "Bob" Ryan, who it is recalled, performed at the Variety Club function last week, is being engaged by Albert Bianciani, and various other Councilmen are arranging for the accommodation of the many guests who are expected. It is now thought that an admission fee of approximately fifty cents will be charged. All visitors who wish to do so are urged to attend. The dance begins at 8 o'clock on Saturday evening.

U. S. Artillery Field Pieces
To Fire Roosevelt Salute

A very late news report indicates that the Presidential salute to be accorded Franklin Roosevelt will be fired by two U. S. Artillery field pieces, which are being sent, with a complement of officers and men, from Fort Hoge.

An earlier dispatch indicated that a National Guard piece would be used, but in its stead will be these two guns which have not yet been fired. The event will assume their future historical significance.

TO RECEIVE DOCTOR OF LAWS
DEGREE AT MEAD INAUGURAL

Is Second Chief Executive To Be So Honored By Washington College; Geo. Washington Given Same In 1789

INAUGURAL CEREMONIES BEGIN AT 10:55 A. M.; MRS. ROOSEVELT WILL ACCOMPANY HUSBAND

History will repeat itself on the Campus of Washington College at 10:30 o'clock in the morning of Saturday, October 21st, when Franklin Delano Roosevelt, President of the United States, receives the Degree of Doctor of Laws from the College presented by the newly-inaugurated President Gilbert W. Mead, as did his immortal predecessor, George Washington, on a memorable morning in May, one hundred and fifty-one years ago.

George Washington, the first; Franklin Roosevelt, the latest; of the thirty-two men who have held the most powerful position on earth but two of them have been recommended by the Board of Visitors and Governors and presented by the President of the College with this historic honor. And in a ceremony exceeding in size and equaling in pomp and pageantry the first President's, do President Roosevelt receive, from President Mead, after the latter's inaugural address, this scholarly designation. Every moment of the event, from the entrance of the President, yet the Sequoia, into the historic Chester River, the Chief Executive's landing at Goddington Manor, the Colonial estate of Col. H. S. Brown, Chairman of the Board of Visitors and Governors of the College, and his military progress into the College grounds, until the luncheon at noon held at Goddington, will be of memorable significance in the life of the institution and the community.

The academic award will be made in the presence of thousands of spectators, and scores of distinguished guests, including Governor Ritchie of Maryland and Congressional delegation, representatives of colleges and universities from far and near, delegates from learned and historical societies, and Faculty and Board of the College, immediately following the inaugural address of Dr. Mead, will be recorded by the complete broadcasting, sound-filming and newspaper arrangements which have been made. At the completion of the ceremony President and Mrs. Roosevelt and their parties, Governor Ritchie and his party, and other invited guests totaling some fifty will return to Col. Brown's country estate, where luncheon will be served.

Morning Itinerary

President and Mrs. Roosevelt will board the Sequoia at Annapolis some time Friday night, and thence will proceed to the mouth of the Chesapeake, where, after a short distance up, the Chester River, where the craft, with her submersible chaser escort from the U. S. Navy, under way again then, the boats, which welcoming yachtsmen will have increased to a sizable flotilla, will proceed to the pier on the Maryland shore. The President and the President will embark about 10:00 A. M. and rest for a short time.

Escort To Chestertown

At about 10:30, the President and Mrs. Roosevelt and their aides will depart in White House cars for the College. They will be escorted by a detachment of Maryland State Motorcycle Police under the command of Captain Ed. McK. Johnson, who is the Commander of State Police. Other cars in the procession contain representatives of the College and town, and Secret Service men from the White House. Historic points, as Worrell's Tavern, where Washington stayed, and Emmanuel Church, birth-place of Protestant Episcopate in America, as well as the old Chestertown which is half bedecked with flags and bunting for the occasion. Guard ropes strung along the curbs will keep the way clear from inebriated sight-seers, and when the Guest of Honor and his company finally reach the top of broad Washington Avenue, two hundred Maryland National Guards, under the command of Major Frank B. Hines, will act as a guard of honor.

Inaugural Ceremony

At 10:55 A. M. the Academic Procession, colorful for the brilliant regalia of Washington's Faculty and the representatives from more than three-quarters of a hundred colleges which have responded to the invitations, will have formed, and to the accompaniment of music of the College Orchestra and a local band, will majestically move to the platform which has been erected on the terrace directly in front of the Williams Hall. There the President, Mrs. Roosevelt, and their aides will join the officials of the College. Probably Governor Ritchie will do likewise. To the inaugural prayer will be offered by the Rt. Rev. W. E. Davesport, Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Eastern, and Dr. Gilbert W. Mead, after being introduced by Col. Brown, will deliver his inaugural address as nineteenth President of the sequentary institution. After the speech, which will be accompanied by a flourish of music, the President and Mrs. Roosevelt will be escorted to the College by the Board of Visitors and Governors of Washington College, will present the President of the United States as an candidate for the Degree of Doctor of Laws. After the formal citation by Registrar Wm. R. Howell, of the College, the diploma will be presented, and the degree conferred, by President Mead.

Washington's Diplomas

The diplomas for the Doctor of Laws is handsomely bound in a richly embossed leather case, on one side of which is contained a photograph of the diploma, presented to Washington a century and a half (Continued On Page Two)

F. D. ROOSEVELT HERE TODAY WILL RECEIVE DEGREE AT MEAD INAUGURAL

(Continued From Page 1)
ago. On the outside of the leather case is engraved, "Franklin Delano Roosevelt, LL. D., Washington College, October 21, 1932."

Resumes Daring Event
President Roosevelt, after the award, will deliver an address, the exact length or nature of which is not known, in a recent telephone conversation with Mr. Stephen T. Early, one of the President's secretaries. It is thought that Governor Ritchie, also, may consent to speak, but the details for this have not as yet been arranged.

Guests Of Col. Brown
The Presidential party, Governor Ritchie, and adjective groups will then adjourn to Col. Brown's Godlington Manor, where luncheon will be served. What course the Executive will follow after this is an event, as may result for a part of the afternoon; he may depart immediately on the yacht, or he may attend the afternoon's football classic between Washington and the University of Delaware, to which he has been especially invited.

Dignitaries Present
Beside Maryland's Governor Ritchie, the Congressional delegation includes both Maryland and Delaware, and various State and Federal officials, more than three-score American Colleges and Universities will send delegates, some from far-away Texas. Many military organizations will have representatives, as Col. Parker, the past-Commander of the American Legion of Honor, and his wife, who is both Maryland and Delaware, and the American Association of Universities will send an official. These guests will be entertained at luncheon by the Washington College faculty, in the College gymnasium.

Publicity Accorded Event
Unusually complete facilities for the reporting and recording and publicizing of the event are the result of active work in this field by Mr. W. Raymond Moody, newspaper correspondent, who has acted as press agent for the College. To entire ceremony will be broadcast over a national network of both the N. B. C. and Columbia Broadcasting Systems. Round reports will be made by Paramount Sound News, Fox Movietones, Inc., and Pathe's News Inc., and the latter will present a "complete reel to reel, Vitaphone, Hearst Sound News" may also be represented. The newspaper cover will be headed by from 12 to 15 White House correspondents suggested by staff writers from Washington, Philadelphia and Baltimore, and the editors of all the Eastern Shore newspapers. The Associated Press, the National News Service, the Hearst Photo, and other photographing bodies will be placed in a stand erected especially for them.

Thus, when a great moment in Washington College's history comes to a close, it will be well recorded for posterity, and history may again take up the thread where Franklin Delano Roosevelt took it. He journeyed to Maryland's Eastern Shore to be honored by Washington's own College; to sit in a chair Washington made at Mt. Vernon; and to dine from a plate that the First President had used.

THE BELLHAVEN
Home of Good Food
College Hill
Telephone 331-M

Current Questions

By Marjorie Emmord

WAR TENDENCIES

With Miller, veteran international correspondent lists as factors pointing to war: eight million armed men in the world, existing trade wars, treaty violations, more powerful weapons, armaments.

Of all recent tendencies pointing to war, Germany's withdrawal from the army parity is significant. This is just one more crucial step in a carefully devised plan by Hitler to bring the new Reich to that place in the world that Imperial Germany failed by a nose to win. Why are the Stern Troopers drilling incessantly? To fight a Communism that cannot be discovered? The action at Geneva throws this military preparation into a different light. Notice that schools are being militarized, the youths hardened, new text books used, the press regimented, cities prepared for air raids, air forces being strengthened, and all sense of liberalism has been abolished. Woman, too, has a part. She is being relegated to the task of home-making. In Germany, home-making signifies The Nazi designate the treaty of Versailles as the "Dictator" (dictation). Should their next step be to repudiate it (and that would be their logical step) would theoretically be in a state of war. The U. S. has vested interests in Germany in the form of the General Electric and General Motors Companies. Our policy toward the Nazis will probably follow along the lines taken by these corporations.

N. R. A. STANDING

In spite of the efforts of the N. R. A. to reconcile capital and labor, a series of strikes has swept over the country. In New York and other large cities, pickets carrying placards walk up and down in front of manufacturing establishments. In many cases, the pickets are under military control—armies—National Guards and state Militias being in complete charge.

Since the enactment of the law of the N. R. A. laboring organizations, the progress of these organizations has been phenomenal. However, the law has been hindering and certain strikes have been industries so interfere with the success of the N. R. A. that it will be necessary to curb the power of labor by prohibiting collective bargaining in this manner. But we cannot force such a step so contradictory to the inherent rights of American citizens, who would be inclined toward the policies of Germany's Italy's Fascism that prohibits trade unions and strikes.

NOTICE!

For College Rings, Bells and Fraternity Pins, See Edwin Lowe, '36, Room 36, East Hall.

STUDENTS We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.

Whitman's Condy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Lenthic Line from Paris.

Abbott's DeLuxe Ice Cream.
Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Dispensing Store

CHAIRMAN OF BOARD

Col. Hiram S. Brown

Col. Hiram S. Brown, Chairman of the Board of Governors and Visitors of Washington College, is greatly responsible for President and Mrs. Roosevelt's visit here today.

MISS MARIE POOLE HEADS HONOR SOCIETY

It was on November 5, 1930, that the Honor Society held its first meeting for the purpose of organization. The members were chosen by the Dean of Women and the Associate Dean of Women on the basis of scholarship. Edith Rees '31, was elected the first president of the society. The other members of this society were: Louise Grosse '31, Elizabeth Mace '31, Marion Graham '31, Katherine Lickies '31 and Louise Mandell '31. In their second meeting the girls adopted the constitution which had been previously drawn up by a special committee. In 1931 Mildred Covey '32, Charlotte Holloway '32, Alice Dole '33, Ruth Johnson '32, Ann Kroege '33, and Ethel Herricks '33 became members of the society. The present members are: President, Marie Poole '34, Sarah Ellen Ryan '34, Harriet Rogers '34, Barbee Humphries '34, Marion Emmord '34, Alexandra Robinson '34, and Secretary Edith Barclay '35.

All junior and senior girls with an index of 82.5 are eligible for membership in this society. The emblem is the honor key bearing the college seal. Dr. Dole has continued in the capacity of an able faculty adviser since the organization of this society in 1931. The girls feel that their greatest accomplishment has been that of bringing about the organization of the educational and faculty honor society, which has now been organized as the honor society of Washington College under the reliable supervision of the president, Dr. Livingston.

Compliments of THE PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE

Visit THE COLLEGE BARBER SHOP

Cross Street
Chestertown, Md.

H. D. OREM & SON
Headquarters for
Farmer's Hardware and
Supplies
Case Tractors, Thrashers,
Combindes
Phone 217, Chestertown

CACHET OF DEGREE PRESENTATION DRAWN

Dr. Esther M. Dole Will Write
Historical Statement

A contest is being held in hopes that a cachet, that is, a seal or stamp of distinctive character, will be drawn by a student of Washington College to be used with the historical account of the presentation of honorary degrees by George Washington and President Franklin D. Roosevelt from Washington College. The Maryland Commemoration Association of Baltimore is sponsoring these cachets. The historical statement will be written by DR. ESTHER M. DOLE. Four series of these historical cachets will be issued. This will form a part of the second series.

Dr. Dole recently wrote the historical statement for cachet number ten of series one, entitled SPEEDY JULY 21, IN OLD MARYLAND, which related to the Major Truman incident.

The cachet concerning the presentation of honorary degree to George Washington and President Roosevelt will be of special interest to Washington College and her friends.

LIBRARY SITUATION TAKEN UP BY COUNCIL

Misuse Of Place Of Study And Research Causes Action

Due to the fact that the Library had become a place for social meetings of students whose gossiping predominated, the Men's Student Council has taken action to curb such childish practices. The Council has provided for the maintenance of one of its members in the Library each night that it is open, in order that the original purpose of the Library can be carried out, that of being a place for study and research. Any violations by misconduct shall be handled by the Council, which is ready to take more definite and strict steps if necessary.

McCALLISTER'S Quality Sporting Goods

Catalogue on Request
124 W. Baltimore St.
Baltimore, Md.

THE FITCH DUSTDOWN COMPANY

Junior Supplies
801 South Howard Street
Baltimore, Md.

See Food In Our Specialty
HERB'S
RESTAURANT
and
BEER GARDEN
—Dancing—
Chestertown, Maryland
Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.
Best Food
Prompt Service
Our Beer Is The Best In Town

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing
100 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

NEW RULES FOR FRATERNITIES

GO INTO EFFECT ON MONDAY, OCT. 23

Interfraternity Agreement of September 20th, 1932, pertaining to the Hashing and Pledging of First-Year Students.

We, the undersigned, presidents of the various fraternities at Washington College, in our official capacities as representatives of the following rules and regulations governing the conduct of all Fraternity men; and we hereby, with our signatures, extend to you as a new rule to each member of our respective fraternity, under the usual penalty for violation, to keep both the spirit and the letter of the following regulations in effect as written or altered by the proper authority:

1. We agree that we, fraternity men and affiliates, shall not attempt to influence Freshmen concerning the Hashing and Pledging of First-Year Students; either individually or collectively; either directly or indirectly; except as routine acts may incidentally or accidentally influence them.
2. We agree that no upperclass fraternity man, affiliate, or representative shall enter West Hall after 7:30 P. M. for any reason at all except to attend to necessary business entirely divorced from fraternal matters; and we agree that if there ever be any such business it shall not continue for a longer time than fifteen (15) minutes under any circumstances.
3. No first-year man shall be approached, directly or indirectly, nor shall he be pledged or obligated in any way by a fraternity prior to the silence period.
4. We agree that no first-year man shall be allowed in any fraternity house at any time except to attend to necessary business; and we agree that if there ever be any such business it shall not continue for a longer period than fifteen (15) minutes.
5. No man who agrees that there shall be no rushing parties, either formal or informal.
6. No man who has an index of less than 1.00 shall be allowed to be a member of any fraternity or obligated in any way for any cause toward membership.
7. The date of "Silence Period" shall be determined by Dean Jones and shall remain in effect until the morning—or half a day before the hour that it shall begin—and shall not be prior to the beginning of the second semester.
8. We agree that these rules shall become effective at 8 A. M., Monday, October 23, 1933, and shall continue in effect until the start of silence period.
9. We agree that any violations of these provisions or any others that may be added, shall be reported to Dean Jones and the reporters' name shall remain confidential. To Dr. Jones and any other members of the Fraternity Committee who shall consider the case and if necessary issue a fine for the said violation reported to it.

(Signed) Richard M. Camber,
President Alpha Kappa Frats.
(Signed) James D. Davis, III,
President Phi Sigma Phi Frats.
(Signed) Charles B. Clark,
President Phi Sigma Tau Frats.

Visit
ALBERT L. WHEAT
For Anything
in Senior Year

Educator Wants Politics Taught

William McAndrew Says Students Must Know Affairs

(From the Milwaukee Journal)

When white-headed William McAndrew, one of the outstanding high school educators in the country and former superintendent of schools in Chicago, stopped to address them, members of the Milwaukee Principals' Association rose in spontaneous tribute.

"Sit down, sit down," said Mr. McAndrew. "I'm no star-spangled banner. Ask Milton," he nodded at Milton C. Potter, Milwaukee superintendent of schools, "if I am. Milton comes from that State which my native State Michigan."

From then on they were he. He could scold them good-naturedly, bully them humorously, and he did, and they liked it.

"We're supposed to be leaders," he reproved, "that what do we lead? Literary discussions on the works of W. Shakespeare or by another man of the same name? We don't know a thing about the economic measures we know what happened in 1865, we know the square of a triangle, and we know the relative values, but our knowledge of the political and economic system in 1933 is appalling in its paucity."

"What are we teaching children about the N. R. A.? What are we giving them about the bank, monetary and credit little. And why not? Because we don't know ourselves! We don't read political articles in the daily press because politics are dirty." But I tell you that unless you do something to turn children's minds toward vital, living problems this generation will be as muddle-headed as the one we taught.

"Somebody said that it would be a grand thing if we could have an epidemic that would leave all the school buildings standing, but kill all the teachers. What do you think about that?"

"Remember Washington? Of course, you remember Washington; you may not know who Oliver D. Young or Nicholas Murray Butler is in 1933, but you know all about Washington and 1787. Well, Washington preached the spread of knowledge among all people in order that the public opinion might be enlightened, for public opinion, he said, is the force in government such as ours."

"We must teach politics in the pure sense of the word. Look at the future! This winter will be worse than the winter before, and nobody yet has a solution. You're the people who must be relied on to see that this generation doesn't make such mistakes as the last; you must prevent wreckage of the world."

"No teacher thinks of dollars and cents when he's in his classroom. But a teacher can be a good teacher when his pay isn't sufficient for him and the life of a growing person."

He shifted his attack to the side.

"of you," he accused, "don't be enough. If you break a in the morning, and you haven't had enough sleep, irritable and you're no fit for my children. Go to bed at 8 P. M. There's no law against it. If you're ashamed to, don't tell any body; sneak in there under the covers."

INAUGURATED TODAY

N. R. A. Campaign Conducted At W. C.

College Is One Of First To Send Report To Baltimore

Dr. Gilbert W. Mead

Dr. Gilbert W. Mead will today be inaugurated as President of Washington College and will confer the Honorary degree on President Roosevelt.

COLLEGE NEWSPAPER ASSOCIATION MEETS

The following communication was received from Hyman Levin, President of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic States, by the Editor of the Elm: "The Intercollegiate Newspaper Association, founded in 1919, and The Johns Hopkins News-Letter take this opportunity to invite the members of the staff of your paper, the student paper's faculty advisers, and students interested in journalism to participate, together with delegates from 26 college papers in the Middle Atlantic region, in the semi-annual convention of the I. N. A., to be held on the Hopkins campus, Friday and Saturday, November 17 and 18."

We should be pleased to have your paper send representatives to the convocation. The fee for official and guest delegates will be $3.75 per person and will include a formal dinner, informal night club party, dinner on Friday and lunch on Saturday, lodging for two nights. For your information, we are enclosing a copy of the form sent to our mailing papers. This will give all details regarding the convention.

The subscription for the formal banquet at the Hotel Emerson, November 18, will be $1.75 per copy. Other than guest delegates to the convention, and for students interested in journalism. The night club party is open to delegates only, as are the business portions of the various meetings."

For further information see the Editor of the Elm.

Bonnett's Quality Shop

Florsheim Shoes
Walkhill Hats
and
College Cut Clothes

BARNETT'S BARBER SHOP

Owen Sterling's Drug Store
First Class Service and
Expert Workmen

He shifted his attack to the side.

"of you," he accused, "don't be enough. If you break a in the morning, and you haven't had enough sleep, irritable and you're no fit for my children. Go to bed at 8 P. M. There's no law against it. If you're ashamed to, don't tell any body; sneak in there under the covers."

The N. R. A. Campaign at Washington College was quickly but effectively conducted a few weeks ago. Many have been interested in looking over the Consumer's Roll of Honor of the Washington College Division which is posted in the Post Office in Chesterton. The Honor list of Kent County is also on display, and records show this county is second in the state in this campaign.

A report was sent to the N. R. A. headquarters in Baltimore, and a letter of appreciation was received from them. As the Washington College was the first college in this district to send in a report. And it was also stated that they had made special mention of this fact in their Baltimore district report to Governor Ritchie.

As a part of the Consumer promise to trade only with N. R. A. Stores is the present program to "Buy now." Let us have up our government's request to the best of our ability.

The following are on the official Washington College N. R. A. Staff: Mrs. Elsie Fox Anna Howell, Richard M. Gamber, Harry Huey, William Rinehart.

COLLEGE HILL LUNCH ROOM

Light Lunch

Beer On Draught

W. M. CROWDING, Prop.

Compliments of Chesterton Electric Light and Power Company

THE REKAL STORE EASTMAN KODAKS FILMS

DEVELOPING
PRINTING
BY EXPERTS
DRUGS AND
SUNDRIES
OF ALL KINDS
A. L. STERLING

PIPPEN'S BARBER SHOP

Pippen's Hotel
Hair Cutting My
Specialty

—Advertise in The Elm.

WHAT! NO "NO OGIN"?

You've simply got to have one this fall—one of those crazy, adorable little crocheted hats, full of peaks, perks and puckers. You'll find them at

THE MARGARET JEFFERSON SHOP

INSTALLED AT ALFRED

Dr. Paul E. Titworth, President of Washington College, was yesterday inaugurated as Head of his Alma Mater, Alfred University.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY OF COLLEGE IS FORMED

At a final organization meeting, held on Friday, Oct. 13, in the lecture room of the chemistry department, in William Smith Hall, the Chemical Society of Washington College was permanently formed.

The Society is the result of a general movement among the students in chemistry at the college for such an organization, and the recognition of this desire led to the calling of an assembly of all students interested in science, not necessarily chemistry, for the election of suitable officers by Dr. K. S. Buxton, Professor of Chemistry.

The aim of the Society, it was pointed out, is the advancement of science and scientific knowledge at the College, and, at the meetings, which will probably be held semi-monthly, at a time not yet decided upon, papers will be read dealing with recent research in the sciences.

At the first meeting the following officers were elected: President (a senior) John Wagner; Vice-President (a senior), John Southam; Secretary (a Junior), Gilbert Ingersoll; Treasurer (a Sophomore), Charles Dudley. The present roll of the Society numbers twenty.

Dr. Titworth Is Installed At Alfred

Was Former Head Of Local College

Alfred, N. Y., Oct. 18.—John Nelson of Montreal, president of Nelson International, will deliver the principal address at the inauguration of Paul Emerson Titworth, Ph. D., LL. D., as president of Alfred University here, October 20. The new executive was until recently president of Washington College, Chesterton, Md., governor of the 34th Rotary district, embracing Maryland, the District of Columbia and parts of Pennsylvania and West Virginia, president of the Kent County (Md.) Chamber of Commerce and active in civic affairs in Maryland.

Five hundred colleges and universities have been invited to send representatives here for the inaugural and the program will be broadcast over the Columbia network from station WEPW, Buffalo. The affair will be held in Alumni Hall, seating 800, and amplifiers will be placed in other rooms to accommodate the expected overflow crowd. The program will open at 10:30 A. M., and will be broadcast at 11:15. Friends of President Titworth in Maryland and nearby States have indicated they will listen in.

Many friends of the university and alumni will remain for Homecoming Day which will be celebrated October 21. The subject of Mr. Nelson's address will be "A University's Responsibility for International-Mindedness." He will be given the honorary degree of doctor of laws. Orza Stillman Rogers, president of the board of trustees, will preside over the induction of President Titworth.

The new executive was formerly dean of Alfred University before going to Maryland where he soon became a dominant figure in the educational, religious and community life of the State and especially of the Delmarva Peninsula. He was an active director of the Delmarva Eastern Shore Association. He lives in Maryland for ten years.

He will now as a public speaker throughout Maryland and adjoining States.

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A store run for the benefit of the students, offers line of Wahl Dollar Pens and Pencils. Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery and School Supplies.

Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 1:15 to 4:30 P. M. Every Day but Saturday and Sunday.

Pure Food is the Foundation of Your Health

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT

Soda, Candy, Cigarettes, Beer on Draught

Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.

Phone 207 Chesterton, Md.

Safeguard Your Stomach, It Is Your Best Friend

The Emerson Hotel

Baltimore

Casine and Furnishings

Unexcelled

Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged

Private Rooms and

Banquet Halls

For All Occasions

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

EDITOR CHARLES B. CLARK
Assistant Editor William O. Baker
Literary Editor Albert E. Dobkins
Exchange Editor Roland E. Lekebusch
Women's Editor Sarah Ellen Byrn
Sports Editor Harry R. Huey
Alumni Editor Phillip J. Wingate

REPORTERS

Feature Reporters Joseph Freedman, Emory Burkhardt
Reporters this issue—Marian Emmord, Carol W. Cartel, Phillip Skipp, Ella Barkley, Edwin Lowe, John Lord, Martha Shearer, Jean Harshaw, Ann Whyte, Louise Nicholson, Olga Shortess, Miriam Ford, Isadore Bohrer

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

Alfred S. Hodgson, Richard Gamber, William Baker

SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES

Alexina Robinson, Doris Metcalfe, Gladys R. Aldridge

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager J. Patterson Beaman
Assistant Business Manager Louis L. Goldstein
Circulation Manager Emerson P. Slacum
Advertising Manager Joseph McLaughlin

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, OCT. 21, 1933

A GREAT HONOR

The events of today at Washington College go down in the History of the College and in that of Historical Societies and books just as George Washington's visit back in 1789. The visit of the present President of the United States to Washington College is indeed the greatest honor bestowed upon our old and venerable institution of higher learning since that visit of the first Chief Executive of the country. The visits are similar in that each man who honors us is likewise honored in turn by the conferring of the Honorary degree of Doctors of Laws upon him, at Washington College. It is only fitting that our College which has served so usefully for the past century and a half should receive such distinction.

We are deeply indebted to Colonel Hiram S. Brown, Chairman of the Board of Visitors and Governors, and to our President, Albert W. Mead, for the day's program. Their presence in the planning of it is to be greatly commended, and the ELM offers its congratulations.

In speaking of the honor that is being accorded us, we must not forget the event, that of the inauguration of Dr. Gilbert W. Mead as the nineteenth Head of Washington College, that after all is the fundamental concern of the day. We have spoken previously of his fine qualifications and already he has attested to their validity.

So, students, grasp the significance of the whole affair, take it all in and make records of it for your heirs. It is something that cannot be casually regarded unless one wants to miss one of the finest opportunities available to witness a great event. Aside from getting a glimpse of the President of the United States and hearing him speak, there will be able-bodied men who will help add to the importance. The fact that a National Radio hook-up will enable people all over the country to listen in as the Honorary degree is conferred, and that a Movie-ton will be taken, testifies to the importance of the day, other than its great significance to Washington College. Make the most of it!

A STEP FORWARD

The recent steps taken by the governing body of the Fraternities on the Hill, and the rules set down by them, is indicative of progress and accomplishment. The action taken is clearly given and defined in an article in this issue. Everyone who has been acquainted with the Fraternity problems, is prone to consider what has been done as necessary for the growth, as it should be, of the organizations which are involved.

The rules and regulations as set down, will be of great benefit to College Freshmen, who shall not in the future be molested by over-zealous Fraternity men who attempt to influence them in many ways concerning the Greek Letter bodies. This will allow the first year men to become adjusted into College life in the normal way. The Fraternities themselves, will not have any increase in the amount of respect accorded them. No longer will they be looked upon as cut-throats, unable to do any possible device to flatter their victims who once won, must settle down to the reality that he is then only an ordinary individual and not a superior being.

The rule which forbids pledging a man with an index below the equivalent of a "C" average will serve to eliminate ones who dangle on as a liability of the Fraternity.

Therefore, Fraternities, and your representatives who have been responsible for this action, we predict better times for you if agreements are carried out.

SLIPPERY ELM

By ALBERT E. DOBKINS

A situation that has grown to a disturbing problem is the lack of an atmosphere conducive to study during the evening periods in the library. When the student librarians lose control and when the college librarian himself cannot command respect the matter must be serious.

The cause of the disturbance is a group of students, numbering as many as the fingers on one hand, who would command attention to themselves by pulling down the shelves, spilling stray animals into the library, deliberately scraping chairs, and shouting through the open windows, and a second and somewhat larger group who use the library as a social-gathering center. The result is the impossibility for the remainder of the students who must use books in the stacks to study.

Conditions have become such that the Student Council deemed it necessary to assign a Council member to the library every evening to help maintain order. Perhaps the Council hoped that the action, although enforced by rule, would be enough to reduce the number of the students. The majority of the students need no such supervision and some recent polling. We doubt the wisdom of holding in check those people who cannot convert themselves to not to overstep the bonds of freedom granted them in the use of the library. The number of offenders is few and would be very easily singled out and punished by exclusion from the library or expulsion from college.

We are not attempting to magnify the problem but it is serious enough to be called to the attention of the Student Council, who take half way measures about it!

Cultural Comment

By Joseph Freedman

Galsworthy: Creative Genius

The year 1933 marks the death of John Galsworthy, the finest English writer perhaps, of the English people. Galsworthy began his literary career as a dramatist, a field in which he enjoyed well-merited fame. His plays are all based on ethical or social problems, but reflect a keen sense of dramatic values. We are all familiar, of course with such noted pieces as "Lloyds" and "Justice."

It is in his capacity as novelist, however, that we know Galsworthy best. Who does not appreciate his significant "Saggs" of the immemorable Forsyte clan? The "Saggs" perhaps the most representative of Victorian England, and Soames Forsyte, most representative of all Englishmen. Galsworthy has given to us a detailed survey of upper middle class society during the latter Victorian and Edwardian eras. He claimed no honors as a deep reflector of the life of a under factor considering he was the passing reactions of detached observer to a changing world.

Galsworthy knew his England as few know his Greece. He felt great passion for her, an ecstatic ardor that he breathed into all his works with tremendous pride. It was the love of a under factor considering he was the passing reactions of detached observer to a changing world. Galsworthy knew his England as few know his Greece. He felt great passion for her, an ecstatic ardor that he breathed into all his works with tremendous pride. It was the love of a under factor considering he was the passing reactions of detached observer to a changing world.

PURLOINED PHRASES

By ROLAND LEKEBUSCH

The Senior members of the Williams "Quarterly" were asked to resign for printing such words as gin, lousy, panny, etc.

Recently students at Princeton held a debate on the topic: "Resolved: That the shorter the kiss, the longer the bliss." The negative won!

Soph: "Do you think it's right to punish people for things they haven't done?"

Prof: "Of course not."

Soph: "Well, I didn't do the assignment!"

She: "What do you think I should do after graduation?"

He: "Take a trip to the Virgin Islands."

He: "I'm going to kiss you like you've never been kissed before."

She: "Oh yes I have!"

"Peter" of the Biology Department at Washington and Lee, to date has frustrated all the plans of his owner to introduce a new breed of squirrels on the Lexington campus. "Peter" has pronounced celibate tendencies, and refuses to have anything to do with "Grecia," the mate his master selected for him.

He: "I'm burning with love for you."

She: "Oh, don't make a fool out of yourself!"

A three year compulsory Sunday School attendance sentence is imposed on those Colorado University students who are caught drinking.

Cultural Comment

By Joseph Freedman

active genius, in refined literary skill, and in superb descriptive ability. Galsworthy knew no equal. He held the stage alone. His death has left an irreconcilable gap in English literature. Of him the student might say as Markham once said of Lincoln—

"And when he fell in whirlwind, he went down
 And a sturdy corded, green with boughs,
 Goes down with a great about upon the hills,
 And leaves a lonesome place against the sky."

In Memoriam: John Galsworthy
 Not from the storehouse of a fertile mind
 But all these characters been Mustered, not
 As puppets for a penny show to bind,
 Into a web of plot and counter-plot;

They were, I think, a too momentous part
 On a more stable and expansive stage,
 Drawn to a stature that effaces art,
 To define the margins of the printed page.

All that was England, all the bulk-wrapped pride
 Of blood and gentle heartedness, survives

In these familiar people of your pen.
 The heritage you give them will abide

Beyond our breath, on brief unwritten lives—
 The Forsyte men and the Forsyte men.

TOLD TO ME

By I. ONLY HEARD

In spite of all the official preparation for Saturday, the powdered preboscides and well combed hair for the Paganus photographer have not still going on that which can't be printed and that which will be printed despite unvoiced and voiced pleas.

Of the Seniors we can say nothing. Double negative! Sarah Ellen is colorizing the Sterling type. As we write this there is the choice bit of the week occurring again, and again but it will be placed at the end of the column. Anyway, the party asked for it.

It is our personal opinion that the school is topsy-turvy. Perhaps due to the 48 to victory or the fast fading Indian summer. Any way, Paul put in his first official appearance at the game with a young and attractive married woman—ask, the foolishness of men. No sooner than he is safely in school, Paul fervently and ardently yearns for an introduction to Anne Whyte.

The man who needs no introduction because of that strange hypnotic personality—has either paid or mesmerized the inmates of Reid Hall forming a Thompson Brown Club. All but one on an entire floor here! Here lies mystery. Who is the grand mogul of this organization? Why famed? Well after all—

"Dave" Skipp and "Burke" are rapidly becoming practiced gonderers—it's a shame they can't croon or play a dulcet tune.

It will not be long before the girls of Reid Hall will have to take up the veil, (if it was one of the famed seven there wouldn't this paragraph). But what can one do in place of the Sunday afternoon stroll, aside from standing out in the cold before the door? You males are to come inside and then—no nice girl will ride on a motorcycle. Reid Hall will no doubt edit in the near future a new copy to take place of the antiquated "What Every Nice Girl Should Know," only this new monstrosity will be "What Every Nice Girl Does (7)." What stuff!

Rumor has it:
 a. Reid Hall is actually overrun with cats.

b. Yearly is instructing Dickey in French. Ida perhaps "Fifty Million Freshmen Can't Be Wrong."

c. All Freshmen women are bleachers.

d. A Co-Ed dance is in making. e. Gamber was treed by a "mad" dog.

She: "How is it you can kiss so delicately?"

?: "I used to blow the bugle in the Boy Scouts."

Then comes the lip rope harvester who required a bumper car. The fact was very much in evidence when Jack was held at Gills and a very much besmirched mouth exhibited.

You know how well as we do,

For Jean—watchman—how he nites!

The best definition heard in moon is that of a kiss. "An ideal justification," said the far muscles in a state of contract.

Will be around after the gamblers' hoping, praying and yelling. "Beat Delaware."

FOOTBALL

Oie Man Football last Saturday was not very kind to the colleges in Maryland. All were beaten with the exception of Washington College, Baltimore University and Loyola College. Baltimore University did not play and Loyola held Langley Field to a scoreless tie. This last bodes no good for us in our game with Loyola, as Langley Field generally has a very good football team, and this year is not an exception.

There were no startling upsets among the major colleges and universities. Some of the scores were surprising. Cornell and Navy being beaten by overwhelming scores and Virginia holding a highly favored Columbia squad to a score of 18-6, were the biggest surprises in the East. Other games resulted as expected in other sections of the country.

Today presents some of the finest contests of the season, among the "Big Leagues": Army vs. Illinois; Pitt vs. Minnesota; Notre Dame vs. Carnegie Tech.; Michigan vs. Ohio State; Oregon State vs. Southern California; Washington State vs. California; Georgia vs. Tulane; Tennessee vs. Alabama; Louisiana vs. Arkansas; Texas vs. Centenary, being the more important.

Our own little "big" games are those between Washington College and Coloway; Western Maryland and Georgetown; Loyola and Johns Hopkins; Maryland and Virginia Military Institute; and Navy and Virginia.

We may be so fortunate, as to have our very hard working President of these United States as a spectator at our game with Delaware today. We are being highly honored by his presence at the Langley Field of Dr. Meade as the President of Washington College, and we hope he will be able to spare time from his many duties to attend the game in the afternoon at Kibler Field. If he does he must surely will see a football game worthy of his presence and praise.

KREEGER'S JEWELRY STORE

Eyes' examined and glasses fitted by a graduate Optician. Fountain Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films and Developing.

Watches, Rings and Novelty Jewelry.

For Better Coal Service

Phone 149
C. W. Kibler & Sons

DEL. MAR. VA RESTAURANT

Beer and Special Lunches
We Cater to Parties

GRIDDERS TRIPPED BY HOPKINS IN OPENER

Misplays By Local Backs Cause Defeat

The Washington College football team officially opened the 1933 season by losing to Johns Hopkins, at Baltimore on Saturday, October 14th, by a score of 21 to 0.

This score, however, does not in any way indicate the main feature of the game, which was the strong defensive play of the sturdy Shoreliners. On four occasions the forward wall proved too strong for the Hopkin's backfield men to penetrate; when Washington was in the shadows of her goal posts. Each score that Hopkins made came after hard judgment, on the part of the Maroon and Black backfield men, and were not earned.

Hopkins registered all three touchdowns by an aerial attack, which completely fooled the Washington defense on numerous occasions. The defensive work of Captain Gamber, Ward and Dobkins featured the play of the Washington cohorts, while McClean and Beeler stood out for Hopkins.

"Elm" Lists Choice Of Winners Of Today's Game

In keeping with one of the main duties of the football season, the ELM picks the following winners for today:

Washington to beat Delaware. Hopkins to beat Loyola. V. M. I. to beat Maryland. Lebanon Valley to beat Mt. St. Mary's. Georgetown to beat Western Maryland.

Army to beat Illinois. Navy to beat Virginia. Harvard to beat Holy Cross. Princeton to beat Columbia. Notre Dame to beat Carnegie Tech.

In 1878, A. Cutler, of Louisville, pulled his body up by the little finger of one hand six times.

Coming Opponents Beaten Last Week

Only Susquehanna Emerges Victor, Loyola Tied

The football teams that represent College that Washington College will meet in coming games this year, fared rather poorly for the most part in last week's contests.

Delaware University, designated as today's opponent, took the short end of a 52 to 0 score when playing in an fast company against the West Point Cadets. However, this defeat will not place the Maroon and Black gridders as favorites, for the Blue Hen will be fighting to forget their setback by emerging victors from a tussle with more notable opponents. If anything, we would predict a tie, unless superior reserves of Delaware come too heavily.

Susquehanna University of Gettysburg, Pa., which will be encountered by the Shoremen next Saturday, October 28, was fortunate last week to defeat Haverford College 6 to 0. The latter team will offer opposition for Washington on November 18. The recent victory of Susquehanna indicates that Haverford is either greatly improved over last season, or that Susquehanna is below its form of 1932 when it was rated next to Colgate in the East. The latter is more probably the situation. The Maroon and Black should defeat both of these teams if everything goes well, and expected improvement in play as the season advances, materials.

Mt. St. Mary's College of Emmitsburg, Md., is reputed as having the second best team in the State, second only to their Western Maryland College neighbors. To date, the Mounts who play here on November 4, have not won a game, losing to Georgetown after a stubborn resistance was offered, to Western Maryland, by one touchdown, and last Saturday to St. Vincent's by the count of 14 to 6.

BOARD OF MANAGERS CHOSEN BY COEDS

Miss Rabin Heads Girls' Athletic Body

On Monday afternoon, October 9th, there was a meeting of the Girls' Athletic Association. A Freshman representative was elected to the Board of Managers. It was decided that every girl who was on this board had to attend the practices and games or she would be asked to resign. This rule was passed so that when the Board has to pick the team every girl will have a fair idea of who deserves a position and who doesn't.

Those on the Board of Managers are: Seniors—Patience Pyle and Dorothy Kimble; Juniors—Katherine Hyland and Ruth Cannon; Sophomores—Leah Frederick; Freshmen—Jean Harshaw; Members at large—Ellen Clark, Doris Metcalfe and Isabel North; Publicity Manager—Jean Harshaw.

The officers of this association are: President—Lucille Rabin; Vice-President—Sarah Ellen Byrd; Secretary and Treasurer—Carolyn Helms. The Board will have a meeting to decide when the first game between the Freshmen-Junior team and Sophomore-Senior team will be played, and what girls will participate on each team.

Stevens, Former Yale Coach Predicts Thirly Grid Deaths

Dr. Marvin A. (Mal) Stevens, formerly varsity and now freshman coach at Yale, predicts that thirty to forty fatal injuries would be charged to football during the coming season. He says that between two and three hundred thousand young men will be playing the game this season.

Lefty Grove pulled a Rube Waddell wheel sticking in exhibition game against a Syracuse, N. Y., semi-pro team recently. The outfield walked away and lefty proceeded to strike out three in a row.

Henri Cochet, famous French tennis star, has turned professional.

Gallaudet Beaten 48-0 By Shoremen

Maroon And Black Players Exceeded Expectations

Back on the home stamping grounds and full of a new team spirit, the Washington College gridders made an impressive and unexpected showing Sunday, October 14th, by completely baffling and trouncing a big Gallaudet team, 48 to 0. A great change in teamwork, spirit, attitude and play was given more gripping than was the largest score made by a Maroon and Black team in fifteen years.

With the opening kick-off the fighting Maroon and Black players started their assestment of splinters, reverses, and passes which soon piled up a 27 to 0 lead in the first half. The touchdowns, Edna Berry, Joe Hall and "Skip" Skip, rang up seven touchdowns in short order, while "Fritz" Reinhold and "Art" Griens converted six of the seven attempts into added points. Most of the scoring was done in the second and fourth quarters.

Coaches Ekalls and Kibler expressed satisfaction with the improved play of the team, and are looking forward to the Delaware game with new enthusiasm. Coach Ekalls was well pleased with the play of the backfield men, especially with the ball carrying of Dobkins, Berry and Bilancioni. "Fritz" Reinhold, quarterback, gave his regular excellent performance in a finished quarter, placing several of his spirals well out of the reach of the Gallaudet safety men. The fine play of Dwyer and Lord was outstanding throughout the game. Gann Carey playing in the injured Ward's place also performed well. The large score, a novelty to many of our supporters, gave Coach Ekalls a chance to use his second team part of the time, and they made an impressive showing during their stay in the game.

The lineup and summary: Washington
Baughman L. E. Gamber
Gallaudet L. T. Lord
Ludner L. G. Nowak
Gallaudet C. C. Harries
Miller R. G. Cary
Dwyer R. T. Dwyer
C. Brown R. E. Skip
Akin L. H. Berry
Chernovich Q. B. Reinhold
Long R. H. Dobkins
Hoffmeister F. B. Bilancioni
Gallaudet 0 0 0 0—0
Washington 0 27 7 14—48
Touchdowns—Dobkins 2, Skip 2, Berry 2, Hall (out for Bilancioni). Extra points—Gallaudet 4, Reinhold 4, Griens (out for Reinhold).
Referee—Brown, Syracuse; Umpire, Ogden, Swarthmore; Head linesman, Bradley, Temple.

PROBABLE LINEUPS FOR TODAY

Washington

R. H. B. DOBKINS (8)	F. B. BILANCIONI (21)	L. H. B. BERRY (11)
Q. B. REINHOLD (8)	F. B. BILANCIONI (21)	L. H. B. BERRY (11)

R. E. GAMBER (5)	L. E. POHL (5)	R. T. Dwyer (25)	E. G. NOWAK (33)	C. HARRIES (5)	L. G. LORD (13)	T. T. WARD (17)	L. E. SKIP (24)
------------------	----------------	------------------	------------------	----------------	-----------------	-----------------	-----------------

Delaware

L. H. B. KEMSKE (43)	F. B. BRANNER (47)	R. H. B. E. THOMPSON (60)
----------------------	--------------------	---------------------------

WASHINGTON RESERVES

10—Clark	Cohoe
19—Baker	Wallace
24—Coney	Clifford
14—Mead	Kight
16—Cohen	Lithiumum
22—Tigner	Miller
25—Saylor	Pritt
12—Hall	Behrer
3—Greims	Fears
18—Jones	McLain
7—O'Farrell	Towner
3—Stacy	White
16—Taylor	Wingate
Brougham

DELAWARE RESERVES

27—Davis	1—White
28—O'Connell	2—Hill, W.
31—Hudson	3—Records
32—Hodgson	4—Hill, T.
33—Dillon	5—McGill
36—Greer	7—Cos
38—Mayer	8—Smith
37—Mangerberg	9—Way
39—Pannock	11—Corvico
40—Zavada	15—Chester
41—Schwartz	23—Black
42—Kirschner	14—Herkness
45—McCr	15—Jenson
46—Pearce	16—Warrall
48—Crowe	18—Stanton
49—Manista	22—Goert
51—Glover	23—Crucker
54—Scannell	25—Donaldson

After the Show follow the Crowd to the Most Modern Ice Cream Parlor in Town.

GILL BROS.

FOX'S
Anything you want at the Right Price
5c to $1.00
Store

New Scholastic Attitude Is Seen

Feeling Between Faculty And Students Discussed

By William O. Baker

The past few years have seen much discussion, both here and abroad, over the scholastic attitude of those receiving instruction. Toward the instructor, and, possibly, this feeling at Washington College provides a subject for some study, especially at the opening of the Academic year.

In many poorly informed circles the system is extensively followed by many European Universities regarding the relationship between the professor and student is recommended. This would seem, to the casual observer, to be one of distant and cool formality. Actually, at least a part of the faculty by whom the student is instructed become his intimate friends and advisors. To be sure, this association is much more mature than can usually be expected in this country, since European students tend to be more ripened than American.

Here, all sorts of adamant barriers exist between a friendly and complete understanding between the teacher and the sincerely interested student. Our university system is factory-like for its hugeness and studied impersonality. The student has the privilege of gazing at the lecturer for a crowded period, and then may be allowed to confer with a very minor instructor. Here is no chance for a close bond between the well of knowledge and inspiring experience which is the fine teacher's, and the inquiring mind of the pupil. However, this important circumstance of size need not trouble the members of Washington College.

But, with the speed of the Lernaean Hydra's head; new separating walls project themselves in the small college. A student inclined toward friendliness with his professor is accused of courting the latter's favor for marks and such machinery. These illogical and provincial condemnations seem absurd, as do also the policies of "familiarity breeds contempt," and also disdain openly attributed to faculty members, but, thoughtfully, very slightly in Washington College.

Published research by a leading American journalist this past year indicates a decided trend, in the scholarly circles of this country, notably Yale, Harvard, Princeton and a few others, toward more cooperation of the teacher and student in the purely pedagogical way. Also, in these institutions, the tremendous value of consulting instructors, or perhaps a particular instructor, about one's personal habits and decisions is being recognized occasionally.

The fine staff of Washington College offers a worth-while opportunity for the student body to adopt the policy which, in the expensive of at least a few at the college has earned great dividends, that of—less the pedagogue, more the friend.

Y. M. C. A. Reviews Rattling In Meeting

Freshmen Proclaim Good Effects Of Old Custom

On Wednesday evening, October 4th, the Y. M. C. A., sponsoring at its first meeting a discussion on "Rattling," provided an interesting hour or this seemingly inexhaustible though time-worn topic to the large number of students who attended. Led by Chairman Dick Gamble, those present admirably covered the subject in so short a time, Professor Goodwin and several other students bringing forward their experiences at a wide range of other colleges. But, most revealing was the attitude of the freshmen, who, under no compulsion, unanimously agreed as to the lack of abuse of this year's rattling, and even proclaimed of a beneficial effect by its use opposed to the upper-classmen, who offered all the destructive criticism. Constructively, one of the speakers suggested as a substitute for the hitting a plan whereby all members of the student body would ostracize those entering students who ostracized discipline by simply ignoring them. As to the results of the meeting, in the words of the chairman, both sides fared equally well, and President Sadler promises, in the light of the fertility of those present, to continue the investigation.

NEW MEMBERS TAKEN IN BY MEN'S GLEE CLUB

Alfred S. Hodgson Is President Of Singers This Year

At the first meeting of the Men's Glee Club the following new members were admitted: Robert Plink, Emerson Slacum, Lawrence Younte, Clifton Hope, Marvin Smith.

The Glee Club will broaden its activities this year with a tour of the "Shores" and a broadcast from W. C. A. O.

The officers elected for this year are: A. S. Hodgson, President; Joseph Mooney, Manager; Ralph Harries, Sect. and Treas.; and Carroll Costello, Librarian.

Biology Department Gets Gifts For Its Museum

The Department of Biology acknowledges recent gifts to its museum as follows: (a.) Two very fine specimens, dried and mounted of Tarantula (Giant Poisonous Spider) and Phrynosoma (The Horned Toad of the Western Deserts) respectively, given by Emerson P. Slacum (Sophomore). (b.) Samples of polished wood from the same Jener. (c.) Specimens of local spiders given by A. Elliott Brown (Freshman).

Gifts of specimens, living or dead, are always welcome, and anyone interested in our collection may see them at any suitable time on application to myself, or to John Wagner, (Student Assistant).

(Signed) Kathleen E. Carpenter.

Victory Dance Held By Varsity Club

Affair Following Gallaudet Game Is A Success

A large number of the student body crowded the gymnasium last Saturday night in celebration of the 48 to 0 victory of the Ekaltis eleven over the Gallaudet gridblers. The occasion was the "W" Club dance sponsored annually by the Washington varsity men. The athletic department was represented by Miss Doris Bell, Coach Kibler and Professor Domachott. Among the other faculty guests were Dr. Livingood and Dr. Buxton. Coach Ekaltis having been called to Baltimore immediately after the game, could not attend.

Excellent music was furnished by Bob Ryan and his Troubadours from Baltimore, who featured a specially arranged medley of college songs and marches including the Washington Alma Mater. The gym was simply but effectively decorated in the Mason and Black colors of old Washington.

All of the football squad were present and received many congratulations and deserved praise for their decisive crushing of Gallaudet. A mad, mad spirit prevailed as the students celebrated the first grid victory of the season and the first triumph of its kind in the football history of Washington College. The next victory dance, will be this Saturday after the Washington-Delaware contest.

I'd take this one anywhere!

"I'VE SWUNG many a stick and I know how to spin 'em.

"I've smoked many a cigarette and I know how to taste 'em.

"Chesterfields are milder—they taste better—and man they do satisfy!"

Chesterfield

the cigarette that's Milder
the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

COLLEGE SENIORS

EDITOR'S NOTE. This is the second of a series of Senior biographies being conducted by the Elm. Others will follow in later issues.

SARAH ELLEN BYRN

Sarah Ellen Byrn holds the highest and most important office available for Women Students at the College, that of the Presidency of the Women's Student Council. Her long list of other activities points her out as the most outstanding Senior girl.

Graduating from Cambridge High School in 1929, she took a post-graduate course the following year, acting also as Laboratory Assistant in Chemistry and Physics. In the fall of 1930, she matriculated at Washington College. Her athletic ability was immediately recognized as she made the Hockey Varsity her first year, and has continued to win a position on the same every year since. She also made the Girls' Tennis Varsity in her first and third years, and was Singles Champion in 1932, being runner-up in her Freshman year. In other athletic lines she has played on her class basketball team each year.

Miss Byrn is President of the Kappa Gamma Society this year, and was Sergeant-at-Arms last year. She is President of the Y. W. C. A. and Vice-President of the Board of Managers of the Girls' Athletic Association and of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society. This year she is Women's Editor of the Elm, and Senior Editor of the Year Book. Her high scholastic ranking qualifies her for the Women's Honor Society, of which she is a member and of which she was Secretary last year. She also is a member of the Senior Honor Society, and this year was one of the recipients of the scholarship given by the Board of Visitors and Governors. She has also been a Library Assistant all four years.

The abilities of this Senior leave no doubt that she will be a success in her chosen field of teaching French and English, her Major and Minor subjects respectively.

ALBERT E. DOBKINS

Albert E. Dobkins came quite a ways to enter Washington College in the fall of 1930, traveling from his native Waterbury, Connecticut. He starred on the athletic teams at Crosby High School in Waterbury, being rated as a great basketball player on the Connecticut State Championship team. Also in Football and Baseball he won quite an enviable reputation. He spent one year at Troy Conference Academy in New England after leaving High School.

At the Shore College Dobkins' popularity is attested to by the many offices he holds. He was elected to the Blue Key National Honorary Fraternity at the end of his Fresh Year. Last year he was Secretary and now is the Blue Key President. He was Vice-President of his class for his first three years. Last year he was Treasurer of the Varsity Club and now is Vice President. He heads the Athletic Association and is Vice President of the Alpha Kappa Phi Fraternity. Along Literary lines, "Dobby" is Literary Editor of the ELM and writes a column in one of the local town papers.

His accomplishments have not been limited to extra-curriculars, for his Scholarship ranking won for him a Merit Scholarship last year, but this year he gave it up to become Head Waiter in the Cafeteria. In athletics, Dobby has done well. He has been a regular in football each year, serving as quarterback some of the time. His defensive play is of high order, as he makes up for lack of size by bight and ferrency. In Baseball he has been a mainstay of the squad each year. He played Lacrosse two years but last year took up Baseball when it was reinstated at the College.

With the respect of everyone who knows him, Dobkins has many friends who will miss him after graduation. He hopes to find a Coaching and Teaching job for next year. Good luck to him.

RALPH E. HARRIES

Ralph Harries attended at McKinley Tech of Washington, D. C., and at Takoma Park-Silver Spring High School. His home is at Takoma Park, Md. In High School Ralph was a three sports man, starring on the Basketball, Football and Baseball teams. Also he was Editor of the Student Publication in his school, and prominent in other High School activities.

At College, Ralph has shown great knowledge, but has not secured equivalent marks, seeming to regard them as side issues, it seems. He has made friends with everyone and probably can claim more of them than any man in College. Among these friends are men of high position, whose contact has given Ralph a wealth of valuable information.

Ralph has been interested in the Y. M. C. A. work and was chosen President of that organization for his Junior Year. He attended several conferences in connection with this work. He has twice been Editor of the Student Handbook and at the present is writing a column for one of the local papers. He has been Secretary of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society and has taken an active part in the work of other organizations as the Glee Club, singing in the Double and Mixed quartets. He is also a member of the Phi Sigma Phi Fraternity.

Ralph won his letter in Football his second and third years at College and this year is regular Center. Last year he alternated at that position. His head-up play marks him as a valuable lineman. He has been out for the Varsity Basketball team, but has not followed up this sport. Last spring he reported for Lacrosse, and his work as a close defense man was impressive for a beginner. He made such progress that he is expected to fill the position left vacant by the graduation of Joe Bringham.

To a congenial friend, whose interest lies in the History and Government field, we extend our best wishes.

JOSEPH M. O'FARRELL

Joseph M. O'Farrell claims West-minster, Md., as his home. He graduated from the St. John's High School there in 1930, having been a prominent Football player and an excellent Baseball pitcher.

"Joe" spent the first two years after graduation at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Maryland. He was making a name for himself as a Baseball pitcher until an elbow injury threatened to end his ball toying.

days. However he regained use of his arm, though it left him with an unorthodox delivery and hindered his effectiveness slightly. O'Farrell grew tired of the Mt. St. Mary's strictness and entered Washington College in the fall of 1930, as a Junior. His friendly personality and ability to argue especially along Sports lines has gained him many friends. In arguing for Baseball in preference to Lacrosse, he could practically out-argue the three occupants of Room 55, Middle Hall, last year who were Burkhart, Bauman and Clark. Doing the latter was no easy task as we recollect.

O'Farrell has been a hard worker, majoring in History and minoring in English. He plans to teach school and coach if an opening is found. We are anticipating a successful future for this fine friend and excellent fellow. Joe is playing his second year of football and next spring will make his second in Baseball at Washington College.

SMITH'S KUT-RATE DRUG STORE

The only place where you can buy home-made Ice Cream.

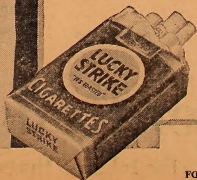

Modern Shoe Repairing
Store
PAUL SIPALA
Next to Sterling Drug

Reach for a Lucky
FOR ALWAYS LUCKIES
PLEASE

Choice tobaccos rolled right—no loose ends

ALWAYS the finest tobaccos
ALWAYS the finest workmanship
ALWAYS Luckies please!

When smoking a Lucky, have you noticed the long white ash? That's the sign of fine, choice Turkish and Domestic tobaccos. And have you noticed how fully packed Luckies are with these choice tobaccos—rolled right—so round—so pure—with no loose ends. Luckies always please!

Copyright, 1933, The American Tobacco Company.

"it's toasted"
FOR THROAT PROTECTION—FOR BETTER TASTE

DR. DOLE TO LECTURE FOR WOMAN'S CLUB

Topics To Be On History Of Decorative Arts

For the benefit of the Chesterton Library, which is managed by the Woman's Literary Club, Dr. Esther M. Dole will give a series of six lectures on the History of the Decorative Arts. Period Furniture of Europe and America, Pottery, Textiles, Rugs and Feltory will be discussed on six consecutive Thursday nights beginning October 26th. These talks will be held in the Court House at 8:00 P. M.

Student tickets will be sold in the book store for 75 cents for the entire series of six lectures. The regular price is $1.50.

DR. LIVINGOOD GIVES ASSEMBLY PROGRAMS

The Assembly program for the next three weeks were recently announced by Dr. Frederick G. Livingood, chairman of the Assembly Program Committee of the Faculty.

The following program on respective dates will take place:

October 26th—Speaker, Dr. Harry V. Holloway, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dover, Delaware.

November 2nd—Speaker, Mr. Waldo Newcomer, of Newcomer and Co., Baltimore, Md., on "Banking as a Career."

November 9th—Intelligence Test will be given.

NO NICE GIRLS SWEARS

Extracts taken from Alice Leane
Moore's Book, by Olga Shortess

Miss Nice Girl has launched out. Last issue she wasn't writing soft letters, nor was her Kembo no matter how gloomy. Now Alice Leane Moore can tell you almost all you need to know about that grand old American custom, the blind date. True it is that a nice honey campus like Washington doesn't offer so many opportunities for an entirely blind date, but there will always be transient visitors, you know. So—

"While we're on the subject of dates, we might as well go into the 'blind' variety. It is not good form or lack of it that should worry you in accepting a blind date—it's the risk you run by being bored to death.

"There are two kinds of blind dates. The first: George has a friend, Joe Gutch, who either is a stranger in town or, for some reason, known no girls. Kind-hearted George asks Helen to provide another girl for the occasion and the merry foursome sets forth. All too soon the poor girl discovers that the probable reason why somebody had to be provided for Joe is that he, on his own, couldn't possibly get anything but a blind date mate. The second: George arranges a date for his good friend Henry with Mary, and they go out alone together. Unless Mary knows that George's taste in men is infallible, she had better take and advice and plead another engagement. And she will do well to keep in mind that one man's opinion of another is usually founded upon whether he was once able to drink the entire University of Virginia, under the table (an impossible feat, we understand), or is a good football player. Undoubtedly worthy qualities, but of little use to a girl.

Teo To Be Held At Reid Hall Tomorrow, 3:30 P. M.

On Sunday, October 21, 1933, a tea is to be held at Reid Hall from 3:30 to 5:00. Dr. Livingood and his string quartet will entertain with incidental music during the tea and Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Davis will serve.

MT. VERNON HOLDS INFORMAL MEETING

Impromptu Speeches Are Source Of Program

The Mount Vernon Literary Society met in the Auditorium of William Smith Hall at the regular meeting hour, October 19, 1933. Due to existing conditions the regular program could not be carried out and impromptu were substituted as a means of entertainment. This type of speeches was made by various members of the society, expressing opinions on the programs to be held hereafter. Opinions were expressed by Joseph Freedman, Alfred Gardner, Ralph Harrier, Katherine Kirwin, and Mildred Skinner.

Commissioner Earle Addresses Assembly

On October 10, 1933, Mr. Sverre Earle was the guest speaker before the assembly. Mr. Earle, who is the State Conservation Commissioner of Maryland, is also interested in the historical background of the State, particularly in the Eastern Shore, and has written a book entitled "The Chesapeake Bay Country."

The topic of discussion was the "Historical and Present Interest of the Underlands of the State" in which Mr. Earle traced the marine life history and mentioned oysters, crabs, and fine fish as the chief foods of the Chesapeake Bay which furnish livelihood for many inhabitants of Virginia and Maryland.

COLLEGE CALENDAR

WEEK OF OCTOBER 22—28

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 22
Informal Tea at Reid Hall (3 P. M.)
Joint Y. M. C. A.-Y. W. C. A. Meet
At Reid Hall, (6:30 P. M.)

MONDAY, OCTOBER 23
Women's Student Council Meeting
At Reid Hall, (4:30 P. M.)

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 25
Varsity Club Meeting
William Smith Hall, (7:30 P. M.)

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 26
Chapel Assembly—Dr. Holloway
As Guest Speaker, (11:00 A. M.)
Mt. Vernon Literary Society Meeting
at William Smith Hall, (7 P. M.)
Blue Key Fraternity Meeting
at William Smith Hall, (7 P. M.)

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27
Student "Pep" Meeting
At William Smith Hall, (7 P. M.)

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 28
Football Game at Sellingsgrove
Washington vs. Susquehanna

WEEK OF OCT. 29—NOV. 4

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 29
Joint Y. M. C. A.-Y. W. C. A. Meet
At Reid Hall, (6:30 P. M.)

MONDAY, OCTOBER 30
Women's Student Council Meeting
At Reid Hall, (4:30 P. M.)
Men's Student Council Meeting
At William Smith Hall, (7 P. M.)

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 1
Y. M. C. A. Meeting
At William Smith Hall, (7 P. M.)

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2
Chapel Assembly, Mr. Waldo Newcomer as Guest Speaker, (11 A. M.)
Mt. Vernon Literary Society
at William Smith Hall, (7 P. M.)

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3
Student "Pep" Meeting
At William Smith Hall, (7 P. M.)

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 4
Football Game At Home
Washington vs. Mt. St. Mary's
Washington Field, (2 P. M.)

A sensible package

a sensible package
10 cents

We wanted to sell it for 10 cents so we put Granger in a sensible soft foil pouch—easy to carry and keeps the tobacco just exactly right—just like it was made.

Granger... good tobacco... Wellman Method... cut right... packed right. And there is this much about it:

We have yet to know of a man who started to smoke
Granger who didn't keep on. Folks seem to like it.

Granger Rough Cut

— the tobacco that's MADE FOR PIPES

Classical Society Is Formed Recently By Prof. Solandt

Miss Harriett Ragan Will Head New Group

Washington's first Classical Society was organized last week under the patronage of Professor Solandt of the Classical Department. Mr. Solandt, acting as Praeses pro tempore, welcomed the forty enthusiastic charter members with a brief resume of the purposes of the society.

The officers elected are: Praeses, Miss Harriett Ragan; Scriba, Joseph M. Freedman; and Quaestor, Miss Phoebe Pyle. Upon assuming the reins of office, the Praeses authorized the creation of two committees, one on Program and consisting of the Misses Moore, Ilphuram, and Zittel, and one on Constitution, consisting of Miss Silex, and Messrs. Anthony and Sileam. The first was authorized to prepare programs for the current year, and the second to draft a set of by-laws. Meetings are to be held bi-monthly, every second Friday.

As outlined, the functions of the Society are twofold: To provide a classical background for Latin and Greek students and to acquaint the student body of the college with the great store of Latin culture. The Society proposes to bring the college into closer social relations of note, motion pictures, slides, objects d'art, and anything tending to promote an interest in the Classics. Suggestions from students and faculty are welcome.

Greims Elected Fresh President; Yonree On Council

At the Freshman Class elections yesterday conducted by the Men's Student Council the following were elected to office: Student Council Representative, Lawrence Yonree; President of Class, Arthur Greims; Vice-President, William Hall; Secretary, Phoebe Pyle; Treasurer, John Mead.

Dr. F. G. Livingood Heads Newly Formed Honor Society

The results of the movement that was on foot last year to form scholastic honor society for both men and women have at last assumed definite form. The idea was originated by the Women's Honor Society, and a tentative organization was formed last year. This organization was modeled after a national honor society and the officers chosen were: Dr. Livingood, President; J. R. Smithson, Vice-President; Dr. Paxton, Recording Secretary; Dr. Howell, Corresponding Secretary; Dr. Dole, Treasurer. Since the beginning of the present year a constitution has been drawn up and accepted. Under this constitution the officers will be all faculty members except the Vice-President and an Assistant Recording Secretary (this office has not yet been filled).

Of most interest to the students of the college are the qualifications for membership in the Society. Members are chosen at the end of the first semester of the junior year and must have an index of 2.25 and be in the upper tenth of their class and of good character.

MISS MABEL BABCOCK WEDS DELANO BOYNTON

College Mates Married Saturday; To Continue Studies

College romances have a way of culminating in marriage after graduation but last week a romance at Washington College glided swiftly into matrimony as Miss Mabel Babcock, a senior, became the bride of Delano Boynton, a junior.

The bride is a resident of Wilmington, Delaware, and the groom resides at Marshallton, a member of the Delaware metropolis. They were married on Saturday in the latter State.

Marriage will not interfere with the completion of their studies at the college. They have taken an apartment in town and will continue as students, the first case in history locally where man and wife were undergraduates in the college at the same time.

Fresh-Soph Tie-Up Will Take Place Monday, Nov. 6

The Fresh-Soph tie-up which will replace the annual tug-war and sword fight, is described by Albert Girgis, chairman of the Student Council Committee in charge of the tie-up.

Procedure.—A number of pieces of rope, equal to two-thirds of the number of participants, each six feet long, are placed in the center of the circle. At a starting signal given by one of the referees, the participants standing outside of the circle rush for the pile of ropes and immediately proceed to try to tie each other up. At the first whistle the number of tied up men on each side are counted and the class which has the larger proportion of its members tied up loses the contest.

Rules.—1.—FOULS—Slugging, biting, kicking, and other forms of unnecessary roughness will constitute a foul and the offender will be disqualified from further participation in the contest.

2.—The time of the contest will be from 10 to 15 minutes, subject to the discretion of the referees.

3.—All contestants must be outside the circle when the starting signal is given.

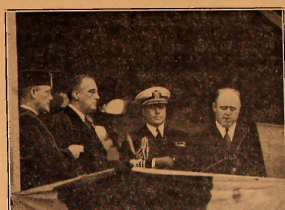

4.—TIE-UP—A person is considered to be tied up when he is outside the circle with both hands, both feet, one hand and one foot tied. When a person is once tied up he is immediately disqualified from further participation in the contest.

5.—All questions arising in connection with the "tie-up" are to be settled by the referees.

Speeches Given By Members At Chemical Society Meeting

The newly formed Washington Chemical Society held its first organization meeting Thursday, October 31, at seven o'clock in room 36. President Wagner took charge of the meeting which was attended by twenty-five members and two faculty members, Dr. Buxton and Prof. Tull. The program for the evening consisted of three short speeches given by members of the society.

President Roosevelt At Washington College

Pictured above is President Franklin D. Roosevelt becoming an alumnus of Washington College. At the extreme left is Dr. Gilbert Wilcox Mead who, having just been inaugurated as the nineteenth president of Washington College, stands ready to place the hood, symbolic of the honorary degree of doctor of laws, upon President Roosevelt as Col. H. S. Brown, chairman of the board of visitors and governors of the college, at the extreme right, confers the degree.

PRESIDENT MEAD STATES

I had a letter on Monday from a gentleman who visited here on our big day, October 21. He played a very important part in the ceremonies, and all of us saw him. At present he lives in Washington.

The letter was unexpected, and was therefore more than ever appreciated. We had been thanked, both formally and informally, by the proper parties, and I supposed the account was square. Then came this letter.

It was personal, informal, and obviously very sincere. Presidents of the United States don't have to write for letters like these very often, and unless they mean heartily what they say.

One sentence in the letter belongs to all of us, and should add to the pride of every Washingtonian, past, present, and future. It was this: "I am happy indeed to be an alumnus of Washington College."

Truly I was not surprised to see that statement in that letter. The name of the gentleman had been spoken, first, before we left the platform after the exercises; second during luncheon; and then again on the deck of the yacht on which our visit departed. Obviously he has meant it every time he has said it.

If the President of the United States can express himself unequivocally as being proud to be an alumnus of your college, you have just reason to be proud of her yourself.

I wish every Washingtonian could get into the habit of being proud of his college, and of being willing to express that pride properly on every possible occasion.

When you next go home on vacation—especially at Christmas time—you will certainly be asked a great many questions about the College by your friends and acquaintances. You can do incalculable good, or equal harm to the College according as you answer those questions. Last week's events have put the name of Washington College into every news-report picture house in the United States and Canada, and the broadcast was heard across the continent, and even on ships at sea in the Pacific. Pictures of William Smith Hall, with the company gathered on the platform before it, will appear, by international news service, in the journals of Great Britain and continental Europe.

At one stroke, you have become members of a college whose name has been heard around the world. Are you, also, like Mr. Roosevelt, proud of your connection with this age-old, ever-new institution?

Remember that you are the institution. If you are not proud of it, the reason lies in the shame you have for yourself. If such there be among us—(which I doubt)—I suggest for them a bit of secret "pride drill." Try saying over to yourself a dozen times a day these two simple things: "I am proud of Washington College," and "I am a part of Washington College." Then, by the time you go away from the campus you will find it easy to proclaim from the house-tops of your "old home town" that you and Mr. Roosevelt are unanimously proud of the place; and you will find yourself the magnet whose attraction will bring to the College next year an excellent group of new members of the College who will come to share in what we have to offer.

For myself, I join heartily with our newest alumnus; our recent distinguished guest. I am proud to be the President of Washington College, and am anxious to proclaim the fact to everyone I meet. I know I have excellent reason for my feelings of pride in all of you, faculty and students. Washington College is alive and moving forward; and a certain amount of well-bred rooting for ourselves isn't going to hurt a bit!

Gilbert W. Mead.

Dramatic Club Will Present "Dancy" Late This Fall

The Dramatic Club of Washington College, under the direction of Prof. John W. Mackosky, recently announced as its first play of the year, "Dancy."

The list of characters include: Robert Kirk, Dorothy Clarke, Ervin Koerber, Betty Childs, Harry Huey, Norris DeWolf, Harry Rhodes and Olga Shortess.

Washington Meets Mt. St. Mary's Here Today At 2:30 P. M.

Maroon and Black Conceded Even Chance For Victory

Playing the third home game of the year, the Maroon and Black eleven, still clinging from a big and undesired defeat at Squawhaman University last week, will today stack up against Mt. St. Mary's College (team on Kibler Field at 2:30 P. M.).

Coach Klatka has been putting his charges through strenuous workouts all week in preparation for the Thanksgiving game which comes here with the reputation of having a fine line, with plenty of weight, and with an exceptionally fine backfield one in the person of Vince Hopkins, who will rank as an All-Marjand player this season. He is a fine pass receiver, and specializes in carrying the pigskin around the flanks. It is remembered that his cut of his right arm for thirty yards defeated Washington in 1931 on Kibler field, in the last minute of play. Last week he led Loyola by a similar feat in the closing minutes of a game, a big and fast and also is an outstanding performer for the Maroons, and drops back to do most of the punting and passing. The Maroons have not won game to date, but have given a good exhibition of ball playing against superior foes.

The Shoremen, although they have won one game, also have not enjoyed very much success. Ward and Huerries will both probably start today, but will be replaced by Omar Carney and Joe Hall if their injuries have not been ignored out sufficiently. Al Dobkins, the mighty little halfback, whose play has been outstanding all season, is expected to be in the lineup although he has been kept from action all week because of a strain. A report of last week's game, Fritz Reinhold and Captain Gamber who are ready to go, after taking things easy all week in order to be in the best condition for today.

The game will be a hard fought affair, with the Shoremen enjoying a slight edge if injuries are kept down, and if the game starts after a few minutes. Klatka has his charge in a fighting mood and their spirit is the best of the season.

The probable lineups, numbers and reserves:

Washington	Mt. St. Mary's
(24) Skip L.E. Sullivan (45)
(12) Earl L.T. Forke (44)
(12) Lord L.G. Colven (21)
(43) Hawkes C. Farmer (30)
(23) Norrie R.G. Olaszewski (41)
(25) Dwyer R.T. Kennedy (40)
(25) Galt Galt (42)
(28) Reinhold G.B. Devenay (24)
(6) Dobkins H.B. Arce (29)
(11) Berry H.B. Reilly (44)
(21) Bihelneff F.B. Hopkins (45)

Washington reserves: (10) Clark, (12) Earl L.T. Forke, (15) Cohen, (22) Tignor, (2) Baylor, (12) Hall, (3) Greims, (15) Jones, (7) O'Farrell, (38) Stacey, (18) Taylor.

Mt. St. Mary's reserves: (16) Gordon, (37) Farrell, (26) Goss, (49) Gillespie, (46) Intwili, (75) Keeley, (68) Lynch, (23) McBride, (21) Norris, (14) O'Brien, (12) Waltrauff, (34) Pasynsky, (25) Tonick.

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the elevenfold institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md. 1782.

EDITOR CHARLES B. CLARK
Assistant Editor William O. Baker
Literary Editor Albert E. Dobkins
Exchange Editor Roland E. Lekebusch
Women's Editor Sarah Ellen Byrn
Sports Editor Harry R. Huey
Alumni Editor Phillip J. Wingate

REPORTERS

Reporters this Issue—Marian Emmord, Albert Giraffe, Carroll W. Casteel, Philip Skipp, John Lord, Martha Sheeran, Miriam Ford, Olga Shortless, Jane Harbach, Ann Whyte, Isadore Bohrer, Dorothy Clark, William Kight.

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

Alfred S. Hodgson, Richard Gamber, William Baker

SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES

Alexina Robinson, Doris Metcalfe, Gladys R. Aldridge

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager J. Patterson Besman
Assistant Business Manager Louis L. Goldstein
Circulation Manager Emerson P. Hiscam
Assistant Circulation Manager Ernest Holmud
Advertising Manager Joseph McLean

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, NOV. 4, 1933

CAFETERIA SITUATION AGAIN

The existing situation at Washington College concerning the Cafeteria is again the source of an Editorial in the ELM. The very fact that the same thing occurs year after year is indicative that the proper procedure has not been taken by those in a position to remedy the causes of complaint. The whole affair revolves about the condition of the foods as presented to the boarding students at their meals. Before this Editorial is read, a meeting of the Student Body will have been called to consider the question. Because this page goes to press at about the time of the meeting, we cannot comment on it.

The Student Body is protesting not because of the quality of the food, but because of the way it is prepared. There are many well-founded complaints that at times the food is practically unfit to eat, as a result of having been burned, cooked to pieces, or otherwise injured. A good illustrating comparison is afforded by the football players who had occasion to partake of several meals at Susquehanna University last week-end. They related that the Friday evening repast consisted of exactly the same constituents as the same meal at Washington College, but due to proper preparation it was far superior and much more enjoyed.

If only a few students were entering protests, we might be inclined to overlook them, for some, even though they are not as well fed at home, are the first to offer destructive criticisms. However, we know from our own observations and experiences that the reports are true, and instead of coming from those few who object to everything, they are vouched for by the majority of boarding students.

In closing we urge that a great change be made, that a new personnel be hired unless immediate improvement is shown. After all, the students are paying for what is given them, and why should they not receive what is due them?

We might add in connection with the cafeteria, that there is too much cutting in line by unthinking students who do not realize that they are infringing on the rights of others.

FROSH-SOPH TIE-UP

The abolition of the old and traditional tug-of-war and mud-fight and its replacement by a Soph-Frosh tie-up by recent action of the Student Council is a sensible step.

Perhaps to justify our initial statement we must make clear the reasons for the change, because there has already been misunderstanding. Primarily, the Student Council took such measures because Health authorities have declared the site of the old event to be unfit for the continuance of the annual fray. Their decision was the result of finding the water stagnant in the stream used for the rope-pulling contest. Also, thick undergrowth and buried barbed wire are dangerous and have in the past caused minor injuries. Last year the contest turned into a mid-slugging affair and the hazards of this are foreseen.

Thus, although serious injuries have not yet been received by participants, it is wise to eliminate any chance when a good substitute can and has been found.

After reading the large expenditures made for athletic equipment for the reforestation army, we wonder if the motive is one of planting trees or producing future heavy weight champions and Babe Ruths.

SLIPPERY ELM

By ALBERT E. DOBKINS

The finest example that school spirit exists at Washington was manifested in an occurrence that took place in accordance to the student body in general.

Last Saturday Washington completely outplayed Susquehanna as statistics will prove, yet lost by a score of 6 to 0 (not because of weakness in the technical phases of the game, not because of lack of determination or the will to win, but because of a jinx in the form of a mental hazard that the Maroon and Black has been unable to shake. The cause of this bitter defeat served as the living example of what has been liberally tagged lack of winning spirit at Washington.

The football squad spontaneously sensed the realization and at the earliest possible time met for the particular purpose of preventing the repetition of the same cause of future defeats on the gridiron. No one person called the meeting. Not even were the coaches aware that such a meeting was to take place on Sunday night.

It was the gridiron's own problem to be solved by themselves for themselves.

It would hardly be proper to disclose what took place at that meeting. You may see opponents roll up hundred points but you will never again see Washington's chin dropped.

Whatever spirit is, it was in evidence in the proceedings of Sunday night. In this day of every man for himself the whole thing was an inspiring experience. Let us begin to stir our own praises, suffice it to say that the College Spirit at Washington is not dead while any one of those twenty-three men on the football squad remains on the HILL.

Cultural Comment

By Joseph Freedman

We note with sadness the recent death of E. H. Sothern, America's most prominent Shakespearean actor, and dean of the romantic drama.

Twenty-five years Mr. Sothern had been closely identified with the stage, bringing to it a sense of dignity and grandeur that with him is gone forever. Among his more famous roles were Romeo, Shylock and Hamlet. He had begun his career in force, and as a player of comedy and romance. With Hamlet, however, Sothern became a tragedian, par excellence. Co-starring with his wife, Julia Marlowe, the two rose to unprecedented heights in the world of interpretation of Shakespeare. In 1920, after retiring from the stage, Mr. Sothern and Miss Marlowe jointly presented their complete collection of scenery, costumes and properties of the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre at Stratford-on-Avon.

In "Poor Splendid Wines" (Little Brown and Co.) Frances Winwar has given us the highlights of the Frosh-Sophistic days in England, and she has also created an exciting chronicle of the Rossettis and their circle.

PURLOINED PHRASES ME

By ROLAND LEKEBUSCH

By I. ONLY HEARD

She (at football game): "Darling, it's awfully cold here!"
 He: "Maybe it's because there are 10,000 fans here."

According to a French Professor at Syracuse University, when a French girl has reached the age when she can go to an institution of higher learning, she is considered old enough to direct her own affairs, and consequently is under no supervision from the school authorities.

I'll bet on idea like that would be welcomed in the U. S.

"A co-ed who had lost her compact walked:
 Compact, compact to me!" Grrr!

The enterprising students at St. Thomas College take out insurance policies against being called on in class. For a down payment of $100 they may collect $5.00 if the Professor calls on them.

According to various reports, a course in love-making is given at Middlebury College. Not only students, but also members of the faculty have signed up. Demonstrations are given by Seniors.

Some of last month's proposing "rats" might benefit from a few years of Middlebury.

Members of the Royal College of Surgeons in London have succeeded in changing fish into land animals.

Plato said: "Knowledge which is required under compulsion has no hold on the mind." We might as well all quit college!

"Man was born with two eyes and one tongue in order that he might see twice as much as he says."

News galore—and not enough space. Now that the headaches of Homecoming are placed in the archives of "past misadventures," we dimly recall many instances of that noxious weed and when all went along the "primrose" path.

First we have a swell story of Sgt. Col. Brown said of the Mead (Sv.) chin at the Country Club Dance but it's censored. Among the outstanding events of the past fortnight in the suffering of the Holy Hands by "Skip" and "Babs." LOTS OF LUCK. One does not need the specs to know why the A. K. Worston Club was formed. Baby is Honorary President, pronounced.

Mothers have warned their daughters of strange men—and so what? Olga asks Harry Huey what his intentions are—were he interested in the answer.

Last week we found Gamber tread by a poach in the basement of Middlebury Hall, but what night (772) last week we find him tread on Mt. Vernon Ave.—spray that Lib and Bob are gone, don't let the bow-wags get you Dick!

A Beer club has been formed. Five and walk is the requirement. Alas, the Grand Schorleifer can't take it and now a Co-Ed is after honor. She got them. Other clubs are being formed, not without purpose—there is the skating club—Charley Berry and the "Little White Lies" Whyte are the newest recruits.

Rumor has it that Sue dated three men in one day but only placed second, being eliminated by Flicker, who dated two in one day. Evidently, the boys aren't doing their best—or.

The new feed of truth parties is rampant in the aged Norman Hall—too true, hurts, but if that's the way we're really coming, little of that bitter essence is believed and from what we gather there were some rather "gummy" truths told. A mere "bull session" in one of the Fraternity houses seems to have caused more consternation among the co-eds than has two of their unveiling gatherings.

The Sheriff is still looking for that big blonde man on the campus. Why?

Mark Wingate following in the footsteps of many of those who have gone is leaving for the first time. Frosh so far as we know who has dated Mary Jo.

For I. North, I now recommend a driving tie to the use and good (It is a cure for sunambolism). Cosh'girl, if you start to sleep-walk again in the day light at least wear a coat.

See together:
 Casteel and Johns, Fontaine and Morgan, Hiscam and Legg, Skipp and Mitchell.

Go-eds wonder why Charlie Clark is not to be "had." Well girls, out!

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A store run for the benefit of the students, offers line of Wahl Dollar Pens and Pencils, Penknives, Pflows, Stickers, Stationery and School Supplies.

Hours: 9 to 12 A. M.; 1:15 to 4:30 P. M. Every Day but Saturday and Sunday.

Visit

THE COLLEGE BARBER SHOP

Cross Street
 Chestertown, Md.

—Advertise in The Elm.

COLLEGE SENIORS

RICHARD W. HALL

Richard W. Hall, more commonly known as "Joe" to his class and College mates, graduated from Princess Anne High School in 1930, after a rather successful High School career. He played on the teams, won the half-mile run in his county his Senior year, and took part in other extracurricular activities.

At Washington College "Joe" has primarily distinguished himself as a "mighty" small man in athletics, and as a fine friend. As far as we can find out, he has the respect of everyone who knows him. Not quite experienced enough to win his Varsity letter in football his first two years, "Joe" starred on the Freshmen and Sophomore class teams in their annual games. During his third year, however, he played a lot of good football, alternating at the Quarterback and halfback positions, and easily won his letter. This year, he has shown his versatility by playing not only in the backfield when needed, but by playing at the guard position, when injuries kept other players out. For a small man, his work is exceptionally fine. In Lacrosse he has not yet made a letter, partly due to the fact that he has been out for Goalkeeper, a position which has been expertly filled by Fritz Reinhold. However, Joe had some experience on the Attack last year, and it is expected he will play regularly in one of the positions left vacant by graduation last June. His ability in gymnastics has caused him to be often called "Little Jim London."

Hall is Sergeant-at-Arms of the Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity, a member of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society and of the Y. M. C. A. He is working for a B. S. degree, specializing in Physics and Mathematics, and qualifying for a Maryland High School Teaching certificate.

OMAR J. CAREY

Omar J. Carey, another Princess Anne youth, was the outstanding athlete at his High School, and was interested in most every High School activity. He matriculated at Washington College in the fall of 1930, and has made out well.

Carey played guard on the Freshmen and Sophomore Class teams, thought out for the Varsity team these two years also. Still trying to make the team when most fellows would have been discouraged and would have failed to continue the attempt, Omar has at last been given an opportunity to show his Football ability. When Ward was injured in the first game of this season, Carey was summoned to take his place. In the last three games he has played a brand of football that has gained the approval of the Coaches and the praise of his team-mates and others. Such persistence deserves recognition of the best kind. In Lacrosse also, Omar has distinguished himself. Substituting as a defense man for two years, he was switched to the In-home position last year and played regularly throughout the season. His consistent good and hard playing won for him an enviable Honorable Mention for the All-Maryland Lacrosse team last season. Coach Ekstis is banking heavily upon him this year.

Omar has been a star of the Class basketball games, making the All-Star Class team each year so far. Last spring he won the tennis championship of the College and was awarded a silver loving cup for his efforts. He is majoring in French and minoring in Spanish, and hopes to secure a position with the United Fruit Growers and travel in foreign countries after graduation.

W. EMORY BURKHARDT

William Emory Burkhardt was graduated with honors from Easton High School, Easton, Maryland. At that High School he took part in many extracurricular activities. He was in several play productions and played for two years on a fine soccer team, which in his Senior Year, 1930, won the Eastern Shore Championship. He also was county champion as High jumper.

"Burke" won a scholarship to Washington College and enrolled as a freshman in the fall of 1930. He has held several important positions while a student here. He was Assistant Business Manager of the Year Book, the Pegasus, in his Junior Year and this year is Business Manager. He is a reporter on the "ELM" Staff and served as chief Staff Photographer in 1932. He advanced from the Assistant Managership in the fall of 1932 to the Managership of the Football Team for his Senior Year. His ability was also recognized when he was elected manager of the Concert Orchestra for this year. He is a member of the Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity and of several other organizations on the Ell.

Burkhardt is majoring in History and minoring in English. He hopes to teach these subjects, and Coach Athletics. At Washington College he has been a valuable member of the Lacrosse squad for three years and will be again this year. He has also played Class Basketball.

JOHN R. SMITHSON

John R. Smithson came to Washington College in the fall of 1930 after graduating the previous June from Bolair High School with highest scholastic honors.

At the Shore College where he is majoring in Mathematics and the Sciences, Jack has been satisfied only with the best of grades. In his Sophomore and Junior Year he had the highest averages in his class, won both the Alumni Sophomore Medal and the Visitors and Governors Junior Medal. Though primarily a scholar, Smithson has become associated with several outstanding organizations on the "Hill." He is Historian of the Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity, President of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society of which he served as Secretary during the second semester of his Junior year, and Treasurer of the Y. M. C. A. He has twice Edited the Freshman Handbook and is a member of the Dean's Cabinet.

We look forward to nothing but the best for one of our classmates who, unsatisfied with his high grades alone, makes "three point ladies" and who hopes to teach.

Chesterfield Signal...
T-H-E-Y S-A-T-I-S-F-Y
watch 'em hold 'em!

Chesterfield

the cigarette that's MILDER the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

—By Geo. Ekeitis

The football season enters the home stretch. November is truly the "football" month. The spectator is treated to every sight he cares to see on the gridiron. Attacks have been smoothed out, defenses tightened, and the spectacular is needed to pathos and those precious yards and touchdowns. The games the dyed-in-the wool fan has been looking forward to, are played this month. Those unbeaten teams look forever, with anxiety, to this portion of the year and those beaten to making up for past defeats. This month belongs to the real American boy or college man. The thrill of a perfect block or good hard tackle; out-manuevering a worthy opponent; carrying, by hard work, a victory; or in defeat, the glorious feeling that one has done one's best. November belongs to the great American game of football; and to the American boy or young man who plays it, and the young and old who are interested in the sport.

Into this month go only a few undefeated teams. Among the best known are, Michigan, Southern California, Fordham and Duke. And each of these fact tests that may tempt them into the ranks of the defeated any Saturday of this month. Even October gave a couple of them slight wounds. Fordham and Southern California will not forget the battles they had to wage to win 2 to 0 and 6 to 2 respectively. Today Fordham, Duke, Colgate, Duquesne and Michigan face tests worthy of some loss of sleep last night. The majority will handle the barriers, but two should fall.

Our sports today are rivals of long standing. Many have been the hard-fought contests with them in all sports. And in the winning or losing, these contests have been cleanly played and today will be no exception.

KREGER'S JEWELRY STORE

Eyes examined and glasses fitted by a graduate Optician. Fountain Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films and Developing.

Watches, Rings and Novelty Jewelry.

STUDENTS

We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.

Whitman's Candy. Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Leatherine Line from Paris.

Abbott's DeLux Ice Cream. Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco. STAM DRUG COMPANY The Prescription Store

DELAWARE BLUE HENS CONQUER SHOREMEN

Repeat 8 To 0 Triumph Of Last Year Before Large Crowd

Before the largest crowd ever to witness a football contest at Washington Field, the Maroon and Black performers played a great game, only to lose to the "Blue Hens" of Delaware by the same score as last year, 8 to 0. Washington outplayed the Delaware invaders after the first five minutes, but their scoring punch was not forthcoming. Brauer scored Delaware's only touchdown in the first few minutes of play, aided greatly by a fifteen yard pass, which placed the ball on the one-yard line. A few minutes later, Fohl of Delaware broke through to block Reinhold's punt from behind the goal line. Reinhold recovered the ball for safety, which added two points to Delaware's score.

Throughout the second half Washington consistently advanced the ball mainly through a ball totting of Berry and Reinhold, and the forward passing of Blainson. Time and time again Washington threatened to score but seemed to lack that scoring punch which has not won a close battle for them.

The play of Carey and Hall in the guard positions was the feature of the game. These little sticks of dynamite were a thorn in the Delaware attack throughout the second half. Green and Kemke bore the brunt of the Delaware offensive, while the fine defensive play of Palmer, a huge tackle, was outstanding.

"Elm" Picks Notre Dame

Last time we picked six out of ten winners. Let's see what we can do today. Here goes:

Washington and Mt. St. Mary's (tie).

Princeton to beat Brown.

Notre Dame to beat Navy.

Fordham to beat Mt. St. Mary's.

Tulane to beat Colgate.

Barnhill to beat W. Va.

Michigan to beat Illinois.

Yale to beat Dartmouth.

Columbia to beat Cornell.

Duke to beat Auburn.

Record—Win, 6; Lost, 4; Pts. 600.

THE REXAL STORE EASTMAN KODAKS FILMS DEVELOPING and PRINTING BY EXPERTS DRUGS and SUNDRIES

ALL KINDS

A. L. STERLING

NOTICE!

For College Rings, Balts and Football Pins, See Edwin Lee, '36, Room 36, East Hall.

Compliments of

Chestertown

Electric Light and Power Company

Vanities

are the sort you dream about. Tiny handfuls of sheer silk that stand the hardest kind of wear and cost next to nothing. Come in and see them!

THE MARGARET E. JEFFERSON SHOP

Vanities

are the sort you dream about. Tiny handfuls of sheer silk that stand the hardest kind of wear and cost next to nothing. Come in and see them!

THE MARGARET E. JEFFERSON SHOP

Vanities

are the sort you dream about. Tiny handfuls of sheer silk that stand the hardest kind of wear and cost next to nothing. Come in and see them!

THE MARGARET E. JEFFERSON SHOP

Vanities

are the sort you dream about. Tiny handfuls of sheer silk that stand the hardest kind of wear and cost next to nothing. Come in and see them!

THE MARGARET E. JEFFERSON SHOP

Washington's Foes Lose Last Week

Haverford Bows To Hopkins; Albright Beats St. Joseph's

Mt. St. Mary's has been the tough luck team of the state so far this season. They have lost four games, to Georgetown, Western Maryland, St. Vincent's and Lebanon Valley, and last week, tied Loyola in the closing minutes of the game. Georgetown beat them because of reserve material, in the fourth quarter, and Western Maryland won only as a result of a recovered fumble deep in the Mount territory. Loyola was completely outplayed and gained only about one-third as much ground. Hopkins, who is making a strong bid for Maryland honors, seems to be the only real threat. In last week's game of Kibler field, the Malleysman will be keyed up to win their first victory, and the game will be close, for the Shoremen are set to gain an undesired defeat at Selingsgrove last week.

St. Joseph's College will be met by the Washington College eleven at Philadelphia on Saturday, November 11. Though improved over last year, the Hawks took a 47 to 0 losing last week when they engaged Albright College. However against Susquehanna University, a team in their class they did well, losing only by a 7 to 6 count. The Washington College-St. Joseph's game should be evenly matched.

Haverford, according to Coach Ullery, of Susquehanna University, is one of the most improved teams he has seen this year. Though they lost one of two of last year's players, and depend chiefly on young men of their ground gaining, they held Susquehanna to a 6 to 0 skinny victory and last week repeated the onslaught of Johns Hopkins University time after time, but finally yielded a 13 to 0 victory to the Blue Jays. Looked upon as rather easy prey for the Shoremen earlier in the season, Haverford will be as tough to beat as any other team on the schedule.

Loyola College, of Baltimore, the last opponent of the Maroon and Black, to be met on Nov. 25, were last week to break into the win column all season. Their best effort was last Saturday when they held a much better Mt. St. Mary's team to a 7 to 7 draw. The Jesuits will point for the Shoremen and will prepare an aerial offensive, for it is remembered that last year they threw passes all over the gridiron to beat the Washingtonians 52 to 0.

JAMES E. NEWTON

Cleaning—Pressing

Repairing

105 Court Street

Chestertown, Maryland

BARNETT'S

OVER STERLING'S SHOP

First Class Service and

Expert Workmen

Vanities

are the sort you dream about. Tiny handfuls of sheer silk that stand the hardest kind of wear and cost next to nothing. Come in and see them!

THE MARGARET E. JEFFERSON SHOP

Vanities

are the sort you dream about. Tiny handfuls of sheer silk that stand the hardest kind of wear and cost next to nothing. Come in and see them!

THE MARGARET E. JEFFERSON SHOP

Vanities

are the sort you dream about. Tiny handfuls of sheer silk that stand the hardest kind of wear and cost next to nothing. Come in and see them!

THE MARGARET E. JEFFERSON SHOP

GIRLS' HOCKEY TEAMS CHOSEN FOR SEASON

Fresh-Junior Team Promises To Be Strong

The board of managers of the G. L. A. met for the purpose of selecting two teams composed of the Freshman-Junior and Sophomore-Senior classes. No definite decisions were made in regard to these teams. The Sophomores and Seniors have Basin, Helms, Bynn, Metcalfe, Frederick and Cruikshank back in their old positions. Picarella, Grainger a flat inner who played with Sweet Briar last year is shy filling the position left open by Bowen.

The Freshman-Junior team is made up mainly of Freshmen. With a little more experience their line will function like veterans. Anthony and Harshaw as wing and center are the main stays of the team. They promise more opposition than the Sophomores and Seniors have met in former years. The first game will be played sometime in the week of November 6th.

The probable lineup will be:

Soph-Senior	Fresh-Junior
Kevin C.	C. Harshaw
Wyle R.I.	Post
Byrn R.W.	Anthony
Grainger L.I.	E. Stevens
Sewell L.W.	Fyfe
Helm C.H.	Insley
Metcalfe R.H.	M. Brown
Frederick L.H.	Ros
Ford R.F.	Hyland
Rugen L.F.	Shearer
L. Cruikshank G.	Nicholson

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149

C. W. Kibler & Sons

See Food Is Our Specialty
HERB'S RESTAURANT and BEER GARDEN
Serving
Chestertown, Maryland
Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.
Best Food
Prompt Service
Our Beer Is The Best In Town

Pure Food is the Foundation of Your Health

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT

Soda, Candy, Cigarettes, Beer on Draught

Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.

Phone 207 Chestertown, Md.

Safeguard Your Stomach, It Is Your Best Friend

The Emerson Hotel

Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings

Unexcelled

Rooms $3 ap—Autos Garaged

Private Rooms and

Banquet Halls

For All Occasions

Susquehanna Beats Maroon And Black

Coach Ekaitis's Chargers Take Undeserved Defeat

Washington's ambitious football team traveled to Selingsgrove, Pa., last Saturday and outplayed, out rushed, and outlasted a heavy Susquehanna team but came out on the short end of the score, 0 to 0. Susquehanna managed to score a touchdown in the waning minutes of play in the last period and captured another close battle from the Maroon and Black cohorts.

The Maroon and Black's flashy backfield quartet of Reinhold, Dobkins, Berry and Blainson sprung a brilliant passing attack that had the Susquehanna Defense baffled, but inside the 20-yard stripe their scoring attempts were checked. They had the ball on the 1-yard line but failed to push it over the goal line.

Captain Lee Rishel led his Susquehanna team in brilliant fashion and was the main factor in the only score of the game, which was played before several thousand homecoming fans. The defensive play of "Al" Dobkins featured for the Washington College team.

The lineup and summary:

Washington	Susquehanna
Clark L.E.	VonKandy
Dwyer L.T.	Eisenhower
Low L.C.	Sullivan
Lord C.	Fisher
Hall R.G.	Tice
Gawry R.T.	Swope
Schupp R.E.	Schlegel
Reinhold Q.B.	Wasilewski
Blainson L.H.	Rishel
Dobkins R.H.	Sholly
Robbins F.B.	Hanna

Score by periods:

Washington 0 0 0 0—0

Susquehanna 0 0 0 0—0

Modern Shoe Repairing Store

PAUL SIPALA

Next to Sterling Drug

COLLEGE HILL LUNCH ROOM

Light Lunch

Beer on Draught

W. M. CROWDING, Prop.

PROF. GOODWIN SPEAKS AT BLUE KEY BANQUET

Five New Members Installed At Annual Affair

The Blue Key National Honorary Fraternity of Washington College held its annual banquet on Thursday evening, October 26, at the Bell Haven Tea Room. The Banquet was marked by the installation of new members, elected by their respective classes last Spring.

Professor Frank Goodwin was introduced by Toastmaster Albert E. Dobkins as the guest speaker of the evening. He complimented the group for their active part and leadership in Campus activities, and spoke of the position the Fraternity held.

Others present in addition to Professor Goodwin and President Dobkins were Dr. F. G. Livingood, Faculty Advisor, Professor F. W. Dumschott, Dr. Davis and old members: Richard Gamber, Charles B. Clark, John Lord, Harry Hroy, William Baker and Michael Wallace; and new members who were installed; Broderette Nettle, William O. Baker, Chas. Berry, Albert Bilancioni, and George Pratt.

(Continued in Next Column)

Dr. Paul E. Titsworth Visits College For Mead Inaugural

Washington College was very glad to welcome back Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, former president of the college who visited here the week end of October 21 to witness the inauguration of Dr. Gilbert W. Mead as the new president of the institution and the bestowing of the degree upon President Roosevelt.

Dr. Titsworth seemed in the best of health and very much enthused over the visit of President Roosevelt. He considered the event to be the greatest that has ever happened at the college history. He remarked additionally that the feeling of comradeship between the student body and faculty has been noticeably on the increase since the installation of Dr. Mead, and that the greatest period of development of the college has begun. He stated also that Dr. Mead's numberless contacts will be of great benefit to the college.

Student Council Minutes

The meeting was called to order by President Gamber and the previous minutes were read and approved. A final report on the returns of the Delaware dance was presented—the total profit being $18.50.

The library schedule of student council men was discussed. President Gamber suggested that the members being present in the library should act at their discretion in helping to maintain order. The sentiment was advanced that the presence of a student council man in the library as a "policeman" was undesirable. It was suggested that the librarians present a list of offenders to the council.

After a discussion the date for the "Pajama parade" was set for Wednesday, Nov. 1. (weather permitting.) President Gamber announced that the Freshman election would be held Friday, November 3, at 12:30 P. M. President Gamber appointed Messrs. Sadler, Saylor and Bilancioni to draw up plans in regard to the Thanksgiving holiday—their plans to include the Fresh-Soph football game. (Tentative date, November 29).

The cafeteria situation was discussed with the result that the cafeteria committee is to confer with President Mead.

A further suggestion was made to the effect that President Gamber speak to the Student Body after the next assembly in regard to cutting camps, cutting in line at the cafeteria, etc.

A discussion of the desirability of a shower bath in the gymnasium for the girls resulted to the effect that this matter is to be presented to President Mead.

Respectfully submitted,
John Mason Lord, Sec.

Compliments of
THE PARK ROW
BEAUTY SHOPPE

INTELLIGENCE TESTS TO BE GIVEN NOVEMBER 9

Every Student Required To Take Tests This Thursday

According to Dr. F. G. Livingood, Intelligence Tests will be given to the College students at the time of the regular Thursday morning Assembly, November 11. Further information will be posted regarding these tests.

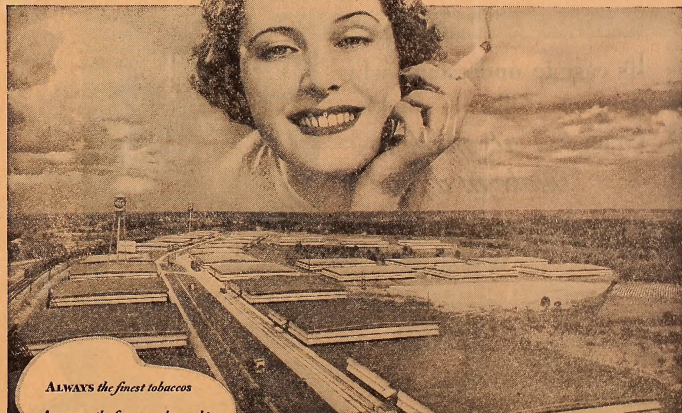

On Thursday morning, November 16, Mr. Samuel E. Shannahan, Chairman of the Board of State Aid and Charities, will address the student body.

PIPPEN'S
BARBER SHOP

Pippen's Hotel

Hair Cutting My
Specialty

COSTLY TOBACCOS?

Airplane view of American Tobacco Company warehouses at Red Bank, N. C.

ALWAYS the finest tobaccos

ALWAYS the finest workmanship

ALWAYS Luckies please!

One Hundred Million Dollars worth of fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos are being aged by the makers of Lucky Strike

In fine warehouses like these—open to soft Southern breezes—a huge reserve of choice Turkish and Domestic tobaccos is aging and mellowing, 27 different kinds of tobacco, "the Cream of the Crop"—for nothing but the best is used to make Luckies so round, so firm, so fully packed—free from annoying loose ends. That's why Luckies are always so mild, so smooth,

"it's toasted"

FOR THROAT PROTECTION—FOR BETTER TASTE

Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE AT W. MD. THIS WEEK END

Prof. Van Dusen And Francis
Henson Outstanding Speakers

"Today Challenges Christianity" is the topic chosen for discussion at a conference for college men and women held under the auspices of the Tri-State Council of Christian Associations at Western Maryland College this week end, November 3 to November 5th. Socialism, Capitalism, Communism, Facism, and the N. R. A. are included in the discussion list. The leaders, Professor Henry F. H. Van Dusen, and Francis H. Henson are to be eminent. Professor Van Dusen, a graduate of Princeton University and Union Theological Seminary, is now Dean of the Seminary from which he recently graduated.

Francis A. Henson is an economist who is concerned about the contribution which prophetic christianity can make to fundamental social change. He has been Executive Secretary of the National Religion and Labor Foundation. Mr. Henson has traveled widely both in all parts of the United States and Europe.

CACHET DRAWN BY ROBT. M. SWAIN WINS CONTEST

Is A Talented Student Of Unusual Ability

The contest for the degree presentation cachet was won by Robert M. Swain, class of '37. As was announced in the last "Elm" this cachet was to be used with the historical account of the reception of honorary degrees by George Washington and Franklin Roosevelt from Washington College. The contest was sponsored by the Maryland Commemorative Association of Baltimore.

The winning of the contest by Robert Swain brings our attention to this talented student. Only a few of his friends have known of his unusual ability. A graduate of West Nottingham Academy, he has attended the Maryland Institute and the Maryland School of Art. His cachet is on display in Room 11 for all those who wish to see it.

After the Show follow
the Crowd to the Most
Modern Ice Cream Par-
lor in Town.
GILL BROS.

NO NICE GIRL SWEARS

Extracts taken from Alice Leone
Most's Book, by Olga Shortess

That little simple sentence "No Nice Girl Swears" by now clings quite familiarly on many and many an eardrum. Hitherto the statement itself has gone unchallenged and unexplained. Therefore it might seem high time that the title of these literary feelings be delved into. So the question is, will she or won't she, and if so why not? Alice Leone is stilled at nothing. She delights the question of cursing and swearing and using bad words thus. "Mrs. Post tells us that no lady ever uses slang or swears. Surely this is a slight exaggeration. Or have we been misled by the movie of the day in which the heroines, perfect little ladies all, would in moments of girlish daring refer to their chaperons as "gooseberries," talk of "spooning" (although heaven pretend they should have practiced it) and call "daisy" where we use "sweil." What- ever expression happen to be the current style in slang fall into such general use that the most sensitive ear becomes accustomed to them, and stubborn punists by adopting them unconsciously (usually, it is true, after the rest of the world has had to find something new or go mad). But swearing is slightly different. It has not been affected by vogues, and although an occasional "damn" passes unnoticed, any systematic swearing on the part of a woman comes as a shock. It is always ugly and particularly in moments of stress, vulgar. People who preface every sentence with "My God" are worse. They're tiresome.

(Continued In Next Column)

McCALLISTERS Quality Sporting Goods

Catalogue on Request
124 W. Baltimore St.
Baltimore, Md.

FOX'S

Anything you want at
the Right Price
5c to $1.00
Store

DEL-MAR-VA
RESTAURANT
Beer and
Special Lunches
We Cater to Parties

THE BELLHAVEN
Home of Good Food
College Hill
Telephone 331-M

THE FITCH DUSTDOWN
COMPANY
Janitor Supplies
801 South Howard Street
Baltimore, Md.

H. D. OREM & SON
Headquarters for
Farmer's Hardware and
Supplies
Case Tractors, Thrashers,
Combines
Phone 217. Chestertown

Visit
ALBERT L. WHEAT
For Anything
in
Men's Wear

SMITH'S KUT-RATE DRUG STORE

The only place where you
can buy home-made Ice Cream.

It's easy to understand why the young folks are smoking
Granger... it's made to smoke in a pipe

a sensible package 10 cents

Granger Rough Cut

— the tobacco that's MADE FOR PIPES

Washington reserves—O'Farrell, Clerk, Hall, Harries, Jones, Greims, Bilancioni, Pratt, Mend, Cohee, Stacey, Towner, Taylor.

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

EDITOR CHARLES B. CLARK
Assistant Editor William O. Baker
Literary Editor Albert E. Dobkins
Exchange Editor Roland E. Lekebusch
Women's Editor Sarah Ellen Eyrn
Sports Editor Harry B. Huey
Alumni Editor Philip J. Wingate

REPORTERS
Feature Reporters Emory Burkhardt, Joseph Freedman
Reporters This Issue John Emmord, Albert Ginitis, Carroll Cantel, Philip Skipp, John Lord, Martha Shaver, Marvin Ford, Olga Shortess, Jean Harshaw, Alfred Taylor, Ella Barkley.

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES
 Alfred S. Hodgson, Richard Gamber, William Baker
SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES
 Alexina Robinson, Doris Metcalf, Gladys B. Aldridge
BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager J. Patterson Beaman
Assistant Business Manager Louis L. Goldstein
Circulation Manager Emerson P. Slocum
Assistant Circulation Manager Ernest Holliday
Advertising Manager Joseph McLean

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.
 Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, NOV. 18, 1933

CHEER LEADING

During the recent Football season Cheer Leading at Washington College has taken on a new aspect. Increased College spirit has necessitated that something be done to organize a definite system. Two students have done most of the cheer leading at the Pep Meetings and at the games, and though lacking in experience, they have done well and are to be greatly commended for their cooperative spirit. There would be full college spirit if people who at times have belittled efforts of these two men, would show as much willingness to support the players.

The improvement that we have noted has led to a desire for further advancement. Thus, the Varsity Club has taken initial steps that in a week or two should be results. The Athletic Council has intimated that it approves of the plan and is ready to back it. This proposed procedure as advanced by the Varsity Club, is briefly described. In short, Cheer Leaders during their first two years. The idea resembles the letter men. Men who hope to become the Senior Cheer Leader will have to report in their Freshman Year, be given try-outs, and then aid at Pep Meetings and be on hand to learn the art at games.

The President of the Athletic Association of which every student is a member, will present this plan to the Student Body at the regular Thursday morning Assembly this week, for approval. Students should consider the matter over and if a better method is known, it is advisable that it be submitted to the Varsity Club or to the President of the Athletic Association.

The Athletic Council, consisting of the Athletic Director, the Graduate Manager of Athletics, a Faculty Member, and the President of the Athletic Association, has final authority in the matter of awarding letters. They use their own discretion, and thus, on at least one occasion we know of, in 1929, a varsity "W" was awarded a cheer leader who was not ready to respond intelligently when the proposition is laid before you.

WE ARE GRATEFUL

The College was very fortunate this past Thursday morning to view motion pictures taken at its great celebration here on Oct. 21, when President Franklin D. Roosevelt visited and received the Doctor of Laws Degree, conferred by Dr. Gilbert W. Mead, who had just been inaugurated as President of Washington College.

We are deeply indebted to and grateful to the owners of the Lyceum Theatre who generously showed the two reels on their screen; and to the National Motion Picture Company which presented them to us. Students, Faculty Members, and visitors were impressed as thoughts ran back to the day which whenever we think of College. President Mead already has said that we should all be proud of our Institution, and should not hesitate to inform others of it, especially when the Chief Executive of the Nation writes after his visit that he is very honored to be an Alumnus of Washington College. Each student should have aroused in himself a progressive feeling.

SLIPPERY ELM

By ALBERT E. DOBKINS

At last Washington is to have an organized corps of cheer leaders. It is strange that this essential phrase athletics has been overlooked at the college. Colleges and Universities no different in makeup from Washington have organized cheering of which they can be rightly proud. (We are reminded of the part that the Sassafras student body played in turning certain defeat into victory). The participants can be quite sure that the part that a yell cheering section plays in victory or defeat.

Though the efforts of members of the "W" Club a plan has been devised similar to that by which managers are provided whereby there will be a regular body of cheer leaders during the college year. As an inducement and because a good cheer leader is as deserving of athletic praise as a competitor, major athletic awards will be given cheer leaders who win letters. In order to insure the awarding of the athletic certificate "legal" and the wearing of the "W" legitimate, an amending clause will be added to that effect in the constitution of the Athletic Association, and the awards for cheer leading will be made through the A. A. just as for a membership or an emblem now.

The Athletic Council has approved the proposed action and on Thursday the matter will be presented in detail before the student body and a vote of the Athletic Association, of which all students are members, will be taken.

AS A STUDENT SEES IT

By Marian Emmord

Unexpected opposition appeared in the results of the recent German election. Although Hitler asked for an unanimous endorsement of the Geneva stand, out of the eligible electorate of forty five million, more than two million (4.7 per cent.) have the vote, they might or might not be anxious to vote "yes." One and eight tenths per cent. of the electorate did not vote. Some possible explanations of this dissension might have been the fact that there is only one party in Germany. Votes are cast "yes" or "no." Then, too, the German women may be discontented with the present vote. Several foreign countries eligible Germany boarded steamers and cast their vote outside the three mile limit.

The exact question as Hitler put it was "Do you, German man or German woman, approve of the policy of the Reich government and art thou ready to acknowledge this policy as the expression of thy own will and will, and solemnly pledge thyself to it?"

The first world war, which ended on Nov. 11, 1918, killed ten million and maimed ten million others. Fifteen years after the peace, all the countries of the world are armed camps whose military strength and armament power far exceed the pre-war level. The only benefits accrued from this "organized slaughter" are enormous fortunes amassed by the munitions factories, whose stockholders flourish, according to an article in last month's "Forum," some of the leading statesmen in the world.

PURLOINED PHRASES

By ROLAND LEKEBUSCH

The Sophomores' Theme Song:—

"Who's afraid of the Big Brownell?"

Overheard after a faculty meeting:
 Dean: "Now we ought to hold a meeting to decide what we decided."

English Prof.: "This essay on 'Our Dog' is exactly the same as Miss—"
 Miss—"
 Freshman: "Yes sir, the same dog."

"Curse it! Curse it!" hissed the villain as he held the girl.

"No I ain't!" protested the girl, "it's just a girlie!"

English Prof.: "Well what do you think of O'Henry?"
 Senior: "It's alright, but the nutstick is in my teeth."

"Nut culture" is one of the courses offered at Oklahoma College. In order to prevent ambiguity the catalogue adds: "the study of pecans, walnuts, almonds, etc., does not mean."

Rock a bye, baby,
 On a tree top,
 'N't you fall out,
 It's a helluva drop.

"Where do good girls go?"
 To Heaven!"

"Who do good girls go?"
 "Behind the power house!"

Grudge: "Now we shall see the anachronism of King Tut!"

Barfald old mad (thinking): "I'd rather stay out here!"

Then there's the childless couple that ate lots of oysters because the advertisements said that cereals were good for growing children.

OPEN FORUM

To The Editor of The Elm.—Sir: The fact that during the past week the temperature has fallen below the zero mark causes the writing of this communication. Whether or not we are supposed to be Eskimos or polar bears isn't determined, but there is no justification in our being kept out in the cold before the cafeteria doors are open. Do you know of any reason why we aren't allowed to stand in front of them and wait the serving time?

It implies, it seems, lack of consideration for the student body. The policy of keeping the students outside might be defended by saying that they needn't come until the doors are opened. That could be a good argument if the doors opened at precisely the same time every day and if there would not be too great a rush by all the students piling in at once. Such however, is not the case.

It is hoped that this Open Forum letter might awaken those in charge to their lack of consideration that students deserve. Certainly the waiters would not be bothered, nor would anyone by allowing us to enter the cafeteria and wait there.

—A Sufferer.

TOLD TO ME

By I. ONLY HEARD

Turbulent times these, weather had, much terrible, radio full of static, headlines from all sorts to study "canon marks in the monthly page of tests" (7).

As we've heard it. It is: "As constant as the north Star." Well, so but this man Shaul is false to old tradition and the light is on Mobile Smith.

It has been merely hinted—Rhodes is a horse thief.

Gracie is saying "Shot whet?" (Ticcy misst).

Advice to girl candidates for office—signify "how peraps you can guess what it takes to become a council member.

Privately Jean hasn't asked "The Old Man" his intentions. Perhaps, oh, well who knows?

Do broken thumbs hinder in playing Anthony over? Ans. Double negative.

Wotta man, Beaul! "My name is on every can." But to whom may Duth Cleanser be applied? Motto—on every can "It changes dirt." (We must be thinking of some other student body).

A Non-Club member is chattering in on the Weston Club—yes, right out from under the president's nose—Arise "Finch Penny!"

Baby speaks in jorified (1) tone of girls keeping her waiting until 2 A. M. Now Baby why and what were you doing hanging around? An unfinished story is very damaging to yourself. A few words, we know, but then what? Also where was Beaul?

Some sing like the birds, but what two chant the Eagle's song, "United We Stand, Experiences Unseen on occasions!"

The Sons of the Gods are to dally with the daughters of Man, hers de combat in a hockey game. At Swarthmore the Ladies always win—the thought occurs to the writer, if the Sons win what will that make our own fair daughters?

Knowing him as we do, we know he isn't subject to hallucinations, so stay off the primrose path—it is a fine collar and after all, guess—let's agree for knowledge. However—the ladies' advice: Don't let your studies interfere with your education.

Who hides for the Czars, Fritz Kreider Reinhold or Rubenoff Jarrell?

Young Markham makes an extended tour of Red Hall on Saturday night. He is no novice as night watchman.

Our opinions were confirmed this week when the lights of the tower shone from Red Hall windows. It was not the color that started Paul Revere on his midnight ride.

Time and tide wait for no man—or woman, says one of my sophomores and was told from the portals of Red Hall sans femme.

THE FITCH DUSTDOWN COMPANY
 Janitor Supplies
 801 South Howard Street
 Baltimore, Md.

After the Show follow
 the Crowd to the Most
 Modern Ice Cream Parlor in Town.
GILL BROS.

FOOTBALL

—By a Follower

MT. ST. MARY'S DEFEATS WASHINGTON, 19-6 SCORE

Coach Ekstis's Team Unable To Check Mounts

Mt. St. Mary's football squad in waded Washington field, Saturday Nov. 4th and managed to win by the same score as last year, 19 to 6. The victors had a powerful offense which on study line and again ripped through on sturdy line for long gains. Aciri and Corridon scored their touchdowns after successful plunges through the line, while Hopkins, Mt. St. Mary's star ball carrier, scored his on a long run. Dekbins, our mighty fullback, intercepted a lateral pass and sprinted 30 yards to score Washington's lone touchdown.

Washington failed to take advantage of two Mt. St. Mary's fumbles early in the game and lost the ball on downs. Hopkins played the return of Reinhold's punt paved the way for Mt. St. Mary's first touch down in the first quarter. Washington had several chances to score late in the game, but poor judgment in picking the plays spoiled the opportunities. Hopkins, Aciri and Corridon were the mainstays of Mt. St. Mary's team, while Dekbins, Reinhold and Capt. Gamber upheld the Maroon and Black's attack.

FLYING PENTAGON TO PLAY FOURTEEN GAMES

Graduate Manager Dumchott Lists State Games Chieffy

The 1934 Basketball schedule of the Flying Pentagon, as recently released by Prof. Frederick W. Dumchott, Graduate Manager of Athletics at Washington College, consists of fourteen games. Only three of date of Washington are expected to draw a reasonably large crowd. The Jesuits have not won a game and have indicated that they are looking forward to their tussle with the Shoremen in order to end the season with one victory. Early in the season, Comford's team tied Langley Field, and later on held a much stronger Mt. St. Mary's combination to a 7 to 7 tie.

Coach Ekstis expects to have his full strength on hand next week, with the exception of Harries, having injured today. Harries is the best player at Washington College during the last few years, is still incapacitated by torn ligaments in his ankle. Ben Noddy who has played a bangup game at tackle all season, will probably hold down his position despite a broken nose, incurred in the St. Joseph's contest at Dekbins, Fritz, Schibler, Captain Gamber, and Ralph Harries, seniors in the starting lineup will be given consideration for All-State honors. Other Seniors who will wear the Maroon and Black football uniforms for the last time next week will be Joe Hall and Omar Casey, the two most improved players on the squad. Joe O'Farrell and Charley Clark, reserve ends.

STUDENTS, ATTENTION
Call at CARL'S
THE COLLEGE
BARBER SHOP
Cress Street

For your copy of the Washington Basketball Schedule

Modern Shoe Repairing
Store
PAUL SIPALA
Next to Sterling Drug

Sea Food Is Our Specialty
HERB'S
RESTAURANT
and
BEER GARDEN
—Dancing—
Chesertown, Maryland
Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.
—Real Food—
Prompt Service
Our Beer Is The Best In Town

LOCAL FULLBACK

Albert E. Dekbins, of Washington, Connecticut, has been the most consistent player on the Maroon and Black eleven this Fall. He has far exceeded expectations, playing smart football in each contest. His defensive fullback playing is as good as that of any small college performer.

Gridders Will Meet Loyola Next Week

Jesuits Look For First Victory On Kibler Field

Loyola College of Baltimore will be met next Saturday in the final contest for each team. The bitter rivalry that has always existed between representatives of Loyola and Washington College is expected to draw a reasonably large crowd.

The Jesuits have not won a game and have indicated that they are looking forward to their tussle with the Shoremen in order to end the season with one victory. Early in the season, Comford's team tied Langley Field, and later on held a much stronger Mt. St. Mary's combination to a 7 to 7 tie.

Coach Ekstis expects to have his full strength on hand next week, with the exception of Harries, having injured today. Harries is the best player at Washington College during the last few years, is still incapacitated by torn ligaments in his ankle. Ben Noddy who has played a bangup game at tackle all season, will probably hold down his position despite a broken nose, incurred in the St. Joseph's contest at Dekbins, Fritz, Schibler, Captain Gamber, and Ralph Harries, seniors in the starting lineup will be given consideration for All-State honors. Other Seniors who will wear the Maroon and Black football uniforms for the last time next week will be Joe Hall and Omar Casey, the two most improved players on the squad. Joe O'Farrell and Charley Clark, reserve ends.

"Elm" Chooses S. California Over Undeleted Oregon

Today's games will probably see the fall of one or two of the seven undefeated and united major teams in the country. We're inclined to stick by them for the most part, however.

Our choices:
Michigan to beat Minnesota.
Pittsburgh to beat New York.
Southern California to beat Oregon.
Duke to beat North Carolina.
Kalamazoo to beat Pitt.
Georgia to beat Auburn.
Washington College to beat Harvard.
U. of Maryland to beat Hopkins.
Gettysburg to beat Mt. St. Mary's.
St. John's to beat St. Joseph's.
Record: Won 12, Lost 8.

SENIOR - SOPH TEAM WINS HOCKEY GAME

Helms, Byrn and Rainsin Star For Winners

With experience and smooth-running team work on their side the Sophomore-Senior Hockey team, led by Carolyn Helms, came through with a victory last Thursday over the Freshman-Junior team.

The teams were more evenly matched than they have been in former years. The Freshman-Junior team is made up of Freshmen except for two players. Many of the Freshmen are playing their first year of hockey. They carried their defense is stronger than their offense. The Sophomore line carried the ball to the Sophomore-Senior twenty-five yard line but lost it in passing to the center for a drive at the goal. They were unable to score throughout the entire game.

The Sophomore-Senior team showed a remarkable improvement over last year. With Rainsin and Byrn playing their same fast game on the line, and timely and consistent saves by Helms and Metcalfe, it was a well lost game by the Freshmen. Leah Frederick, who has not been up in her usual goal in practice, this fall, came back with a good, steady game. Sterling, who played most of the game at fullback for the Freshman-Junior team played a veteran game. The next game promises to be one of the best played at Washington College.

The lineup was as follows:

Soph-Senior	Fresh-Junior
Jewell	R.W. Pyle
Byrn	L.E. Wapcott
Rainsin	C. Harshaw
Pyle	L.L.E. Stevens
Sutton	L.W. Anthony
Metcalfe	R.H. M. Brown
Helms	C.H. Inley
Frederick	L.H. Roe
ord	R.B. Hyland
Curter	L.B. Sterling
Crutcher	Nicholson

 Substitutions: Sophomore-Senior: Grainger for Sutton; Youse for Pyle; North for Harter. Freshman-Junior: Westley for Hyland; L. Stevens for Westcott; Shover for Sterling.
 Score: Jewell 1; Rainsin 3; Grainger 1; Metcalfe 1.

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149
C. W. Kibler & Sons

—Advertise in The Elm.

Pure Food is the Foundation of Your Health
CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT

Sade, Candy, Cigarettes, Beer on Draught
Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.
Phone 207 Chesertown, Md.
Safeguard Your Stomach, It Is Your Best Friend

The Emerson Hotel
Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled
Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

Maroon And Black Lose To St. Joseph's

Kane's Touchdown In First Quarter Causes 7-0 Defeat

The Washington College football team journeyed to Philadelphia last Saturday, Nov. 11, and lost a bitterly fought game to St. Joseph's. St. Joseph's managed to put across a touchdown early in the first quarter, which proved to be enough to win the contest, 7 to 0. The game, which was played in a raw, cold wind, was a running game throughout. Reinhold's punting being held up to Kane's great ball kicking.

Washington advanced the ball well into St. Joseph's territory early in the first quarter but lost the ball on downs. St. Joseph's offense immediately started to click and they advanced the ball down the field, combining running plays with long forward passes, to score their only touchdown. Five other times St. Joseph's advanced the ball within the twenty yard line, but Washington put up a stubborn defense and took the ball on downs each time. Kane and Harrison starred in the play of St. Joseph's, while Dekbins and Dwyer gave great exhibition of offensive play.

The lineup and summary:

St. Joseph's	Washington
McCluer	L.E. Gamber
Riley	L.T. Dwyer
Hemley	L.G. Nowak
Harrison	C. Horries
Auch	R.C. Lord
Cresso	R.E. Ward
Mancusina	R.T. Scipio
Chesman	Q.B. Reinhold
Kane	L.H. Grooms
Becker	R.H. Berry
Schilling	F.B. Dekbins

 Score by periods:

St. Joseph's	Washington
7	0
0	0
0	0
0	0

H. D. OREM & SON
Headquarters for
Farmer's Hardware and
Supplies
Case Tractors, Thrashers,
Combines
Phone 217. Chestertown

Visit
ALBERT L. WHEAT
For Anything
in
Men's Wear

As the Football season draws near a close throughout the country, there is much speculation over which of the now seven major undefeated teams will survive final games without a setback. Each of these combinations is looking hopefully toward the Rose Bowl games at Pasadena, for in all probability the representatives of both the West and the East will not be definitely known for several Saturdays.

Last Saturday marked the fall of the Great Southern California team, which finally was overtaken by a young and promising Stanford team, showing improvement after Pop Warner pulled out for Temple. The Fox West still has a dangerous contender in Oregon, one of the seven undefeated and untied eleven which still has Southern California and St. Mary's to meet. Michigan, Big Ten champion in 1932 has no soft kicking in final contests against Minnesota and Northwestern. Nebraska, Big Six king, must face Pitt and Iowa, while Army, playing P. M. C. today in a "breather," finds Navy and Notre Dame as possible stumbling blocks. Princeton, fifth of the teams possessing unblemished records, has Navy Rutgers and Yale to contend with Georgia and Duke described as the Southern Conference leading contender and power, respectively, complete the envied roster.

Of the seven above named, Army and Nebraska, judging from performance, appear to have the least for both have the most decisive to date. The other five, however, are just as apt to capture national honors.

When the New York Giants trounced Sunday over the Boston Redskins last played in a professional game by a score of 9 before a crowd of 40,000, former star paid to Frank Carrasbaugh, born Dartmouth, Holy Cross, and Fordham Coach who died several weeks ago from complications resulting from shell wounds suffered in France during the War. He left no estate for his widow and seven minor children. As a tribute to the man who developed especially great teams at Fordham, forty percent of the game's receipts, amounting to approximately $10,000 were turned over to his widow.

The Maroon and Black Washington College eleven is much improved, though game results might not uphold the optimism. The team lacks only the final something which marks the difference between a winning and losing team. If it is forthcoming in next week, the gridgers will still have ended the most successful season in several years.

DEL-MAR-VA
RESTAURANT
Beer and
Special Luncheon
We Cater to Parties

McCALLISTERS
Quality Spicing Goods
Catalogue on Request
124 W. Baltimore St.
Baltimore, Md.

CULTURAL COMMENT

By Joseph Freedman

The 1933 Nobel Prize for Literature has been awarded to Ivan Bunin, Russian poet and novelist. In European circles Comrade Bunin has long been distinguished for his classic simplicity, and minute observation. A member of the Russian Academy, and recipient of the Pushkin Prize for Poetry, he has translated into the Russian, Longfellow, Keats and Tennyson.

Stephen Vincent Benet, famous poet, whose "John Brown's Body," is generally regarded as the American epic is the recipient this year of the U. S. by an appreciative and grateful public which still cherishes a slowly dying art.

Many readers are interested this week in the centenary of the birth of Edwin Rolfe, celebrated tragedian, and a native of Belair. His anniversary is being observed throughout the U. S. by an appreciative and grateful public which still cherishes a slowly dying art.

CLASSICAL CLUB GIVEN TEA AT REID HALL

Misses Ragan And Smith Entertain Members And Faculty

The Classic Club of Washington College and distinguished guests were entertained at ten November 16 by the Misses Harriet Ragan and Thelma Smith, members of the Society. This event is the first of its kind to be held in Reid Hall since the organization of the club several weeks ago. The gathering at the tea were Mrs. Solandt and Miss Penna. Music was furnished by Dr. and Mrs. Livingston. Besides the members the following were present: President, and Mrs. M. H. Howd, Dr. and Mrs. Livingston, Professors Solandt, Bremer, Snodgrass, Dr. Dole, Mrs. Fox, Miss Bonwill and Mrs. Wilson.

Miss Gladys R. Aldridge Gives Surprise Party

Miss Gladys Rebecca Aldridge of the class of '39, was given a surprise Birthday party on Tuesday night, November 14, at her home on Queen street.

After preliminary congratulations, Miss Aldridge and her guests engaged in various entertaining activities and then were given fine refreshments.

Those present included the Misses Gladys Rebecca Aldridge, Marian Aldridge, Betty Thibodeau, Christina Castlin, Mary Westcott, Harriet Louisa Rogers, and the Messrs. Philip Shipp, Albert Bianchini, Charley Bremer, Charles Dudley, Charley Clark and Michael Wallace.

BARNETT'S BARBER SHOP
Over Sterling's Drug Store
First Class Service and Expert Workmen

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing
103 Court Street
Chester town, Maryland

NEW MEMBERS TAKEN IN RECENTLY BY Y. W. C. A.

Miss Sarah Ellen Byrn Presides At Initiation Ceremonies

On Tuesday evening, Nov. 14th, several new members of the Y. W. C. A. were initiated. The girls, all white, which was the symbol of purity. Each new girl carried a candle, which she lit, while the president, Sarah Ellen Byrn, was reading the standards and ideals of the Y. W. C. A. Lucille Legg read the scriptures. The girls who were initiated were Lucie Nicholson, Barbara Sparklin, Sara Sherman, Joyce, Marie Register, Mimi Skinner, Olga Shortess, and Harshaw. Several girls were not present at the initiation, and so they will be taken in on a latter date. The entire ceremony was very impressive and enjoyed by all.

HONOR SOCIETY MEETS AT DR. LIVINGOOD'S

Prof. Dumschott Speaks On Present Day Governments

Tuesday evening's monthly meeting of the Honor Society at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Livingston, was characterized by an extremely interesting and educational talk on "Trend of Government" by Professor Dumschott and lively arguments following.

Professor Dumschott discussed three foremost types of present day governments: Capitalism, Communism and Fascism.

Capitalism at present, he maintained, is fettering and its longevity depends on the success with which the U. S. pulls out of its present economic crisis.

Communism, of which Russia is an example, is characterized by the presentation of the working people and by its advances being made in air belief.

Fascism, the first government of which was established by Mussolini in Italy has since been followed by Hitler and, to some extent, by the N. R. A.

Mrs. Livingston served delicious refreshments, and the together with the interest taken in Prof. Dumschott's talk made the evening a most enjoyable one.

Assembly Program Nov. 23 By English, History Dept's

At the regular Thursday morning Assembly on November 23, a program by the History and English Departments under the direction of Dr. Esther R. Dole and Dr. D. H. Livingston, will be presented to the Student Body.

Unemployed men of Airdrie, Scotland, offered to work three hours a day without payment provided their labor was used for beautifying the town.

STUDENTS
We carry a large assortment of School Supplies
Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Lenthier Line from Paris.
Abbott's DeLuxe Ice Cream.
Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

NO NICE GIRL SWEARS

Now to get at the personal but nevertheless so fundamental question—swearing. Even smart girls have their problems, while dumb ones have their difficulties. Alice Lorene Meats says some things about the physical demonstrations of can this be love. Take it or leave it, but the likely knows.

Anyone will admit that in the long run a reputation for being a heavy necker doesn't really add to a girl's popularity. She will undoubtedly have a belle, but only a flash in the pan, for no matter how much skill is displayed, it is pretty difficult to keep a beau for any length of time, by playing this hazardous game. You can't hope to get away with the "you're the first man I've ever loved" trick with seventeen different men. The day will inevitably come when your name will be brought up under a bottle of brandy, and your talents discussed. Remember, after the first few drinks gallantry is likely to get in the general fog. But after all, this whole business is a very personal problem and one you can seriously expect someone else to work out for you.

Believe It Or Not, This Letter Actually Written

The following letter is an exact duplication of one received by the Lally Plumbing Supply Co., of San Francisco, California. It later came into the hands of an United States Senator.

Sacramento, Calif.,
April 24, 1923.
Lally Company,
San Francisco,
Dear Sir,

I get the pump you sent me but why in hell you don't send me hendi. You make me waste and I lose me a customer and I lose me the pump without no hander. Why you no treat me rite, my customer he heller like hell because the sen dam bet and the wind be no blo the wheel and my customer be no get any water. Aint my money good lik the other fellow. if you no sen the hendi pretty dam quick I sen back the pump and order me pump from the smoth company.

Good bye, your fren
(signed)
p.s. Since I rite this I find the dam hendi in the box so please to excuse me.

COLLEGE HILL LUNCH ROOM
Light Lunch
Beer On Draught
W. M. CROWDING, Prop.

PIPPEN'S BARBER SHOP
Pippen's Hotel
Hair Cutting My
Specialty

SMITH'S KUT-RATE DRUG STORE
The only place where you can buy home-made Ice Cream.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY HAS SECOND MEETING

Speakers Include Wagner, Moffett And Skipp

On Tuesday evening, November 14, the Washington Chemical Society met at 7 o'clock in room 35 for its second meeting during the month of November. The meeting was well attended, many new members coming out. A very interesting program was presented.

President Wagner, spoke first, and he chose the "Thyroid Gland" for his subject. The second speaker, Walter Moffett, Mr. Moffett thoroughly explained the "Chemical Examination of Water." The final speech dealing with "Scientific Current Events" was presented by Philip Skipp.

INAUGURAL MOVIES SHOWN TO STUDENTS

Were Guests On Thursday Of The New Lycum Theatre

The usual Thursday morning Assembly at Washington College was displaced on November 16 by the occasion of the attendance of the entire student body, the Faculty, and many guests at a private showing of the 1933 Inaugural movies and the 1932 Sequel-Centennial pictures, given by the courtesy of the New Lycum Theatre.

The event was appreciatively hailed by the students as an unusual opportunity to see Washington College as the nation has seen it; and the pleasure of seeing one's self in the cinema is unforgettable. President Roosevelt's and Dr. Mead's speeches were partially reproduced, as was Governor Ritchie's of the 1932 affair.

Blue Key To Hold Its Annual Program Dance Next Week

Once again next week end the Blue Key Fraternity will be in the line of light. The Blue Key men are planning to hold their annual program dance as a grand finale for the evening of the Loyola game, Saturday, November 25th, in the gymnasium. Stark's band of the Loyola University has been secured. The affair is semi-formal and there will be no stage. Many alumni and friends are expected to be back for the week end.

Compliments of CHESTERTOWN Electric Light and Power Company

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A store run for the benefit of the students, offers line of Wahl Dollar Pens and Pencils, Penknives, Stationery and School Supplies.

Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 1:15 to 4:30 P. M. Every Day but Saturday and Sunday.

VANITY FAIR UNDIES

are the sort you dream about. Tiny handfuls of sheer Silk that stand the hardest kind of wear and cost next to nothing. Come in and see them!

THE MARGARET E. JEFFERSON SHOP

POET'S KORNER

OCTOBER

Today has been a poem. Every bough is flushed with crimson, rich in autumn gold.
From sun and maple, hanging low,
O'er shaded walks, when loitering students pause.
Drop yellow leaves. And here,
One lonely and embroidered butterfly,
Flutter forlorn.
As evening comes, long shafts of shadows fall,
Dark patches on the rusty gold
Where all was green.
The sun sinks low, and pale the evening star,
Gleams high above the sunset; calm, remote—
Darkness descends, and luminous
From tower and gateway gleams the lights.

S. E. B.

IN PRAISE OF EIGHT O'CLOCK

Rhapsodies in blue I sing
Too often harshly named,
To thee sweetest and light I bring
On hours of lifeline.
Hush! for the eight o'clock classed
Bringing faces so cheery and bright;
Dispositions as sweet as molasses
All eager to struggle for light.
What song would so peacefully sleep
When dawn's breaking over the sky?
What miscreant would dare to sleep
When bethichely to class he should hie?
Alas! Poor Culture, hear them rail
Poor Wisdom's on the rocks,
This modern spirit shall prevail,
I have no eight o'clocks.
—From the Delaware Review.

KREEGER'S JEWELRY STORE

Eyes examined and glasses fitted by a graduate Optician. Fountain Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films and Developing.

Watches, Rings and Novelty Jewelry.

Compliments of THE PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE

COLLEGE SENIORS

Alfred S. Hodgson

Alfred S. Hodgson is a Chestertown High School product. During his high school career he won an enviable position among his classmates as an all-around athlete. He played on all the teams and also held the Kent County record in the one-hundred yard dash until last spring. Scholarastically, he ranked among the leaders.

At Washington College, "Al" has worked hard and consistently. He has been a member of the Glee Club for four years, acting this year as President of that organization. He has been a member of the Double Male Quartette each year also. He belongs to the Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity, to the Mt. Vernon Literary Society, the Varsity Club, the "PEM" Staff, and to the 1934 Pegasus Staff.

In his favorite sport, Basketball, he has been a mainstay of the squad. Though he didn't make his letter until his Junior Year, he played in many contests his first two years. Fast and crafty and small and shifty, he has been a hard man to guard. His entrance in several games last year provided the necessary spark to turn defeats into victories. This year, with experience gained in previous seasons, he should be even better. He also plays Baseball, and made his letter as a third baseman last spring. Al is majoring in History and minor- ing in Mathematics, and expects to teach and coach athletics.

Harriette M. Ragan

Harriette M. Ragan received her preparatory training at Jacob Tome Institute of Port Deposit, Md., near Centowings, which is her home. Here, even, are shown those fruits of versatility which have borne in abundance during her years at Washington College. Beginning finishing school as President of the Freshman class, she finished as the Valedictorian; and the interim is filled with the colorful activities of varsity basketball, class society, the Latin Club and the Agara Literary Society.

Noting first the purely tangible accomplishments of Miss Ragan, at Washington College, one cites her excellent scholarship, which is signified by her membership in the Honorary Society of Washington College. She has been treasurer of the Kappa Gamma Sorority; is President of the Classical Club; and a member of the venerable Mt. Vernon Literary Society and the Y. W. C. A. But her fields are also notable in Athletic achievement, since she belongs to the G. I. A. A., and plays hockey and basketball.

Of the more abstract qualities of Harriette Ragan's self, it needs but to be said that she has shown loyalty and completely the grand old traditions of the "friendly college."

J. Patterson Beasman

"Pat" Beasman came to Washington College in 1930, after graduating from Sykesville High School in Carroll County, Maryland. He led his class each year, played on the teams, took part in Class production, and got second place in the State Track meet in the 440 yard dash.

At this institution, "Pat" holds the Carroll County Senatorial Scholarship. His numerous activities attest to his ability and popularity. He is Business Manager of the "PEM," having been Circulation Manager and Assistant Business Manager last year; and is a member of the 1934 Pegasus Staff. He was Sophomore Assistant Football Manager his second year, is a member of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society, of the Varsity Club and of the Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity.

Pat performed in the backfield for the Freshmen and Sophomore Class teams in his first two years, and has since played Class Basketball. In his Sophomore year he was a member of the College track squad. His outstanding achievement along athletic lines however, was his making the Lacrosse Ten last year, his first season out for the sport. He held down an Attack position effectively, and is expected to play in finer style this year.

Pat is majoring in History and minoring in Mathematics. He will probably teach school if an opening is found.

Thelma B. Smith

Thelma B. Smith attended, previous to her membership in Washington College, the Chestertown High School at Chestertown, Md., her home. She was noteworthy at this institution as an efficient administrator in extra-curriculum activities, and distinguished as a student. She graduated with the Valedictory honor, and matriculated in the Autumn of the same year at Washington College.

At the college, Miss Smith's unobtrusive sense of humor and quiet sincerity have created for her, no less than her excellent scholastic record, an esteem and cordiality from her associates. She was active in the former Adolphus Literary Society, and her specialisation in Latin well fits her for Senior membership in the Classical Society. She has acquired a deal of practical experience by her efficient discharge of duties as an Associate Librarian at the college. The unusual modesty of the girls of the class of '34, and especially so in Miss Smith's case, may be proffered as an apology for the apparent completeness of these and following comments.

NOTICE!

For College Rings, Belts and Fraternity Pins, See Edwin Lowe, '36, Room 36, East Hall.

THE REXAL STORE
EASTMAN KODAKS
FILMS
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING
BY EXPERTS
DRUGS and
SUNDRIES
Of All Kinds
A. L. STERLING

THE BELLHAVEN
Home of Good Food
College Hill
Telephone 331-M

FOX'S
Anything you want at
the Right Price
5c to $1.00
Store

Long GOLDEN STRANDS

OF FINE TOBACCO
—and no loose ends

It would delight you to open a Lucky Strike and examine the long, golden strands of fine tobaccos. To notice how fully packed it is... how free from annoying loose ends. Every Lucky Strike is a blend of the world's choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos—finely shredded—long and evenly cut. That's why every Lucky draws so easily—burns so smoothly.

ALWAYS the finest tobaccos
ALWAYS the finest workmanship
ALWAYS Luckies please!

COPYRIGHT, 1932, THE
AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

"it's toasted"

FOR THROAT PROTECTION—FOR BETTER TASTE

Student Council Minutes

November 13, 1933

The meeting was called to order by President Gamber; the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

It was reported that Mrs. Fox pledged the cooperation of the librarians with the Concellian. Following this report Mr. Sadler presented the detailed report of the Thanksgiving Day Program committee.

Wednesday, Nov. 29, football game. Dance. Thursday, Hockey game, dinner, tea dance. Dr. Mr. Nuttle's motion the committee's report was accepted and made official. Mr. Lord summarized the report of the visit of the cafeteria committee to Dr. Mead with the statement of Dr. Mead's pledged cooperation in this matter.

President Gamber reported the results of the letter sent by the Council to the disciplinary committee; he presented the opinions and replies of

Dr. Jones, Dr. Mead, Dr. Dole and Dr. Livingston.

In order to stop the current disturbing element of writing "winkles" on the notices on the Bulletin board, it was suggested that the members rebuke offenders. A decrease in "cutting in line at the cafeteria" and "cutting campus" was noticed. It was decided that "line cutters" be published in the Elm. On due motion the meeting was adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,
John M. Lord.

Gridders Will Play Coods In Hockey, Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving day is set, as far as one knows, for the great hockey game between the boys' football squad and the girls' hockey team. It is expected by all to be a rough and ready game, with each team determined to get the ball from the other. Pity the poor girl who runs into some of our heavy-weight football heroes!

COLLEGE CALENDAR

WEEK OF
NOVEMBER 19-25

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 19

Joint Y. M. C. A.-Y. W. C. A. Meeting at Reid Hall (6:30 P. M.)

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 22

Varsity "W" Club Meeting At William Smith Hall (7 P. M.)

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 23

Assembly at (11 A. M.)
Mt. Vernon Literary Society Meeting at William Smith Hall (7 P. M.)
Blue Key Fraternity Meeting at William Smith Hall (7 P. M.)

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 24

Student "Pop" Meeting at William Smith Hall, (7 P. M.)

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 25

Foot Ball Game at Home Washington vs. Loyola At Washington Field (2 P. M.)

Blue Key Annual Program Dance In College Gym (8 P. M.)

WEEK OF
NOV. 26-DEC. 2

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 26

Joint Y. M. C. A.-Y. W. C. A. Meeting at Reid Hall (6:30 P. M.)

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 27

Men's Student Council Meeting At William Smith Hall (7 P. M.)

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 29

Fresh-Soph Football Game At Washington Field (3 P. M.)
Fresh-Soph Football Dance In College Gym (8 P. M.)

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 30

Thanksgiving Day—School Holiday
Girls Hockey Game (10 A. M.)
Informal Dance in College Gym or Matinee at Lyceum Theatre (8 P. M.)

FROSH DEFEAT SOPHS IN FIRST OF TIE-UPS

Organized First Year Group Dispose Of Upperclassmen

The Freshman class gained a decisive victory over the Sophomore class in the first annual Fresh-Soph tie-up held at three o'clock on the afternoon of November 6, 1933, on Kibler Field. The final score was 13 to 4.

Outnumbered but not out-weighted the Sophomore class met a well organized Freshman group which quickly disposed of the larger upperclassmen in the first few minutes of the battle and then took care of the smaller Sophs for the remainder of the fray.

However, if not handled with care, this "Rat" victory is likely to have sobering qualities as the Sophs have worked up more spirit over the forthcoming Soph-Fresh football game than was expected before their loss in the tie-up.

2 About Cigarettes

There are 6 types of home-grown tobaccos that are best for cigarettes

BRIGHT TOBACCO

U. S. Types 11, 12, 13, 14.

BURLEY TOBACCO

U. S. Type 31.

SOUTHERN MARYLAND TOBACCO

U. S. Type 32.

U. S. Type 11 is produced in the Piedmont Belt of Virginia and part of North Carolina.

U. S. Type 12 is produced in eastern North Carolina.

U. S. Type 13 grows in South Carolina.

U. S. Type 14 is produced mostly in southern Georgia—a few million pounds in northern Florida and Alabama.

U. S. Type 31 includes what is called White Burley tobacco. It was first produced by George Webb in 1864. It is light in color and body, and is milder than the Burley used for pipes.

U. S. Type 32, Maryland tobacco, is noted for its "burn". In this respect Maryland excels most other tobaccos.

These are the kinds of home-grown tobaccos used for making Chesterfield Cigarettes.

Then Chesterfield adds aromatic Turkish tobacco to give just the right seasoning or spice.

Chesterfield ages these tobaccos for 30 months—2½ years—to make sure that they are milder and taste better.

Tobacco being sold at auction in a Southern market.

Chesterfield

the cigarette that's Milder
the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

VOL XXXIII. No. 6

SATURDAY, DEC. 16, 1933

PRICE TEN CENTS

Ellis Dwyer Will Lead 1934 Gridders

Has Played Tackle Position For Three Years

At a recent meeting of the Football Letter Men of the 1933 campaign, Ellis Charles Dwyer, of Chambers, Pa., was elected to the Captaincy of the 1934 eleven.

Dwyer enrolled at Washington College in the fall of 1929 and was a regular that season, playing at a tackle position as he since has. Because of financial conditions he was forced to leave school at the end of the first semester of his first year, but returned the following fall of 1930. During that season he played a bang-up game and a tower of strength on the Washington line. He played Lacrosse the next spring and was developing rapidly into a good close-defense man as the season closed, and narrowly missed earning his letter.

"Ellie" was unable to continue studies during the 1931-32 season and didn't return to college until February 1933. Last spring he was a substitute catcher on the baseball team. He probably displayed his best play on this post, on the gridiron and well deserves the honor given him by his team mates. Dwyer plays a slightly unorthodox brand of football, but his effectiveness gave Coach Eklit and Kibler no reason for charging his style.

He is majoring in the Science courses and boasts an excellent record. He is a member of the Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity and of several other organizations on the Hill, in addition to being in charge of West Hall. A popular fellow, a hard worker, and a good player, as attested to by his paining Honorable Mention for the All-Maryland team, leaves no doubt that he will make a fine captain.

Varsity Club Takes In Eight New Members

Eight letter men of Washington College became members of the "W" or Varsity Club last Wednesday night, December 5, at the Fall Initiation in the gymnasium. The addition of these men gives the club its largest enrollment since its formation several years ago.

The initiation ceremonies are probably the most severe on the "Hill," but each man came through in fine fashion and is ready to take an active part in the club's activities. Several aims are fostered by the members. Firstly, those of the official "W" were evoked and of advancing the old Washington spirit in athletics.

Those fellows who become members, and the sports in which they have won letters are: Patterson, Beauman, Lacrosse; Joseph O'Farrell, Baseball and Football; Emory Burkhardt, Football; Max R. Hall, Football; Omar Carey, Lacrosse and Football; Robert Tignor, Baseball and Football; Ed Evans, Baseball; and Henry Nowak, Football.

A European campaign has succeeded in producing from water rubber a turpentine that is odorless and waterless.

GIVES GOLD FOOTBALL

Max Montour Will Speak Here Jan. 4

Is A Well Known German Actor Of New York

The College Assembly for January 5th will have a guest artist in the person of Max Montour, well known German actor, now of New York City. Mr. Montour will render a program of dramatic impersonations, including selections from German dramas in the original and in English translation.

Mr. Montour, who is traveling under the auspices and management of the Carl Schurz Memorial Foundation, is internationally known for his unusual interpretations of drama and poetry. He was born in Vienna and studied at the Imperial Conservatory of Dramatic Art in his native city. He made his debut in Zurich, Switzerland, as "Mephistopheles" in "Faust." Extensive tours took him through Austria, Germany and Switzerland, with long engagements in Hamburg, Munich and Berlin.

Albert E. Dobkins Receives Wade G. Bonds Award

Albert E. Dobkins, '34, of Waterbury, Connecticut, was awarded the Wade G. Bonds gold football, at the Annual Football Banquet held this past Wednesday night. The presentation is made to that person, whether or not a football player, who has done more for the success of the football team during its playing season.

There was hardly a doubt that the recipient would be any one else but Dobkins, for his excellent spirit and fine playing were evident in each contest of the season. Coach George C. Eklit made the award while the seventeen letter men present acknowledged the fine choice made by the Coaches when they selected Dobkins as a man who should receive the gold honor.

Mr. Bonds, formerly President of the Alumni Association, has given two other such awards.

SEVENTEEN GRIDMEN RECEIVE VARSITY "W"

Curly Byrd Unable To Attend Football Banquet

On Wednesday, December 13, the annual football banquet was the final scene of the 1933 grid season and the last play in the college football career of seven seniors. Mr. H. C. "Curly" Byrd, Vice-President of the University of Maryland, who was invited as guest of honor, was unable to attend.

Mr. Harry S. Russell, Washington grad, acted as toastmaster and presented the speakers. Professor Dunschoff in the capacity of Chairman of the Athletic Council awarded the varsity "W" to seventeen letter winners: Captain Gamber, Reibohm, Harrie, Dobkins, Hall, Carey, O'Farrell, Blinnelton, Lord, Greims, Berry, Baker, Ward, Tignor, Nowak, Skippy, and Captain-Ed, Dwyer. Emory Burkhardt, manager, was also presented the varsity certificate.

Coach Eklit officiated in the presentation of the Wade G. Bonds award to the person contributing most toward the success of the football season. The award was made to Al Dobkins, class of '34.

The Athletic Council made a gift of an athletic jacket to Captain Dick Gamber. In reviewing the season the coaches and speakers had only words of deserving praise for the best team that Washington has produced in nearly a decade.

Max Montour Will Speak Here Jan. 4

Is A Well Known German Actor Of New York

The College Assembly for January 5th will have a guest artist in the person of Max Montour, well known German actor, now of New York City. Mr. Montour will render a program of dramatic impersonations, including selections from German dramas in the original and in English translation.

Mr. Montour, who is traveling under the auspices and management of the Carl Schurz Memorial Foundation, is internationally known for his unusual interpretations of drama and poetry. He was born in Vienna and studied at the Imperial Conservatory of Dramatic Art in his native city. He made his debut in Zurich, Switzerland, as "Mephistopheles" in "Faust." Extensive tours took him through Austria, Germany and Switzerland, with long engagements in Hamburg, Munich and Berlin.

The American career of Mr. Montour dates nine years ago. He has appeared on Broadway in "Stringbeats," "Death of Death," in "Husen's 'Resurrection,'" opposite Eva Leclercq, in "The Master of the House," with Walter Hampden in "Halleluiah," in "The Merchant of Venice," in "Sunderman's 'Magna,'" and recently in Elmer Rice's "Street Scene."

Mr. Montour is coming to Washington College through the interest of Mr. Candler Lazenby, who was the speaker at the second assembly given to present college students. Mr. Lazenby will be remembered for his talk on "Student Life in German Universities."

Plans are being made for a second assembly to be held at eight o'clock the same evening, with the people of Chestertown and surrounding communities as guests of the college. Further details concerning the evening program will be announced later.

Christmas Cotillion A Success Last Night

The Cotillion Club of Washington College presented its annual Christmas German last night in the gymnasium. The gym was very appropriately decorated with pine and mistletoe with the necessary variegated colored lights. The lighting effect was culminated by the use of a large spot light which changed colors every minute. This was the second of a series of five dances to be presented throughout the year.

The patrons and the patronesses included Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert W. Dodge, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Davis, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth S. Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Simon W. Westcott, Dr. Kathleen C. Carpenter, and Dr. Esther M. Davis.

Those on the decorating committee were John A. Wagner, chairman; Alton R. Brougham, John William Long, Iron Culver, Ralph C. Miller, Carroll W. Chuteau, Lawrence Younce.

CHRISTMAS CARDS Christmas cards, designed by Paul Pippin, and showing the Gateway and views of William Smith Hall, may be obtained from either Paul Pippin or Sarah Ellen Byrn. (See Bulletin Board.)

HEART ATTACK VICTIM

Dr. Tittsworth's Death Mourned

Former Head Of Washington College Died Last Sunday

Dr. Paul E. Tittsworth
A memorial service for Dr. Paul E. Tittsworth will be held on Tuesday morning, Dec. 19 in the Washington College Chapel.

Memorial Services For Dr. Tittsworth Tuesday

Plans are being made for a Memorial Service for Dr. Paul Emerson Tittsworth, eighteenth president of Washington College. The service will be held in the auditorium of William Smith Hall at eleven o'clock, Tuesday morning, December 19th.

The service will include a series of brief talks by President Gilbert W. Dodge, laypeople, faculty, and student representatives, presenting the varied contributions of former President Tittsworth to the educational and civic life of the community, county and state. The musical organizations of the college will have a part in the program.

All members of the college, members of the various organizations, with which Dr. Tittsworth was affiliated, and the general public are cordially invited to be present for this service.

DR. GEORGE W. CARVER SPEAKS IN ASSEMBLY

Is A Leader In Agricultural Research Of South

Dr. George Washington Carver, the boy who was traded for a horse, but who is now recognized as a leader in agricultural research, was the Chapel speaker at a recent assembly.

Dr. Carver has refused many lucrative positions to remain at Tuskegee Institute, in Alabama, where he has first made it possible for the Southern Negro to grow the two most practical crops, peanuts and sweet potatoes, then proceeded to create a demand for the supply obtained. This he has done through creative chemistry, by analyzing both peanuts and sweet potatoes and using the constituents of these articles to produce everything from face powder to chocolate wafers. According to Dr. Carver, a complete diet, from soup to nuts, could be prepared from peanuts. Judging from the display of results which he brought with him we can well credit his statement.

Simplicity and modesty were the outstanding keynotes of Dr. Carver's speech, just as service seems to be the keynote of his life. Seldom do we find a personality which rates at the same time an impression of profound admiration for achievements made, and an impression of simple friendliness such as we find in this unusual man.

Dr. Tittsworth's Death Mourned

Former Head Of Washington College Died Last Sunday

All day on this Monday past, when the untimely death of Dr. Paul Emerson Tittsworth, President of Washington College for ten years, and recently President of Alfred University, was commonly realized, the hollow wind-blades drowled their weary dirges, in weary harmony with the sorrow and futile grief which seemed to enshroud the College which he had drawn from antique obscurity into eminence among others.

Raised Washington College

The sense of loss of those who had known Dr. Tittsworth, who had worked under his administration, who admired the scholar and executive, who love Washington College, is engulfing to the spirit, and inexpressible. Not the least of his living moments in the world a Washington College as it is today. The degree of this institution's debt to him is particularly shown by a comparison of the college described by Rufus Rockwell Wilson, in "Remains in Colonial Byways" as a "decayed college" overlooking Chestertown," and that seen by Tittsworth in 1904. Just as the Sesqui-Centennial year of founding.

Spectacular Career

Dr. Tittsworth was born at Ashaway, R. I., on May 31, 1881. After the usual primary and preparatory training, in 1904 he received a Ph. B. degree from Alfred College, after having studied abroad, at the summer of 1902, at the Universities of Bonn and Dresden. He had also special work in Ohio State University in 1903-1904. From 1904-1907 he was instructor in Modern Languages at Alfred, and Professor from 1909-1919. In 1911, after having been a Fellow in German there, he received the Ph. D. degree from the University of Wisconsin. In 1913 he again studied abroad, at the University of Marburg. From 1919-1922, Dr. Tittsworth was Professor of English at Alfred, and, from 1922-1923, Dean of the Liberal Arts College. Besides his college work, Dr. Tittsworth of Washington College, which position he held for ten years.

Many Works And Interests

Dr. Tittsworth was distinguished for the number and versatility of his work. He is the author of a number of scholarly articles innumerable, especially treating with Goethe and his school. Dr. Tittsworth was particularly known for his "Bibliography for High School Teachers of Modern Languages," published in 1902, and as a translator from the French of "Emancipation of Medieval Terms." Besides his close and important connection with Rotary International, President Tittsworth was affiliated with many other societies and organizations.

These above enumerate but a few of his associations and honors. He had received the LL. D. degree from Washington College, and, last June, from the University of Wisconsin.

His own modestly worded 10-year report, delivered last June shows completely and clearly the tremendous material credit which Washington College has received through his administration, to Washington College. For Dr. Tittsworth, of the Dead, Rupert Brooks has sung:

"But, dying, has made us gifts than gold."

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleven oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

EDITOR CHARLES R. CLARK
Assistant Editor William O. Baker
Literary Editor Albert E. Dobkins
Exchange Editor Roland L. Lekebusch
Women's Editor Sarah Ellen Byrn
Sports Editor Harry R. Huey
Alumni Editor Phillip J. Wingate

REPORTERS

Feature Reporters: Emory Burkhardt, Joseph Freedman
 Reporter This Issue—Marian Emmord, Carroll W. Casteel, Phillip Skipp, John Lord, Martha Shearer, Miriam Ford, Olga Shortess, Jean Harshaw, Ann Whyte, Isadore Bohrer, Alfred Taylor.

FRATERNITY REPRESENTATIVES

Alfred S. Hodgson, Richard Gamber, William Baker

SORORITY REPRESENTATIVES

Alexina Robinson, Doris Metcalfe, Gladys R. Aldridge

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager J. Patterson Beaman
Assistant Business Manager Louis L. Brown
Circulation Manager Emerson P. Slacum
Assistant Circulation Manager Ernest Holland
Advertising Manager Joseph McLain

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1933

DR. PAUL EMERSON TITSWORTH

We realize with great regret the passing away of Dr. Titsworth who so recently was in our midst as College President and who just about two months ago, was installed as President of his Alma Mater, Alfred University. The latter was the realization of an ambition he had long harbored, and marked the climax of a spectacular and excellent career as an Educationist. We lament the fact that he was so briefly allowed to enjoy that which meant more to him than anything else.

We need not go into a discussion of his many and varied accomplishments and virtues, but we may state that he made Washington College what it is today, and with hardly a word or a dissenting opinion, did more for the College than has any other of a long line of Presidents, with the possible exception of its founder, William Smith.

As ones who have had the privilege of working with Dr. Titsworth, we offer condolences to his family and to the vast number who mourn his death, as we.

DEBATING

We are glad to note that recent attempts at Washington College to form a debating Society, sponsoring an Intercollegiate Debating Team, are about to be realized. Professor Frederick W. Dumschott, Assistant Professor of History and Government, is responsible for the move. With such a man as Professor Makosky, there is every indication that a successful and formidable team can be developed, starting even with this season for several Maryland Colleges and one or two out of state ones have declared their willingness to engage Washington College in debate.

We look with favor upon the move for several reasons. In the first place it is our belief that every institution of Higher Learning should grant to students the privilege of expounding their beliefs and contentions concerning such vital problems that confront the whole nation, and which often have a more wide-spread and far reaching scope. In the second place, if individuals do not have the interest that they as College students should have, in such questions, if they are cultivated in them. A Society of the type planned can make such a theory very practical. Again we are glad to encourage such a plan because it will give a certain number of Washington College students the opportunity to help create a finer College atmosphere and the proper seriousness that they justly insist should prevail at the Seat of Learning, but which is missing. On all sides we hear of a new seriousness which has taken hold of American students, as a result of the depression now running into its fourth year. Economic classes are more popular, for in them might be gleaned knowledge of monetary and other serious problems, which affect every group, local or world. We regret that students at Washington College are less concerned, as far as we can determine, than they should be in such matters.

The Society as planned will not only offer to a limited number the right of debating on an Intercollegiate level, but will grant to as many others, who take advantage of the proposition, the privilege of discussing vitally important questions and of debating intramurally.

Large students who are capable and who have time, to cooperate with Mr. Smithson and Mr. Sudler, President and Manager of Debating respectively, and to take advantage of fine help that Professors Makosky and Dumschott can give.

SLIPPERY ELM

By ALBERT E. DOBKINS

"TO THE FLYING PENTAGON"

Mr. Harry S. Russell, acting master of ceremonies at the football banquet, struck at the heart of the matter when he said: "The great thing about the 1934 grid squad is to become a fighting eleven that will in turn develop a fighting student body. The thought occurs, why wait until next fall? Today is the time to begin making a completely united student body and fostering true school spirit."

The members of the squad of the Flying Pentagons are in position to do just that because this year's basketball season presents the golden opportunity. There is no reason why Washington cannot make a clean sweep of the schedule. Individually the players are equal to or better than average performers; put together they should be no less well equipped to do so. The only slight set-back to the team is its often slow pace to function as a perfectly working unit. The mechanical phases of the game can be easily taken care of and once the determination to win is set it is not too much to hope for a championship five. We are intimate enough with the leader of the 1934 edition of the Flying Pentagons to know that one fifth of the Pentagon is determined to come through in a big way. It is not enough to want a good season. This year Washington should reclaim her rightful position on the state basketball pedestal. Once the desire to win takes the form of an obsession the result will show for itself.

Recapitulating the words of Mr. Russell, those college boys who fight and watch the spirit grow. The Maroon and Black should be satisfied with nothing less than a fighting team, a winner, and the state championship title.

CULTURAL COMMENT

By Joseph Freedman

Joseph Hergeshimer, noted novelist and recent visitor to Baltimore has paid a rare compliment to the city of Poe and Menckens. Said he, "Unlike other cities, Baltimore has a unique number of intelligent and attractive people." He found the women slightly old-fashioned and domesticated and the young folks dignified as in no other city. The author of the novel, however, said he was somewhat tired of Baltimore chimney pots and yostens.

In this day and age of practically minded people it is heartening to find that some of the old-time romances and fancies have not entirely died. This has been practically evident from the warm and cordial applause that has greeted the appearance of the new motion picture "Little Women," adapted from Louisa May Alcott's immortal tale. In all large cities it has far exceeded the success of the picture "The Sign of the Cross" which has been much in demand by both young and old. This has also been true of Eva Lee Gallimore's "Alice in Wonderland" which has greeted the attention of all eyes. All this is particularly gratifying to know that American sentiment can still bloom on the desolate flats of commercialism.

Our attention has been called to the unusual "Neel" edition of the French magazine "L'Illustration," now in our library. It contains many interesting and beautiful reproductions of Oriental and Western art, that have evoked the admiration of all browsers.

PURLOINED PHRASES

By ROLAND LEKEBUSCH

She: "Du you know what good clean fun is?"

He: "I'll bite, what good is it?"

Doctor: "What you need, young lady, is a little you and air."

Coach: "Why doctor, how dare you? Why, I'm not even married!"

The reason they had to stop the honor system at —

University was that the Profs had all the honor and the students had all the system.

At a fraternity party. She: "I'm Surette—the oriental dancer; please to meet you."

Scenic: "Shake!"

The new bride was obviously concerned with the fact that there were some in the bride train, and she said: "I surely thought that we were going to have the room all to ourselves, dear!"

Dean, Prof.: "What two raw materials not affected by the tariff are imported from France?"

Coach: "Books and pictures."

He knicked at the door of my room. "May I come in?" he said.

"This is the same room I had when I came to college here in 1910. Yes, sir, the same old room, the same old windows; same old furniture; same old view of the campus; same old class."

"He opened the closet door."

"Er—this is my sister," I said.

"Same old story!"

Mother: "Were you discreet daughter?"

Daughter: "Hell yes, we leaked the door!"

The March of Time:

"Where do good girls go?"

"To heaven."

"Where do bad girls go?"

"Over to the hospital!"

The shin you love to touch—is usually covered up!

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

TOLD TO ME

By I. ONLY HEARD

It has been found proven; Despite and in addition to being only in the process of construction, the new Kent County Hospital is a greatly improved place for Campsury.

It looks as though Sleazn's Leg(s) is also someone else's Leg(s).

After keeping it under cover for nearly six months, Joe O'Farrell is halfway about the rest of the Irish-Hittite Ragani. Yes, it even surprised us, Dave.

If the question of a non-appeal window can arouse such an uproar in our own little "H. C. C." Sadler (towards a roommate, think of what might have happened if Brittan had owned two men at the Black Hole of Calcutta.

The late Manager of football now spends his evenings at home, reading the wax and keeping the home fires warm while in his mind runs, "Where is my wandering roommate tonight!"

There is a certain Senior girl who has been coyly trying all year to get a date here on the Campus in order to make her Alumnus friend jealous. Either all we need is the "I wish or else the technique has misused."

Considering the low cost of commodities in this cheap store market when the manager is taking her next trip to Europe, or how soon the last year's model car will be discarded.

When such a riotous good time is had in the Paul Jones at the Tea Dance—why not top up the lagging Saturday night informals in the gym in the same room? The "I wish or else the technique has misused."

What mean these weird rumors of the approaching Tuesday night—away they roll last year's country club formal—especially the night before Easter and sundry other instances of staid activity.

We think when girls of one society refuse to give the girls in another—because at the Scotchman's ball, the situation has been carried too far even if the lady were such choice marvels with which to struggle about the floor (or weren't they?)

Does it mean much or little—anyway it is sacred this and is senseless!

How much does Brown Register? How long is Nemo and what is White's Fear? How high is Reinhold's Hill or what is Wells' Pea or Brown's Sterling? Who says, "Lucky lady, good girl!" In what precinct is the Gumbler's Ward? Personally we like Guy Lombardo. Sunday night means—two dollars for two many cut classes—holiday being curbed.

Does it mean much or little—anyway it is sacred this and is senseless!

How much does Brown Register? How long is Nemo and what is White's Fear? How high is Reinhold's Hill or what is Wells' Pea or Brown's Sterling? Who says, "Lucky lady, good girl!" In what precinct is the Gumbler's Ward? Personally we like Guy Lombardo. Sunday night means—two dollars for two many cut classes—holiday being curbed.

Does it mean much or little—anyway it is sacred this and is senseless!

How much does Brown Register? How long is Nemo and what is White's Fear? How high is Reinhold's Hill or what is Wells' Pea or Brown's Sterling? Who says, "Lucky lady, good girl!" In what precinct is the Gumbler's Ward? Personally we like Guy Lombardo. Sunday night means—two dollars for two many cut classes—holiday being curbed.

Does it mean much or little—anyway it is sacred this and is senseless!

How much does Brown Register? How long is Nemo and what is White's Fear? How high is Reinhold's Hill or what is Wells' Pea or Brown's Sterling? Who says, "Lucky lady, good girl!" In what precinct is the Gumbler's Ward? Personally we like Guy Lombardo. Sunday night means—two dollars for two many cut classes—holiday being curbed.

Does it mean much or little—anyway it is sacred this and is senseless!

How much does Brown Register? How long is Nemo and what is White's Fear? How high is Reinhold's Hill or what is Wells' Pea or Brown's Sterling? Who says, "Lucky lady, good girl!" In what precinct is the Gumbler's Ward? Personally we like Guy Lombardo. Sunday night means—two dollars for two many cut classes—holiday being curbed.

STUDENTS' ATTENTION

Call at CARL'S

THE COLLEGE BARBERSHOP

Corner Street

For your copy of the Washington Basketball Schedule

Sports, Here and There

By C. C. B.

The record compiled by the 1933 Washington College eleven is the most satisfying one that any team has made since the present senior class has been in college. It is a fitting climax to the football careers of eight men who graduate next June, who have performed on the gridiron. At other colleges, more fortunate with better material and cooperation from the squad and student body alike, two victories in eight starts would be considered an excellent record for obtaining a new coach. But at Washington College the situation is just the reverse, for here the Coach has been solely responsible for two victories which are exactly twice as many as teams of the same size together have been able to register. It might also be noted that Coach E. K. Eklund's gridders driven victory at least two other encounters, this season.

Coach Eklund has done more for Washington College football than has been accorded to him. In fact, he has put the College in a great debt by his constant and excellent efforts. Coming here three years ago, fresh with All-Maryland laurels, and with the reputation of being the best coach in the country, he has since been warring until this year had all the characteristics of a losing fight. At Washington College, it seemed as well not the college for football. The team itself apparently was unconcerned, playing because of a certain physical fitness which practically required it to. The Student Body didn't give whoop, and sadly enough, seventy-five percent of that group still doesn't. But, Coach Eklund, at least, has installed in his players that fighting spirit which wins games, two this year, and will win more in coming years. Even his own players have not given him half in return for what he has given, but there is an all-around improvement.

It is not our idea that the players themselves haven't done a lot, for, after all, they have been the ones who have taken the punishment and returned back more. Individual abilities have recently been recognized by Baltimore Sports writers. However Coach Eklund is the man who has by tireless efforts brought out these abilities. He has aroused the Washington College players to a real desire to play, and for the greatest amount of praise for others in recent years have given it to. The student body might well follow the example set by this man, and the players might get the credit for the next year. If so, then there will be a team to boast of, rather than to feel ashamed of, as has been the case in the last several years.

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149
C. W. Kibler & Sons

H. D. OREM & SON
Headquarters for
Farmer's Hardware and
Supplies
Case Tractors, Thrashers,
Combines
Phone 217, Chestertown

POHL CHOSEN CAPTAIN EXPECTS FINE CAGE ON ALL-OPONENT TEAM THIS YEAR SOPHS DOWN FROSH IN HOCKEY GAME

Vince Hopkins Considered Best Bet

Listed below is an All-Opponent Team which has been selected by several members of the 1933 Football squad. The choices in most instances were easily made, as each one picked was outstanding not only in the Washington College game, but in other games of the season. Selections were made on the basis of all around performance, including sportsmanship, spirit, fight and playing ability.

Name	Position	College
Pohl	R.E.	Delaware
Walsh	R.T.	Loyola
Olazewski	R.G.	St. Mary's
Harmon	C.	St. Joseph's
Kennedy	L.T.	Susquehanna
Tosch	L.T.	St. Mary's
Green	Q.B.	Delaware
Beeler	R.H.	Hopkins
Kane	L.H.	St. Joseph's
Hopkins	F.B.	St. Mary's

Best Bet—Hopkins.
Captain—Pohl.

BASKETBALL PROSPECTS GOOD FOR THIS YEAR

Captain Del Proudfoot and Team Mates Practicing Daily

The 1933-34 edition of the Washington "Flying Pigeon" is slowly being moulded into a team of aggressive ball-bawlers, and will be ready to start this season with a veteran confidence.

The return of seven letter-men and the improved play of several of the members of last year's squad has given Coach Eklund and his team a good look forward to a highly successful season. With such veteran players as Capt. Proudfoot, Gates, Higgins, Hodgson, Huey, Ward, and Kibler, and with Evans, Nicholson, Rees, Berry, Bilancioni, and Johns improving in the daily practices, Washington College supporters should realize the team has a fine chance to clinch the state championship.

Coaches Kibler and Dumchett have been drilling the candidates in daily workouts, and have been trying several combinations so as to find the team that works as a unit. Several close practice games have been played, and great expectations of a worthy team in the current opinion of both coaches.

The basketball schedule lists fourteen games, all of which come after the Christmas holidays. Washington is represented in the Maryland Inter-collegiate League, of which Coach Kibler is President, and home and home games will be played with each league team.

Coach J. Thomas Kibler, who is more optimistic over his prospects for a championship quietest this season than he has been for two or three years. With all of last season's regulars back, and with the spirit characteristic of the few teams of several years back prevalent, there is every indication that his optimism is well founded.

COED-FOOTBALL SQUAD HOCKEY GAME

In a Turkey Day Contest, the Floral-A. C. consisting of members of the 1933 Football squad, played the girls' hockey team to a 1 to 1 draw. The game was a nip and tuck affair throughout, and the Floral boys leading until the last minute of play, were evened by their coo rivals.

The Floral A. C. line-up as follows: at the game started, "Lefty" Lord, left wing; "Sun-flower" Skipper, left inner; "Sweet Pie" Saylor, center; "Duchie" O'Farrell, right inner; "Chapman-Helm's" Clark, right wing; "Waterloo" Ward, left half; "Boss" Reinhold, center half; "Daffodil" Dobkins, right half; "Hyscote" Harris, left fullback; "Tulip" Tigmer, right fullback; "Hydrangea" Hagood, the coach's lineup was as usual, and the game was soon on. It was soon evident that Priscilla Granger, right wing, could run circles around "Lotus" Lord, who wasn't so interested in the game. "Begonia" Bilancioni thought he was running interference in the Delaware game and looked Leah Preskovic "cut" in a manner that would please any coach's pickup, except Miss Bell's. During the pickup, "Chrysanthemum" Clark (Daffodil) for whatever you do to a hockey ball on the right side of the field, and passed it to "Daffodil" Dobkins who scored with a mighty swing, the first and last count for the Floral A. C. "Duchie" O'Farrell got mighty fast once or twice and nearly over Patience Pyle in an attempt to put his team out of a slump. At this point, "Bleeding" Heart Bur-

Take Final Contest Of Season, S To I

The final game of hockey season was played between the Freshmen and Sophomores.

When the game began the Sophomores had only eight players on the ice. The Freshmen scored their one goal before three of the Sophomores backfield got in the game. The score remained in favor of the Rats until the beginning of the second half when Sarton, center for the Sophs, pushed one by the Freshman forward. The Freshman team played a fine defensive game holding the score down to five goals.

Sophomores	Freshmen
Sutton	C.	Harvey
Youse	L.I.	E. Stevens
Granger	L.W.	Anthony
Nichols	R.I.	Post
Jewell	R.W.	Byrd
Helms	C.H.	Stirling
Metcalf	R.H.	Brown
Frederick	L.H.	Roe
Ford	R.E.	Ward
Shaver	L.B.	L. Stevens
Cranishank	G.	Nickerson

Score: Jewell 1; Sutton 2; Granger 1; Helms 1; L. Stevens 1.

hardy entered the fray midst great cheers and jeers as the crowd saw his hairy legs, and began standing in the goal's position. Soon the half ended.

Carolyn Helms, Kitty Anthony, Doris Metcalf (who is big, solid, and tough enough to play his league football), Lucy Cranishank, Leah Frederick and the other girls played ably in the second half, but seemed beaten throughout. "Winter" Ward was singing, "Rose" Reinhold was in his speed. "Myahtah" Harris wanted to play around the goal, "Tulip" Tigmer was playing baseball on some of his shots, and the rest of the game was about in, when a very early, Carolyn Helms' shot pitched against "Bleeding Heart" Burkhart in a face-off. Helms lost no time in shooting the ball directly under the net, as Miss Doris Helms, who referred an excellent game for a woman more than anyone else, blew her whistle for the nine-hundredth and ninety-ninth time. Woots game, was Turkey Day, for all were wanted that they came out alive after meeting the Lucille Rains and "Sweet Pie" Saylor could swing those clubs.

Editor's Note—The reporter who wrote in this article was glad to apologize for any technical terms of the game he may have omitted and for using wrong ones, but he insists he doesn't know better. Knowing him to be full of his ambitions, I am inclined to believe in the sincerity of the manner in which he covered the "big" game.

Local Gridders On All-Star Elevens

Gamber and Dobkins Most Honored By Sport Writers

Several Washington College gridironers were honored by Baltimore Sports writers when they were chosen in All-Maryland elevens and given an Honorable Mention.

Leading the Shore players was Captain Dick Gamber, who was picked on the Evening Sun's second All-Maryland mythical eleven. He was even more honored by the Wilson Winger of the Baltimore News and Baltimore American, when in addition to being picked on the Second All-Maryland eleven, he was chosen Captain of it. Of Gamber, Winger wrote: "As a leader, Gamber is a player with real football instinct. He is placed by Washington College folk in the same class with such former Eastern college players of long and story as Whitey Frank and Gots Young of 17 and 16 years ago, respectively.

At Dobkins, given Honorable Mention by Winger, was selected by Craig Taylor of the Baltimore Sun as All-Maryland line backer on his Second All-Maryland team. The splendid work of the small but effective fullback who, after playing steadily as a usual regular for the last year, came into his own with a superb performance in each of the 1933 contests, qualifies him for the honor. Taylor described him as the "quarreling of a Washington team which fought well in its class."

Fritz Reinhold was given Honorable Mention by Winger in the Quarterback position, mention being made by several papers of his leadership. Among other Washington College players who were recognized as outstanding is Elmer Ward, running mate and Captain-elect, Elmer Dwyer was similarly honored as was John Lord at a guard position, Charley Berry, excellent Shore passer, was given Honorable Mention by Winger also.

STUDENTS

We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.

Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Lenthene Line from Paris.

Abbott's Deluxe Ice Cream.

Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

See Food Is Our Specialty
HERB'S RESTAURANT and BEER GARDEN
Chesapeake, Maryland
Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.
Best Food
Prompt Service
Our Beer Is The Best In Town

STATISTICS OF THE 1933-34 WASHINGTON COLLEGE BASKETBALL SQUAD

Name	Class	Weight	Height	Position	Previous School
1. Richard M. Gamber	Senior	155	5 ft. 11 in.	Guard	Darby High School, Darby, Penn.
2. Albert P. Girault	Senior	165	5 ft. 11 in.	Forward	Hartford High School, Hartford, Conn.
3. Alfred Hodgson	Senior	165	5 ft. 6 in.	Forward	Chestertown H. School, Chestertown
4. Delbert Proudfoot	Senior	165	5 ft. 8 in.	Forward	Penn. A. School, Philadelphia
5. Vincent Brandolini	Junior	135	5 ft. 8 in.	Forward	Croby High School, Waterbury, Conn.
6. Vincent R. Huey	Junior	120	6 ft.	Guard	Croby High School, Waterbury, Conn.
7. James J. Johns	Junior	125	6 ft.	Guard	Chestertown H. School, Chestertown
8. Joseph Moore	Junior	160	5 ft. 10 in.	Guard	Alfred Hall, Baltimore, Maryland
9. William Nicholson	Junior	155	6 ft.	Guard	Chestertown H. School, Chestertown
10. Dale Rees	Junior	145	6 ft. 8 in.	Guard	Chestertown H. School, Chestertown
11. Robert Shaul	Junior	145	6 ft. 8 in.	Guard	Chestertown H. School, Chestertown
12. Elmer J. Ward	Junior	140	5 ft. 11 in.	Forward	Allegany High School, Cumberland
13. Charles Berry	Sophomore	145	5 ft. 9 in.	Forward	Hughesville High School, Hughesville
14. Charles Terry	Sophomore	145	5 ft. 9 in.	Forward	New Castle H. S., New Castle, Pa.
15. Albert Bilancioni	Sophomore	165	5 ft. 9 in.	Forward	Leavenworth H. S., Waterbury, Conn.
16. Edward Evans	Sophomore	140	6 ft. 11 in.	Center	Pennington P. S., Pennington, N. J.
17. William Reinhardt	Sophomore	145	5 ft. 11 in.	Guard	Chestertown H. School, Chestertown
18. Phillip Skips	Sophomore	140	6 ft. 8 in.	Forward	Albion H. S., Albion, Pa.
19. Arthur Griens	Freshman	155	5 ft. 6 in.	Center	Friends Central School, Penn.
20. Joseph McCain	Freshman	170	6 ft. 2 in.	Forward	Baltimore Poly Institute, Balt., Md.
21. Edward MacMahon	Freshman	155	5 ft. 8 in.	Forward	Chestertown H. School, Chestertown

Asst. Coach—Fred W. Dumchett
Head Coach—J. Thomas Kibler

Manager—Earl W. Price
Manager—Burdette Nuttle

MOST ANYTHING— Nothing In Particular

All Time Coed Football Team in the spirit of fun, an All-Time Washington College Coed Football team has been selected by some of our illustrious Ma observers. In publishing the observations, we sincerely hope that it all is taken in the spirit that they have been made.

Shinner and Metcalfe at the ends, Harshaw and L. Crulshank or Wyle at the tackle berths. "Ma" O'Farrell won at the guards and Frederick at Center on the line; and Humphries at Quarterback, Ford and Grunings at the halves, and Helms at Fullback complete the first eleven.

Honorable Mention has deservingly been accorded to Yeuse, Shorters, Ragan, Enomoto, Cannon and Moore at the line positions. "Ma" Alder, Ryle and Childs as tackle, and to Hill and Reinhold at Center. In the backfield the Four Horsemen, Cooper, Poole, Robinson and Kinnle, deserve special mention. Morgan, Rice, Kelley and Thelma Smith are recognized from performances as meriting Honorable Mention at the Quarterback position. Other fullbacks who have performed well are Burkle, Jewell, Clarke, and Pyle (Patience).

Helms has been designated as best bet, and Humphries as Captain. The average height is 4 ft. 10 in. and the average age, fifteen. The line average weight is 300, the backfield, 216, and that of the team, 200. Harshaw also might be listed as a triple threat (S, E & P). Rip, (Herald) Miller is Coach. Dr. Delema master, Burkhardt, Manager, and as Trainer, O'Farrell. Boy, oh boy, what a combination. In making a statement to the Washington correspondent recently, Rip stated that with a little practice his team, he felt, could play in any bowl in the country, be it a bowl with some or none. With a little practice O'Farrell, a manager like Burkhardt, and publicity men like Charley Clark and Pat Beaman, this combination could wipe out any Eastern Shore eleven.

HOT AIR

By Phil A. Bilime

All eight v-neck classes at the University of Rochester have been dismissed by action of the faculty. They claim that it is better for the students to sleep in their own rooms than to come to class for their "booby nap."

Several faculty members of Syracuse University are permitting students who can not afford to pay board to live with them. Others have contributed to help needy students to buy books. Perhaps poor aren't so bad after all.

A professor defined—by a professor—"One who learns more and more about less and less, until finally he can tell you nothing about anything."

Sixth college gives advice to freshmen: "Communism has never worked out successfully. Wear your own clothes and let others wear yours." "Never let studies interfere with your education," advised Dr. George D. Outten, president of Colgate University, to his freshmen.

Columbia U. reporters questioned people on the street and discovered that five out of six men think that college students are loafers. How did they know?

Baylor College is offering a new course this fall. It is "The Proper Means of Loafing."

At Denison university students who wear ears on the campus last year made an average of 25 per cent higher than the grades of pedestrian students. Deal me!

A flush from Stanford states that Coed at that institution must pass a physical examination before they are allowed to stay out until 12 on week nights and until 1:30 on Saturday nights. At least there is no college where the girls have to prove that they can take it. It's fun to be a college boy. He lives a life of ease; And even when he graduates He does it by degrees.

The following was mentioned to Elly Ward, that his Washington College blood, in case of Richard "Quiet Quiescent" Gamber.

Dear Sir: When I came to this school I weighed 108 pounds, could even lift a mortgage and was so strong I would get rope burns on my neck every time I tied my neck tie.

Since drinking your coffee I have lost thirty-five pounds, and my hair has started falling out. I'm getting so thin I can't tell whether I have a backache or a stomach ache. I love it all to your coffee.

An Invalid Friend, Pleasant Killbuck. P. S.—I find your coffee is first-rate for clogged drains, spasms, harness polish and fumigation.

Another, written soon after President Roosevelt came into office: Senator Washington, D. C. Dear Senator:

On the father of a full house, three queens and a pair of Kings. Will the cards be stacked against me, in this new deal of March 4, so that I will be lost in the shuffle? I am new away in the hole and there will be the deuce to pay if I don't make my bid. If you want to be an ace in my home do something that will help me to bring the cards to my office.

Very truly yours, How folks are Washington College students? See if you can solve this one.

A brakeman, fireman and engineer are employed on a train. Their names are Robinson, Smith, and Jones, not respectively. On this same train are three passengers with same names, Robinson, Smith and Jones, hereafter referred to as "M's," to distinguish them from employees.

1—Mr. Robinson lives in Detroit. 2—The brakeman lives halfway between Detroit and Chicago.

3—Mr. Jones earns exactly $2,000 per year.

4—Smith beat the fireman at billiards.

5—The brakeman's nearest neighbor, who is one of the above passengers, earns exactly 3 times as much as the brakeman.

6—The passenger living in Chicago has the same name as the brakeman.

QUESTION: What is the engineer's name? This test was supposed to have been given by the Bethlehem Steel Corporation to prospective employees. There is no catch in it. Each statement must be considered in arriving at the correct answer and if you are bright you can solve it in 5 to 10 minutes.

COLLEGE HILL LUNCH ROOM

Light Lunch

Beer On Draught

W. M. CROWDING, Prop.

Modern Shoe Repairing

Store

PAUL SIPALA

Next to Sterling Drug

Honorary Hockey Players Selected

Fourth Time For Miss Byrn; Third For Miss Rains

At the close of each season an honorary varsity team is chosen by the board of managers of the G. I. A. A. This team is made up of the players who have made the best showing during the season.

Rains, Byrn, Helms and Metcalfe were their old positions of former seasons. Miss Rains is the last season for Rains and Byrn. They have both played an outstanding part in college athletics since their Freshman year. Byrn has been elected honorary varsity captain four years while Rains has for three.

Lesh Frederick is back again this year but as fullback instead of half. His place as fullback is filled by Inley who received honorable mention last year.

Kitty Anthony, a freshman, played hockey for the first time this season. A fast player from the beginning of the season, Anthony developed into the best bet on the Freshman squad. She was elected left wing on the honorary varsity. Grace Stevens, another Freshman, because of her steady playing was selected left inside, a position which she will hold for all coming seasons. Lucy Crulshank was her honor in the game with the football team Thanksgiving morning. Her steady playing and clear thinking made many saves.

Granger's reputation as the fastest player on the field was established when she outran Johnny Lord in the Thanksgiving game.

The complete Honorary Varsity is Left Wing—Kitty Anthony.

Left Inner—Eleanor Stevens.
Center—Fleanor—Lucie Rains.
Right Inner—Sarah Ellen Byrn.
Right Inner—Priscilla Granger.
Left Halfback—Mary Inley.
Center Halfback—Caroline Helms.
Right Halfback—Dicky Metcalfe.
Left Fullback—Lash Frederick.
Right Fullback—Miriam Ford.
Goalie—Lucy Crulshank.
Carolyn Jewell, Louise Nicholson, Kitty Hyland and Gene Harshaw received honorable mention.

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

Jan. 12—Hopkins	Away
Jan. 18—Mt. St. Mary's	Away
Jan. 19—Western Md.	Away
Jan. 19—Swarthmore	Away
Jan. 20—Western Md.	Home
Jan. 27—Loyola	Home
Feb. 3—St. John's	Home
Feb. 10—Hopkins	Home
Feb. 16—Mt. St. Mary's	Home
Feb. 17—U. of Maryland	Home
Feb. 21—St. John's	Home
Feb. 22—Delaware	Home
Feb. 24—Loyola	Home
March 1—Delaware	Away

KREEGER'S JEWELRY STORE

Eyes examined and glasses fitted by a graduate Optician. Fountain Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films and Developing.

Watches, Rings and Novelty Jewelry.

McCALLISTERS

Quality Sporting Goods
Catalogue on Request
124 W. Baltimore St.
Baltimore, Md.

AS A STUDENT SEES IT By Marvin Emard

As a means of meeting foreign competition, in which Italy admits she is losing ground, Premier Mussolini has worked out a cooperative plan to lower costs of living and wages. This most necessarily result in a lowering of living standards for the Italians, but it must be effected if the country is to continue to export products.

The U. S. flag is flying again over Moscow. Ambassador Bullitt was given a cordial reception. It is hard for outsiders to realize what an exceptional position Mr. Bullitt enjoys by virtue of Levin's appraisal of him fourteen years ago as "a young man of great heart, integrity and courage," which carries enormous weight.

The South seems singularly insensitive to the criticizing eyes of the world in connection with the trials of the Scottsboro boys. Judge Collins maintains an attitude of half-concealed hostility toward the chief defense counsel, Samuel Leibowitz, who has been refused to permit the only important evidence showing that the two young women (one of whom has denied there was an attack) had spent the preceding night in a hotel room with two white men. Her eventual bias was strikingly revealed when, in charging the jury, he urged to instruct them how to bring in any verdict except that of guilt. Appeals will be made of course and it seems that such a miscarriage of justice is sufficiently obvious to bring the question before the U. S. Supreme Court.

The "New Republic" offers a rather humorous suggestion—that of procuring the Order of Lenin for Albert H. Wiggin on the grounds that he has converted more Americans to Communism than all other revolutionary agitators—from Karl Marx to William Z. Foster.

THE FITCH DOWNTOWN COMPANY

Janitor Supplies

801 South Howard Street
Baltimore, Md.

FOX'S

Anything you want at

the Right Price

Sc to $1.00

Store

Compliments of

THE PARK ROW

BEAUTY SHOPPE

DEL-MAR-VA

RESTAURANT

Beer and

Special Lunches

We Cater to Parties

Mr. Vernon Grant Talks To Y. M. C. A.

Leading Commercial Artist Speaks On "Breaks"

The Y. M. C. A., carrying on its rehabilitation efforts this year, presented Mr. Vernon Grant, commercial artist, on Wednesday night, December 6, to an audience which would have undoubtedly been larger had it foreseen the quality of entertainment offered. In line with its endeavors to expand its influence on the campus as compared to preceding years, the association succeeded in bringing to the college a speaker, much in demand, who has spoken over a national radio network on occasion, and to numerous assemblies who have often called on him. As Mr. Grant himself explained in his talk, his presence at the college was a leading commercial artist, with cover illustrations on three of the leading monthly magazines was due at the outset to a start given him by a Y. M. C. A. secretary, and in this spirit, he ventured to detail to the audience his opinions on the subject of "Breaks." Sketching his life from birth in a Missouri pioneer's household thirty-one years ago (a story seemingly out of a dime novel) to the present day, Mr. Grant convincingly pointed out that "breaks" are simply the inevitable culmination of long worked for aspirations—in effect, there are no such things as breaks, and that the "inherently talented" are only those who have striven intensively enough to attain their goals.

Equally as well received as Mr. Grant's talk, were several violin pieces by his wife, and three songs and two selections by the artist himself, at the beginning and end of the program, which contributed a most enjoyable evening to all.

Compliments of

Chestertown
Electric Light and Power
Company

THE BELLHAVEN

Home of Good Food

College Hill

Telephone 331-M

Visit

ALBERT L. WHEAT

For Anything

in

Men's Wear

BARNETT'S

BARBER SHOP

Over Sterling's Drug Store

First Class Service and

Expert Workmen

JAMES E. NEWTON

Cleaning — Pressing

Repairing

109 Court Street

Chestertown, Maryland

COLLEGE SENIORS

MARIE POOLE

Marie Poole was graduated as the salutatorian of her class from the Harlick High School; her home is in Williamsburg, Md. In her preparatory training she included such extra-curricular activities as the Glee Club, Editorship of the High School paper, and Presidency of the Senior Class.

In Washington College, where she is a Major in French, her scholastic ability has served to distinguish her. But other fields have also successfully claimed her attention. She has been active in the Glee Club (especially in the Sophomore and Junior years), Adelphi Literary Society and the Y. W. C. A., of which she is now Vice-President. Belonging to the Honor Society in both the Junior and Senior Years, she now acts as its assistant executive. She plays class basketball, is on the Pegasus staff, and was elected vice-president of the Women's Student Government Association, on which she had served since her Junior year. A member of the Sigma Tau Delta Sorority, Miss Poole has shown her diversity of endeavor by the accomplishments above. Perhaps most significant is the thoroughness with which she has achieved each.

JOHN T. BRUEHL

John T. Bruhl graduated from Centerville High School in the class of 1930. He participated in all sports, playing on two county championship soccer teams. He graduated with honors and received the citizenship award in his senior year.

Bruhl entered the University of Maryland in 1930, and there pursued a course in mechanical engineering for two years. He was a member of the Engineering Society and made the Freshman rifle team in 1930, and in his second year was a member of the Varsity rifle team, which won highest honors in 3rd Corps Area matches.

Bruhl transferred from U. of Md. to Washington College in 1932, taking the science course. He is majoring in Mathematics, and taking up Education preparatory to teaching.

His ability to work hard and a natural high intelligence will help this Senior to win his place.

LUCILE RAISIN

Lucile Raisin, of Chestertown, Md., played at basketball, football, declamation, dramatics and studying at the Chestertown High School, from which she was graduated in 1930. Both she and her playthings benefited.

Thus, the historic attributes indicated make natural her role as 1933 leader of the Thespians at Washington College; she is this year's President of the Dramatic Club, an actress of local note.

Miss Raisin belongs to the Kappa Gamma Sorority, she has been its Secretary, and to the Girl's Athletic Association, whose President she is now. She plays hockey and basketball with enthusiasm and success. Sundry other fields occupy her vital, active attention. At present, she is vigorously directing the Dramatic Club's Deucey.

DELBERT PROUDFOOT

Delbert Proudfoot is a graduate of Peow Avenue High School in Cumberland, Maryland. As one of the representatives of that school in basketball, Del was very instrumental in their winning the State Championship in his Junior Year, 1929, and traveling to Chicago to the National Tournament in which their team made out well. Del was placed on All-Star teams in this sport while in High School, and his ability as a "vire-shot" won quite a reputation for him. He learned Basketball under Bobby Cavanaugh, former Washington College Star Athlete.

At Washington College Del has carried on in his favorite sport until he ranks among the best players in the state. His election to the captaincy of the Flying Pentagon of 1934 is the crowning achievement. We do not hesitate to say that Del, if unhindered by more or less frequent ailments of some kind, and if in the mood, is as good as any player in this section of the country. Del also won his letter in Track his Sophomore year, starting as a high jumper. He is a member of the Blue Key National Honorary Fraternity, of the Varsity Club and is Sergeant-At-Arms of them both.

This Senior's good nature and friendly personality will go far in helping him to make good in whatever he undertakes. Though a trifle lazy, he can work when necessary, and has not shirked his duties here at College. We wish our basketball captain all luck needed.

PAUL W. T. PIPPIN

Paul W. T. Pippin is a graduate of Chestertown High School, at which he was an outstanding member of the class of 1929. His ability along the line of Art and his cooperative attitude has made him just as valuable, if not more so, as a College Student.

Paul has consistently made good indices, working for an A. B. degree. Since his entrance at Washington College he has been the mainstay of the Collier Club in planning designs and schemes for decorations. Also he has been a valuable aid to the Dramatic and Shakespearean clubs in this connection.

This Senior was honored by his classmates last June in their elections when he was chosen to Edit the 1934 College Yearbook, the Pegasus. In his Junior year he acted as Assistant Editor, having been chosen by the class of 1933 when Richards left college and Roland Ready became Editor. Paul is also a member of the ELM staff, the Varsity Club and of Mt. Vernon Literary Society. Also he has augmented to his all-around activities by playing regularly for the past two years on the Lacrosse team. Last year his ability as a close defense man was recognized when W. Wilson Wingate gave him Honorable Mention for the All-Maryland Lacrosse Ten.

To a classmate who is willing to work, who makes many friends through social contacts and otherwise, we can give the assurance that we do not doubt that he will make good in his favorite time, and in which he is very talented, architecture.

Stepping

STEPPING . . I'll say they're stepping. Just about the best cigarette you ever smoked.

Chesterfields are milder
Chesterfields taste better

Chesterfield

They Satisfy

Plans Formulated For Debating Club

Smithson Chosen Chairman; Sadler, Manager

Plans were formulated, Tuesday, December 6, 1933, at a meeting called by Professor Makovsky to organize a Washington College Debating Society.

Prospects for intercollegiate debating were discussed as several debates are in view. The list included: Hillsdale College, Mich.; Johns Hopkins University, University of Delaware, Albright College, Blue Ridge College, Allegheny College and Western Maryland College.

Professor Dumschott will direct the collection of the debate material while Professor Makovsky will assist with the development of the debate.

By action of the group, John Smithson was elected President and Wesley Sadler, manager.

There will be at least twelve debates with the possibility of women's debating team. The membership of the society is not limited to the nine or twelve members of the team but will include all of those interested who will take part in inter-mural debating which is a new activity at Washington College.

Nineteen persons interested in the society were at the meeting, more are welcome.

PROF. SOLANDT FETES CLASSICAL SOCIETY

Dinner Planned After Typical Roman Celebration

On Thursday evening December 8, Professor and Mrs. Solandt entertained the Classical Society and friends with a turkey banquet given at the Ball Haven. The dinner was planned after a typical Roman celebration and afforded these persons much pleasure.

The special event of the evening was a lecture by our distinguished president, Dr. Mead, who spoke on the development of the Greek drama. Dr. Mead was able to speak with authority, having lectured on comparative literatures for the past thirteen years. With the aid of a slide machine he was able to illustrate the growth of the drama from the days of the Dionysia, revivies up to the age of Aeschylus's brilliant satires.

In addition to the members of the Society, Prof. and Mrs. Solandt's guests of honor were Dr. and Mrs. Mead, Dr. Doh, Dr. Inapala, Mrs. Boyce and Mrs. and Mrs. D. K. Boynton.

Two new islands have appeared in the northern Atlantic ocean, near Brazil.

PIPPEN'S BARBER SHOP
Pippen's Hotel
Hair Cutting My Specialty

SMITH'S KUT-RATE DRUG STORE

The only place where you can buy home-made Ice Cream.

Greek Letter Notes

Gamma Sigma
Jane Young and Harriet, Louisa Bowers have become pledges of the sorority.

Mrs. Mead gave us a tea Monday, December 4.

The sorority was given a formal dinner and bridge party by Mrs. D. K. Boynton on Thursday, Dec. 7.

Sigma Tau Delta
Marie Peole and Lucile Legg have recently been pledged to the sorority.

Phi Sigma Tau
Numbering among our recent visitors are William Willis, Carlton Farnham, Robert Fleetwood, Robert Farnham, Philip Wingate, Milton Noble, Maurice Boyne, and Herbert Ryan.

The announcement of the marriage of Joseph Glackin, '30, has recently been made.

Kappa Gamma
The sorority was recently entertained by Mrs. William K. Howell.

Quite a few Alumni members visited on the "Hill" over Thanksgiving. Among them were Theodora Chapman, and Henrietta Bowen.

Phi Sigma Phi
The Fraternity recently awarded a gold medal to Richard M. Gamble, Captain of the 1933 College Football team. The first of three new presentations was made last year.

NO NICE GIRL SWEARS

Extracts from Alice Leone Meats' Book—by Olga Shortess

If you think a nice girl doesn't have her problems, drop around some night at intermission. Unless her date is Secretary of the W. C. U. or Tom, the Two-Ten Worker, in person, he's found to weaken at one time or another. So true to her good old Boy Scout complex, she's got to be prepared. Alice Leone Meats says:

"When out with a platted friend, control your feelings and on no account lose your temper. Let go the next day, the angrier you get, the better; but at the time right down your desire you may have to give him a piece of your mind. It only leads to a scene and makes no impression. Remain calm and try to get him to go home, but under no circumstances let him suspect you think he is tight. There is nothing that will infuriate him as the suspicion of his condition. Agree with everything he says, as, nine times out of ten he will forget it five seconds later. If you agree with him, you fix the idea in his mind. If he wants to take the orchestra away with him, be thrilled. If he develops a craving to play the saxophone, love saxophones and don't mention the merits of a tuba. If he takes a dislike to a stranger across the room and decides he wants to punch him, agree that the man has an ugly face, but try to shift the conversation to another subject, and if the fight seems unavoidable, leave by the nearest exit."

The Emerson Hotel

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled
Rooms $3 up—Aptos Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

Lacrosse Dropped By Athletic Council

Action Final Unless Faculty Changes Decision

The following is an official announcement released by the Athletic Council of Washington College. The decision and action is final unless the Faculty of Washington College reverses it.

December 14, 1933
To whom it may concern:

The Athletic Council of Washington College takes this opportunity to announce that Lacrosse has been dropped from our schedule of spring sports for the spring of 1934. The action of the Council was taken because of the financial conditions of the Association, which necessitated the eliminating of one of our two sport for spring sports. After giving complete consideration to the matter, the Council came to the conclusion that the cost of conducting baseball for the spring of 1934 would be much less than the cost of conducting lacrosse.

If in the judgment of the Athletic Council the financial condition of the Association warrants its restoration, Lacrosse will be included in the spring program of that year.

J. Thomas Kildler,
Chairman of Athletic Council.

George L. Exaline,
Fred W. Dumschott,
John D. Makovsky,
Doris T. Bell,
Albert E. Dohman.

JOINT MEETINGS OF Y. M. AND Y. W. C. A. HELD

Prof. Dumschott Speaks On Good Citizenship

Interesting topics have been discussed in joint meetings of Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. recently. On December third Dr. Livingston addressed the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. and spoke on religion as rounding out character. His talk was enjoyed by all present who learned a great deal from it.

On December tenth Professor Dumschott talked on the requirements of a good citizen. He told what he thought every young person should do to help his country along the road to success. He closed his talk with the request for everyone to join in a silent prayer for Dr. Titusworth. This was done, and after singing a few more songs, the meeting ended.

After the Show follow
the Crowd to the Most
Modern Ice Cream Parlor in Town.

GILL BROS.

THE ELM LETTER BOX

To The Editor of the Elm:

Sir:
"LACROSSE DROPPED AT WASHINGTON." That was the heading of an article in the Baltimore Sun on Saturday morning, December 9th. The text of the article was, that to several reasons, Lacrosse may be dropped at Washington College. The reasons given were, (1) lack of funds, (2) the large number of home games this year, and home games never have attracted a crowd, (3) the cost of equipment.

Now it seems in fairness to the student body that someone might like to know something about the athletic policy that we are going to pursue.

It seems that if there were no doubt as to the finality and validity of the reasons given for dropping Lacrosse, then Lacrosse should certainly be at all means be dropped. But here is where some of us begin to wonder.

"Lack of funds?" It is known to some that the football team made quite a good sized sum of money, due to the Delaware game that was unexpected when the athletic budget was made up. I am sure that some of this amount could not be used for Lacrosse, except that it be used for other sports.

In reference to the second reason, the large number of home games this year, and home games never have attracted a crowd, something might be said. Last spring we played all our games away from home, except a practice game with a high school. So, to tell the truth, there wasn't much chance of attracting a crowd, was there? Then, the spring before last, we played New York University and Swarthmore College at home. Of course I couldn't count the people on by one, but I can say conservatively that there was as large a crowd at both of them as there was at any football game here this fall with the exception of the Delaware game.

Now just a word about the schedule that Washington College played last spring. It was acclaimed by the Baltimore press as the hardest of any team in the country. It included St. John's, Hopkins, Mt. Washington, Maryland, and Swarthmore, four of the best teams in the country and the last one named not far behind. There are other teams that we could play.

believe it or not, and satisfactory terms could be arranged I think, with them. How extensive an attempt has been made to get these games? We don't know.

Equipment undoubtedly has to be bought. The team needs shoes and a few new sticks, but all of it will not amount to a prodigious sum. That is my evaluation of the reasons given for dropping Lacrosse, the major spring sport of nearly every Maryland College.

Still, how about the students? How do they feel about the game? It is not definitely known, for they have not been given a chance to say. It is a prevalent fact upon the campus that the game is well liked, but there are those Freshmen who have not seen Lacrosse played. In all fairness to them, should they not be given an opportunity to see the sport played that has Maryland as its center? Even the Sophomores, except those on the squad, have seen only practice games, and not the thrills of a regular game.

This season promises to be the best since the sport has been played at Chestertown. The squad boasts the services of one American and several that were given Honorable Mention on the All-Southern and All-Maryland teams. The spirit of the team may be summed up briefly by saying that we can and will win games if given an opportunity. Consider the fact that there are nine regulars on the team from the Senior team, and much other material in the lower classes.

It seems a shame that Washington College is going to take a step backwards by dropping the spring sport that is growing so at the present time.

(Signed) Richard Powell Chambers.

THE REXAL STORE EASTMAN KODAKS

DEVELOPING and PRINTING BY EXPERTS DRUGS and SUNDRIES Of All Kinds
A. L. STERLING

Pure Food is the Foundation of Your Health

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT

Soda, Candy, Cigarettes, Beer on Draught
Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.
Phone 207 Chestertown, Md.
Safeguard Your Stomach, It Is Your Best Friend

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A store run for the benefit of the students, offers line of Wahl Dollar Pens and Pencils, Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery and School Supplies.

Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 1:15 to 4:30 P. M. Every Day but Saturday and Sunday.

VANITY FAIR UNDIES

are the and you dream about. Tiny handfuls of sheer Silk that stand the hardest kind of wear and cost next to nothing. Come in and see them!

MARGARET E. JEFFERSON SHOP

WASHINGTON BEATS HOPKINS, 29-20

Furnishes Foods For Expeditions

Products Of Col. Phillips, Former Board Member, Used By Byrd

Students and Alumni of historic old Washington College undoubtedly will be interested to learn that a former member of the Board of Governors and Visitors of this venerable institution today is playing an important role in the two outstanding expeditions of scientific research and adventure now breasting the seven seas in search of romance and undiscovered lands; of thrills and changes in the world's geography.

He is Col. Albanus Phillips, of Cambridge, president of the Phillips Food Company, whose 34 varieties of Phillips Delicious soups and vegetables are going around the world with Adventurer Philip H. Lord, aboard the Seth Parker, and with Selden Richard E. Byrd, aboard the Jacob Ruppert, in quest of new discoveries in Antarctica.

Piled high in the holds of these sturdy ships are sun-dried, nature-kind vegetables from the broad and fertile trench lands of Del-Mar-Va. And because the food chosen for such perilous expeditions must necessarily concern the comfort and health of the crew, it is vital, indeed, the fact that Phillips' Delicious brands were selected both for jaunts into unknown and uncharted areas is a dual honor shared by Col. Phillips as a packer and distributor of Del-Mar-Va agriculturalists.

The two extremes of adventure merit in the respective junkets of Capt. Lord and Admiral Byrd, the first, a radio and motion picture star, sailing a four-masted schooner around the world for the sheer love of romance and adventure, and the latter, equipped with the most modern and expensive scientific apparatus to study regions in the South Pole zone.

Though the pressure of expanding business operations several years ago necessitated the retirement of Col. Phillips from the Board of Governors and Visitors of Old Washington, throughout all the intervening years he has retained a fond and devoted pride in the steady march of the Eastern Shore college to new pinnacles of fame in the educational world.

Guest Artists Will Entertain Assembly January 18

The regular eleven o'clock Thursday evening assembly of January 18th will be featured by a recital by guest artists from the Delaware School of Music of Wilmington. The program will present Mr. Daniel Healy, tenor, and Mrs. Edna Wood, pianist.

Y. M. And Y. W. C. A. Will Hold Vesper Service Sunday

Dick Gamber is to be the speaker at the vesper service this Sunday evening, held by the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A.'s. This service like the last, will be held in Reid Hall around the fireplace at 8:30. Lawrence Williams is to lead the singing.

"DULCY" TO BE GIVEN MONDAY

Leading Part in Play Taken by Miss Raisin

On Monday evening, January 15, the Washington Players will present "Dulcy," a three-act comedy, directed by Prof. John D. Makosky.

Lucile Kavin plays the title role of "Dulcy" and she is ably assisted by Robert Fink, her husband—in the play you understand.

Some of the other characters are Mr. Forbes, a more or less genty old gentleman played by "Curly" Koser.

Mrs. Forbes, his frivolous second wife—Betty Childs.

Oh! Those love scenes! "Curly" has been kidding you!

Angela—his romantic daughter—Olga Shortess.

Schylor Van Dyck—a man of no less than Clifford, which he surprises you at the piano! H's tricky.

Bill Parker—Dulcy's bliss younger brother—Bill Hall.

Vincent Leach (don't miss the Pig Alley Passey) on up an coming young scoundrel—Harry "Dust-in-the-Person" Rheddes.

Tom Sherrett—an enterprising young advertising engineer—"Chuck" Wells. Look forwards to his impromptu remarks.

Blair Patterson—the mystery solver—Harry Huey, as usual. Harry has condescended not to speak his native tongue so you'll understand.

Harry—the ex-covidee butler—Norris Duffy.

Dulcy, poor dear, gets herself and everyone else, in all kinds of scrapes, as when she helps Angela to elope with Vincent.

Well we won't tell you. If you come to William Smith Hall next Monday night at 8 P. M., you will have the mystery explained.

Shoremen Will Play Lacrosse This Year

Found Possible To Play Game After It Had Been Dropped

Contrary to prevalent opinion as formed by various reports and announcements, Washington College will be represented by a Lacrosse team this spring, according to a statement recently made by Graduate Manager of Athletics, Prof. Frederick Dumchatt.

Though it is not certain whether or not the team will be supported by the college, or will be managed independently, at least four games are lined up for the players of the Old Indian game. The Mt. Washington Club, the best in the country, will probably be met on the home field. Such a contention is based on the statement of Oster Norris, manager of the Baltimore Club, that his team would do anything possible to help retain Lacrosse at Washington College.

By coming here in private cars little expense would be incurred, he added.

The other teams that will be engaged compose the "Big Three" of Maryland and United States Lacrosse, St. John's, Johns Hopkins, and the University of Maryland, each of which has been met in previous seasons.

The Student Body voiced strong approval when it was learned that the popular game would be played again this year. Athletic Director Kibler and Graduate Manager Dumchatt are attempting to secure other games, if financial terms can be arranged.

CAPTAIN PROUDFOOT LEADS QUINTET IN LEAGUE CONTEST

MEET MT. ST. MARY'S AT EMMITSBURG TONIGHT

Tonight the Flying Pentagon will attempt to overthrow a fast-flying Mt. St. Mary's quintet, which, however, isn't as fine a club as St. Malory presented last year. The Mounts are extremely hard to beat on their home floor and have an advantage of having been in action more this year than their Shore rivals.

Game A Toss-up

Coach Kibler plans to start the same five tonight, led by the stellar forward and captain, Del Proudfoot. Inspired by their initial success, the Flying Pentagon will be conceded an even chance to win at Emmitsburg. Mt. St. Mary's is considered the main obstacle in the Shoremen's path to a State Championship.

Library Science Course To Be Given Next Semester

Required Of Library Helpers; Open To All Students

LIBRARY METHODS

A practical course in the fundamentals of Library methods, required of all students desiring to become Library assistants. Elective for others. Instruction is given in book selection, reference work, classification and cataloging of books according to the Library of Congress and Dewey systems. One hour of lecture and two hours of practice per week. Credit two terms. Not open to Freshmen. Second term.

SHOREMEN START OFF SLOWLY, CLICK IN SECOND HALF

(Special Dispatch To The Elm)
Baltimore, Md., Jan. 13.—Overcoming a 19 to 9 lead which Johns Hopkins commanded at the end of the first half, the 1934 edition of the Flying Pentagon, won its initial contest of the season by the count of 29 to 20, at Emmitsburg last night.

Maroon Shaky At Start

Coach J. Thomas Kibler's players were a bit shaky throughout the first half and consequently were unable to score more than a single field goal. Seven (successful) foul tries kept them in the running. The first period, however, witnessed a fine comeback as Captain Del Proudfoot, was shifted to center and began to compile his total of nine points which led all other players. Harry Huey, guard, sank two field goals and three out of four foul shots for seven points, while Elroy Ward, playing in his new forward position, scored two double dunks and one free throw.

Kibler Uses Nine Players

Coach Kibler used a total of nine players, and was pleased with the showing of the Maroon and Black, once they began playing as successful. The Hopkins Blue Jays, unscathed in five starts this year, were led by Don Kelly, forward, who tallied five points.

Washington G F T
Proudfoot, f c 3 3-9
Ward, f 2 1-5
Gibbs, f 1 1-3
Hedgson, f 0 0-0
Berry, f 0 1-1
Shipp, c 0 1-2
Huey, g 2 3-4
Nichols, g 1 0-2
Gamber, g 0 1-2

Totals 9 11-14 29
Johns Hopkins G F T
Kegels, f 1 2-3 4
Kelly, f 1 3-4 6
Chancellor, c 1 1-1 3
Cametta, c 0 0-0 0
Sivard, g 1 2-4 4
Moulds, g 0 1-4 3
Margolis, g 0 1-2 1

Totals 4 12-19 20

Score by halves: 9 20-29
Johns Hopkins 12 8-20

Referee—John Neum. Time of halves—20 minutes.

Blue Key Fraternity Will Give Minstrel Show

At a recent meeting the Blue Key Fraternity decided to present its Second Annual Minstrel some time next month. Practice sessions and rehearsals will begin soon.

Mid-Year Examination Schedule For 1934

TUESDAY, JANUARY 23, 1934

1:15 P. M.—2:15 P. M.

Music 1 Auditorium

7 P. M.—8 P. M.

Music 1 Auditorium

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 24, 1934

9 A. M.—12 M.

Education 1 Room 26

English 3 (Prof. Makosky) Room 26

English 9 (Prof. Brewer) Room 26

Government 25 Room 11

Sociology 33 Room 26

9 A. M.—4:30 P. M.

Economics 15 Room 26

Education 25 Room 22

French 3 Room 21

French 7 Room 26

History 5 Room 26

Mathematics 7 Room 26

THURSDAY, JANUARY 25, 1934

9 A. M.—12 M.

Economics 1 Rooms 20 and 21

English 11b Room 22

History of Art Room 11

Latin A and Latin 1 Room 24

Mathematics 1 (Dr. Jones) Room 25

Mathematics 1 (Prof. Tusa) Room 35

1:30 P. M.—4:30 P. M.

Biology 1 Room 26

Economics 7 Room 26

FRIDAY, JANUARY 26, 1934

9 A. M.—12 M.

Chemistry 1 Room 25

French 5 Room 35

German 9 Room 10

History and Principles Room 21

Physics 1 Room 26

Sociology 21 Room 26

1:30 P. M.—4:30 P. M.

English 1b Room 25

Government 21 Room 21

History 13 Room 11

Psychology 3 Room 26

SATURDAY, JANUARY 27, 1934

9 A. M.—12 M.

English 1a Room 35

English 1b Room 26

Mathematics 5 Room 25

Physics 3 Room 24

Public Speaking 3 Room 21

1:30 P. M.—4:30 P. M.

German 1 Room 25

Latin 9 Room 24

Spanish 3 Room 21

MONDAY, JANUARY 29, 1934

9 A. M.—12 M.

Biology 5 Room 22

Economics 3 Room 11

English 9 Room 35

History 1 Rooms 21 and 26

Mathematics 3 Room 26

Physics 5 Room 10

1:30 P. M.—4:30 P. M.

Chemistry 7 Room 25

German 3 Room 25

History 19 Room 21

Spanish 1 Room 21

TUESDAY, JANUARY 30, 1934

9 A. M.—12 M.

Chemistry 5 Room 35

History 15 Room 26

How to Study Rooms 21 and 22

Sociology 23 Room 20

1:30 P. M.—4:30 P. M.

Education 21 Room 22

English 5 Room 24

French 1 Room 11

History 3 Room 21

Report all conflicts to the Registrar.

No changes in this schedule will be permitted without the consent of the Registrar.

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleven oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md. 1782.

EDITOR CHARLES B. CLARK
Assistant Editor William O. Baker
Literary Editor Albert E. Dobkins
Exchange Editor Roland E. Lekebusch
Women's Editor Sarah Ellen Byrn
Sports Editor Harry R. Huey
Alumni Editor Philip J. Wingate

REPORTERS

Feature Reporters Emory Burkhardt, Joseph Freedman
Reporters this issue—Marian Emmord, C. Castel, Philip Skipp, John Lord, Martha Shearer, Miriam Ford, Olga Shortess, Jean Harschaw, Isadore Eohrer.

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager J. Patterson Beaman
Assistant Business Manager Louis L. Goldstein
Circulation Manager Emerson P. Slocum
Assistant Circulation Manager Ernest Holland
Advertising Manager Joseph McLean

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, JAN. 13, 1934

BLUE KEY INFORMALS

There has been much criticism on the Campus directed against a certain group of students that has been deserting the dances at the College, preferring ones in nearby towns. As far as we are able to ascertain, these criticisms are absolutely valid. We make this statement only after a thorough review of the situation. The dances on the Hill are the Blue Key Informal ones, held usually at least twice a month, and partially paid for by the appropriation that the organization receives from the Students' Activities Budget. Early in the College Year, when the dances were well enough attended to pay for expenses, not covered by the appropriation, the Blue Key Fraternity was satisfied as was everyone who recognized the service that was being accorded them.

However, chiefly since Thanksgiving, there has been an increasing number of students migrating to Centreville and to other towns on Saturday nights. According to Students who have attended dances both off and on the Campus, the Blue Key Informals are more satisfactory. Probably this recognition makes this coming of students to the dances on the Hill more on the Campus on the Hill will be attended as they should be.

We might note the fine cooperation of the Blue Key, which is the only National Honorary Fraternity on the Washington College campus. The organization fosters aims of service, attempting to advance Student Activities. Each year the Fraternity has been more influential, and accomplished more. The members who are honored by their membership receive nothing in return for their time and efforts. Thus it is only a matter of common decency that anyone they should be fully backed and attended by all the Students. Dances off the Campus can be attended on week ends when there are none at the College.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

The extensive Intramural program of the winter has just gotten under way. The two Basketball Leagues, one composed of a team representing each class, and the other consisting of Fraternity and Dormitory quintets are conducted in a manner that would be a credit to any College. The present system has been in effect since 1932, and followed a very ineffective Intramural League with only four teams, representing each class. With the better plan, each man in College who does not participate in Intercollegiate athletics, or in the particular winter sport, is given an opportunity to engage himself and to receive the various benefits of the physical exercise. The ELM wishes to commend those in charge of these programs for the excellent work they are doing in helping to make College life a more representative one. The value of Intramural athletics is inestimable and though they will never replace Intercollegiate athletics even to a noticeable extent, they exist in most every educational institution in the country.

EXAMINATIONS

Before another issue of the WASHINGTON ELM will be edited, examinations will have been endured (we sincerely hope). The necessity of such a statement is absolutely not justified, for upon the student who is not a waver of their nearby encroachment? However we do feel that it is not out of place to comment upon the seriousness with which they must be taken. Whether or not one believes in their value, incidentally we must be faced with the fact that at least our fate as far as College is concerned, President Huey has never been afflicted, harassed, or confronted with examinations might well consider our declaration that they are difficult, and require preparedness on all sides. We need not prolong any ideas that we may have upon the subject, for after all College students are old enough to have their own, especially of examinations. Good luck!

SLIPPERY ELM

By ALBERT E. DOBKINS

During the week much discussion has been passed about the Saturday night dances. We remember the lack of the students complained of the lack of some form of diversion during the week end. After consideration the Blue Key Fraternity decided to hold in the Gym in place of in Reid Hall. Now the student body does not seem to desire the Saturday social.

There is a reason why the students should not attend their own dances. Certainly it is not because of too high an admission fee. The music is comparatively good and the spacious gym makes an ideal place to dance. These dances can be enjoyed as much as any other dance of the same kind held anywhere else, yet for some strange reason the informals are not well patronized.

Blue Key has offered every inducement to make the affairs good dances, yet they are rapidly falling away to the form of the old frolic. The fraternity went thirty dollars in the red to conduct the last program dance and lost two dollars the past Saturday. Of course everyone of us is paying for it through the Student Activities Budget. At the present rate we can hold about two more dances with an orchestra and then return to the Frolics with the one man band.

Blue Key has done all that it can to have the kind of dances that the students desire. The students can make them good dances if they so wish. It is no fun to be confined on the Hill every week end and those who find it necessary to remain here all night long it is quite a nuisance. After all they are our dances and we, the students, can make them any way we want them—within reason.

Blue Key plans to hold one more Saturday Informal and if the students do not seem to want it there will be a return to the old Frolics with as much music as the budget will allow.

They are our dances to have or not to have.

CULTURAL COMMENT

By Joseph Freedman

The City of Baltimore, cradle of "The Star Spangled Banner," is at last to harbor the original manuscript of the national anthem. Dr. Rosbach, of the Walters Art Gallery has recently purchased it at a public auction in New York City, for the gallery sum of $24,000, a mere fraction of its actual value. As the manuscript is a literary document, the manuscript is priceless. The board of directors of the Gallery rejecting at their success in acquiring so valuable a document, have taken every precaution to make it a permanent possession of the people of Baltimore.

Artistic Baltimore is also to honor for the next few weeks, the original of Whistler's painting of his mother. The portrait, valued at $1,000,000, is one of the world's last known pictures, and is now making a tour of the world. It is of special interest to Baltimore, since Mrs. Whistler, subject of the canvas, was a Baltimorean by birth.

Mark Twain's habit of swearing was particularly revolting to his wife, who tried her best to cure him of it. One day, while shaving, he cut himself. He recited his entire vocabulary, and when he was finished, his wife, who had listened carefully, repeated every word he had said. The (Continued in Next Column)

PURLOINED PHRASES

By ROLAND LEKEBUSCH

She: "Do you love me darling?"
 He: "You know there's not a thing in the world I wouldn't do for you."
 She: "Oh, here's my assignment."

"Have you got a match?"
 "No, here's my lighter."
 "I can't pick my teeth with a lighter!"

Coach: "Why did you fumble the ball?"
 Player: "I got kicked in the mouth."

Coach: "Well, you weren't carrying the ball in your mouth, were you?"

"I just bought a nickel razor."
 "I think a rubber one would be better."

Goldstein stood across the street, And let out an awful wail, When someone put the fire out, And spoiled his fire sale.

—And she calls him her Romeo because they always sit on the balcony when she goes to the movies.

Eng. Prof. [at head of college parade]: "Have you read proof?"
 "37: 'No sir, who wrote it?'"

A bachelor is a man who has only his own dishes to wash.

Nervous mother: "Sir, er—I would like to—~~that is—er—I mean, I~~—I have been going out with your daughter for 5 years now, and you want a pension!"

"37: 'There's something dove-like about my girl!'"
 "34: 'Yes, she's pigeon-toed.'"

—And then there is the sad plight of the freshman who recited to his outside reading because it was too cold on the porch.

Student Council Minutes

January 3, 1934.

The meeting was called to order by President Gamber and the reading of the minutes was waived.

As there was no previous business the Council considered the case of President McLean. Wingate, President Gamber briefly reviewed the case. He caught the two offenders in their room with a BB gun and the lights out. 18 holes had been shot through the windows of Henry Jones, Sophomore, living in Middle Hall. McLean confessed to shooting 4 shots while Wingate shot 1. They testified that they did not know where the gun had been at any other time.

The offenders were found guilty and the Council sentenced them to two weeks strict room camping; the expenses to be defrayed out of their damage fees. The gun is to be confiscated until June.

There being no other business the meeting was adjourned.

Signed,

John Mason Lord.

author stammered her by saying calmly,

"You have the words, my dear, but you lack the tune."

Frank Vastely, internationally known lexicographer, and editor of Funk and Wagnall's Dictionary has made a brilliant play for the use of slang. "Without it," he said, "my language must become extinct."

TOLD TO ME

By I. ONLY HEARD

The writer asks that the gentle reader not pester the Editor about the contents of this column. If you must question, ask ME.

Xmas is over—basketball is on. Exams are here—two hours of romps were enjoyed. Blue Key's penny little dance over a rising tide of thumbs to the old frolics, "Bac Burnie Reinhold." His stellar performance kept the hall rolling and his "lads" pepped up.

They who dance must pay the fideler. The pre-holiday causers at "Harry Hawk" were to do the place "Black-Mail Inn," when twenty Washingtonians were forced to pay out plenty of their "Iron Soldiers" for damages for a vacation in the hoghouse. Anyway it was a real party.

Can it be doubted (?)—It looks like the "Real McCoy" Gracie has found her long lost brother.

Surely—it is not a very brilliant course to pursue when one columnist "Winchells" on a fellow columnist. However, the party of the first part after being published for a few times seems it proper to give the Public a few interesting lights on the escapades of the fellow writer, the most "Enterprising" men on the campus. Naturally we overlook his hilarious mien and feelings the night of the coed ball, but his sativistic denumer in a rumble sack on "Greenwood Boulevard" just over the bridge would lead up to the belief that he was a son of the illustrious Rospavin, lover, and lover of the God Bacchus.

Then there is that certain Senior, Ror, whom we know abhors publicity, so he takes to the hills and hides himself from six until seven—wonder what the true B. F. would think. Anyway she is keeping the thing in the same Fraternity.

"President" Dudley was nearly impeached during the past holiday season when not satisfied with having the car every night he decided to stay in Chestertown all night with the result that paternal sanction was withdrawn and with it the forays toward Chestertown's weaker sex had to be denied.

The cafeteria is putting on a High Street Review, composed of the girls who work therein. The show is getting its title from the recent Broadway success, "Let 'em Eat Cake," but true cafe style, one is called, "Leather-Meat Cake."

Huey moves to Reid Hall, then Al moves to Water Street, but when people kiss in the hall after a long night's absence, smile. It looks so cute! "Are you an upperclassman?" It is also conducive to a smile to learn that the coeds get their period from the Y. W. C. A. in order to pursue the game of "Kecology dominoes." Dice to you, girls.

Exams are on.
 "O Level Could you and I with Him compare."

To spite this sorry scheme of things, entice.

Would not we shatter it to bits—

—and then

Remould it nearer to the Heart's Desire."

But we might more aptly quote:

"Love me in the face of the world."

Requiescat in pace.

Important Facts About Washington College Fraternities And Sororities

As the Fraternity and Sorority Pledging season draws near, we think it wise to list the various Fraternities and Sororities, with the members, officers, pledges, Advisors and Honorary Members of each, in order that Freshmen and new students will know who's who in regard to the Greek Letter Societies.

FRATERNITIES

Alpha Kappa

Richard M. Gamber, President.
Albert E. Dobkins, Vice-Pres.
Harry C. Rhodes, Secretary.
Albert P. Grinias, Treasurer.

Members

Seniors—Richard M. Gamber, Albert E. Dobkins, Albert P. Grinias, Burdette Nuttle, and David C. Fisher.

Juniors—John M. Lord, Richardson W. Saylor, Harry L. Hays, Earl W. Price, Clarke Fontaine, Scott Brock, Harry C. Rhodes, William Nicholson, Dean R. Dees, and Norris C. Duffy.

Sophomores—Robert Bean, Chas. Fredrick W. Reinhold, Albert E. Dobkins, and William E. Kight.

Pledges—Delbert Broadfoot, '34, Robert Clifford, '36.
Faculty Members—Dr. J. S. Williams Jones, Prof. Frederick W. Dumschott.

Honorary Members—Dr. A. L. Davis, Dr. Harry G. Simpers.

Phi Sigma Tau

Officers

Charles B. Clark—President.
Frederick W. Reinhold—Vice-Pres.
Harold W. McCrone—Secretary.
Michael F. Wallace—Treasurer.
John W. Hall—Sgt.-At-Arms.
Richard R. Smithson—Historian.

Members

Seniors—Charles B. Clark, Frederick W. Reinhold, Richard W. Hall, John R. Smithson, William Emory Burkhardt, J. Patterson Besman, Joseph M. O'Farrell, Elmer W. Boyles, Alfred S. Hodge.

Juniors—Harold W. McCrone, Michael F. Wallace, Robert W. Mitchell, William Wallace, Charles Ellis Dwyer, Sophomores—Lawrence E. Williams, Albert Bilancetti, Charles Dudley, William E. Kight, Edwin S. Lowe, Philip Skipp, Robert Tigner, Emerson Shuler.

Pledges—Elmer Ward, Henry Newk, Edward Evans.
Faculty Advisor—Dr. Frederick C. Livingston.

Honorary Members—Prof. John D. Makovsky, Prof. Jean J. Coop, Mr. Louis Thibodeau.

Phi Sigma Phi

Officers

James D. Davis, President.
Albert A. Wagner, Vice-Pres.
William O. Baker, Secretary.
William Long, Treasurer.

Members

Seniors—James D. Davis, John A. Wagner.
Juniors—Russell A. Baker, William Long, William O. Baker, Delano K. Boynton, Allan R. Broughman, J. Calvin Rogers, Robert S. Shaul, George P. de Soto, Joseph Mooney.

Sophomores—Carroll Casteel, Robt. T. Garrett, William C. Grieb, Samuel L. Lindholm, John M. Little, George T. Pratt, Charles S. Wells.

Pledges—Richard P. Chambers, James W. Johns, Jr., Ralph C. Miller.

Faculty Advisor—Prof. Frank Goodwin.

Honorary Members—Dr. William R. Howell, Mr. James W. Johns, Dr. Kenneth S. Buxton, Elmer S. Brown, Albert D. Maskey, John L. Coulbourn, Dr. Joseph K. Shriver, Rev. T. Allan Goldschlager.

DEL-MAR-VA RESTAURANT

Beer and Special Luncheon We Cater to Parties

SORORITIES

Kappa Gamma

Officers

Sarah Ellen Byrn, President.
Patience Pyle, Vice-President.
Lucile Ralston—Secretary.
Harriet Rags—Treasurer.
Anna Harris—Sgt.-At-Arms.
Dorothy Kibler—Sgt.-At-Arms.

Members

Seniors—Sarah Ellen Byrn, Patience Pyle, Lucile Ralston, Harriet Rags.

Juniors—Anna Harris.
Sophomores—Dorothy Clarke, Doris Hetselle, Betty Childs, Miriam Ford, Lucy Cushman.

Pledges—Alice Cushman.
Faculty Members—Miss Snodgrass, Miss Brewer.

Hostesses and Honorary Members—Mrs. T. Kibler, Mrs. F. Goodwin, Mrs. F. W. Dumschott, Mrs. W. R. Howell.

Sigma Tau Delta

Officers

Ellen Flick—President.
Elizabeth Cooper—Vice-Pres.
Betty Thibodeau—Secretary.
Dorothy Kimble—Treasurer.
Leah Frederik—Sgt.-At-Arms.

Members

Seniors—Ellen Flick, Elizabeth Cooper, Dorothy Kimble, Alexina Robinson.

Juniors—Mildred Lee Skinner.
Sophomores—Isabel North, Elizabeth Morgan.

Pledges—Marie Poole, Katharine Hilding, Christine Gordin, Lucille Legg.

Faculty Advisor—Mrs. Errol L. Fox.

Honorary Members and Patronesses—Mrs. Joseph Tuta, Mrs. James W. Johns, Mrs. Kenneth S. Buxton, Mrs. George H. Dana.

Gamma Sigma

Officers

Ellis L. Berkley—President.
Ann Brown—Vice-President.
Ruth Cannon—Secretary.
Carolyn Jewell—Treasurer.

Seniors—Margaret Ann Brown, Mabel Babcock Boynton.

Juniors—Lillian Cannon, Mary Neild, Ella L. Berkley.

Sophomores—Cheryl Rebecca Aldridge, Carolyn Ann Jewell, Carolyn L. Helms, Jean F. Young, Harriet L. Rogers.

Pledges—Jane Young.
Faculty Advisor—Dr. Gertrude Van A. Briggs.

Honorary Members and Patronesses—Dr. Esther M. Dale, Dr. Kathleen Carpenter, Mrs. Rebecca Speicher, Miss Ann Smith, Mrs. A. L. Davis.

Compliments of

Chestertown Electric Light and Power Company

THE BELLHAVEN

Halls of Good Food College Hall Telephone 331-M

President MEAD States

Time has such an inevitable habit of running along, that the middle of the school year is on us before we have had time to do much more than get started. There's a warning to us all, to get something done while we may, before Old Father Time slips up on us.

Mid-January begins to warn us that semester exams are just around the corner. Seniors are starting to realize that in another six months they will be shoved out into the cold, cruel world, with their college days forever behind them. Sophomores and Juniors take the flight of time with their accustomed savoir faire, and Freshmen are scarcely recovered from the importance they experienced at home during the recent holidays, when they were received as full-fledged college men and women.

But there is another side to it. Consider the faculty who do not progress from class to class, but sit in and watch the stream of students flow by them, year after year. Have they given you leadership, guidance, and intellectual stimulation? If so, and best thing you can do for the college is to recommend them to your friends who will follow you to this college—or will go elsewhere to seek their further education unless you exhibit enthusiasm in trying to enlist some other student to take the place you will leave vacant when you finish.

A philosopher has well said that he who plants clover and fills them with students is planting seed corn for the world. Constant re-seeding is necessary to keep constantly new crops developing. I wonder if there is a student of Washington College who failed to represent his or her Alma Mater somehow while at home, or elsewhere, during the vacation. What did you do to show your loyalty to Washington College during those two weeks? Did you represent her well, talk favorably about her, advertise her properly by your words and actions? When you are gone from the campus, someone will fill your place. Will it be someone who was moved to come as a result of your word or example?

There is room for a limited number of good students in our family during the new semester. Can you do anything to help attract them here? If so, it should be a matter of pride, as well as a duty to your college, for you to exert every effort.

Never forget that Washington City is marked first in our cooperation. Together we go forward—Clifford W. Mead.

STUDENTS
We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.

Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Lenthic Line from Paris.

Abbott's DeLuxe Ice Cream.
Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

New Rules Made By College Sororities

Especially Concern Bidding And Pledging

To What It May Concern

At a joint meeting of the three sororities of Washington College it was decided that the following rules should govern all sororities:

1. No new girls, whether Freshmen or Upper Classmen are to be allowed to use the sorority rooms until pledging takes place in February.

2. An explanation of Bidding, Pledging, etc., will be made to Freshmen before February Pledging.

3. Rushing shall be defined as "any formal party involving only members of one sorority and no 'sorority girls'." There shall be no formal rush function given by each sorority.

(Signed)

Sarah Ellen Byrn,
Pres. Intersorority Council.

NO NICE GIRL SWEARS

Extracts from Alice Leone Most's Book—by Olga Shortess

This time it's little Lemon No. 2 about dealing with our plattered friends. Self-preservation, it seems is the main object. Nice girl you can lose her hand-book, her virtues, or her best lipstick but she's got to save her sweat or by croak to have her own sweat still. So on with Alice Leone Most.

"Never, never go out at night without a few pennies in your purse, call it 'mad money' or what you like, it will pay for your taxi home if it should arise."

"Learn to drive a car whether you own one or not. The day will surely come when you will have to take the wheel or run the risk of crashing against a tree with a youth, whose drinks have affected his vision. In fact, if you take my advice, you will carry caution to the extent of never getting into a car with a man you know is drunk. Even if you are at a friend's home in the country and you suddenly realize that your young man has reached this stage, don't go home with him. Spend the night where you are, no matter how embarrassing it may be. After all, plastic surgery is pretty expensive."

Visit
ALBERT L. WHEAT
For Anything
in
Men's Wear

BARNETT'S BARBER SHOP
Over Sterling's Drug Store
First Class Service and Expert Workmen

Pure Food is the Foundation of Your Health

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT

Soda, Candy, Cigarettes, Beer on Draught

Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.

Phone 207 Chestertown, Md.

Safeguard Your Stomach, It Is Your Best Friend

POET'S KORNER

The following was composed by one of our illustrious Faculty members when he struggled in College with an English Literature course:

I am compelled to write this mournful lay
By one who teaches rhetoric for pay.

While peaceful souls are floating down the Nile
I spend my time accumulating style.

'Tis true that Marlowe had a mighty line,
And fully half that Shakespeare wrote was fine;

But why should I, in agony and pain,
Be forced to find the word that rhymes with rain?

While others get their fun from English Lit,
I rather like nomenclature wit.

If Popkin style is supercilious
I may as well prepare to wield the broom.

If I could only work some trick or Devise some fine;

And thus secure the aid of Dryden's muse,
I would, with all content of soul and mind,

Be satisfied to sing to humankind.

Compliments of
THE PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing
103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

SMITH'S KUT-RATE DRUG STORE

The only place where you can buy home-made Ice Cream.

H. D. OREM & SON
Headquarters for Farmer's Hardware and Supplies
Case Tractor, Threshers, Combines
Phone 217. Chestertown

STUDENTS' ATTENTION
Call at CARRIES

THE COLLEGE BARBER SHOP

Cross Street
For your copy of the Washington Basketball Schedule

Sports, Here and There

By Charles Clark

As the 1933 edition of the Washington College Flying Pentagon boomed up with a fairly good showing, the University quietly last night in Baltimore, and as the Kibler players engage the Mt. St. Mary's championship combination tonight, there is much speculation over whether or not the Maroon and Black will live up to expectations and dethrone Art Malloy's Mounts from the top rung in the Maryland Collegiate League or whether one of the three colleges represented in the League will be able to upset the dope and win top honors this year.

As all indications, it would be more folly to even attempt to determine the winner, at least until the League play is well under way. Sports writers in Baltimore, not to mention the fans, will witness the Washington College five in action, are figuring on that team to prove its two games this week end, its superior ability to win. As for Mt. St. Mary's the team to beat, they think. However, Loyola, Hopkins, and Western Maryland have ideas of their own, and soon concrete evidence of their prowess will be noticed that it is anyone's league as far as winning the championship is concerned.

The Mounts have one League victory, having trounced Hopkins on Tuesday night in a free scoring contest, 43 to 31. Such a score is not decisive enough to consider the Blue Jays as no serious contender. Loyola has been winning games since before Christmas, and with early season sluggishness tucked away, the team is now coming into its own. The circuit play begins. Cornerford has a squad of young but rather experienced players, eager to place Loyola before Baltimore tonight. Western Maryland, as the Maroon and Black, is outdistanced as far as determining relative strength, but seems to be the upset dog, ready to surprise at any moment.

The fate of Washington College depends upon the results of the game last night and the affair tonight. Early season losses in the past two years have cost Coach Kibler's players the leadership, in Maryland basketball. The present combination looks better than any since 1931, and has a better crop of reserves.

It comes to the core, time after time, it seems games for better teams again and again—and yet, teams conscious of it do not profit by knowing it exists. Stanford, a better eleven, suffered from the possession of it in the New Year's Rose Bowl game in which the boys from the East's Columbia completely forgot practically every sports rule except one. Every one knows about it—OVERCONFIDENCE.

And, why bring that up? Well, a certain group of better Intramural Basketball players, deciding before the game to hold the score down after getting a safe lead over their unrespected Senior Class rivals, were forced to make the short end of the count in one of the week's class games. It isn't the idea that those juniors should be absolutely condemned for their performance, but it is something which brought before their attention, that might cause it to disappear if it hasn't already.

Modern Shoe Repairing
Store
PAUL SIPALA
Next to Sterling Drug

Cage Prospects Are Best in Three Years

Flying Pentagon Favored in Maryland Collegiate League

Coach Kibler and his Assistant, Prof. Dumouchet are well pleased with the form that the Maroon and Black Basketball squad has rendered into as Maryland Collegiate League play begins for the Shoremen.

The combination, likely to offer games this week end, consists of Captain Earl Troutfoot and Eddy Ward at the forward positions, Phil Skipp as pivot man, and Harry Huey and Bill Nicholson, guards. All but the last named are lettermen and regulars of last season's mediocre quintet. Nicholson, a near two-handed pointer possessing plenty of speed, natural ability, and willingness to be a member of the Junior Varsity last year. His development since early in the fall under Dumouchet, while Coach Kibler worked on the football field, has been very satisfactory. In addition to this starting string, is a bunch of veterans who are pushing all the time for starting berths. Al Hager, the fastest and most effective half-back on the squad, Al Bilancioni, as smooth and tricky as they come, Al Giraffe, playing in his second year, Dick Cassidy, the tightest athlete at Washington College, Charley Berry, who is exhibiting greatly improved form, and Ed Evans, a splendid center who is in the mood, compose a group that would find favor at any college. Jimmy Johns, Bill Reinhardt and Dale Rice, three steady players, also will be a factor in the team's play this season, while Brandolini, Mooney, Shaali, Bean, Greaves, MacMahon and McLain are considered by Coach Kibler as being good enough for his Varsity squad.

The team plays a schedule of fourteen games, chiefly state and Maryland Collegiate League contests. The early season play of the Flying Pentagon is expected to be the chief factor when chances of copying the championship are considered.

Next week three games will be staged, Western Maryland being met at Westminster on Tuesday night and here on Saturday night, with Swarthmore offering stiff opposition on Friday night, at Swarthmore.

See Food Is Our Specialty
HERB'S RESTAURANT and BEER GARDEN
—Dancing—
Chertstown, Maryland
Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.
Beat Foods
Pumpkin Seed Oil
Our Beer Is The Best In Town

McCALLISTERS
Quality Sporting Goods
Catalogue on Request
124 W. Baltimore St.
Baltimore, Md.

THE FITCH DOWNTOWN COMPANY
Janitor Supplies
801 South Howard Street
Baltimore, Md.

INTRAMURALS

Under the direction of Coaches J. Thomas Kibler and George L. Ekatis the Intramural Basketball Leagues resumed full swing on Monday past, January 8th. A schedule of matches set out by the Coaches has games scheduled for Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights, and Saturday afternoon from now until early in March.

The games if played as last year, will offer many of the ways of recreation for spectators, exercise and satisfaction for the performers, and probably much amusement for the Coaches.

There are two leagues, one composed of the four class teams, and the other of the three Fraternities and three dormitories.

Seniors Defeat Juniors
So far six games have been played. The Senior combination unexpectedly defeated the 1933 Class League champions, the Juniors, on Monday night. Wandering too much about how high they should run the score, the Junior team, with four of the Junior Varsity players in the lineup, were completely outplayed by a determined crew of Seniors.

In the other contest, the Alpha Kappa Fraternity, featuring the play of Al Dokkins, recovered from an early game ineffectiveness and took the game with a comfortable lead. On Wednesday night, the Fresh team defeated the Sophomores with little difficulty as Greina started, and the Phi Sigma Phi took the measure of the Middle Hall Club in a rough contest. Game results of last night were received too late for publication.

Many Players
The games played between 6:30 P. M. and 7:30 P. M. will give many intramural athletes a chance to participate in college athletics, at least in basketball, a chance to play. The roster of the several teams are as follows:

Class League
Seniors—Ralph Harris, Pat Beasman, Joe O'Farrell, Omar Carey, Emory Burkhardt, Bert Hastings.
Juniors—Bob Shroll, Vincent Brandolini, Calvin Rogers, Ella Dwyer, Joe Mooney and Wes Sadler.

Sophomores—Robert Tignor, Jack Freyer, Charley Dudley, Al Taylor, Kemper, Chaafsky.

Freshmen—McMahon, McLain, Art Greina, Reddish, Wright, Dole, Taylor.

Fraternity and Dormitory League
Phi Sigma Tau—Elihu Taylor, Charley Clark, Bert Novak, Bill Kight, Mike Wallace, and Gilbert Ingersoll.

Phi Sigma Phi—Rene Baker, Alan Broughman, George Deacon, Jim Davis, Ralph Miller, Bill Long, Chuck Wells, Bill Orie, John Little, Dick Chambers.

Alpha Kappa—Al Dokkins, Bob Bean, Earl Price, John Lord, Bob Clifford, Dick Sayler, Norris Duffy, Burdette Nuttle, Scott Beck.

East Hall—Fritz Reinhold, Carly Kecher, Joe Hall, Lee Gilley, Wilton Collier, George Pratt, Charley Carroll.

Middle Hall—Gardner, Mensell, Devin, Watson, Barnhart, Goldstein, Jones.

West Hall—Younts, Sterling, Stacey, Wingate, Fick, White, Bohrer, Ledbetter, and Dunston.

Monday, January 15
East Hall vs. Phi Sigma Phi Juniors vs. Fresh

Wednesday, January 17
East Hall vs. Middle Hall Alpha Kappa vs. Phi Sigma Tau

Friday, January 19
Phi Sigma Phi vs. Phi Sigma Tau Seniors vs. Fresh

Saturday, January 20
West Hall vs. East Hall Juniors vs. Sophs

Monday, January 22
Phi Sigma Tau vs. Phi Sigma Phi West Hall vs. Middle Hall

January 24 — February 1
No Games
Examinations

Friday, February 2
Middle Hall vs. Phi Sigma Phi Seniors vs. Juniors

Saturday, February 3
East Hall vs. Phi Sigma Phi Sophs vs. Fresh

West Hall vs. Phi Sigma Tau

Harry Rhodes Will Manage '34 Eleven

Has Been Assistant Manager For Two Years

Editor's Note—By an oversight, the newly elected Football Manager for 1934 was not mentioned when the Captain-elect was given a write-up in the last issue of the ELM. The error is regretted.

Harry C. Rhodes, of Queenstown, Md., and a member of the Junior Class at Washington College, was chosen as Football Manager of the 1934 eleven at a meeting of the 1933 freshmen immediately before Christmas. He has two years of Assistant Managering qualified him for the important position.

Harry is a member and Secretary of the Alpha Kappa Fraternity, a member of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society and of the Y. M. C. A. He has been taking parts in the plays presented by the Washington College Dramatic Club, and is a member of the cast of "Dulcy" to be presented by the club on Monday night, January 15. He is majoring in the Science course.

COACH EKATIS WILL HOLD BOXING CLASSES

Although Intercollegiate boxing is not conducted at Washington College as yet, Coach George L. Ekatis, Head Football and Lacrosse Coach, will again conduct a boxing class this year, for all those interested, it was recently announced. The first workout was held yesterday afternoon in the gymnasium.

The factors preventing Inter-Collegiate boxing at present are financial, and lack of material. Though there are some good lightweight roughmen, few in the heavier classes can be found. With a former Inter-Collegiate Champion as Coach, Ekatis, his record known to all, and with opposition in nearly every Maryland college, it is expected that in time the Shore College will be represented by a boxing team.

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149

C. W. Kibler & Sons

COLLEGE HILL LUNCH ROOM

Light Lunch

Beer On Draught

W. M. CROWDING, Prop.

KREEGER'S JEWELRY STORE

Eyes examined and glasses fitted by a graduate Optician. Fountain Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films and Developing.

Watches, Rings and Novelty Jewelry.

The Emerson Hotel

Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled
Rooms $3 ap- Auto Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A store run for the benefit of the students, offers line of Wahl Dollar Pens and Pencils. Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery and School Supplies.

Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 1:15 to 4:30 P. M. Every Day but Saturday and Sunday.

VANITY FAIR UNDIES

are the sort you dream about. Tiny handfuls of sheer Silk that stand the hardest kind of wear and cost next to nothing. Come in and see them!

THE MARGARET E. JEFFERSON SHOP

COLLEGE SENIORS

ELMER W. BOYLES

Elmer W. Boyles was a Honor Student at Calvernia High School, Calvernia, Maryland, from which he was graduated in June 1930. He played on the several High School teams and in other ways did credit to himself.

Since his matriculation at Washington College Elmer has carried on, and even though handicapped by being a day-outside his first two years, he has made very enviable scholastic records, averaging around a 2.75 index. He is majoring in Chemistry and Mathematics, and his excellent work in the Laboratory qualified him for an Assistantship. His high standing in favorite subjects and in others resulted in his being awarded one of the two Senior Scholarships, awarded annually by the Board of Visitors and Governors.

Boyles is a member of the Baseball squad, and plays Basketball in the Intramural League, for his Fraternity, the Phi Sigma Tau. He is a charter member of the newly formed Honor Society and of the Chemical Society, being an officer of the latter. Also he is a member of the Y. M. C. A. and of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society.

In a few words, Boyles is a Senior of all-around ability.

MARGARET ANN BROWN

Margaret Ann Brown was graduated from the Chestertown High School where she was active in athletics and the fine art of making friends. At Washington College, she has been for four years, a member of the Gamma Sigma Sorority, and is

PIPPEN'S BARBER SHOP Pippen's Hotel

Hair Cutting My
Specialty

After the Show follow
the Crowd to the Most
Modern Ice Cream Par-
lor in Town.

GILL BROS.

THE REXAL STORE EASTMAN KODAKS

DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING
BY EXPERTS
DRUGS and
SUNDRIES
Of All Kinds
A. L. STERLING

FOX'S

Anything you want at
the Right Price
5c to $1.00
Store

serving in an official capacity this year. During her Freshman and Sophomore years, she belonged to the Y. W. C. A., and is an active member of the Town Girls' Association. Besides being a thorough student, especially in History, her major field, she has even continued her policy of quiet and genuine interest in the queer games of mankind. At college, also, she has not let her athletic ability languish; this year she is assistant coach of volleyball and basketball, and has requested her class team in these two sports for the entire four years. Miss Brown would indeed seem to be one of those with a real "desire for living."

GROVER BERT HASTINGS

Bert Hastings was one of three Washington High School graduates of Princess Anne, Md., who entered Washington College with the class of 1934. Since then he has matured both physically and mentally to a great extent, standing well in his classes.

Bert is best known for two things, his excellent bridge playing, and for his friendly personality and cleverness. At the present time he is probably the best bridge player on the Campus, excelling in the Contract game as well as in Auction bridge. However, we do not want to give the impression that his time is taken up with this recreation more than it should be, for he has many other interests at College. The Lacrosse players recognize him as a fine manager, looking out for their many needs, as well as cooperating with Coach Elmita. It is hoped he will not be without a Lacrosse team to look out for this spring.

He has been an active member of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society and of the Y. M. C. A. for four years, and is a charter member of the newly formed Chemical Society. Each year he has participated in chess athletics with average ability.

Bert is majoring in the Science courses and will be qualified to teach when graduated in June. His native ability along with willingness to work and cooperate will be a great factor in determining his success.

FATIENCE PYLE

Fatience Pyle was graduated from the Chestertown High School, where she was distinguished not only as a quietly adequate, interested, student and a vivacious companion, but also as an accurate writer and conscientious contributor to the school literary enterprises. She also performed well as an athlete.

These qualities and accomplishments she has continued at Washington College, where she is an active member of the Shakespeare Players, and belonged to the Mt. Vernon Literary Society. Miss Pyle played hockey in both the Junior and Senior years, and basketball in the two years before those. In her junior year she was selected as a member of the Honorary Hockey team. She is one of the Board of Managers of the Girls' Athletic Association. Also she has been a member of the Kappa Gamma Society for four years, serving in the capacity of Treasurer last year, and being Vice-President this year.

It is always difficult to define the abstract qualities of a subject's character, other than by his impression on the observer or intimate, and such impressions, or expressions of them, are always inadequate. Abiet, that this is the case, it may be said of Fatience Pyle that she is one of that gifted class of eternal optimist.

ALBERT P. GIRATIS

Albert P. Giratis graduated from High School in Hartford, Connecticut and worked there at the Insurance Business for a year or two before entering Washington College in the fall of 1930. Since his matriculation he has added to the laurels that his brother Stanley won, in athletics and has distinguished himself as a student, averaging over a 2.5 index.

Al has made eight Varsity letters and will have two more by the end of the College year. He has won three in Basketball, three in Lacrosse and two in Football. Though he claims Basketball as his favorite sport, his ability in Lacrosse was recognized when W. Wilson Winnie gave him Honorable Mention in the Baltimore News and Sunday American. Coach Kibler has found Giratis a hard working player who has been a big asset to the team each year.

Giratis has been noted for his independence and ability to speak on intellectual subjects. He is thoroughly familiar with the leading current questions, and has definite ideas of his own concerning them. At times his College mates have considered him too progressive, but he will justify his actions and thoughts.

He is a member of the Alpha Kappa Fraternity, of which he was Business Manager during his Sophomore year. He has been a member of the Varsity Club for four years, and last June was honored by his class by being elected to the Student Council. He also is a leading figure in the newly formed Honor Society. With Al's intelligence and ability to do things, we expect to hear about him in the future.

Chesterfield -
I enjoy them a lot

...to me they're Milder
...to me they TASTE BETTER
They Satisfy

MAX MONTOUR GIVES VERSATILE PROGRAM

Recitations From Great English And German Dramatists

Mr. Max Montour, celebrated and skilled German actor and reader, presented at the first Washington College Assembly for 1934, held on January 4, in William Smith Hall, a versatile program of character parts and recitations from the great writers and dramatists of English and his native land. In the evening, at 8 o'clock, of the same day, at the same place, he gave a different selection of representations, including an entire one-act play, by Schiller, for the convenience and entertainment of the people of the town and countryside.

Mr. Montour, in the morning, was introduced to the Assembly by Dr. A. L. Davis, Chairman of the Language Department of the college. Here, he portrayed Hamlet, in the grand soliloquy, in both English and German; a passage from King Lear, and contrasting roles of the Jew—crafty and always vindictive as Shylock, in the Merchant of Venice, and philosophically tolerant, sorrowing for unobtainable humanity, in Nathan the Wise from the tale by Lessing. The finest piece, if one finest can be picked from Mr. Montour's brilliant repertoire of portrayals, was his recital of the Erlkönig, when his interpretive dialogue of the warrior and his dying son was indeed artistry.

Before an audience slightly smaller, but not less enthusiastic, in the evening, Mr. Montour enacted parts from Goethe's immortal Faust, including a bit of his famous part as Mephistopheles.

Mr. Montour came to Washington College through the courtesy of the Carl Schurz Memorial Foundation.

—NOTICE—

Dr. and Mrs. Howell take this means of thanking the farmer and the present students of Washington College who sent Christmas remembrances and expressions of good wishes.

AS A STUDENT SEES IT

By Marjoe Enmerr

An example of the relation of economics to politics is shown by the cases of Mr. Stevinsky, international banker, who was reported missing several days ago. An extensive search revealed his hiding place in the Swiss Alps. It was reported that when the gendarmerie entered his home, he immediately shot himself and later died. However, rumors cast abroad suggest that the gendarmerie shot him in order to prevent his implicating certain high officials in France in nefarious practices.

Immediately an armed guard of 1600 men was posted around the French assembly. Further developments should prove most enlightening.

General Johnson now comes out with the announcement that the average working week will have to be reduced from 40 to 32 hours if recovery is to be speeded up. He qualifies his statement, however, by adding that certain industries which have suffered severe losses due to the curtailment of the working hours of their employees, may be exempted or have special codes arranged. If the plan is brought into practice there is the possibility that the smaller firms and businesses will not be able to compete with large scale industry by virtue of the fact that their weapons lie in the now illegal practices of price cutting, sweat shops, etc., unless something unprecedented happens, there will be further justification by capital and creation of monopolies similar to the plan submitted by Girard Sèvepe.

CODES GIVEN LIBRARY BY MRS. FRANK DICK

Generous Gift Of $1500 Provides For Reading Facilities

The Washington College code will soon have a library of their own in Field Hall, which, however, will be at the disposal of their male classmates.

The establishment of the library was made possible through the generosity of Mrs. Frank Madison Dick, of Cambridge, Md., Librarian General of the Daughters of the American Revolution. From her it is presented to the college through the Dorset and the Old Kent Chapters of the D. A. R., and will be a Memorial to Elsie Cullen Dick.

Prescription Blanks	"THE NEW DEAL"	Auto Job Records
Sales Books	BUSINESS STATIONERY	Letter Heads
Bill Heads	$2.80 PER 1000	Envelopes
Stickers	Over 3000 Cuts Furnished FREE	Planners
Taps	ALLEN L. STAFFORD	2 in 1 Cards
	Representing David Lionel Press, Templeville, Md.
	Business and Blotter Cards $1 and $1.50 Per 1000

Luckies

Reach you fully packed

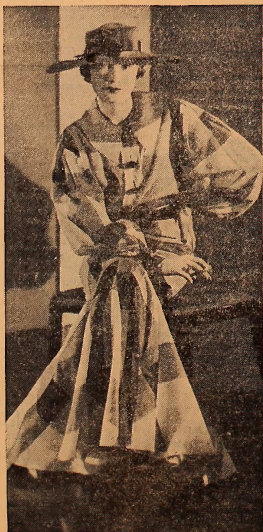

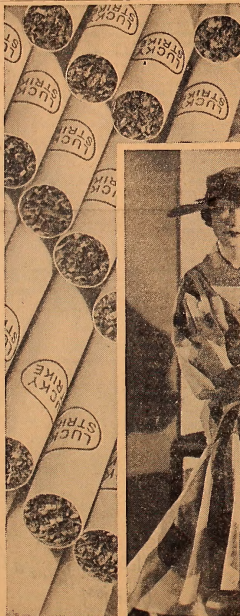

THE TOBACCO

DOES NOT SPILL OUT

Good tobaccos... real good tobaccos... that's the reason for Lucky Strike's fine, smooth quality. We use only the center leaves of the finest Turkish and domestic tobacco plants. Not the top leaves—because those are under-developed. Not the bottom leaves—because those are inferior in quality. We use only the center leaves—because these are the mildest leaves—fully ripe for perfect smoking. Only these choice tobaccos are used to make Luckies—so round, so firm, so fully packed—and no loose ends to spill out. That's why Luckies are always mild and smooth. That's why always "Luckies please". And don't forget—"It's toasted"—for throat protection—for finer taste.

The Metropolitan Opera
Over NBC Red and Blue Networks
Saturday, 1:40 P. M. Eastern Standard Time, LUCKY STRIKE presents the Metropolitan Opera Company in the complete Opera, "L'Africain."

Always the Finest Tobacco

and only the Center Leaves

VOL. XXXIII. NO. 7.

SATURDAY, FEB. 10, 1934

PRICE TEN CENTS

Special Assembly Will Mark Birthday Of Geo. Washington

President Mead To Make Convocation Address

The birthday of the patron-founder of Washington College, and the United States of America, George Washington, will be celebrated and will become an annual custom on Thursday, February 22, at a regular assembly in William Smith Hall, marked by unusual formality, and special exercises appropriate to the date. The address of the convocation, to which the interested public is invited, will be delivered by President Gilbert Wilex Mead, and will include significant references to previous convocations in the rich and complex history of Washington College.

Although of an uncommonly dignified nature, the Assembly will not assume the sole celebration importance of last year's, for it was learned at a recent interview in the President's office that early in March a truly "patriotic" celebration will designate the formal acceptance by the college, and opening of, the new Reid Hall Library, the recent beneficiary gift of Mrs. F. M. Dick, of Cambridge, Maryland. Though plans for this latter occasion are not complete, it is surmised that speakers of historical prominence will grace ceremonies of historic character, when a drawing of the ship which carried the night-complete Girl's Dormitory at Washington College has at last realized.

Dr. Mead's speech on February 22 will reveal an organization of some extent of the intensive collection and study he has made of fragments and little-known references to, and relations of, this college.

The Saturday following the twenty-second will be a college holiday.

John Mead, '37, Remains Ill In Baltimore Hospital

Although the current year has seen little absence because of illness from the ranks of the students at Washington College, it is with general sorrow and regard for an early recovery that the report of the continued illness of John Mead, of the class of '37, is reported. Mead, the son of the President of the college, played on the football squad during this, his freshman year, and therefore, because his general athletic bearing, it was with unusual surprise that it was learned that at the beginning of 1934 he was the victim of a vicious attack of the system, planned to John Mead, in the hospital, from his friends, in the college, are sent the most cordial wishes for early convalescence.

Four New Students Enroll For Second Semester

Washington College is pleased to welcome into its midst four new students this semester. They are Frederick P. Gough, of New York, Brooklyn, N. Y., and transferring from Brooklyn College; Brooks Reynolds, freshman, from Georgetown, Delaware; Richard Chubb, of the class of '37, graduate of Polytechnic Institute, Baltimore; and Robert White, freshman, from Wisconsin High School, Salisbury.

President MEAD States

One of the most pleasant things about youth is, to me, its capacity for enthusiasm. When that vital element vanishes from a person's makeup, it is an inevitable sign that the arteries of the soul are beginning to harden, and rapid fossilization is on the way.

I like enthusiasm. True, the younger and less balanced a person is, the more chance for the enthusiasm to bubble off into froth, or boil over and put out its fire. Yet I would rather take a chance on that than be faced with an eternal lifelessness, which has constantly to be pecked at from without to stir it into any semblance of work.

I like enthusiasm for play, and I like enthusiasm for study. I admire the intellectual curiosity which is not content with a little knowledge, but the knowledge of a few things. Life is too short to be content with small segments.

Of course youth is sometimes wrong-headed. But then, so is age. In the first instance we call it callousness; in the latter, it is called wisdom. But the stubborn and reactionary attitude which is much harder to resolve. And the individual who risked nothing by the enthusiasms of his youth is less prone to become this stubborn conservative in his older days.

Somewhere between these two extremes lies the true path of real progress. Keeping one's balance in this world today is a big thing. It is like walking a tightrope over the Grand Canyon with the wind blowing from all directions at once. "Our stability is but balance," as Robert Bridges says, and like the rope-walker, we shall fall if we try to stand still. Our safety lies in moving forward, even though slowly. And this is as true for the College as a whole as it is for the individual.

—Gilbert W. Mead.

Fraternities Issue Bids To New Students

A total of nine men were pledged by the Washington College Fraternities, yesterday, as Bids were handed in to Dean Jones by the Freshmen and new upperclassmen following Silence Period which lasted from 12 noon on Thursday until 6 P. M. yesterday.

The Fraternities pledged the following men:

Alpha Kappa—Arthur Greims, Jas. White.

Phi Sigma Phi—Alger Abbott, Joseph McLean.

Phi Sigma Tau—Mapham Wiegand, Bill McCullough, Philip Sterling, Lawrence Youtree and Bill Stead.

Dr. Micon Speaks To Classic Society

The Classic Club of the college met on February 22 at Reid Hall for its monthly social event. It was very fortunate indeed to have as its distinguished guest and speaker the well-known classicist, Dr. Micon. For some months the members of the society circle have been anticipating this occasion to hear Dr. Micon, as he is the first time in several years that he has consented to address such a group.

Washington College Students Will Be Helped by C. W. A.

Md. College Heads Meet To Day To Discuss Plan

A telegram on Wednesday to Dr. Gilbert W. Mead, president of Washington College, from George F. Zook, Commissioner of Education, announced that the clause in the CWA project to give financial aid to students to visit Dr. Mead and other college and university heads had objected had been stricken out.

The clause, which Dr. Mead and other college heads indicated would work extreme hardships on private colleges and universities, even to the extent of forcing some to close down, was that whereby the college was required to "waive all fees for registration, tuition, laboratory and any other purpose for students working under this arrangement."

When that clause out of the contract Dr. Mead announced recently that Washington College would probably be able to take care of 25 students under the CWA plan. Under this plan, it is said, students forced to drop out of school because of financial difficulties and those prevented from starting college courses for the same reasons, would be given sums, ranging up to $10 a month, to help them continue their studies.

A request for information have been received by Dr. Mead from prospective students, their parents and even students now in college. However, however, that only two students were forced to leave Washington College at the end of the first semester because of financial troubles, it appeared that most of any number getting aid from the CWA to attend the local school would be new students.

College and university heads of Maryland will meet in Baltimore today to discuss the plan. Dr. Mead plans to attend the session.

Gardner and Fink Are Honored In Class Elections

Alfred Gardner, of Chaptico, Maryland, was elected to the Presidency of the Junior Class at Washington College yesterday at noon hour. He succeeds Harry Huey who has left the college.

In the Sophomore class elections, Robert Fink defeated Charles Duden by a 20 to 17 vote for a Student Council position, left vacant by the unusual of Robert Bean from college.

Dr. Livingood and Dr. Howell Resume Work After Illness

Dr. F. G. Livingood, Professor of English and Psychology, and Dr. William R. Howell, Registrar and Professor of Economics and Sociology have just recovered from winter illnesses and are resuming their college work. Each has confined for approximately a week.

Kibler To Head Yacht Club

Mr. J. Thomas Kibler, Athletic Director at Washington College, Head Basketball and Baseball Coach, was elected President of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club on Tuesday night, February 6, as the stockholders of that organization held their annual meeting.

Albert Dobkins Is New Mt. Vernon Head

On Thursday evening, February 8, 1934, the Mt. Vernon Library met in the auditorium of William Smith Hall for its first meeting of the second semester. The meeting was in charge of the newly elected president Albert E. Dobkins, who delivered his inaugural speech to the society. In this he stated his reconstruction program that he plans to carry out in the near future. He stressed the importance of such an organization and urged all members to do their part in bringing it back on a sound basis. Selections on the plans were rendered by Vincent Brandolini.

The officers for the second semester are: President, Albert E. Dobkins; Vice-President, Harriet Ragan; Secretary, Ella Bartley; Treasurer, Louis Goldstein; Sgt.-at-Arms, Joe H. Freedman; Board of Directors, Jack Smithson, Wes Sadler. (One member yet to be elected).

Paintings Of Marshall On Exhibition In Reid Hall

Washington College is very fortunate to have on exhibition the paintings of the Rev. Clark S. Marshall, formerly of Church Hill, Maryland. The new library in Reid Hall, second floor, is the scene of the exhibitions which are being sponsored by the Women's Literary Club of Chertowen and by Washington College.

The paintings have been shown since Thursday, February 8 and will continue on exhibition until Wednesday, February 14. The paintings are being shown. They are, according to number: 1—Shores of Lake Como. 2—The House in the Woods. 3—Veranda Days. 4—The Mirored Stream. 5—Mellow Sunlight. 6—Sipping Hums. 7—Petanque. 8—Maytime. 9—Sunlit Roadway. 10—Early Snow. 11—The Frosty Morning. 12—Snow and Ice. 13—Landmarks. 14—The Passing Snow. 15—Morning on the Coast. 16—Lockerman's Orchard. 17—Chertowen Marshlands. 18—Along the Brandywine. 19—Bull and Valley. 20—in the Garden. 21—The Wedding Rush-hour.

Members Of "W" Club Must Attend Meetings

To Varsity Club Members
The new constitution of the Varsity club provides that members missing four meetings in a row without a very good excuse, be dropped from the club. This announcement is made following the continued absence of several members without expressed reasons.

(Signed) Charles B. Clark, President of Varsity Club.

Prof. Coop Entertains Assembly

The regular Thursday morning Assembly was unusually and agreeably entertained on Feb. 8, by a demonstration in Physics, by the Hon. Dr. F. C. Cooper, President of the Physics Department at Washington College, Professor J. J. Coop.

CORRECTION: In our last issue of the ELM we credited Prof. John D. Makosky with directing the Dramatic Club's recent play, "Daley." Though he directs the club's activities, and conducts the members in the production of the plays, Miss Lucile Rasmussen, President of the Dramatic Club, was entirely responsible for the "Daley" presentation. We regret the error.

Cagers Meet Johns Hopkins In Return Game Here Tonight

Flying Pentagon Defeated Blue Jays In Previous Game

The Blue Jays of Johns Hopkins visit Washington College tonight for return basketball contest, to be played in the College gymnasium at approximately 8:30 P. M., following a preliminary game. The Flying Pentagon came out on the long end of the score, 28 to 20, when the two teams met on January 12 in Baltimore.

Both Teams Improved
The Hopkins quintet, starting Don Kelley, is a greatly improved combination and is expected to show more confidence than in the former engagement. Upset victories over the University of Maryland, Western Maryland, and Loyola have elevated them to the early season leaders. On the other hand, the cagers directed by Coach Kibler finally found themselves last Saturday night against St. John's, and if the same brand of ball is played tonight, the Shrews, always tough to beat on the home floor, should triumph.

Lineup Uncertain

In all probability, Washington College will use the same lineup as last week, at the start; while Hopkins will depend on their usual five. Rich Young will remain a substitute without weakening the combination to any extent. A large crowd is expected to attend and a close contest is expected. Captain Del Proffitt will lead the Maroon. The probable

Washington	Hopkins
Giraults	F. Sigel
Gambor	P. Stivers
Worst	C. Caudette
Warri	G. D. Kelley
Rees	G. Margolis

Harry Huey, Junior Class President, Leaves College

Harry Huey, President of the Class of '35, has dropped from college temporarily. He hopes to return next fall.

Huey will be missed for he was a regular on the basketball team, was a member of the ELM, Secretary of the Blue Key Fraternity, and Treasurer of the Varsity Club, and was coaching the Chertowen High School basketball team. He is a member of the Alpha Kappa Fraternity and of several other organizations.

Wesley Sadler Re-elected As Y. M. C. A. President

Wesley Sadler, a member of the Junior Class was recently re-elected President of the Washington College Y. M. C. A. In holding mid-year elections, the organizations followed the new plan devised last spring.

Other men elected to office were Richardson Sadler, vice-president; Emerson Slacum, secretary; and Lawrence Williams, treasurer. Under the supervision of Professor Cooper, the Y. M. C. A. has sponsored a much improved program this year and has joined hands with the Y. W. C. A. in the popular Sunday evening meetings in Reid Hall.

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleven oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

EDITOR CHARLES B. CLARK
Assistant Editor William O. Baker
Literary Editor Robert E. Dobkins
Exchange Editor Roland E. Lovelund
Women's Editor Sarah Ellen Byrn
Alumni Editor Philip J. Wingate

REPORTERS

Feature Reporters Emory Burkhardt, Joseph Freedman
Reporters this issue—Marian Emmord, C. Castiel, Philip Skipp, John Lord, Martha Shearer, Miriam Ford, Olga Shortess, Jean Harshaw, Isadore Bohrer.

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager J. Patterson Beaman
Assistant Business Manager Louis L. Goldstein
Circulation Manager Emerson P. Slacum
Advertising Manager Joseph McLaughlin

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, FEB. 10, 1934

CHAPERONES AT BLUE KEY INFORMALS

In our last issue we made an appeal for fuller attendance at the Blue Key Informal dances. We do not claim that it brought the students back to the Hill on Saturday nights, but the attendance at these dances has increased. With the spirit of making things more satisfactory all around, we now advocate that chaperones at these dances be eliminated because they are absolutely unnecessary, and for other reasons that we shall give.

This discussion arises from the consideration that the Faculty Members who have been kind and accommodating enough to attend as chaperones time after time, get nothing in return but loss of time and for the most part, boredom. Such a situation is easily understood when one considers that the Informal Dances are nothing except the old Frolics under a more dignified name. The Frolics might well have been defined as just a big get-together of students, to enjoy themselves by dancing. All week they have been watched over and governed by Faculty Members. The Faculty Members, however, at the Informal Dances, these Frolics, now called Informals are conducted for the students by the Blue Key Fraternity, a student organization. Though much improved in the manner in which they are conducted, these present affairs are still very formal. The students, in this view, who present Faculty Members who could hardly enjoy the dances, be required to attend when the Blue Key Fraternity Members could perform any actual duties that might be requested of chaperones? We have not observed so far, what these duties are. We think the situation at the Informal Dances is a larger dance or a Cotillion where chaperones add dignity, form the receiving line, and have other such valuable functions. If the Blue Key needed assistance of any nature, the Student Council would be glad to render it. Certainly a group of College Students can conduct themselves orderly enough at these dances. We think they would be more inclined to follow the "straight and narrow" if they knew that Faculty Members were not present, but that Blue Key men or Student Council men were ready to take any necessary action.

The manner in which the chaperones have been neglected except by a few at each dance, is of course very unfortunate. It does reflect the manner in which the students regard them. We do not intend that Faculty Members not be allowed to attend if they can, as some will, get enjoyment from the Student Affairs, they are welcomed.

A DEAN'S LIST

Practically every student at Washington College and at every other institution in the country where there is a similar situation, has condemned the policy of limited "cut-outs" or absences from classes. The problem has two very good sides, but we think a system different and better than the one now existing at Washington College might be devised.

First of all, we think Freshmen should be limited just as they now are, and be allowed only three absences in a three hour course, two in a two hour course and so on. The nervousness and difficulty of college work to them require that they be given all the class guidance that is possible. Thus our plan would apply to the three upper classes. In short it is as follows: Any student accumulating an average of or a two point index, would be allowed to cut as many classes as he desired. A Dean, consisting of the students attaining such an average would be released twice a semester, in order to keep students informed. This plan would work very well, for those students who had the required average would be in most every class have the desire to keep it, and consequently would not miss more classes in a lot of cases than now allowed to. There would be something to work for, students would be placed more on their own responsibility, which would be as it should be.

SLIPPERY ELM

By ALBERT E. DOBKINS

The fact that several people of note are concerned about the method of selecting captains for the varsity athletic teams was brought to our attention by Dick Gamber, Captain of football last season. The importance of a capable leader for the success and welfare of any team cannot be overlooked.

The present means of choosing a captain is election by majority vote from among men who have won the varsity "W" and who are members of the Junior Class. Fortunately no serious difficulties have arisen in the process, but there has been no undesirable result in the short history of the present Freshman Class. Yet during our career there has been at least one instance in which the captain failed completely to prove worthy of the qualities of leadership accredited to him and the poor success of that particular team is a matter of reference to all.

In order to prevent a recurrence of this kind, in order to eliminate the effects of any petty politics, and in order to bring about greater responsibility and more capable than men, it seems that a better method of selecting captains might be tried.

A highly satisfactory means of which we know is picking a captain for each individual game by the head coach of the particular sport. Enough flexibility should be allowed the coach to name any player who in his judgment should represent the team in important games. In this way it is possible to have as many captains during the course of the season, as there are games on the schedule, or again, to have one captain for the entire season. This method has been tried, the coach may find the man whom he thinks will best lead the team for the remainder of the season. It follows that there will be the best possible leadership for every game.

At the finish of the season, from among the one-game captains the best one may be singled out by election as honorary captain for the season by all players who have won letters. This plan is used in a number of colleges and universities. Notre Dame's system being the outstanding example, and could work especially well in a college of our size and make up.

The adoption of the new method will necessarily come through the Athletic Association. There has been no official action taken on the problem which is one more of improvement than of cure, but as quickly as student opinion is expressed and as soon as the present captains, Dwyer, Prouffoot, and Reinhold express their views, a meeting of the Athletic Council might be called and steps taken to bring the matter before the student body.

If inaugurated the plan will first become effective for the football season of 1935 and the other sports in that same year. The present Captains of course will not be concerned.

The problem requires serious thought and affecting the athletic policy of Washington College. We solicit suggestions and the opinion of the students. When the time comes for this business to be presented before the student body in a meeting of the Athletic Association the students should be adequately enlightened and definitely decided to take intelligent action.

Compliments OF THE PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOPPE

PURLOINED TOLD TO ME

By ROLAND LEKEBUSCH

By L. ONLY HEARD

One of the best ways to distinguish a freshman from an upper classman is by the fact that the former will often be seen running to avoid being late for class.

"A wilted rat odds with his haven
Thought of a way he could scare 'em.
He caught him a mouse,
Let it loose in the house,
Thus starting the first 'Harem-scram'."

Never shift your month into high gear until you are sure that your brain is turning over!

Red Hall Blues
Here I, single phone,
Jingle it all alone,
Just one ring would give me joy,
Oh, I hope it's some nice boy.

Rat Hall Song
We can talk about our passing,
But we still ain't got a chance,
When we get the West Wall up us
And nabs up by the pants.
And have we got the failures?
My, how few did pass!
They just "Ed" us, "Ed" us,—funk-ed us,
Guss we never get a "Pass."

The math professor was about to explain a theorem to the Geometry class. "Now you watch the board," he said, "while I go through it."

Blue Moments At Washington
Eating a big (1) lunch and then having to go to a dreary 115 class.
Discovering that your roommate has just smoked your last cigarette.
Sitting up till 5 A. M. struggling with a lesson plan.

Getting that long expected letter from home sans the expected cheer.
Discovering that some one has put you to the one available required "reference" book in the library.

Finishing the kid brother of the girl friend in your class in private teaching.

Calling on your girl and finding Dudley all-ready with her.

Student Council Minutes

January 6, 1934.

The meeting was called to order by President Gamber and the minutes were read and approved.

Mr. Clark reported that Mr. Johns would be asserting the opinion of the Council in regards to Mr. Holland's case; viz., "Mr. Holland had been having his meals sent to his room for over two weeks because of illness; no doctor had been notified of the attitude of the Council was that this should come under the jurisdiction of the Cafeteria; who after confinement of a student for 2 days notified a doctor and the Business Manager. Mr. Gamber is to see Chief Newton in order that the drinking fountain in Middle and West Hall be repaired and that the students be furnished with additional electric light bulbs.

It was noted that because Robert Bean had left school that the Sophomore class would have to elect a man to fill his place. Several rumors of cribbing in the mid-year exams were noted, no accusations were made.

The cafeteria committee is to consult with Dr. Mead again in regard to meals.

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned.
Signed,
John Mason Lord, Sec'y.

There is much news, and more fit to print, but all will be saved in the archives for the last issue of the ELM when ya Ed has promised a double column and the three camps "Winchell's" going to merge. The issue is going to be the proverbial "fy in the sheetman" for many camps highlights and lesser lights.

The columnist scooped even the Women's student govt and is still a jump ahead of that worthy institution about a certain matter. The time: at last. Place: Unkempt Biology Lab. Occasion: Exam week. Persons: nuff said, but they should have replaced the tarpaulin and cleaned up the cigarette stubs.

For those who begrudge the "go" fellers and gals a wee bit of space here, we might recommend that all Student Council members, including the Student Government and other College celebrities take the course in just this. It is supposed to teach how to throw a corgie, for the course just has a corgie, the one who tack three sheets in the wind. One captain's motto on the floor was "Don't give up the ship." Anyway, he refused to let all corners break.

Wooden leg Winchells make good tricks men. When they had the shot at Washington avenue, only the gals' maw could find the shotgun in her haste to drive this fagan from her parlor (1) and daughter.

We heard the Student Council was going to require students to wash their legs before going into exam room. For the notes written on a student's legs all during exam week. The Student Council was to have Bride's twenty four volumes to shame.

Oh Doctor! We have all had measles, either red or german, but now we have a case of the newest brand, the Wbyte-Messall. Also Hobart, a new kind of flu. The new, N.-Y. fireworks man Duntun is in the Sparklin line at present. Mary Liu, true to her name, has young Markham in just so many knots. In reflecting how fierce competition must be against the night watchman and a columnist, one fact stands out. It drove out little "Al" H. with two exams to do, and to abandon the mid-night oil for the light of day and hie off to a dance in Wilmington. We can't see how Clough can publicize Collegiate adventures in Centreville while he is so busy sharing the Hepburn type. Yet no matter how thinly it is sliced, it still is!

For four years the Senior class basketball team has always been a brides maid and never a bride—but they have read their five foot shill, used Listerine, Ipana, Absorbine, Life-Saver, and eye etc. And to date the team is still waiting for their night of nights, when they too shall become the bride or fail because of dandruff.

There seems to be a decided trend toward the permit increase. We regret this, yet it will give other people a chance never before realized. This observation was scientifically demonstrated by the length of the wait at the Saturday night informal. More about that later.

Where do mothers get the things they tell their daughters not to do? What's that to do with the pret of apples on a Sunday School picnic?

COLLEGE SENIORS

JOHN A. WAGNER

John A. Wagner entered Washington College after graduating from Baltimore City College in 1930. At this institution he has continued his work preparatory to going to the University of Maryland Medical College next year.

John has won the friendship of a large number of students because of his service to them. He has been the College Student doctor for four years, gaining experience for his chosen profession, and at the same time rendering aid in cases of minor accidents or illnesses.

Wagner was a member of the Varsity Football squad his first two years, and starred at a guard position in the Frosh-Soph games in which his team gained a tie and then a decisive victory. He is a member of the Cottillon Club and Vice President of the Phi Sigma Phi Fraternity, of which he was Secretary in his Junior Year. Wagner was very instrumental in the formation of the Chemical Society and was elected President of that organization at its first meeting.

We feel assured that Wagner will make good in his profession for he has the qualifications, included among which are natural ability, a friendly personality, and a fine optimism.

JAMES D. DAVIS

James D. Davis, President of the Phi Sigma Phi Fraternity, completed the High School Course at Galena, Md., in 1930, after participating in his share of athletics and other activities. At Washington College he has continued his interests in activities, except in athletics, though he played in the Frosh-Soph football games and plays for his Fraternity Basketball team in the Intramural League.

Davis was Treasurer of his Fraternity in his Junior year. Also in 1933 he was Treasurer of the Cottillon Club, and now serves in the capacity of President. During his first two years he traveled each day from and to Galena, but this handicap did not hamper his work at the college to a noticeable extent. Since then he has remained on the campus, devoting himself to his various interests.

Jimmy is an able executive in the organizations with which he is connected and a general all-around ability should carry a long way. He is majoring in Economics.

MABEL BARCOCK ROYNTON

Mabel Barcock Roynton came to Washington College from a Wilmington High School, where her unusual versatility had already left its impression. Though a list of her affiliations there cannot be but summary, it includes membership in the French, Latin and Dramatic Club. She was vice-president of the A. K. Sorority, but was probably most notable for her rewarded skill in tennis, in which she won several coveted doubles awards. Participation on the basketball and hockey team, and on the Student Council, claimed even more of her actively-spent time.

At Washington College Mrs. Roynton acquired, in her Freshman year, second place in the college-wide doubles tennis tournament, in her Senior year, a talented triathlete. But the interior is filled, too, with not only scholastic enterprise, but extra-curricular enthusiasm, marked by membership in the Gamma Sigma Sorority, Y. W. C. A., Mt. Vernon Literary Society, and, last year, the cast of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," of the Shakespeare Club.

Mrs. Roynton is doing major work in English, and is preparing for teaching in that field.

BURDETTE NUTTLE

Burdette Nuttle graduated from the Denton, Md., High School in 1930 and following the course of two sisters, matriculated at Washington College the fall of the same year. Working and striving quietly but effectively he has won important positions on the Campus.

Nuttle was elected to the Student Council in his Freshman year and the process has been repeated each year since. As a member of that body he has exercised sound judgment. He has been a member of the Alpha Kappa Fraternity for four years and was Secretary in 1933. After serving as Assistant Basketball Manager for two years, the Varsity Lettermen elected him to the Managership for this year. Probably his greatest honor was accorded when his class elected him to the Blue Key National Honorary Fraternity last June. He has been very active in the social life of the College and is a member of the Cottillon Club.

Burdette is majoring in Economics and mining in Sociology. His abilities at Washington College indicate a successful life.

ERWIN L. KOERBER

Erwin L. Koerber left his native Preston, Maryland, in the fall of 1930 after graduating from High School there the previous June, to enroll as a Freshman at Washington College. His endeavors and activities at this institution are well known. "Curly" has been a staunch member of the Y. M. C. A. for four years, and adds to his works along this line the teaching of a class in one of the local Sunday schools. He was an officer in the Middle Hall Club which is now non-existing and has taken part in Mt. Vernon Literary Society programs. As a Thespian, Koerber has done well. He is a member of the Shakespeare Club and will appear in "As You Like It" this year, having done well in "A Midsummer Night's Dream" last year.

Koerber plays Intramural Basketball and has been out for the Varsity Baseball and Lacrosse teams. He is majoring in History and filling the requirements for a Maryland Teaching Certificate. He has gotten a great deal out of college and has ideas to be reckoned with.

Sea Food Is Our Specialty

HERB'S RESTAURANT and BEER GARDEN
—Dancing—
Chestertown, Maryland
Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.
Best Foods
Prompt Service
Our Beer Is The Best In Town

STUDENTS, ATTENTION

Call at CARL'S

THE COLLEGE BARBER SHOP

Cross Street

For your copy of the Washington College Basketball Schedule

Modern Shoe Repairing Store
PAUL SIPALA
Next to Sterling Drug

THE REXAL STORE
EASTMAN KODAKS FILMS
DEVELOPING

and PRINTING BY EXPERTS
DRUGS and SUNDRIES
Of All Kinds

A. L. STERLING

FOX'S

Anything you want at
the Right Price
5c to $1.00
Store

For Better COAL SERVICE
Phone 149
C. W. Kibler & Sons

the pipe tobacco that's MILD
the pipe tobacco that's COOL
-- folks seem to like it

GRANGER
ROUGH CUT
PIPE TOBACCO

Granger Rough Cut

Sports, Here and There

By Charley Clark

In our last article written just as play began in the Maryland College Basketball League we said that Western Maryland "seems to be the underdog, ready to surprise at any moment." The Green Terrors certainly did surprise when they outplayed the Flying Pentagon for rather easy victories in both Westminster and Chestertown. Since then, however, they have taken the measure of the other teams in the league at their own pace, and consequently are riding at paces on top of the League, with little concern of being overtaken, though the latter is perfectly possible.

Shoremen Improved

The Kicker combination thus far has emerged on the long end of the score just once, but a great comeback in a sensational contest with St. John's last Saturday night indicated that the win column will soon be something more than a mere aspiration. Though the game was lost in the last twenty seconds of play as Donahue, all-around athlete, sunk his only double dunker of the game, the reversal of form by the Shoremen and Black compensated for the defeat.

The charge of spirit too was very noticeable, with Captain Del Proudfoot playing one of the best games of his career. Al Givakis is playing the most consistent game, and keeps the team moving all the time, waiting for and making openings. Although Bill Nicholson missed an attempt to increase the one point lead held by the Flying Pentagon in the last half minute of play, his spectacular shots that found the mark had kept his team in the strutting. Duke Ryan had forged rapidly ahead in the game, and Evans played in a veteran manner in his first Varsity performance. Gander and Ward played fine games as did Shipps.

We cannot help but wonder why the team has not clicked in other seasons. It certainly is a known fact that in Coach Kibler, the Dean of Maryland Coaches is possessed, and Prof. Dumschott evidenced his efficiency while directing the Pentagon in Coach Kibler's absence due to illness. The schedule is no harder than usual, though some fine teams are playing in the League. Hopkins, to be met tonight has been a serious contender since the Blue Jays struck their stride. Loyola is up to par, but Mt. St. Mary's is not as formidable as last year, when the state championship was won. We think the players have not taken enough physical care of themselves, but that is only one of many theories.

A Good St. John's Team
Though not in the League play until next year, St. John's has much to work up as any College in the state. Captain McCutcheon is a finished performer, while Butterworth at center is a great shot. The behemoth forwards that he and Ward were mostly lack are unfounded, for he has averaged about fifteen points in each game for three years at St. John's. A player doesn't "kick them" that consistently. The University of Maryland is holding its own in the Southern conference play, and will be plenty ready to give the Shoremen to beat in their nearby engagement.

INTRAMURALS

Standing of the Teams		Class League
Fraternity and Dormitory	W. L. P. C. T.	Senior	W. L. P. C. T.
Alpha Kappa	0 0 1000	Freshmen	4 1 800
Phi Sigma Tau	4 2 667	Junior	3 1 750
Middle Hall	5 3 625	Sophomore	2 2 500
Phi Sigma Phi	3 5 376		0 5 000
East Hall	2 4 333
West Hall	0 6 000

The Alpha Kappa Fraternity has thus far brushed all opposition aside in the Intramural League, and with six straight victories seem to be headed for the championship of the league. Al Dorkins, playing for Alpha Kappa and former Varsity performer but non-letter man has led his team in each victory. The long shot of Pries have been invincible, however. The Phi Sigma Tau and the Middle Hall organizations, ranking second and third respectively, appear to be the teams to beat. Middle Hall surprised, but earned a victory over the Tau five on Monday night past.

Seniors Lead Class League

Scoring their second straight victory over the Junior class tonight, and by taking the measure of the Sophomore team on Wednesday night, the Senior combination appears to be the best bet in the Class League. Omar Carey, Varsity Football and Lacrosse player has found his shooting eye, in the best long shot in the League, and is effective under the basket. With Harries, center, he directs his team-mates, Beaman, Burkhardt, Hall, O'Farrell, and Hanks, who are less experienced in the cage game, but each of whom has very valuable eyes in the net. Carey enjoyed thus far. Beaman, in particular has played a fine guarding game and misses few rebounds from either board.

The Junior team has the smoothest working group and the better basketball players for the most part. However they have not been able to defeat their overplus rivals.

The Freshman, standing second in the League, also have some fine players in McLaughlin, Greims and McMahon, members of the Junior Varsity squad, and will be in the thick of the battle.

DEL-MAR-VA
RESTAURANT
Beer and
Special Lunches
We Cater to Parties

KREGER'S
JEWELRY STORE

Eyes examined and
glasses fitted by a graduate
Optician. Fountain
Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films
and Develops.

Watches, Rings and
Novelty Jewelry.

Visit
ALBERT L. WHEAT
For Anything
in
Men's Wear

BARNETT'S
BARBER SHOP
Over Sweeney's Drug Store
First Class Service and
Expert Workmen

STUDENTS
We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.
Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Lentheric Line from Par-
is.

Abbott's DeLuxe Ice
Cream.
Pipes, Cigarettes and
Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

COLLEGE HILL
LUNCH ROOM
Light Lunch
Beer on Draught
W. M. CROWDING, Prop.

Prescription Blanks
Sells Books
Bill Heads
Stickers
Tags
"THE NEW DEAL"
BUSINESS STATIONERY
$2.50 PER 1000
Over 3000 Cuts Furnished FREE
ALLEN L. STAFFORD
Representing David Little Press, Templeville, Md.
Business and Blotter Cards $1 and $1.50 Per 1000

Auto Job Records
Letter Heads
Envelopes
Ploggers
2 in 1 Cards

The Emerson Hotel
Baltimore

Casine and Furnishings
Unexcelled
Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

H. D. OREM & SON
Headquarters for
Farmer's Hardware and
Supplies
Case Tractors, Thrashers,
Combines
Phone 217. Chestertown

KIBLERITES BOW TO ST. JOHN'S, 36 TO 35

Donahue's Goal In Last Few Seconds Decides Game

A sensational basket in the last few seconds of an overtime period gave St. John's College of Annapolis, 36 to 35, decision over the Flying Pentagon in the Washington College gymnasium last Saturday night, February 9. With less than one half minute to go and with Washington leading 35 to 34, as the result of a long shot by Ward, fate intervened in the person of Donahue, St. John's player who gained control of a loose ball and let it go beyond the center line. The ball went high into the shadows, and then dropped into the basket without touching the rim. With it went the hopes of the Kibler five for its second victory of the season.
The game was the best played on the home floor in the past two seasons. Washington led most of the way, but the inability to control a lead of eleven points was fatal. As soon as the Maroon and Black got a lead, the team slowed down and began to shoot off balance. As a result St. John's was able to regain the ball, and make some fine shots that led the score in the last few seconds of the regular period.

Capt. Del Proudfoot led his teammates in scoring. But the work of Ward, Evans, and Billy Nicholson was outstanding. Evans made the most of his first chance on the varsity, and he should be a valuable man in the remaining games.

SMITH'S
KUT-RATE
DRUG STORE

The only place where you
can buy home-made Ice Cream.

THE BELLHAVEN
Home of Good Food

College Hill
Telephone 331-M

PIPPEN'S
BARBER SHOP
Pippen's Hotel

Hair Cutting My
Specialty

After the Show follow
the Crowd to the Most
Modern Ice Cream Par-
lor in Town.

GILL BROS.

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE
CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A store run for the benefit of the students, offers line of Wahl Dollar Pens and Pencils. Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery and School Supplies.

Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 1:15 to 4:30 P. M. Every Day but Saturday and Sunday.

VANITY FAIR UNDIES

are the sort you dream about. Tiny handfuls of sheer Silk that stand the hardest kind of wear and cost next to nothing. Come in and see them!

THE
MARGARET E. JEFFERSON
SHOP

Pure Food is the Foundation of Your Health

CHESTERTOWN
RESTAURANT

Soda, Candy, Cigarettes, Beer on Draught

Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.

Phone 207 Chestertown, Md.

Safeguard Your Stomach, It Is Your Best Friend

Copyright, 1934, The
American Tobacco Company

Direct from the Metropolitan Opera House
Saturday at 1:55 P. M., Eastern Standard Time over Red and Blue Networks of NBC, LUCKY STRIKE will broadcast the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York in the world PRE-MIERE of the new American opera "MERRY MOUNT."

GOOD TASTE—YOU CAN'T MISS IT

Luckies' finer smoother taste comes from the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. We use only the center leaves for they are the mildest, most tender leaves. And every Lucky is so round, so firm, so fully packed.

Always the Finest Tobacco and only the Center Leaves

NOT the top leaves—they're underdeveloped—they are harsh!

The Cream of the Crop
"The tenderest, mildest, most select tobacco"

NOT the bottom leaves—they're inferior in quality—coarse and always sandy!

POET'S KORNER

TO AN AMOEBA

(Dedicated to Dr. Carpenter)

"To be read slowly pronouncing each syllable.

Wriggle, wriggle little cell
How I wonder what the hell
Makes you wriggle all the time
On an undulating rhyme.
Moving natch my cover slide
In a streamy, dreamy glide,
Tell me are your gyroscopic ambulations

Strictly subjected to micro-scopic evolution?

How can you tell
Your head from your feet,
When you know darn well
The ends will meet?
You are the lowest of all the teeming creatures
About you I can see no redeeming features.

And then my Amoeba made reply
As he winked at me with his embryonic eye,
Yes, he winked at me and he shook his head,
And this is what the Amoeba said.

Now listen, friend, this may be hard to believe,

But I am the father of Adam and Eve,
Wise King Solomon and all his wives
Owe to little me their precious lives.
Erastus, Caesar, and the Queen of Sheba,

All have descended from the lowly Amoeba.
So hear me, friend, you and I are brothers,
Though some folks show it more than others.

By Robert Shaul.

Professor Goodwin Speaks At Honor Society Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Honor Society was held at the home of Dr. Mead on Tuesday, February 6th. The speaker at this meeting was Professor Goodwin, who gave an introduction to the field of philosophy. He defined philosophy as the search for truth, whether in the mind, in the material world, or in the realm of higher force called sometimes God, Nature or what have you, and went on to show the relation of philosophy to everyday life and science. Philosophy is an essential part of every person's life, for every action is dependent on our philosophy of life for its motivation.

Mr. Goodwin attempted to answer the questions prompted by his talk. In this discussion he maintained that the best way to become a philosopher, was to learn as much about everything as one could, as knowledge made the search for truth easier.

The next meeting of the Society will be at Dr. Buxton's, March 6th.

CULTURAL COMMENT

By Joseph Freedman

For the first time in America James Joyce's monumental "Ulysses" has been published. Suppressed for twenty years, the Federal Govt. has recently lifted its prohibition, and it is now ready for the American public. The book is unique as a literary curiosity, for it marks in literature a new type of novel, "The Stream of Consciousness Novel."

Sinclair Lewis has just published "Work of Art," his most recent novel since "Ann Vickers." The novel, a story of the rise and fall of a hotel business, charged with all the vitality and creativeness of Lewis; does full justice to him, and assures him once more a permanent seat among notable American authors.

The New York Philharmonic Symphony Society has recently made a plea to the American public for $500,000 which is necessary if the society is to continue. A campaign is shortly to be instituted to secure this amount. The depression has proved that in the future, artistic enterprises can no longer depend upon the generosity of private citizens to maintain them.

Mr. Wm. Lyons Phelps listed this month's list of the 16 finest novels ever written. How many have you read?

- 1—Robinson Crusoe—DeFoe.
- 2—Gulliver's Travels—Swift.
- 3—Crime—Richardson.

- 4—Tom Jones—Fielding.
- 5—Eugenie Grandet—Balzac.
- 6—Three Musketeers—Dumas.
- 7—David Copperfield—Dickens.
- 8—Scarlet Letter—Hawthorne.
- 9—Henry Emound—Thackeray.
- 10—Madame Bovary—Flaubert.
- 11—Fathers and Children—Turgenev.
- 12—Les Miserables—Tolstoy.
- 13—Anna Karenina—Tolstoy.
- 14—Brothers Karamazov—Dostoevsky.
- 15—Huckleberry Finn—Twain.

Girls' Basketball Team Begins By-Weekly Practices

Not much is known as yet about the individual class teams in basketball, as there has been only one practice.

The Juniors regret very much that their center, Ruth Gannon, will be unable to compete this year because of illness. They are very glad, however, that Mildred Tryzno will be their again.

All the regulars of the Sophomore team are out, and it seems very probable that they will again have a splendid team.

The Seniors, although not having many players, have two good forwards in Anne Brown and Sarah Ellen Byrn.

The Freshmen have enough to make two teams and seem to have quite a few possibilities.

Practices will be held Tuesdays and Thursdays. Let's have all the girls out and see if the practices can't be bigger and better than ever.

AS A STUDENT SEES IT

By Marian Emmerd

From all outward indications, the present conditions in the world situation, certainly point toward a new world soon. Nearly all experts of international affairs are agreed that in the near future a war will come.

A United Press article in the Wednesday evening Baltimore Sun states that Germany and Japan are both very strongly opposed to communism, as well as entertaining an intense hatred for the Soviet Union itself. Because there is mutual advantage in it, it is believed that France and Russia will join forces.

Poland, whose foreign relations have, in the past, been greatly influenced by France, has recently carried on negotiations with Berlin, so her position is now one of uncertainty. The "Little Entente" will naturally side with France while German influence seems to be spreading in some of the other small European countries. The United States, Great Britain and Italy, who are on the sidelines, will no doubt turn in the direction most profitable to them.

Alliances are taking place in the world now, both secretly and openly, and although many may disagree by saying that no country is in a fit condition to carry on a war, we must remember that the economic crisis has lasted for over four years without a solution and warfare seems to be the only remedy remaining.

769,340

You buy Chesterfield cigarettes every day. You may buy them one place today and another place tomorrow—or you may buy them the same place every day.

It is estimated that there are this day 769,340 places in this country where Chesterfields are on sale all the time.

To make Chesterfield Cigarettes we get the best tobacco and the best materials that money can buy.

We make them just as good as cigarettes can be made.

We pack them and wrap them so that they reach you just as if you came by the factory door.

You can buy Chesterfields in 769,340 places in the United States and in 80 foreign countries.

"A package of Chesterfields please"

Chesterfield

the cigarette that's Milder
the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

VOL. XXXIII. NO. 8.

SATURDAY, MARCH 3, 1934

PRICE TEN CENTS

Dinner - Dance By Phi Sigma Tau At Local Country Club

Affair Is First Of Its Kind At Washington College

The Phi Sigma Tau Fraternity of Washington College conducted a formal dinner-dance on Thursday night, March 1, at the Chester River Yacht and Country Club. The affair was the first of its kind ever held off the Washington College campus by students of the college. Its extreme success will motivate additional social functions of its nature at Washington College.

Trustmaster Charles B. Clark, President of the Fraternity, introduced the Honor Guest of the evening, Dr. Gilbert W. Mead, who spoke on his attitude toward fraternities both at Washington College, and at other institutions of higher learning with which he has been connected. He also denoted approval of the Social function and intimated that more of its kind should be held at Washington College. Mr. Mead who was invited to attend, was detained unavoidably in Baltimore.

Dr. Fred G. Livingside, Faculty Advisor of the group, and Prof. Jesse J. Coop, Honorary Member, also were present, accompanied by their wives. Dr. Livingside, who was chiefly responsible for the formation of the Fraternity six years ago, and who has been its guiding hand since spoke very briefly on the growth of the Fraternity. Wm. Emory Burkhardt, a Senior member of the organization, was the last speaker, and the fifty people present spent the rest of the evening dancing and playing cards.

Besides those named above, the following alumni, Active and Pledged members and their partners, were present: Raymond Moffett, Robert Furman and Charlotte Holloway, Hubert Ryan and Dorothy Kimble, Charles B. Clark and Patricia Pyle, Frederick W. Reinhold and Nina Hill, John Smithson and Jean Harshaw, William Emory Burkhardt and Leah Frederick, Patterson Besman and Thelma Smith, Alfred Hodgson and Sarah Katherine Roe, Joseph O'Garra and Lucie Rasin, Elmer Boyles and Elizabeth Hill, Michael Wallace and Betty Thibodeau, Gilbert Ingersoll and Doris Metcalf, Robert Mitchell and Jean Stevens, William Emerson Slatum and Lucille Lege, Lawrence Tourtelot and Mary W. Westcott, William McCullough and Christine Chaffin, and Philip Sterling and Marian Brown.

The committee in charge of arrangements consisted of Dr. Clark, Hodgson, Besman, Wallace and Clark.

Rabbi Lazerov Will Speak In Assembly March 8

Rabbi Morris S. Lazerov, an outstanding speaker of Baltimore, who has spoken at Washington College on previous occasions, will deliver an address in the regular Thursday morning assembly of March 8. The public is cordially invited to hear Rabbi Lazerov.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR INTERSORORITY DANCE

Music By Henderson's Orchestra Here March 10

The three sororities of Washington College, the Kappa Gamma, the Sigma Tau Delta, and the Gamma Sigma, will hold an Inter-sorority dance this year on Saturday, March 10, for the first time since sororities were recognized on the College campus, late in the spring of 1931.

Last year the sororities cooperated with the three fraternities and took part in the Interfraternity dance, not having a separate dance of their own. However, the general feeling prevailed that the Sororities by their importance, should sponsor an affair of their own. Consequently the Student Activities Committee was petitioned and the approval was given for the dance for the coming week.

The plans for the decorations of the Gymnasium have not as yet been completed, but other arrangements have been made. Henry Henderson's orchestra which broadcasts five nights a week, has been selected to furnish the music. Honored guests at the dance will include Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert W. Mead and the sponsors and patronesses of each sorority. The Alumnae members of the sororities will be the guests of the present active members.

Phi Sigma Phi Entertains Recently With Dinner

The Phi Sigma Phi Fraternity, of Washington College entertained at a banquet held on the evening of Wednesday, February 28, in the banquet room of the Chestertown Restaurant, the President of the college, Dr. Gilbert W. Mead, the Fraternity's pledgee of the present year, and its faculty and honorary members.

Included in the guests was Registrar W. R. Howell, Dr. K. S. Barton, Professor of Chemistry, Mr. Frank Goodwin, Assistant Professor of Economics, and Mr. J. W. Johns, Business Manager of the college, and members of the Fraternity.

Dr. Mead spoke on the policy toward Fraternities on College Hill, and President Davis also introduced each other honored guest, who made a short address.

Inclement Weather Delays Lacrosse, Baseball Work

The opening of the Lacrosse and Baseball practices seasons, scheduled to begin next week, or soon thereafter, will of necessity be postponed until the recent heavy snowfall has gone, and the practice fields are in better shape.

It is now known, the Lacrosse Team will open its playing season on March 28, the day after college closes for the Easter recess, when St. John's College will be played in Annapolis. The prospects for a fine Lacrosse season are outstanding, and Coach Ekaltis hopes to benefit from a nucleus of about seven regulars from last year's outfit, along with several others who may service. The complete schedule has not as yet been released.

Coach Kibler expects to begin Baseball practice as soon as possible, and as no new players, no games will be played before Easter. More definite information will be given later.

Is Honored

Dr. William R. Howell

Dr. William R. Howell, professor of Economics and Sociology at Washington College, has been selected a Fellow of the American Geographical Society of New York City. This society is a scientific one for the development of geographical science and the election of Dr. Howell as a Fellow is quite an honor to both himself and Washington College.

Three Intramural Games Scheduled For This P. M.

Intramural games last night and yesterday afternoon resulted as follows: The Seniors lost to the Freshmen, Phi Sigma Tau beat East Hall, The Phi Sigma Tau will play West Hall, Alpha Kappa will triumph over West Hall.

Three games are scheduled for this afternoon, beginning at 1:30 P. M. Members of the Cabinet besides Dr. Jones and Albert Dekline who were present included, Richard M. Gamber, Charles B. Clark, Alfred Gardner, William Reinhardt and James D. Davis.

ACTION OF ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE PROTESTED

Dean's Cabinet Opposes Policy Concerning Dances

At a meeting of the Dean's Cabinet on Tuesday night, called jointly by Dean J. S. William Jones and Albert E. Dekline, President of the Blue Key Fraternity, the action of the Student Activities Committee which eliminates dances following Basketball games in the future, was severely criticized by the members of the Cabinet.

The chief contention arose when the Blue Key Fraternity learned of the action of the Committee which was taken with entire disregard of the Blue Key which has very successfully been sponsoring Informal Dances twice a month on Saturday nights. Though the action of the Committee would have no effect on the next Basketball season, members present declared it a step backward in the advancement of social life on the Campus. After fuller discussion, it was decided to draw up a Resolution to be sent to the Student Activities Committee, to the effect that in the future the Committee should give an organization which was being affected as the Blue Key in this case, a chance to appear before the Committee and present the organization's side of the question. This course of action has been taken.

Members of the Cabinet besides Dr. Jones and Albert Dekline who were present included, Richard M. Gamber, Charles B. Clark, Alfred Gardner, William Reinhardt and James D. Davis.

W. C. Students Snow-Bound

Many day students living in Kent, Cecil and Queen Anne's college, were unable to reach college during the past week, as snow-drifts fifteen feet high in places were not cleared from the highways.

Flying Pentagon Surprises With Win Over St. John's

Victorious By 28-27 Count; Play Delaware Tonight

(Special To The Elm)
Annapolis, March 3.—The Washington College basketball team defeated a strong St. John's quintet in the St. John's gymnasium yesterday afternoon by a score of 28 to 27. A desperate rally in the last five minutes in which the Johnnies added nine points while Washington scored none, just failed to bring victory to the hosts.

Washington led at half-time 16 to 10, having taken an early lead, and throughout the second half, despite terrors St. John's team-play, fought brilliantly to hold a winning margin.

Washington's Third Victory

The game covered the home-and-home series between the two teams, St. John's having won at Chestertown 27 to 26 in an extra period earlier in the season. It was the third victory of the season for the Maroon and Black six and the third defeat for the St. John's quintet, which had not lost in the last ten starts.

Grisetti Puts Local in Lead

Washington got away in the lead when Al Grisetti tallied a foul shot, and then his goal and Phil Shipp's gave the Shore team a five point advantage. Goals by MacCarte gave the Johnnies a 6 to 0 tie and from then on the locals were never headed.

The Maroon and Black shot six field goals and three foul; St. John's four goals and two fouls in the first half. Both made five double decisions in the second half, but St. John's sank seven free throws to three for the Flying Pentons.

Meet Delaware Tonight

The Washington College team meets Delaware at Newark tonight, the second of a four-game series, having won the first contest here, 24 to 10 last week. The local quintet should win tonight.

Last Night's lineup:

Washington	W	F	T
Grandstaff, f	0	3-3	3
Shipp, f	3	2-3	8
Bilancini, f	2	0-1	4
Ward, c	4	2-3	6
Ship, c	1	0-2	0
Gamber, g	1	1-3	3
Totals	11	6-12	28

St. John's	W	F	T
MacCarte, f	1	6-8	6
McClure, f	2	0-0	4
Putworth, c	5	1-11	11
Douglas, g	0	2-2	2
Kilmer, c	0	0-1	0
Deleao, g	1	0-1	2
Totals	9	9-14	27

Scores by periods:
Washington..... 15 13-28
St. John's..... 10 17-27
Non-scoring substitutes—St. John's: Jordis forward, Reeves, Knight (Loyola), and Cummings (Loyola).

Shakespeare Players Will Present "As You Like It" On Saturday, Mar. 17

Cast Will Consist Of More Than Two Score Players In Brilliant Costumes

The Shakespeare Club of Washington College will present on the eve of March 17, in the Smith Hall, Shakespeare's "As You Like It" with a cast of more than two score players brilliantly costumed for the true Elizabethan stage.

Once more the climax of the present season at Washington College will be softly sounded by the tread of the sock on the bare stage like that of Shakespeare's day, on which he is said to have played himself in this very form of the Romantic comedies, and portrayed the part of the ancient Adam.

Dr. G. Van A. Inghels, the director of the production, and Professor of English at Washington College, has, as usual, assembled a varied, able, and enthusiastic cast for Shakespeare's great play of Nature in which the beauties of the play and virgin woods are as sweet as those of Plutarch's famous the "Faithful Shepherdess," but where, also, the drama of mankind is ever vital.

Reassured, the lovely heroine in the story, is being acted by Miss Jewell, who has earned deserved critical plaudits on Washington's stage many times before. Orlando her many-times lover, and brother to the most loved Oliver, is Ralph Harmer, a newcomer to the company, who will have a chance to "arrest and fret" his way in life on the first Shakespearean boards in a role as important as any in the play. The villain Oliver is Emory Burkhardt, who, with a look from blackly knit brows can "crash, cencade and quell." Such characters as these must needs have some nobility to play about, hence, the banished Duke, Rosalind's father, is James Anthony, who creditably wore last year, in "A Midsummer Night's Dream," the resplendent costume used several times in royal robes, by the great Richard Mansfield; Frederick, who is the banished Duke's usurping brother, is Joseph Freedman, who enacts his life dramatically at the scurrying mob.

Attending this Prince are Jaques, the most "melancholy Jaques" of the mournful moralizing, most excellently being practiced by that scribbling Therapist, Mr. Albert Dekline; and one watching.

(Continued On Page Two)

Shakespeare Players Will Present "As You Like It" On Saturday, Mar. 17

Cast Will Consist Of More Than Two Score Players In Brilliant Costumes

(Continued from Page 1)

Amiens, Mr. Joseph A. Mooney. Then, there is a courtier, "even my we'd," Monsieur Le Beau, who is in proper, or improper, life, Bob Shaull, Charles, by Wesley Sadler, is a wrestler who figuratively boxes the compass in his bound of tricks. In his match with the hero Orlando, Erwin Koerber is growing older every day, a trait common to humanity in the part of the feeble Adam, an advising and complaining servant to Oliver. Touchstone is Shakespeare's most philosophic fool, not a "very material fool," in whose clown part Wilbur Oliver Baker is having some small success by striving to act natural. Sir Oliver Martext, of the country gentry, and a vicar, is vicariously done by the versatile Mr. Freedman. Two shepherds who might have been black sheep of their fold are Corin, by Mimi Skinner, and Silvius, by Robert Shaull, who couldn't be expected to maintain the grace of a courtier forever. Willen, "a country fellow" (well, at least from the country) is Miss Margaret Thornton.

Too sweet and gentle and unselfishly devoted to her dear "boy" Rosalind, is one of the chief characters of the play to associate her charm with the rabble mentioned above. She is Celis, daughter to the ruling Duke Frederick, and is sincerely portrayed by Miss Nola Hill.

Miss Patience Doyle is adequately and effectively playing Phebe, a shepherdess who might better have looked to Pan than Cupid, and that college-famous actress, director, Miss Lucille Esch, will be seen as Audrey, a country wench whom Touchstone wooes, then says of her on their nuptial day "I will not take her on gift of any man."

Miss Horriet Rogers has been chosen to play Hymen, the Goddess of Marriage, and many knights and ladies as attendants on the Duke complete a brilliant company.

Many of these attendants are members of the College Glee Club, for Shakespeare's intention to make the dells in the Forest of Arden ring with merry song, will not be disregarded on next St. Patrick's Day. Nor will the date make greenhorns of such singers as Amiens (Joe Mooney, one recalls) who will trill after the directing of sheets rent especially from England the music of the famous "Under the greenwood tree" and "Blow, blow, thou winter wind," to note but a pair of the jolly tunes.

Fortunately for the exclusiveness of its meeting, few have known of the class in stage make-up given recently by Miss Hull, who has instructed ably and fascinatingly, especially for aspirants to the stage, at Washington College. Its most longable results are that each character in "As You Like It" will make himself up according to a careful interpretation of his part, and hence, it is the aim that each will, for the nonce, lose his own identity in that of the character he portrays, not only verbally, but also physically. Of course, the class has resulted in much wasted talent, as in the case of Paul Pippin who will be unable to perform as the ghost in Macbeth this year only because Macbeth isn't being given.

The gorgeous Elizabethan costumes will be supplied by the club's regular costumer, Mr. Jones, of Baltimore. Special lighting effects will be under the direction of a technician's committee, and Mr. Paul Pippin will manage and create the sylvan scenery, while scenes other than in the forest will be nearly bare.

A vigorous advertising campaign has been launched to assure spreading to all quarters the news of the chance the people may have on March 17th to hear much of Shakespeare's finest blank verse, lyrics, foolery and wisdom, to hear Jaques' great speech of "All the world's a stage—", and to see modern passions and complications presented in a splendid, ancient way.

Debaters To Engage Blue Ridge College

Smithson, Sadler, Ingersoll, Baker Debate For W. C.

The Washington College Debating teams will swing into action next Saturday night, March 10, as Blue Ridge College, of New Windsor, Md., will be engaged. It was recently announced by Jack Smithson, President of the Debating Club.

The topic of Debate is, "Resolved, That the Powers of the President of the United States should be substantially increased as a settled policy." A Washington College team, composed of Smithson and Ingersoll, and accompanied by Professor John D. Mackenzy, will debate the negative side of the question at Blue Ridge, while at Washington College Bill Baker and Sadler will uphold the affirmative side against the Blue Ridge negative team. Professor Dumschott, who has been aiding the debaters in gathering material, will probably be in charge of the Affirmative team here.

Smithson and Sadler have been attempting to secure debates with other Colleges on the same question, and it is expected that shortly a complete schedule will be released. The debates next week will be the first in which Washington College has participated since 1922.

DR. DOLE ENTERTAINS '34 HISTORY MAJORS

Comprehensive Exam Will Be Taken By Group In June

Twelve Washington College Seniors, who are majoring in History, were the guests of Dr. Esther M. Dole, Professor of History and Government at her apartment on Water Street, Chestertown, on Sunday, February 11. Professor Frederick W. Dumschott, Assistant Professor of History and Government, and Mrs. Dumschott, also were present.

After a delightful dinner and social gathering, Dr. Dole explained to the students the Comprehensive Examination, covering the four year's work in History, that will be given the Majors in that Department late this spring. The present Senior Class is the first to take such examinations, and those Seniors majoring in other subjects will likewise be subjected to the tests. Dr. Dole has arranged a schedule of group conferences of the History Majors, at which time the various courses in History will be reviewed.

Besides Dr. Dole and Prof. and Mrs. Dumschott, the following Seniors were present: Mabel Baeseck Boynton, J. Patterson Beasman, Margaret Ann Broyn, William Emory Burkhardt, Charles B. Clark, Albert E. Dokins, Ralph E. Harris, Alfred S. Hodgson, Catherine F. McKenny, Joseph M. O'Farrell, Paul W. T. Pippin, Ruth Sewell.

The Shakespeare Club

OF

WASHINGTON COLLEGE

PRESENTS

As You Like It

SATURDAY, MARCH 17, William Smith Hall

TICKETS 50c

35c To Washington Students

Reserved Seats At Stam's, After March 12th

Dr. Mead Speaks On History Of College

Interesting Accounts Related
On Feb. 22

Myth, fact, fire, non-tragedy and fun were the compounded subjects of the Washington's Birthday address, delivered by President Gilbert W. Mead, to the college and visitors in William Smith Hall at 11 o'clock A. M. of February 22, on the subject of the history of the college in the first 40 years of the 19th century.

The faculty of the college proceeded to the platform in full academic regalia, and after more elaborate opening exercises than usual, Dr. Mead began his organized account of incidents and people integrally related to the college in its black age of 1810-1840, which is the result of his accumulation of obscure historical data accomplished during the past six months.

He first laid a foundation of history in referring to the records of the very origin of the college, and indicated the amazing fact that at its beginning, Washington College had nearly twice as many students as Harvard University at its birth. Advancing to the first decade of the 19th century, President Mead played on his verbal stage the drama of the college and its affiliates, which seemed a settled tragedy for 10 years after fire had destroyed the building and efforts to rebuild were fruitless. His players included the rum-guy chimney sweep who cleaned the institution's eight chimneys twice in one day, and the student who delivered a French oration at Commencement and with no warning giving grew up to be Secretary to the Board of Visitors and delivered orations which culled turkey.

The speech added another bit to the whole of historical facts about Washington College, which is being assembled from assorted myths, traditions and happenings. Someday they may all appear in a formal history of this venerable institution.

SOLANDT SPEAKS ON ANCIENT GREECE

Classical Society Listens To Travelogue

The Classical Society of the college held its regular meeting on Friday, February 16th in William Smith Hall. Professor Solandt was the center of attractions as he presented a profusely illustrated talk on ancient Greece, giving a new view point on ancient culture. The talk was in the form of a travelogue, beginning in Korfu off the western coast of Greece and ending at Athens in the East.

The members of the Society were introduced in the course of the adventure to the Minoan Sea King civilization and to Doric and Attic cultures, from the time of Homer up through the days of the Turks. The particularly interesting phase of the trip was Professor Solandt's sharp contrast between the Greece of ancient days and the modern republic, a contrast that becomes the more wonderful the more it is comprehended. It was announced that at the next meeting on March 9, the Society will present as its guest speaker Dr. Esther Dole, professor of history.

HEADS LOCAL P. T. A.

Dr. F. G. Livingood

Dr. Frederick G. Livingood, Head Professor of Education and Psychology at Washington College, was recently elected to the Presidency of the Chestertown High School's Parent-Teachers Association. In accepting the office, Dr. Livingood did so only temporarily and will serve only until his successor is chosen.

PLAN PORTRAIT OF DR. TITSWORTH

Students, Alumni, Rotarians And Friends Will Contribute

Students and alumni of Washington College will honor the memory of Dr. Paul Emerson Titsworth at Commencement next June, when an unveiling of a memorial portrait of him is planned. A fund for this painting has been founded by the executive committee of the Alumni Association. Contributions are being solicited from alumni, particularly those graduated during the ten years of Dr. Titsworth's presidency, and from present students who knew him.

Students and Rotarians are also contributing. Any money not used for the painting will be set aside for a memorial library. Alumni chairmen have been named for 9 Eastern Shore counties, and five city vicinities. The chairmen are:

Albert D. Mackay, Elkton, Md. Cecil county.
Marion del. Smith, Chestertown, Md. Kent county.
E. Clyde Walls, Centreville, Md. Queen Anne's county.
Miss Elizabeth Mace, Cambridge, Md. Dorchester county.

J. Willard Davis, Easton, Md., Talbot county.

Elias W. Nettle, Denton, Md., Caroline county.

Carol F. Bounds, Salisbury, Md., Wicomico county.

A. Roy Woodland, Marian Station, Md., Somerset county.

H. S. Corddry, Snow Hill, Md., Worcester county.

Baltimore and vicinity, Charles M. Jarman.

Washington and vicinity, Roger J. Bounds.

Philadelphia and vicinity, Miss Maude O. Hickman.

New York and vicinity, Mrs. Adrienne Richards Wilda (Mrs. Bela Wilda).

New England District, Louis J. Thibodeau.

Rotarians of 34th district, A. Sidney Turner, Chestertown.

Contributions may be sent to district chairmen or to the college treasurer.

SMITH'S KUT-RATE DRUG STORE

The only place where you can buy home-made Ice Cream.

Interfraternity Dance To Be Held

Executive Committee Is Making Arrangements

The Washington College Student Activities Committee has recently been petitioned by the three Fraternities of the College for approval of an Interfraternity Dance on Friday night, April 13.

Although few arrangements have been made as yet, it is expected that the Dance will be the leading Social event of the year. It will be the second annual Interfraternity Dance, for before last year each of the three Greek Letter bodies on the Hill sponsored a separate affair. The Executive Committee in charge of the plans is composed of Richard M. Gumbey, Charles B. Clark, and James D. Davis, Presidents of the Alpha Kappa, Phi Sigma Tau and Phi Sigma Phi Fraternities, respectively.

At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee the following Fraternity men were appointed to serve on the designated committees:

Orchestra—Wallace, Mooney and Lord.

Decorations—Nuttie, Saylor, Miller, Wagner, Hedgson, Yeurtice.

Programs—Brongham, Burkhardt, Fisher.

Tickets—Reinhold, Long, Price.

Furniture—Clifford, Cartel, McCrone.

Clean-Up—All freshmen members and pledges.

a sensible package
10 cents

It's about as good as a tobacco pouch

"THIS Granger package is what I call good common sense. It's just about as good as a tobacco pouch.

"Here's what I mean—it keeps the tobacco right, and you can fold it up smaller after every pipe. That makes it handy to carry.

"And I want to put in a word for the tobacco while I'm at it. Granger keeps a pipe clean as a whistle, and man, it is cool.

"I want to say Granger is just about the best tobacco I ever smoked."

Granger Rough Cut

the pipe tobacco that's MILD
the pipe tobacco that's COOL

—folks seem to like it

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

CHARLES B. CLARK

Assistant Editor
Literary Editor
Exchange Editor
Women's Editor
Alumni Editor

REPORTERS

Feature Reporters
Reporters this issue—Marian Emmord, C. Castel, Philip Skipp, John Lord, Martha Shearer, Miriam Ford, Olga Shortless, Jean Harshaw, Leander Bohrer.

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager
Assistant Business Manager
Circulation Manager
Advertising Manager

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.
Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

SATURDAY, MARCH 3, 1934

THE COLLEGE STUDENT

College and University editorial writers throughout the country have been discussing a great deal lately upon the decreased enrollment in almost every institution of higher learning. This decreased enrollment, caused by the "smallest boom in years," as one of our faculty members named the economic chaos prevalent over the entire world, has been a good thing in many ways and naturally in other respects it might be regretted.

The consensus of opinion tends toward the belief that the thirty percent drop in attendance at the Colleges and Universities in the last four years has been a good thing. This general agreement follows a study of the status of the College graduate a generation or so back, in comparison with the degree holder of five years ago, and of the present time. The line of reasoning follows: There was a time, and that not so long ago, when one amounted to something just by being a College man. There was something unique and sanctifying in the mere possession of a degree. A person so distinguished was one to be looked up to by those humbler ones who had not been so. It was very few of whom ever aspired to become an educated man. But then, fathers and mothers desiring to give to their sons what they had not been fortunate enough to receive, pined and schemed and did without, in order that Tom, Dick, or Harry might win a College. The fact of whether or not, his I. Q. was 75 or 150 mattered not, nor did the longing that he secretly cherished to become a shoemaker interfere. He enrolled in pre-law, pre-medical and other departments, and often in partly working his way through College and wondering where the remainder of the cash would come from, he had little time to get any benefits from his courses.

The Colleges welcomed him with open arms; enrollment was the thing! The finest school in the country was Columbia, so judged because there was a student body of over 23,000. Of course, California with 21,000 was nearly as good, and Minnesota wasn't to be looked down upon because she enrolled only 19,000. This was all very fine. Everything indicated that America was educating the greater portion of her young population on a College level. What was better, it was argued, that a nation which was composed of educated citizens, including both men and women, for the same sacrifices were made for the fairer sex, and just as welcomed by the institutions were they. But, an investigation would soon show, and has shown, how little good the College degree was doing many of those who spent four years there.

But then the depression came, allowances were chopped in half, and as recorded above, attendance dropped thirty percent. This, we think along with others, has placed the institution of higher learning back to a more sacred position. The degrees received are more valued, and not quite so many as before are recipients. An individual with the letters A. B. or B. S. or any others, after his name might be classified as even an educated one, and it might entitle him to more of a position than gasoline attendant or auto mechanic. But, when the depression is over entirely, the same situation that existed in 1929 will be in all probability return. While there is no doubt that a College education is fine, it must be conceded that too many young Americans who are unfit for Colleges, attend them and consequently are unemployed, and injure more capable individuals who should be in College. Thus, we leave the entire question open for discussions, for the opinions are varied on the subjects.

WELCOME, CWA STUDENTS

We are glad that students who have been given and who will give evidence of scholastic bearing are being given aid by the CWA at Washington College. This type of individual in most every case makes the best College student, for they are unwilling to accept the certificate that they must, unless they are sincere about this Education business. Thus, CWA students at Washington College, we welcome you, and expect you to be rewarded for the efforts that you make.

PURLOINED PHRASES

By Roland E. Leckbach

"If my face dirty or is it my imagination?"
"Well, your face is clean, but I don't know about your imagination."

Realizing that he had mistaken her for someone else, the young man said to the young woman: "I beg your pardon. You look like Helen Black."

"Yes," she replied, "I know I do—but I look even worse in white."

Prof.: "Quick, a sentence containing the word 'dippancy.'"

Student: "O. K. Let's dippancy if pass or not."

Librarian: "Which book do you wish?"

Beaman: "Where do you keep Romance?"

Librarian: "Come on into the stacks!"

Prof.: "You missed my class this morning, didn't you?"

Senior: "No, not at all, Professor."

"Is my face familiar, baby?"
"No, but it's trying to be."

Rat: "Sir, why is this called higher education?"

Soph: "Because it's over your head."

Embarassing Moment No. 167:
When you are introduced to that smooth blond as the champion breast-stroker.

Before marrying a man years for a woman. After marriage the "Y" is silent as in "week."

Teacher: "Which is larger, a kitten or a cat?"

Willie: "A kitten. It takes two cats to make a kitten!"

Ethics Prof.: "Today I will lecture on liars. How many of you have read chapter XXX?"

Nearly all raised their hands. Prof.: "That's fine. You are just the group to whom I want to speak. There is no chapter XXX."

"I wonder why she always gives me the same old stall."

"Probably because you're always the same old jockey."

Senior: "Set the alarm for two."

Rat: "You and who else?"

An old maid is like a fisherman. They both brag about the big ones that get away.

"He says I look like the best dancer on the floor. I wonder if I should give him a dance."

"No, better let him keep on thinking so."

Peyer: "Who is that guy with the long hair?"

Senior: "He's a fellow from Yale."

Peyer: "Oh, I've often heard of those Yale jocks."

"Now tell the jury, madam," instructed the lawyer, "just where the prisoner was milking the cow."

The young lady, a little embarrassed, smiled sweetly and replied: "Why, I think it was just a little back of the center, sir."

"I shall now illustrate what I have in mind," said the professor as he reproduced a record of the blackboard.

TOLD TO ME

By I. Only Heard

"There's something about a soldier's day, all or rather a third of the camp is getting a hole and hearty laugh with Centerville Ron at least four Washingtonians. Father, he's a military man from Charleston and you can't beat his Army."

Believe it or not, Fred "Zach" Taylor is a man of affairs. Whether in fame or proof will be sent on request.

Speaking of Cretaceous, if a certain gal would be money, the depression would be over—we couldn't keep up with Annie's affines. DeCoursey! Now signs she doesn't "live here anymore." We say now fifty million Freshmen can't be wrong.

Goeds take advantage of unsuspecting male. A nice nice female goes to Harshaw and Shorties for the self-illustration on Weir's movie party. As for Weir—again P. T. Barnum was proven right.

Last week Washingtonians sang "Ten men on a dead man's chest" (I see, anyway ten Washingtonians paid fifteen dollars for ginger ale at the High Hat. You can assure tell about these country boys in the city. The Big Butte and aggrin included Gumber, D-King, Nuckle, Ward, and other big shots from the sticks. The proprietor says "been coming."

Remarks (Only Heard)

The unbreakable cup for the winner of the all All-Time Mexican title trophy of Washington College should be presented to Senor H. S. Russell—in addition to his countless other self-made laurels.

They told the boys—they are lucky to have Leucrose—but since the season is to last from March 5 till May 19 during which they play four games—no wonder just how lucky they are.

There should be new address for Intramural Basketball. If favoritism is to be shown in this sport, it may as well be abolished, for there it is defeated the purpose. This meant told me, we actually have one of the coaches giving instructions to a team during half-time. It is not fair, or is it? As for decisions on the quickness and the off-time happens on the whistle—we know that the sidelines think and they think it's not always correct.

The only casualty of the snow fall resulted when Yousa snatched on the side walk and a few minutes later broke ice again with her would be rescuers Fisher and Nuttle.

Thus late last week but did not tell about stories around the fireplace as did a sorority a week or two before. Grim tales!

Now that the Activities Committee has abolished all informal dances at the Basketball games, we think they ought to provide bridge tables and prizes for bridge rounds in order to give us at least one social pastime. We heard that the place will be a Sorority house. Ye Old Mill Inn is a growing attraction. Perhaps we would rather go there anyway. At least the East Hillers think so.

The fact is that the doing the most to detract from the reputation Washington College could hold among the townspeople is the boisterous, asinine insipidity displayed by last year's clique of Sophomores on all occasions.

CULTURAL COMMENT

By Joseph Freedman

Americans will soon meet Charles Dickens as a biographer. There has recently been unearthed the manuscript of "The Life of Our Lord," written by the celebrated novelist for the entertainment of his children. Sir Henry Dickens recently sold the publishing rights, and the book will be published simultaneously in America and England.

James M. Cain, a Washingtonian, is in the lime-light once more with his new novel "The Postman Always Rings Twice." The book has fairly started the literary world with its stark realism and bare truths. Mr. Cain has been in hot water more than once for his referring name.

Charles Laughton and Norma Shearer are to be seen shortly in the film version of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." It will be remembered that Katherine Cornell achieved great distinction as an actress in this play that ran so successfully on Broadway.

The director of the Comedie Francaise in Paris was dismissed by the Dadaist Government for the presentation of Shakespeare's "Coriolanus" during the recent Paris riots. This little known play is a magnificent drama against governments, and proved quite a prepos to the French disturbances. Perhaps the poet wrote it himself as propaganda.

William Elford LeMay, famed as a translator of Lucretius has just completed a translation of one of the world's oldest epics "Gilgamesh" from the tablets of the Babylonian of 3000 B. C. The epic, dealing with a mythical Babylonian king, is written on cuneiform tablets, found in an ancient brick library devoted to the adventures of the hero.

H. D. OREM & SON
Headquarters for
Farmer's Hardware and
Supplies
Case Tractors, Thrashers,
Combines
Phone 217. Chestertown

KREGER'S JEWELRY STORE

Eyes examined and
glasses fitted by a graduate
Optician. Fountain
Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films
and Developing.

Watches, Rings and
Novelty Jewelry.

Visit
ALBERT L. WHEAT
For Anything
in
Men's Wear

BARNETT'S BARBER SHOP
Over Sterling's Shoe Store
First Class Service and
Expert Workmen

ONLY THE CENTER LEAVES FOR

Luckies

1 Luckies do not use the top leaves ... because top leaves are under-developed ... they are not ripe ... They would give a harsh smoke.

2 Luckies use only the center leaves of the finest tobacco plants ... because the center leaves are the mildest, tenderest, smoothest.

3 Luckies do not use the bottom leaves, because bottom leaves are inferior in quality. They grow close to the ground, and are tough, coarse and always sandy.

This picture tells better than words the merit of your Lucky Strike. Luckies use only the center leaves. Not the top leaves, because those are under-developed—not ripe. Not the bottom leaves, because those are inferior in quality—they grow close to the ground and are tough, coarse and always sandy. The center leaves are the mildest leaves, the finest in quality. These center leaves are cut into long, even strands and are fully packed into each and every Lucky—giving you a cigarette that is always round, firm, completely filled—no loose ends. Is it any wonder that Luckies are so truly mild and smooth? And in addition, you know, "It's toasted"—for throat protection, for finer taste.

Lucky Strike presents the Metropolitan Opera Company
Saturday at 1:50 P. M.,
Eastern Standard Time, over
2nd and Blue Networks of NBC. Lucky Strike will broadcast the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York in the complete Opera, "Leda at Lamoscaro."

NOT the top leaves—they're under-developed
—they are harsh!

The Cream of the Crop
"The mildest, smoothest tobacco"

NOT the bottom leaves—they're inferior in quality—coarse and always sandy!

Always the Finest Tobacco

and only the Center Leaves

Copyright, 1934, The American Tobacco Company.

Sports, Here and There

By Charley Clark

Beat Delaware

The Flying Pentagon athletes of the University of Delaware tonight at Delaware in an attempt to chalk up another win over the Blue Rees. Regardless of how many other contests have been during the season, a double victory over the Newark aggregation is very desirable, particularly because of the close rivalry and the proximity of the two institutions. Since renewing athletic relations in the fall of 1928, Delaware has won the two football games played with Washington, both by an 8 to 0 score; lost the three basketball contests played thus far, and triumphed in one of the two baseball games. Those victory tonight will give the Washington College athletes a five-three advantage in the number of contests won.

Perhaps A "Slump"

As a Basketball season which witnessed great upsets came to a close in Maryland, one must endeavor to understand the great incongruity of sports teams. Of course, gratification in mind is the collar position occupied and deservedly too, by the Flying Pentagon in the Maryland Collegiate League.

When one considers the fact that Washington College caps teams have always been on top, it is easier to understand that a disappointing season naturally comes sooner or later. It seems after reason for such an occurrence may be, included among which are: inability to make shots, lack of physical condition, of fight and determination with inferiority complex, friction among players, ill luck, if one concedes that there be such, and many others. However, none carry a lot of weight, for dismal performance cannot usually be traced to one cause. We attribute the unsuccessful season to the mysterious follower of teams at times, the "SLUMP," which might be caused by all of the above listed causes, by them all, or by something we do not know about.

The Loyola Basketball team is another example of the same thing. They have always shown up better with the Shoremen, except in the last year or two, but last Saturday night they had to defeat the Chestertown players to avert sharing the most undetermined position in the League standing, with the latter.

Outstanding Players

Judged from our own observations and from information found in sports sections of the Baltimore papers, or from that given to us first-hand, we would list among the best Free State Basketball players, the following: Butterworth and McCutcheon, of St. John's; Kelley of Hopkins; Lynch and Hopkins, of Mt. St. Mary's; Lunt of Loyola; Eysavage of Western Maryland, and the Buscher brothers and Vincent of the University of Maryland. Others played brilliantly at times but not with the consistency of the ones we have named. Giraletti has been the leading Flying Pentagon performer, with any one of the squad playing at times sensationally and then miserably.

FLYING PENTAGON DEFEATS DELAWARE

Blue Rees Conquered 24 - 16,
For Second Win Of Season

The Washington College basketball team concluded its home schedule Thursday, February 22, downing the University of Delaware quintet 24 to 16.

The Washington capers had an easy time out-scoring the visitors during the first period and had a ten point lead at the half.

This lead was seriously threatened in the second period when the Blue team from Newark staged a rally that carried them within two points of the locals. However at this time the Washington team added pressure and slowly increased its lead to eight points at the final whistle.

The lineup and summary:

Delaware	G	F	T
O'Donnell, f	2	4	8
Fitz, f	0	0	0
Wilson, f	1	0	2
Pennock, c	0	0	0
Ferguson, c	1	1	2
Greer, g	0	0	0
Kenneke, g	0	0	0
Totals	6	6	16

Washington	G	F	T
Prosser, f	2	4	6
Giraletti, f	0	0	0
Bilancioni, f	1	0	2
Greene, g	1	2	6
Nicholson, g	0	1	1
Gamber, g	1	1	3
Ward, g	2	2	4
Totals	10	4	24

Score by halves:

Washington	16	8-24
Delaware	9	7-16

Non-scoring substitutes—Washington, Johns, Griema, Reese, Evans. Referee—Neun, of Baltimore.

Loyola Beats Shoremen In Final League Game

The Washington College court team was outscored 55 to 31 by Loyola in a league contest at Evergreen, Saturday, February 24. The contest determined the last place finish of the Shoremen in the Maryland Collegiate League.

The Shoremen took an early lead and left the floor at half time leading by five points. However, the situation was just reversed in the second half as Lusk, flashy Loyola forward, led the rally that overcame Washington's lead and put the Jesuits ahead. Long shots by Bilancioni, Maroon and Black guard, kept the game close.

But his last-minute work was not able to give him much support.

Lally Lacrosse Trophy Presented To St. John's

St. John's College, Annapolis, Maryland, National Lacrosse champions in 1929, 1930, 1931, recently received the Lally Lacrosse Trophy, emblematic of victory in Canadian-American competition in 1891 at Baltimore. The Trophy, a four-foot mahogany obelisk, bearing a silver bas-relief of two teams in action and placards of victors' names, is now on display at the St. John's Dining Hall, with other athletic awards, as the 1934 Lacrosse crowd favorable weather to begin practice. The Washington College elick team will step up against the Johnnies in the first game of the season late in March. Coach Drury Moore of the St. John's, Ten, expects to bring the championship back to Annapolis this year, after a lapse of two seasons. There will be strong opposition from other state teams, principally John's Hopkins, the present champion.

Coed Athletic Director

Miss Doris T. Bell

Miss Doris T. Bell, athletic director of women students at Washington College, is now conducting interschool basketball games in addition to her regular work in the Physical Education Department.

Coed Basketball Games Won By Fresh And Sophomores

On Tuesday night, February twenty-first, the first girls' basketball game was played. The Juniors played the Freshmen, and the Seniors played the Sophomores. The Freshmen won by the score of twenty-four to thirteen, while the Sophomores outscored victorious forty-seven to five.

Caroline Helms, with able support from her team-mates, was the high scorer of the evening.

The Freshmen showed a great deal of spirit, having many more aspirants than any of the other classes. Their team shows great promise and it looks as strong opposition will be given the champion Sophomore team.

Al Giraletti Leads Local Basketball Scorers

Al Giraletti with a total of fifty-seven points in the leading scorer of the Washington College Basketball squad, and is just leading Captain Del Proudfoot who is second with fifty-six counters. The points generated by the players last night have not been included. Bill Nicholson who left in the middle of the week for a Navy Academy training school ranks third with thirty-nine points while Ward with thirty-eight is fourth.

The complete list is as follows:

Al Giraletti	57
Del Proudfoot	56
Bill Nicholson	39
Erick Ward	38
Phil Ship	22
Kid Gamber	22
Harry Hue	22
Al Bilancioni	13
Ed Evans	6
Dale Ross	4
Charley Berry	4
Al Hodgson	3
Jimmie Johns	2

Compliments OF THE PARK ROW BEAUTY SHOP

After the Show follow the Crowd to the Most Modern Ice Cream Parlor in Town.

GILL BROS.

INTRAMURALS

Standing Of The Teams

Fraternity and Dormitory League	W	L	Pc.
Alpha Kappa	11	1	.917
Phi Sigma Tau	7	2	.778
Middle Hall	7	5	.683
East Hall	3	7	.309
Phi Sigma Phi	3	8	.273
West Hall	1	9	.100

Approximately two-thirds of the games in the Intramural League have been played, and Coach Eklati plans to complete the schedules as soon as possible, in order that his team may be devoted to Lacrosse and that of Coach Kibler to Baseball, along of course with their regular Physical Education classes. The play of each team in both leagues has improved and it is felt that the extensive winter Intramural program has produced real benefits.

A. K. Beaten For First Time

On Monday night of the past week, the Alpha Kappa Fraternity was beaten 10 to 14 by the second place Phi Sigma Tau team, for the first time this year. Nine straight victories had been won, including a one point win over the Tau team in the first contest between the two. The Tau men were out to win from the start, and played good basketball to lead at half time 11 to 6. Elmer Boyles conducted his spectacular play, sinking goals from nearly every position on the court, and was ably assisted by his teammates, Nowak, Kitch, Wallace and Clark. Though enjoying a safe lead at the present, by virtue of having played one or two more games, it is very possible for the Tau team to tie the leaders for the League championship. If Middle Hall should beat A. K. and the Phi Sigma Tau defeat them also in their last game and win the rest of their contests, the League leadership may go to the now second place team.

Al Dobkins, however, is leading an A. K. team that will be hard to beat out of the Fraternity and Dormitory League.

Fresh Lead Class League

At this writing, on Thursday, the Freshmen team is leading the Class League with a comfortable margin, having decisively beaten the Junior team on Monday night. On Wednesday night, the Senior team was leading the Fresh 17 to 8, two or three minutes after the second half began. However the game had to be called off, as all lights in the gymnasium went out and were not fixed in time to continue. It was expected that the second half of the game would be played entirely over again, either yesterday or today. Omar Corey had garnered eight or ten points while Harries, playing his usual steady game at center, had accounted for most of the rest, and the Senior team had victory practically clinched.

Middle Hall Has Good Team

The Sophomore team continues to hold the collar position, having won only once, that time over the Senior team, which in the particular occasion expected too easy a time with their underdogs opponents.

Going back to the teams in the Fraternity and Dormitory League, the surprising showing made by the Middle Hall Club throughout the game, has been one of the features of the Intramural play. Greatly underrated in early games, the Middle Hall Club has a firm hold on third place. Davis at center, Gardiner and Errichetti at forwards and Massall and Watson at guards, compose a combination that has won consistently from every team except the A. K. and Tau, and took one of the three played with the latter aggregation. The splendid teamwork has been the biggest factor.

The East Hall outfit has individual players who rate equally as well, if not better than those on other teams, but seem unable to work together and consequently are far down in the League standing. So far West Hall has been forced to be contented with a single victory over the Phi Sigma Tau.

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A store run for the benefit of the students, offers line of Wahl Dollar Pens and Pencils, Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery and School Supplies.

Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 1:15 to 4:30 P. M. Every Day but Saturday and Sunday.

VANITY FAIR UNDIES

are the sort you dream about. Tiny handfuls of sheer Silk that stand the hardest kind of wear and cost next to nothing. Come in and see them!

THE MARGARET E. JEFFERSON SHOP

Pure Food is the Foundation of Your Health

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT

Soda, Candy, Cigarettes, Beer on Draught

Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.

Phone 207 Chestertown, Md.

Safeguard Your Stomach, It Is Your Best Friend

For Better COAL SERVICE
Phone 149
C. W. Kibler & Sons

COLLEGE SENIORS

NORWOOD CARROL
Norwood Carroll claims both Wilmington, Delaware, and Preston, Maryland as his home town, though at the present he resides at the former. He attended High School at both places, and upon graduation, came to Washington College in the fall of 1930.

Here, "Charley" as he is more commonly known to his college mates has won many friends with his quiet manner, and excellent and clever wit. Not very well known to the majority of even his class-mates, he has worked hard and gotten many benefits from it.

For four years Carol has been a member of the college orchestra and this year is student director. During the summer months his occupation has been playing in orchestras at the Shore. Besides his interest along the music line, Carol has been a member of the Boxing Class for two years, and has played class basketball. He is majoring in the Science courses and in June will possess a B. S. Degree.

W. A. SEYMOUR

Abe Seymour attended High School for awhile at Trappe, Maryland, his home and then crossed the Bay to finish his Secondary School Education at Severn Preparatory School at Severn Park, Maryland. There Seymour played on the Soccer team and was a member of the Varsity Lacrosse team, as well as participating in many of the other affairs of the private school.

Leaving Severn School, Abe began his collegiate career at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore and attended there for two years. At Hopkins he was a member of a National Social Fraternity and of other societies. In the fall of 1932 he enrolled at Washington College as a Junior. Here he has gone quietly about his work, and interested himself in the activities of several of the organizations on the Hill. He is a member of the Shakespearean Players, having been in the cast of "A Mid-Summer Night's Dream" last year. He has been active in the Mt. Vernon Literary Society and in the Y. M. C. A.

Seymour has been majoring in the Science courses and will receive a B. S. degree in June. His quiet manner does not take from the effectiveness of his work.

JAMES T. ANTHONY

James T. Anthony was graduated from the Chetertown High School in the fall of 1930 and attended Washington College with a number of his High School classmates in the fall of the same year. While in "High School, Jimmy was interested in publications and in other extra-curricular activities.

His favorite sport was track and he participated on several winning teams.

At Washington College, Anthony has not been able to engage in as many activities as he would like, because of his being a day student. However he has found time to take part in Play productions and has been a member of the Shakespearean Players since their organization three years ago. He was a member of the cast of "A Mid-Summer Night's Dream" last year, and has a leading part in "As You Like It," this year. Jimmy started on his class team in the Annual Freshman-Sophomore games, was a member of the track and football squads in his Sophomore year, and in his Junior and Senior Years has been a member of Coach Eklat's Boxing Class.

Anthony has a philosophy of his own, and does not hesitate to uphold his contentions in any way that he is able. He is sincere in his work, and an excellent friend once his nature is understood. He is majoring in the Science and will receive an A. B. degree in June. He might also mention that in his Freshman year he was the recipient of a Carnegie Honor Medal for his part in saving a local boy from drowning in the Chester river.

NOTICE!!

Due to the fact that members of the "Washington Elm" staff have become very lax and unsatisfactory in every respect, the Editor announces that in the future, all members not at the meetings of the staff during the week of publication, will be immediately dropped from the staff unless a very good excuse is the offering. All members who have not gotten articles in by the Wednesday noon dead-line will be dropped. The action results from the consideration that at the present time, nine-tenths or more of the total work needed on each issue, including writing, is by necessity being done by the Editor. Thank you for immediate cooperation.

See Food In Our Specialty
HERB'S
RESTAURANT
and
BEER GARDEN

— Dancing —
Chetertown, Maryland
Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.
Best Foods
Prompt Service
Our Beer Is the Best in Town

FOX'S

Anything you want at
the Right Price

Sc to $1.00
Store

DEL-MAR-VA
RESTAURANT

Beer and
Special Lunches
We Cater to Parties

STUDENTS

We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.

Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Lanthier Line from Paris.

Abbott's Deluxe Ice Cream.
Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

SLIPPERY
ELM

By Albert E. Dobkins

TWO STEPS FORWARD

Last Thursday when the student body voted to adopt the amendment changing the method of electing captains of the athletic teams to selection by the Head Coach for every individual game, a bigger step forward was taken toward the realization of real school spirit than can be seen at present. The new ruling will eliminate all petty politics and will strike that in the past resulted and the best leadership will be available at all times. Not only will there be the tangible gain of better success for the athletic teams but also the infinitely valuable sincere cooperation in all student activities toward the higher aims of the college first.

We predict a better athletic record for Washington College in the very fact of the practically unanimous desire of the students to improve conditions, as voiced by the favorable vote to adopt the unenviable method of electing athletic captains, we see the spread of the friendly spirit to all student undertakings and we cannot but help believe that a true more has been made toward the illustrious school spirit for Washington College.

A second step forward was taken when the members of the Dean's Cabinet presented to the Student's Activities Committee a resolution which in effect calls for student representation when policies concerning student activities are determined. In all probability the Committee will adopt the resolution but regardless of the outcome the real result is the expression of the students for a voice in affairs pertaining to their very collegiate life. True that there has never been an serious issue. At the same time a justified criticism of us as a student body is our apathy in participation in matters that affect our own selves. We have always said and continue to maintain that the students are as important as the part that goes to make up the college. It is high time that the student body so expressed itself.

We have made the beginning toward placing ourselves where we belong when being guided in what we think is good for us. It works mutually, Washington foremost, and as part of Washington, for us, all that the college life holds.

PIPPEN'S
BARBER SHOP
Pippen's Hotel

Hair Cutting My
Specialty

COLLEGE HILL
LUNCH ROOM

Light Lunch
Beer On Draught
W. M. CROWDING, Prop.

McCALLISTERS
Quality Sporting Goods

Catalogue on Request
124 W. Baltimore St.
Baltimore, Md.

LOVE IN A
ELECTRICITY LAB.

He was only a Magnet, but he loved Dyna Metamor, and that is what started the buzz in the Microphone. Homer, until now he had been satisfied to follow the lines of least resistance, conscious of his attractive power over the opposite poles and satisfied to play with their affections until he tired of them. They being more fortunate than most men, he could simply turn his back upon them and away they went. "Crash!" you say, that was his nature. Worse than that, that was the same thing over and over, for they had no specific resistance.

But with the advent of Dyna Metamor it was a different story. With all his former vanity, and the same old game with the same old tactics. Watt was this? She warped his field, she crossed his lines, he could not be induced! It was the shock of his life. He became all hot and bothered, he almost went into hysterical! Watt could be her unspoken resistance?

This was without parallel, his plans had been interrupted. Watt could be the secret of her strange power get? Where in the el omega did she get such impedance? He motorized to the other side of the room and sat down on the steps of the transformer by the Electric stream and tried to arrange his disordered atoms. It was a magnetic moment for his enemies. The bills made light of him, the Crowler's tale played with joy, Cathode Ray took a shot at him. Tangled Galvanometer became excited and waved her arms about from side to side. They all took turns at lowering his potential. Certainly Magnetic stock had suffered an IR drop.

But the most unbalanced of all was Gal Vanometer. True, she had had to steel Magnet's affection, but had they not played together so long! In his arms of force, admiring his graceful lines, unless she was disturbed by severe reproaches, and then she would wave madly about, flashing at him her sparkling eyes. These were Faradays. Now she gazed mournfully at Magnet. She knew well enough what was the matter her sensitive nature had Gaused the reason in a magnetic moment.

Now it was Magnet's turn to look backward. When he recalled the joys of their connection as a thermocouple he did not have the capacity to express what a deadbeat he had been. Urged by some invisible force he jumped into the Carbon Arc on the Election stream and started Ohm to Gal Vanometer. He met her at the Wheatstone Bridge and called his arms of force around her figure of Merit.

The Electron stream still flows beneath the bridge but to this Faraday, Magnet doesn't know that Dyna Metamor works both days.

E. M. F.

STUDENTS, ATTENTION

Call at CARL'S
THE COLLEGE
BARBER SHOP
Cross Street
For your copy of the Washington Basketball Schedule

THE BELHAVEN

Home of Good Food
College Hill
Telephone 331-M

Modern Shoe Repairing

Store
PAUL SIPALA
Next to Sterling Drug

THE REXAL STORE

EASTMAN KODAKS
FILMS
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING
BY EXPERTS
DRUGS and
SUNDRIES
Of All Kinds
A. L. STERLING

Compliments

of
Chestertown
Electric Light and Power
Company

THE FITCH DOWNTOWN

COMPANY
Junior Supplies
801 South Howard Street
Baltimore, Md.

Prescription Blanks	"THE NEW DEAL"	Auto Job Records
Sales Books	BUSINESS STATIONERY	Letter Heads
Bill Heads	$2.50 PER 1000	Envelopes
Stickers	Over 3000 CENTS FREE	Flappers
Tags	ALLEN L. STAFFORD	2 in 1 Cards
	Representing David Lional Press, Templeville, Md.
	Business and Blotter Cards $1 and $1.50 Per 1000

The Emerson Hotel

Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled
Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

NEW MEMBERS ARE TAKEN IN BY Y. M. C. A.

Local Organization Will Aid In Peace Propaganda

Significant in the progress of the Washington College branch of the Y. M. C. A. was the celebration of the first initiation ceremonies ever to be conducted by any such organization in the history of the school, held in the Lounge Room of Middle Hall, Friday, February the twentieth, impressive and meaningful even amidst a fall and enthusiastic turnout of the members, concluded by talks by Professor Goodwin, and followed by refreshments to those attending.

A militant campaign in favor of peace propaganda was the outcome of the last meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Following the attendance of several of the members at Dover, Delaware, and at Hampton, Va., who have come back convinced of the immediate need of combating recent militaristic activities, the Organization in a spirited session, on Tuesday night, the 29th, has decided to sponsor a local program for the purpose of informing the student body of the threatening danger of war, as part of a new push for spreading enlightenment on the campus. The implications surrounding the disinterest of the college in a recent poster "Promoting Peace" on the bulletin board with general neglect of serious thought, has brought forth a suggestion of the Y's distributing new books and such material (out of its own funds) to the library, and in the Lounge Room of Middle Hall, which the organization has been using for its meetings. Increased membership is anticipated with these efforts, and cordial invitation is extended to those intended to the future meetings.

Some of the prohibitive Indians of the United States made use of copper, but only to pound it into shape as if it had been stone, for they had no knowledge of making bronze.

SPEECH ON OPERAS GIVEN IN ASSEMBLY

Prof. John D. Makosky Describes Musical Plays

A marked variation from the usual program was provided at the weekly assembly, last Thursday, February 29th, when Professor Makosky, with the assistance of Mr. Moffett and Professor Coop, presented what might be called a lesson-concert on Opera. The audience was delighted with Mr. Makosky's animated comment, the clear and at times vivid explanations, and the selections played on a victrola, amplified by apparatus set up through the Physics Department.

The historical development of the Ario from the early fifteenth century to the present was traced, with the restful Largo froming and light aria from Rossini's Barber of Seville and two of Verdi's, the pux melody of Provence from Traviata and remarkable change of his Cride of Iago, or Othello. At the end, if the student body could not agree with Mr. Makosky's idea of the opera being a type of entertainment, it could at least decide more reasonably on its tastes. At any rate, Mr. Makosky has called for an expression by the students of their appreciation of the program and the response will seemingly call for more of the same.

A nonbreakable mirror recently invented by a German scientist is made of wood, soaked in a caustic alkali and then put through a process of immersion in metals and chemicals with final rubbing with a piece of lead, tin or zinc until it takes on a brilliant polish.

Sirius, the Dog star, is more than thirty times as bright as our own sun.

JAMES E. NEWTON

Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing

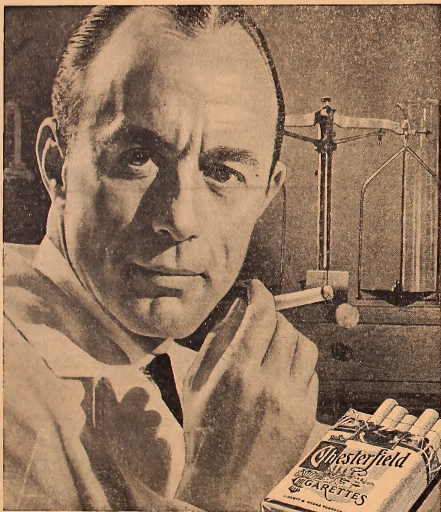

103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

STUDENTS UNDER CWA ATTEND W.C.

Provision Made For 25 Here, Can Earn $15 A Month

Fourteen students, who are receiving CWA aid, recently enrolled at Washington College for second semester scholastic work and have been furnished work about the College Campus. For the last two or three weeks, their occupation in off-time has been clearing snow from the walks and buildings.

Members of the incoming group include: Lelia Reed Anthony, and Arthur Weeden Goodhand, Jr., of Millington; Evelyn Virginia Brier, Belterton; Paul Gilbert Brouhl, Centerville; Howard E. Clark and Robert Lyles Snyder, Baltimore; Walter Celen Clark, Still Pond; Francis Ruth Clough, Price; William Maynard Porter and Georganna Josephine Redman, Chestertown; Brooks E. Reynolds, Georgetown, Delaware; and Robert Burnett White, Salisbury.

- we believe you will enjoy them

You hear a lot today about balanced diet—
... and there's something too in the way tobaccos are balanced that makes a cigarette milder and makes it taste better.

I keep coming back to that statement on the back of the Chesterfield package—

CHESTERFIELD- CIGARETTES

ARE A BALANCED BLEND OF THE FINEST AROMATIC TURKISH TOBACCO AND
THE CHOICEST OF SEVERAL AMERICAN VARIETIES
BLENDED IN THE CORRECT
PROPORTION TO BRING OUT THE FINEST QUALITIES OF EACH TOBACCO.

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Chesterfield

—the cigarette that's MILDER

—the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

We believe you'll enjoy
Chesterfields and we ask you to try them.

Varied Reasons Given For Students Attending College

Recent Survey Discloses Inter- esting Facts

Students throughout the country give many different and varied reasons for attending the Colleges and Universities and these given are usually sane and reasonable. Many ideas are changed after entrance, and especially after a year or two of College life. A recent survey at one of the leading Institutions of Higher Learning in the United States was made in order to ascertain some of the reasons. Out of the twenty-five students, asked, twenty-five different answers were given. Few still cling, it was found, to the youthful illusion about college. One young woman replied, "My parents and I thought it to be a good idea; now my parents do."

A freshman still clinging to youthful dreams told, "I came to college to prepare myself for earning a living."

While the senior, whose dreams are no longer like the freshman's said, "I came with the hopes of being a great engineer, now I am afraid it will be ditch digging."

Perhaps one of the more general answers came from a junior, who voiced the thoughts of many students from the same state, "I came to college to make more contacts, with people and to gain for myself the valuable education of getting along with people."

The young sophomore boy remarks: "I came to college to have a good time and I am glad I came."

The older and more serious young man said, "A college education is an asset, it may be frozen but never the less it may help."

There is also the answer of the girl who had her gay dreams of college life shattered when she answered "I came because I was to lazy to find anything else to do. Now I wish I had found something else to do."

A senior girl says, I came to college to learn to get along with people, and I have learned that."

While another senior boy states, "I don't know why I came to college. I was the first year, and I figure it out, now it's your turn."

Then the young man, in his last years of premedic somewhat disgustedly, remarks "I am going to school because you can't be a doctor without it."

However, the best answer remained for a sophomore woman to give when she truthfully stated, "Frankly I came to get the famous M. R. S. degree. I am not failing."

Ellery Ward's C. H. S. Team Defeated In State Play

The Chesterton High School basketball grid, coached by Ellery Ward, was played at the gymnasium of the Junior Class at Washington College, was eliminated from the state championship playoff, on Tuesday, March 13th, by Cambridge High School, Easton, Md., by a score of 26 to 6.

Ward began coaching the team when Harry Hoy left school in January. The High School boys easily won the Kent County Championship, and defeated Sudererville High School in the first championship playoff, with ease.

Miss Jewell And Mr. Harries Take Parts Of Rosalind And Orlando

Eight o'clock tonight, March 17th, will mark the culmination of strenuous efforts of some thirty odd selected members of the Washington College Intelligentsia to treat you "As You Like It."

Emily Jewell, whose talents and versatility have endeared her to all those who have seen her portray the lovely Juliet, the mischievous Puck, this time lives the part of the gay sparkling Rosalind. Watch her lover, Ralph Harries, go completely sentimental and grab forth passionate love poems. Hear his unremitting chant—"O, heavenly Rosalind. Gaze with awe upon the transformation of this lion-like Harries, who conquers the unwieldy strong man Sadler in a wrestling (not a mere boxing match) into a lamb like specimen of mankind."

Her Colia is portrayed by a familiar figure about town, Noll Bile, that cute little bit of femininity who extends her conquests of the stronger sex to the stage in this production. Hear her lover, Emory Burkhardt, was more sweet than Harries at time goes on. See him change from a blustering, deep eyed villain, into a tractable, rosy hued lover par excellence.

Education Department Gives Notice To Alumni

Asked To Give Information About Teaching Vacancies

This year Washington College will graduate twenty-two seniors who must meet the requirements to teach in Maryland high schools. Three of the group will meet the requirements to teach in Pennsylvania. To date none of the group have been placed in teaching positions for the school year of 1934-1935.

Alumni in the teaching field, and other interested alumni of the college, can be of great help in the placement of Washington College graduates in high school teaching positions by bringing vacancies to the attention of the Department of Education at Washington College.

This year, probably more than in any previous year, there will be a scarcity of teaching positions. Interested alumni who know of vacancies or probable vacancies are asked to communicate with Dr. F. G. Livingston of the Department of Education.

Interfraternity Dance April 13

The Student Activities Committee of Washington College, after twice failing to sanction a Friday night dance for the Interfraternity Dance, gave its approval at its third meeting called to consider the matter on Wednesday, March 14, for the date of Friday, April 13, on which the Interfraternity Dance will be held.

Immediately after approval was given, the Executive Committee of the Fraternities called a general meeting of the various committees to make arrangements.

Directs Local Cast In Shakespeare Play

Dr. Gertrude Van A. Ingalls, Professor of English at Washington College, is directing the famous Shakespeare Play, "As You Like It," which will be presented tonight in William Smith Hall, by the College Shakespeare Club. A large crowd is expected to witness the production.

These aren't all by any means but they are enough to enlighten the audience as to what to expect. And remember, students, for the paltry sum of thirty five cents you can sit back in comparative ease and quiet, and watch the leading lights of the campus go through their paces on this very memorable night.

SENIORS DISCUSS ROOSEVELT TABLET

Richard M. Gamber, President of the Senior Class, called a meeting on Thursday, March 15, of the committee which he had previously appointed for making arrangements for a card party to be held in order to raise funds to help defray costs of a tablet, to be erected in commemoration of the Franklin D. Roosevelt visit at Washington College last October 21 to attend the inauguration of Dr. Gilbert W. Mead, as President of Washington College.

Because of a conflicting date with a card party that the coeds will sponsor early in April, and because the committee felt that little profit could be derived from such an affair, it was decided that the idea be dropped. By way of substitution, the possibilities of a Movie-Benefit at the New Lyceum theatre were discussed. As the suggestion was very much opposed by the local theatre owner was to be approached in connection with the matter. It was also agreed that the Student Activities Committee should be approached, to find out about the date.

Besides Mr. Gamber, other members of the Committee present included Harvie Humphreys, Patricia Pyle and Lucile Rasin; Jimmy Davis and Charley Clark.

The Washington ELM Staff takes this opportunity to express condolences to Mr. Paul W. T. Pippin, 34, and Editor of the "Pegasus," for the recent death of his father. The same are extended likewise to other members of his family.

Large Crowd Will Witness Third Annual Play By Local Thespians

Watch Patricia Pyle, the Shepherds, add another wandering sheep from the Hillside to her fold—one Bob Shaul who temporarily deserts Pig Alley for the more bewitching haunts of Arden Forest.

Applaud the efforts of our Touchstones, Bill Baker, who can so forget his innate dignity as to become the perfect fool, and with no conscious aid. See him make a successful assault upon the heart of his country maiden, Audrey, Lucile Rasin, who is a most convincing specimen of backwardness. Watch Bill trip through the forest with Lucile, a puzzled but willing captive, in tow. "An ill favored virgin but all mine over," he says.

Turn out tonight and pay to see our Debkins enjoy a legitimate head-on-cynically observing the vicissitudes of the inhabitants of this mortal world. Pay to hear his voice, this time, raised not in ranting song, but in a parody of the hunting song as rendered by selected members of the Men's Glee Club under the able leadership of our Irish tenor, Joe McConery.

Debaters Win Over Blue Ridge College Here, Mar. 14

No Decision Given After Debate At New Windsor

The 1934 debating teams, during the past week have been very successful in debates with Blue Ridge College of New Windsor, Maryland. The subject being debated this year is: "Resolved, That the powers of the President of the United States should be substantially increased as a settled policy."

The negative team, consisting of Jack Smithson and Gilbert Ingersoll, traveled to New Windsor on Saturday and debated the Blue Ridge affirmative team without decision.

Because of the weather the visit of the negative team from Blue Ridge here was postponed until Wednesday. The debate Wednesday evening was very lively indeed, the Washington affirmative team, Wes Sadler and Bill Baker, getting the decision by a vote of 2 to 1. The judges were Mr. Robert Hory, of the First National Bank, Mr. William Utter, of the Kent News, and Miss Bryan, teacher of English at the local high school.

Girls' Dance A Success

Saturday, March tenth, was a gala event in the social life at Washington College. As the long awaited Inter-Sorority Dance took place many came to Washington and were greatly recovered by their respective sororities.

Sigma Tau Delta had as their homecoming alumni Charlotte Halloway and Ted Russell. Gladys Council and Gertrude Chaney returned as Gamma Sigmas. Kaypa Gamma had Anne Kreeger, Theodora Chapman, Dorothy Simmons Robinson and Elizabeth Sutton Duval.

Dr. Dole Speaks To Classical Club On Interesting Subject

Discussion On Roman Architecture Draws Attention

Once more the classical society of the college has taken the initiative in the way of collegiate entertainment, and has presented a novel and unique program. Since its birth last October the organization has been actively engaged in creating, or increasing, a friendly atmosphere on the Hill. Believing that the classics can best be imbibed and enjoyed by leisurely contemplation, the Society is in the midst of an auspicious program, making the class room with the drawing room.

On Friday evening, March the 16th, the Classical Society presented at Reid Hall as its guest of honor Doctor Esther Dole, Professor of History, from the high tech university of Dr. Dole has been an ardent friend of the organization, due to the academic proximity between the classic and history departments. Choosing as her subject "Roman Architecture" Dr. Dole presented a sparkling address, profusely illustrated, in which she stressed the similarity between ancient and modern edifices, and accounted for the very inscription Dr. Dole has been an ardent friend of the organization, due to the academic proximity between the classic and history departments. Choosing as her subject "Roman Architecture" Dr. Dole presented a sparkling address, profusely illustrated, in which she stressed the similarity between ancient and modern edifices, and accounted for the very inscription Dr. Dole has been an ardent friend of the organization, due to the academic proximity between the classic and history departments.

Once more the grandeur and the glories of the basilicas, and the temples, the Juliers and Vennas, shown in resplendent marbles and mosaics, gracing the gracious terraces of the mighty Caesars. Once more out of the dull ruins, like the phoenix of old, there ascended the eternal beauties and triumphs of an age essentially triumphant and beautiful. For well over an hour the members wandered through the fora and the creative polices and batts of the emperors. Indeed it was with some misgivings that the "tourists" finally bade farewell to the ancient city from the rampart of Hadrian's Tomb on Yellow Tiber, lingering in a final moment of fond contemplation at the dignity and majesty of the Seven Hills.

As a proper sequence to so engaging an excursion, the Misses Ragan and Smith, assisted by Miss Moore, added to the conviviality of the evening by serving a chicken dinner, hence setting another precedent in all collegiate diversions.

Dr. E. V. McCollum Of J. H. U. Will Address Assembly

The speaker at the regular assembly on Thursday, March 22nd, will be Dr. E. V. McCollum, of the Department of Bio-Chemistry, Johns Hopkins University. Dr. McCollum comes to Washington and will be introduced by the interest of Dr. Kathleen E. Carpenter of the Department of Biology. Dr. McCollum will also speak before the Assembly at a special meeting to be held in Reid Hall at three o'clock Thursday afternoon.

The public is cordially invited to hear Dr. McCollum at the Thursday morning assembly.

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782.

EDITOR

Assistant Editor
Literary Editor
Exchange Editor
Column Editor
Alumni Editor

CHARLES B. CLARK

William O. Baker
Albert E. Dobkins
Roland E. Leckebusch
Sarah Ellen Byrn
Phillip J. Wingate

REPORTERS

Feature Reporters — Philip Burkhardt, Joseph Freedman
Reporters This Issue — Emily Skiff, William Kight, Carol Castel, Martha Shearer, Anne Whyte, Miriam Ford, Jean Harshaw, Inadore Bohrer.

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager — J. Patterson Bearman
Assistant Business Manager — Louis L. Goldstein
Circulation Manager — Emerson P. Slacum
Advertising Manager — Joseph McLain

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.

Subscription Price $1.50 a year.

Single Copy 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, MAR. 17, 1934

ACTION OF ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE REVIEWED

A great amount of unfavorable criticism has been directed toward the Washington College Student Activities Committee during the past two or three weeks. This reaction culminated as the Committee, which consists of five faculty members and the Athletic Director, refused at first to change a decision which they had formerly rendered that disallowed a Friday night dance for the Interfraternity dance. The third meeting of the group, however, the members reversed their previous ruling, and the dance will be held on a Friday night. We have taken this matter for comment in order to make clear to misinformed Fraternity men and other students, the action of the Committee. Our viewpoints and statements are entirely unbiased.

The Committee at first refused a Friday night dance for the following reasons: first, because it is the policy of the Committee, in accordance with the other Powers of the College, to allow but five Formal Dances throughout the year on a Friday night, in order to stress and encourage Informal Dances; second, because it felt that the three Sororities which united an Inter-sorority dance last Saturday night, would be discriminated against if the Fraternities were given a Friday night dance; third, because of the great effect on Saturday classes, caused by many absences following the dance. As we see it, these reasons are perfectly just from the Committee's and Faculty point of view. It is their privilege to limit Formal affairs on Friday nights, their natural inclination to wish to prevent discrimination against the sororities, and because they are in charge of the aforementioned Saturday classes following a Friday night dance, it is their interest that lectures will not be given to empty seats for the most part. The five formal affairs now approved of on Friday nights are the Cotillions. In changing their decision, the Committee stated that their action did not set up a precedent for other years. It was hinted however that in coming years, the Committee would cancel the Interfraternity Dance among the list of five Formal Dances approved of on Friday nights, cutting the number of Cotillions to four. It would naturally follow that the Sororities would also be included, and thus limit the number of Cotillions to three.

The Committee's course and the reasons thereof, are briefly but adequately presented above. The Fraternity representatives in this particular case have been met half-way, and have good cause to think only favorably of the action taken. On the other hand, the Committee is to be commended for facing the situation as they did, and changing a decision adhered to in two previous meetings. The various fraternity men on the Hill, and also a large number of other interested students should look at the matter from the position of the Committee. Whether or not the arguments of the Committee are agreed with as a matter of minor importance. College students can rarely understand the Faculty's side of a question. In this particular case, some approach a good reason for limiting Formal Affairs on Friday nights. Others think that with their right to cut a certain number of classes, they have the privilege of missing the classes on a Saturday morning after a dance the night before. Again, it is hard just to understand, but know that the Sororities did desire their dance on any other but a Saturday night. But these statements, regardless of their validity if they have such, are beside the point.

In conclusion, the Committee has, we think, made a step forward by allowing representatives of organizations which are being opposed to be present at its meeting to voice their opinions. Also, by changing a very unpopular decision, the Committee has indicated that it functions to work harmoniously with the Student organizations, and thus with the students.

SLIPPERY ELM

By Albert E. Dobkins

THE THIRD STEP FORWARD

In the last issue of the Elm this column carried a species of editorial headed "Two Steps Forward" in which we pointed to the progress made by the college when the student body expressed itself in representation, by presenting a resolution that in effect calls for student representation when policies concerning student activities are determined by the Student Activities Committee. Now we are able to point to a third big step forward.

Mild strife resulted among fraternity members on the Hill when the Student Activities Committee arbitrated, fixed Saturday, April 14 as the date for the Inter-Fraternity Dance after the Inter-Fraternity Council petitioned for Friday as the time for the outstanding social event of the season. Naturally many of the fraternity men were incensed at the action which at first glance looked like indoctrination, to everyone it seemed a blunder.

When the Activities Committee ever after appeal by individuals, voiced its decision as final, the situation as far as concerning fraternity men was disturbing. Many flew off on tangents and there was some possibility of a result dangerous to the spirit of the college.

We immediately continued our personal crusade for student self expression in co-operation with the administration. Our protest was representative of fraternity men and at a meeting called Wednesday afternoon the Committee re-considered its judgment and will allow the Inter-Fraternity dance to be held on Friday, April 14th, which is the more desirable date. The new decision was reached before our protest appeared publicly.

This action of the Committee means more to us than just granting the time for the dance, which the students want it. To us it shows that the Administration is gladly ready to bring about the best interests. Also it proves that the authorities are approachable when students will press themselves when their interests are concerned.

It is not our purpose to make an issue. It is our college and the combined unit will be greater than any individual part—the student body is an essential part.

The difficulty has been satisfactorily moved out. We hope that any future misunderstandings will be similarly corrected.

The entire thing means bringing all parts of the college closer together. One thing it bank if you will, there is such a thing as school spirit and it is being stabilized at Washington. The Third Step Forward.

For Better COAL SERVICE
Phone 149
C. W. Kibler & Sons

DEL-MAR-VA
RESTAURANT
Beer and
Special Lunches
We Cater to Parties

PURLOINED PHRASES

By Roland E. Leckebusch

Dentist: "I'm afraid I'll have to drill."

Coed: "What's the matter, can't you fix my teeth without a rehearsal?"

The orator addressed the assembly with fervor.

"Fellow citizens," he shouted, "don't let them kid you. Don't let them stall you off by passing a law permitting beer, while we're all starving. Fellow countrymen, think! What goes with luxury?—Decay! What goes with wealth?—Decay! What goes with beer?—"

"Fretzels!" yelled the senior co-ed.

"Does one make false eyes out of glass?"

"Certainly. How else could you see through them?"

"What is the difference between a hobo and a college man?"

"A hobo wears clothes that other men have worn out. A college man wears out other men's clothes."

Aunt: "And what is your daughter talking at college?"

Mother: "Everything I've got!"

Bellhop: "After guest has rung for ten minutes: 'Do you ring six?'"

Guest: "Hell, no, I was talking, I thought you were dead."

The difference between a train wreck and a car accident is that the engineer isn't always necking the fireman.

WOMAN

If she is for his, for the asking, She is wicked.

If she gives him no favors, She bores him.

And a long drawn out woeing Fatigues him.

So she swears to forsake her, But she fools him.

—The Pointer.

Student Council Minutes

March 5, 1934

The meeting was called to order by President Gamber, the minutes were read and corrected. The letter in regard to a disturbance in the cafeteria was sent to Mr. Johns instead of Miss Potts.

The oath of installation was given by Mr. Fred S. Saphire representing the President Gamber. The council pledged its support in stopping the practice of cutting campus. The action of the Activities Committee in prohibiting Saturday night informals was briefly reviewed.

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned.

Signed,

John M. Lord.

THE BELLHAVEN
Home of Good Food
College Hill
Telephone 331-M

Compliments
of
Chestertown
Electric Light and Power
Company

TOLD TO ME

By I. Only Heard

Contrary to all belief, surprising even the writer himself, he says, congrads and flowers to the newly-elected Queen and Prince of the Fete. Let's give the girls a hand.

The course of vampire wends its way but as the plot thickens we have formed in the secret Lancetia. Reil Hall. While Olga dates Howard—the other fair lady resorts to tears—and what can a man or a woman do against a woman's sob. (The writer believes the tears to be of crocodile variety.)

Now that the last snow has gone, Roddick dies to the first Ebbin. Intramural Basketball (justifiable homicide is over, and unadmitted murder is here, and so we hail LA-CROSSE. Here again are the local Thorpeians. "You Like It?" as Harris tries to see how far he can turn Will Kemp in his grave—and so to quote from "As You Like It": "The simple chaffers and unexpressive do." (Louise) Nicholas contracts chickenpox the same time as does Marvin Smith.

There has become a time when the writer thanks the Powers that Be that he is the sole writer of this column, for those unenlightened souls who say that herein—Bunzl is conspicuous by his absence from print.

If the facts were known, the question why the ill-starred opera singer, became hogged down around the door last Tuesday night a week. As for Dobby and Roland—"We are lost," the Captain shouted. And the chorus inspired by the late opera singer, sang the pitiful sentence: "Yello and a bottle of rum, (tale to you). They got home at 6 A. M."

To further confirm reports that this place is about to become more rigid than any place we know of—it will be noticed that this student body has been told to "Brain Trust" (1)—"The latest step has become supreme dominance of the Activities Committee. (It started as a Committee merely to prevent conflict in Activity Dues to governing board which formulates affairs as to type, time, tempo, temperance, temperature and timber). Of course they ask the Students what they think, but have not noted the mad word of student opinion in any of their decisions. This is but an echo to the growing but to date latent criticism in the student group—!!!

Heard Here And There

It is not occasion for a girl to lose her ladyhood over an Intramural Basketball game (this is the "Friendly-College"—Sincere goes A. W. I. I. from Ben Hall's long with his own Legs)—Then there is the girl who plays two games of Basketball—one to the males present, and the other for the team—Love and Zymide should move their heads down to Gill's—Best yet, comes on an intercepted post-card to the notorious Zach Taylor, quote, "You dodged (I) an imaginary rain drop, the real one hasn't found you yet," signature and postmark, Newark, Delaware.

Goldie for president! Merited because of his famed "Eloe Book" campaign.

COLLEGE SENIORS

SAMUEL CHARLES WALLS, JR.

Samuel Charles Walls, Jr., came to Washington College in the Fall of 1930, from Church Hill High School whence he was graduated in June of that year. At this secondary school, the jovial Sam was a member of both the soccer and baseball teams in 1929 and 1930, and in 1930 was soccer captain.

At Washington College, Sam Walls has demonstrated that fundamental principle first recognized so long ago, that the way to do most in college or life is to make a lark of the task. He is a chemistry major, and Biology minor, which points toward a future medical career.

In 1932 and 1933, he played intramural basketball with Middle Hall, and this year he is an active member in the Washington Chemical Society. Sam displays special skill in laboratory technique, and also particular skill in being a wholly good fellow.

MARIAN L. CLOUGH

Marian L. Clough was graduated in 1930, from the Centerville High School, where he played soccer, bas-kethall and on the Dramatic Club boards. His higher academic training was begun at Western Maryland College, where at the end of his third semester he was promoted to the rank of Corporal in the R. O. T. C. Unit, and transferred to Washington College. At Western Maryland he played in the College Band, and belonged to the Y. M. C. A. and Irving Literary Society.

At Washington College, Marian Clough has been pleasantly sure of his convictions, and has shown a tendency to express them on paper. He belongs to the College Press Club, and writes two columns for the "Centerville Observer." He also is affiliated with the Y. M. C. A. and the Mount Vernon Literary Society.

The quiet chap's major is Economics and minor is Sociology. He expresses at his after-college plans to do graduate work in Economics, or to be occupied in Publicity work or Journalism.

WALTER KEICRIN MOFFETT

Walter K. Moffett was graduated from the Chestertown High School in 1928. There, he had shown special interest and aptitude in the sciences, and in chemistry in particular. He was known for his quick comprehension of details, and his technique with apparatus. These laudable abilities he has maintained in college along with the accretion of many new, excellent traits. In Chemistry, his major subject, he is an able Student Instructor, and his laboratory work has always been marked by its precision. His minor subject is Physics, in which he is deeply interested.

The social activity afforded by college has not been lost to him, for he is an enthusiastic member of the Co-tillion Club, and, on the other hand, is also a regular contributor to the seminars of those embryonic savants, called in totum the Washington Chemical Society.

Walter was a player in the now defunct Golf Club, and is a candidate for baseball this spring.

JAMES E. NEWTON

Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing

103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

Blue Key Minstrel Show Being Prepared

The final date for the Blue Key Minstrel Show has not yet been decided upon but "Colonel" Mike Wallace has been busy getting his trouper in shape.

Several rehearsals have been held recently and the unusually large number of candidates offer much talent.

It will probably be of interest to those who saw last year's show to know that such capable performers as Ellery Ward, Phil Sidds, Norris Duffy, and John Lord, will be with the show again this year.

There will be solos by well known singers as Larry Williams, Joe Mooney, Charles Wells, Robert Fink, and Fred Taylor.

The show will be very similar to last year's minstrel and as such, will be worth while seeing.

Sea Food Is Our Specialty
HERB'S
RESTAURANT
and
BEER GARDEN
— Dancing —
Chestertown, Maryland
Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.
Best Foods
Prompt Service
Our Beer Is The Best In Town

THE FITCH DUSTDOWN COMPANY

Janitor Supplies
801 South Howard Street
Baltimore, Md.

Prescription Blanks	"THE NEW DEAL"	Auto Job Records
Sales Books	BUSINESS STATIONERY	Letter Heads
Bill Heads	$2.80 PER 1000	Envelopes
Stickers	Over 3000 Cuts Furnished FREE	Pluggers
Tags	ALLEN L. STAFFORD	2 in 1 Cards
	Representing David Lionel Press, Templeville, Md.
	Business and Blotter Cards $1 and $1.50 Per 1000

"I personally express my appreciation of your effort toward keeping Granger fresh till used," writes Mr. H. S. Gray of Wilmington, Del., locomotive engineer on the Pennsylvania Railroad. He says:

"Having opened the package it can be opened and closed repeatedly, without excessive fraying of the edges, assuring that the tobacco can be kept free from moisture and dust.

"I have heard several other locomotive engineers comment very favorably on the new wrapper. I personally express my appreciation of your effort toward keeping Granger fresh till used."

the pipe tobacco that's MILD
the pipe tobacco that's COOL

--folks seem to like it

Sports, Here and There

By Charley Clark

Intramural Basketball

Games A Success

With the completion of play in the two intramural basketball leagues, we look back to the benefits that have been derived and can be derived from the whole business nothing but a large success. The coaches have done a fine job in conducting such a schedule, and improvement all around has been noted over last year. This is the third year that an extensive program has been carried out. When the present season was Freshmen the Intramural Basketball game were participated in only by four class teams, while at the present there are in addition to these four, three Fraternity and three Dormitory quintets. Coach Klatis is development of intramural games at Washington College, working along with Coach Kibler, and profiting has been the system of the Western Maryland, his Alma Mater.

Baseball And Lacrosse Squads Begin Practice

Although far from the activities of the baseball and lacrosse squads, the indoor loosening up exercises, the crack of the willow as it connects with the hardball will soon resound from the athletic field as the regular season is underlain. Coach Kibler has a good problem, that of pitching, for Ed Evans is the only man whose ability on the mound is known. But he has decided to cast his lot with the first baseman, due to an ailing pitching arm. A fine schedule confronts the pupils of Coach Kibler, and a much more successful season than that of last year is looked for.

Lacrosse equipment was issued yesterday to a long list of Senior veterans, and many of the last year's team, and to a few newcomers. Coach Klatis is making a special plea to freshmen and sophomores to come out for the old Indian game, as this year will use the graduation of approximately a dozen players, for the most part, regulars. Experienced players will be lacking next season and the freshmen team take advantage of this year. The Maroon and Black performers have played a lot of good teams in the last three or four years, and newcomers can learn quite a few tricks from them. The main draw back this year will be of lack of reserves. The spirit of the players is fine, as practice begins, and the four best teams in the country that will be met, will have their hands full some Saturday afternoon between now and June.

College Sports Take

March Criticism

Following an assertion of Forest Fletcher, President of the Southern Conference, that College boxing is "not a sport but more of a money-making, bloody science," C. M. Gibbs in his Gibraltar column in the Baltimore Sun very truthfully writes: "the fact that at times there is a trickle of sweat from someone's leg, and boots, and that there are game receipts certainly doesn't eliminate it from the field of sport. It seems that taking a shot at all forms of college sports has become the great national pastime. The fact that there are game receipts is no argument. Anyone who believes that any one school of college athletic activities can be maintained without game receipts is naively out of touch with the facts. It's like trying to make leather shoes without leather, or to go horseback riding without a horse. It's had to do properly."

Mr. Gibbs never goes true words, and further comment is not needed.

Baseball Players Workout Indoors

Ed Evans Is Only Pitcher With Experience

Coach J. Thomas Kibler of the Washington College baseball team would gladly sacrifice two or three of his more numerous infielders and outfielders for a couple of good mound-men. During the next week he has been conducting flinching up and exercises in the gym, and trying to figure out how Ed Evans, the only slaban of experience can be expected to go the whole season without assistance.

The baseballers have an eight-game schedule at the present time, and are hoping for warm weather to prepare for the first opponent on April 28. There is a strong possibility that the schedule will be added to.

The following squad has reported to Coach Kibler: Catchers, Bilancioni, Greiner, Bruchel and Wright; pitchers, Evans, White, Weisner; infielders, O'Farrell, Baker, Berry, Reinhardt, Hodgson, Ocklin, Berry, Moffett, Stacey, Abbott; outfielders, Tignor, Taylor, Weir, Johns, Goldstein, Kehler and Porter. Of the above group, Bilancioni, Evans, O'Farrell, Baker, Berry, Reinhardt, Hodgson and Tignor are lettermen of last year, when baseball was revived at Washington College following a lapse of four years. Prospects for this year are good at the present writing.

Jack Smithson is manager of the squad.

April 28—Delaware	Home
May 7—Hampton-Sidney	Home
May 9—Mt. St. Mary's	Away
May 12—Maryland	Away
May 16—Maryland	Away
May 19—Delaware	Away
May 22—Mt. St. Mary's	Home

Captain Proofrood And Al Giraitis Tie For Cage Scoring Honors

Captain Del Proofrood of the 1934 Flying Pentagon scored eight points in the last contest of the season, against the University of Delaware, for the Al Giraitis for scoring honors. Both of the players, who have played together for four years, ended their collegiate basketball careers with 69 points. The complete list of scores is as follows:

Del Proofrood	69
Al Giraitis	69
Phil Shipp	44
Ellory Ward	44
Ned Nicholson	39
Dick Gamber	30
Al Bilancioni	24
Harry Huey	18
Ed Evans	6
Dale Rees	4
Charley Berry	4
Al Hodgson	3
Jimmie Johns	2

Visit
ALBERT L. WHEAT
For Anything
in
Men's Wear

BARNETT'S BARBER SHOP
Over Sterling's Drug Store
First Class Service and
Expert Workmen

INTRAMURALS

FINAL LEAGUE STANDINGS

Fraternity and Dormitory League				Class League
	W	L	Pct.		W	L	Pct.
Phi Sigma Tau	13	2	.867	Freshmen	10	2	.833
Alpha Kappa	13	2	.867	Juniors	7	6	.538
Middle Hall	8	7	.533	Seniors	6	6	.500
East Hall	6	9	.400	Sophomores	1	11	.083
Phi Sigma Phi	4	11	.267
West Hall	1	14	.067
				Tau's Win Championship

League Playoff
Phi Sigma Tau 18, Alpha Epsilon 5
Championship Game
Phi Sigma Tau 27, Freshmen 21
Phi Sigma Tau 26, Freshmen 21

By Philip Shipp

A rejuvenated Phi Sigma Tau basketball team led by Boyles and Nowak, fought its way to a place in the championship series by downing a hard-playing A. K. quintet 18 to 5 in a play off game for the Fraternity and Dormitory League Championship.

The first half was featured by close guarding and erratic play on the A. K. trailed at the rest period at 5 to 3. The first six minutes of play were the first played without either team scoring. Then Dobkins, star A. K. guard, threw in a one hand shot that put the A. K.'s ahead. A one point lead looked big at this stage of the game. But Boyles took the ball on the next tap and dribbled down the side for a thrilling one-hand shot that changed the lead again. This bullet shot seemed to awaken the Tau team, as Nowak and Boyles scored seven points in rapid succession. The game ended soon after.

First Championship Game

Left Charley Clark, the fast stepping Phi Sigma Tau basketballers romped off with a 27-12 victory over a bewildered Freshman team in the first game of the championship series Tuesday.

On successive baskets by Clark and Nowak, the fraternity outfit easily ran up a big lead. The red shirted team did the least. This bullet shot seemed to awaken the Tau team, as Nowak and Boyles scored seven points in rapid succession. The game ended soon after.

McMahon was outstanding for the freshmen.

The lineup and summary:

Phi Sigma Tau	G	F	T
Boyles, f	4	0	0
Kight, f	0	0	0
Wallace, c	0	0	0
Ingersoll, c	1	4	6
Clark, g	5	0	10
Totals	11	5	12
Freshmen	G	F	T
Coleman, f	0	0	0
McMahon, f	1	3	4
McLain, c	0	0	0
Reddish, g	1	0	2
Wright, g	1	1	3
Dole, f	0	0	0
Taylor, g	0	0	0
Totals	3	6	12
Score by periods:
Phi Sigma Tau	13	14	27
Freshmen	6	6	12

The Emerson Hotel
Baltimore
Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled
Rooms $3 up—Ants Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

Seven '33 Regulars Back For Lacrosse

Stickfighters Begin Practice; Four Game Schedule

A four-game schedule confronts the Washington College Lacrosse "Ten" this season. Lacrosse had seven regulars in American Lacrosse, St. John's, John Hopkins, Mt. Washington and the University of Maryland.

Coach Klatis has seven of last year's regulars back again: Captain Fritz Reinhold at goal, Dick Gamber at first defense, Charley Clark at center, Pat Beaman at second attack, Al Gibbs at first attack, Omar Curry at outback, and Dick Chambers at inback. Players who saw service last year other than the seven named above are principally, Burkhart, Harris, Kehler, Watson, Hall. Other members of the squad back are Lord, DeSeio, Brougham, Cliffford, Taylor, Castiel, Little, Kemper. Dwyer who narrowly missed making his letter in 1931-32 but who has not played since is expected to fill in one of the close defense vacancies, while Henry Nowak, a newcomer will be given every opportunity to see plenty of Lacrosse. Paul Pippin, who will be unable to play because of a recent operation, will be missed, as he has been a regular player for two years. Ralph Hastings stands the best chance of copying the second defense position, left open by last year's captain, Phil Wingate.

Winged down of the material in the Franch class. Mark Wingate has had experience in handling a stick, as has Phil Sterling. More definite information can be given in a week or two. Ralph Hastings is manager of the team.

The schedule:
April 21—St. John's	Away
April 22—Maryland	Away
May 7—Hampton	Away
May 19—Mt. Washington	Away

Dr. G. W. Preston Speaks On "Insecurity" In Assembly On March 15

Dr. G. W. Preston, Commissioner of Mental Hygiene, of the State Board of Health of Maryland, was the guest speaker in the regular Thursday morning assembly on March 16. He spoke on "Insecurity."

That the breakdown of the young's self-respect is one of the most damaging faults of educators and guardians, is a belief of Dr. G. W. Preston. One's self-respect, he pointed out, hinged on the mental security or insecurity which the individual carries. Since this balance can so easily be affected by training or suggestion, coming from life, he thinks, can be traced to earlier influences which distorted the normal aspect. This inherent tendency of human action, was the driving force of insecurity and a accomplishment, but it is in this same feeling, he showed, which accounts for the success of "R. O." advertisements and fake memory courses.

But more important, it is this psychological element which explains the hermit and the braggart, both of whom have erected these defenses against the insecurity pressed by social contact. Contrarily the mentality fit "get along, get fun out of life, are not a nuisance to others, and achieve though no matter how small the contribution." In essence you can make a person "down" by convincing talks, so don't do it.

Basketball League Holds Meeting

Coach Kibler Will Head League For Three More Years

Coaches and athletic directors of the five colleges composing the Maryland Collegiate Basketball League met in Baltimore Monday night, March 15, to wind up their business for the season recently closed, a campaign that found Western Maryland stepping up to take first-place honors from Mount St. Mary's, 1933 winner. However, after electing officers, selecting first and second All-Star teams and generally seeing that everything was in ship-shape order, the league decided to hold another session this week.

The purpose of this week's meeting is to definitely decide whether the league should be expanded next year to include St. Johns College and the University of Baltimore, two institutions that have sought admission.

The league is now composed of Western Maryland, Johns Hopkins, Loyola College, Mount St. Mary's and Washington. The inclusion of St. John's and Baltimore would make it a seven-team league.

To show that they were entirely satisfied with the way President Tom Kibler of Washington College ran affairs this past season the league members selected the Maroon athletic director and coach for three more years, instead of a one-year term.

Earl J. Bender will continue as secretary and treasurer of the league for three more seasons.

The coaches of the league teams got together and picked an All-Star first and second team as follows:

First Team: Ryscavage (Western Maryland) and Chalkley (Mount St. Mary's), forward; Sidusky (Western Maryland), center; Kelly (Johns Hopkins) and Lynch (Mount St. Mary's), guards.

Second team: Siverd (Johns Hopkins) and Frearson (Loyola), forward; Hopkins (Mount St. Mary's), center; Camber (Washington) and Hurley (Western Maryland), guards.

FOX'S

Anything you want at the Right Price

5c to $1.00
Store

STUDENTS, ATTENTION
Call at CARL'S
THE COLLEGE
BARBER SHOP
Cross Street
For your copy of the Washington Basketball Schedule.

THE REXAL STORE
EASTMAN KODAKS
FILMS
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING
BY EXPERTS
DRUGS and
SUNDRIES
Of All Kinds
A. L. STERLING

KIBLER AND DUMSCHOTT VISIT NEW ENGLAND

Witness Yale Prep School Basketball Tourney

Athletic Director J. Thomas Kibler and Graduate Manager of Athletics at Washington College, Fred W. Dumschott, returned last Saturday night, March 10, from a three day's visit in New England. Together they witnessed the prep school basketball tourney staged by Yale University. The visit was the occasion for the reunion of a group of athletes of that section who at one time or another were Washington College uniforms. Among those who got together were Jack Carroll, Clayton McGran, Henry Carrington, Jimmy Galvin, Jack Reiger, Tom Purcell, and Dominic Jemelle.

Coach And Mrs. Kibler Entertain Cage Players

Coach J. Thomas Kibler and Mrs. Kibler, continuing their custom of many years entertained the 1934 Washington College Basketball squad on Tuesday night, March 13th at their home, College street.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Kibler, the following were present: Dr. Gilbert W. Mead, Dr. H. G. Simpser, Coach George L. Klatka, Coach Fred W. Dumschott, Manager Burdette Nettle and Profford, Graitis, Gambr, Ward, Skipp, Blandini, Evans, Berry, Johns, Rees and Greims.

Alday Clements, Ex-'35, Attends School In New Mexico

Alday Clements, former Washington College student and son of Mr. and Mrs. Merrick Clements, of Chestertown, is this year attending the New Mexico School of Mines. Playing on the Basketball team as a regular, he led the team in scoring, tallying 149 points in an eighteen game schedule, and was considered by papers of that section as the outstanding player on the team.

PIPPEN'S
BARBER SHOP
Pippen's Hotel
Hair Cutting My
Specialty

Modern Shoe Repairing
Store
PAUL SIPALA
Next to Sterling Drug

STUDENTS
We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.

Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Lentheric Line from Par-
is.

Abbott's DeLuxe Ice
Cream.
Pipes, Cigarettes and
Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

"The Postman Always Rings Twice"

James M. Cain

Mr. James M. Cain, a graduate of Washington College in 1910, and son of a former President of the College, has completed his latest novel, "The Postman Always Rings Twice," and first copies which recently reached Chestertown were eagerly sought after by the many friends of the author here.

The story as told by Mr. Cain is realistic and leaves little to the imagination. It is written in a style that makes for easy reading and holds the reader's interest from start to finish.

Miss Dora Sewell, '31 Teaches Under CWA

Miss Dora Sewell, graduate of Washington College in 1931, is one of many profiting by Civil Works Administration Projects. Possessing a Maryland Teaching Certificate, she is instructing in Business English at the evening Adult Educational School at Easton, Md. High School on Wednesday and Thursday, and at Codomo, Md. High School on Friday.

After the Show follow
the Crowd to the Most
Modern Ice Cream Par-
lor in Town.

GILL BROS.

Compliments of
THE PARK ROW
BEAUTY SHOPPE

COLLEGE HILL
LUNCH ROOM

Light Lunch
Beer On Draught
W. M. CROWDING, Prop.

McCALLISTERS
Quality Sporting Goods
Catalogue on Request
124 W. W. Baltimore St.
Baltimore, Md.

CULTURAL COMMENT

By Joseph Freedman

At last we are to actually hear "Sweetest Shakespeare, Fanny's Child," as the title of the new play by William Smith's Arden Forest, and the time is tonight.

It is particularly interesting at this time to note the analogy between our own cast of "O. You Like It?" and the personages who have made stage history. Emily Jewell is following in the wake of such actresses as Mrs. Siddons, Ellen Terry and Ethel Barrymore—all of whom given international distinction in the role of "heavenly Rosalind." Albert Dohms (Jacques) has as his predecessor McCreedy and Kemble, while Will Baker is a worthy successor to the Footstone of Will Kemp.

The play is particularly well adapted to be given on St. Patrick's Day as the local color is simply supplied by the green forest of Arden, and the greenness of a few of the members of the cast is likewise a refreshing reminder. Finally, we are to see "Caprice and fancy reign and revel" in the dialogue, sparkling manner that would put even the old poet to shame.

William Lyon Phelps rejoices in the fact that there are still a few books left in English literature that are the exclusive property of matured intelligent people. He cites as examples Boswell's "Life of Johnson" and Burton's "Anatomy of Melancholy." If this is true we may be glad that the numbers of such people are so overwhelmingly great, for these particular books, and their ilk, are perennial favorites among practically all English reading staid.

We will do well to note the recent trend of the motion pictures. Apparently weary of the musical extravaganza we have suddenly become more serious minded, and history claims our attention. Catherine the Great, Napoleon, Gdlini, Casterova, the Rothschilds, Queen Christiana—these are why a few subjects of a long imposing list that bids well for an auspicious year.

SMITH'S
KUT-RATE
DRUG STORE

The only place where you can buy home-made Ice Cream.

Fourth Cotillion Of Year On March 23

Ralph Miller Heads Decorating Committee

On Friday, March 23, 1934, the Cotillion Club of Washington College will hold its Easter Formal in the college gymnasium. Ralph C. Miller, chairman of the decorating committee, plans to carry out the color scheme in blue and white. The committee is now making arrangements to secure the services of a popular Wilmington orchestra to furnish the music. This, the fourth of a series of five formal, promises to be one of the best dances of the year.

Invitations to act as patrons and patronesses have been extended to Dr. and Mrs. Mead, Mr. and Mrs. Johns, Dr. and Mrs. Buxton, Prof. and Mrs. Goodwin, Dr. and Mrs. Dana, Miss Doris T. Bull, and Mr. William Willis.

The dance committee is composed of Ralph C. Miller, chairman, Ivon Culver, Charles S. Wells, Jr., John M. Little and Albert Abbott.

Engagement Of 1933 W. C. Graduates Is Announced

The engagement of Miss Rodene Seaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Seaton, of Maryland, Md., and Richard M. Johnson, of Cumberland, Md., has recently been announced.

The announcement was of great interest to Washington College students, faculty and alumni as both the bride and Mr. Johnson graduated from the Shore College last June. Miss Seaton was a member of the Kappa Gamma Sorority and several other organizations on the Hill, while Mr. Johnson was Basketball Captain in 1933, a member of the Alpha Kappa Fraternity and Vice President of the Varsity Club. He was also a letter man for three years in Football.

KREEGER'S
JEWELRY STORE

Eyes examined and glasses fitted by a graduate Optician. Fountain
Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films
and Developing.

Watches, Rings and
Novelty Jewelry.

VANITY FAIR UNDIES

are the sort you dream about. Tiny handfuls of sheer Silk that stand the hardest kind of wear and cost next to nothing. Come in and see them!

THE
MARGARET E. JEFFERSON
SHOP

Pure Food is the Foundation of Your Health

CHESTERTOWN
RESTAURANT

Soda, Candy, Cigarettes, Beer on Draught
Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.

Phone 207 Chestertown, Md.

Safeguard Your Stomach, It Is Your Best Friend

Dr. Lazon Gives Fine Address In Assembly

As one of the college body put it, referring to Dr. Lazon's address at the assembly last week: "It was the best one yet." Dr. Lazon, Rabbi of the Futaw Flace Temple in Baltimore, coming through a heavy snow, was in time to deliver one of the most inspiring talks to the college in a good while, and, even if all too short, succeeded in eliciting an enthusiastic burst of applause from the assembly hearing him.

After first paying tribute to the former Dr. Tinsmith, the rabbi drawing from his recent trip around the United States in the company of a Protestant minister and a Catholic priest, pointed out certain significant movements which he had noticed throughout the country and which he thought were vital to the future course of our nation's history. These, he said, were marked by a tension characteristic of crises and whose denouement, happy or unhappy, was in the hands of modern youth. The failure of the "War for Democracy," and the evils in the seeds of hatred which it sowed, remarked Dr. Lazon, were distinctly in evidence today. The drawing up of the different groups which make up these United States into self-centered, restricted bodies, raising new prejudices, new distrusts, all pointed to the unusual seriousness of the times. As to the possibility, Dr. Lazon's engagingly frank and without earnest manner contributed not a little, with the appealing example of that united effort which characterized the American people in 1917.

PRESS CLUB FORMED AT WASHINGTON COLLEGE

Prof. Goodwin Directs Activities Of New Organization

An organization has been formed at Washington College that will endeavor to keep "the folks back home" well informed in regard to activities of students at Washington College from their country. This Press Club is under the direction of Prof. Goodwin. At a meeting on March 8th a tentative plan of attack was drawn up. Each member will write a column for his home or school paper in which he will tell what the students from that vicinity are doing. There are four columns running in county newspapers now. It is thought that at least eight more will be started in the near future.

Prof. Goodwin is requesting that all students cooperate to the extent of placing any items of interest of which they may know in a box that will be placed in the lower hall in a few days. There is from time to time news that possibly should be sent to some particular locality. It is entirely possible that this news might escape the attention of the reporter.

Life Of Antonio Raviolo Reviewed Briefly

By Millard "Tarzan" Kemper, Sophomore

Antonio Raviolo was born in New York City. By the time he was 6 years old he was installed with a desire to keep still about it. On his 10th birthday he had a desire to be a boxer, wrapped 'em up in his other shirt, an' caught a frate trane.

He landed out in a box kar in Chicago wun day, an' desired to learn the english language an' spend his life in the fair city by the lake, wair life is sometimes safe after dark. For a while he was so braceless that people perkeded that he wud end up in congress.

Atanio spent the few years picking up cigar buts an' a education. By the time he was 20 years old he had amassed a wicke a fortune peddling plaster photographs uv Garibaldi, Abe Lincoln, Moses, Buddha an' other famous italians. He was so rich he used to hire 6 yells baba an' walk home among them. Then he crashed a blond memus with a lubby stare. Antonio spent that next few years pushing a banna kart an' chamin the wimmin.

It was about this time that he discovered samchin. He discovered that

Chicago wood drink any dwn thing that wasn't labeled "Water." He found that by mixin the essence uv horse-shoe nales with sweet spirits uv nitro-glycerine he kood unloke it for 2 smakers a pint an 3 smakers a pint at respectable places. Wun snort uv that 3rd rail viniger wat he manufactured wud make a nigger jass hand play grand opera. Wunce more antonio wuz rolling in welch. He used to go three his pockets every morning an three away any paper munny that wuz wrinkled. Then he met a red hared telephone operator.

"BANNAS! NIZE RIPE BANNAS. 15 SENSE A DUZE!"

—By Millard Kemper

—60—

Scientists have made many investigations regarding the lateral line which extends along the sides of fish, and which is a sense organ of great usefulness.

Crickets found in the depths of the Caribbad cavern, New Mexico, seem to be the ordinary garden variety, but have become bleached from living in the darkness.

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A store run for the benefit of the students, offers line of Wahl Dollar Pens and Pencils, Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery and School Supplies.

Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 1:15 to 4:30 P. M. Every Day but Saturday and Sunday.

Not like others..

Even so... you can say
Chesterfields are
"not like others"

Chesterfield

the cigarette that's Milder

the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

Silver Pentagon's Minstrel Show Is A Large Success

Mike Wallace Directs Second Annual Production

Washington College and Chester-town have seen and applauded another season of Black Minstrel, for on the evening of Wednesday last, April 25, Mike Wallace's direction, under the Silver Pentagon Society's auspices, produced the second annual affair. Special songs and tickling tomfoolery by the end-men make this staging, despite its entirely non-technical nature, the only humorous, yet collegiate entertainment available to the students for seeing parody and hearing witticisms about the College family. A goodly number of them called for constant censure over in Bill Smith the other night.

End-men Ward, Duffy, Profound and McMahon responded nimbly at times, and willingly always, to the interludes of "The Banjo Band." Wardie capered about in a thoroughly African and amusing manner, and rivalled Duffy's fawning tripping with a liquid gliding all his own.

After the open chorus singing the "Maroon and Black Forever", the audience was delighted with solo selections by many of the fine singers of the college, including Larry Young, Alfred Taylor, Ray Wilson, Art Griens, Leroy Williams, Joe Mooney, Chuck Wells, Norris Duffy, Dave Wallace, Emerson Slocum and Ed McMahon. DuBouff Profound brought round the round of applause with his selections on the harmonica.

The Director and the Silver Pentagon Society expressed particular appreciation and gratitude to Miss Doris Bell for her kind and most skillful assistance in making up, the most exacting detail of the show, could have been done only through her knowledge and assistance. Thanks are also due to the Shakespeare Club, who permitted the use of its make-up material; the Dramatic Club, for its footlights; and Redent Lekeubuh, who disguised the end men.

Ralph Harries Will Deliver Senior Oration In June

Has Been Outstanding Speaker Of Class Of 1934

Ralph Harries, a Senior at Washington College from Taloma Park, Maryland, has been chosen to deliver the Senior Oration at the One Hundred and Fifty-Second Commencement of the College on June 11. He was selected by a Committee including Professor John M. Mackay, Head of the Public Speaking Department; John A. Wagner, Burdette Nottle and Charles B. Clark, members of the Senior class.

Harries has been quite prominent at Washington College for the ability to express himself and his dignified manner and excellent voice has designated him as the best speaker among the College Seniors. He has been active in campus activities and is a frequent speaker at College maces. At this writing the content of his oration has not been determined.

President MEAD States

In a very few weeks, it will be all over but the shouting. Commencement is just the way.

A promber, however, was listening to me recently that he was to hear the end of college days. He said, "It's too bad that it has come to an end just when I'm beginning to know what it's all about, and to get the best out of it." And he wasn't talking about classes or index, either.

Well, that's the way it has been going at Washington College for the last 152 years, and I venture that every class has had a senior or two who felt that way. If you want to get a real kick out of history, come into the office some day, and I'll bet you'll see the valedictory oration delivered at our first Commencement by a member of the Class of 1782. He certainly took himself and the world seriously enough, and decorated his remarks with some of the most flowery oratory you ever heard. If any one tried to get away with it in Public Speaking today, Mr. Mackay would probably froth at the mouth and pass out in a fit.

Anyhow, Commencement comes around as regularly as the calendar, and shows us all in one year nearer our ultimate port. I'm not trying to express what the end of the year means to a Freshman, or a Sophomore, or a Junior. I'm just asking you to take it on your minds, and ponder for a while, and arrive at your own conclusion.

You've bound to have some memories. That's the thing the past all years furnishes. Possibly some experiences, too, which were worth while. Maybe none so pleasant. But that's enough for the past.

Then there's the future. In most cases that will involve a plan for next year at Washington College. The College always plans ahead, so why shouldn't you?

The summer will pass somehow whether you plan it or not. But keep an eye on next September, and all next year to the Commencement of 1935.

Learn to keep your eye on the future—and that goes for the weeks before the graduation of 1934. Examinations are coming—O, say! No! So sad if you've had fore-sight. Now is the time for some of that foresight, as May advances, and June comes in sight over the horizon. Whatever it is you face, get to planning, and I wish you well.

For me, at least, this has been a suspicious year. I hope that has been the case with you all, for I can't forget what I have said before. "Together we go forward."

Gilbert W. Mead

Cottillon Club Holds Last Of Year's Dances

Last night, April 27, the Cottillon Club of Washington College presented in the college gymnasium the Senior Prom, last of its annual program of five formal dances. The decorations, artistically carried out in black and white, portrayed the Senior Hall of Fame, "as others see it," and the Senior class, as they are, Jimmy Adams and his Petunia, a popular Delaware, last of its annual.

C. & P. Telephone Man Speaks Here

Mr. W. W. Wheeler, Assistant to the Vice-President of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Companies, was the guest speaker at the special assembly of the Washington College Faculty and Student Body on Thursday, April 26. Mr. Wheeler, who came from Washington, D. C., spoke on the History of the Telephone. In addition he stressed the service the telephone hopes to perform, above that which it has and is rendering at the present time.

Mr. W. W. Wheeler, Assistant to the Vice-President of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Companies, was the guest speaker at the special assembly of the Washington College Faculty and Student Body on Thursday, April 26. Mr. Wheeler, who came from Washington, D. C., spoke on the History of the Telephone. In addition he stressed the service the telephone hopes to perform, above that which it has and is rendering at the present time.

Baseball Team Plays Delaware Here Today

By Jack Smithson
Athletic rivalry with the University of Delaware will be renewed today when the Blue baseball team comes down for the first of a two-game series. According to advance reports the invaders will be weaker than ever before, but with the Thompson brothers still in the lineup another game is expected.

Eddie Evans will start the game in the box and also a warm sun we can almost consider it in the bag. Just who will compose the team which will be behind Eddie is not certain as Coach Kibler has been forced to do quite a bit of juggling around due to the determination of Alger Abbott to dislodge some member of the infield which started against G. W. This may also involve changes in the outfield where the hitting of Paul Bruhl reserve catcher has also caused uncertainty since it was found that he could also gather in fly balls. Al Binacchini will catch.

Judging from his work so far Charlie Berry, who was Delaware's star last year, is in for a big day, and with the help of Evans, Tignor, Binacchini, Baker, Griens, et al, he should give our visiting outfielders plenty of exercise.

It looks like our chance to forge the link of Delaware in our athletic rivalry.

Chance Far Summer Work

The ELM received the following notice from the office of Mr. M. B. Johnston, Managing Vice-President of the World Fair Placement Bureau, Chicago, Illinois. A similar notice has been placed on the bulletin board by the Dean.

College Students desiring work at the World's Fair this summer address M. B. Johnston, 1737 University Avenue, Chicago, Ill. Please be sure to enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Local Group Petitions Omicron Delta Kappa National Honorary Fraternity For Membership; Blue Key Dropped

Blue Key Has Failed To Give Advantages It Should; Twelve Members In Petitioning Group

The Blue Key Fraternity at Washington College is a thing of the past. The charter of the National Honorary Fraternity was revoked at a recent meeting of the local chapter and National headquarters were informed of the action. Failure to provide advantages that a national organization of its kind should have attributed as the main cause for the procedure.

Petition O. D. K.

In the meantime, the Omicron Delta Kappa National Honorary Fraternity, which is more prominent than the Blue Key and better suited for Washington College, has been petitioned by the local petitioning group, consisting of former Blue Key members of the Junior and Senior class. This group has again become the Silver Pentagon Society, which was made into the Blue Key in the late nineteen twenties. The petitioning group includes Albert E. Tolbin, President; Michael Wallace, Treasurer; John M. Lord, Secretary; and William O. Baker, Charles B. Clark, Richard M. Gauber, Burdette Nottle, and Edgar E. Kibler. Twelve active members of the petitioning group consist of President Gilbert W. Mead, of the K. Circle of O. D. K.; Dr. J. S. William Jones, Dr. F. G. Livingston, and Coach J. Z. Kibler.

Eligibility Requirements

The eligibility requirements for membership are as follows:

(1) Character shall be the primary consideration for membership in this Circle.

(2) The membership in the local Circle shall not include more than twelve men.

(3) Each candidate shall possess specific qualifications:

(a) A consistent record of good scholarship in which he shall have maintained an average definitely above that required by the College for graduation.

(b) He shall have at least junior standing in the college.

(c) He shall have worked at least two years in the activity in which he holds or has held a major office.

(d) He shall hold or have held at least one major honor and two minor honors, which must be distributed in at least three separate fields or activities.

(e) Honors are designated as A majors, B majors, C minors and D minors. A majors carry 5 to 8 points; B majors carry 3 to 5 points; C minors carry 2 to 3 points; D minors carry 2 points. In addition to group distribution, a candidate must have a minimum of twelve points on this credit.

Elective shall be based strictly on the point system, i. e., those men in college who have earned the highest number of points shall be eligible for election, provided that no man shall be eligible unless his points include at least a definite number out of his major group as specified.

f. Faculty members shall be chosen on the basis of conspicuous service to Washington College, especially in extra-curricular activities. Their term as active members shall be four years, one to be elected each year and one to retire as an active member each year. No faculty member can be re-elected to active membership without a period of one year intervening between the end of his last term and his reelection.

Activities Point System

Activities are divided up into five classes upon which points are based and given. The five fields include Scholarships, Publications, Social Leaders, Athletics and Music and Forensics.

Definite Information Later

The Petition at the present time is circulating among the Circles of O. D. K. and then will be taken up by the General Councils of the Honorary Fraternity. This action will take about two or three weeks longer, and more definite information can be released at a later date. Absolutely no trouble is expected in gaining the approval of the Petition, and there is no formalism in coming into it.

Students Are Reminded Of Coming College Elections

(Note This Week's Editorial)

Students of Washington College are reminded that the Annual Spring elections of the college will take place within the next week or two. It is expected that at the regular meeting of the Student Council on Monday night, April 30, the date for nominations will be set as next Friday, May 4. Student Government rulings provide that elections be held one week after nominations, which in this case would make final balloting on May 11, if the Council sets the date as expected.

It is necessary that students be ready to vote intelligently at election time, as the offices to be filled are the most important on the campus. They include the President, Vice-President, and Secretary of the Student Council; Editor, Business Manager, Assistant Editor, and Assistant Business Manager of the Washington Elm; and the President and Secretary of the Athletic Association.

Watch for announcements and bulletin board notices, and know who to vote for at election time.

Department Of Biology Receives Gifts Recently

Department Of Biology

Gifts for the museum have recently been received, as follows:

Shells collected in Florida, given by F. Poyner '37.
Gore and Starfish, given by Brooks E. Reynolds '37.
Also some very beautiful tropical butterflies and other insects showing "colorful" designs have been acquired by purchase, and may be seen in the Laboratory.

The Washington Elm

Published by, and devoted to, the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1872.

EDITOR CHARLES B. CLARK
Assistant Editor William O. Baker
Literary Editor Albert E. Dobkins
Exchange Editor Roland E. Lekebusch
Women's Editor Sarah Ellen Byrn
Alumni Editor Phillip J. Wingate

REPORTERS

Feature Reporters Emory Burkhardt, Joseph Freedman
Reporters This Issue—Phillip Skipp, William Kight, Carol Castel, Martha Shearer, Anne Whyte, Miriam Ford, Jean Harshaw, Isadore Bohrer.

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager J. Patterson Beaman
Assistant Business Manager Louis L. Goldstein
Circulation Manager Emerson P. Slacum
Advertising Manager Joseph McLain

Entered at the Chestertown, Maryland, Postoffice as second class matter.
 Subscription Price $1.50 a year. Single Copy 10 cents.

SATURDAY, APRIL 28, 1934

SPRING ELECTIONS SOON— AWAY WITH CHEAP POLITICS!

In two or three weeks the students of Washington College will cast votes for the various important student officers at annual college and class elections. We take this subject for comment in order to express our complete condemnation of practices that have taken place in this college in other years, and with the hope that by placing the shameful situation before the student body the group of students, the elections will be on a new scale.

At the start we realize that we are attacking a problem that extends as far as we know to every institution of higher learning in the country. In addition, we comprehend also that the national and state governmental systems are very much affected by the crooked political methods employed by those in a position to do so, both in elections and general procedure. However, regardless of where, why, and how it exists, there is no justification for it predominating in our college, which in reality is for practical purposes is too small for fraternities and sororities, a social nature, for they are the very root and bane of the childish, disgraceful and absolutely unconceivable actions in the election procedures.

We have been in direct contact with elections at Washington College for three or four years and know exactly how one fraternity fights with another against a third, or how all three vote separately with a complete hatred of the other two. Here we must state that there are naturally fine exceptions in the actions of a few individual members. Furthermore, the only group that we think that may even partially be justified for attempting to solicit votes and place a candidate in office, is the non-fraternity group which is so discriminated against. We looked with favor upon the election of a non-fraternity man to the Presidency of the Junior class a month or two back. It seems that the Fraternities crossed themselves up. It was real fun to note their surprise.

The activities of the sororities in the elections has been as bad if not worse. We contend that women students should not vote for officers and members of the Men's Student Council; in which they have the council of their own in the election of which the men take no part. We realize their right to vote for other officers, representatives or for whomever the election is being held. Still, the record of the sororities has been spotted with small, trivial prejudices and dishonorable and petty opinions which have affected the results of elections. The same applies to the Fraternities.

We can well visualize the reception that will be accorded this editorial. We are unconcerned about any criticism that will be flung in our direction because of our stand, for we have stated facts, and have expressed opinions harbored every since we first were given an opportunity to see the present situation in operation. We are concerned only by our hopes that a change will come about, for we are not aiming to merely condemn, but to be influential in attempting to remedy a disgraceful situation that exists.

The direct control of elections by the Student Council has been most satisfactory and at the polls there has been no chance for the practices mentioned above. They have taken place in the hallways, fraternity houses, sorority rooms, dormitories and places unknown. That it has taken place is all too evident.

In conclusion, we hope that the students in coming elections will vote on the basis of the merits of the candidates for positions to be filled. Forget that it is a temporary honor to become an officer, and remember that a vast amount of work is attached to each position, requiring abilities and the acceptance of responsibilities. Our last remark—To us, a student is without will power, lacking in initiative, and absolutely unfair to the progress of the college, the candidate for whom he votes, and to the college if he not only allows a second individual to group to inform him for whom to vote, but goes ahead and does it.

SLIPPERY ELM

By Albert E. Dobkins

Coming into the verse of our Swan Song and having the perspective of four years of trial and error, we endeavor to recount major effects concerning the students and relating to collegiate life.

The start made by the new regulations of fraternity conduct is a vast improvement. It has stopped the threat cutting of former years. The new code is not the perfect remedy, but it has curbed the practices of the peasant politicians. The possibility of less of companionship and less of real friendship, the only great thing that college life at Washington offers, has been eliminated.

A second accomplishment is the recent adoption of the new method of selecting athletic team captains. We have harped too much on the matter already but a portion prediction is that the new system will reach farther than taking the election of captains out of fraternities and better success for the teams, but will curb the entire spirit of the college. We see time on our side in deciding the ultimate outcome as infinitely more deservable than the beating of fraternity prestige.

Now we should like to see Saturday classes abolished. Much has been said on this subject pro and con and we leave our line.

If the six day classes a week is a necessary requirement to holding or gaining membership in college associations that might be explained to the students but it has failed in its avowed purpose of keeping students on the Hill over the week end and to study, so why continue it?

Concerning the assembly speakers we should like to have our say. The present program is unsatisfactory. We can appreciate the need for making do at the expense of wasting 24 hours each week of students' time. True there are other difficulties in securing good speakers but why excuse them at the consideration of the students? As a test for the popularity of the assembly speakers we should like to see the compulsory attendance requirement lifted and count the number present in the weekly audiences. We favor a meeting of the entire student body once a week but let's have programs of our own with one or two orators as can be afforded rather than endure the weekly agony.

H. D. OREM & SON
 Headquarters for
 Farmer's Hardware and
 Supplies
 Case Tractors, Thrashers,
 Combines
 Phone 217. Chestertown

Visit
ALBERT L. WHEAT
 For Anything
 in
 Men's Wear

BARNETT'S
 Over Sterling's Drug Store
 First Class Service and
 Expert Workmen

PURLOINED PHRASES

By Roland E. Lekebusch

Professor: "Mr., you can't sleep in any class."
 "No sir, but I could if you didn't talk so much."

She: "What's your name?"
 He: "Cas."
 She: "Oh, may I just call you Jack?"

New Maid: "How will I announce dinner sir? Will I say 'Dinner is ready,' or 'Dinner is served'?"
 Old Guard: "It is like it was in college. Just say, 'Dinner is burnt.'"

A girl I knew named "Sister Sue," had friends new, more than few, but her steady beau was—will be was an Irishman named Killy.
 One day her girl friend said to Sue, "My Pat McCann can make love too, I can, I know, like Kelly can."

Sue said, "He can't like Kelly can?"
 She: "Is he dumb?"

He: "He is so dumb, he thinks that the St. Louis Cardinals are appointed by the Pope."

She: "Are you still paying attention to that girl I met at Long Beach?"
 He: "No, only alimony now, darling."

"What do you think of a fellow who will make a girl blush?"
 "I think he's a wonder."

Professor: "Miss , do you know anything about this subject?"
 Miss :—"A little, sir. What would you like to know?"

1st Co-ed: "Jack is an optimist."
 2nd Co-ed: "How come?"
 1st Co-ed: "Well, last night we were together and—"

2nd Co-ed: "Yes?"
 1st Co-ed: "And what do you suppose he tried to do?"
 2nd Co-ed: "No?"

1st Co-ed: "Yes—I'll be damned if he didn't try to—do a crossword puzzle with a fountain pen."

—And then there is our Freshman Co-ed who wants to know why, when a fellow wants to marry a girl, he always asks for her HAND.

Student Council Minutes
 April 28, 1934
 The meeting was called to order and the minutes were read and approved.
 The Council discussed the question whether they should abolish or maintain their policy of keeping the library open on Sunday afternoon.
 Mr. Sadler reported that he had interviewed Dr. Mead in regard to dropping classes in the week of the mid year examinations. Dr. Mead suggested that the Council look into the practice observed in nearby schools in this respect. The faculty Dr. Mead reported, is always willing to hear any suggestions from the students. Mr. Sadler reported that a letter had been written to get information in regard to identification badges for freshmen.
 Mr. Gumbler is to notify Dr. Mead to announce that smoking is prohibited in the assembly hall.
 President Gumber appointed Girls' and Edisons and Students as a committee to look through and make the necessary revisions in the constitution.
 The meeting was adjourned.
 Signed,
 John Mason Lord.

TOLD TO ME

By I. Only Hard

After so many weeks have elapsed—how can we separate the sheep from the goats? At least we have accomplished the state-wide secess—although it is no longer news it is still humorous to think again that a certain Ben Dispensary wouldn't allow Fritz, Joe Hall, or Bert to purchase this commodity because they weren't twenty-one. (Statutes must be revised.) In the same town we only heard Lella Anthony's best and trust male companion making a date—was he can vouch that it wasn't in Chester—never trust men—not even preachers' sons.

O'FARRELL

Just when we begin to wonder why Mary Inley was continually putting on the glad rags—we find her on a Sunday night rendez-vous dashing through the bushes—Nocturnal shadows over the bridge with none other than Robert Jarrell. Why?—Perhaps to escape "Big Boy" Dwyer who is the real reason for the great application of the law, in the same town. Mary—proving, Elsie, it pays to be a football captain.

IS A

Since Slacum laid Reid Hall-Now-look right 'Jervis see a dream looking over some one else's shoulder?—that this man Slacum is hating in two leagues. The first thing we know he will be hit by a pitched ball, or will lose his shirt.

STOOL PIGEON

Who can be the big hearted Band member who reports to the College all student misdoings on campus—more especially these girls who are so much in the news?—We are looking for him too—he would make a great columnist.

FOR THE

Tiger is on the market again, in the week and Gustie indicated to him the gate-keeper, Mr. Hebert for a stroll in the air. From what we hear he got plenty of it. Now out he goes with Rudy's gal again.

THREE WINCHELLS

Upon rising from his seat to greet Nala and Fritz the writer was extremely embarrassed to find her escort a perfect stranger—new we sign. The world is full of Chisel Chino, even Rudy Vallee had to get a divorce so what chance has a weak leader of a small orchestra.

Since this man's name came to College no man's name has been so safe, as little Al Ceaser, Harry, Winchell No. 3, so on and so. And now we are going to have Marie's little spending week ends and College for the first time in four years.

Neither Thibault and Yan Anna Mae McK. asks yearningly for "The next at the College" Saturday, but Rudy Right is a hard man. Tangle-foot Gerry will report his popular ballad of the Interfraternity Dinner on the June Ball—Dave is taking up Larceny, but for the game or the exercise (he's after our first attack man).—Everyone should plan to visit Bill Smith Hall on May 11 at 8 P. M.—The boys are at another successful show last Wednesday night—Thanks to the weather Seniors are planning to clean up a pretty sight by checking overcoats on the lawn. The boys are also congratulating on her rapid convalescence from the hospital; we found her in a maternity ward, but it was on a long. The men (Graham, star) Marylander lost his pants in the Lacrosse game last Saturday at College Park—Why did the cop stop the Council Head and his date, a popular Mr. Verneville, the other night—too much speed?

Sports, Here and There

By Charley Clark

The spring sports program is all fall away at Washington College as both the lacrosse and baseball teams are staging intercollegiate contests. The Lacrosse season as far as games are concerned is three-fourths over, but three more weeks remain before the last tilt with the strong Mt. Washington club, of Baltimore.

Hopkins Still Supreme

By defeating the Mt. Washington club Saturday, which had to its credit victories over the St. John's and the Maryland teams, John Hopkins appears as outstanding favorite to reign again as intercollegiate champions. True, Mt. Washington offered greatly from the temporary loss of Darnell and Turner, both kept out of the lineup last Saturday, but St. John's and Maryland are conceded little chance of defeating the Blue Jays. Judged from performances to date, St. John's has the better chance of turning the Baltimorean back Hopkins has held the championship for two years.

Shoremen Surprise Maryland

Throughout the contest last Saturday at College Park the Old Line shoremen expressed amazement at the first time the Shoremen players were playing. They readily admitted that they had expected to easily duplicate a large Hopkins and St. John's victory over the Maroon and Black runners. It is a shame that bad weather kept the locals from being set for the first two opponents as they were for the University of Maryland game. The new defense players acquitted themselves in marvelous manner.

Baseball Prospects Good

Though George Washington trounced the Kibler nine 11 to 2 last week, the Washington College players with the opening game nervousness tucked away, expect to take the Delaware diamond representatives in stride today and continue to pile up victories for the next five or six weeks, as a fine schedule has been arranged by Graduate Manager Demarest's extending over that period.

The team this year is a veteran combination, with only three players in the starting lineup who were not at the same posts last season. The main weakness is the pitching staff, for Ed Evans and Joe O'Farrell are only two newcomers of any experience in the college ranks. Tignor is the player who carries the most dangerous bat, and his two safeties against George Washington indicate that the "big boy" is out for a big year with the team.

The baseball team is especially fortunate to have a man as Coach Kibler in charge. His record, extending to the big leagues, is unquestionable for as knowledge of the game and ability to handle men is concerned.

KREEGER'S JEWELRY STORE

Eyes examined and glasses fitted by a graduate optician. Fountain Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films and Developing.

Watches, Rings and Novelty Jewelry.

LACROSSE LOSE TO HOPKINS, ST. JOHN'S AND U. OF MARYLAND. SHOW IMPROVED FORM AGAINST OLD LINERS

Only One Game Remains On Schedule, Meet Mt. Washington In Baltimore May 19

The Washington College Lacrosse Ten has to date staged three of the four games scheduled for 1934, having lost to the Mt. Washington Club to play in Baltimore on May 19. The month intervening between the game last Saturday with the University of Maryland and the final contest to be utilized in developing the 1935 team, as a fuller and better schedule is expected. Coach Elisai is keeping the seven senior players in shape and allowing the younger men to benefit from their knowledge of the game.

Hopkins Takes Opener

The opening game of the season was played on Homewood field in Baltimore, on April 17 when John Hopkins, National Champions, trounced the local Ten 12 to 1. The Shoremen showed decided lack of playing condition, caused by only five days of outside practice as a result of inclement weather and the interfering of the flu. The inexperienced line of three new defense men, replacing last year's captain, Phil Wingate, and Joe Bringham, both who graduated, and Paul Pippin, kept from the game by a recent operation, also a cause for the poor showing.

The Maroon and Black clad players started off well, holding Don Kelsey and his mates to two goals in the first quarter. The second period, however, was much more successful from a Hopkins viewpoint as eight goals were scored. Poor clearing of the ball by the Shore defensemen, and failure to change the defense, were the chief causes of the deluge or counting shots.

In the second half the Hopkins players seemed to get into the swing of their overhwhelming lead, each player, Coach veteran center, tallied the only goal for the Washington College team. The second period passed off at Al Giraitis. Fritz Reinhold made some fine stops, and expert for lack of confidence, the veteran center carried over from last season, including Gary, Chambers, Grails, Bensman, Clark, Gamber and Reinhold, performed excellently. Ellery Ward, subbing for Dwyer in the second half, displayed aggressive form, and much promise.

The lineup and summary: Johns Hopkins Washington Gilbert G Reinhold Reynolds CP Dwyer Baerleer FD Gamber Pascher SD Watson Beck C Clark Robinson SA Bensman Lange SA Giraitis Ward CP Grails Orth HI Chambers Johns Hopkins 2 8 11—12 Washington 1 0 0—1

May 19—Washington O

A good University of Maryland Lacrosse Ten was completely surprised by a fighting Washington College team last Saturday, April 21, when at the end of the third quarter had been able to get only three shots past the spectacular Fritz Reinhold, who was exhibiting real All-American form to the first time this season. In the fourth period the Old Liners counted three times, one goal of which was disputed by the Shore players to no avail. The following details were given by Hopkins and St. John's coaches, and Shoremen looked upon an easy prey.

Prescription Blanks
Sole Books
Stickers
Bills
Tags
"THE NEW DEAL"
BUSINESS STATIONERY
$2.40 PER
Over 3000 Cuts Furnished FREE
ALLEN L. STAFFORD
Representing District of Columbia
Business and Letter Cards $1 and $1.50 Per 1000

and a brother for the College Parkers, until the opening whiff blew. For the first time, the new defense, headed by the veterans of four years, Gamber, Grails, Clark, and Reinhold, and helped wonderfully by three new comers to the lineup, Ellery Ward, Joe Hall and John Lord, closed the ball to perfection on all except two occasions, and played effectively on black plays, and individually held their respective men under control as well as the Maroon and Black players had done the week before.

The game was one of the best played on the College Park field in recent years, the day was ideal for running, and each team exhibited fine stickwork and aggressive play. From the result of the contest it can be judged that the Mt. Washington Club will be in for a real struggle late in May.

The lineup and summary:

Maroon Washington
Phau G Reinhold
Har C P Ward
Ellery CP Grails
Hart F D Gamber
Snyder S D Hall
Ward C Grails
Burns S A Bensman
Thomas P A Giraitis
O'Leary O H Carey
J. Chrischill L H Chambers
Score by quarters:
Washington 1 1 1 3—6
Maroon 0 0 0—0

Loss To St. John's

Coach Elisai's men had another hard contest at Salisbury, Md., where the five St. John's team, which was met on Wednesday, April 18, in the second game of the year, and were on the short end of a 13 to 0 victory. The contest ended in a 13 to 0 loss, and the Shoremen's game had been transferred from Washington where it was to have been played, by St. John's authorities in order to give the lower Eastern Shore people and especially the high school athletes a chance to witness their first Old Indian game. A disastrous third quarter in which the Johnnies failed six times in less than two minutes, earned an otherwise fairly close game.

A Sandy Field
In all fairness to the local players it must be stated that the St. John's team was at an advantage, by virtue of a larger number of good reserves, needed especially on a field as the one on which the game was played. The Shoremen, while footing unevenly, was very tried to play, especially the midfielders. This handicap however far from caused a loss, for the Annapolis team played the game in a very defensive manner. Captain of the Maroon and Black players, played a heady and hard game, though bad ground made stopping shots extremely difficult.

New Men Show Promise

In attempting to develop men for next season, Coach Elisai is working his reserves with regularity, for seven seniors, and one first time reserve, Ellery Barishard, will need to be replaced next season. Men who are showing real promise beside the new defense men, Ward and Lord, are Mark Wingate, at Center, Wallace, Kight, Brown, De Socio, Pratt, Linburch, Taylor and Schall on the attack; Watson, Dwyer, Sterling and Little, defense players, and Gaster, Kemper and Grig, goal.

Diamond Players Drop First Game To George Washington

Lost 11 To 2 As Fitzgerald Stars For Victors

By Jack Smithson
Playing in the Griffith Stadium, home of the Washington Senators, the baseball team was stopped in its first start by the hardhitting George Washington University team last Friday by a score of 11 to 2. Handicapped by a strong wind, Eddie Evans was asked for a total of 10 hits before he gave way to Joe O'Farrell in the 6th. Del Proudfoot finished the game. On the mound for the opponents, Vernon Griffith, adopted the role of Clark Griffith, and Coach Kibler's men to 5 hits, two of which were gotten by Tignor.

Led by Eddie Fitzgerald, former W. C. player, the home club took advantage of our boys' inexperience, and turned to the large park and high stands to win by a score which by no means indicates what a good game it was. It is undoubtedly true that the team looked better in defeat than it did in winning the first game last year.

The lineup and summary:
Washington AB E H O A
Griffith, c 3 0 0 0 0
Debins, cf 1 0 0 0 0
Tignor, rf 2 1 2 0 0
Berry, ss 4 0 3 0 6
Evans, p rf 4 1 1 0 2
Tignor, lf 3 1 2 0 0
Baker, lf 4 0 1 0 0
Reichart, 3b 2 0 0 0 0
Albright, 3b 2 0 0 0 0
Adams, 3b 4 0 0 4 2
Brach, rf 2 0 0 1 0
O'Farrell, p 1 0 0 0 1
Proudfoot, p 1 0 0 0 1

Totals 30 2 24 13
Geo. Washington AB E H O A
Griffith, c 5 2 2 0 1
Russell, 3b 5 1 3 0 1
Tignor, lf 2 0 0 0 0
Fitzgerald, lf 2 3 1 0 2
Borna, c 4 0 2 10 2
Albert, rf 2 0 0 0 0
Smith, ss 6 0 1 0 0
Fitzgerald, lf 1 1 0 2 0
Evans, lf 1 0 0 0 0
Griffith, p 1 0 0 0 1

Totals 36 11 12 27
Washington 0 0 0 12 27
Geo. Wash. 2 0 0 2 0 6—11
Runs batted in—Baker 2, Borna 4, Cares 1, Zaim 3, Russell 2, Tignor 2, Errors—Berry, Tignor, Cares, Smith, 2 base hits—Evans, Tignor, Fitzgerald, Borna, 3, Zaim, Baker, 3 base hits—Russell, Stolen bases—Cares, Struck out—by Griffith 8, by Evans 3, by O'Farrell 11. Hits on balls—Griffith 6, Evans 5, O'Farrell 1. Wild pitch—Evans. Hits off O'Farrell 11, off Griffith 2. Errors—2. Innings, off Proudfoot 0 in 1 inning. Lost on base—Geo. Washington 10, Washington 6. Unlucky batters—Barnes. Time of game 2 hours 5 minutes.

Compliments of Chestertown Electric Light and Power Company

See Food Is Our Specialty
HERB'S RESTAURANT and BEER GARDEN
—Dancing—
Chestertown, Maryland
Open A. M. to 12 P. M.
Best Foods
Prompt Service
Our Beer Is The Best In Town

Intramural Speed Ball

By Phil Skipp

Standing Off The Teams

Junior	W	L	Pc.
Junior	3	0	1.000
Freshmen	1	1	.500
Sophomores	1	2	.333
Seniors	0	2	.000

Scores of Games This Week

Junior 19—Seniors 6.
Freshman 17—Sopho 8.
Sopho 15—Seniors 16.
Junior 44—Freshman 21.
Junior 22—Sopho 4.

Emerging undefeated from the first round of games played during the first week, the Junior class team led the intramural speed ball league.

Last year's champs got off to a good start bylicking the senior team 9 to 0. They went on to swamp the Freshmen 44 to 21, and then closed the first round with a well earned victory over the Sophomores 22 to 4. The first year nine retired in second round with a victory and a defeat while the Sopho came next one victory in three games. The senior team seemed to have a firm grasp on last place with no victories and two defeats.

The Junior infield appears to be the best in the league, and Barnes is one of the best fielders on the diamond. The other outfields have some good individual players, but lack the organization of the league leaders, Mitchell, Fontaine and Fink are outstanding on the Sophomores team, while Leubedder and Carroll are the stars for the freshmen and Seniors respectively.

FOX'S

Anything you want at the Right Price

5c to $1.00

Store

After the Show follow the Crowd to the Most Modern Ice Cream Parlor in Town.

GILL BROS.

STUDENTS We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.

Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Lanthetic Line from Paris.
Abbott's DeLuxe Ice Cream.
Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.
STAM DROG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

Copyright, 1933, The American Tobacco Company

THE HEIGHT OF GOOD TASTE

“Luckies are made of only the clean center leaves—the mildest, best-tasting tobaccos. And then, ‘It’s toasted’ for throat protection. Every Lucky Strike is round, firm, fully packed—no loose ends. That’s why Luckies ‘keep in condition’—do not dry out. Luckies are always in all-ways kind to your throat.”

“It’s toasted”

✓ Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat

Only the Center Leaves—these are the Mildest Leaves

They Taste Better

Assembly Program For May Given

President Mead Will Speak At Last Assembly

Dr. Frederick G. Livingood, Chairman of the Faculty Assembly Committee, recently announced the Assembly program for the month of May as follows:

May 3rd—Dr. James M. Hepbron, Director of Community Fund of Baltimore, and Director of the Criminal Justice Commission of Baltimore.

May 10th—Miss Lavinia Eagle, Director of the Maryland League of Women Voters, Member of the Maryland State Legislature.

May 17th—Guest Artists from Peabody Conservatory of Music, Baltimore. Mr. Early Lippy, Baritone, pianist, and cellist.

May 24th—Mr. Wendell D. Allen, Attorney, Baltimore, Md.

May 31st—Dr. Gilbert Wilcox Mead, President of Washington College.

New proof that the moon has no air on its surface has been obtained by a test of the ultra-violet rays in moonlight.

JITNEY PLAYERS WILL PRESENT GOLDSMITH'S "SHE STOOPS TO CONQUER" AT WASHINGTON COLLEGE ON FRIDAY, MAY 11

Committees Appointed To Take Care Of Ticket Sales And Publicity Of Third Presentation Here

Friday, May the eleventh will witness a return to the college of the Jitney Players, this time in Goldsmith's charming comedy, "She Stoops To Conquer." No one who witnessed either of the two former presentations of the Jitneys will need to be reminded of the polished delicacy of the "Trip to Scarborough," or the skillfully managed mole drama of "Caste" last year.

The play, "She Stoops To Conquer," needs small introduction to college students, for it is one of the most famous works as well as the show-piece, of the polished 18th century stage.

Incredibly exact in its jibes at human life and living, the play is witty and pointedly satirical without ever being mean. Forster's "The Life and Times of Oliver Goldsmith" contains a passage illustrating this quality of the play of 1772. It notes: "There is never any missing about Goldsmith's fun and enjoyment. It is not obtained at the expense of any better thing. He does not snatch a joke out of a nursery, or an apothem, or a mortification, or anything that, apart from the joke, would be likely to give pain, which, with all his airy wit and refinement, was too much the trick of Sheridan."

It is interesting to note that original research on the sources of both the Iron instance, and Tony's mother's travels has been done by Dr. Gertrude Van A. Ingalls, Professor of English at Washington College. In a monograph, first published as an article in the publications of the Modern Language Association of America, June, 1929, she discovers parallels in certain of the spectator papers which lead to interesting conclusions concerning Goldsmith's sources.

Committees have already been appointed to take care of the ticket sales, and publicity. It seems certain that students at the college will take advantage of the rare opportunity of May 11, and see exquisite acting in Goldsmith's nicest comedy.

Classical Society Takes In Five Honorary Members

Interesting Program For Remainder Of Year Announced

The Classical Society met in a regular business session on Thursday, April 26. It was announced that all members elected to the Society recently "honoris causa," have accepted the distinction. They are: G. W. Mead, Dr. J. R. Meow, Dr. G. V. A. Ingalls, Dr. E. M. Dole, and Mrs. C. S. Schacht. This is the first time that honorary members have been elected to academic organizations on the Hill.

A permanent motto has been selected by the members, "Curpe Diem," chosen from Horace's ode, together with a temporary device of Ulysses' travels, representing the wide scope of the Society's interests and activities. At this week's meeting two scholarly papers were delivered, one by Eloise Hepbron on "Greek Historians" and another by Kathryn Clifton on "Artic Society." There was also discussed the program for the balance of the year, and an unusual schedule was announced, that will be of great interest to all students. The Society also announces the induction of Wm. Oliver Baker of the Junior Class as active member.

Name Titworth Portrait Artist

Maurice Molaraky, Artist From Philadelphia Chosen

Maurice Molaraky, noted Philadelphia artist, has been commissioned to paint the portrait of the late Dr. Paul S. Titworth which will be presented to Washington College by the alumni association of that institution at the 152nd Commencement in June.

Mr. Molaraky was chosen from a number of artists considered by the committee, which at the same time selected the photograph from which the portrait was to be painted.

Meanwhile the campaign among members of the alumni association for funds to defray the cost of the painting is going rapidly forward with contributions to a considerable amount also being received from Rotarians and Rotary Clubs of the 24th District, Rotary International, of which the former local college head was also formerly district governor.

Ordinary black flies are a deadly menace to young ducks because the fly bite introduces a blood parasite that causes death in about two weeks.

"You'll be hearing us"

Monday Wednesday Saturday
9 o'clock in the evening
Columbia Stations Coast to Coast
—we hope you'll enjoy it

We always try to make Chesterfields as good a cigarette as Science and money can make them—in the hope that people will enjoy smoking them.

—may we ask you to try Chesterfield

40 MEN IN THE ORCHESTRA
16 SINGERS IN THE CHORUS
ANDRE KOSTELANETZ, CONDUCTOR

Wesley Sadler Is New Council President

LORD IS VICE-PRESIDENT

Bilancioni Defeats Fink To Become Secretary

Wesley L. Sadler, Jr., a member of the Junior class of Washington College from Baltimore, Maryland, was elected to the Presidency of the Student Government Association yesterday in the Annual student spring elections by a vote of 118. His closest rival, John M. Lord, of Cumberland, Maryland, received a total of 58 votes and automatically became Vice President. Approximately ninety students failed to appear in the Dean's office to cast votes. The elections were conducted by members and officers of this year's Student Council.

Bilancioni Defeats Fink
For Secretary of the Association and of the Student Council, Albert Bilancioni, a Junior from Waterbury, Connecticut was chosen by a large plurality over the only other candidate, Robert Fink, of Hagerstown, Maryland. Bilancioni received 133 votes while Fink was the choice of 43 students.

Sadler A Prominent Student
The new President who succeeds Richard M. Camber has been very active in extra-curricular activities at Washington College. He has been a member of the Student Council for two years and as a member of that body has well fitted himself to very capably fill the important position to which he has been elected. He is President of the Y. M. C. A. and recently has been reelected to serve for his second year as Manager of the Debating Club of Washington College. In addition he is prominent in the activities of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society.

John M. Lord who succeeds Charles B. Clark as Vice-President of the Student Government Association has been a member of the Council for a year and a half and this year held the position of Secretary. He has won three letters in football and this year is a member of the Varsity Lacrosse team. He is treasurer of the Silver Pentagon Honor Society and Secretary of the Varsity Club. He is a member of the Alpha Kappa Epsilon and Secretary-Treasurer of the Washington Players.

New Secretary Outstanding
Albert Bilancioni has been a member of the Student Council for a year and a half. He has won four Varsity letters, two in Football, one in Basketball, one in Baseball in which sport he is now earning his fifth "W". Bilancioni is the new Treasurer of the Phi Sigma Nu Fraternity, is a member of the Silver Pentagon Society and of the Varsity Club.

Nominations Last Week
Elections yesterday followed nominations which took place on Friday, May 4. Student Government regulations provide for nominations one week in advance of final elections, men being eligible for election who receive twenty or more votes in the nomination balloting. Elections this year were held under the free fraternity and courtesy policies that in the past several years.

Eight Washington College Lacrosse Players And Manager Who End College Athletic Careers

Pictured above are eight Washington College Seniors who will terminate their careers at the Shore Institution as athletes next Saturday, May 19, when the Maroon and Black Lacrosse Team under Coach George L. Eakin plays its final game of the season, against the strong Mt. Washington Club of Baltimore. Each of the eight players has been a stalwart of the local team, as regular or reserve for four years, while Manager Bert Hastings, ninth of the Seniors has been affiliated with the Ten in a managerial role. Captain Eric Reinhold is the star goalie of the team. The positions played by the other players are: First Defense, Joe Hall; Second Defense, Dick Gamber; Center, Charley Clark; First Attack, Pat Beasman; Second Attack, Emory Burkhardt and Al Giratis; Outmane, Omar Carey. All except Carey and Giratis will be in the starting lineup next week.

Elley J. Ward Is Elected As A. A. President

Elley J. Ward, a Junior at Washington College from Cumberland, Maryland, was yesterday elected to the Presidency of the Athletic Association, at the regular College General elections held in the Dean's office. His main function in his new office will be to serve the Athletic Council of the College with the Athletic Director of both men and women students, the Graduate Manager of Athletics, Coaches, and a Faculty Member. The Athletic Association is composed of every student in the College.

Ward has been a prominent athlete at Washington College.

Diamond Players Engage U. of Md. Here Today

The Washington College Baseball team engages a strong University of Maryland diamond aggregation this afternoon on Kibler Field. The disappointing showing of the local team in games played thus far and the excellent record of the visitors make the latter overwhelming favorites.

Y. M. C. A. Sponsors Peace Program At Meetings

Mr. Bishop, War Veteran, Leads Discussion

On Wednesday, May 2, the Y. M. C. A. sponsored a "Peace Conference" to determine the general attitude of the college students on the question of "Pacifism and War Propaganda." The discussion was led by a war veteran, Mr. Bishop, of Dover, Delaware.

A pacifistic attitude prevailed throughout the meeting. At the conclusion of the meeting it was unanimously voted that the Y. M. C. A. send a telegram to President Roosevelt requesting him to curtail all action relative to additional war appropriations.

The Methodist Episcopal Church was host to the Y. M. C. A. Sunday, May 6, at 7 P. M. Richard Chambers conducted the services. The theme of the program was built around Mother's Day. The program consisted of talks by Wesley Sadler, Arthur Griens, Ralph Harries, and solo selections by Joseph Mooney and Larry Williams.

Alfred S. Hodgson Plays Hero Role; Coeds Look On

Yesterday when four members of the Senior Education Class decided to accompany Dr. Fred G. Livingston to the J. Kellogg Smith school to witness a puppet show staged by students there, they realized what they were in for.

It seems that the Education Professor decided to make new tracks through axle-deep mire along a part of the route. It wasn't long before the mistake was known, for the only male student of the lot, Alfred S. Hodgson (alias "Queenie") immediately began the unvarnished task of shoving the car back to firm ground. But—woe is me—his task from himself his pants, to preserve their crease, and to keep the mud away.

College Will Give Two Honorary Degrees In June

Two native Eastern Shoremen will be awarded honorary degrees of Doctors of Law at the 152nd commencement at Washington College June 11. They are George L. Radcliffe and Amos W. Woodcock.

Baker And Goldstein Will Head "Elm"

WERE ONLY NOMINEES

Castel And Slacum Will Be
Assistants

William Oliver Baker of Chestertown, Maryland, is the new Editor of the WASHINGTON ELM, student newspaper publication at Washington College, while Louis L. Goldstein of Prince Frederick, Maryland, has been chosen Business Manager. Baker and Goldstein, both Juniors and who were Assistant Editor and Assistant Business Manager, respectively, this year, were elected without opposition last Friday when nominations were conducted. Of a total of 158 votes cast last week, Goldstein received 150, while Baker garnered 142. Thus other office seekers failed to receive the twenty votes necessary for nominations and the two new officers were automatically elected without further ado.

Both Are Experienced
Baker who succeeds Charles B. Clark as Editor, has been a member of the ELM staff for three years, working his way up to the Assistant Editorship for this year. He is an outstanding student at Washington College. He has won many honors while at Washington College, being especially outstanding as a scholarship man. He has been the recipient of the Freshman Scholastic Medal, the Sophomore Scholastic Medal and the Von Preitwitz German Medal. He is a member of the Scholarship Honor Society, of the Chemical and Goldschmidt, the "Pegasus" staff, the Silver Pentagon Society, the Shakespeare Players, the Intercollegiate Debating team, and Secretary of the Phi Sigma Nu Fraternity.

Louis Goldstein follows in the footsteps of L. Patterson Beasman as Business Manager of the ELM and has already given evidence of his fitness for the position. He is also Assistant Business Manager of the "Pegasus" year book, and will in all probability be Business Manager of that Publication next year, his Senior one. Goldstein is a member of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society and of the Y. M. C. A. and has aided in the publication of the Freshman Handbook.

Castel And Slacum
Carroll Castel will possess a total of 71 votes, defeated Joseph Freedman, Phillip Skip, and Robert Cluff, who received 40, 38 and 24 votes respectively, to become Assistant Editor of the ELM. He has been a member of the Staff for two years. He is a member of the Phi Sigma Nu Fraternity, of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society and of the Cottillon Club and is a member of the Varsity Lacrosse Squad.

Emerson Slacum, new Assistant Business Manager, defeated the only other candidate for the position, Carroll Castel by a vote of 130 to 43. He served in the capacity of Circulation Manager of the ELM this year. He is the newly elected Historian of the Phi Sigma Nu Fraternity, is Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and a member of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society and the Chemical Society.

The Retiring Editor Writes—

Chiefly To Next Year's Elm Staff
Though I have commented briefly in this week's Editorial column upon my retirement as Editor of the WASHINGTON ELM, I wish to add a few remarks which need not be quite as formal.

In the first place, I most heartily wish to thank those members of the Administration, Faculty, and Student Body, who have aided in whatever success the ELM may have enjoyed in 1933-34. From time to time I have been forced to mildly reprimand members of the Staff who became lax in the part they should play—probably without realizing that such conduct, regardless of its size, is absolutely essential for a perfect machine. From this, however, isn't to be concluded that I blame the shortcomings of the ELM, and certainly there are some, on members of the staff. I am willing to take the blame and to receive any but destructive criticism, as has been the case all year.

I do wish, however, to urge that William G. Baker, the new Editor, will be given much more cooperation from his staff as a whole than I have received. His work at the Printing Office will take his time, so write articles assigned and have them on hand at the time he dictates.

I have enjoyed working with staff members who were willing to do their share, and have primarily attempted to please as many people as possible with my issues. We have given more quantity at least this year, because we were more fortunate in soliciting national advertisements.

Lastly, I wish to state that in Patterson Bosman I had one of the most efficient and cooperative Business Managers that an Editor could ask for.

Asking pardon for my camblings, I close.

Charles B. Clark,
Retiring ELM Editor.

Compliments of
THE PARK ROW
BEAUTY SHOPPE

DEL-MAR-VA
RESTAURANT
Beer and
Special Lunches
We Cater to Parties

Compliments
of
Chestertown
Electric Light and Power
Company

KREEGER'S
JEWELRY STORE

Eyes examined and
glasses fitted by a graduate
Optician. Fountain
Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films
and Developing.

Watches, Rings and
Novelty Jewelry.

Three Cumberland, Md.,
Athletes At W. C.

WARD

PROUDFOOT

LORD

Ellery Ward, Delbert Proudfoot, and John Lord, all from Cumberland, Maryland, have been prominent athletes at Washington College. Proudfoot, Basketball Captain this year, has developed into a fair Baseball pitcher. Ward and Lord, both Juniors, are Varsity Lacrosse players, and each is prominent as members of other college teams.

STUDENTS, ATTENTION
Call at CARL'S
THE COLLEGE
BARBER SHOP
Cross Street
For your copy of the Washington
Basketball Schedule

Modern Shoe Repairing
Store
PAUL SIPALA
Next to Sterling Drug

Visit
ALBERT L. WHEAT
For Anything
in
Men's Wear

The Emerson Hotel
Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled
Rooms $3 up—Autos Garaged
Private Rooms and
Banquet Halls
For All Occasions

William Baker Is New Debating Head

Club Has Carried On Extension Spring Program

The Spring program of the Debating Club of Washington College has been pursued with considerable vigor. A meeting of the entire membership of the Society was held on the evening of April 27, when Dr. Fred G. Livingston, Chairman of the Education Department of the College, spoke on the controversial subject of Negro education. The talk was followed by an argumentative discussion, in which the participants found opportunity to employ agile and logical thought expressed in concise, meaningful language.

So great has been the interest in this most valuable student activity that a meeting devoted to informal debating was called for the evening of May 11. Here the members of the organization, and the membership is open to any student interested in scientific argumentation, were called upon at random, and participation is purely optional, to debate after five minutes preparation some well-known subject announced by the Chairman. Such activity is evidently essential for those interested in law, or any work requiring quick and effective thought and expression.

A recent election of the officers of the Debaters for the coming year resulted in the selection of William Baker as President, and Wesley Sadler as Manager.

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing
103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

Sea Food Is Our Specialty
HERB'S
RESTAURANT
and
BEER GARDEN
— Dancing —
Chestertown, Maryland
Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.
Best Food
Prompt Service
Our Beer Is The Best In Town

FOX'S
Anything you want at
the Right Price
5c to $1.00
Store

ALUMNI NOTES

Charles Harry Schreiber, Jr., is the name of the son born to Mr. C. Harry Schreiber, '29, and Mrs. Schreiber, the former Audrey K. Sord, '29, in Columbus, Ohio.

Ed Fitzgerald, ex-'33, performed again with the Washington team recently as a member of the George Washington University nine.

Daniel Iggersell, '33, has accepted a position with the General Chemical Company, Marcus Hook.

The engagement of Anne Bonwill, '30, to William H. Darnesberg, '32, has been announced by the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene M. Bonwill, of near Still Pond, Kent county. The wedding will take place in the early summer.

Samuel M. Jennings, '22, principal of the Sykesville High School, was recently elected president of the Carroll County High School Association.

James M. Cain, '10, continues to click in the world of letters. His recent novel, "The Postman Always Rings Twice" is still a best seller and the current Red Book contains a short story from his pen, entitled "Gone Back."

John C. Bankert, '25 and Marion A. Jones were married in Baltimore during March. They will reside at that city where Bankert is employed.

A son was born in April to Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Ringgold at Elkhart. Mrs. Ringgold was formerly Gladys Wortzell, ex-'28.

H. D. OREM & SON
Headquarters for
Farmer's Hardware and
Supplies
Case Tractors, Thrashers,
Combines
Phone 217. Chestertown

Prescription Blanks	"THE NEW DEAL"	Auto Job Records
Sales Books	BUSINESS STATIONERY	Letter Heads
Bill Heads	$2.80 PER 1000	Envelopes
Stickers	Over 3000 Cuts	Furnished Free
Tags	ALLER	2 in 1 Cards
	Representing David Lionel Press, Templeville, Md.
	Business and Blotter Cards $1 and $1.50 Per 1000

VANITY FAIR UNDIES

are the sort you dream about. Tiny handfuls of sheer Silk that stand the hardest kind of wear and cost next to nothing. Come in and see them!

THE
MARGARET E. JEFFERSON
SHOP

Pure Food is the Foundation of Your Health

CHESTERTOWN
RESTAURANT

Soda, Candy, Cigarettes, Beer on Draught
Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.

Phone 207 Chestertown, Md.
Safeguard Your Stomach, It Is Your Best Friend

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE
CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A store run for the benefit of the students, offers line of Wahl Dollar Pens and Pencils. Penknives, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery and School Supplies.

Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 1:15 to 4:30 P. M. Every Day but Saturday and Sunday.

Glee Club And Orchestra Will Appear In Salisbury

Have Presented Fine Concerts In Maryland And Delaware

The Glee Club and Orchestra are in the middle of an active season. After some months of preparations they have assembled a program worthy of their efforts consisting of classical and semi-classical selections which have been well appreciated by their audiences.

Recently they have appeared at Felton, Delaware, and at the Perry Point Hospital, Perryville. Performances are scheduled at Greenwood, Delaware and Salisbury, Maryland. They will also be expected to give several selections at the Commencement exercises in June, in preparation for which, work is steadily going on, aside from the regular program practices.

While these musical organizations are strictly amateur, their work is highly commendable, due largely to the unflinching efforts of their directors.

Dr. Livingood and Raymond Moffett. They are doing invaluable work in developing the much neglected musical field here at Washington College and in giving the college much desirable publicity.

Senior Tea Will Be Held At Reid Hall May 19

On Saturday, May 19th in Reid Hall, the Senior Tea will be held. The guests will be the members of the graduating class, the faculty, and prominent residents of Chestertown. As has formerly been the custom, the Junior girls will serve, and Mrs. Gilbert W. Mead and Dr. Esther M. Dale will pour.

The drawing rooms of Reid Hall will be appropriately decorated with spring flowers, pink, yellow and white being the predominant colors. Dainty spring dresses against such a background will be truly picturesque. Delightful refreshments have been planned—a fruit salad, sandwiches, ices and cakes, and it is hoped that a large number of people will be present.

Dr. Alexander F. Skutch Speaks To Honor Society

Is An Eminent Botanist And Ornithologist

The regular monthly assembling of the scholastic Honor Society of Washington College took place on the evening of Tuesday, May 1, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Howell. Not only was the Society pleasantly entertained at the home of its senior faculty member, but it was exceedingly honored in having as its guest Dr. Alexander F. Skutch, of Baltimore, Md., and Guatemala. Dr. Skutch came to Washington College as the guest of John A. Wagner, a student at the College, and a long-time friend of the eminent botanist and ornithologist. For it is in these two fields that the young naturalist has done his most noted work. He is a recognized authority, and the author of numerous monographs, on the flora and avifauna of Central America.

Dr. Skutch talked to the Honor

Society of the nature of Guatemala, and of some of his experiences within its varied boundaries. He is preparing a volume on Central American birds, toward the consummation of which work he has worked at the famous laboratories at Barro Colorado Island, in the Canal Zone. While at Washington College, Dr. Skutch was taken on a number of field trips by a bird-lover student, and commented on the richness of the avian habitation of the Eastern Shore.

NOTICE

With all the organizations having accounts outstanding with the 1934 Epitaph, please pay to the same—by doing so—it will greatly aid in securing the annuals promptly.

Emory Burkhardt.

SMITH'S KUT-RATE DRUG STORE

The only place where you can buy home-made Ice Cream.

Students Will Be Given Chance To Sell Old Books

Barnes & Noble Co. Will Buy Second-Hand Texts In June

Just before school closes, the week-end before Commencement, there will come to our campus a representative from Barnes & Noble, who wants to buy second hand text books. This company is a nationally known clearing house for educational books, and they will buy any books which the students care to sell. This service was gotten through the Cooperative Book Store, under whose auspices the buying will be done. Watch the bulletin board after June 8th for notices about this matter.

For Better COAL SERVICE

Phone 149

C. W. Kibler & Sons

The clean Center Leaves are the mildest leaves They Taste Better!

Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat

As you can see from this picture—Luckies' fine, smooth quality doesn't just happen—for we use only the clean center leaves! Only the clean center leaves—for which farmers are paid higher prices—for the center leaves are the mildest leaves—they taste better. Then—"It's toasted"—for throat protection. And every Lucky is fully packed with these choice tobaccos—made round and firm—free from loose ends—that's why Luckies "keep in condition"—do not dry out. Luckies are always in all-ways kind to your throat.

"It's toasted"

✓ Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat

Only the Center Leaves—these are the Mildest Leaves

Copyright, 1934, The American Tobacco Company

They Taste Better

Alumni Soon To Vote On Four Board Members

Within a few days nominations will be made and ballots sent out in connection with the election of representatives from Kent, Queen Anne's, Talbot and Caroline counties to the Board of Visitors and Governors.

Under the provisions of a Charter Amendment the qualifications of a voter in the Alumni elections are as follows: "Any graduate of the College or Normal Department of Washington College and any student who left the college in good standing after having completed sufficient work to entitle him to a Sophomore or Senior Normal rating shall be qualified to participate in the election by the Alumni of Washington College of members of the Visitors and Governors of said college; provided that no student shall be entitled to participate in said election until after the class to which he or she belongs shall have graduated."

Those whose terms will expire are: Dudley G. Roe, of Queen Anne's county and Nelson H. Fook, of Caroline county. Vacancies which occurred by the deaths of Lewin W. Wickes, of Kent county and W. Earle Withcott, of Talbot county, whose terms would have expired in June 1934, anyhow, will also be filled.

Every qualified Alumnus is eligible to vote in the election, regardless of place of residence. In other words it is not necessary to reside in the county from which a member is to be elected to vote.

All qualified voters are urged to participate in the election and are referred to an editorial on page two of this issue for further reasons why their participation is to be desired.

THE REXAL STORE
EASTMAN KODAKS
FILMS
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING
BY EXPERTS
DRUGS AND
SUNDRIES
OF ALL KINDS
A. L. STERLING

Dr. James M. Hepbron Gives Best Talk Of Year

Dr. James M. Hepbron, recipient of an honorary degree from the college last year, eminent criminologist from Baltimore, spoke last Thursday morning at the weekly assembly on "Administration of Criminal Justice" to a rapt audience, giving some inside information from his experience as head of Crime Commission, on the workings of the parole system today.

Presenting in "case form" the histories of the "noble youth", "guiltless minister," and "innocent Tuxedo Bandit," who became of the "nuclear" sympathy of Welfare associations and otherwise good intentioned friends, he protested that "you don't convict innocent people—the trouble is we won't be able to convict anybody." Even more revealing was his estimation of some of the legal ethics of today, citing shyster lawyers methods, the judge on the bench of Baltimore today, once proven himself a perjurer, and the cashier of bank on the Eastern Shore, who in collusion with a prominent lawyer, successfully made away with about $50,000, and nothing done about it, "all a reflection on the legal profession"—as he remarked, "always 25 years behind public thinking".

Later in the afternoon, Dr. Hepbron spent some time with a college group during which he detailed further the problems of criminology today.

Miss Lavinia Engle Addresses Students

A clarion call to college undergraduates to accept the challenge to education which the times have presented, in the nature of becoming citizenship conscious, was made by Miss Lavinia Engle, member of the Maryland Legislature to the student body on Thursday, May 10.

The imposition of new leasure to the world as a result of the machine, necessitates a new constructive culture rather than commercial or mechanical advance, and, says Miss Engle, the dead spot in thinking towards government, education, must be abolished, if we are to maintain democracy. The failure in the past she exemplified in a recently conducted "leisure survey", and it is the duty of the higher educated to forget a mythical golden age of the past and look to a reconstruction which will carry us to a more satisfactory state, rather than restore it to any earlier condition, she concluded.

After the Show follow
the Crowd to the Most
Modern Ice Cream Par-
lor in Town.

GILL BROS.

—they age good grapes
to make rare wines

—and they do something like that to mellow
good tobaccos

WHERE THE RARE WINES come from they know that the two most important things in wine-making are the selection of the grapes and the long years of ageing in the wine cellars.

IT'S VERY MUCH THE SAME in the making of a cigarette. You have to get the right tobaccos, then put them away to age and mellow in wooden casks.

You can't make a good cigarette like Chesterfield in a day. It takes over two years to age the tobaccos for your Chesterfields—but it adds something to the taste and makes them milder.

Everything that modern Science really knows about is used to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.

the cigarette that's MILDER
the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

SOCIETIES AND CLASSES ELECT NEW OFFICERS

McCrone Heads Senior Class

The elections at Washington College were concluded after two weeks of close contests with interesting results. The most important posts to be filled by William McCrone, William Reinhardt, Arthur Greims, as Presidents of their respective classes, and by Wesley Sadler as head of the Student Council. Alfred Gardner was chosen Vice-President of the incoming Senior Class, while Mary Jane Neild was again elected Secretary-Treasurer. George Pratt and Caroline Jewell will be Vice-President, and Secretary-Treasurer of the future Juniors. The Freshmen varied their procedure and elected a Secretary-Treasurer, Joseph McLean is Vice-President, Phoebe Pyle was again elected Secretary, and Edward McMahon will be Treasurer.

John Lord will become Vice-President of the Student Council, and Albert Blanton as the Secretary. Other members of the Council will be: Richardson Saylor and Robert Shull, Seniors; Robert Pink and Charles Henry, Juniors; and Lawrence Young, Joe and Alger Abbott, Sophomores.

Publishers plan an important part in the activities on the Hill and much interest was shown over these elections. William Baker is the new Editor, while Robert Shull will head the "Pegasus" staff. Louis Goldstein was unanimously elected business manager of both publications. Carroll Castled and Emerson Sluam, both members of the present Sophomore class will become Assistant Editor, and Assistant Business Manager of the Elm.

Wesley Sadler was also elected President of the Mount Vernon Literary Society, with Ella Barclay as Vice-President and Carroll Castled as Secretary. Louis Goldstein will become Treasurer again for his third term. Robert Shull is Sergeant-at-Arms, and the Board of Editors will include Caroline Jewell, Joseph Freedman, and Jean Harshaw.

The third organization to which Mary Jane was elected President is the Y. M. C. A., which he heads again for his third year. Vice-President is Richardson Shull, and Emerson Sluam will fill the place of Secretary with Lawrence Williams as Treasurer.

The College Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Raymond Moffatt, has elected Joseph Neild as President, Charles Wells as Manager, Carroll Castled as Secretary-Treasurer, and Clifton Hope to the Librarianship.

Harry Mead will be President of the Washington Players, with Robert Pink as Stage Manager. William Baker will head the Washington Debaters and Wesley Sadler will be come Manager.

The Washington Chemical Society, the youngest organization on the Hill, elected Gilbert Ingersoll, President; Harold McCrone, Vice-President, and Charles Dudley as Secretary, with Francis Brasley as Treasurer.

COMMENCEMENT ENDS VARIED PROGRAM OF GAY JUNE WEEK

Senator Hugo Black Is Principal Speaker

June Week, the festival period of the college year, promises this June to hold a great deal of enjoyment for these students and the many friends of the college who are expected to attend the projected activities. Athletic contests, pageantry, amateur play productions, musical programs, dances, dinners, receptions, and the actual Commencement ceremony itself—all tend to make this the gala week of the year.

June Week formally opens on Thursday, June 7, when President Mead will act as host to the Board of Visitors and Governors, the faculty, and the members of the senior class. This reception will be held at the home of the president between 4:00 and 6:00 in the evening. Later in the same evening the Washington Players will present their one-act play, "Suppressed Desires," by Susan Thaspeil and George Crain Cook; "Death Comes at Twilight," a play written by James Turner Anthony, of this year's graduating class; and "Plattitudes," a play by Robert Kelly. These plays will be presented in the auditorium of William Smith Hall, beginning at 8:15.

On the following afternoon the girls will give this year's version of the traditional June Page of the Blue. This pageant will be directed by Miss Doris Bell. This colorful pageant will take place on the campus in front of West and Middle Halls at 4 o'clock.

At 8:00 in the evening of the same day the crowning social event of the Commencement, Ball—will be held in the gymnasium.

Saturday, the 9th, should be of particular interest to the alumni of the college, as well as to the students. At 11:15 in the afternoon the beautiful Eliza Cullen Dick Memorial Library and reading room in Reid Hall will be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies; at 3:00 the alumni who still retain their youthful prowess will test their strength with the college's varsity baseball team on Kibler Field; and at 7:30 that evening the annual alumni banquet will be held in the gymnasium, to be followed by the regular business meeting of the alumni association.

On Sunday morning, at 11:00, President Mead will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon to the graduating seniors in the chapel of William Smith Hall. In the afternoon at 3:35, the college orchestra and glee club will render a musical program replete with melodies calculated to warm the hearts of a music-loving audience.

At 10:30 of the next following morning the Commencement exercises will be held in William Smith Hall. At this time the college will confer degrees upon Amos W. W. Wood, and the degree of Doctor of Charge of enforcing the Federal Prohibition Act, and has recently been elected to the presidency of St. John's College, and upon George L. Radcliffe, Cambridge, who headed the student body of the University of Philosophy from the University of

WADE G. BOUNDS VOTED SERVICE MEDAL

Wade G. Bounds

Wade G. Bounds, '34, will be the recipient on Commencement Day, June 11, of the Gold Pentagon for distinguished service to Washington College, awarded to him by the Silver Pentagon Society of the College at a meeting held May 17, when the Society voted the Student Gold Pentagon to Albert E. Dobkins, '34, and named Elery Ward the best all-around athlete of the year, and thus, recipient of the Simper's Medal.

The Gold Service Pentagon is awarded annually to the Senior Pentagon, an activity honor association on the campus, to an alumnus, or alumna, who has shown himself especially interested in his college. Outstanding among Mr. Bounds' contributions is the Gold Football being annually to the members of the Varsity squad who has given most to the football of the year, by him, won in the past season by John Lord, a Junior.

The Student award is to the Senior prominent in all phases of college activity. Albert Dobkins has worked in everyone and held responsible office in most of the activities at Washington College, from starring in football to heading the eighty-seven year old Mt. Vernon Literary Society, and the Silver Pentagon Honor Society.

Ward, from Cumberland, Maryland, is one of the most versatile athletes in the history of Washington College. He holds letters in every major sport consecutively since his freshman year. During the past basketball season, his guarding became famous about the College. Therefore, he was well fitted to receive the medal denoting the best all-around athlete of the College given annually by Dr. Harry G. Simper, college physician, and one of the God-fathers of sports on the Hill.

Charles B. Clark Completes Term As Elm Editor

After four years of service, which began as a reporter, and ended as editor-in-chief, Charles B. Clark, retired from active association with the Washington Elm after publishing his last issue on May 12, 1934, to make way for his successor, a month before his graduation from Washington College. J. Patterson Beaman, business manager for the past year, also graduates with Clark. Clark has been one of the most popular students to head a College publication. He has been experienced

PRESIDENT MEAD OFFERS SUPPORT TO NEW OFFICERS

Forces A Happy Cooperation In Future

Dropping the curtain on the year's activities implies a bit of scurrying around behind the scenes like getting ready for the next act. When the curtain rises again, in September, there will be many changes of actors, and some changes in the parts played by these already in our company. Many of those changes are already being made, as Spring elections come and go, and classes, organizations, and activities shift their major responsibilities from the Seniors, who are leaving, to the Juniors and others who must carry on.

The educative value of these activities in the development of community spirit and the sense of responsibility in campus life must not be overlooked. Nothing so common marks a college as ragged and badly managed as disunion in student organizations, lack of united effort, divisions, political and individual, wherein the primary virtues of student activities are being sacrificed to petty differences, or unworthy personal ambitions.

If, in the larger state, it is true that the office is a public trust, how much more important it is to insist than in the intelligent and enlightened society of a College, election to office should be interpreted as imposing a responsibility and a dignity, as well as an honor, upon the person elected.

There is no place here for the loyalty which ends in support of the clan or group which boasts that it has swung an election to put a favorite in power. Loyalty must be to the College first of all—to its aims and ideals, and to those who are spending their lives guiding its destinies. This does not imply a blind following. There is always place for sincere and intelligent questioning. For questions, met and answered in a fair way, will always have their place.

It is a serious thing to be placed at the head of an organization whose activities are constantly under the interested eye of the general public, for through such activities, the whole tone of criticism of the College may be determined.

To the leaders in student activities for the past year closing, I tender my thanks for their labors in leadership. To those who are taking their places I offer my congratulations. By mutual counsel, understanding, and forbearance, we can advance the fame and fortunes of our College mightily. Without such counsel we will not agree on the road we are going. Without understanding, we will be at odds over trifling and unimportant things. Without forbearance, we will inevitably become impatient and irritated, to the damage of the best interest of the College.

We must strengthen the weak links, adjust the laxness so there will be no chafing or loss of power, and then, we must pull together. This is one of my hopes for 1934-35.

Gilbert W. Mead.

DRAMATIC CLUB PRESENTS PLAY BY J. T. ANTHONY

Three One-Act Plays Include One By Senior

The College Dramatic Club is presenting this year in place of the usual Commencement play, three one-act plays created by members of the club: Miss Betty Childs is producing "The Flattering Word," Miss Lucille Rasin, "Suppressed Desires," and Irwin Koeber, "Death Comes at Twilight."

The last of these "Death Comes at Twilight" holds particular interest in that it was written by James Anthony, a member of the Senior Class. Inspired by Chaucer's work "Parson's Tale," Jimmy has written what he calls "an experiment to satisfy his own curiosity." It is more than that—it is a real and intrinsic study in the technique of play-writing. He has made no changes in the original plot. His interest has expressed itself in the portrayal of the characters. His characters seem to have woven their own patterns. This play is meta-dramatic in its style.

Robert Pink's keen, sharp, piercing eyes won for him his part as the murderer, "Sluff," while Harry Rhodes' carefree manner and sly and cunning air makes him the perfect "Fox." Both of the parts were written with the actors in mind.

Remembering Albert Dobkins as "Jacques" and "Seng" in the Shakespearean comedies, Jimmy views the character and sees the likable personality of "Buck," a villain, selfish to a degree but keeping her motives suppressed, always under an air of nonchalance.

The person to play "Death" has been at an interesting point in the final details is still in a state of completion, when this goes to print.

The setting received nearly as much attention as did the characters. It is not the bright shining gold of some of our productions, but of the supernatural and mysterious. It is in this atmosphere we find ourselves when the play opens, and with the words "Blind Men, Blind Men, All; A Party's Tragedy." The Earth is dark again and Sun is set upon their reckless course," it ends. Never in the history of the college has a play written entirely by a student been produced on the college stage. For this fact alone the play is worth seeing.

"The Flattering Word," a satire, has as its cast, William Hall as the Reverend Lord Ripley, the dignified slightly pedantic preacher, who, his quiet easy-going wife is played by Miss Carolyn Jewell, Miss Margaret Wanderer is acting the part of the ardent, provincial church worker, whose life is spent in working for her church. Lena, her charming daughter played by Miss Carolyn Jewell, is a struggling girl of fifteen. She has unusual talent as an elocutionist which has been endowed upon her by her equally talented mother. In the play she is given a real chance to show this talent. The part of Eugene Tate, the prominent Broadway actor who comes upon as an old friend, is Mary

(Continued On Page Four)

(Continued On Page Four)

(Continued On Page Six)

(Continued On Page 3)

The Washington Elm

Published by and for the interests of the student body of Washington College, the eleventh oldest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Founded at Chestertown, Md., 1782

Editor
Assistant Editor

William Oliver Baker
Currell Caster

ASSOCIATE EDITORS

Art and Drama
Sports
Exchanges
Music
Copy

Frances Sileo
Dorothy Clarke
Philip Skip, Jean Harshaw
Alfred Taylor
Vincent Brandolini
Anne Whyte

REPORTERS

Allan Brough, Robert Finch, Miriam Ford, William Knight, William McCullough, Doris Metcalf, Joseph Murney, Isabel North, Nancy Post, Martha Shreane, Joy Spyr
Features—Irre Mendenhall, Harold McCrone, Robert Shaul, Charles Wells, Jean Young

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager
Assistant Business Manager
Circulation Manager

Emilia Goldstein
Louisa Slacum
Joseph McLain

Entered at the Chestertown, Md., Postoffice as second class matter. Subscription Price, $1.50 a year. Single Copy, 10 cents.

Address all business communications to the business manager, and all other correspondence to the Editor-in-Chief.

SATURDAY, MAY 26, 1934

STAFF AND A HALF

Last Monday saw the meeting of the nucleus of the new staff of the new ELM. The event should have been publicly advertised and attended, for it showed a group of Washington College students of the kind that have made the institution persist for a century and a half. All had been previously told that work on the ELM meant labor, albeit much fun. Yet the surprised and rejoicing editors found assembled people who were interested in doing a worthwhile thing in the proper way. This staff premises, if it stands the test of routine next year, to be one of the most congenial student groups on College Hill. Already their enthusiasm has moved them to write competitively, about ten from every line striving for the gaudy columnistic post. This department, it may be noted in the course of this rambling paragraph, will be done henceforth not by a WINCHELL, but by a WOLGOTT. To a New Yorker, the distinction is at once clear. And the ELM must, of course, please its metropolitan readers.

AIMS AND TARGETS

With this issue, the thirty-fifth of the student, news publication of Washington College takes effect. This paper was not always the Washington ELM, for nearly a decade ago it assumed a new sheet form, and received a strong upward impulse. Journalistically, under the editorial administration of Mr. Harry Russell, then a student at the College, and now a well-known Associate Editor of the Northern ENTERPRISE. Each year, and each staff, since 1925 has seen progress in the making up and writing standards of the publication. Many of these advances have occurred under the Chris-Bear management of the past year. The incoming staff confers, of course, many problems. They are chiefly of personnel organization and finances. Satisfactory arrangement of the latter during the summer will result in a weekly paper next Fall; such arrangements may not be possible.

The staff which has been assembled for this issue is composed largely of trying-out types. But it is, as one enthusiast, Every member realizes that his work must be well done, and his articles well written before they will appear in the ELM. The stories must be accurate, concise, meaningful, and technically correct.

Every student at Washington College is invited, for he is truly interested, to work for his College paper. His work may not be accepted; a columnist in the ELM receives the same number of activity points as a feature writer recommended for the Omicron Delta Kappa Honor Fraternity as the winner of a Vanity letter. The efficient coaches at Washington College do not award letters until the student athletes have worked hard, and a relatively small number of "goers-out" are successful. The same must, of course, be true in a newspaper.

Students are not begged to work on the paper; they are offered the opportunity to have a good deal of fun, and make a good deal of gain, by working with it. Just as they have spent a year of pleasure to the newspaper staff by electing its members to positions of creative importance. There is joy in doing, and the ELM administration appreciates the chance the student body has given. The Editors feel obligated to honor their positions by trying to produce a work that will reflect credit on Washington College and its students when they appear modest that institution, however modest that work may be in its proper dimensions. The students at Washington College, despite occasional spells of apathy so well depicted by Mr. DOBKINS in his volubility in the "Slippery Elm" are, fundamentally, active. Once a course of fruitful and worthwhile action is shown, it is usually happily followed. Students, the ELM is your newspaper.

Too early to comment on matters of policy. That will come often enough later. Two points may, however, be indicated. One is that the ELM will be sent to every desirable college within a reasonable range for the exchange editor at each issue into the waste-heap if he wishes; and more particularly, pains will be taken to see that it reaches every high school of note in the country, so that the students there may know, and follow, the things that Washington College, and Washington College students, are doing. The second point is that a strong effort will be

(Continued In Next Column)

PURLOINED PHRASES

By Frederick Taylor

In our perusals of various collegiate papers at our disposal we have come across several articles worthy of note,—we hope our readers are not impervious to suggestion.

Of interest to us, we find that Rochester University has abolished credit. And because the administration believes that students will be healthier sleeping in bed than in classrooms.

The following is a dictionary reported from the New Mexico Roundup. Cor.—Something which comes on the eat and which puts one on his Campus—Student organ suffering from acute despondency and probably in need of an operation. Editorial—A means whereby the student body may inform the student body what is wrong with it; Graduation—Relief for old age; Honor System—Just a nother aid for dumb students; Librarian—Local public gathering where one may study, meet a date, get bawled out, copy someone else's theme, or possibly get a book; Student Government—A popular force written and directed by accident.

We learn that Harvard has abolished Yale locks from its dormitories. In line with its rather startling policy of patriotism it will be a matter of time until the Yankee student body puts a ban on Smith Cough Drops, and Yale takes drastic action against the Harvard Classics.

"It's a free country," says Jean, "but the men want too many liberties."

From a nearby College comes the news that Lady Godiva was a girl who put discard before the horse, yet from among our midst Right tells us that he went to see the Lady Godiva ride in B—because he hadn't seen a horse in years.

Need to focus student interest and appreciation on the athletic team of it College. ELMOR CLUB. ELMOR has improved the sports department of the ELM. This improvement will be continued with increased vigor and by constantly keeping the student body aware of the real vision of sports of the players, it is hoped that the former, by sheer enthusiasm, will inspire the latter to greater victories. The cooperation of the athletic Ad Club is a natural thing.

Some of the aims of the new ELM have been stated. The good work of the past year will be carried on. The labor, but it may be said, as the ELMOR CLUB has shown, is not LAZOR: OMNIA VINCI.

EOS, ROSY-FINGERS

With profound baccalaureate addresses, and sincere commencement exhortations of future responsibility of one hundred and fifty-second class of Washington College will soon be graduated. The old bachelors, or bachelorettes, were a barberry wreath and were often defined as "holders of an inferior academical degree, aspiring to a doctorate." They gave Latin discourses, and took their education seriously, and felt from it a human affluence to the even conduct of human affairs.

None of Washington's bachelors this June will dispute in Latin; few will seek higher degrees; all will wear "fuchsia" caps.

But, as the President of the College has so many times said, the duty of this much-lashed class of '34, is not to the past and its ways, but to tomorrow. Fortunes to it.

John C. Powys Is Leading Modern

Critic Praises His Method

By I. Unly Heard

John Cooper Powys in an essay, "Suspended Judgment," speaks of the "exquisite use of literature so that it shall color and penetrate our lives," and says, "I can only speak for myself; but my own preference—among writers will always be for those whose genuine consists rather in creating a certain mental atmosphere than in hammering out isolated works of art, rounded and complete."

—such an atmosphere, such vague intellectual music, in the air about us, is the thing which really challenges the responsive spirit in ourselves."

At different times what we "need and require from the genius of the past" changes, and he says, "for my own part, looking over the great names, I am at this moment drawn instinctively to only two, and I send them all—to William Blake and to Paul Verne."

For ME at this moment Powys himself can create better than any other modern this mental atmosphere. When I have read his work, I feel it affected me for days after. I thought at the world with the eyes of Wolf; I thought his thoughts; I felt the magic of this author like a warm blanket and blood. And I went on with joy his latest novel, "Weymouth Sands," and it too became another precious experience.

Weymouth, whose warm sunny sands feel the breath of spring as only a February breeze in the inhospitable a passion for his surroundings. And with this passion their feelings are intensified, until it is precisely this AWARENESS of the world around him, Powys' characters and ungenerally, at least, his readers. "Thrones Wilder" in "The Woman of Andros" has the boy who has been granted a reprieve by the King of the Dead, stop and "kiss this earth that is too dear to be realized." The wonder of Powys' people, those who represent best his creed, is that they DO REALIZE the dearness of this earth.

Although with Powys, as with most moderns, sex is the greatest force in the world, yet love of nature is so powerful that it casts erotic passions, not a romantic hue, but a harmonious realism which obviates the need of a "background."

Perhaps the criticism that Powys fails in his novels to fulfill promises of action, which has been carefully motivated, is deserved. But it is easier for the civilized heart to ACT from love and to AVOID the inevitable violence when it is IN-INDIVIDUALLY. And Powys people are individuals. They, that is the ones who represent those virtues which Powys holds highest, discriminate carefully between possibilities of action, but their decisions are never on the basis of accepted morality, and being true to himself in Powys' eyes means carrying out one's secret convictions in defiance of the world's judgment. If they are abstemious, it is not through a warping of the senses which Powys glorifies but through a fastidiousness of soul. To Wall Street the author writes, "I am sorry that 'erectility is the only sin,' but whereas those characters who have more of the author in them, as he himself has avowed, pass judgment on their own actions, the other JUDGE others by their own standards. To do so would be an indignity similar to that which the world perpetuates.

TOLD TO ME

By I. Unly Heard

(Reading Time—12 minutes on a dirt track. This depends on your I. Q. however. If you have an I. Q. above that of an intelligent moron you wouldn't bother reading it.)

As a pinch-hitter for the writer of this column, I step up to the base with two strikes on me and no balls, which you must admit is bad. I have not been in the habit of keeping my eye to the dirt, as you would be to the dirt, as my illustrious predecessor, but by a little stooping and unliking of morals I may be able to do so.

In my journalistic plunges into the murky depths of college life I could hardly stand to look up, or bring up as much mud as the last writer of this column was able to do; but perhaps I can stir up some scum floating near the surface which may be palatable to my reading public. Of course, this scum can be regarded as an intellectual desert; for rich, digestible food I should suggest reading the past columns of this paper.

Incidentally, I have a suggestion to the writers of these columns which I think will be of great value to the farmers of this region, even more than one of Roosevelt's alphabetical brain-terms could claim to accomplish. These columns, plowed under in the spring, will be the corn and wheat to flourish as well as anything I know, except guano, which is merely a more concentrated form. (This is called the five year plan, and is guaranteed to work in ten years.)

Questions have poured in for more special events at the inter-narrative track meets. Ward suggests a better race. We think several of the negro students have unequal muscles well developed in the course of throwing the ball. Dobble announces he will name a sandwich after this event—serving track meat. How about a bare-foot paper chase to Salisbury, the winner being awarded several jars of foot powder. This may not be a good plan, but just think, some of the entries may not be able to find their way back.

The Regatta Trio—Dobkins, Stacey, and Heddon—will now sing "Row For The Olympic Spirit." Don't blame them if they hit any "Sarah notes!"

After watching the Rally Day held here Monday, we can see tomatoes isn't the only thing they raise on this campus.

We could suggest better jobs for the C. W. A. workers abroad here than being nursemaids to a stack of rifles—how about scraping the moss off some of our pedagogue. Or discontinue the hall lounge hour after Sunday night.

(Editor's note—The writer of this column left in a hurry for the Fiji Islands. All bombs addressed to him will be returned after thirty days.)

Christie says he can always study better when he is working with his girl. They're operating in your co-education.

A small red faced creature approached us on the field last Monday and announced in a sad low voice: "Wier's my father!" (I) So—we're feeling that Alan had a part.

Judging from the rumoured faces and the number of absentees from classes lately we judge that the moddy Chester has come into its own again. I only heard Vince Carter report that he couldn't get Brown to shed get Reddish. Who's that? I'd like a little Brown to show this summer added the mighty Thompson.

Mt. St. Mary's is Tied in Ninth

After eight straight defeats the Washington College basketball team closed their season here Tuesday by net losing. Neither did the Shoremen win. The score was 8-8 at the end of the ninth inning, where nobody batted the contest. Mt. St. Mary's was the opposition and two runs in the first half of the ninth enabled them to tie the score after Washington had come to the front with a three run rally in the eighth.

Evans, Washington's outpitcher, won the mound at the start. He was greeted with four hits which accounted for three runs. Two more hits and a base on balls gave the Mounts a pair of runs in the second and they added one more on a triple and a single in the fourth, to hold a 3-0 advantage.

Proffondt relieved Evans in the fifth and in Washington's half the Shoremen knocked out seven hits as eleven men went to bat and five runs came across the park. Up until that outburst Daugherty, Mounts' pitcher, had held the locals honest.

Evans in the sixth and seventh Washington went on a rampage in the eighth. Griens was hit by the pitcher. He was advanced by Evans, who in knocked out the decisive scoring Griens. Blinniciu walked. He and Tiger advanced on a passed ball and both scored on Barry's single. Proffondt and Rinchard walked after Baker was out but Boyle's popped to second base to end the inning.

Washington's heavy hitters were up in the ninth but went down in a row and the game was called on account of darkness.

Washington Boys

To Delaware Nine

The Delaware University baseball team outlasted Washington College 16-10 in a home game here Saturday featured by heavy hitting, at Newark, Del., Saturday, May 19. Both teams broke the opposing pitchers easy to hit, and at least one run was scored in every inning. Going into the 9th inning the Blue Heats were leading 18-11 by virtue of five unearned runs in the eighth. But in their half of the last frame, Washington College scored a run and filled the bases with two outs. Brush, pinch-hitting for O'Farrell, then laced out the third pitch for a long home run, cleaning the socks. This last inning rally was executed when the next batter was out, thereby retiring the side. The final score read Delaware 16, Washington 15.

Proffand-t, with a home run, a fly-catcher and a single, and Boyle, with two hits including a fly, were the main hitting forces for Washington College, while O'Connell started for Delaware.

Girls Are Active

In Tennis Tournament

Tennis is one of the major spring sports for girls and one in which there are a great many enthusiasts. A tournament has been started in which the players are divided into sections and opponents drawn up for each entry. Two out of three sets are required to win.

Several of the matches have been played already. North defeated Regester 6-4, 7-5. Legg defeated Vyle 6-1, 6-1. Harshaw defeated Clarke 6-0, 6-1.

The following contests have yet to be played: Wyle vs. Hill. Wanderer vs. Metcalf. Halms vs. Rasin. Ford vs. Jewell. The winner has her name engraved on a cup. Sarah Ellen Burns is this year's defender of the title.

ATHLETIC PROSPECTS PROMISING FOR '34

By Philip Skipp

From all indications Washington College will see a new deal in the realm of sports next year. Basketball showings in every league, athletic events caused the coaches to come upon the realization that something must be done.

The football squad will not be hard hit by graduation, and the team should win a majority of games played next fall. Much help is anticipated from such new men as: Bartolini, of Crosby High, Waterbury; Kilby, Bristol, Conn.; Anderson and Davis, Salisbury, St. John's, from Henry, Brant, College, Deal, and Hoffman, all from Cumberland, Md. Hoffman will be remembered as a star football player here three years ago.

Most of these men play basketball, but the largest addition to the basketball squad will be Wilmet, a Waterbury boy who was with a few weeks last fall, and Zelrowski, 6 feet 7 in., all state center from Bristol, Conn.

The baseball and track teams will probably see many of these men in action. It looks as if some of the veterans will have to work harder than they have done lately, in order to hold their positions.

Elaborate Fete

Planned In June

The June Fete directed by Miss Daris Bell in which every girl in Washington College takes part has been and is one of the most beautiful spectacles on the Eastern Shore, and one which hundreds of people attend.

This year the princess is Lucille Rasin and the prince, Dorothy Kimball. The Fete is woven around the following plot:

"Once upon a time a beautiful princess and her ladies of the court were out walking in the wood they got lost and entered an enchanted garden under the spell of some evil witches. Once inside the garden they could not get out, no matter how hard they tried. To pass the time the people captured in the garden did as the witches wished, seeking a wife for the prince appeared, bearing a golden hoop. Whoever could get through the hoop would win the prince. Every maid tried but could not get through until the princess emerged through the hoop. Then the prince and princess lived happily ever after."

Solo dances will be done by Lucille Rasin, Patience Pyle, Betty Child, Alexandra Rasin, Alice Graham, Phoebe Pyle, and Jean Harshaw.

Practice has been going on for some time and the costumes are for a party being made so with the utmost cooperation of the girls. Miss Bell will make this June Fete ever presented.

Archery Contest

Planned By Girls

Many girls have shown their interest in Archery for many years but this is the first year that a tournament has been planned. Claire Wyle is a top seeded player and is expected by many to carry off the honors.

The opponents are:

Wyle	Kerwin
Sutton	Regester
E. Stevens	Sheritas
Ford	Rasin
Tryzno	Jewell
Crislistank	Shacter
Nield	Redman
Roed	Brown

Clark Retires As Elm Head

(Continued From Page 1)

tionally active in extra-curricular activities, including athletics. It is also notable that the general make-up of the ELM has improved under his administration, and more full-time athletes have appeared in the past year than ever before in the history of the publication. This latter is evidently the result of skillful financial direction and advertising sales on the part of the training staff headed by Dr. Beaman, who has also been active in athletics.

Charles Clark, member and this year's president of the Psi Sigma Psi Extension, of which Beaman also is a member, is a native of Ellicott City, on the lower Eastern Shore. At Washington College, besides a good scholastic record, he has won consecutive letters in lacrosse and football. In his senior year he was president of the Varsity Club, and Vice-president of the Student Council. He was also Vice-president of his class the year, a member of the Dean's Cabinet, of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society, and the Y. M. C. A., in which he has helped to edit the Student Handbook. He was, this year, president of the Psi Sigma Psi Extension, published by the Senior class, and has been, since his junior year, a member of the Silver Penetration Society, one of the most coveted honors of the college societies.

Obviously, such varied participation in student affairs peculiarly equipped Clark to be the editor of the college paper. But a good capable editor means an editor capable of doing just what he is told. In financial matters, and in the free from financial worries, and this was always the case with Beaman as a business chief. His career in college has been an full an experience as any other in his class, his associates state.

Coach Plans Swim Meet

Coaches Kibler and Ennis are carrying out the most extensive lacrosse and swimming program attempted at Washington College, and they have plans for further activities.

The speed ball league has been in all state runs for some time. As a result of recent defeats, the Juniors have fallen from first place and are now trailing a well-balanced Senior team, that is favored to win the championship. The Juniors, in third place by virtue of their second victory of the year, and the lowly freshmen trail in last position with one victory.

The intra-mural track meet held during the last three days of the past week, was a great success, and it gave the coaches a good opportunity to look over some promising material for next year's varsity track team.

Coach Kibler is very enthusiastic about an inter-class swimming meet which has prospects of being held this coming week at the country club. The definite plans have not yet been made, but it might prove profitable for some of the school's swimmers to go down to the river over the week end, and practice up on their strokes.

THINGS NOT WORTH KNOWING

Wisconsin has 2,245 cheese factories. Seven of its counties have more than 100 each.

Gladiolus blossoms that have a fragrance have been developed.

Workshops where blind men sell worms may earn a living as being established in Italy.

SENIORS CARRY OFF CLASS TRACK HONORS

The Senior Class, led by Charlie Clark and Dick Giamber, put up a strong finish yesterday afternoon to carry off first honors in the three-day intra-mural track meet held on the athletic field. They had already amassed enough points by Friday to win the event, but they added five more points yesterday by finishing first in the mile relay, giving them a grand total of forty-one points. The Sophomores, with their one-man track team, Phil Skipp, finished in second place with a total of twenty-seven points. Of this number, seventeen were made by Skipp, who was high individual scorer of the whole meet. The freshmen placed third with their twenty-one points, while the juniors trailed in last place with fifteen counters. Charlie Clark, Reddish, and Ward were high scorers for their respective classes. Of the individual track and field events, the Seniors capped six first places, the Sophomores three, the Freshmen two, and the Juniors one.

Several Entertain

After Final Game

The final lacrosse game of the season, between Washington College and the college students to Baltimore last week end. In fact after the Senior tea which was held in Reid Hall Saturday afternoon, the campus was quite deserted. During the rest of the week end, one could see any number of students wandering around the city, especially Saturday night when the Mayfair Gardens was literally rocking with Easter Show dancers. Miss Jane Young entertained Mr. Alvin Broughman at her home, and Miss Dorothy Clark entertained at dinner, the Misses Margaret Wanders, Frella Granger, Betty Clark, and the Messrs. Tom Clifford, John Mason Lord, and Richardson Saylor. Miss Wanders and Mr. Clifford were week end guests of Miss Clark.

After the Show follow the Crowd to the Most Modern Ice Cream Parlor in Town.

GILL BROS.

After the Show follow the Crowd to the Most Modern Ice Cream Parlor in Town.

GILL BROS.

THE REXAL STORE EASTMAN KODAKS

DEVELOPING AND PRINTING BY EXPERTS DRUGS AND SURDRUGS OF ALL KINDS

A. L. STERLING

BARNETT'S BARBER SHOP

Over Sterling's Drug Store First Class Service and Expert Workmen

Quality Sporting Goods Catalogue on Request McALLISTERS

124 W. Baltimore St. Baltimore, Md.

SPORT CHATTER

By Phil Sterling

Well, folks, now that Washington College's sports season is officially over we fans must turn our faces elsewhere to satisfy our longing for the track, diamond, or lacrosse field. It isn't likely that any of us will find occasion to boast about our this year's athletic accomplishments. However, let's look forward to next year and hope that our Alma Mater will burst forth into a field of athletic glory. Before we leave the subject it is only becoming that we should say a tribute to the coaches and players who have striven hard to put the Maroon and Black in the win column.

Army-Navy

The leading cause of attraction of this week end is the triple struggle between the Army and the Navy. At Annapolis the embryo Generals and Admirals defend their colors on the track and diamond. While this is in progress the waters of the grey and the blue will cross sticks in the good old Indian game at West Point. These contests promise to be plenty hot and your guess is as good as ours as to the outcome.

Hopkins Reports

There doesn't seem to be any doubt concerning the champion lacrosse team in the country. The neighbors across the Bay have duplicated their old stunt and it seems to be a habit for them to come out on top. They have vanquished all foes in a decided fashion and here's hoping the hand-down another world's title.

Among The Pros

It'll be but a few days before we confine our athletic observations to the boys who clout the ball for their bread and butter. In the National League many of us are surprised to see Bill Terry's Giants resting in fourth place. Well, the season's young yet so maybe our hopes for the World's Champ will be as unashed. The American League seems to be moving along smoothly except for the Cleveland Indians. They're pushing themselves right along and you can never tell what may happen.

SMITH'S KUT-RATE DRUG STORE

SMITH'S KUT-RATE DRUG STORE

SMITH'S KUT-RATE DRUG STORE

SMITH'S KUT-RATE DRUG STORE

SMITH'S KUT-RATE DRUG STORE

SMITH'S KUT-RATE DRUG STORE

SMITH'S KUT-RATE DRUG STORE

SMITH'S KUT-RATE DRUG STORE

SMITH'S KUT-RATE DRUG STORE

PEABODY MUSICIANS RENDER PROGRAM

By V. Brandelini

The regular Thursday morning student assembly at Washington College, held in William Smith Hall on May 17, featured a musical program by students from the Peabody Conservatory of Music, who were Earl Lippy, Archie Egan, and Arnold Kvam.

Mr. Lippy, with his clear baritone voice, pleased the students with his excellent renditions. Of special interest was the interpretation of Schubert's "In Abendroth," which bespoke his artistic abilities. This song, which is characterized by a pensive strain of light sadness, penetrated one's heart by its gentle force. His final selections showed his familiarity with popular modern songs in the degree that he was forced to endure with the ever-welcome "Sho'nen Bread."

Mr. Egan rendered France's prelude with fluidness. This recurrent melody was characterized by the middle register, and by the contrasting dimension in the lower last register. His next solo, "Liebste," occurring in Wagner's "Tristan and Isolde," but arranged for the piano by Liszt, was typical of the rich Wagnerian style. The grand style and difficult execution pleased the students.

Mr. Kvam chose for his first two pieces, "Hymne" by Holter and "Arioso" by Busch, which were well adapted to the total emotion of the cells. In both these pieces, the plaintive melody in the minor was interpreted with the feeling and freedom of a stilled musician. Because of the excellent bowing, fingering and use of harmonies in the airy "Scherzo" by Van Genn, Mr. Kvam was called back to encore with Schlegel's "Serenade." Here again, the simplicity, ease of execution of the difficult pianissimo passages preluded the artist.

Student approbation fixed this program as one of the best this year.

Program:

I Love Life	Manneque
Olding Me Home to You	Dorrell
Calf Man River	Earl Lippy
Earl Lippy
Prelude with Variation	Francis
Liebest	From "Tristan and Isolde"
by Liszt	by Wagner, arranged by Liszt
French Drinking Song	Schubert
Im Abendroth	Strass
Zu Eignung	Earl Lippy
Hymne	Holter
Arioso	Busch
Scherzo	Van Genn
Serenade	Schlegel
There is a Lady	Burley
The Green-Eyed Dragon	Charley
Sho'nen Bread	Wolfe
Earl Lippy

STUDENTS

We carry a large assortment of School Supplies.

Whitman's Candy.
Full line of Toilet Preparations including new Lenthieric Liae from Paris.

Abbott's DeLuxe Ice Cream.

Pipes, Cigarettes and Smoking Tobacco.

STAM DRUG COMPANY
The Prescription Store

Classical Society Ends Year's Events

By Joseph Freedman

The Classical Society met on Monday afternoon, May 21, in a final business session, for the purpose of officially winding up the club's affairs for the current year.

The program committee, of which Mary L. Moore is Chairman, announced that the Society will conduct an informal party at Betterton on Wednesday afternoon, May 30, at which time officers will be elected for the ensuing year. All members are urged to attend, as transportation is being provided.

Color Symposium Given By Biologists

By William McCullough

On Tuesday evening, May 15, the Biology Department, under the direction of Dr. Carpenter, held an open symposium at which papers were prepared by members of the department, on color in the plants and lower animals, were read.

The papers were prepared from two different points of view. The formation and functions of the various pigments was the basis of the discussions prepared by Messrs. Seymore, Culver, and Wagner. The chlorophyll of green plants and the hemoglobin of the blood of animals was especially stressed. The use of color and pattern in plant and animal life as protection, concealment, and attraction of mates was the point of view of the papers read by the Messrs. Gravit, Jarrell, Walls, Wallace and Correll.

This was the first symposium held on the Washington College campus for a number of years. It was well attended by both faculty and students. All who attended seemed both interested and pleased.

COLLEGE HILL LUNCH ROOM

Light Lunch

Beer On Draught

W. M. CROWDING, Prop.

JAMES E. NEWTON
Cleaning — Pressing
Repairing

103 Court Street
Chestertown, Maryland

Sea Food Is Our Specialty
HERB'S
RESTAURANT
and
BEER GARDEN
Dancing
Chestertown, Maryland
Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.

Best Foods
Prompt Service
Our Beer Is The Best In Town

The Emerson Hotel Baltimore

Cuisine and Furnishings
Unexcelled

Rooms $3 ap—Autos Garaged

Private Rooms and

Banquet Halls

For All Occasions

CHEMICAL SOCIETY HOLDS FIRST MEETING

By Robert Fick

Three demonstrations were given at the final meeting of the Chemical Society of Washington College, held May 15.

Mr. Wagner produced the unusual phenomenon of light in the absence of heat. An organic compound (trade name-Luminol) in solution, under certain conditions, produces a soft but intense blue light. Various forms of phosphorescence were shown.

Dr. Dudley generated sulphuric acid by the lead chamber process, and explained the process.

Mr. Smithson exhibited the spectra of several elements.

The society will continue to function next year with more resources and activities.

Student Council Supports Budget

At the last meeting of the Men's Student Council, held on May 21, there were a number of topics brought up and discussed. It was decided that the committee on identification badges for freshmen should continue investigation. Due to the proximity of the final exams, the council urged the increase of its vigilance in apprehending violations of the honor system. Other suggestions were made in connection with the purchase of second hand books from the students, the disappearance of library books, and the continuance of the student activities budget.

THE BELLHAVEN

Home of Good Food

College Hill

Telephone 331-M

DEL-MAR-VA RESTAURANT

Beer and
Special Lunches
We Cater to Parties

KREEGER'S JEWELRY STORE

Eyes examined and
glasses fitted by a graduate
Optician. Fountain
Pens, Ink, Kodaks, Films
and Developing.

Watches, Rings and
Novelty Jewelry.

The Dramatic Club Offers New Plays

(Continued From Page 1)

Rigley is played by Robert Clifford. Behaviors have begun in earnest and from all appearances a good performance is in store.

"Suppressed Desire" is also a satire. This play met with much praise when it was presented here several years ago, and from such a cast as has been selected to give it this year there is little doubt but this praise will be repeated. Miss Lucille Rasin is herself playing the part of Henrietta Brewster, who measures every step in her life in the terms of Freud's wish—fulfillment and Unconscious.

Her husband, Stephen, portrayed by Wesley Sadler, is continuously annoyed by her incessant study of Freud.

Her sister Mabel, who's "Suppressed Desire" makes her a subject for Henrietta is being played by Miss Phoebe Pyle.

There is just enough variety in these plays to make the whole performance one of unusual character. Any one of them would be worth your money—just think of the bargain you are getting.

Modern Shoe Repairing Store

PAUL SIPALA

Next to Sterling Drug

Compliments of
THE PARK ROW
BEAUTY SHOPPE

Prescription Blanks	"THE NEW DEAL"	Auto Job Records
Sale Books	BUSINESS STATIONERY	Letter Heads
Bill Heads	$2.50 PER 1000	Envelopes
Stickers	Over 3000 Cals. Forwarded FREE	Pluggers
Tags	ALLEN L. STAFFORD	2 in 1 Cards
	Representing David Lionel Press, Templeville, Md.
	Business and Blotter Cards $1 and $1.50 Per 1000

VANITY FAIR UNDIES

are the sort you dream about. Tiny handfuls of sheer silk that stand the hardest kind of wear and cost next to nothing. Come in and see them!

THE
MARGARET E. JEFFERSON
SHOP

Pure Food is the Foundation of Your Health

CHESTERTOWN RESTAURANT

Soda, Candy, Cigarettes, Beer on Draught
Open 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.

Phone 207 Chestertown, Md.

Safeguard Your Stomach, It Is Your Best Friend

THE WASHINGTON COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE BOOK STORE

A store run for the benefit of the students, offers line of Wahl Dohall Pens and Pencils. Pennants, Pillows, Stickers, Stationery and School Supplies.

Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 1 to 5 to 4:30 P. M. Every Day but Saturday and Sunday.

Society On The Hill

These glorious days of May brought the Circus to town and the call of the wild took the Miss Caroline Helms, Hattie Ragan and the Messrs. Dave Fisher, and Burdette Nuttle to Philadelphia for the performance.

The spring round of teas began last Monday when Miss Anne Smith, of Chestertown, entertained members of the Gamma Sigma Sorority at her home on Washington Ave.

The Jarvis home at Still Pond was delightfully lively last Wednesday night when several friends gave Miss Helen Jewell a surprise birthday party. The college was well represented, at least one member of each class being present.

The Misses Beany and Mary Nicholson, of Little Grove, entertained the Misses Louise Nicholson, Catherine Kirwan, Jean Young, and Ella Barkley at their charming home last Wednesday.

Kent Island has been the scene of many dinners and week end parties during the past season and again held forth last Friday when Miss Catherine Kirwan entertained several friends at a dinner and theatre party. Among those present were the Misses Ella Barkley, Marie Register, Louise Nicholson, Anne Whyte, and the Messrs. Earle Price, Thomson Brown, Lee Bell, Bill Reimhart, and Robert Shaul.

The college is indebted to the members of the Kent County D. A. R. who held a benefit show at the New Lyceum Theatre last Thursday. More than half of the students of the college were present.

On Saturday, the 26th, the male members of the college will have to look elsewhere for dates since the three sororities will be enjoying themselves on their annual House Party at Betterton.

Mrs. Gilbert W. Meade will entertain Miss Mildred Blackledge, the National Secretary of the Alpha Chi Omega Sorority, of which Mrs. Meade is an active member.

D. Clarke.

STUDENTS, ATTENTION
Call at CARL'S

THE COLLEGE
BARBER SHOP
Cross Street

For your copy of the Washington Basketball Schedule

H. D. OREM & SON
Headquarters for
Farmer's Hardware and
Supplies
Case Tractors, Thrashers,
Combes
Phone 217. Chestertown

Visit
ALBERT L. WHEAT
For Anything
in
Men's Wear

Luckies are always in All-Ways kind to your throat because

The clean center leaves are the mildest leaves—They Taste Better!

THESE ARE THE MILDEST LEAVES—
THEY COST MORE—
They Taste Better!

LUCKIES use only the clean center leaves for these are the mildest leaves—they cost more—they taste better. No top leaves because they are under-developed, bitter and harsh. No bottom leaves because they're coarse, dirt-covered, sandy. Only the clean center leaves go into Luckies. Then "It's toasted"—for throat protection. The long, golden strands of fine tobacco are rolled uniformly round and firm... no loose ends. That's why Luckies do not dry out. Luckies are always in all-ways kind to your throat.

"It's toasted"

✓ Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat

Only the Center Leaves—these are the Mildest Leaves

They Taste Better

PHI SIGMA PHI
ELECTS FOR YEAR

